Everyone is invited regardless of their affiliation, Rev. Hankins, Methodist Pastor stated. Come bring a lunch and enjoy the Christian Fellowship of God's people. There will be seats for all of those who care to sit. You may bring blankets to sit on if you like. DON'T DEPEND ON GRASS ALONE

It's always a good feeling to look forward to spring and plenty of grass. But here's some good advice for cattle men from the Purina Research Farm:

Don't depend entirely on grass to hold up milk production during spring and summer. We've found pasture alone just can't hold up body condition and milk production. If her ration does not contain the proper variety of proteins, minerals, and vitamins, the cow draws from bones, blood and flesh. Soon she's run down and milk production is off.

DON'T BREED GILTS TOO YOUNG

The Purina Research Farm folks tell us it's a mistake to breed gilts too young. Bred at 6 months of age, they're likely to have small litters and be hampered in their own growth and development. Better wait till they're 8 months old, when gilts grown on the Purina Program should be fully ready for breeding.

We're busy folks, but helping our customers is our first interest. We'll be glad to talk over your feeding and management plans with you. Or, if you prefer, our experienced Feeding Advisor can drop in next time he's out your way.

The World As I See It

Doris Amburn

None of us can remember that day on July 4, 1776, when the United States of America gained her independence, but we have shared in the blessings that signing brought to this continent and our people — that brought our way of life by making it possible that men could use their talents, and dreams and visions, into the making of worthwhile things for man to enjoy and use.

We will celebrate the Fourth of July in our own particular ways — mostly as a day of rest and relaxation from the ordinary cares of life. But we need such days. We just should be thankful that we can spend that day, as other days, as we see fit.

Because the fourth comes on Sunday this year, and since the people of the Methodist church observe a special nature day, they are using this particular occasion to bring all the people of our churches, and town, together. This should be a wonderful occasion, one that I am looking forward to — a new experience for me. We will meet in the City Park for church services and then a bountiful lunch, I am sure, served afterward. This is a wonderful chance to worship the Lord with our friends and neighbors, and then enjoy the cooking and fellowship of the women of our town and community.

If your heart enjoys and craves worship, and fun, and relaxation, make your plans to attend the morning services in the park, and share your lunch with friends.

Fourth Of July Holiday Dangerous

"The Fourth of July is a day of celebration. Don't turn it into a day of mourning!"

Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association, and Services Advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation, made that plea to motorists today in announcing a traffic safety program, "Vacation Driving," which is being sponsored this month in Texas by the Texas Safety Association and Texas Department of Public Safety in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

"Independence Day calls for extra care in traffic," he said. "Such holidays always result in greater highway travel, and because the Fourth falls on Sunday this year the roads probably will be crowded with pleasure drives throughout the weekend."

Accident records for past years show that the toll of traffic deaths and injuries always rises on holiday weekends, he pointed out. The increase in traffic and the sometimes-careless holiday spirit form a dangerous combina-

"Specifically," Col. Tilley said, "fatigue from trying to cover too many miles during the week end, excessive speed and excessive drinking are contributing factors in many holiday accidents."

According to Col. Tilley, July is a high accident month anyway. "This is largely due," he said, "to the vast amount of driving done by summer vacationists at this time."

"Add a special holiday weekend like the fourth of this month," he said, "and for two or three days the motorist wants to drive safely and avoid accidents will have to be especially alert."

For those who plan an auto trip over the Fourth, he made the following suggestions:

- 1. Don't try to cover too many miles.
- 2. Be prepared for heavy holiday traffic.

3. Get an early start, pause for rest occasionally.
4. Don't speed.
5. Don't drink before driving.
6. Remember that the application of common courtesy to traffic situations will prevent many accidents. Make courtesy your code of the road, and be sure to acknowledge the courteous acts of others.

"This last point is especially important," Col. Tilley said. "Highways will be a lot safer if motorists will keep in mind the July slogan of the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Department of Public Safety, and the National Safety Council: 'Vacattion Time — Make Courtesy Your Code of the Road."

The Ideas in the Declaration of Independence have been challenged many times since that day it was signed by 56 dedicated men. The newspaper in your hands probably tells of fresh challenges. And today, as 178 years ago, freedom calls for a "pledge to each other"—a pledge to make each of our homes secure. For the strength of America is simply the strength of one secure home linked with that of others.
