Fair deemed a 'healthy' success

By Helena Rodriguez

More than 600 people participated in a Spring Health Fair held Sunday at the Bailey County Coliseum.

This was the first year such a fair has been held in Muleshoe. After the great turnout on Sunday, Richard Murphy, administrator for Muleshoe Area Medical Center, said the hospital hopes to make this an annual event.

"I would term it (the fair) to be very successful," Murphy said. "We had anticipated that it would be a good health fair, but it was so successful that we have requested that the Coliseum be available the first Sunday of May of 1995 to have another one. We want to make this an annual event."

The health fair was held as a public service and effort to provide an opportunity for everyone to expose themselves to better health.

The fair was sponsored by Muleshoe Area Medical Center and Aaron Purdy, a Boy Scout who is pursuing his Eagle Scout Badge. In order to earn this badge, Purdy was required to coordinate a community service project.

There were about 26 booths on display on Sunday at the fair. Murphy said some of the most used services offered Sunday were free blood pressure, blood sugar and cholesterol checks.

Deputy clerk position to be eliminated

The Bailey County Clerk's Office will soon be eliminating the position of deputy county clerk.

According to Barbara McCamish, county clerk, her office has always had a deputy clerk since she has been county clerk the past 12 years. However McCamish said she has decided to eliminate this position because she said she doesn't need help, except for somebody to fill in for her when she is not there.

She also said that she does not have time to train anybody. However, she will hire somebody to work part-time when she is not there.

Connie Flores is the current deputy county clerk. Flores has held this position for about a month, when she was appointed to replace former deputy county clerk Vikki Black.

In the state of Texas, elected officials are allowed to hire their own employees. The deputy county clerk's salary is paid by the county.

St. Clair honored at Cotillion Ball

Amanda Marie St. Clair, daughter of Johnny and Deborah St. Clair, of Mesa, Arizona, was one of nineteen young women honored at the 10th anniversary of the Silver Circle Cotillion Ball.

The black tie event was held at Westcourt in the Buttes, Tempe, Arizona on March 5, 1994.

Selection of the honorees was based on excellence in academics, athletics, arts, and community service.

Personally invited guests for the evening were her parents and brother, Damon; Irvin and Dorothy St. Clair, grandparents, of Muleshoe; and her escort, Chris Schmidt of Mesa, Arizona. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flowers, grandparents of Abernathy, were unable to attend.

Amanda's white satin gown featured a full ante-bellum skirt, Cindarella sleeves and a sweetheart neckline on the sequined, pearl-beaded bodice. Long, white gloves and pearl earrings completed her ensemble.

At the saber presentation of the University of Arizona's Navy ROTC Honor Guard, the debutantes were individually presented to the guests accompanied by their fathers.

Fathers and daughters then waltzed to the song, "Daddy's Little Girl". They were later joined on the dance floor by the debutante's mother and the debutante's escort.

The five course dinner and dance music was provided by the Paul Arena Orchestra.

Honored guests included the mayors of Mesa and Tempe, various members of the Arizona legislature, board members of the mesa Luthern Hospital (sponsor of the event), and other local dignitaries. Also attending was the Honorable and Mrs. John J. Rhodes.

Chamber News

Big plans are underway for Monday, July 4th. Since most of the downtown businesses will be closed for the 4th, the Chamber Board discussed having all activities at the new city park beginning at 4 p.m.

It is hoped that this will make it easier for families to gather and enjoy the activities. The traditional July 4th parade will begin at the Boy Scout grounds at 10 a.m. The theme will be "Our American Freedoms". The chamber is encouraging all the kids to decorate their bicycles, tricycles, etc. And come and enjoy being in the parade.

At this time, the board is encouraging all civic clubs to plan activities, and to call the chamber office so that these can be coordinated and advertised. The Board would like for the Muleshoe Pitching to be taken by a club who will organize the event as this should be the mainstay of July 4th in Muleshoe.

The Chamber will have available T-shirts with the NEW logo, "Muleshoe, The Real Kick of West Texas," on them. The T-shirts can be purchased wholesale. Just contact the Chamber office for more details on pricing. Prices will be adjusted according to the amount purchased. The T-shirts should be in the Chamber office by the middle of

May. The retail price will be $13 for kids and $15 for adults.

Tom Mann and Ace of the Heart Band from Clovis, N.M. has been scheduled to entertain at the park beginning at 6 p.m. Also, all awards for the various activities will be presented at the park, followed by the traditional fireworks display.

Victor Leal is organizing a bicycle race, and he would welcome volunteers to help with this Chamber board activity for July 4th. The Chamber is also discussing selling hamburgers at the park during the activities.

Mule Days will be August 12 & 13. The Chamber office is already getting calls from Mule owners about the activities. This should be an even bigger and better Mule days, and events are planned during the evening and night time hours. You will want to make plans to watch these unusual events as it is quite entertaining. The Chamber would like for all businesses to advertise

Mule Days in their ads, and offer specials that are billed as Mule Specials.

A number of the questionnaires have been returned, but there are still quite a number of the members who have either not been contacted, or they have not responded by filling out the questionnaires. These can be very helpful to your Board of Directors, and it would be greatly appreciated if you would take just a few minutes and let us know your ideas. The only way the Board will know what you want done is for you to tell us. We will be communicating to you the results of these questionnaires at a later date.

Remember your Chamber manager and the Chamber board are striving to make Muleshoe a more enjoyable place to live and a place where businesses can grow and become even more prosperous. Every time you see a traveler give them a BIG MULESHOE WELCOME. They provide a ready source of new money for our community.

20 years of achievement for Texas Cattlemen

Texas cattlemen have a long and storied history of banding together to fight rustlers, weather, disease, and other hardships that have threatened their livelihood.

When an economic crisis to the Texas beef industry appeared in 1974, a few Coliad cattlemen joined forces to combat the threat and, in the process, formed the Independent Cattlemen's Association (ICA).

Today, as the ICA is preparing to celebrate its 20th anniversary, the men and women behind the organization can look at their past with pride and to the future with the knowledge that they are represented by one of the finest and most action-oriented industry organizations in the United States.

Current ICA president, Wayne Dierlam, who has been a member since the organization's inception, noted that most members feel that the ICA has been there when the industry called.

"We've been there for our people," he said. "We're not in this for any personal gain. We don't care who gets the credit as long as the job gets done. As long as we never lose sight of that, we'll continue to be a strong organization."

Texas Cattlemen were facing an uncertain future in 1974. They were being squeezed by low-priced cattle, sky-high interest rates and soaring production costs. The reason - overseas beef producers were flooding the American market, causing an economic depression for U.S. cattlemen.

Fortunately, one man decided that Texas cattlemen had too great a stake in the industry to sit back quietly and let events run their course. T.A. Cunningham of Goliad invited other ranchers to the Bar-C Ranch to tell them what he had found: Foreign countries had closed their ports to American beef while U.S. ports were open with restriction. The United States had become the dumping ground for beef.

Agreeing that something must be done to save the industry, these cattlemen acted immediately, forming the ICA and spreading the word. Within weeks, other cattlemen's requests to join the effort came in so rapidly that there weren't enough people to recruit and run the organization. In just 60 days, the association had gone from 17 initial members to thousands.

The initial purposes of the organization were stated simply:

- To promote and protect the red meat industry;
- To become strong enough to influence state and federal policymakers;
- To lobby and keep outside countries from interfering with the supply and demand balance in the United States, and;
- To work closely with all agricultural organizations to accomplish the common goal of protecting agriculture.

As in the case today, the cattlemen responded quickly, wasting no time to reflect on their organizational skills. As the counties continued to organize and other groups were enlisted, Cunningham, who went on to become the ICA's first president, and others began meeting with key state and federal officials to end the beef glut.

Bean farmers eligible for insurance

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation has determined farmers who grow pinto beans in Castro, Crosby, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Hartley, Lubbock, Ochiltree, Oldham, Moore and Swisher counties meet the agency's requirements to qualify for crop insurance, Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said.

"Without crop insurance, farmers find it difficult to obtain loans, so we are pleased that the FCIC has worked with our producers in these counties who wished to qualify for crop insurance," Perry said.

"These farmers have found new markets for pinto beans, and they want to diversify to meet this growing demand. However, many banks will not make loans to them unless they have crop insurance, and they can't expand their production without loans so they have been caught in a type of 'Catch 22' situation."

Plains woman sought for annual Pioneer Day

The 66th Pioneer Round Up, scheduled for Saturday, May 21, will for the 35th year, honor a pioneer woman of this area.

Deadline for nominations for the "Pioneer Woman of the Plains" has been set for May 1st. Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club is the sponsoring organization of the Pioneer Round-up.

Entry blanks for the "Pioneer Woman of the Plains" are available to civic clubs, individuals, women's clubs and organizations in Plainview and surrounding areas.

All entries must be signed by the organization or individual who is submitting the nomination and must state whether or not she would be able to attend the Round-Up, if selected.

The nominee must have been a pioneer resident of the High Plains and be at least 80 years of age. Of most importance, this woman should be one of the early settlers to make her home on the Plains and have a true "pioneer" spirit. A short biography of the nominee must be submitted, including her outstanding contributions to the home, church, community and general welfare of her fellowman.

The number of times a person is nominated will have no effect on the selection of the honoree. All entries must be postmarked no later than May 1. Entry blanks and additional information may be obtained by contacting Judi Hinch, at 293-2204.

This year's Round-Up includes the reception beginning at 10 a.m., honoring all pioneers; parade at 2:30 p.m.; the supper beginning at 6 p.m.; the program at 8 p.m. and the square dance following at 9 p.m.

Ranch to Rail-North field day scheduled

The 1994 Ranch to Rail-North Field Day will be held at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center on May 10.

The program was initiated to allow producers the opportunity to learn more about their calf crop and the factors that influence value beyond the weaned calf phase of beef production.

It is not an effort to promote retained ownership, nor a contest to compare breeds or breeders. It is however, a system that provides a format for information exchange between the cow-calf, feeder and packer segments of the industry.

Producers enroll weaned calves into the program and are subsequently provided with detailed performance, carcass and financial summary reports. Many producers have found that calf health, prior to shipping from the ranch, is as important or more important than genetics.

The system is currently in the third year of operation. This year over 2,100 steers were entered and began to complete their finishing phase in the feedlot in April.

The field day is scheduled to begin at 8 a.m. and will include the following topics:

8:00: Complimentary Tex-Mex breakfast.

9:00: A "Wake Up Call for the Beef Industry" Dr. Matt Cravey, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Amarillo.

9:15: "1993-1994 Ranch to Rail - North Update" Dr. John McNeill, Texas A&M University, College Station.

10:15: "Vaccination Programs That Worked" - Dr. John McNeill, Texas A&M University, College Station.

10:45: "Carcass Defects That Hurt Our Industry" - Dr. Jeff Savell and Dr. Davey Griffin, Texas A&M University, College Station.

11:30: "Hitting the Packer Target" - Dr. Dan Hale, Texas A&M University, College Station.

11:45: "Beef Quality Excellence in Texas" - Richard Wortham, Texas Beef Council, Austin

12:00: - "Ranch to Rail Prime Rib"

1:00: "Signals in the Market" - James Herring, Friona Industries, Amarillo; Ralph Myrick, Midland Cattle Co.; Buddy Jeffers, Superior Livestock Auction, Ft. Worth; Burt Richards, Buffalo Livestock Commission Co., Buffalo.

2:00: "Beef Needs to Beef Up Its Image" - Russ Wolfe, TOPCO, Skokie, Illinois.

3:00 - View Ranch to Rail Steers on Feed - Richard Winter, Manager and Phil Moreman, Assistant Manager, Randall County Feedyard.

5:30: Arrive back at Research and Extension Center (6500 Amarillo Blvd. West, Amarillo)

Those wanting to attend the field day need to register by May 1 with Allyson Butler at 845-3579.

Consumers receive mailings from faux sweepstakes

South Plains consumers have been receiving mailings from Financial Research Group doing business as Assessment and Search Commission, Cash Bureau and Charm Bureau of Maryland.

According to the Better Business Bureau/Baltimore, the company operates as a sweepstakes research and fact-finding organization that works on behalf of its members to find appropriate sweepstakes that, in their opinion, offer a better than average chance of winning. The BBB/Baltimore has received numerous complaints against the company alleging that after sending the initial payment to be entered into the contract, they receive additional mailings which request a fee to enter. The fees range from $10-$28, the higher the fee the higher the prize amount. Complaints also allege that they never received the prizes they thought they would win from the contest. The company has responded to all complaints by offering a refund. Remember, legitimate sweepstakes do not require you to purchase anything in order to win a prize. "Once bitten, twice shy" does not apply to the repeat victims of telemarketing scams. BBBs are reporting that many victims of phone fraud are not learning their lesson and getting taken a second time by slick scammers who use "sucker lists" to keep the money rolling in. These lists contains the names, addresses, phone numbers and sometimes other information of people who have responded to bogus telephone solicitations. Consumers who have lost money to a telemarketer are contacted by an individual claiming to represent a government agency, private company or consumer organization that works, for a fee, to recover lost money, product or a prize. Be skeptical - call us at 763-0459.

Roman City, Pyramid, Castle, and Cathedral

Public television transports viewers to Gaul at the height of the Roman empire in the latest animated and live-action special based on the books of acclaimed author-illustrator David Macaulay.

Roman City is followed by encore presentations of previous programs based on Macaulay's books, Pyramid, Castle, and Cathedral, airing on consecutive nights.

All four specials bring to life the mysteries of past civilizations. Each uses as a background the construction of the defining architectural monument of that civilization: a city at the height of the Roman Empire, an Egyptian pyramid, a medieval castle, and a French Gothic cathedral. Each special explains the social, historical, and cultural significance of the architecture and its importance and function to the men and women who built and used it.

Roman City tells the story of life in Verbonia, a fictional but historically accurate Roman city. Built in the frontier territory of Gaul around 27 B.C., it is an example of a well-planned town with every modern convenience, including marketplaces, public baths, running water, and indoor plumbing.

The construction and habitation of Verbonia is seen in animated sequences through the eyes of Marcus Fabricius, an architect and military engineer. As the town is built, human intrigue unfolds between the conquered — the Celts, and the conquerors — the Romans.

As with Pyramid, Castle, and Cathedral, world-renowned actors have contributed their voice talents to the animated story. Featured are Sir Derek Jacobi, Sir Ian McKellen, Brian Blessed, and John Sessions.

Pyramid tells the extraordinary story of the planning, construction, and cultural significance of The Great Pyramid at Giza. Pyramid unfolds around the intrigues in the court of the Egyptian King Khufu (or Cheops as he is also known), for whom the greatest pyramid in history was built around 2,500 B.C.

Castle depicts the planning, building, habitation, and siege of Aberwyvern, a fictional but historically accurate 13th-century Welsh castle, the strongest structure that "modern" engineering could build. The documentary explains what purposes castles served in British society 700 years ago, and what the castles — and the people who built them — were really like.

Cathedral tells the awe-inspiring story of the building — beginning in 1214 — of Notre Dame de Beaulieu, a fictional but historically accurate cathedral. The program examines the architecture, construction, and cultural role of the Gothic cathedral in France.

Roman City, Pyramid, Castle, and Cathedral will be broadcast on four consecutive evenings - Sunday through Wednesday, May 8th-11th at 7:00 p.m.

Mother's Day

Debbie Leal

Irma Leal

Someone once said that God could not be everywhere at once so he created Mothers. I would like to take this time to pay honor and tribute to two special Mothers in my life. My own mom, Irma Leal and my wife Debbie Leal. I feel incredibly blessed to have these two ladies in my life. They both represent true motherhood and the love they both have for their children is demonstrated daily in their lives. Thank you both for all you do.... We would also like to honor your mother.

At Leal's this Sunday, we are offering long stemmed carnations to our first 300 mothers. Along with the carnations we will have an excellent variety of desserts. This is just a small way for us to show our appreciation to the most special people on earth. So this Sunday show your mother how special she is to you, bring her to Leal's and join us in celebrating Mother's Day. She'll be glad you did

Symposium to address playa basin research

Playa basins have often been called "The High Plains area's most underutilized natural resource."

The more than 19,000 playas scattered over the area constitute a critical element in the water resources of the area and will be the topic of discussion May 18-20 at the Playa Basin Symposium at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Recharge to the Ogallala Aquifer, playa basin modification, infiltration rates, water quality, playas used in stormwater management, playas used in waste management systems, wildlife management and agricultural production, are just a few of the topics that will be discussed at the symposium.

According to Dr. Lloyd Urban, director of the Texas Tech University Water Resources Center and co-chairman of the symposium, "The purpose of this symposium is to bring together as many individuals as possible to share their experiences with each other and with those in attendance - scientists, engineers, land owners, wildlife management specialists and others who have an interest in and a concern for playas."

Some of the top researchers in their fields will present papers at the symposium.

Senators Teel Bivins will present the keynote address on May 18, to open the symposium. Senator John T. Montford will speak during the luncheon on the same day, and Representative David Counts, chairman of the house Natural Resources Committee, will speak at the luncheon on May 19.

May 20, the last day of the symposium, will feature a tour of the High Plains areas, visiting playa basins that represent the different uses addressed during the sessions.

Event sponsors will also host a barbecue picnic the first night at the Ranching Heritage Center, located on the Texas Tech campus.

Participants are encouraged to register by May 6, whereas adequate seating and food arrangements can be made for all participants.

A registration form can be obtained by calling the Water Resources Center at (806)742-3597.

A complete listing of the program or more information about the symposium can be obtained by calling the Water Resources Center at (806)742-3597 or the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 at (806)762-0181.

Cotton industry wants insurance program to reflect regional needs

The National Cotton Council told a House Agricultural subcommittee that it supports concepts included in USDA's Crop Insurance Reform proposal, adding that for reform to be successful, credibility must be restored and program abuse minimized.

"Reform is essential if this program is to effectively replace disaster relief and entice more participation," said Myrl Mitchell, a Lenora, TX producer and ginner who chairs the Council's Crop Insurance Advisory Task Force.

Mitchell relayed a summary of comments the Council received from producers during recent meetings it conducted across the Cotton Belt. Major elements that should be considered for the crop insurance proposal are:

*inclusion of a harvest incentive when determining losses to improve the program's effectiveness, *the need to entice non-users of the current program to use crop insurance by offering such options as insuring the cost of production and lowering premiums for producers with good loss histories or with lower risk operations.

*improvements in the quality adjustment provisions for cotton and elimination of the current 25 percent deductible for quality losses in crop quality often are more economically devastating than production losses, *addressing smaller farm units, such as fields or sections, rather than a producer's acreage on a county basis so that, for example, a farmer who irrigates his cotton does not have to pay the same premium as a farmer who does not irrigate.

PCAA announces pool progress payments

Plains Cotton Cooperative Association (PCCA), a farmer owned cotton marketing cooperative serving 26,000 members in Texas and Oklahoma, has announced a progress payment on the 1993 West Texas/Oklahoma marketing pool totaling approximately $15 million. Checks to individual pool members were distributed April 5.

The progress payment follows a cash distribution in March to marketing pool members totaling $8.8 million in premiums for strength on the 1993 crop pool, and $1 million for participation in the pool's Timely Delivery Program. An additional progress payment on the 1993 pool is anticipated in June, along with a patronage dividend after the close of the cooperative's fiscal year on June 30.

Cotton producers seeking more information about participating in PCCA's marketing programs, should contact a cooperative ginner in their area or PCCA headquarters in Lubbock.

Improving Customer Care

Today small businesses must stay completely focused on their customers if they are going to survive. It will take superior customer service to hold market share and excellent service to gain on the pack. We're not talking about lip service, but real, honest-to-goodness customer care.

Based on conversations we've had with hundreds of business owners and customers around the country, we believe there are five levels of customer service. You may see your business in one of the levels we describe. If you're not where you would like to be, you may want to move your service quality up a notch.

Five Levels of Care
•No Care. The lowest level of customer service is no care. A recent study by Yankelovich Partners found that for many businesses "no care" is the norm. Sixty-two percent of the customers surveyed reported that they had walked out of a business because no one barely give any real customer service. They do almost nothing to set themselves apart from the mega stores who also provide barely care.

Barely care givers greet their customers, offer assistance and say thanks. Then they go on to the next sale. The previous customer is quickly beyond. The additional step is to let the customer know that they are there to help if needed. The customer must take the initiative, but they are assured of assistance if they call.

Each of these steps is an improvement. Barely care is better than no care; and reactive care is better than barely care. Barely.

•Proactive Care. Proactive care is the level of care that goes beyond reactive care. Proactive care givers follow-up with customers. They initiate calls to see how customers are doing.

The proactive care giver really is concerned with how the customer is doing. They want to serve the customer more effectively because they know that the only way they can guarantee future business is to keep the customer satisfied.

Proactive care is a high level of customer service. However, if you're providing proactive care you could still lose your customers to a competitor who goes all out to please the customer.

•Whatever-it-Takes Care. Whatever-it-takes customer service includes the best of all other levels of service. In addition, it encompasses building a partnership with customers.

This level of service is not just based on giving great service to ensure the next sale, but also focuses on helping customers even if you don't make another sale. Your business becomes giving customers what they want and need.

The reward is customer loyalty. I know you've heard that customer loyalty doesn't exist anymore. For most businesses that is true. Most businesses don't offer whatever-it-takes care. No care equals no loyalty. Barely care, reactive care and even proactive care offer little promise of "customers for life". Whatever-it-takes care will ensure satisfied customers who want to do business with you again and again.

Minding Your Own Business

By Don Taylor

greeted them, no one waited on them, or offered to help. That's no care.

•Barely Care. Barely care is the level where many small businesses perform. They forgot them as the barely care giver repeats the process on the next one.

•Reactive Care. The reactive care giver provides barely care and then goes one step

Seniors should beware of the "Who's Who" scam

Many high school seniors will soon be receiving solicitations from publishing firms offering an opportunity to be listed in a "Who's Who" type publication. The student is usually required to buy the book; and many times, pay an additional fee to be listed.

While some companies may do as they promise, the Better Business Bureau considers many such books as "vanity publications." They are published for very limited distribution and few, if any, will be found outside the personal bookshelves of those listed. When receiving an opportunity to be listed, students and parents should consider whether such a listing is a genuine form of recognition or simply a display of vanity for a price.

If you are in doubt, call your BBB at 763-0459 for a reliability report on any publication that you are considering. Also, you might want to check with your school counselor's office.

While cleaning out closets and clearing the yard in your spring cleaning efforts, don't forget your central air conditioning system. The best time of year to ensure that your air conditioning unit is running efficiently is in the spring when companies may offer special deals and technicians will be more available.

Usually, for a pre-determined fee, the contractor who installed your system or another qualified service technician will come and inspect your system. They check the refrigerant, inspect and oil fans, and make sure that wiring and switches are operating properly.

Some contractors now offer service contracts. Some of the maintenance work you can do - changing disposable filters or cleaning permanent ones. Give us a call at 763-0459 to check the reputation of the contractor or service technician you choose. A free pamphlet "Tips On Central Air Conditioning" is also available.

*Perhaps, you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly in a chair.
 Perhaps, you sent a funeral spray, if so we saw it there.
 Perhaps, you spoke the kindest words, as any friend could say.
 Perhaps, you were not there at all, just thought of us that day.
 Whatever you did to console our hearts, we thank you so much, whatever the part.
 A special "thank you" to Dr. McBlanchan, the staff of Muleshoe Area Healthcare Center, (especially the nurses), neighbors, Ellis Funeral Home, Rev. Dale Berry, Gary Montgomery and the ladies of the Trinity Baptist Church for the wonderful food.

Inspection applications for seed crops to be taken

AUSTIN - A state law requires seed producers who want their crop certified as disease-free for export, to submit field application inspections to the Texas Department of Agriculture within 40 days of planting, Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said.

"Last year we had a number of farmers who sent in their applications more than 40 days after planting. As a result, some fields were not inspected before harvest," Perry said.

Each year TDA's phytosanitary certification program conducts about 1,000 field inspections of crops grown to produce seed for export such as sorghum, sunflower and corn.

TDA inspectors certify that crops are free of certain plant diseases.
