back the natural gas industry during World War II. Since the war, steel pipelines have veined the country, reaching into all but five states and totaling 420,000 miles-or 17 times the distance

Thus, through one of the world's great transportation systems, the invisible vapor flows, unheard and unseen. Except for pumping stations and office buildings, the naural gas industry runs underground.

Even storage facilities, mostly old abandoned gas fields, are hidden in the earth. One of these "cellars"-under the Government's gold vaults at Fort Knox, Kentucky-has a precedent in ancient history.

Rescue Methods Not Always Modern

WASHINGTON-Modern rescue methods were responsible for the recent rescues of 15 United States airmen. Eight were down in the Venezuelan jungles. Seven were lost in the Antarctic wastes. All were brought to safety.

In earlier days, searches for lost fliers and sailors were timehunts in history. And resulted Captain Roald Amundsen, th polar explorer, disappeared while on errand of mercy. The dirigible Italia crashed near the North Pole. Amundsen and five men set out on a search for the survivors and were never seen again. The Italia's commander and eight of his men were eventually rescued.

One of the most successful modern searches took place 1942 when Captain Edward Rickenbacher and six others was forced down north of Samoa. They drifted 23 days on small rubber life rafts before being rescued by a Navy helicopter.

Iceland Seeking Trees To Cover Barren Lands

WASHINGTON-Forestless Iceland is striving to cover its rugged landscape once more with trees. Thanks to aid from friendly countries, its chances of success are No argument...

You Can't Buy It at Home

when nobody at home has it for sale

So . . . whose fault is it when this unfortunate condition prevails?

Well, you might say it's everybody's.

SELLERS are to blame . . . who don't keep up with what's new in their lines . . . and who want to keep store just like they did before highways and automobiles rescued buyers from having to take whatever goods it pleased their home storekeepers to carry in stock.

BUYERS are to blame ... who don't keep neighborhood sellers informed about their needs and wants by the simple process of shopping the home stores regularly ... and whose wide-ranging buying habits cut down the financial ability of local sellers to keep better assortments of goods.

Many of us fall into both of these categories . . . and don't let our right hands know where our left hands have been shopping.

Shell we, then, EACH lock inwardly ... whether we are Buyer or Soller only ... or a Buyer-Soller Bland ... and consider what WE can do to better OURSELVES by earithing our home area's life blood ... H's trade volume?

It's good pocketbook sense to help keep the community more prosperous where WE work and do business.

It Pays to Buy where You Live

YOU get everything that your money pays for merchandise AND a trade- invigorated communition live in when you buy from your home town merchants . . . :
