VOLUME 51 NUMBER 25

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY AT SILVERTON, BRISCOE COUNTY, TEXAS

THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1959

All Around the Town
by Mary Ann Sarchet

Sunday is Old Glory's birthday! The nation will commemorate the 50th anniversary of the original American flag which was approved by the Continental Congress. Designed to give Alaska representation in the field of blue, the 48 Stars and Stripes will go into official use on July 4. On Independence Day next year another flag will be added to represent the new stars and we embrace people there, whose equal we shall protect, by land and air. But let the world be conscious now, that it was by choice. We did not seize states or try to influence voice. They exercised their free will and voluntarily they were to be united in our true unity.

Frank Story New Methodist Minister

Have you met the Frank Story family?

Rev. and Mrs. Story and their son, Milton, moved to Silverton last week. Rev. Story is the new pastor of the First Methodist Church here, coming from Ropesville, Texas, where he served the Methodist Church for two years.

Rev. and Mrs. Story have five children; Douglas, of San Francisco, California, Howard, of German, Texas, Mrs. Florene Shanks, of Odessa, Mrs. Floella Dickenson, of McAdoo and Milton of Silverton. They have eight grandchildren.

Milton is a high school graduate and has recently completed a radio and television repair course from DeVry Technical Institute of Chicago. He hopes to find employment here in Silverton.

The Storys have been very busy getting settled in their new home. They have been transplanting flowers and improving the parsonage grounds. They have only been in town a few days because they were called away when Rev. Story's mother passed away last week.

Rev. Story states that his first impressions of Silverton are very favorable. He is proud of his new church, and thinks that when he gets better acquainted he will either remove the back pews or move the pulpit closer to the back so he can really get to know his congregation.

NOTICE

I'm so proud of my husband—we've got an ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP

And it's wonderful. It's always the right weather in our house... even on those days when we have hot days and cold nights. In the daytime our heat pump cools the house and at night it heats—and, without our doing a thing—don't even have to touch the thermostat. I just love it! Economical, too, doesn't use any water.

SPECIAL HEATING RATE

There's a new, low heating rate for full house heating. Ask your Public Service manager about it.

Helpful Hints Make Measuring for Summer's Screens Easy and Thrifty

How are your window screens? Do they have the twists, warps, or splits? Fit to be discarded and replaced are those whose frames are rotten, split or warped, or whose screen is either rusty so that water flowing from it stains the house or so painted over that the holes are almost closed.

Measure precisely these dimensions on the outside of the stops (the outermost strips of wood projecting from the window frame) where the stops meet the frame:

HORIZONTAL — At the top (A to B), at the bottom (E to F) and midway between top and bottom (C to D).
PERPENDICULAR — Along both sides (A to E and B to F).
DIAGONAL — Between opposite upper and lower corners (A to F and B to E).

These measurements are needed to guide the aluminum screen dealer or fabricator because wood windows frequently are out of "square" from warping, the house settling, or other causes.

In giving the measurements to the dealer or fabricator, it would be wise to give him a clear, even though non-professional, drawing that indicates the various measurements for each screen. He also should be informed that yours are "full" measurements with no allowance or tolerance for slipping the screens into place. He then can make such allowance when cutting and assembling the material.

Once installed, aluminum screens constitute a life-long home improvement because they do not rust, stain, rot, or split and need no painting, although they can be painted if desired. Their light weight permits them to be carried several at a time even by a child, while the space-saving thinness of their sturdy aluminum frames allows them to be stored in only a fraction of the space needed for heavy wood screens.

Mrs. A. J. Rowell took her daughters, Ricki, Marsha and Tobi to see the dentist in Plainview on Wednesday.

Mrs. Jim Clemmer was called to Hereford last Thursday by her daughter, Mrs. Archie Souter, to help care for the Souter's new baby which was being brought home from the hospital. The baby is nearly two months old, but had been in the hospital incubator since birth. The baby is reported to be doing fine.

Ricki Rowell had the misfortune of running into a bedroom door Saturday while being chased by her sisters, Marsha and Tobi. The girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rowell.

E. Posey returned home on Thursday of last week after a week's stay with his father, R. A. Posey, 94, who is critically ill in a hospital in Uvalde. Mrs. Posey and their daughter, Mrs. R. A. Edwards and Tommy went to Uvalde with E. Posey but came back early last week.

WINNERS SELECTED IN ANNUAL SILVERTON ART EXHIBITION

First place in the Adult Division of the Annual Silverton Art Exhibit held June 11-12 was awarded to Mrs. Pauline Montague for a portrait of her father-in-law, Mrs. Montague had a number of excellent paintings entered in the show.

Mrs. LaNelle Montague tied with herself for second place in the Adult Division. The judge could not pick one over the other of her paintings of flowers. One was an arrangement of roses with dew drops on them and the other was a vase of dahlias. Both are beautiful pictures.

The third place winner in the Adult Division was Mrs. Alma Elrod, with a painting of a half eaten portion of watermelon which the viewer can almost taste. The spoon is still in the melon and the juice is typically spilled. This picture was framed with a rustic frame that seems to belong to it. The judge reportedly commented that it made her want to see the rest of the scene.

In the Intermediate Division, Howard Newberry captured first prize for his portrait of his cousin Judy. This picture is approximately 3 1/2 x 5 and was by far the largest in the show. Howard states that it took him about forty-eight hours over a period of months to complete. The frame is of his own design. Howard is looking forward to entering Fort Worth Technical College in September. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Newberry.

A basket of roses by Beth Thomas was awarded the second prize in the Intermediate Division. Beth has painted a number of good pictures and had several entered in the show. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Thomas, Jr.

Mike Norris, son of Mrs. Annie Williams, took the third place ribbon in the Intermediate Division with a landscape showing a tree, a stream, waterfall and mountains in the background. This is a very good picture for a student of his youth.

With a picture of a lighthouse, sea and ship, Roland Montague captured the first prize ribbon in the Junior Division. Roland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Montague.

The second place in the Junior Division was awarded to Marsha Rowell for a snow scene which pictures trees, mountains and a house. Marsha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rowell.

The third place ribbon in the Junior Division went to Cliff Walker for his scene of mountains and trees, with deer drinking in a stream. Cliff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mack Walker.

The judge for the show was Mrs. C. L. Helms, of Tulia.

Those receiving honorable mentions by the judge are: Peggy Phillips' "Waterfall," John Montague's "Windmill," Donald D. Weast's portrait of his own dog, Weldon Tipton's "Desert Scene," Mildred Burson's "Portrait of a Pig," Mrs. H. C. Mercer's "Our Daily Bread," Estelle Thomas' "Bluebonnets," Nina Martin's still-life "Roses," Faye Whittemore's "Hunting Scene," Maybelle Francis' "Mountain Scene," and Miss Anna Lee Anderson's "Sunflower."

HILTON CREDIT CARDS ACCEPTABLE AT SHAMROCK SERVICE STATIONS

The Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation issued a joint statement today with Hilton Credit Corporation that the two companies had entered into a credit agreement making Hilton's more than one million "Carte Blanche" credit cards acceptable at Shamrock's retail service stations.

The agreement, which goes into effect July 1, is among the first to be made by Hilton with oil companies.

Shamrock, 30 years old this year, is a fully integrated oil company and one of the largest independent oil companies in the country. Its retail marketing area games should be confined to the cooler parts of the day.

Shamrock products include both regular and premium grades of gasoline and a wide variety of motor oils and greases. The company's agreement with Hilton will not affect Shamrock's own credit card system.

Hilton is affiliated with the Hilton hotel and restaurant chain and issues its "Carte Blanche" credit cards for nationwide credit purchases of meals, rooms, car rentals, gasoline, flowers, books and other services.

The judge stated that it was such a fine group of paintings that it was very difficult to decide which of them should win ribbons.

According to Mrs. Vaughan, several of the artists have paintings for sale. If anyone is interested in buying any of the paintings shown, he should contact Mrs. Vaughan.

Petersburg, Texas, Man Reports— 1500-pound Increase on Grain Sorghum

Frank Stanton, successful young Hale County farmer, says: "By chiseling in 85 to 100 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia as a side dressing, I increased my maize yield 1,500 pounds per acre. This represents a $4 profit on every $1 invested in ammonia."

"This proved to me that using Phillips 66 Ammonia is profitable. I am using it on both my cotton and grain sorghum land this year. There are not many investments I know that will return 4-for-1."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain or ensilage are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be easily applied as a side dressing either by you or your distributor. See us today for your supply of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia... it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

THE GOSPEL

Just before the Lord's ascension He commanded the apostles to go into all the world and to preach the gospel to every creature. He also said, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." (Mark 16:15-16).

A few days thereafter the apostles began this world-wide effort in the city of Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost (Acts 2). In preaching the gospel they told of God's grace in that Jesus died for all. They told of the great promise of pardon (remission of sins) and they told sinners what to do to be saved.

Thus, the gospel they were to announce consisted of three things: (1) the facts of the gospel which included God's part consisting mainly of the death, burial and resurrection of Christ; (2) the promises especially that of the forgiveness of sins and (3) the commandments men must obey to obtain pardon.

About three thousand obeyed the first day the gospel was preached (Acts 2:41). All of these the Lord added to His church (Acts 2:47). From that day to this others were and are added as they obey. Today, to obey the Lord and save souls we must continue to preach the simple gospel of Christ (Galatians 1:8,9). As men obey, the Lord adds them to His church. They are the to continue faithful unto death (Revelation 2:10).

SUGGESTIONS FOR HELPING TO BEAT SUMMER HEAT

According to the calendar, summer doesn't start until next week. But according to the weather, summer has been here for quite some time now.

For those of us who must battle the heat, a few simple health rules will go a long way in making the hot Texas summer a little more bearable.

First of all, avoid heavy meals, as they are difficult to digest in hot weather. Fewer protein foods, such as eggs, fish and meat should be eaten, with more emphasis on fruits and vegetables.

Perspiration causes much fluid loss during the day and must be replaced. Fruit juices—two or three glasses per day—make a pleasant way to make up the loss. But do not gulp down large amounts of ice water when overheated.

The body also loses salt through perspiration, so that if your work or exercise causes you to sweat profusely, salt should be replaced with salt tablets—about one every half hour with a glass of water.

Parents can place extra salt in the children's diet with salted nuts or crackers plus a little salt added during meals.

Clothing plays an important role in keeping cool. Loose, light clothing is highly recommended for summertime wear. Normal body temperatures are dependent on the evaporation of sweat.

Clothes which inhibit evaporation should be avoided. Also, it is well to remember that white or light colors are cooler than dark. They do not absorb hot sun rays so readily.

It is smart to get some exercise all year round. But it can easily be overdone in the summer.

SON OF LOCAL MAN COMMANDS MILLS

Lieutenant Commander L. B. Loudermilk, who assumed command of the U.S.S. Mills on July 3, 1958 was born on December 10, 1919, the son of Mr. C. T. Loudermilk and Mrs. D. C. Howell then of Anadarko, Oklahoma. He entered the Naval Service from Silverton, Texas, in April 1938 and was commissioned on April 15, 1944.

His first assignment after commissioning was to the Navel Gun Factory, Washington, D.C., as Officer-In-Charge of the Mobile Ordnance Repair Unit. From Washington he was transferred to the Pearl Harbor Naval Shipyard where he served as Officer-In-Charge of a Mobile Repair Unit. He attended the University of Idaho as a naval student from 1947 until 1949. After finishing his course of study at the University, he continued his schooling at the Navel General Line School, Newport, Rhode Island, where he remained until May 1950.

In June 1950 he reported to the U.S.S. SALEM (CA 139) as Combat Information Center Officer and served in this position until 1951, when he reported to Boston, Mass., where he served as an instructor at the Combat Information Center School. He was then assigned to the U.S.S. SAMUEL B. ROBERTS (DD 823) as Operations Officer. While on the ROBERTS, he also served as Executive Officer and in June 1955 as Commanding Officer.

In October 1955 he was ordered to the Fleet Training Center, Newport, Rhode Island, where he served as Officer-In-Charge of the Anti-Submarine-Welfare school and as Pre-Commissioning Detail Officer.

His last duty assignment prior to being ordered to the U.S.S. MILLS was the Navel War College, Newport, Rhode Island, where he was a student in the Command and Staff Course.

summer sports, provided the proper safety rules are followed—including not swimming alone, getting chilled, waiting at least an hour after meals, and avoiding tiredness.

It is important to keep up your physical condition during the summer months by getting adequate sleep and a good idea is to have your annual check-up before indulging in any strenuous summer activities.

LCDR Loudermilk is married to the former Miss Dorothy L. Kroeger of Lyndhurst New Jersey. The Loudermilks reside in Middletown, Rhode Island with their two children Gail and John.

Mrs. Wayne (Bud) Vaughan, Danny and Ronny returned home with their grandparents for a short visit.

MRS. BILL BAIRD

Grundy-Baird Wedding Vows Exchanged

Rev. G. A. Elrod, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony when Miss Peggy Grundy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Grundy, became the bride of Bill Baird, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Baird.

Vows were exchanged in the first Baptist Church at 4:00 p.m. on June 14, before an archway of white gladiolus, candelabra with white tapers and baskets of orchid gladiolus.

Sam Brown, organist, played the additional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Paula Reid, maid of honor, who sang "If I Could Tell You," "At the End of a Perfect Day," and "The Lord's Prayer." Carol Grundy, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress was fashioned of mint green chiffon over taffeta. She carried a nosegay of orchid carnations and wore a matching halo.

Attending the bride were Misses Mary Jane West, Thelma Eddleman and Paula Reid. They wore identically styled dresses of lilac chiffon over taffeta with matching halos.

Lynette Martin was flower girl. Her dress was similarly styled to those of the bridesmaids. Misses Vest and Eddleman lighted the candles.

J. E. Patton was best man and Douglas Forbes, James Brown and Jerry Dee McWilliams served as groomsmen. Donald Bethel, of James, and Gerald Bedwell, of Plainview, cousins of the bride, were ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon net over taffeta. The fitted bodice of lace was designed with Sabrina neckline and a long torso waistline with long sleeves that came to points over the hands; the bouffant net skirt was enhanced with yards of Chantilly lace. A finger-tip veil fell from a headpiece riced with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and lily-of-the-valley.

For the traditional something new, the bride wore a strand of pearls; she wore a blue garter and carried a wedding band more than fifty years old which belongs to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. N. L. Bedwell.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Miss Susan Anderson registered the guests; other members of the

LAWS ON CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

Editor's Note: We have been asked by John B. Stapleton, the District Attorney for the 110th Judicial District to print the following article for the information of interested persons in this district.

AUSTIN.—Texas laws on crime and punishment are pretty confusing—almost equally to those who commit the crimes and to those who assess the punishment.

For instance, may give a felon two years for the indeterminate sentence, to five or five to 99 years, and cause him and his family to think his term is that variable.

But it's just part of the legal language. For purposes of the prison and the board of pardons and paroles, his sentence is the top figure and he can forget about the smaller one.

On the other hand, that top figure is pretty meaningless to the citizen who serves as a juror.

He may vote a top sentence of 10 years and think that means the prisoner will serve 10 years—which is even farther from the facts than if the convict is on the indeterminate sentence.

The man given 10 years may get out after less than two years behind bars—if he is a model prisoner, and a surprising number are. The one given two years may be out in five months if he makes a good record and is granted clemency. The one given 99 years may not serve more than eight.

Most details of the parole system are prescribed by statute.

Prisoners are eligible to have their cases reviewed after they have earned credit for one third of their sentences. In cases where the maximum is more than four times the minimum, the review must come after one fourth has been served.

Review is automatic after 15 years of credit on sentences of more than 45 years.

There is no question about the prisoner getting consideration; a business machine sees to it that his card comes out at the proper time.

Board members Jack Ross, A. C. Turner and Pat Bullock look over his record as a civilian, as an inmate and then get the recommendation of guards and prison officials. Then the board studies four factors set out by law.

One is the readiness of the offender for parole, particularly his personal habits. Another is the nature of his offense and the circumstances under which it was committed (a murder in a fit of passion is not given the same weight as one committed during a robbery.)

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

Mrs. Arthure Arnold honored her husband John, son, Arthur Arnold, and a nephew, L. Gerald with a dinner in celebration of their birthday anniversaries which fell on two consecutive days.

Others enjoying this fine Sunday dinner were Mrs. John Arthur Arnold and children, Mrs. L. Gerald Arnold and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Arnold and children, Mrs. Walter Arnold and children, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hamilton and children and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mack Walker and family. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Garrison called in the afternoon.

Then the board must consider the readiness of the community to receive the parolee—which is not very good in cases of narcotics addicts, habitual drunkards, embezzlers and violators of trusts. (Strangely, there is little opposition to murderers.)

Fourth consideration naturally is the combined opinions of prison officials about a prisoner's prospects.

Under the law, the board must not release one if there is risk that he will not conform, if his release will cause disrespect for the law, if it would have an adverse effect on prison discipline or if there is need for additional physical or mental care of vocational training.

In addition to the routine considerations of cases and the hearings requested in death penalty or other exceptional cases, board members make tours of the prison system every four months to visit prisoners thought to deserve hearings out of order.

Some of the prisoners request hearings; some get them because board members are not ready to act on written records and want personal interviews. In some cases, members of families have asked hearings; in others, prison officials have.

The way in which prisoners can earn their credit on sentences also is provided by law. Each prisoner enters with a clear record and is allowed to earn "good time" of 20 extra days for every month of "straight time". If he becomes a trusty, he gets another 10 days' credit and gets a month extra for every month served.

Once a year, he may give blood for the blood bank, and earn another 30 days of credit.

In some cases of automatic consideration, prison records are all that is necessary for the board. A man with prior convictions who has had his "good time" taken away for infractions of rules is not likely to get serious study for parole. But those with good records will get complete consideration.

OUR STATE REPRESENTED ON NATIONAL BEEF COUNCIL

DENVER—The National Beef Council met recently here to map plans for an intensive promotional campaign to push beef sales at the retail market level. New officers were elected for the coming year.

Harvey McDougal, Rio Vista, California, was named vice president; Jay Taylor, Amarillo, Texas, chairman, advisory committee; W. T. Bonner, Gainesville, Texas, vice president, south central region; R. A. Olsen, Ellsworth, Iowa, vice president, west central region; J. O. Pearce, Okeechobee, Florida, vice president, south-eastern region; Mrs. DeWitt Mallory, Bradford, Vermont, vice president, New England region; Mrs. R. A. Burghart, Colorado Springs, director; Jack Milburn, Grass Range, Montana, director; and J. C. Hobert, Bettendorf, Iowa, director.

Don Bartlett, a Como (Mississippi) cattle producer and newly elected president of the Beef Council, said that all indications point to a large supply of beef on retail counters this fall and winter.

The Beef Council, he pointed out, concerns itself with meat merchandising and beef promotion. The Council is a federated organization composed of cattle producers.

Through the Council, the man who raises the live animal concerns himself with its ultimate sale for the table. The producer, Bartlett said, no longer is content to sit back and turn his product over to a handler to follow through on sales.

The producer is interested in promoting his product to the consumer, and it is through promotional campaigns undertaken by the National Beef Council and State Beef Councils that this is being done.

The areas in which the National Beef Council works to promote beef sales are direct approach to the consumer, enlisting help of allied industry, store promotions for retail meat dealers, and promotion of beef to the restaurant trade.

Cap Rock Soil News

by Virgil Henson

Those interesting in seeding native grass mixtures such as Indian grass, Switch and Side oats should go by and see Milton Dudley and observe his grass just North of Silverton. Several people have recently asked if cattle will eat the above grasses well. One look on Dudley's place will convince anyone.

Mr. Dudley has sixty acres of Switch grass with one hundred and seven head of cattle on it. The grass is about waist high now and does not even appear to be grazed. The cattle are not scouring and are already fat. Besides the cattle on this grass at present, a hundred head were wintered on it.

Dudley's grass is irrigated, but has been watered only once this spring.

In the sandy and mixed lands around Quitaque these grasses will do well on dry land as can be seen on the Oneal and Johnson farms. We cannot expect dry land pastures of the above grasses to have the carrying capacity that Mr. Dudley has under irrigation, but the capacity can be high especially on the better lands off the cap.

Dudley stated that anyone interested in the grazing qualities of native tall grasses is welcome to come by and observe his pasture and grazing program.

Jerry Garrison has spent the last two weeks in Grady, New Mexico, with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer White. Jerry assisted in holding a church vacation school while there. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Garrison went to Grady on Saturday to bring Jerry home.

Livestock HEALTH HINTS

Prepared by American Foundation for Animal Health. One of the oldest and most bothersome problems of cattle-men is still with us today, as it has been through the centuries. The problem is "pinkeye". In 1959 it is expected to cost farmers over $50,000,000 in production losses.

This disease mainly occurs in cattle. Although it can develop at any season of the year, it is most common during the summer months.

Pinkeye is widespread, especially in warm weather.

What should the farmer watch for in maintaining a lookout against pinkeye? There may be swelling of the eyelids and a watery discharge from the eyes. Often there is a pea-size bud near the pupil of the eye and a red discoloration of the eyelids. The disease usually appears suddenly, and spreads rapidly through a herd.

Pinkeye is painful to the eyes, and animals will show evidence of that pain, especially when they are in bright sunlight. Frequently, pinkeye results in temporary blindness. In severe cases it even causes permanent blindness, either by clouding the eye or by rupture of the eyeball.

Impaired vision is one of the major causes of livestock production losses due to pinkeye. The affected animals cannot see well, have difficulty in finding feed, and thus lose weight and condition. Production of dairy cattle may drop 25 per cent. In their blindness, animals may also injure themselves by bumping into objects or falling into ditches.

There are several steps the owner should take when first signs of pinkeye are noticed. He should move animals into darkened quarters, or at least into the shade. He should have a veterinarian start treatment promptly, because the disease moves very fast. He should also spray animals with insecticides, because flies and insects are believed to be spreaders.

Pinkeye is one of the key targets of Livestock Loss Prevention Year in 1959, because of the heavy losses it now causes the livestock industry.

Petersburg, Texas, Man Reports—

1500-pound Increase on Grain Sorghum

Frank Stanton, successful young Hale County farmer, says: "By chiseling in 85 to 100 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia as a side dressing, I increased my maize yield 1500 pounds per acre. This represents a $4 profit on every $1 invested in ammonia."

"This proved to me that using Phillips 66 Ammonia is profitable. I am using it on both my cotton and grain sorghum land this year. There are not many investments I know that will return 4-for-1."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin . . . yields of sorghum grain or ensilage are increased . . . profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage . . . more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be easily applied as a side dressing either by you or your distributor. See us today for your supply of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia . . . it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

More car than this Impala Sport Coupe is hard to find at any price.

clings to curves like a cat on a carpet! the travel-lovin' Chevrolet

Nothing else but a dyed-in-the-wool sports car like the Corvette can take a turn with such solid assurance!

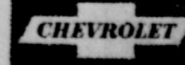

It's easy to see where Chevrolet gets its road sense. With big coil springs at every wheel, a firm, wider stance and all of its pounds distributed with painstaking care, Chevy's born with it.

The only thing that may be hard to understand is how it can offer the ride it does, along with so many other luxury-car virtues, and still compete in the low-price field.

We use the word compete only in the sense of price. For with a ride as special as Chevy's, real competitors are hard to come by. There's a world of difference between Chevrolet's coil springs at all four wheels and the leaf springs that most other cars still use. Take a Chevy down a snaky back road and you'll feel the difference in the sure way it holds through curves and shoots over rough spots with hardly a ripple.

This one's really made to travel and loves every minute of it.

Stop by your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's and sample Chevy's road sense!
