Lions Club Sponsoring Jubilee Minstrels At Auditorium Dec. 5.

Under the sponsorship of the Silverton Lions Club, E. E. Minter, president of the local club, has announced that they have secured the Lubbock Lions Club Jubilee Minstrels to appear in Silverton on the evening of December 5, 1950, at the high school auditorium at 8 p. m.

The Lubbock Lions Club Jubilee Minstrels is a local talent show produced annually by the Lubbock Lions Club. The first show was produced in 1946, and it was such a success that it has been made an annual affair.

This show has been put on in 15 or 18 towns in and around Lubbock. The highlight of the year is a trip they made to Ruidoso, New Mexico.

The cast this year is composed of some fifty people on the stage at all times, with others appearing in the various acts and in addition, some twenty workers behind the stage are required to work on this production. Every act in the show is presented by Lubbock people who are amateurs in the entertainment field. The Lions Club has never used any professional talent in this show, although the show is of professional quality.

The stage lighting is a beautiful blending of spotlights and "blacklight," using fluorescent painting on the costumes that make the show outstanding in this respect. The thirty man chorus, under the direction of Richard Richards, has won acclaim through out the country for its singing.

The proceeds the local club derives from the show will be used by their club in local charitable activities, President E. E. Minter said.

Mayor Calls Meeting Of Business Men Monday Night

J. E. Minyard, Mayor, called a meeting of the business men of Silverton Monday in the county courtroom, and give them the "low down," on just what the city was lacking in the way of firemen and equipment to get the insurance rate reduced in the city of Silverton. Mayor Minyard a letter from the State Fire Commissioner in which he stressed the fact that Silverton does not have the required number of firemen at the present time to justify a reduction in insurance rates.

Most of the business firms in town were represented and showed considerable concern, but other than discussing the matter, nothing was definitely done.

MAYOR URGED FOLKS TO CLEAN UP PREMISES

Mayor Minyard called attention to the many fire hazards around town, and especially some of the streets and alleys of the business district, such as weeds and trash, and asked that everyone clean up their premises and where there was rubbish that could not be burned, the city will haul it off to the dump grounds.

'Annie Get Your Gun' At Palace Theatre December 3-4

The great movie of all time—loaded with love and laughter, with Betty Hutton in her most riotous role, as Annie Oakley, the fabulous wild west sharpshooter.

Annie Oakley (Betty Hutton), a backwoods girl whose shooting prowess is incredible, joins Buffalo Bill's wild west show just to be near Howard Keel, champion sharpshooter, because she has fallen hopelessly in love with him. They team up but separate when Keel becomes jealous of her prowess in the new act. Annie goes to Europe and gains yet more fame, to Keel's consternation when they meet again and find they are still in love. A contest is arranged to determine, once and for all, who is the better marksman. Annie finally sees the light and deliberately misses her shots to assuage Keel's pride; the ruse works and the two become partners again.

Wittery Europeans Near Panic When Sun Turns Blue

LONDON, Eng.—The queerest sky display since the haze of Halley's comet turned the sun and moon odd colors in 1910 took place in the skies over the North Sea recently.

While baffled British star gazers studied notes on the phenomenon, colleagues in Denmark watched the sun which came up a strange blue. Wittery old folks queued up at some Danish banks, demanding their money for a hurried flight from Copenhagen.

Thousands of other Europeans—some fearful, some merely interested—strained for a glimpse of the heavens through clouds which covered much of the continent.

A superstitious few feared the end of the world. Others guessed there had been a terrific atom blast somewhere on the globe. Astronomers were divided into three main schools of thought on the cause:

1. The filtering effect of a far lung smoke from vast forest fires raging in Canada which spread a pall over northeastern United States earlier.

2. A peculiar high cloud formation.

3. Dust blown high into the air in a storm or volcanic eruption far to the west.

A royal air force pilot who went up to investigate reported he found a layer of fine brownish dust, 5,000 feet thick, beginning at 38,000 feet.

Curious or frightened Britons swamped telephone lines to observatories and weather experts. In Denmark, the sun stayed blue for more than an hour. The royal observatory and Danish newspapers were swamped with telephone calls. Many persons insisted an atomic bomb must have gone off in or near Denmark.

In Rome, Paris and Brussels the sun was its usual color. In Oslo, Frankfurt, Stockholm and Helsinki it was hidden by heavy clouds.

Amvets to Mail Every U.S. Citizen Atomic-Age Dog Tag

WASHINGTON — Harold A. Keats, national administration of the Amvets service foundation, reports the organization is getting ready to give all citizens an atomic-age dog tag.

He reported the mailing will begin within ninety days and within 18 months the job of passing out the tags to 161 million Americans should be finished.

The tag is a plastic identification card carrying the name and address of the owner and a space for his blood type. Each will have a plastic neckband, but it will fit into a wallet or pocketbook.

Amvets won't type blood but they will tell where to get it typed.

King's Ghost Hovers Over Los Angeles Parking Plan

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—The city of Los Angeles is having trouble because of a forgotten Spanish king.

The city wants to build a 1,650-car garage beneath midtown Pershing square. But the Spanish king when he deeded the land to the village of Los Angeles specified it was for perpetual use as a spot for fiestas and for nothing else.

No one challenged its exclusive use as a park until 1908 when the city decided to build a library and office building there.

But property owner J. H. Spires dragged the Spanish monarch's skeleton into court and spiked the move. His majesty had said nothing about a library-office building on the block square park, Spires contended successfully.

The matter rested until 1947 when voters passed a city charter amendment later approved by the state legislature which said the area under the square could be used for any suitable purpose that did not "breach the original conditions" or "decrease benefits and enjoyment to the public."

But city attorney Bourke Jones said this attempt to undercut the king's commands might not stand up under a nuisance suit.

Fortunately, about the only persons who might object are tree lovers, and their case would be a shaky one. The subterranean parking lot would change the face of the park very little.

President Truman's Marine Letter Is Sold for $2,500

BATON ROUGE, La. — President Truman's now famous marine letter has been sold for $2,500.

The letter dubbed the marines as "the navy's police force" with a "propaganda machine" likable to Stalin's. Mr. Truman apologized after marines and ex-marines exploded at home and abroad.

Thus J. McQueen, national adjutant of the marine corps league, announced that the letter would be sold. He said the $2,500 check would be turned over to the league for welfare and service work among marine veterans.

McQueen reported he had conducted a telegraphic poll of the league's national staff and a majority approved the sale.

McQueen said that he did not know the identity of the purchaser.

Cats and Rats Live Together; Lesson for Man

WASHINGTON — Dr. Loh Sen Tsai, a Tulane university psycholo- gist, has trained four alley cats to live happily with a team of white rats. And he thinks the world could learn a lesson in peaceful cooper- ation from them.

These natural enemies, the doc- tor reports, have been trained both to live together without mayhem and to help one another get a good feed by overcoming mutual handi- caps.

"So why not human beings, races and nationalities?" asks Dr. Tsai. The cat candidates for a peace prize came from alleys just a cou- ple of blocks away from New Or- leans' world famous Bourbon street. Since they were alley born and alley raised, they presumably had had experience "in foraging for little rats."

His idea was that if cats who were old hands at chasing rats could be trained to be chummy with them, the evidence of the experi- ment would be most convincing.

How They're Trained

The cats were trained with the rats in this way: They were placed together in cages until they got accustomed to living, playing and eating together. Then Dr. Tsai set out to teach them the value of teamwork.

He worked out a device he calls the "Tsal cooperation apparatus." It has three separate compart- ments, separated one from another by a screen gate which can be raised and lowered.

The first section is the entrance, or "release box", where a cat and a rat are assembled for each test. When a gate is raised, the animals move into the second chamber, where the cooperation takes place.

To get into the third compart- ment—where a dish of food awaits them—both the rat and the cat must step on floor buttons simultane- ously. When this is done the gate goes down and they are free to enter and eat the food.

But if only one of them steps on a button—or if both step on the same button—they get nowhere.

Lesson for Mankind It took some time for the animals to get the idea. But now a given cat and rat team can breeze right through to the chow line in two or three seconds.

If one of them is purposely kept in the entrance chamber while his teammate gets through to the co- operation chamber, the partner in front will press a button that re- leases his buddy from the entrance room. Then both of them go to get into the food chamber.

What's this got do with world peace? Dr. Tsai says the people of the world must learn to cooperate in order to save the planet from atomic destruction.

"From research like this, such factors as common background, common motive, training and best age for training can be varied in- dependently and studied. The re- sults will throw light on the problem of world peace and international co- operation, upon which the entire fate of mankind depends.

Policemen Report Saucer Floats to Earth, Dissolves

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — A new theory of what happens to flying saucers has been put forth by four Philadelphia policemen.

Patrolmen John Collins and Joseph Keenan reported that they saw a mysterious object about six feet in diameter floating to earth in an open field. They summoned other officers. Then they approached the object and turned on flashlights.

Collins tried to pick "the thing" up. The part touched by his hand dissolved, he said, leaving a sticky, odorless residue. Within a half hour the entire object had evaporated. It was so light, the policemen reported, it had not even bent the weeds on which it had rested.

The police notified the federal bu- reau of investigation—but there was nothing to show FBI agents except a spot on the ground.

Finish Girls Scrub Ship, Save Nation Large Fine

NEW YORK—A strike in Finland is hurting that country's effort to pay off reparations to Russia, which demands payment of a heavy fine for each belated delivery.

A recent report said that 80 en- gineers and 40 office girls managed to save the state a fine of 11 million Finnish markkas. In a shipyard the girls went to work on an almost finished ship, due to be delivered to the Russians at midnight. They scrubbed decks while the engineers hooked up electrical wiring and ad- justed the engines.

Exactly 30 minutes before the hour of delivery, the reparations com- mittee in Helsinki was told by tele- phone that the ship was ready. When the Russians came to take over, they remarked laughingly that they had never seen such clean decks.

DOMESTIC WORKERS COME UNDER SOCIAL SECURITY REGULATIONS AFTER JANUARY 1

Do you employ a domestic worker in your home, such as a maid, butler, cook, gardner, or chauffeur? If so, you may soon be an employer under social security. The amended Social Security Act brings regularly em- ployed domestic workers under this insurance system effective January 1, 1951. A domestic worker considered to be regularly em- ployed if he works for one person on 24 separate days in a calendar quarter and earns at least $50 in cash wages during the quarter. Generally speaking, this would mean that the domestic who works for one person on the average of two days per week would be covered under the amended law. Further, it means that you will not be concerned with this new provision if you have a person who works for you only one day a week, or less than 24 days per calendar quarter.

Does all this sound complicated? Well, it really isn't. The Treas- ury Department and the Social Security Administration, working jointly, have just issued a brief booklet telling the few simple steps for you and your household worker to take. It includes a postal card for getting instructions about the easy-to-fill-out report form. The title of this booklet is "Do You Have a Maid?" Copies of this booklet have been mailed to your local postmaster. If he has not received his supply, you can obtain a copy by writing the so- cial security office, Amarillo, and asking for the booklet, "Do You Have a Maid?"

4400 FARMERS KILLED
300,000 INJURED

DON'T "CULTIVATE" ACCIDENTS ON YOUR FARM

A field half plowed—a furrow left unturned—work stopped by accident!

To the farmer, working against time and weather, delay can mean the difference between a crop and no crop, a good year or a lean one. So accidents have no place in his schedule; they cost money, delay production—and the growing season keeps rolling along.

Yes, farming ranks third most hazardous in eight major industries. Think of it, while the death rate for all industry is 29 per 100,000 workers, in agriculture it is 55 per 100,000! One farmer in every 15 is injured on the job! Total—4400 killed, 300,000 disabled by injury every year.

The wise farmer knows where his hazards are—and avoids them. Falls, machinery and animals account for most accidents down on the farm. Their annual cost—$75,000,000. Yet, they're so easy to prevent. Just a little caution is all it takes.

Don't "cultivate" accidents and losses! Instead, "cultivate" safety and success!

A HOME TO LIVE IN

Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minnesota

DESIGN B-189. This small one bedroom house is complete and economical to build but it has the added advantage of being expandable. With a minimum of alteration, consisting merely of opening a preframed section of the hall, a second bedroom can be added, either now or in the future.

The open plan arrangement of the living-dining room increases the living area while effectively concealing the kitchen work space. Kitchen cabinets and equipment are efficiently placed and a China cabinet is located in the dining area.

A total of six closets are provided, including linen cabinet and double wardrobe closets in the bedroom. Plans call for a full basement, frame construction, siding and asphalt shingles.

Dimensions are 28 feet by 24 feet, floor area of 672 square feet and 13,104 cubic feet.

Research Lag in Colleges Hit by Priestly Medalist

Many American colleges are neglecting their duty to the public by ignoring or subordinating scientific research. Professor Charles A. Kraus of Brown university asserted in an address to the American chemical society after he received the society's Priestley medal, highest honor in American chemistry.

The research lag in colleges is a matter of grave moment to the national welfare and security, Professor Kraus declared, because "of all human activities, none is playing a more important role today than is research."

"Our continued well-being, indeed our very existence, may well depend on the effectiveness with which we are able to apply research in the solution of our ever-growing problems," he warned.

The speaker called for "a thoroughgoing study and analysis of our scientific research production" with a view to improving the quality and increasing the quantity of college research.

In his address Professor Kraus made it clear that in his opinion the failure of many colleges to sponsor adequate research programs was due more to lack of appreciation of the importance of research than to financial limitations.

The modern age, he said, has only one outstanding achievement to its credit—it has learned how to apply research in the solution of man's everlasting problem, the problem of existence.
