Some Plants Take Over Cropland And Rangeland

Not all cropland and pasture that is lost is blown away or washed down the river, says Howard T. Kingsbery, Chairman of the Texas PMA Committee. When land is taken over by useless plants which prevent the growth of useful plants, it is lost as far as production is concerned—lost until it can be brought back into the production of useful plants.

This explains, says the chairman, why some conservation practices under the Agricultural Conservation Program are for the eradication and control of noxious weeds and competitive plants.

A good example of conserving soil and putting it back into production is the case of F. W. Pulliam, a small rancher in Texas. Mesquite eradication was carried out on 87 acres of a 265-acre pasture on Mr. Pulliam's ranch. This particular pasture had carried one animal unit for each 20 acres. During 1947, after the mesquite was eradicated, the pasture carried 65 head of cattle for 7 months.

The mesquite was killed with kerosene in the spring of 1946 and cattle were kept off this range throughout the year. In 1947 a good stand of grass had replaced the mesquite and grazing was resumed.

Mr. and Mrs. Durward Brown visited relatives in Post last week.

An estimated $61,000 will be spent in repairing and modernizing non-farm homes in Briscoe county during 1948, according to a report just released by the Tile Council of America.

That sum will be expended largely on painting, carpentry work, roofing repairs and plumbing, the report disclosed. "Greater availability of building materials will make possible a record amount of home improvement throughout the nation this year," declared Malcolm Schweiker, chairman of the Council's residential construction committee.

About 30 of every homes in Texas will be painted, either inside or out, during 1948 and 17 will have roofs repaired or replaced, according to the report. Seven will have plumbing overhauled, bathrooms tiled or showers installed and six will have carpentry work done, the report revealed.

"To meet demands for materials for both new homes and home repairs, production has been stepped up in practically every type of material," said Mr. Schweiker. The output of ceramic tile for bathrooms and kitchens, for instance, is now at the highest rate in history, government reports show.

Throughout the nation between $2,600,000,000 and $3,300,000,000 two billion three hundred million and three billion three hundred million will be spent this year on home repair, according to the Tile Council report. This is believed the largest amount ever expended for such work.

Miss Billy Earl Ross Complimented

The A. L. McMurtry home was the scene of a tea and miscellaneous shower given on Friday afternoon for Miss Billy Earl Ross, bride-elect of Floyd Ehresman.

Mrs. L. D. Griffin, Jr., and Miss Dorothy Ray McMurtry were hostesses and over fifty guests registered during the afternoon. White tapers arranged in a bank of white gladioli nestled on the mantle above which hung a blue mirror bordered by pink tulle which formed a heart enclosing the names "Billy and Floyd." Candles and flowers in the bride's chosen colors decorated the receiving rooms throughout the house. Guests were greeted by Mrs. Griffin, the honoree, her mother, Mrs. O'Wayne Ross, her grandmother, Mrs. Price, and the grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Stambaugh.

The beautifully appointed serving table which was draped with a lace cloth featured a centerpiece of white gladioli and tulle representing the bridal wreath from which satin streamers were placed forming the bridal shower. Assisting at the serving table were, Miss McMurtry and Miss June Payne. Punch and cake were served from a crystal service.

American Enterprise Abroad . . .

In some minds, the activities of American companies which do business abroad are viewed suspiciously. In that connection a statement of policy, made by one of the largest American oil companies, which is engaged in helping develop the petroleum resources of the Middle East, is of exceptional interest. It said: "We recognize that international trade relations involve political considerations of the highest order. Policies governing such considerations are, of course, the responsibility of our government acting in the best interests of all its citizens."

"We do not expect, and have never sought greater protection for our foreign interests than is normally afforded by the United States Government to any private citizen engaged in overseas trade. We inform interested agencies of Government regarding any contemplated foreign agreement or activity of ours that could in any way effect the policies or interests of this country."

"When we do business in other countries we try to be good citizens there. We do not make foreign commitments if we cannot do that and still be in harmony with the foreign policy of the United States."

That is typical of free enterprise in oil and many other fields. American industry abroad fully realizes its tremendous responsibilities—and it works in complete cooperation with our government in advancing the interests of all.

Go Forward Together . . .

A. C. Spurr, president of the Monongahela Power Company of Fairmont, West Virginia, recently spoke on the important subject of "The Utilities and the Community." In it he said, "No industry so filters through the entire life of a community as does an electric power company. Nothing new is started without service. . . . We are vital to the community. And by the same token, if we are to grow and expand, the community and what makes it tick are equally vital to us. Then too, our people. . . . are in constant touch with the housewife, the farmer, the industrialist. They are part of the social, religious and civic life of a community."

"Yes, we live in our communities and have faith in them; and as an expression of that faith we, as an industry, will spend in the next few years the largest amount of money ever spent by any one industry over such a short period of time."

The whole history of the utility industry is one of community and regional development. That is simply good business. A backward town offers a poor market for power service or anything else. An aggressive town, in which every element of the population is pulling together to go ahead, gets industries, business, and a larger population.

Today most of the electric industry's expansion work is devoted to rural America—to the small towns and the farming sections. It is spending billions there to give better service—and to extend service to those who don't have it now. It is one of the biggest town and county and state taxpayers. It is back of every worthwhile industrial development and civic betterment campaign. The town and the utility go forward together—and the result is a greater degree of prosperity for both.

An Item In The News . . .

A short time ago an item appeared in the news which, while it didn't make banner heads, is an example of the kind of arduous progress that serves us all.

Last year, the item said, the death rate from tuberculosis dropped to a new low throughout the nation. For the first time in our history, the number of fatalities from this cause was under 50,000.

That wasn't the result of chance. It was, instead, the result of decades of hard and often unrewarding work by doctors and other scientists. A long list of factors had a part in the achievement—better preventive medicine, infinitely improved methods of treatment for the afflicted, a generally higher standard of living, and so on.

Every major advance in medicine, save for rare instances where some revolutionary drug is discovered, is made much in this way. And the United States, with its system of medicine, unhampered by bureaucratic domination, has been a leader in conquering disease—a fact which has been proven in survey after survey. By contrast, medicine has generally been backward in the nations where it is controlled by the state—the standards of treatment have gone down while the cost, as in the case of all governmental activity, has gone up.

We in the United States are leading longer, healthier lives. Diseases which were almost sure killers not so many years ago now offer little danger. A system of voluntary prepaid medical care has been built up which brings the cost of treatment and hospitalization within the easy reach of the majority of people. These are achievements of free medicine which must not be forgotten.

The Silver Lining . . .

In spite of political turmoil and continuing war and revolution in different parts of the world, people everywhere still have to live and carry on the daily affairs of life.

Ernest E. Norris, president of the Southern Railway System says that anyone who takes the trouble to look can find plenty of silver linings in the clouds today.

"Leaders in government, labor, business and agriculture," said Mr. Norris, "must toss self-interest out of the window. It's got to be 'one for all and all for one' in the spirit of the old-time 'barn raisings.'"

"Above all, we've got to do what our grandpappies did who created this country—go to work, all of us. We must work and produce as never before to maintain our standard of living and to defeat the disastrous inflation that is already banging at our doors. And as we work and produce I am sure we'll discover that valuable by-product—good-will among all of our people—without which all is lost."

"If I am any judge of trends, the American people as a whole are already rolling up their sleeves, tightening their belts, and getting ready to make democracy work in the old-fashioned American way. And that's the brightest of all the silver linings I see in today's dark clouds."

Veterans' News

The Veterans Administration reminds veterans that July 31 is the last day for reinstatement of lapsed National Service Life Insurance on a "comparative health" basis.

Before August 1, an eligible veteran may reinstate any amount of term insurance—from $1,000 to $10,000 in multiples of $500—regardless of the length of time it has been lapsed, and usually without a physical examination. He need only fill out a simple application form, in which he certifies that his health is as good as when the policy lapsed, and pay premiums for two months.

The privilege of reinstating on this basis will be available after July 31 only to veterans whose policies have been lapsed for less than three months. Where the period of lapse is three months or longer, the veteran will be required to take a physical examination and qualify as an insurable risk, VA said.

Veterans carrying National Service Life Insurance term policies will be able to renew them for an additional five years upon expiration of the present term period under Public Law 838 passed by the last Congress.

Term insurance taken out before January 1, 1946, carries a term period of eight years from date of issue. Policies issued after that date are for a five year term.

The first NSLI policies were issued to men in service in October, 1940. Therefore, the first term periods would have begun to expire in October of this year.

Those who renew their term insurance will pay a higher premium than their old rate because of increased age. Veterans may convert their term insurance to permanent types of insurance whenever they desire.

Miss Norma McClendon, of Lubbock, is visiting Miss Juanita Edwards this week.

Mrs. Laurie Carlisle, of Calif., visited Mrs. Pearl Simpson Thursday. Mrs. Carlisle was enroute to Matador to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Browning.

How To Make Iced Coffee

THERE'S nothing like Iced Coffee to take the sizzle out of summer, leaving you perked up and cooled off. But it's got to be good iced coffee . . . darkly rich in color, sparkling clear and full of real coffee flavor.

Start by making good hot coffee and transform it into Iced Coffee by either of these two methods.

DOUBLE STRENGTH METHOD

1. Make coffee double strength, by using half the amount of water to the usual amount of coffee.
2. Pour hot over ice cubes in tall glasses. The extra strong coffee allows for the dilution caused by the melting of the ice.
3. Serve with cream and sugar.

PRE-COOLED REGULAR STRENGTH METHOD

1. Make coffee regular strength.
2. Cool in a non-metallic container for not more than 3 hours. Or, if the container is tightly covered, chill in refrigerator.
3. Serve in tall glasses with ice, adding sugar and cream to taste.

Vary your iced coffee service by adding a big scoop of ice cream to each glass. Or serve it with whipped cream flavored with a few drops of vanilla, cinnamon or nutmeg.

Barley Planted Late Makes Good Yield

A barley harvest underway at Texas Technological college is a surprise even to the experts.

Dr. A. W. Young, professor of plant industry, said the barley, Wintex variety, was planted April 3 as a nurse crop to alfalfa, and in a three month's growing period has matured and is ready for cutting.

The barley used as nurse crop on the irrigated farm for the late planted alfalfa is ordinarily sown in October and harvested in June, Dr. Young said. The combine's first round in the field indicated an average yield of slightly over 20 bushels to the acre.

Mrs. Dillard Scott and children, Ginger and Winfred, visited relatives in Floydada Tuesday.

Employers Required To Deduct Tax On First $3,000

Employers are required to deduct social security taxes on only the first $3,000 of wages per year, J. R. Sanderson, manager of the social security office in Amarillo, said today. "Even at this late date," he said, "the Social Security Administration is still getting inquiries from employers and employees about these excess taxes."

The employer's quarterly tax returns should show the name, social security number, and amount of wages paid each employee. Sanderson pointed out, however, that after an employee has been paid $3,000 in the course of a calendar year, the employer should no longer include his name on his reports.

Request for refund of excess taxes paid on wages of more than $3,000 should be made with the Collector of Internal Revenue and not to the social security field office, and must be made within a period of 2 calendar years after the year in which the wages were paid.

Gardeners Should Take Advantage of Summer Moisture

Gardeners should take advantage of the mid-summer moisture. If old vegetables have not been cleaned from the garden, it's high time to do so, says J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist of Texas A. and M. College. The old rows can be used for the new plantings in the next few days.

After the old vegetables have been removed—roots and all—apply two or three pounds of 5-10-5 commercial fertilizer for every 100 feet or row space, stirring the soil to a depth of four or five inches. Mix the fertilizer thoroughly with the soil so that there will not be any possibility of damage to the germinating seed.

This is a good time to get collards in the ground. The Georgia variety is an old standby which grows best in the east and south-east sections of Texas. Sow seed at the rate of six to eight per foot and cover them with about an inch of soil. By placing a few old boards over the planted area, says Rosborough, the soil will be kept cool and the loss of moisture reduced. The seed will sprout sooner, too.

When the young plants begin to show up, remove the planks. Should the weather become dry and hot during late July, it will be necessary to give the young plants a good watering every week or ten days. By late August the collard plants will be large enough to be thinned to two feet apart in the row—and plants that are removed may be transplanted to adjacent rows.

Now is a good time to plant seed for fall tomatoes, Rosborough says. The Stokesdale variety for large slices or the Porter variety for small fruit are recommended. Plant the seed in single rows, care for them as in a small plant bed, and thin them in 30 or 40 days to a spacing of three feet apart. Additional rows may be set from the plants which are removed from the original rows.

The alert gardener should take advantage of favorable moisture in the soil, and prepare rows for planting of Irish potatoes, turnips, radishes, onions from sets and other garden plants which will be started in late August or early September. By preparing the soil now, it can be kept in a loose, workable condition so that with the coming of fall showers, planting can be done immediately.

A few hours in the early morning or late evening given over to the garden at this time of year will mean plenty of early fall vegetables and make you the garden leader in your neighborhood or community says Rosborough.

Time for Harvesting Beans and Corn

Beans are at their best right now. Refugee and Blue Lake may be strange names as far as bean varieties go, but these varieties are free from fiber stringiness and are tops for canning or freezing.

If you are harvesting green beans, especially for quick freezing, J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist of Texas A. and M. College, advises to select only those beans which have very small seed and a dark green color. When the seeds have begun to develop to a point in green beans where there are slight bulges in the beans, there is enough wood fiber in the hull to give the canned or frozen food product a low eating quality and poor flavor.

Corn may be another of your crops that is ready for harvesting and canning. If so, here is a point to remember: pick the ears early in the morning, and get the corn in the can or freezer as quickly as possible. Sweet corn begins to lose its sweetness and quality in a very short while after the ears are taken from the stalk. The same goes for fresh roasting ears on the table. For best taste and quality, harvest the corn at 11 o'clock for a meal at 12 o'clock.

As for tomatoes, Rosborough suggests that they be pulled from the vines as soon as they turn pink. Bring them into the house and put them in a cool, shady place where they will ripen to a deep red color. You will find that the inside of the tomatoes are juicy and mealy instead of fibrous. This is for fresh tomatoes.

Now, if you want tomatoes for canning, pick them pink and let them ripen in the house, or leave them on the vine until they are fully ripe. A little mental arithmetic will give you an estimate on your tomato crop. A bushel of tomatoes will give you about 25 no. 2 cans. On a larger scale, 150 bushels to the acre is a good estimate. This gives about 3,750 no. 2 cans of tomatoes from an acre.

Careful handling of the crop will mean less loss on the yield, says Rosborough, so handle with care and keep your profits up.

When you farm Electrically!

THERE'S a world of convenience, comfort, and profit behind the switch when you farm electrically.

Low cost electric service can do so much, at such a low cost, that more and more modern farmers are making Reddy Kilowatt their number one hired man.

Naturally the women-folk are pleased because they can use electricity in so many ways around the house... but beyond that they know there's less work, and more profit on a farm where dependable electricity is used.

Write or visit your nearest Public Service or REA office today for the latest information on farming electrically.

More "go"... for your dough!

When you come right down to it, what you want from a premium motor oil is... the best possible protection and the least added oil from the time you fill till the time you drain.

Conoco Nth Motor Oil (Patented) gives you more for your money because (1) when Nth Oil enters your motor, it OIL-PLATES every working part with an extra film of lubricant and (2) this extra OIL-PLATING actually stays up on cylinder walls... won't all drain down, even overnight!

That means you're extra-protected against power-clogging sludge and carbon due to wear... extra-protected against metal-eating combustion acids... extra-protected against destructive friction.

So, to keep your power... to get more "go" for your dough...

Get Rid of Useless Gadgets

Are you a collector of gadgets for your kitchen? Are there many utensils on your shelves that you seldom use? Then maybe the study and recommendations of the extension home management specialist for Texas A. and M. College, Mrs. Bernice Claytor, will help you.

She says in selecting kitchen utensils and small equipment the homemaker should guard against too many gadgets which do not have real value. Those utensils never should be discarded and the ones seldom used stored in the less convenient places.

In thinking through the utensils used in cooking on top of the stove, the homemaker can select the frying pans, double boilers, large pans with lids and sauce pans varying in size to suit the amount of cooking done. A double boiler of 1 1/2 quart size, 3 frying pans, an 8 quart kettle with a lid, and three sauce pans holding 1 quart, 3 quarts and 4 quarts will suit the needs of the average size Texas farm and ranch family.

The utensils used for baking will include a 10 by 14 inch baking pan with a trivet, at least 1 baking sheet, several bread pans if bread is baked at home, cake pans of desired size and shape, casserole with a lid, cooling rack, custard cups or molds, pudding pan, muffin pan, and several pie pans.

Checking the utensils used at the sink the average family will find use for the dish draining rack and a pan to fit, dish pan, sink strainer and vegetable brush.

The mixing center will need the pint, quart, and cup measuring pieces, with mixing bowls from 1 to 4 pint sizes. If bread is made at home, the bread mixing pan and lid will be a larger piece than other mixing equipment.

There will be other equipment needed according to individual family requirements. There are many small things which may be accumulated too fast if the homemaker does not ask herself if she will actually use the article and if it will be satisfactory for her needs.

More Eaters Than Steaks

Agricultural economists estimate that today there are some four hundred thousand less beef cattle in the United States than on hand at the close of World War I in 1918. Dairy bulls are included in the beef cattle total because the separate figures aren't available, says T. R. Timm, extension economist in farm management of Texas A. and M. College. But when total figures are used in this case, the real story is covered.

Although total beef numbers are lower between the two periods, cow numbers are up. There are nearly 50 thousand more cows of two years and over, and about four thousand more heifers one to two years old. Calves and steers, in about equal numbers, account mainly for the general decrease. Estimates are made as of the first of the year, says Timm.

"Compared to World War I, we now have in supply fewer beef cattle but we can increase beef production quicker in view of a higher percentage of cows and heifers," Timm points out.

Right after the first World War, there were 400 head of cattle for every 1,000 persons in America. Today this picture is a little different. At the present count there are only 284 head for the same number of people. Even the number of beef cows and heifers, when related to population, lost ground instead of gaining, as did the total number of cows and heifers.

Another interesting fact about the beef cattle trends, says Timm, is that the number of pounds of beef hasn't gone down as much as the cattle numbers. All in all, it looks as if the cowmen have a pretty good outlook "price-wise."

463 Cases of Diphtheria So Far This Year

AUSTIN, TEXAS.—According to the morbidity report for the week ending July 3, more than 463 cases of diphtheria occurred throughout the state so far this year.

The morbidity report is released weekly by the Texas State Department of Health. It shows the prevalence of communicable disease by counties.

"In the light of our present knowledge regarding the control of diphtheria, it is unfortunate that the disease is allowed to flourish," Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, said.

For the week June 26 to July 3, Nueces County reported four cases; Hopkins, Tarrant and Val Verde Counties reported one each. For the year 1947, seventy-seven deaths from diphtheria were recorded.

"A life-time immunity may be established in 90 per cent of the children receiving the diphtheria toxoid," the health officer said. "If all parents of children over six months of age would have their children inoculated, the incidence rate of the disease would be rapidly reduced."

The administration of toxoid causes little or no discomfort in the child, Dr. Cox added, and a positive immunity can be determined by a Schick test conducted four to six months after the final dose of the toxoid has been given the child.

Mary Tom Bomar went to Canyon Sunday to spend a few days with her friend, Dora Ann Amerston.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Autry, of Plainview, visited Sunday with Mr. Autry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Autry.

Lubbock Jubilant at Choice of Dr. Wiggins To Head Tech

LUBBOCK—Selection of Dr. D. M. Wiggins of El Paso as president of Texas Technological College here, announced Saturday night at Fort Worth, was received here with almost unanimous approval, on and off the campus.

Wiggins, who for 13 years has been president of the Texas School of Mines at El Paso, a branch of the University of Texas, succeeds Dr. Wm. M. Whyburn, who resigned, effective Sept. 8, to accept chairmanship of the mathematics department of the University of North Carolina.

Civic and educational leaders here pointed out that Dr. Wiggins is widely recognized as an aggressive administrative official, an asset they believe will be worth much to Texas Tech in its fight toward the forefront in educational circles in the Southwest.

These leaders also joined in paying tribute to the untiring work and accomplishments of retiring President Whyburn, pointing out that his administration of the rapidly growing school came at a time of unusual difficulties and handicaps of various kinds that included lack of adequate facilities to handle the rocketing demands on educational institutions.

Baptists of Texas Open FM Radio Station at Belton

DALLAS—The first of eight frequency modulation radio stations to feature religious programs in a network promoted by the Baptist General Convention of Texas has gone on the air.

It is KMHB, owned by Mary Hardin-Baylor College at Belton. It is broadcasting on a probationary 90-day period preliminary to getting a full Federal Communications Commission license. The station is operating on FM channel 246, 97.1 megacycles.

Dr. R. Alton Reed of Dallas, who has been concerned with various aspects of the network since May 1947, estimated Saturday that 15 to 18 months would be necessary before the rest of the stations get going. Dr. Reed's title is director of radio activities for the general convention.

The convention is only promoting the networks, Reed said. Each of the stations will be owned by other Baptist groups or Baptist institutions.

Questions and Answers

Q. I am going to be trained under Public Law 16 and would like to know if I can borrow money from Veterans Administration in case of need when I enter training?

A. Yes. Loans from a revolving fund, provided by Congress, not exceeding $100 in any case, may be made to trainees commencing or undertaking vocational rehabilitation.

Q. Is it true that if I secure a guaranteed loan, VA will pay part of the loan without cost to me?

A. Veterans Administration would pay to the lender, for credit to your account, an amount equal to four per cent of the guaranteed portion of the loan. For example, if the guaranteed portion of your loan should be $2,000, the lender would receive $80 from VA to credit to your debt and you would not have to repay this amount.

Q. Can I, a veteran of World War II, get a guaranteed loan to go into any type of business I want?

A. Yes, you are permitted to get a guaranteed loan for any type of legitimate business on which the lender is willing to lend you money, provided your ability and experience as well as the conditions under which you propose to operate your business are such that there is a reasonable likelihood you will be successful. Also, the total cost must not exceed the reasonable value of the business.

Q. I am in training under the G-I Bill and am writing a thesis for my Ph. D. Will the Government pay the cost of publishing this thesis?

A. No.

Rose Thrips May be Damaging Your Roses

If your rose buds dry before they open, it may not be the dry weather that is spoiling them. If fully opened roses dry before shattering and stay on the bush, look for thrips. Thrips take the sap out of your blooms and may cause your rose bushes to fill with dried flowers, warns Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. and M. College. As soon as one flower dries the thrips fly to another and take sap there.

Thrips are so small and so hard to see that many people do not notice them. It is easy to find them if you look. Take all the petals of one bloom with one hand and pull term off. At once tap them gently on a piece of paper and you will see tiny insects run and fly away.

It is easier to see them if you shake them onto a piece of solid black cloth. Since they have wings and have quick movements, many of them fly away at the first disturbance. However, enough will be left for you to see them. You can part the petals of the flower and see them running around inside the rose. They are flesh colored, very slender and are about the size of tiny black ants. These pests destroy many other kinds of blooms, too. Sometimes they draw sap from leaves and cause them to dry up.

When a rose garden is infested with thrips, it is a good idea to pick all of the blooms and the partly opened buds into a paper sack. Burn them immediately. If left outside or in open container the thrips will fly back to the rose garden. After burning the flowers, dust or spray with nicotine sulphate or with 5 percent DDT mixture.

Another remedy is poisoned bait. Be sure to handle with care because this is poisonous to people as well as to thrips, cautions Miss Hatfield. Use six teaspoons of tartar emetic, two cups of granulated sugar and four gallons of water. Mix well and spray with a coarse nozzle at low pressure. Be sure that drops form on the blooms. The thrips like the sweet taste of the sugar and many of them will be killed.

Polio Victims' 'Dead' Muscles Revived By Electrical Nerve

By Howard W. Blakeslee

NEW YORK—A new electrical nerve, that substitutes for paralyzed nerves, in infantile paralysis, was shown here today at the first international polio conference.

The nerve is a generator of weak, alternating currents, numbering from two to six thousand a second. It was developed by the General Electric Company and the G-E-X-Ray corporation.

The current replaces one or many lost nerves. It causes muscles to tense. They swell and relax, with the current, like the flexing of biceps.

This substitute nerve is used on muscles that are inert, flabby and often seemingly dead because they lack nerves to govern their motions. The electric nerve will not tell a polio victim how to move a deadened arm or leg to use it.

But it substitutes for mild exercise. This exercise is at present one of the few treatments to restore, or partly restore, limbs wasted by infantile paralysis. The principle is the same as that used in the Warm Springs, Ga., water exercises.

It is also possible by use of properly placed weights on limbs or arms, to get some of the benefits of weight-lifting.

There is no effort by the patient. This is an advantage for children who do not comprehend how to use what little is left of weakened muscles so as to bring them back. There is so little discomfort that children sometimes continue playing while connected to the electrical nerve box.

When a point is too painful to move, the electric current will exercise the muscle with the joint perfectly still.

Dr. S. L. Osborne, of Northwestern University Medical School, who has been experimenting with the nerve machine said it is hoped to train nerves not ordinarily used to replace those lost to a muscle. This is called setting up a new "nerve pattern" and ordinary exercises have been known to produce such patterns.

A new chemical that increases resistance to infantile paralysis in mice was exhibited by the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia.

The drug is ophthalmiam, a combination of Vitamin B and Nitrus Acid. It causes almost immediate deficiency of Vitamin B in the body, and the deficiency is the apparent cause of the good effects.

The fact that Vitamin B deficiency retarded polio in mice was discovered before the year. The new drug is an attempt to make use of this knowledge. How it may work for humans is not known.

Oxythiamin reduced deaths of mice by about 50 per cent. It also has shown both a preventive tendency and apparent value also if taken after the disease began.

Tomatoes Aplenty This Season

There will be lots of fresh tomatoes on the market, the USDA reports. Supplies will be coming in throughout the country from Texas, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, California, South Carolina and Louisiana.

Myrtle Murray, extension home marketing specialist of Texas A. and M. College, says the reason for the extra supply is from an over-lapping of crops in the South. In parts of Texas, Georgia and Florida, the mid-March freeze made replanting necessary. So tomatoes in these areas got off to a slow start, while in other areas they are ripening at the usual time.

Another reason for the unusual abundance is that tomatoes that are usually marketed in Canada will be on the U. S. markets, since Canada is not importing them this year. In other years Canada bought over a thousand carloads.

These plentiful fresh tomatoes are expected to be of good quality says Miss Murray. Shopping housewives can pain many fresh tomato salads.
