Control Weeds With 2,4-D if you wish to Stay Ahead of Them

Weeds that are showing up in both fields and yards in this county may be effectively controlled with 2, 4-D.

This spring, with its showers, has brought about a wealth of weeds. In many cases, wheat fields are showing weedier than they have in several years. Many lawns have heavy infestations of the narrow leaved gray careless weed, lambs quarter, and dandelions. All these weeds may be controlled with 2,4-D. This hormone chemical does not affect any of the grass type plants found in lawns or wheat or any of the small grains. Some care should be exercised in using 2,4-D too close to low ornamentals and shrubs that are susceptible to its action. But at that it is relatively safe if it is not applied in high winds or at high pressure. It should be applied in the droplet size with a pressure under 30 pounds. This applies to either hand sprayer or mechanical sprayer.

In most instances the amine form of the solution will be best to apply as it is less violatable and less subject to drift. For small applications using hand sprayers four tablespoons per gallon of water are recommended. For larger acreage, 1 1/2 to two pints per acre of 2-4-D is recommended.

All these applications should be put on the next week or two before cotton has a chance to come up.

4-H Club Girls Studying for Shrub Contest Coming Up

Five Briscoe County 4-H Club Girls from Silverton are studying for the shrub identification contest that is coming up soon. These girls are Carolyn Garrison, Joy McCutcheon, Brenda Cornett, Ann Wingo, and Candra Mercer. Their adult leader is Mrs. Paschal Garrison, who is working with them with their demonstration. The girls think this is real interesting work as they learn to identify all shrubs, learn where each shrub should be placed in a landscape pattern, and which ones are desirable for different locations.

All these girls will carry out a shrub demonstration for their individual homes. Sandra Mercer has already set out a windbreak around their home. This windbreak was planned by Sandra and her County Agent. The trees, some 400, were ordered from the Texas Forest Service early in the spring.

These 4-H Club Girls will take a sample of their home water and have it tested to determine its purity.

They keep records of the progress of their demonstrations, but the main thing to be gained will be a better place to live with a good knowledge of shrubs.

Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation Set Up By Utilities

Formation of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation by Southwestern Public Service Company and ten other electric light and power companies operating in Texas, was announced Wednesday by J. E. Cunningham, president of Southwestern Public Service Company. Incorporation papers have been filed with the Secretary of State.

The purpose of the non-profit Foundation is to engage in research in the atomic energy field as applied to the generation of electric power. The program will not include an energy power generating plant at this time. It will be directed toward the fundamental methods involved rather than toward the early use of atomic energy in steam-electric power plants of the participating companies.

"The eleven electric utilities which formed the Foundation will jointly carry on their research and development work in the nuclear field in a program designed to assure for Texas the benefits which develop from this new source of energy," J. E. Cunningham said.

"The various companies, acting as a group, can be more effective in this research since many projects in nuclear research require expenditures which might be burdensome on a single company.

"The program of the Foundation is long range, since the natural gas now used by utilities in the Southwest is a particularly good fuel and will be competitive with nuclear energy for many years. The appraisal of problems of this nature will have a high priority in the program of the Foundation.

"The Foundation does not plan to request any government funds to support its nuclear research program. It hopes, however, to work closely with the Atomic Energy Commission in any program it undertakes.

"Atomic energy power plants now differ from present day power plants only in the substitution of this new energy as a heat source for the boiler which make steam to spin the turbo-generators. Development of this source of fuel will require much research before it can be economically feasible in Texas where electric power generating plants now utilize natural gas as boiler fuel. In the meantime, the research program will provide the necessary experience in utilizing this source of heat in the power plants."

J. E. Cunningham is a member of the Board of Directors of the Foundation. W. A. Parish, president of the Houston Lighting and Power Company, is president of the Foundation. All of the companies supporting the Foundation are represented on the Board.

In addition to Southwestern Public Service Company, other companies supporting the Foundation are: Central Power and Light Company, Community Public Service Company, Dallas Power and Light Company, El Paso Electric Company, Gulf States Utilities Company, Houston Lighting and Pow-

Household Maids are Protected by Ruling Of Social Security

According to John R. Sanderson, Social Security Administration, district manager, Amarillo, and James Z. Pierce, administrative officer in charge, Amarillo Internal Revenue Office, housewives employing such workers earning the $50 minimum figure are required to withhold 2 1/4 per cent as social security tax. The employer than matches this amount and forwards the total to this district director of Internal Revenue using the greatly simplified form 942. Previous to January, 1957, the tax was two per cent.

"Revenue's easy-to-use Form 942 must be filed with us within one month after the end of a calendar quarter. For example, April 30 is the final date to pay tax for the January-March quarter," Mr. Pierce said.

Mr. Sanderson of Social Security explained that "women household employees can now choose to retire at any time after reaching age 62. Like other insured women workers, their old-age benefit payments will be permanently reduced if they elect to apply for them before reaching age 65."

"Household employees," he concluded, "include maids, cooks, waiters, butlers, housekeepers, governesses, valets, baby sitters, janitors, laundresses, furnace men, gardeners, and chauffeurs of private cars."

Electricity Works For Sorenson From Egg to Egg

VETERAN POULTRYMAN PREDICTS BRIGHT FUTURE FOR EGG PRODUCERS.

From egg to egg electrically, the success of Nelson Sorenson, pioneer hatcheryman and egg producer, is an area.

When he entered the poultry industry, it was "egg" for the farm house, through 36 years in the industry, he has demanded many electric applications for profitable and efficient chicken and egg production.

He depends on electricity to incubate the eggs, brood the chicks, warm the water, operate an automatic feeder, and provide 14 hours of light per day and egg refrigeration. In addition, Sorenson employs Reddy Kilowatt to grind and mix his feed, pump his water, and keep water pipes thawed. The veteran poultryman's electric operation is coupled with strict sanitation practices and a mandatory vaccination program.

Sorenson's poultry raising activities have progressed from selling hatching eggs to being one of the major egg and chicken producers in the area. His thermostatically controlled incubators can hatch 9000 eggs per week, and he has space in his electric battery brooders for 15,000 chicks.

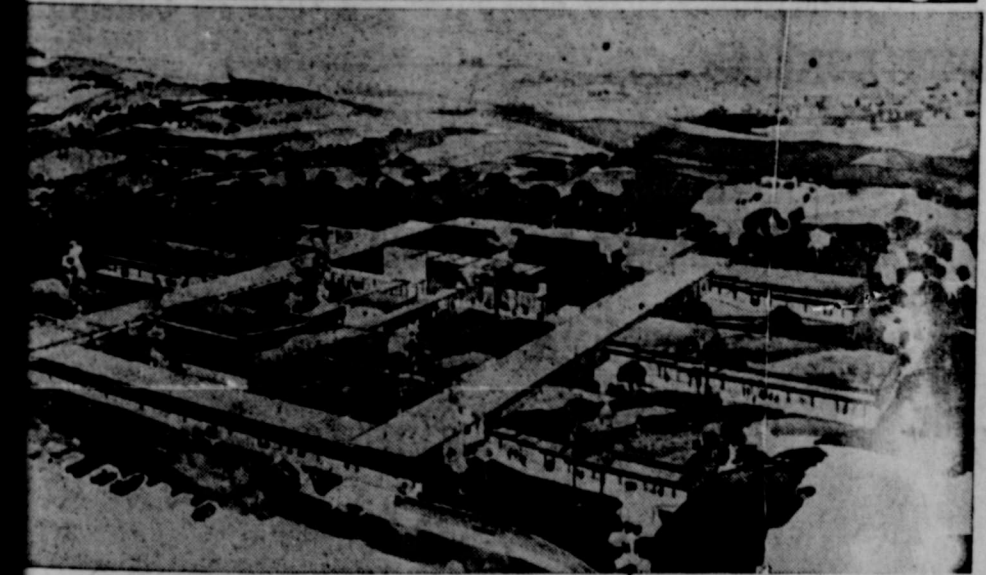

Sorenson is optimistic about the egg picture despite the current low price in eggs. He bases his favorable outlook on the reduction in the number of chicks put down this spring. "Seventeen percent less laying pullets are being put down in the Southwest than a year ago, Sorenson remarked, "and it indicates a high egg market next fall and winter."

Electric incubator to electric home where the future hens will live for the next three weeks. Sorenson during this brooding is less than 1/4 of 1%.

Controlled breeding and electric incubation gives Nelson Sorenson an 87 to 90% hatch. Picture shows him examining and counting one of his bi-weekly hatches.

A NEW LOOK IN PUBLIC SCHOOL PLANNING

Tom Sawyer would have made class in this fairyland of steel, concrete, and brick that will be completed at Morrilton, Ark., as one of the most unique elementary schools as a joint project of Philanthropist Winthrop Rockefeller and the School Board and financed by a fund from the former's Rockwin Fund, it is the ultimate in educational design and construction. The model unit has attracted attention, while both the Federal and State Departments of Education have kept a keener eye on the project and considered it a landmark.

The nine-structure layout embodies facilities to serve the newest methods of teaching and child development, both in and extra-curricular, including special classrooms for the exceptional, retarded or handicapped child, a library, an auditorium whose wall opens onto a courtyard, covered walkways that double to reflect sunlight into classrooms, multi-purpose rooms and scores of other features.

Despite its many innovations it will cost less than many more conventional schools of comparable size. In keeping with the unique design, the construction pattern centers around unusual application of structural steel, most of which was shipped by the Birmingham, Ala. mills of U. S. Steel's Tennessee Coal & Iron Division. The steel frame structures were so designed by Ginocchio-Cromwell & Associates, Little Rock architects, that the steel serves both for support and decorative effect, and for further economy members are so placed that they also hold in the window panels generously used for walls.

Dickmann-Pickens-Bond Construction Co., Little Rock and Muskogee, Okla., are general contractors and structural steel was fabricated and erected by Arkansas Foundry Co., Little Rock.

CHOIR GIRL SLAIN AT HOLY WEEK SERVICES

By Ed Martin

Cove, Ark.—Moments after pretty Helen Griffith left a choir and went to a pew in a church here last night, six pistol shots blasted the Holy Week service and the 20 year old girl fell fatally wounded in the aisle.

The shots were fired through a window of the Hilltop Holiness Church in this west Arkansas mountain town. Another member of the congregation, a 61 year old man, was wounded in the left leg during the firing.

Several persons rushed to the door in time to see a man leap into a pickup truck and flee.

Little more than an hour later, officers here were notified that Haskell Sullivan, 25, a rejected suitor of the dead girl, had killed himself in front of his mother's house at Nano Chito, Oklahoma, 20 miles from Cove.

Sheriff's officers of McCurtain County, Okla., said Sullivan's body was found in his pickup truck outside the home of J. L. Sullivan.

He had been shot between the eyes with a .22 pistol, apparently the same weapon which killed Miss Griffith, officers reported.

Sullivan left a note, it said: "I killed Helen and I'm going with her."

Officers said the blonde, blue-eyed girl was shot twice in the face and twice in the back.

During the fusillade, members of the congregation said, Miss Griffith staggered upright and then pitched forward into the aisle.

Rev. Mrs. E. L. Blake, pastor of the church, said "things happened so quickly that everyone was stunned."

"Helen had just finished singing in the choir," the pastor said. "They had just sung 'What a friend we have in Jesus.'"

"Then," Mrs. Blake continued, "she went to her pew and sat down beside young Rev. Gene Davis, who lives here in Cove and was helping with her service."

Family Lived in Silvertown

The family of Helen Griffith was well known in Silvertown. Helen's father had worked for Fulton Gregg for the past three falls during harvest season. Last year the family came to work, but Helen was employed and did not come with her family. The family was members of the Assembly of God Church and attended the local church when they would be here.

Texas, Oklahoma, Phone Co's Merge With General

Walter G. Wright, president of the General Telephone Company of the Southwest, with home office in San Angelo, Texas, has announced that the Texas Telephone Company, with home offices in Broken Arrow, Oklahoma, officially merge with the General Telephone Company of the Southwest, effective April 1, 1957.

The Texas and Oklahoma Companies were acquired by the General Telephone System when it marked with the Gary Telephone System in October, 1955, and have been operating under the General System since then. Wright added that as a result of this merger, the number of exchanges served by the company will be 264; the number of telephones will be increased to 243,000 from 198,000; assets will increase to $72,000,000 from $56,000,000; and the number of employees will increase to 3,500 from 2,900.

The General Telephone Company of the Southwest sold to institutional investors $9,000,000 of 4 1/4% first mortgage bonds and to the General Telephone Corporation $2,850,000 in common stock. The Company traded $3,650,000 of its common stock for a like amount of Texas Telephone and Oklahoma Telephone common stock held by General Telephone Corporation. Texas Telephone bonds totaling $2,510,000 were exchanged for General Telephone Company of the Southwest bonds. Debentures and preferred stock of Texas Telephone and bonds of Oklahoma Telephone were called for redemption.

The General Telephone Company of the Southwest operates in a five state area, Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, and is part of the General Telephone System, a network of companies serving thirty states. Included in the system are the manufacturing corporations of Automatic Electric and Leitch Electric, and the General Telephone Directory Company. In addition, facilities.

Go forth, young man

... we can't use you here

Is this the word to our young people — able and beloved — when they've finished school and are ready to start making their own living?

Too often it is, in the smaller communities like ours.

Why don't we have more job opportunities and more business opportunities right here, so that more of our sons and daughters can establish their homes and be happy and prosperous here at home?

It's partly circumstance. Partly the natural limitations of the economy of our area. Partly because we haven't been quite aggressive or enterprising enough to build and grow more.

But it's also partly because many of us have let ourselves get into the habit of spending too much of our money somewhere else.

Every dollar that we spend away from home is a dollar less to circulate among us and to account for 2 or 3 or more dollars of added trade volume as it moves from hand to hand.

Keeping more of this easily available trade volume at home is one way by which we could create and sustain more local opportunities for our young people. And for ourselves.

Irrigation Conservation

Many have an irrigation system, but have you ever considered what you can or can't do with your system?

Check your system against the following questions:

1. Will my system save the rain, or does it get rid of it as soon as possible?
You can't buy rain—its free, lets use what we get.

2. Does my system make an even distribution of irrigation water or does it over water the end and underwater the middle of the field?

3. Does my system retard erosion or wash the soil out the end of the row.

4. Does my system provide for emergency drainage.

Yes, there are times when we need slow drainage to prevent crop damage.

If you can answer all the above answers with a yes, you can say with assurance that I have a conservation irrigation system.

There has been one advantage of a conservation irrigation system brought to my attention that fully out weigh all the economic, soil and water conservation aspects of the business of irrigation; the prevention of mosquito production, and in turn the prevention of such diseases as encephalitis (sleeping sickness or inflammation of the brain). There is no known curative medical treatment, it usually results in serious brain damage or death. Here on the high plains last year human outbreaks of sleeping sickness occurred. Mosquitoes like very shallow, still and stagnant water in which to reproduce.

Not all epidemics of sleeping sickness are associated with irrigation, but research conducted by the U. S. Health Service and agricultural research service indicate that some are. Research carried on in California showed that mosquito production went up as irrigation efficiency and crop condition went down.

The threat of irrigation caused sleeping sickness and the constant now—epidemic outbreaks in our own area are serious matters and can not be ignored.

The best prevention of this disease may be the installation and proper use of a conservation irrigation system on every farm.
