"HEART ACTION"

for top capacity with less power

We want you to see curved, cupped knives a full yard long whirling up to 1,500 rpm on a 15-inch cylinder. They cut and throw forage out the delivery chute - that's the "heart action" of the Allis-Chalmers forage harvester.

Spiraled like lawn mower blades, the knives slice smoother, easier, requiring less power per ton of forage cut. Keen cutting edges are carbo-nitrite hardened to last longer. Built-in power sharpeners assure cutting edges accurately paralleled with the shear bar.

Come in and examine the "heart action" of the Allis-Chalmers forage harvester now. Be ready to go when your first forage crop is at its best.

Ben Ramsey For Stock Piling Oil For Defense

Austin, - Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey has stepped up his campaign for re-election with trips to West Texas and the Panhandle where he proposed stock piling oil for defense.

The East Texas lawyer, a steady but quiet campaigner, said the increasing importation of foreign oil is hurting the petroleum industry which foots about half the state's tax bill.

"A few Texas oil men could financially stand serious price cut-backs, but the majority of the people connected with our oil industry could not. Some of these included farmers and ranchers with leases and royalties. Others are having a hard time now keeping their exploration going," Ramsey said.

"Many of our state services, including schools, colleges and regular operating expenses, are paid for out of oil tax money," Ramsey said. "If our state revenues from petroleum steadily decline, we are in for a pinch which I think is unnecessary."

Ramsey, who consistently works to keep state economy and state services in balance for the welfare of all the people, proposed a solution to the impact of foreign oil imports on state and national economy. The lieutenant governor said, "as long as the national government feels the importation of foreign oil is necessary for defense planning, and as long as we keep spending dollars abroad in aid programs, we might as well put the two together and come up with something that bolsters, and not weakens, our economy." Ramsey said engineers have advised stock piling oil is feasible.

"I think," Ramsey said, "the national government might well consider stockpiling oil with funds in the foreign aid bill now being considered by Congress."

MORE MONEY for SCHOOLS

During Governor Allan Shivers' administration more money has been spent for schools than ever before.

The result? — better schools, more and higher paid teachers, and better guidance for our children.

Since Allan Shivers became your governor, school funds have increased from 145 million to 211 million dollars per year. Teachers get $1000 a year more. Your child receives individual attention from 15,000 more teachers.

This educational climb is your child's guarantee of a profitable and happy future. For you it means assurance about his growing-up years. It means a better Texas for everyone.

IN BRISCOE COUNTY

$122,272.50 was spent for your child's education during the last fiscal year. He got better teachers with higher salaries and an administration that had more money to spend for its needs. Texas veterans received more educational aid.

The money went for other—but mighty important—things too, like school buses and cafeterias with hot noontime lunches. It meant more vocational help for your child. It went for many things, all necessary for a better education for him.

Texas comes first with Allan Shivers

Thirty Million Boosters

THIRTY MILLION BOOSTER
Thirty million chiropractic patients can't be wrong in their praise because they and they alone are responsible for chiropractic's position today as the second largest healing profession in the world.

Ask the man or woman who has visited a chiropractor and he will tell you that these men in white are blazing a new trail in restoring the sick to good health.

Because chiropractic disregards the symptoms of disease and deals with its cause — a cause traced directly to improper functioning of the glands and other organs of the body.

Why?
Because chiropractic operates on the undisputed theory that all function is directed and controlled by the nervous system—the brain the directing center, the spinal cord the main cable. Like a telephone system, the nerves reach out to every part of the body and it must be obvious even to the lay person that these delicate nerves must not be disturbed.

Chiropractors locate disturbed nerves quickly, without pain and minimum expense to the sick. Visit your chiropractor and join the parade to good health. For appointment call Dr. A. E. Hewitt, dial 3398, Lockney.

The World As I See It

Doris Amburn

I'm mighty glad that Briscoe and the counties surrounding are, in liquor terminology, dry. In recent weeks I have noticed particularly that in most, if not all, of the dreadful and horrible crimes that have been committed, the offenders have blamed it on "drink." Of course they have to blame it on something, and they probably feel that people will have a more tolerant feeling for them, knowing they weren't under their own powers — that the brutalities committed were not because they were brutal by nature.

Many of us want to shift the responsibility of drunkards, "they just shouldn't be so weak", we say, "I can drink and not get drunk". That person you may be influencing though, may not be able to. I still maintain the best way is just to never take a drink in the first place.

A recent newspaper story told of the hundreds of places where teenagers in Texas' largest city could, with the asking, obtain liquor. That newspaper correspondent was alarmed at what he saw, and he was urging that parents start, while the children are yet small, to teach and train them the right and acceptable pattern of behavior, and certainly not set the pace before them for a life of only immediate and sinful pleasure.

I believe that we are fortunate indeed to live in the United States of America, I also feel that we are fortunate if we are bringing our children up "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, as our forefathers intended; leading them to grow spiritually for service. In my eyes there is nothing more beautiful than to see a family working together in their church.

Let's make our town as near a 100% church going town as we can. Let's keep it clean morally, and through our churches let's provide for the fellowship necessary for our well-being and happiness. Let's have a good town as well as a beautiful — well equipped town.

Advertising Teaches

The head of one of America's great universities sat on the same platform with the head of one of America's great advertising agencies. It was the advertising man's duty to introduce the educator, which he did, identifying him as one of the most eminent of educators and head of one of the world's greatest institutions of learning.

After acknowledging with graciousness this introduction, the college president said, "you, sir, are a greater educator than I or anyone else in my place. For advertising, which you represent so successfully, conducts the greatest school for adults—children, too, for that matter—in the world."

And then he pointed out that through advertising America had become a well-informed nation; not only in values or qualities of merchandise, for advertising long ago outgrew such narrow boundaries, but in ideas and issues as well.

What he said is true. By that same token, the advertising pages of the newspaper ceases to be merely a guide for those who have needs to fill and money to buy. It really becomes an encyclopedia of current living. In those pages you can find practically anything you want.

Future historians, studying our current civilization, will learn more about us and how we lived from reading the ads than the news section of the papers. For each generation put down its story in the things that it found essential to life and comfort.

When you pick up your newspaper, read the ads carefully, which is the habit of intelligent people, you may not think you are "going to school." But you are. It is a pleasant "school," one easy for you to attend, but its learning is no less important or lasting for that.

The late Will Rogers was wont to say so often it became his slogan that all he knew he read in the newspapers. He knew a good deal. And anyone who will read the newspapers, not alone what is printed in the news columns, but also in the ads will know a good deal also.

He will not only know what is interesting to know, but he will know how and where he can spend his money to the best advantage. Which is also important knowledge.

Insect Control Meeting Friday Night

A cotton insect control meeting will be held at Wayland Fitzgeralds place in the Rock Creek Community, Friday night, July 16, beginning at 8:30. Topics for discussion will be the identification of insects that damage cotton. A set of slide pictures will be used for identification.

Insecticides and methods for putting on these insecticides will be given. In addition to recommended methods for controlling the usual cotton insects, a short period will be given on control of the Lygus that was given credit for eating some entire fields of cotton near Lockney last year.

County Agent Robert Ledbetter reports that most fields have light infestations of thrips and fleahoppers but not in damaging numbers — only in one or two instances has poisoning been warranted.

In addition to the insect meeting, a demonstration on the use of herbicidal oils containing naphthalene for spot oiling of Johnson grass will be given. All the farmers in the area are urged to attend this meeting. It is felt that some useful information will be presented.

Allan Shivers Points Out Figures Spent For Education In Texas

Austin, Texas, July 15. — Briscoe County school children are among those over the state sharing the most impressive period of Texas Public Education in state history, a compilation of figures from 1949-1953 released in Austin this week shows.

The county received $122,272.50 for public education during the last fiscal year as its share of the giant 211 million total spent over the state. The Texas Education Agency report said. It also showed that money for the state's school children had increased from 145 million in 1949 to the present figure.

Interviewed this week, Governor Allan Shivers noted that education funds were distributed through the Gilmer Aiken formula to a wide variety of uses.

Largest amounts for salary and operations. Fifteen thousand more teachers with average salary increases of $1,000 in the last few years took a large percentage.

Shivers also explained that last year school administrations received more money to spend for needed improvements than ever before.

Figures also showed lesser known — but important — uses for funds. These included school buses that pick up children in rural areas and transport them safely to school.

Cafeterias with hot noon lunches, only recently becoming less than a luxury to public schools, received financial help also, figures showed.

Shivers, who called the present school system "the best yet in Texas" bid for better education, said that the picture looked even better for future students.

"With the continuance of this aggressive improvement program, Texas can expect to meet efficiently increasing demands of public education," he said.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has set July 23 as the date for a national referendum among growers on marketing quotas for the 1955 wheat crop, Fred Mercer, chairman of the county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded farmers today. At least two-thirds of the growers voting must approve quotas before they may be put into effect.

"Under present supply conditions," the chairman stated, "Secretary Benson had no choice but to proclaim wheat quotas and call for a vote. Legislation directs the Secretary to proclaim wheat quotas whenever the supply exceeds 20 percent of normal. The normal supply, as calculated under provisions of the controlling legislation, is a year's domestic and export requirements plus 15 percent as a reserve. Actually, the available supply for 1954-55 is about 79 percent above normal."

If quotas are approved, Mr. Mercer explained, producers who comply with their farm wheat acreage allotments may market all the wheat they produce in any way they choose. They will also be eligible for the full level of price support which is authorized for the 1955 crop, apparently somewhere from 90 to 75 percent of parity. Producers who are subject to the marketing quotas — those with more than 15 acres of wheat — will lose their price support eligibility if they do not comply with their acreage allotments. They will also be subject to a marketing quota penalty on their excess wheat.

If quotas are disapproved, there will be no marketing quotas and no marketing penalties. Price supports would be at 50 percent of parity for those who comply with their acreage allotments — which will continue in effect even if quotas should be voted down.

Eligibility for price support, with or without marketing quotas, will also require compliance with all crop allotments established for a farm in 1955. In addition, a "total acreage allotment" will be established for all farms where more than 10 acres are diverted from production of allotment crops. A producer will have to comply with the total acreage allotment if one is established for his farm, as well as with all individual crop allotments, in order to be eligible for price support on any crop.

These cross-compliance provisions are designed to assure more balanced production, without shifting surplus problems from one crop to another.
