

Mules rock Littlefield; clinch District 2-3A baseball title

The Muleshoe Mules pounded Littlefield 10-0 at MHS Field Tuesday, clinching the District 2-3A championship and a top seeding in the playoffs.

John Embry held the Wildcats to just two hits over five innings, struck out seven and walked one in improving his season record to 8-2.

The Mules hammered two Littlefield pitchers for 13 hits, including seven for extra bases. Robert Toscano had three doubles, while Embry and Jarred Redwine each had a home run for MHS.

The Mules, who had beaten Dimmitt 16-11 last Saturday, improved to 19-6 on the season and 9-1 in the district. It is the best regular season record by an MHS ballclub and the most wins in a season.

"It was the kind of game we needed going into the playoffs," said MHS coach Ted Leps, who led the Mules to a district baseball title for the second time in four years and to the playoffs for the third time in four years. "We hit the ball extremely well, we pitched well and we didn't have a single error."

The Mules will play either Sanford Fritch or Perryton in the bi-district round next week. But the two leaders in District 1-3A are expected to end the regular season tied. A one-game playoff, probably on Saturday, May 13, will be played to determine which team will be top seeded going into the playoffs. As the 2-3A champion, MHS would play the second seed in the first round of the play-

Local teachers promote reading with basketball

Dillman Elementary school was the sight of a most unusual basketball game on Monday afternoon, May 8. The Hot Shots and the Dillman Dunkers matched up for a faculty basketball game complete with a half-time show. The game was a re-make of Globe Trotter antics that included lessons in math and personal hygiene. After all, teachers will be teachers.

The faculty at the local elementary school has gone the extra mile to promote reading in the schools according to Helen Grigsby, principal at Dillman Elementary.

These dedicated teachers promised their students a day of fun at a faculty basketball game if they could reach a goal of reading 6,000 books as a school project. The teachers had to deliver on the promise when the students met their reading goal in only two weeks.

Playing for the winning Dillman Dunkers were Patty White, Patty O'Hare, Amy Gilleland, Flora Orozco, Vicki Surret, Alice Felan, Melissa Whitmire, and Crista Trussell. The team was coached by LaDonna Holmans.

Playing for the losing Hot Shots were Pam Mitchell, Donna Mason, Jan Morris, Lenda Trussell, Carol Williams, JoAnn Luscombe, and Kay Leopard. The team was coached by Beth Mims and Debra Lovett.

The final score of the game was 10-8.

After the game, Lenda Trussell offered congratulations to the students for reaching their goal and encouraged them to continue reading throughout the summer.

Dillman Dolls

Dillman Elementary teachers found a new angle to promote summer reading. To kick the summer off the teachers challenged students to read 6,000 books before school ended. The student's reward for accomplishing the goal was to enjoy a faculty basketball game. ICA stands up for property rights at state, federal levels

AUSTIN - With the words "Take back Texas" echoing in their ears, officials of the Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas (ICA) are working at the state and federal levels to enact legislation aimed at protecting property rights.

Separate bills are pending in the state Legislature and Congress that would require landowners to be compensated when government regulations or policies decrease or destroy the market value of their real property.

In Washington, a bill by U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm of Texas requires compensation when a "taking" has reduced property value by at least 25 percent or $10,000. Under the measure, compensation and legal fees for landowners who successfully argue their case in court would be paid for with funds from the government agency that issued the unconstitutional regulation.

At the state Capitol, meanwhile, legislation has been filed by Sen. Teel Bivins of Amarillo and state Rep. Susan

County election results

Bailey County voters went to the polls on Saturday, May 6, to cast their votes for city council and school board contenders.

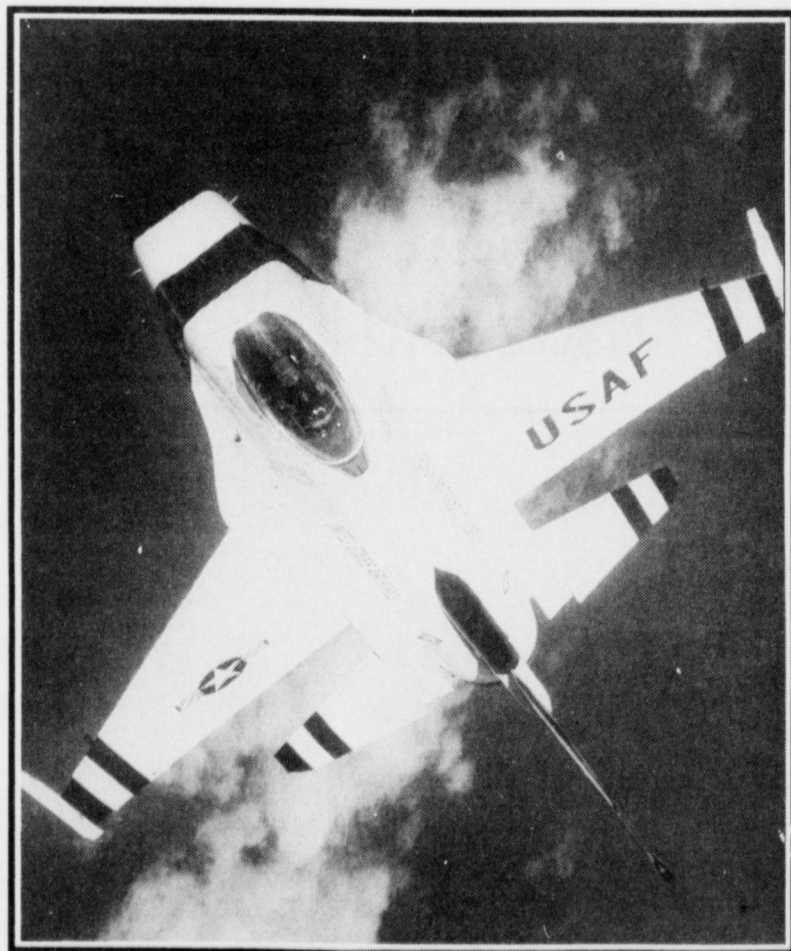

In Muleshoe, Juan Chavez won the District 1 seat uncontested, while Cliff Black took the race from Tony Scolley for the District 2 position. A special session of the Muleshoe City Council held on Tuesday swore in the new council members.

In school board elections, Max King and Edward Cox were both re-elected to the Muleshoe School Board. The Muleshoe Independent School District board of trustees met on Monday to swear in King and Cox.

The Three Way school board filled two openings during Saturday's election.

Marvin McCaul, who had finished out the late Mickey Sowder's term, was elected to serve another term.

Murray Davis was also elected as a new Three Way School Board trustee.

Muleshoe woman escapes serious injury in hit and run

A Muleshoe woman narrowly escaped serious injury after the bicycle she was riding was struck from behind by a vehicle at the intersection of Ninth Street and Ave. D last Saturday evening (May 6).

Dora Gonzales of Rt. 3, Box 29, was traveling east when she was struck from behind by a vehicle believed to have been driven by Juan Alberto Garza of 1014 West. Ave. D. Muleshoe.

The rear wheel of the bicycle was smashed in the accident and Gonzales was thrown off. She was transported to Muleshoe Area Medical Center by Muleshoe EMS ambulance. She was treated and later released.

A child riding a bicycle alongside Gonzales escaped injury.

50th anniversary of the final battles of that war."

"I invite all residents of the West Texas-Eastern New Mexico area to come out on May 13th and 14th to help us celebrate the start of our fifty-fifth year and to see up close how the members of our Armed Services--Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and Air Force work together at Reese to accomplish our Joint Services Pilot Training mission," said Colonel Brady.

The Thunderbirds are the Air Force's renowned Air Demonstration Squadron from Nellis AFB, Nevada. The Golden Knights are the Army's famed Parachute Demonstration Team based at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. They both will be helping the personnel of Reese AFB celebrate "fifty-four years of training the world's best military pilots."

said Lt. Colonel Mark Edwards, this year's Air Show

project officer.

Although the Thunderbirds and the Golden Knights will be the featured flying and parachuting attractions, there will be numerous aircraft performing flyovers and flying capability demonstrations. The remainder of the aircraft will be on static (ground) display on the flightline parking ramp where they will be open for public inspection.

There will be as many as 35 military and 20 civilian aircraft on static (ground) display on the flightline parking ramp when the gates open. The display will include fighters like the Air Force's F-117 Stealth, the F-15 Eagle, an F-15E version of the Eagle, the F-16 Fighting Falcon, and the F-111. Attack aircraft like the Air Force's A-10 Thunderbolt II and At-38 Talon will have cockpit viewing stands available.

The C-5 Galaxy and the KC-10 Extender will be open for walk through inspection by visitors. The C-141 Starlifter and the KC-135 Stratotanker will also be on display representing the tanker-transport forces.

The Air Combat Command will send an F-15 Eagle and a U-2.

The second seed from 2-3A is not yet set either. Floydada, which had been in second place in the league behind the Mules, was beaten 9-8 at Friona Tuesday. The Whirlwinds must win at Shallowater in a make-up of a rained out game on Thursday (May 11) to nail down the second seeding. A loss by Floydada would leave the Whirlwinds and Friona in a tie and force a playoff.

Against Littlefield, the Mules jumped on top early and scored in every inning on their way to the run-rule shortened victory. MHS scored two in the first, one in the second, three in the third, two in the fourth and two in the fifth.

Toscano continued his hot streak at the plate for MHS, ripping three doubles during the five-inning game. Toscano had three doubles and a grand slam homer last Saturday against Dimmitt.

Embry helped his own cause by going two for two with a homer, while Redwine was two for two with a dinger. Robert Jaime also had an extra-base hit, slapping a triple.

Littlefield ended its season 11-13 overall and 2-8 in the district.

Garza has not been charged in connection with the hit and run incident, said Muleshoe Police Chief Julian Dominguez. Other charges may be filed, pending the outcome of the investigation, however.

1st Cavalry Division to hold reunion August 9

"Boots and saddles" bugle calls are sounding around the country for all veterans of the 1st Cavalry Division to mount up and head for assembly in Killeen, TX, on August 9.

The Central Texas City, just outside Ft. Hood, is the site of the 48th Annual Reunion of the 1st Cavalry Division Association.

Cavalrymen who rode the trails of West Texas in the 1920's and 93's will swap stories with young troopers who charged across the Iraqi desert in their M-1 Abrams tanks in the 1990's. Cav troopers who endured harsh winters during the Korean War will compare hardships with veterans who served in the steaming jungles of Vietnam. And World War II cavalrymen who island hopped across the Pacific will compare armor technology with today's 1st Cavalry troopers.

Soldiers who have served throughout the years with the 1st Cavalry Division have a saying - "ONE CAV, ALWAYS CAV". The attendance at the Annual Reunions gives credence to this saying with veterans from the long past horse cavalry right up to veterans of the Gulf War traveling many miles to share a few days with old buddies who were never forgotten.

The 48th Annual Reunion will end on Sunday morning, August 13, with the bugle sound of taps as fallen troopers of the First Team are remembered and honored.

For more information or to register for attendance, veterans may contact the Association Headquarters at 302 N. Main, Copperas Cove, TX 76522-1799 or call (817) 547-6537.

UNITED STATES SENATE
CAPITOL COMMENT
 U.S. SENATOR
KAY BAILEY HUTCHISON

No one is happy with the present system's intricate set of loopholes. A flat tax would eliminate loopholes entirely. The philosophy behind this idea is one of elemental fairness: Everyone should be treated the same, rather than the government making arbitrary decisions about who must surrender more of what they earn, and who has to surrender less.

Most advocates of this plan want to retain only one real deduction in addition to the personal allowance: the allowance given parents for their children. Under Rep. Arney's proposal, the individual deduction would be $13,000, or $26,000 per couple.

In exchange for that, all other deductions would be erased, including the home mortgage interest deduction and the charitable contribution deduction. The current double taxation of savings and investment income would be abolished. Right now, some people pay federal tax on their salaries and still manage to save something for a rainy day. But their wealth is taxed again when it earns interest. If they invest their savings in a business, the business's income is taxed, and then they are taxed once again on the income they derive from it.

The result of this system is that Americans save less than citizens in any other industrialized democracy. Less investment funds are available to create new business, and new jobs. Under the flat tax plan, income would be taxed only once, at its source.

The flat tax proposal would reduce the current high rate of taxation. As a result, the government would have less money to spend. If that rate were set at 17 percent, for instance, federal revenue would shrink by about $40 billion a year from what is currently collected. So any flat tax proposal, to be realistic, would have to contain caps on government spending as well.

I still have not made up my mind if this is the best way to improve our federal income tax system, but I think the flat tax is an interesting idea in principle. This and other tax reform proposals deserve to be thoroughly debated before Congress enacts them. The American people deserve to know exactly what they'll be getting in exchange for the present system.

But right now the reward for energy, enterprise and thrift in America is — higher taxes. This has to change.

Capital Punishment: The Income Tax

Every April, Americans are reminded that there are two forms of government in their country — the short form and the long form. And whether we file the long form or the short form, few of us are truly happy with the federal income tax system.

There are two proposals for tax reform currently before the 104th Congress: the consumption tax and the flat tax. I am going to discuss the flat tax in this column and will outline the consumption tax proposal later.

The flat tax plan proposed by U.S. Rep. Dick Arney of Texas would allow every taxpayer in the country to file on a form the size of a postcard.

Rep. Arney proposes that all income be taxed at a single rate — 20 percent for the first three years and 17 percent thereafter. Not only would this simplify the tax process enormously, but it would eliminate some of the most egregious features of the current system: the Swiss cheese-like arrangement of loopholes which benefit some at the expense of others, the double and often triple taxation of certain kinds of income, and the high overall rate of federal taxation.

Reading product label carefully crucial to responsible pesticide use

Carefully following pesticide label directions is crucial to good management and responsible pesticide use. Agricultural pesticides too frequently are blamed for harming our food supply and the environment, and we must all do our part to dispel this myth. Proper pesticide use is essential in boosting consumer confidence in agriculture.

Pesticide applications have never been more sophisticated or regulated than in the 1990s. Producers and commercial applicators have access to tools that allow unprecedented success in controlling target pests in specific crops under precise conditions.

But as the chemistry of crop protection chemicals become more sophisticated, it can become more delicate. Many new products are fragile when used under less than ideal conditions. For example, such factors as evaporation, the pH of the carrier and ultraviolet degradation can dilute the impact of certain compounds.

That's why it's so important to read and follow all label directions. The Environmental Protection Agency requires pesticide manufacturers to conduct extensive tests to ensure that products, when used according to label instructions, effectively control the target pest and do not pose an unreasonable risk to humans or the environment. After reading a label, if you are still unclear about the directions, call the manufacturer for specific instructions.

Labels and restrictions change often - sometimes it seems daily - so don't assume you can apply a pesticide the same way you did a year ago. Just as the Worker Protection Standard produced label changes, more new regulations are on the way that will affect applications. The EPA has told us that requirements concerning endangered species, the state management plan for pesticides in groundwater, and possible certification and training will be added to the label soon.

Applicators must treat every application with the attention it deserves. Sometimes applicators violate what may seem to them a minor label instruction, but there is no such thing. One of the most frequent violations reported to the Texas Department of Agriculture concerns mixing a pesticide with less water than is required. If the label calls for a minimum of five gallons of total spray volume then five gallons - not two or three - is the least that can be used. Drift, another major source of improper pesticide use, represents by far the largest number of complaints TDA receives. As with other types of violation, drift is largely due to ignoring label directions.

Any deviation from directions on label violates state and federal pesticide law and is one more black mark against agriculture and pesticide use.

Applicators are not the only ones charged with responsible pesticide use. Pesticide dealers also play an important role. Dealers must make sure they distribute restricted and state limited-use pesticides only to licensed users who are trained and certified to apply these chemicals and who have valid license or certificate cards. Anyone distributing these pesticides to users whose cards have expired violates the law. Because thousands of licenses and certificates have recently lapsed, it is essential that dealers double-check each card to ensure its validity.

Dealers should always be sure they're not steering a customer wrong. When recommending a pesticide, they must be certain it can be used legally for its intended purpose.

We must be able to look lawmakers and consumers straight in the eye and tell them we use crop protection chemicals responsibly and wisely, and that these chemicals are a vital tool in producing an abundant and affordable food and fiber supply. To ensure that these essential tools remain available, we must uphold our end of the bargain by being responsible users and dealers. Your livelihoods and building a stronger Texas agribusiness economy depend on it.

"SHARPE II"

The time: the Napoleonic Wars of 1809. The place: the rough plains of Spain. The man: Richard Sharpe.

The daring exploits of the dashing soldier and rifleman Richard Sharpe, an up-and-comer in Wellington's army during Britain's battles against the French, return to Masterpiece Theater in three all-new action-romance adventures — "Sharpe's Company," "Sharpe's Enemy," and "Sharpe's Honor." The three programs are each two hours in length.

The magnetic Sean Bean (Patriot Games) returns in the title role of the series, based on the best-selling books by Bernard Cornwell. If you missed the popular first round of "Sharpe" adventures broadcast on Masterpiece Theater in November 1993, don't worry — here's the story so far.

Born in a brothel, Sharpe was brought up on the streets and joined the army as a boy. In an act of heroic daring, he saved the life of Wellington, then known as Sir Arthur Wellesley, and was promoted to lieutenant. But the promotion wasn't easy: the officers disliked Sharpe because he wasn't upper class, and his men didn't respect him because he was no better socially than they were. But Sharpe proved himself through skill and daring on the battlefield and overcame their prejudice. He also fell in love with Teresa (played by Spanish actress Assumpta Serna), the feisty, beautiful leader of a band of Spanish guerrillas fighting Napoleon.

"Sharpe II" on Masterpiece Theater will be broadcast Sundays at 10:00 p.m. beginning May 14th on KENW-TV. The series repeats Fridays at 12:00 midnight.
