Irrigated Wheat Termed Best In History of County

Pictured is the new 250,000 gallon steel ground storage tank which has just been completed by Anderson Tank Company of Waco, at a cost of $11,400. This new tank will eliminate the water shortage problem this summer.

Irrigated wheat farmers are all smiles as they harvest the best irrigated crop in history of the County. Many factors are responsible for this big irrigated crop this year. Among those considered are favorable moisture and temperature conditions. The spring was fairly cool which necessary for good wheat production. Fertilizer added many bushels to this year's crop.

Reports from the Wilson, Harvest Queen and Coop Elevators in Silverton say that 40 bushel yields, and maximum soil production. This figure has been seldom reached in years prior to this spring. One Briscoe County wheat grower was reported to have produced and average on 70 bushels per acre on 19 measured acres. This would probably be county record.

Dryland wheat was slower coming in as the crop of weeds and irregular maturity caused by the late rains prevented early harvest of this crop. Much of the dryland wheat was given up early in the year as result of extremely dry conditions.

Farmers are getting up to ten bushels on some of this wheat and under summer fallow conditions rates of over ten bushels are being brought in.

Wheat has not normally been considered as profitable as grain sorghum as an irrigated crop, but such conditions as this year make it equally as profitable, and more so when yields go above 40 bushels per acre.

County Agent Ledbetter said that next year's crop should be started soon by mulching this year's stubble. Burning wheat stubble has practically stopped in this County. It is a practice that cannot be afforded long for sustained per acre yields are the rule this year.

CONSTRUCTION TO BEGIN ON MEMPHIS COTTON CLASSING SUB-OFFICE

Plans were approved to begin construction immediately on a cotton classing sub-office to be located in Memphis at a meeting of the directors of the Rolling Plains Cotton Producers, Inc in Memphis Friday, June 5. V. C. Durrett, president of the organization announced this week.

Frank C. McClendon, assistant manager of the Cotton Division of the Agricultural Marketing Service of Dallas, and E. H. Matthews, manager of the Altus, Okla. classing office, met with the group and presented to them the final blueprint and construction specifications for the Memphis office.

Bids will be accepted for three phases of construction. These are renovation of existing building, air conditioning and humidification, and electrical wiring. Bids will be accepted until Friday, June 19, 1959. Interested contractors may obtain details from V. C. Durrett, president of the organization, at Lakeview, Texas.

The Memphis office will serve 12 counties in the rolling plains area including Hall, Donley, Childress, Collingsworth, Cottle, King, Briscoe, Motley, Wheeler, Carson, Grey and Armstrong.

Plans call for the office to be equipped with the most modern and up to date equipment available. Finances for the construction, equipping and maintenance of the office will be furnished by the cotton producers of the twelve-county area. They will actually own the physical plant, the president explained.

The Agriculture Department will furnish classing, clerical and labor personnel, and pay utilities during the time of the year the plant is in operation.

Present plans call for the office to be in operation in time for this year's crop.

The charter of the organization has already been approved by Secretary of State Zollie Steakley.

Silverton Teenagers Are Injured in Crash

Four teenagers from Silverton and a Wichita Falls man were injured in a pickup-car crash about two miles West of here on Highway 86 Sunday night.

The accident occurred about 10 p.m. when the pickup, driven by Robbie Sue McJimsey, swerved into the path of the on-coming car driven by D. H. Oltman, of Wichita Falls. Oltman's car struck the rear of the pickup as it swerved back into its lane. The four teenagers had been to a drive-in movie.

Taken to Swisher County Hospital in Tulia were D. H. Oltman, of Wichita Falls, and Jerry Stephens of Silverton. Oltman suffered face and head lacerations.

In Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, are Sue Lanham, daughter of Briscoe County Sheriff Johnny Lanham and Shelia Jarnagin, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Jarnagin of Silverton. Miss Lanham suffered a possible broken pelvis and leg injuries and head lacerations. Miss Jarnagin suffered leg and foot injuries. Attendants at Amarillo hospital list the girls in good condition.

Released following treatment at Swisher County Hospital Sunday night was Robbie Sue McJimsey, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McJimsey of Silverton. She suffered a head laceration.

Harvest Stalled BY WEATHER

The first day of summer brought torrid temperatures and scattered thunderstorms to our area.

Rain and scattered hail has plagued the harvest, with much of the irrigated wheat and most of the dryland wheat still in the fields.

Our moisture total has risen to 1.67 inches, probably benefitting young cotton and maize crops, but dampening the spirits of the wheat harvesters.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Smith spent Monday in Plainview with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fuller.

Pictured is Mrs. J. H. May, the sweepstakes winner of last week's flower show. She is shown with one of her blue ribbon potted plants and is holding the vase which was her award for winning the sweepstakes. Mrs. May, 73, has lived here in Silverton for a number of years, and takes great pride in her gardening.

Top Texas Builders Reveal Secret of Low-Cost Cooling

Fox & Jacobs Design Around Air Conditioning

When you want to build an air-conditioned home, design the air-conditioning system first, then build the house around it. This is the theory and successful practice of the Fox and Jacobs Construction Co., a firm of leading Texas developers who now are building and selling completely air conditioned, high-quality homes for under $14,000.

The houses are in the firm's "Accent" development on the outskirts of Dallas. Priced at $13,950 up, they are styled for the most part in long, low ranch-house architecture with heat-reflecting asphalt shingle roofs and wood windows. Floor plans range in size from 1,566 to 2,335 square feet, including garage and storage area, with three and four bedrooms.

Completely air-conditioned house built by Fox & Jacobs Construction Co. in Dallas, Tex., sells for $15,950. Prices of 11 models available start at $13,950.

Equipped Kitchens
All have at least two baths and completely equipped kitchens, including built-in dishwasher, wall oven, range, and garbage disposal. Most of the models have two-car garages.

How does the firm manage to offer all these features, plus central air conditioning, in such a low price range?
Partners like Jacobs and Dave Fox agree that the key is in designing the house for air conditioning — choosing materials and utilizing construction techniques that will make the house less costly to cool in Texas' hot summers.

Cost Construction Costs
This means an initial savings in construction cost, since the house can be cooled and heated with a smaller, less expensive air-conditioning system. This savings is passed on to the buyer. The buyer also benefits in lower operating cost, since the smaller units naturally are easier on utility bills. Fox and Jacobs advertise a $10 per month average cost for year-around heating and cooling.

What are some of the methods and materials used to produce these extraordinary houses? Here are some of the more important ones:

Siting Important

1. Throughout the development, the houses are placed on sites so that during the hottest part of the day the sun strikes the least vulnerable areas.

2. Thick mineral wool insulation—thicker than required by FHA—is installed in ceilings. The mineral wool blocks penetration of heat that builds up in the attic. Thick mineral wool also is installed in the walls. The builders said that a careful study was made of all possible methods of insulating the houses for air conditioning most economically and comfortably. "We found," says Jacobs, "that this could be accomplished best at the least possible cost with mineral wool."

Roofs Reflect Heat

3. Light-color roofs of asphalt shingles, including many whites and pastels, reflect heat without glare. Jacobs says the asphalt shingles also "enabled us to produce a lower pitched roof, making a major contribution to the architectural effect," and that

"light colors definitely contribute to the overall heat control, resulting in a lesser air-conditioning load. Research has shown us that asphalt shingles provide the best roof."

Horizontal windows of ponderosa pine made it possible to shade glass areas during the hottest time of the day with wide roof overhangs. Jacobs points out that "among the many advantages of wood windows is the better insulation of the frame and sash and the tighter seal, contributing to the more economical air conditioning layout. These windows of ponderosa pine are guaranteed for the life of the house.

How are Dallas home-buyers reacting to the new "Accent" development? At last report, nearly 700 homes were sold in the first three weeks they were offered.

World Famous Writer Outlines Need For Fearless Free Press

TALLAHASSEE, FLA.—Home town America's newspapers are the last bulwark against the ever-increasing loss of freedom, Philip Wylie, internationally famous author, tells Pat and Bill Derus, right, pictured here following a talk at an annual scholastics award dinner at Florida State University. Derus heads a Chicago news feature syndicate servicing more than 6,000 newspapers.

Ricky, left, who helped initiate an unofficial much-publicized 1956 world air trip that resulted in a best selling volume "The Innocent Ambassadors" hears her husband outline the steps by which the large daily press is losing its freedom as emphasis increases on money making, and less attention is given to free reporting of the news. Another Wylie book, "Generation of Vipers" published in 1942 was annotated this year and reissued by popular demand because of its amazingly accurate predictions of world events and Wylie's uncanny insight into human behavior and its influence in shaping the greatest issues of modern times. It is so thought provoking it is required reading in many colleges.

Objective of too many big city newspapers is not to give the news, but to peddle the most saleable details of daily events, Wylie said. Press associations all over the world are busy sending in stories to fill front pages designed mainly to sell issues packed with stories to feed morbid, shock-hungry readers. Factual news and editorial comment are outweighed ten to one by intimate and insignificant happenings of questionable value in the entertainment world and sports, he added.

It thus falls to the smaller newspapers to prevent complete loss of freedom's franchise, which they can lose as a trolley line loses its franchise when it's not used, Wylie continued. By accurate news reporting and elimination of slanting or coloring, editors of these papers can do the job their metropolitan counterparts are shirking. Every newspaper can be courageous and free, he said, only if its editor or publisher crusades for something that enables the publication to exercise its right to free expression and molds public opinion thru true accounts of actual events.

Emphasis on worth of the classroom over the gymnasium or gridiron is a primary need, Wylie asserted. Newspapers playing up to circulation sales demands, have sabotaged the United States by loading up our educational institutions with muscle men, turning our universities into entertainment centers, rather than focal points of learning.

Cheating and dishonesty in class work and tests has been encouraged by the knowledge that an athletic star commands more attention and respect than exceptional scholastic achievement, Wylie complained. This accounts for Russia's present gains against us in the race in science and research. In Russia, sports are purely professional and have no connection with scholarship. There is no amateur in the Soviet Union. Excellence in athletic ability is completely subsidized. People are constantly screened for what they can do, not what they want to do. Then they are assigned to work without regard to their feelings, as everything is state ordered. This can be prevented here by an alert press, Wylie concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. (Runt) Swinney moved here from Ft. Sumner, New Mexico, last week. Mr. Swinney is now manager of the Barrell Ranch located northeast of Silverton. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne (Bud) Vaughan went to Ft. Sumner on Tuesday of last week to assist her parents in moving.

Mrs. J. E. Vaughan is spending a few days in Hollis, Oklahoma, with her mother, Mrs. Johnson, while Mr. Johnson is enjoying a vacation in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Scarborough, of Quannah, came Sunday to take home her baby, Deborah Ann, who had spent last week here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin and family. Carolyn Martin, who works in Lubbock, was also a week end guest of her parents, the Martins.

Dr. and Mrs. L. W. McClendon and Max, of Childress, visited Mrs. T. C. Bomar Sunday afternoon. The ladies are sisters and the McClendons grew up here.

Kathy Boyter, of Plainview spent Monday night and Tuesday of last week with her cousins, Nancy Kay and Nicky Long. Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Boyter came for their daughter Tuesday evening and were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Long.

Carol D. Davis spent the week end here; he had been attending R.O.T.C. camp in Camp Polk, Arkansas, the past two weeks. Mrs. Davis and Alex had been visiting relatives here while he was away. They returned to their home in Hart on Sunday.

James B. Cox, successful young Swisher County farmer, says: "By side dressing my cotton with 80 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia the latter part of June, we picked an average of 2 1/4 bales of lint per acre."

"I also averaged 5200 pounds per acre of market grain, after applying 130 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia. I am putting down 400 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia on my cotton this year, and 140 pounds on my maize."

Other successful southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain or castings are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Let's Go Fishin'
 BY BUCK ROGERS

A fellow joined the gang at the local tackle store the other day and announced that he recently caught a nice bass. "How big?" was the immediate question. "Measured 44 inches," the angler said proudly.

Nobody said a word for several minutes, because we were trying to figure out how much a bass that long would weigh. The resulting interpolation was impossible. A bass that large just didn't exist.

water fish didn't flush when an outboard went by, but frequently rose to nibble at the bubbles left in the propeller's wake. To all intents and purposes, outboards didn't frighten fish. But, there are exceptions to every rule, so I checked with the Mercury outboard people for a straight answer. And, they gave me one — the first practical solution to a question that has been bothering anglers for years.

For the most part, they said that the sound waves created by an outboard prop do not frighten fish in deep or murky water. Under such conditions both fresh water and salt water gamesters may even be attracted to it. But, the Mercury outboard makers pointed out that fish in shallow water are a different situation. Bonefish or tarpon, feeding on shallow tropical flats, are a typical example. These fish will flush at the splash of a push pole or at the slight shadow of a flyline hovering over them. So, it stands to reason that an outboard will frighten them also. Don't hesitate to use your outboard for fishing. Trawl with it, and set it idle you along a shore or weed bed for casting. But, don't come tearing into a shallow bay and expect the fish not to know you're around. Throttle down, let your wake settle, and then commence fishing with your motor.

COLOR IN LURES
 Most of the claims concerning the importance of color in lures is propaganda designed to sell 'em at $1.35 per.

In reality, most fish are color blind. They see light and dark, and can distinguish between a few colors. But, they aren't as color conscious as we are.

Color is of little importance in surface lures since fish see only a shadowy shape. I prefer black most of the time, but sometimes a white lure works best on a bright day.

In underwater lures, color has more significance, but it has never been proven which hue fish prefer. So, as a general rule of thumb, stick to the natural colors of the baits your lures are supposed to imitate—white, silver, and yellow for minnows, and a dark color for crawfish, etc.

After all, who ever saw a pink and blue crawdad.

If you have any questions concerning fishing techniques, equipment, or where-to-go, write Buck Rogers in care of this paper.

CALLED OF GOD

Christians are a people called and chosen of God (1 Corinthians 1:9; Ephesians 1:4). Yet they are not called miraculously. They are called by the gospel (2 Thessalonians 2:14). The gospel call is the ever-extended invitation of the Lord to obey Him. Those who hear it and accept it are "chosen." Every sinner is invited (Matt. 11:28). Every sinner can become one of God's chosen people by accepting the invitation.

From the beginning God purposed to have a class of people who would belong to Him (Ephesians 1:4). This class is made up of all who will accept His invitation (Revelation 22:17). All can accept it but comparatively few do (Matthew 22:14). Those who do become God's chosen people.

During Bible times God sometimes miraculously called men as He did Samuel and Moses. However, this was before the Bible was completed and in order to make His will known. God's word is now able to furnish us completely unto every good work, that is direct us to do every good work for which we have the talent and privilege (2 Timothy 3:16-17). This includes preaching. No one today should expect a miraculous call to preach. It isn't promised.

Then by what authority do men have a right to preach God's word today? By the same authority that every Christian has a right to do "personal work" or any other kind of religious work. There should be no more of a miraculous call expected today to serve God as a preacher than would be expected to serve Him as a deacon or as an elder or for that matter as a Christian.

No one need wait for a miraculous directive to serve God where he sees the need and is fitted for the task whether it be preaching or waiting on the sick. Paul told Timothy to teach faithful men that they might teach others (2 Timothy 2:2).

Faithful, capable men have a right to preach just as faithful, capable brethren have a right to serve in other capacities. Having the talent and opportunity and seeing the need is sufficient to go to work for the Lord.

BANGS DISEASE LAW IS ESTABLISHED IN TEXAS

This week an official notice will be posted in the Briscoe County Courthouse that under the provisions of an act of the Texas Legislature passed this term, that a Brucellosis or Bangs disease of cattle law has been established in Texas that provides for the effective control and eradication of "Bangs" disease from Texas and any subdivision.

This notice calls for a State Wide public hearing to be held at Fort Worth, Texas, the 6th of July. The Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas will conduct the hearing and will set forth the rules and regulations which the "New Act" will be carried out. Mr. W. E. Schott, Jr. of Silverton, has been officially notified that he will post the new law and the provisions for a hearing.

County Agent Robert Ledbetter said that the provisions of the new law would affect cow men of this county in this manner: A petition to the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas to make this county or a larger contiguous area of adjoining counties a "County Brucellosis Control Area" could be made. This petition must contain 75% of the livestock owners who own 51% of the cattle in the area.

Proper hearings would then be held. After hearings the county or area would then begin either of two programs to make the designated area a "Certified Brucellosis Free Area."

Type I. Program would be one of having all female calves vaccinated in the area under provisions that the Livestock Sanitary Commission would set forth. Vaccination would be the responsibility of the owners in the area.

Type II. Program would be one of conducting test, vaccinations, and other practices by the Commission, until that not more than 15 of the cattle and 5% of the herds are positive to the official agglutination test, exclusive of spayed heifers.

County Agent Ledbetter said that after talking to a number of ranchers last week, every one of them was ready to begin such a program to insure the continued orderly flow of steer calves that the area is famous for into the trade channels that we are accustomed to. Over the nation Texas ranchers and dairymen were beginning to feel the pinch of discrimination against their cattle because of poor bangs control in the state.

The new law provides for an orderly and workable solution to the bangs problem in Texas.

For further information, ranchers and dairymen should read their newspapers and magazines and should be ready to begin such a program in the near future. Any further questions should be taken to the County Agent's office.
