State Department Of Health Lays Plans of Battle

A long range battle plan against rampaging polio was outlined Wednesday by the State Department of Health.

State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox recommended these eight points of action in combatting the disease which this year is striking harder at Texas than at any other part of the nation:

1. Spot spray insect breeding places after they have been cleaned up and destroyed. Spraying indiscriminately might kill a few insects on the wing, but it won't do the job. It might kill valuable plants and create a false sense of security.

2. Get rid of animal shelters in urban areas. They cannot be kept clean and consequently create a health hazard as fly breeders.

3. Get rid of dump piles, tin cans, old tires, and accumulated debris which breed flies and mosquitoes and provide harborage for rats.

4. Provide a properly operated sewage system, and get rid of all surface toilets. Dr. Cox believes surface toilets constitute one of the major health hazards facing Texas.

5. Provide a source of pure water.

6. Protect food supplies in wholesale business houses, retail shops, and in private homes.

7. Make regular inspections of all premises to see that no possibility exists for fly breeding. If you have flies, somebody is maintaining a breeding spot.

8. Garbage should be placed in fly tight garbage cans until time of disposal. Tubs, boxes, lidless garbage cans, etc., are of no value.

He urged each home owner to assume responsibility for keeping his property clean inside and out. This will help protect you and your neighbor. More people have been struck down by polio this year than ever before.

He said it takes months and months to clean up a city, and that it "takes forever to keep it that way." The program must be continuous. "It will take from one to five years to really clean up our larger cities," Cox said.

"This is the same program we have followed and published for the past ten years. People have got to get over the notion that SPRAYING ALONE will keep their city fly-free," Dr. Cox declared. "The only way to kill flies is to do it methodically, block by block, by eliminating their breeding places."

"They carry many diseases—diarrhea, typhoid fever, cholera, trachoma, just to mention a few. I firmly believe that if this 8-point program is invoked, we'll see a lessening of polio incidence in the future."

Local people should read the above program and sincerely try to carry it out. A hap-hazard clean-up amounts to nothing except waste and expense, as a preventative.

Reserve Information Third Air Reserve District, Austin

Austin, Texas, June 25—The Air Force is trying to contact 43 air reservists in the Childress area to bring their military records up to date.

Officials of the Third Air Reserve District headquarters in Austin stated today that of the 157 letters mailed air reservists in the ten counties surrounding Childress, only 43 have not returned their completed survey forms.

Because of the 8,367 square miles in the Childress survey area, mail type interviews are being used rather than the personal interview type of program which had been featured in previous surveys of smaller and more closely populated areas.

Primary objective of the survey is to give the Air Force an accurate picture of its reserve strength in the event of an all-out mobilization. Reservists are asked about their present civilian occupation, dependents and physical condition.

In addition to Childress County, the "Childress Survey Area" includes Wheeler, Donley, Collingsworth, Briscoe, Hall, Hardeman, Foard, King and Knox Counties.

Air Force reservists who have already returned their completed questionnaires to the district headquarters are asked to contact their air reserve friends who may not have participated in the survey as yet, informing them that the Air Force is still trying to correct their military records.

To date, district headquarters has been unable to contact the following reservists:

Lyman G. Benson, William T. Martin H. Bullington, Fred V. Clark, Louie A. Cure, Clarence E. Dorsey, Dennis W. Eubank, Fred S. Farmer, Bernard R. Foster, Jr., Lewis L. Foxhall, Crockett C. Fox, Jr., Howard F. Francis, Wenzel A. Gandy, Frank W. Gear, John L. Jesse, Jr., Joseph F. Morgan, William E. Patman, Clyde B. Payne, Lee E. Puckett, Joe D. Rodgers, Grant E. Stallings, Raymond L. ## Annual Clarendon Fourth of July Celebration

Clarendon, June 26—Officials of the Clarendon Outdoor Entertainment Association, sponsors of the Annual Clarendon Fourth of July Celebration, this week are putting the final touches on what already promises to be the biggest celebration in Clarendon's history.

"Ranchers have already donated sixteen beeves for the traditional free barbecue to be held on the courthouse lawn at noon on the fourth," stated James E. "Jimmy" Faulkner, Secretary of the Association. "This amount of beef will allow our hospitality to be enjoyed by more than the five thousand people who ate barbecue last year, people who came from as far away as Washington state," Faulkner added.

This year's celebration is scheduled for three days, July 3rd, 4th and 5th, instead of the customary two days. Featured attractions will be the rodeo performances on the night of July 3rd, the afternoon and night of July 4th and the night of July 5th. Cowboys from the surrounding ranches and the top rodeo performers from the amateur circuit will vie for prize money totaling more than $2,000.00 in addition to shop made saddles and boots.

Other attractions for the three day celebration will include, besides the free barbecue and rodeo performances, a western parade on the afternoon of the Fourth and matched horse races on the afternoon of the fifth. Western Dances each night at the air conditioned American Legion Hall will feature the western music of Emmett Allen and His Sunset Ramblers.

Highlighting the attractions on the fourth will be an Old Settlers get to gether for persons who have resided in Donley County for twenty five or more years and for former residents of the county of twenty five or more years ago.

Farm News From The PMA Committee Briscoe County

WHAT CONSERVATION PAYMENTS ACCOMPLISH

Conservation payments in 1950 averaged 36 cents an acre for all land operated by the two and one-half million farmers who participated in the Agricultural Conservation Program.

How much conservation can you get for 36 cents? Well, in 1950, it helped improve 12 million acres of land for increased conservation results from grasses and legumes, through the use of lime. Twenty-two million acres were similarly improved through the use of phosphate. In addition to the permanent and rotation pastures and hay lands so improved, farmers also were aided in growing 18 million acres of soil protecting and soil improving cover and green manure crops.

That 36 cents an acre helped build 75,000 miles of terraces, 37,000 dams for erosion control, and 53,000 dams and reservoirs to provide livestock watering facilities on nearly 9 million acres of range and pasture land.

That 36 cents also was an incentive to cause farmers to adopt contour farming practices on 5 million acres of cropland, to improve more than 8 million acres of pasture and range land, and to plant 118,000 acres of trees.

A total of more than 80 different practices were applied to conserve soil and water resources on half of the nation's farms.

Conservation payments provide only a part of the cost of establishing these practices. A survey of 20 major ACP practices carried on under the 1951 program shows that nearly two-thirds (64 per cent) of the total cost of carrying out the practices was borne by the farmer. The other 3 per cent was provided through ACP payments. Farmers, in other words, spent about two dollars for each dollar the government furnished to put conservation on their land.

"Would farmers continue to apply these conservation measures if the government did not provide incentive payments?" In 1948 when ACP funds were limited to $150 million, compared with about $300 million in previous years, conservation practices dropped sharply. The total use of limestone dropped from 29 million tons in 1947 to 22 million in 1948, and the use of phosphate from 14 1-2 million tons to 10 3-4 million tons. Contour farming of intertilled crops encouraged by the program dropped from more than 6 1-4 million acres in 1947 to around 2 1-2 million acres in 1948. Thirty six cents, of course, would not go very far in treating an individual acre of land. But an average of 36 cents an acre for all the land in their farms did go a long way to help and encourage 2 1-2 million farmers in 1950 to protect and improve their land. It provided a means to concentrate on practices which would do the most to insure continued production. The added fertility, moisture, and organic matter resulting from practices encouraged by the program mean more bushels, tons, and bales of the food, feed and fiber needed most.

There will be an annual Red Cross meeting at the court house Tuesday, July 8, 1952 at 8:00 p. m. The public is urged to attend this meeting.

MRS. LILLY WOFFORD, Vice Chairman American Red Cross.

A. J. (Andy) Rogers Makes Formal Announcement

This is a critical time for our nation.

It is "time for a change." But let us remember that new faces in Washington will make no real difference if we have not changed things here at home.

At all levels of government we must return to the great principle upon which this country was founded and built; and if it is to stand, upon which it must stand.

This great principle is Americanism. It says that man is created free, that his Creator gave him certain "inalienable" rights, that the sole purpose and reason for government is to see that these sacred rights are protected. Government is not meant to take away these rights or to create substitutes.

We can have such a government only when it is kept in the hands of the people. Through our representative form of government we can do this. But it will not be done for us. We, the people, must do this. Too often in the past twenty years we have let "George" do it for us. "George" has almost taken our government out of our hands—and our God-given freedom with it.

We must act—now. It will take hard work and sacrifice—and courage, and faith in our great American Principle.

Washington and Austin are full of smart boys and big shots. I believe that it is time for Mr.

Average Citizen to step into the forefront in Austin, as well as in Washington. Our primary need is for honesty and moral integrity.

I believe we need much new blood in all of our law-making bodies. I do not believe we need more men who have fed at the public trough for eighteen or twenty years—and have grown wealthy in the process.

I also believe we need some of the vigor and courage young men and women have to offer. At the very least, the young men did not get us in our present mess, yet they live and pay in the same manner as others—and will for a longer period of time to come. Also, it is they who often lay down their lives on foreign soil as their payment.

I offer the above way of thinking and the following summary of my qualifications and own actions to my fellow citizens so that they may decide if Andy Rogers is the man to work with them as their State Senator toward the great goal of Freedom.

Andy Rogers is a West Texan by birth, training and education. He was raised on a farm and dairy. His business is farming, and it will continue to be. He is a land owner and tax payer.

I am a family man with a wife and one daughter—a new addition expected about election time.

Andy Rogers has prepared himself for service with seven years of college education—law, government, economics and agriculture. I have proven my willingness to sacrifice by voluntarily giving three years' service in the United States Army during World War II.

I have had two terms' experience in serving West Texas in your State House of Representatives. I have served on these following important committees: Appropriations, Agriculture, Insurance, Highways and Roads and Conservation and Reclamation.

Andy Rogers is not a lawyer. Therefore, I can represent only the people who elect me. I cannot hope for financial gain by serving you as State Senator—an important job that pays only an approximate $700.00 per year.

I am not a professional politician. I have consistently fought corruption in all government, and will continue to do so.

As a State Representative, I have opposed an increased rate of spending and taxing in State Government, and will continue to do so. Andy Rogers has fought for the economic development of West Texas in the following ways:

1. Continually supporting our Rural Road and Primary Highway development.
2. Voting against and helping kill legislation for State control of our underground water. He will continue to do so.
3. Fighting to protect our surface water rights as they now stand.
4. Writing and getting passed legislation giving West Texas $10,000.00 for preliminary study of its surface water possibilities.
5. Writing and getting passed legislation which will soon bring into being a new Agriculture Experiment Station to study the particular needs of our Blow-Sand areas of West Texas.
6. Writing and getting passed legislation requiring the labeling of "drip" gasoline when offered for sale, so consumers and honest service station operators are protected.
7. Supporting a sound, sensible Public School program.

Andy Rogers will continue to fight for a fair break for West Texas and for the protection of your rights.

Andy Rogers will run his race and serve you in the only way he knows—By clean hard work.

I will not be able to visit all of the people in our fifteen county State Senatorial District, but I humbly and sincerely ask for your votes and support.

Respectfully submitted,
A. J. (ANDY) ROGERS.

Cap Rock Soil Conservation District News

Several farmers in the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District have shown interest lately in establishing permanent irrigated pastures. If anyone is interested in this, it is not too early to be thinking about and planning the pasture, although the seed will not be planted until August.

Some people believe that these pastures are miracle performers, and with little if any help will graze from 1 to 4 animal units to the acre. Nothing could be farther from the truth. These irrigated pastures need care just like any other crop. They must have water and management if they are to produce their maximum. It is practically a requirement that these pastures must have water every two weeks.

It is also practically a must that cattle not be allowed to graze a pasture that is wet. To prevent this, most operators cross fence their pastures, allowing the cattle to graze in one part while the other is being watered.

There are several grasses that respond well to irrigation in the Cap Rock SCD. Among these are Kentucky 31 fescue, orchard grass and smooth brome. These grasses produce abundant forage high in protein.

The usual period of grazing to be expected is from about March or April until frost, with the heaviest production occurring from May or June until late summer. This will vary with the season. Anyone interested can secure more information and assistance from the Soil Conservation Service personnel at Silverton.
