Lions vs. School Boys Basketball Game Is Being Discussed

By James H. Priddy

In the meeting of the board of directors of the Lions Club Thursday evening it was decided to meet the challenge issued by some of our school boys for a basketball game.

However, shortly before press time a serious question arose among lions and school officials as to which school boys was intended—Grammar school or High school. A quick check with Superintendent Moreland shed no light on which boys were intended, but he stated that the coaches had indicated that either team could be made available on Tuesday night, February 25, at 7:30 p. m. A final check with Lion team manager, Gene "Shorty" Morris revealed that he felt sure that with a small amount of practice and excellent "bald" material available that he could survive attacks launched by the high school boys.

Admission was set at 50¢ for adults and 25¢ for children.

SCHOOL DISMISSED ON ACCOUNT OF GAS LEAK

Living 'Mural' Graces Room

Not even the finest wall mural money can buy adds as much beauty to a room as the ever changing panorama of nature coming through a "picture wall" of windows, such as the one used so effectively in this home. The windows of ponderosa pine are combination units consisting of fixed sash in the upper portion, and hopper windows, which open for ventilation, in the lower portion. To achieve a feeling of greater space in the room, the windows were painted to match walls and ceiling. An interesting decorative note in the room is the effective blending of traditional pieces, such as the chandelier and table lamp, into the otherwise modern decor.

Selling Your Home?

Look Out for 'Sale Killers'

If you plan to sell your home, don't miss a chance for a quick, profitable turnover because of "sale killers," says Andrew C. Lang, author of the new book, "Home Repairs."

"Sale killers," says Lang, are things about a house and lot which can discourage an otherwise enthusiastic prospect. Here are some common "sale killers" and hints on how to get rid of them:

1. Unkept grounds. You don't have to re-landscape the place, but be sure lawns are neat and shrubbery is trimmed.
2. Broken and cracked concrete work in sidewalks, drives, foundation, garage, or patio. An afternoon spent with a sack of ready-mixed patching cement may save your sale.
3. Peeling or cracked paint on siding and trim. An investment in a complete paint job may pay for itself in a faster, more profitable sale. If the complete job isn't needed, a bit of touching up here and there can accomplish wonders.

4. Shabby, weathered roof. Since this usually is the largest expense visible from outside, an old, worn roof can ruin the exterior appearance of a house. An investment in a new roof of asphalt shingles in a color that complements the rest of the house can pay dividends in the final sale. A new roof also gives you a strong selling point: the new owners will have years of trouble-free security from all kinds of weather.

5. Streaked, faded interior walls and ceilings. A weekend or two with paintbrush and roller is an inexpensive way to cure this "sale killer." Floors and woodwork also may need sprucing up.

Some other things to be ready with after the "For Sale" sign goes up are good housekeeping with a minimum of clutter, an affirmative answer to the prospect's inevitable question, "Are the plumbing, heating, and electrical systems in good shape?", and the right answers to questions about transportation, shopping, schools, and taxes.

"I Got a 2,000-lb.-per-acre Increase on 575 Acres of Grain Sorghum."

Lem Brock, of Plainview, Tex., says: "I put down 82% nitrogen in top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia on 575 acres of irrigated maize land, and got an average of 2,000 pounds of grain increase per acre. I also put down 100 pounds of Phillips ammonia on castor beans and got an increase of 500 pounds of beans per acre. Also, by using Phillips ammonia I got 1 1/2 bales of cotton to the acre in an average seasonable cotton year."

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that 82% nitrogen in top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them to get more profit per acre, through higher yields and lower production costs.

They have found that, by using Phillips 66 Ammonia they get more cotton that grades out higher at the gin, more yields of grain sorghum grain and ensilage are increased, all the more marketable vegetables are harvested, and profits on wheat are increased through better forage, and higher yields of grain.
