Miss Mary Dudley Became Bride of Carol Davis

In an afternoon ceremony read in the Methodist church Sunday in Silverton, Miss Mary Dudley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Dudley, became the bride of Carol Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Davis. Howard Stubblefield, Church of Christ minister, read the double ring vows.

Background for the ceremony was an archway covered with yellow chrysanthemums interspersed with bows of blue and white. Small gateways on either side of the arch emphasized the arrangement, which was completed by a white satin kneeling bench and white bridal rug.

Organist was Mrs. L. B. Garvin, who played soft background music. She also accompanied Mrs. Fred Mercer, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

Serving as ushers and groomsmen were Larry and Richard Tunnell, and Darrell O'Conner. Flunoy Hutsell was best man.

Bridesmaids were Misses Kay Steele and Junis Mercer, and Mrs. George Rampley. Matron-of-honor was Mrs. W. H. Graham, Jr., of Farwell, sister of the bride. All wore yellow organdy dresses fashioned with big bertha collars, fitted waist, and full ballerina-length skirts. Bridesmaids carried yellow nosegays, backed with gold embroidered yellow net with yellow streamers; and the matron-of-honor carried a white chrysanthemum nosegay with the yellow net backing and streamers.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Dudley wore a lace ballerina-length dress with high mandarin collar, long sleeves, fitted bodices and double overskirt over taffeta. Her mitts were white lace, and her white satin baby doll shoes accented the costume. Her fingertip veil was attached to a tier of orange blossoms and she carried a white bible topped with a bouquet of small chrysanthemums and centered with a white orchid. Showers of stephanotis streamers were attached to the bouquet.

For "something old", Miss Dudley wore her wrist watch; "something new" was her wedding ensemble; and something blue was a lace handkerchief.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and bridegroom traditionally cut the wedding cake.

The lace covered table was centered with the bride's bouquet. The three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, and decorated with minute wedding bells. The bridesmaids served cake, punch, and nuts to the guests from a crystal service.

Mrs. Davis was graduated from Silverton High School in 1952, where she was best all around girl, senior class favorite, basketball captain, and president of Future Homemakers of America. Mr. Davis was graduated from Silverton High School in 1950 and attended West Texas State College and New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, New Mexico. He will enroll at Texas Tech in Lubbock in September. The young couple will make their home in Lubbock.

Drouth Loans Available to Farmers in Drouth Areas

As a result of serious drouth conditions in many areas of Texas many farmers are faced with an emergency need for credit not available through local sources to buy feed for their livestock and seed and fertilizer for the planting of fall grain and pasture crops, according to L. J. Cappelman, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration of Dallas, who has received reports from every section of the State on conditions as they exist at this time. Mr. Cappelman has been told that if such assistance is not provided it will be necessary for farmers in these drouth stricken areas to reduce sharply, or in many instances to liquidate entirely, their livestock enterprises because of the lack of feed stuff and pastures for grazing.

In the interest of the farmers concerned, the agricultural economy of the areas affected and the welfare of the farming interests of Texas, the Farmers Home Administration is taking every reasonable step to prevent the liquidation of desirable productive livestock by drouth stricken farmers.

Mr. Cappelman pointed out that in order to accomplish this purpose and to help farmers continue in business county offices of the Farmers Home Administration are in a position immediately to make disaster loans in any county in the State of Texas to qualified applicants in accordance with published instructions and revised policies outlined at a meeting of State Field Representatives in Dallas last week. At the meeting held in Dallas, Mr. Cappelman received reports of serious crop losses through drouth and that farmers and ranchmen are in urgent need of funds to buy feed, seed and other supplies to continue their operations for the remainder of this year. In many instances it was pointed out that these farmers will require emergency credit to put in their 1953 crops and funds are available through the local Farmers Home Administration County Office now for the purposes indicated. These funds are available at 3 percent interest for crop production needs, under the provisions of Public Law 38.

The purpose of the disaster loan program authorized by Public Law 38, said County Supervisor, H. D. Himmel of Tulia is to provide a source of temporary or emergency credit to assist farmers in designated areas who have suffered serious production losses as a result of drouth or other natural causes, and who are unable to obtain from other established local sources the credit

Texas Will Send 5855 for Examination in October

Austin, Texas, September 3.—State draft boards are scheduled to send 5,855 men for pre-induction examination in October, the biggest monthly quota in almost a year and a half.

Local board quotas for the October delivery for examinations already have been mailed, Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, deputy state selective service director, said.

Physical-mental examinations, re-examination of 4-Fs, and inductions in October will call for transportation of more than 10,000 Texans in response to draft board orders.

All men to be examined and inducted during October will be 20 years old or older. No man less than 20 years old can be examined or inducted unless he is a delinquent or volunteer.

State headquarters for selective service is stepping up examination of additional numbers of men because it expects calls for induction to remain "at least on the October level" during the fall and early winter.

"We expect calls to go even higher in the early months of 1953," Colonel Schwartz said. "In the early months of 1951 our calls were high. Those men will be getting out in 1953, so we expect to have to replace a great many of them."

State draft boards expect to complete their program of re-examination of 4-Fs by the end of January, 1953. Colonel Schwartz said that an average of 950 F-Fs a month will be re-examined from September 1952 through the first month of the new year.

State draft headquarters is planning combined physical-mental examination of a "larger than usual" group of doctors and dentists in September, Colonel Schwartz said. He said Texas has a quota to furnish three doctors and one dentist for military service in September.

Canadian River Dam Project Discussed by Congressman Rogers

The need of an ample water supply in the Panhandle of Texas has been established beyond any reasonable doubt. Any argument to the contrary would have little force in view of the drought from which we have suffered. This need has long been recognized by those who are familiar with all of the facts. It is good that some questioned the feasibility of such a project and required all necessary facts in justification of it. This procedure eliminates the possibility of a "pork barrel project." Certainly the Panhandle of Texas is not interested in a

"pork barrel project," and I do not believe the people of West Texas would even think of tolerating such. Although the progress has appeared slow on this project, it has been substantial. The bill as originally passed was an authorization for the construction of the project when funds were available. At the passage of this authorization commitments were made to the effect that appropriations would not be sought until the emergency was over. These commitments were made to senators who were objecting to the passage of the legislation and whose objections would have killed the measure and required the introduction of a new bill and the loss of all progress that had been made up to that date. Efforts are now being made to satisfy these senators that the project is necessary and seeking release from these commitments. All necessary legislation in addition to the original authorization has been passed save and except the appropriation for the actual construction of the dam. As most of you know, preliminary survey work has been going on this summer and much detail work has been accomplished. Our efforts here will continue and we hope to obtain some definite action in the next Congress.

Congressman Walter Rogers.

Farm Leases Need Revision to Meet Present Conditions

Tenant operations are still an important part of Texas agriculture. Some 30 per cent of all Texas farms are operated by tenants. Like most other farming practices, says C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, many leasing arrangements are out of date.

He points out that lease arrangements set up for cash-crop systems of farming do not fit the situations brought about by the shifts to livestock production. Therefore, new rental agreements are needed between the tenants and landlords that clearly define the part each is to play in this livestock crop system of farming.

During the past several years farm management specialists from the southern states, cooperating with those from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, have been studying the existing rental arrangements and seeking possible solutions to tenure problems. The economists have found that both tenants and landlords improve their lot when leases are used that really cover present day farming and livestock production. The use of up to date leasing arrangements meant more income to both tenants and landowners as well as better soil maintenance and improvement programs.

The latest findings of the co-operating economists are reported in the publication "Rental Arrangements for Progressive Farming" which is available at your local county agent's office. Other material on the subject of rental agreements, prepared by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service, are also available.

When properly carried out, defoliating the cotton plant is a practice that will materially improve the machine harvesting job.
