"Winchester '73" At Palace Theatre November 5, 6

Dodge City is about to start its July 4, 1873 observance of the national holiday when Jimmy Stewart and his pal, Millard Mitchell, arrive and discover the Sheriff (Will Geer) is gently but firmly forcing all the men to check their firearms in his office. Stewart runs into Stephens McNally and it is obvious he has found his quarry, but without guns they can't start anything. Shelley Winters, piano-playing dance hall girl, is put on a stage coach by the sheriff. The prize holiday event is a shooting contest for a Winchester repeating rifle. Stewart wins the gun, but McNally attacks him and disappears with it. Later there is a cavalry Indian battle, a foiled bank holdup and a pursuit that leads to romance between Stewart and Miss Winters.

Next week's program appears on page two.

Plains Telephone Co-Op Seeking Service Orders

The board of directors of the Mid Plains Rural Telephone Co-operative is seeking more applications for service in a five-county Panhandle area.

M. I. McGehee, of Wayside, president of the board, said Washington approval of a loan for the telephone co-op is expected soon but unless more applications for service are received a second loan may be necessary. This, Mr. McGehee said, will mean more delay in bringing telephone service to rural subscribers in Armstrong, Castro, Briscoe, Swisher and Randall counties. The proposed system will cover the area around Silvertown, Tulia, Happy and Canyon.

As the number of subscribers rises, the phone rate decreases, board members point out, giving a second reason for seeking more applications for phone service.

Applications may be filed at the REA office in Tulia or with any one of the 12 board members.

Approximately 800 applications are on file for the service.

Plans call for installation of a modern dial system. Although residence phones will be on a party line, only one phone will ring at a time and for an additional monthly charge any subscriber may have a private business or residence phone.

The application cost is $5 and there will be an additional equity charge of $45 or less after the loan is approved and before construction begins.

Members of the board are Mr. McGehee, president; Victor Harmon, of Happy, vice-president; W. O. Hudson, of Happy, secretary-treasurer; and Clyde Bradford, Clayton Devin and Bruce Fields, all of Happy; Bayard Sadler, Vigo Park; Roy Stockett and Newt Redmon, Tulia; Henry Hamblen, Wayside; Arthur Arnold, Silvertown, and John Vorwald, Canyon.

Halloween with its weird masks and funny faces will soon be here, but to tiny Pamela Mitchell, a patient at Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas, it's not so funny. Nurse Ann Washburn seems to be doing her best, however, to reassure Pamela—with the backing of patient David Holcomb—that it's all in fun and there's nothing to fear. The trio was caught in the picture rehearsing for their Halloween frolic, one of the occasions in which the hospital brings joy to the children from all over Texas who come to Scottish Rite for treatment.

Feed The Land And Fatten The Crops of Texas Next Year

"Feed the land and fatten the crops" is a good slogan for Texas farmers to adopt, because plants must have plenty of the right kind of food in order to grow well and produce big yields, says E. A. Miller, agronomist for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Good crops cannot be grown without sufficient plant food, even when the best seed and cultivation methods are used. Miller points out that plants also need plenty of water and suitable soil conditions to grow in.

He states that feeding the land by plowing under a well-inoculated and fertilized legume is the best way to provide these important items. Legumes supply plant food, especially the high-priced and badly needed nitrogen, which they get from the air by means of bacteria in the nodules on the roots.

Organic matter or humus, supplied by the legumes when they are plowed under, improves the condition of the soil and thus makes it more suitable for plants to grow in. And the more organic matter there is in the soil, the more water there will be for the plants because the vegetation that decays in the soil acts like a sponge and increases the water holding capacity of the land.

Miller reports that increased cotton yields of over 100 pounds of lint per acre were obtained when cotton followed hairy vetch on the East Texas Experiment Substations at Nacogdoches and Tyler. And corn yields were more than doubled at these substations.

The Prince of Peace is coming.

On the more drouthy soils at College Station, vetch increased cotton yields 59 pounds per acre.

At the Temple Substation in the blackland area, cotton following phosphated and inoculated hubam sweetclover produced a five-year average of 315 pounds of lint per acre—and the hubam was harvested for seed before being turned under. On similar land where no legumes were planted, the five-year average was 165 pounds of cotton per acre.

The sweetclovers, hubam, Madrid, and annual yellow blossom, increase the yield of crops that follow them. Hubam and annual yellow blossom are especially beneficial because they also reduce losses from cotton root rot. To farmers who are troubled by cotton dying on the blackland Miller recommends the planting of these two sweetclovers in the rotation, for a seed crop, for grazing and to be plowed under green.

Farmer's Dream Of Drilling Gas Well Comes True

RENOVA, Pa.—Dorsey A. Calhoun, a farmer, dreamed one night about 15 years ago that he heard a voice which told him if he would drill as gas well near the base of an old apple tree at the foot of Calhoun mountain, he would never have to work again and neither would his children or grandchildren.

He told his wife about it and set out to sell the idea to neighboring farmers and to friends and business acquaintances in nearby towns.

"All I wanted," he said, "was enough money to put one hole down. But folks said I was crazy. They laughed at me."

But Calhoun refused to forget his dream. By April, 1949, he had rounded up 30 relatives and friends who were willing to put up $500 apiece to drill a well—near the base of the old apple tree on the Calhoun farm. Second hand rigging, held together by balling wire and resembling the equipment used by wildcatters in the Texas and Oklahoma oil fields years ago, was acquired. Experts looked at it and shook their heads. It wouldn't last, they said.

305 Investors

Calhoun and his associates, forming the Leidy Prospecting Co., found out in a hurry that it costs considerably more than $15,000 to drill a gas well. Once again Calhoun took to beating the bushes for prospective investors. Shares in the company were offered at $100 each. No one was permitted to buy more than 10 shares.

More and more folks, seeing the ancient steam engine derrick in action only about 200 yards from the Calhoun farmhouse, stepped up with money in their fists to get in on the gamble. Soon the number of investors had grown to 305, and nearly $50,000 was in the bank—more than enough to pay the total $47,500 cost of sinking the well to a depth of 5,665 feet.

On January 8, with a shrill whistle, a shower of earth and stone, flying steel cable and a jet of white gas shooting skyward a full 100 feet, Calhoun well No. 1 came in.

Representatives of a number of oil and gas companies hurried to the farm. The well they figured, was at least a half million dollar "bonanza," capable of yielding around 20 million cubic feet of natural gas a day.

$4,000 a Month

The New York State Natural Gas Co. purchased sole rights to the output. At present the company is drawing out about 5,500,000 cubic feet a day. At this rate the experts believe the well should continue producing for about 10 or 14 years.

As owner of the property on which the well is located, Calhoun gets one-eighth of the price paid by the company for the gas. This now comes around $4,000 a month—a tidy sum for a man of 45 who previously earned only a modest income as a farmer and road construction engineer.

The second Calhoun well, sunk to a depth of 6,250 feet and considered to be even more of a "strike" than the first, is ready to deliver gas as soon as the New York firm finishes laying a 42 mile long pipeline to handle it.

Three other wells in Leidy also have "blown in" since the Calhoun drilling operations began paying off. The score is: Five wells drilled, five "strikes"; no failures. Eighteen additional wells are in drilling stage, and more locations are being surveyed.

Cocktail Stick, Mummies Found in American Cave

CHICAGO — Archeologists of the Chicago Natural History Museum have discovered two 1,400-year-old Indian mummies—and a prehistoric "martini-cocktail olive stick"—in a New Mexico cave.

The deep dust of Tularosa Cave, near Reserve, N. M., also yielded sandals, hide, arrow shafts, pottery, baskets, wooden objects, feather and fur cord, and "a host of vegetable matter" used by the Mogollon Indians 14 centuries ago.

Dr. Paul S. Martin, said field analysis of one mummy indicated it was the body of an Indian about 30 years old when he died.

The mummies are the first positively identified with the Mogollon culture.

About the cocktail sticks, the scholarly curator reported:

"We have found what appear to be martini-cocktail olive sticks—only these are hardwood sticks with juniper berries that have been speared, for what purpose we do not know."

"Petroleum Peggy Says"

Something that's a constant source of amazement—and assurance—to me is the degree to which companies experiment with their products to make them better and better. Many times they tackle problems you'd never think of.

Take the matter of cleaning your automobile windshield, for instance. Every woman who drives a car can appreciate, and may have experienced, the annoyance of starting the windshield wiper in a rain storm and having the window smeared to a vision- eclouding mess. Improper clean- ing is the cause, of course. Recent- ly, an oil company, which makes windshield cleaning liquid, under- took a study of the best way to clean car glass.

The major source of scum on the window, the oil men found, is oil drippings on the road which are churned into the air by traffic. Exhaust fumes contain similar oil particles. Since the driver's side of the car is closest to traffic, his windshield gets dirty faster. Only 50 miles of driving in heavy traf- fic is sufficient to make the glass noticeably dirty.

The wiper blade, something most motorists overlook when they clean the windshield, causes trouble if the rubber blade isn't cleaned at the same time as the window.

Because oil films cause most windshield dirt and smear, water isn't a good cleaner, the oil men say. It can't cut the film.

Strangely enough, one of the best methods for cleaning wind- shields, the testers found, is to fight oil with oil, sort of like fighting fire with fire. Special cleaners utilizing chemicals ex- tracted from crude oil are pro- duced by various oil companies for that job. They can be used at home and are standard equip- ment at most service stations. At the stations, attendants keep sprays and special paper towels at hand for the job. There is even a right and wrong way to apply and remove cleaner, the oil men learned.

Heart Patients Freed From Tasteless Diets

Evidence that heart disease victims can be freed from tasteless diets by means of the chemical technique used to soften water has been presented. The technique should be employed only under the supervision of a physician.

Patients suffering from heart conditions, high blood pressure and related ailments tend to develop dropsy, or edema—an excessive accumulation of water in the tissues—according to a report by Evan W. McChesney, Ph.D., Frederick C. Nachod, Sc.D. and Maurice L. Tainter, M.D., of the Sterling-Winthrop research institute, Rensselaer, N. Y.

Until recently, it was widely believed that the only way to counteract this tendency was to limit drastically the amount of water given to the patient to drink. However, according to the report, it has been found that the real difficulty is the inability of the patient to eliminate enough sodium, such as is contained in common table salt.

This means, the paper said, that it actually is helpful to the patient to drink large amounts of water, the important thing being to reduce the amount of sodium salts in his body by washing them out with water and also by limiting their intake.

"The latter can be accomplished by special diets almost free of salt, or by using salt substitutes," the paper pointed out, "but such diets are tiresome and almost any form of relief would be welcome."

EDITORIAL

Co-operation in High School and in life is one of the most vital qualities an individual can have. Without it your life and the life of those around you will be made miserable. Co-operation eliminates so many of the frictions one encounters during the day. Co-operation smooths the path and makes it much easier to travel. Consider for a moment a school where your teacher refused to cooperate with the administration or other teachers. Can't you imagine the confusion you would be subjected to the entire year? Your principal or superintendent would give you one set of rules to follow and your teachers would tell you something entirely different. You would be a lost and bewildered person—not knowing what to do.

What if, when you come to school one morning each student you met absolutely refused to cooperate with you. Perhaps you were absent yesterday and wanted to know today's assignment. No one would tell you. That would be so discouraging that you'd probably feel like going back home for another day and waiting for people to come to their right mind. And isn't it a terrible situation in a classroom when you have your assignment to get and some students positively refuse to be quiet so you can concentrate and study like you want to? Sometimes we tend to take our teachers for granted but did you ever wonder what would happen if they didn't co-operate with you? How would you ever get your lesson if they didn't help you when you ask them for aid? Co-operation takes such small effort on your part but think how much better it makes our life.

EX-CHANGE—EX-TRACTS

From Lockney we hear they had a "Friendship Week" that was a huge success. Seems as if the students showed just how nice and friendly they could be.

SNAP-SHOTS ARE LAGGING

Only a few students have answered the call to turn in snap-shots to the snap-shot editor of the annual staff, Valda Jo Estes. Surely you have some snap-shots of interesting events or parties you want remembered. Think how much a good snap-shot section would improve the annual for 1950-51. Don't delay another day! Turn in your snap-shots now!

SCHOOL PICTURES

All those sad faces you saw around the halls Monday afternoon, were a result of that little camera that sees all, catches all. Some students who were the saddest though, were those who didn't get any pictures at all. But, never fret, fair ones, we hear that your chance will come later. Just be patient and wait.

JOKES

Mr. Lawrence: Sam, what is a flood?
Sam: "A flood is a river too big for it's bridges."
Guide: "Why didn't you shoot? That bear was right on top of us."
Hunter: "I didn't think the expression on his face was just right for a rug."
Mrs. Porter: "Ted, your marks are terrible. I don't think you are trying. You need more spunk. Do you know what spunk is?"
Ted: "Yes, ma'am—Its the past participle of spank."
Gloria: "What is the difference between a sewing machine and a kiss?"
Beth: "One sews seams nice, and the other seems nice."

What was all the confusion in the Freshman class? Nosey heard that some of the girls had a, er, shall we say slight disagreement.

The Prince of Peace is coming.

NEW FAD HITS SILVERTON HIGH SCHOOL

By Gay Merrell

The latest fad to hit S. H. S. is all of the students are wearing ear rings. Most of them are huge and very gaudy. Some of them are small.

Junis Mercer has the largest pair of any that has been worn. They are gold and real shiny and about the size of two silver dollars and hang down to her shoulders.

Mary Dudley has a pair of gold ones with in-set pearls that look like chandeliers, they are real beautiful.

Bonnie Watters has some silver ones that are the size of a silver dollar.

Francis Stout and Beth Mason have two lovely pairs which are in the shape of a buckle and have a little silver ball dangling down.

Mary Bomar and Dottie Heckman traded earrings and that gives them a large variety. Mary has a pair in the shape of a silver boot and spur.

Some of the boys pierce their ears but are sorry of it now.

Glenn Watters wore a silver dollar in his for a while.

You never know what the brilliant students of S. H. S. will be wearing or doing next, so guess we will just have to wait and see.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

By Darrell McWilliams

The question of the week is "How do the students like the new lunch room?"

Joe Monday says that he thinks it is very nice; and compliments the school for having it remodelled.

Buford Clemmer says that it looks good compared to the old one. He stated that the old one looked drab, and dirty; but that the remodeled one was neat and clean; and that it was a pleasure to eat in it.

Glen Watters thinks that the service system was improved when some additional help was acquired.

Ray Savage says that the service is faster and more efficient; also that it is more modern than it was before.

Norman Jasper thinks that the concrete floor is a great improvement, because the old wooden one shook when any one walked across it.

As a whole every one is very proud and well satisfied with our new modernized, efficient lunch-room.

ORCHIDS AND ONIONS

Onions to certain World History teachers who make the pupils walk out single file at dinner.

Orchids to the girls who wear these pretty ear-screws they get in Tulsa.

Onions to Willie Wade for turning side-ways in the hall. He is so thin people can't see him, every one is griping about skinned noses.

Orchids to Mrs. Evans for coaching girls basket ball.

Onions to Buford's car for not starting in Turkey Tuesday night.

Orchids to certain freshman girls for taking things so well. We mean when they are accused of doing something they didn't do, and by other freshman girls at that.

Onions to certain sophomore boys for peeping in the home-making room. Watch it Jim you might get embarrassed.

Orchids to Ted for keeping the girls in Journalism company while the other boys type.

Onions to Beth for trying to take Billy away from Dottie.

Orchids to Gay. Don't ask why cause we don't know either.

Onions to Patsy Crass for general principles.

Orchids to Mrs. Porter for liking wrestling matches.

Who was that tall, dark, handsome boy we saw here Sunday before last, from Plainview? Do you know Beth?

The Prince of Peace is coming.

MEET THIS SENIOR—BUFORD CLEMMER

One student who will bid farewell to high school come next spring is Buford Don Clemmer. Buford was born in Lubbock, Texas, July 23, 1934. He moved to Silverton when he was six years old and entered grade school. He has gone to Silverton ever since. Buford is a staff member of the school paper and typist for the 1950-51 annual staff.

Buford said his best likes are chicken and steak.

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL

The P. T. A. sponsored a halloween carnival Friday night. There were several booths and concessions. They included a spook house, a dart board, a ball throwing booth, and several other.

The crowning of the queen began about nine o'clock. The high school queen was Kay Steel from the sophomore class. The grade school queen was from the second grade.

Ray Tiner was stopped by a policeman for speeding. The cop fined him $14.75 and said the next time I catch you it will be the cooler. Ho Hum said Ray just like a weather forecast, fine today and cooler tomorrow.

The Prince of Peace is coming.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION CARNIVAL QUEEN'S RACE RESULTS

Grade	Money Raised
1	$10.07
2 Winner in grade school	87.01
3	63.62
4	20.30
5	10.47
6	16.29
7	17.87
8	12.88
9	6.14
10 Winner in high school	19.89
11	.72
12	2.90
Total	$268.16

A total of $548.62 was raised at the carnival Friday night. This carnival was sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association and all money raised by this organization will be used for the benefit of the school. The sound equipment that was used at the carnival and will be used in the school auditorium was purchased by the Parent Teacher Association. This is good equipment and will greatly benefit the school as a whole.

Of the above queen's race money each class will receive 25% of the money raised for their queen and the two winners will receive an additional 25% or a total of 50 per cent of the money raised by their efforts. For the second grade this will be $43.50 for the class. This will be used as class money for the benefit of the class.

The Prince of Peace is coming.

EIGHTH GRADE PUPILS WITH AVERAGE OF 90 OR OVER FOR FIRST SIX WEEKS

The pupils who had an average of 90 or above for the first six weeks are: Frances Tunnell, Tomileen Miller, Linda Adcock, and Frances Ann Ely.

The eighth graders were very unhappy that Frances Ann did not win the grade school queen contest, but they give their sincerest congratulations to the winner.

All students in this class appreciate the P. T. A. more than ever. They think the halloween carnival was lots of fun and hope it will become an annual affair. Betty and Joni may not care to "ride the pony" since their fall from the horse Friday night was almost serious. They were not riding the carnival horses but one loaned them by Thomas Lee.

Valtra and Robert are still seeing each other very often—sometimes they even forget about class work due to other "interests."

We think Douglas O'Neal's suggestion is very good. He said, "Now that we have begun a new six weeks, lets raise our grades. Let's keep our room clean by being careful with ink, waste paper, and other things. Let's keep the cleanest room in the school building."

The Prince of Peace is coming.

Did Gloria cut her apron strings Monday night. Bonnie, Beth, Gay, JoDean, Clovis, and Gloria Ann spent two thirds of the night hunting her in Quitaque. Come to find out she was already at home.

What's the mater Joe are you slipping? Nosey saw riding around with Joe Sunday afternoon. Nosey saw Buford bring her to Monday morning. Edna was going to stand for this.

4400 FARMERS KILLED
300,000 INJURED

DON'T "CULTIVATE" ACCIDENTS ON YOUR FARM

A field half plowed—a furrow left unturned—work stopped by accident!

To the farmer, working against time and weather, delay can mean the difference between a crop and no crop, a good year or a lean one. So accidents have no place in his schedule; they cost money, delay production—and the growing season keeps rolling along.

Yet, farming ranks third most hazardous in eight major industries. Think of it, while the death rate for all industry is 29 per 100,000 workers, in agriculture it is 55 per 100,000! One farmer in every 15 is injured on the job! Total—4400 killed, 300,000 disabled by injury every year.

The wise farmer knows where his hazards are—and avoids them. Falls, machinery and animals account for most accidents down on the farm. Their annual cost—$75,000,000. Yet, they're so easy to prevent. Just a little caution is all it takes.

Don't "cultivate" accidents and losses! Instead, "cultivate" safety and success!

Medical Science Repeaters Anti-Histamine

BLOOMFIELD, N. J.—Medical science has developed a unique "repeater" anti-histamine tablet, which is to deliver a powerful one-punch against hay fever and allergies, it has been discovered.

The repeater tablet, when swallowed promptly providing relief of the inflamed membrane, and automatically follows six hours later with another dose of the drug by doubling its time of effectiveness against hay fever and other allergies.

Developed after months of intensive research in the laboratories of the corporation, Bloomfield, the double-action tablet is made available from coast to coast through doctors' prescriptions to aid the 5,000,000 persons afflicted in the grip of the annual hay fever season. The chlor-trime-tol double dosage unit, it was said, also ease the discomfort of the estimated 10,000,000 others who suffer from asthma, hives, eczema and other allergies.

Gives Longer Relief

The basic component of the double-action, chlor-trime-tol maleate, has been shown by published clinical reports to be the most powerful score of antihistamines now prescribed by physicians, as well as one of the safest and most effective of the drugs.

The tablet contains two four-milligram doses of chlor-trime-tol, one outer covering and another in score. Separating the two doses is a protective layer which acts as a delaying barrier. On entering the stomach, the outer dose is utilized immediately. Four to six hours later the second dose dissolves in the intestine and goes into action.

The new dosage unit, medical researchers reported, will enable a hay fever sufferer to take a pill at bedtime and to sleep through the night without the necessity of rising to take another pill to keep the nasal passages free of obstruction.

Pill Within a Pill

The repeater tablet offers daytime relief to two important groups, workers and school children. White collar and factory workers using these pills for hay fever and allergies need not take time out during the working day to renew the dosage of the anti-histamine in order to keep their heads clear enough to perform their duties. Now mothers can give school children a pill at breakfast time that will last throughout the school day without having to rely on the teacher or the child himself to administer another dose.

Because of its low dosage (4 milligrams as against 25 to 100 milligrams for other anti-histamines) the new chlor-trime-tol "pill within a pill" comes in a safe as well as welcome, relief to this year's estimated 15,000,000 allergy sufferers.

Sentry Bags North Korean And Apology From Colonel

MASON FRONT, Korea—Lt. Col. John T. Corley, Brooklyn, gave his men strict orders against wasting ammunition as they stood guard around his frontline command post.

Suddenly the night was filled with the sound of carbine fire. A sentry fired a full clip.

"Bring that soldier in," ordered the colonel.

A sergeant went out and returned with the sentry, Pvt. Fraser Payton, Berkeley, Calif.

"Soldier," said Colonel Corley, "I said to quit wasting ammunition. When you shoot a full clip bring in a dead North Korean. Understand?"

"Yes, sir," said Private Payton. He saluted and did an about-face.

Three minutes later a voice outside the colonel's tent said:

"Colonel, sir, could you come outside please?"

Colonel Corley stepped outside. There was Private Payton with a corpse beside him.

"Here is your dead North Korean, sir. I believe you asked for him."

Said the colonel to the private: "I apologize, soldier."

"Thank you, sir," said Private Payton.

Birmingham Can't Get Rid Of Trees Storm Blew Down

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—In August a storm swept across Birmingham and blew down 1,000 trees. Now they are piled in four huge heaps and the city can't get rid of them.

Commissioner James W. Morgan first tried to sell the trees. No buyers. Then he tried to give them away. No takers.

Next he thought of burning them, but feared he'd run afoul of the city's smoke abatement law.

To haul the trees outside the city limits and burn them would cost about $25,000, and Morgan said the city's budget couldn't stand it.

He has one possible solution left—this autumn when homeowners burn piles of leaves he will try to burn the trees. He says that city police always look the other way then, and they might do the same for him.

Ensigns Outsail 'Brass' in Election Of Mess Treasurer

WITH U. S. NAVY. OFF FORMOSA—Every war has its lighter moments. One of them occurred recently when officers on a U. S. ship set about electing a mess treasurer, a job rated lower than the ship's keel.

On most ships some unlucky ensign is elected to the job. On this particular ship, however, the ensigns waged a campaign against the other officers.

The candidates were Lieut. William M. Morgan of Long Beach, Calif., a veteran of 15 years at sea, and Ensign Edward Everett Horton of Escuinto, Calif., a June graduate of Yale.

The campaign was fast and hot, with both men doing their best to get his opponent elected.

Ensign Horton's forces went into action first, posting illustrated signs praising Lieutenant Morgan—"free love and nickel beer in the Morgan manner," and "Rex accepts rubber checks," and "stretch your dollars with Morgan."

A few hours later the senior officers countered with hastily pencilled broadsides. One was a thinly veiled threat—"Ensigns, enjoy your cruise, elect an officer who will save money and vote for Horton." Another was "efficiency, economy, enterprise; vote for E. E. Horton."

Not content with this, a senior officer arose at dinner to speak for Ensign Horton and against what he called the "machine" ensigns.

"Rex finds it difficult to add and subtract," he said, "but Ensign Horton is free and eager, with plenty of rest and looking for something to do."

Lieutenant Morgan put the issue this way: "Do you want a democratic election or the machine politics of the ensigns?"

But when the ballots were counted Ensign Horton had "won." Morgan received 37 and Horton 29. The lieutenant began his new duties immediately.

Miami Woman's Gambling Story Costs Her $400

MIAMI, Fla.—Mrs. Marion Stella was arrested with more than $100 in bets in her purse, but she contended the bets were her own.

"How much do you usually bet?" the judge asked.

"Oh, $100 a week," Mrs. Stella replied.

"What does your husband do?"

"He's a painter."

"And you bet $100 a week on horses?"

"Yes."

"That explanation is an insult to my intelligence," said the judge. "Guilty."

He fined her $400 and costs on charges of operating a gambling house.

Children Help 90-Year-Old
Painter Celebrate Birthday

ALBANY, N. Y.—Mrs. Anna Mary Robertson Moses, better known in the art world as "Grandma" Moses, celebrated her 90th birthday recently.

More than 600 friends—a large share of them youngsters—turned out to greet her and admire the celebrated paintings of the "primitive" artist at the opening of her first exhibit in Albany.

Despite pleas of her son to take things easy the Eagle River, N. Y., woman vigorously shook hands with scores of admirers.

For her birthday dinner, artist Norman Rockwell of Arlington, Vt., decorated a huge cake with figures like those in her rustic scenes.

For Grandma, who was voted one of the "10 outstanding women" in the nation last year by the women's national press club, the next milestone is 100. She said she doesn't think about the 100th birthday too much but "I have invited a few of my friends over for a dance then."

10-Month-Old Cat Climbs
14,780 Foot Matterhorn

GENEVA, Switzerland—One of Europe's highest peaks, the 14,780 foot Matterhorn, has been conquered by a cat.

Astonished Alpinists returning from a difficult climb up the sheer sides of the peak told about the cat, a 10 months old black and white kitten.

Several days ago the kitten, which has been named Mait, apparently got bored with watching climbing parties leave the hotel on the Hornli ridge where it was born.

So, without ropes, guides, pickaxe, compass, food, water, maps and first aid equipment it started up the steep slopes on which a number of persons have died.

Its first stop was the Solway hut, at 12,556 feet. It spent the night there and dined on milk. The next day it pattered up the difficult "shoulder" and spent the night there. It was seen by a party of climbers who decided it never could get over the difficult slopes to come.

The climbers set out, leaving the cat behind. When they reached the top, congratulating one another that they had made it, they heard a meowing. There was Mait. He had beaten them there.

Matt looked for something to eat but found nothing but snow. With a switch of his tail he walked off, headed down the mountain.

Navy to Select 1,600 Students for College Program

Annual competitive tests to select 1,600 applications for the naval reserve officers' training corps college program will be held December 9, Eighth Naval District headquarters has announced.

Application blanks are available at Navy recruiting offices and at NROTC units at Rice Institute, the University of Oklahoma, Tulane university and the University of New Mexico.

Male high school seniors and graduates between 17 and 21 may apply. Successful candidates will get a four year college education with tuition, books, normal fees and $50 a month pay at one of the 52 major colleges and universities with NROTC units.

To qualify, applicants must meet physical and mental standards and pass an aptitude test. State boards will select outstanding candidates to meet quotas assigned each state and territory, the Navy said.

They will enroll in the fall, 1951, term and will be deferred from draft until completion of their academic studies.

NROTC students participate in drills and summer cruises and must agree to serve two years on active duty after graduation and commissioning as ensigns in the naval reserve. At the end of the two-year period they may apply for retention as commissioned officers in the regular Navy.

Regulations affecting Fishing in Texas
Are Announced

Two regulations affecting fishing in Texas were recently amended at the last regular monthly meeting of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, according to the Executive Secretary of the Commission.

The first of these regulations affects the taking of minnows from waters in the Panhandle area. Under the amended regulation not more than 1,000 minnows may be taken or possessed at any one time by any one person from the waters of the following counties: Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Parmer, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Castro, Cottle, and Motley. J. V. M. Hildner Swisher, Briscoe, Hall, Childress, Cottle, and Motley.

This regulation, prior to amendment, provided that not more than 300 minnows could be in the possession of any one person at any one time.

The second change in regulations acted upon by the Game Commission affects the North Bosque River below the Waco Dam to where the Bosque River flows into the Brazos River. All nets and seines, other than the 20 foot minnow seine and fruit jar type trap for taking minnows for bait, are prohibited in this two mile stretch of the Bosque River.

The Executive Secretary announces that these new regulations go into effect November 10.

Joe Lee Bomar was admitted to the Plainview hospital Saturday night for treatment.

Mrs. Bob Dickerson, Mrs. G. R. Mayfield, Lena Lindsey, Mrs. Alva Mayfield, were visitors in Plainview last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Wallace, of Mangum, Okla., are visiting a few days with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Stephens.

Since RCA Victor's "That How Much I Love You" skyrocketed Eddy Arnold to fame, he has consistently turned out hit after record hit. Beside his box score of sales, many a bigger name pales in comparison—and most amazing: there seems to be no end in sight!

Each record that followed his initial hit—"I'll Hold You In My Heart," "Bouquet Of Roses," "Don't Rob Another Man's Castle"—was increasingly successful. Now after five years, Eddy is more firmly established than ever at the top of the ladder. In a recent disc jockey poll conducted by Billboard Magazine, he was voted number one country artist by 414 radio record spinners.

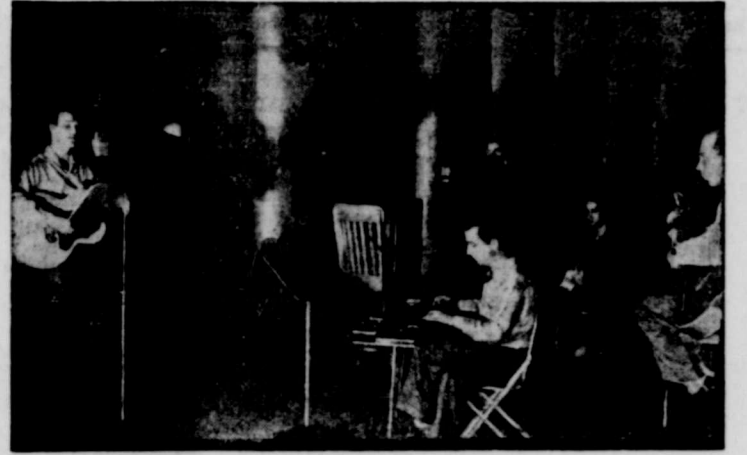

The real judges of popularity—the public—placed Eddy at the top of their poll too, by buying more of his records than those of any comparative artist.

His albums have also enjoyed immense popularity. "All-Time Hits From The Hills" is still an all-out favorite. Eddy's most recent album "Favorite Sacred Songs" includes such perennial religious favorites as "Beautiful Isle Of Somewhere" and showcases his pleasing vocal style to top advantage.

As to what makes him click, Eddy has a simple answer: "I sing from the heart and I try to choose the best songs I can find. Seems that folks like it."

Typical Eddy Arnold recording session at RCA Victor's New York studios. His first disc, "Mommy Please Stay Home with Me," is still a popular favorite.

Beginning the last week in September, the Eddy Arnold Show will be a half-hour feature heard weekly and will be broadcast over many radio stations in the South and Southwest.
