All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

Happy St. Patrick's Day to you and all. Hope you're enjoying wearin' o' the green! The Feast Day of Saint Patrick is March 17. Annually, a big celebration is held in some cities. The Golden Spread, of Shamrock is one. The city look forward to St. Patrick's the whole year round there.

Patrick was the son of an official, and probably lived in Severn. He was captured and taken to Ireland as a slave. He escaped to Gaul, studied law, was consecrated a bishop and returned to Ireland as a missionary. Although data is conflicting and partly legendary, it is held as fact that he evangelized Ireland, founded churches, schools, and preached to the people. He was the first to organize the church in Ireland and establish it on enduring foundations. He is called the Apostle of Ireland.

interesting note we picked up this week is that 1,109 people pay taxes in Briscoe County this year. This is the most qualified the county has boasted in a number of years!

TREE AND WINDBREAK WORK BEING PLANNED IN COUNTY

Taking advantage of excellent moisture conditions, Merle McMurry and his father, E. D., are planning a tree windbreak for livestock protection and wildlife. This windbreak will be set in a 970 acre pasture north of McMurry's headquarters near San Jacinto. At present, this pasture has no trees or other protection for livestock at all. McMurry recalls losing livestock, especially calves, in severe weather in the past. He feels that the small cost of installing the windbreak, can be paid for by saving one calf.

It has been shown that cattle will come through the winter at least thirty pounds per head heavier where they have windbreak protection, than where they do not. Most will recall that in the severe storm of 1957, thousands of grown cattle were lost in the Panhandle in addition to calves. The McMurrys are locating their windbreak just below a windmill, where excess water can be utilized by the trees. The windbreak will start out in an east-west direction and run two hundred feet. It will then turn southwest for another two hundred feet. It will contain five rows of trees. The first row on the north and west will be salt cedar, the second row Arizona cypress, the third Chinese Arborvitae, the fourth Russian mulberry and the fifth the salt cedar again. Notice that two rows, Arizona cypress and Chinese Arborvitae, are evergreens. With the taller trees attaining a height of up to 35 feet, livestock will have protection as much as 400 feet from the windbreak. Others interested in a windbreak similar to the one McMurry is putting in, may contact the S.C.S. office for assistance in planning and methods of installing.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Rhoderick and children of Lubbock, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rhoderick, Sr. Other guests on Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rhoderick and Eddie of Plainview, and Mrs. C. N. Johnson and daughters of Quitaque.

DISTRICT CONTEST PLAY TO BE PRESENTED TONIGHT

The One-Act Play which is to be entered in District Competition from Silvertown High School, will be presented to the public Thursday night, March 17 at 7:30. The play is "The White Dove" with the following cast: Old Gonzales, a crippled ex-bullfighter, Jim Smith; Juan Harpo, a young matador, determined, strangely intense, Joe Anderson; Maria, Juan's wife, possessing strong emotions, Toni Rhode; Mama Rosa, Juan's mother, direct, seemingly happy, Doris Estes; Peasant Men, Julio Soto and Joe Patino. Lighting will be by Bobby Stafford and Sound Effects by Ann Wingo. Price of admission is 25c for all. This play is presented by special arrangement with Row, Peterson & Co. of Evanston, Illinois and White Plains, New York. The Eighth Grade girls will sing before the play. Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Bynum, Snyder, visited with Rev. and Mrs. Frank Story Friday, March 11.

Ray Thompson is shown above helping serve the crowd of approximately 550, who turned out for John Deere Day this year. Attendance is reported to have been even greater than last year, which was considered quite a success. Door prizes were won by: Mrs. W. Hamilton (G. E. Hand Mixer); Mrs. Clifton Stodghill (Kitchen Stool); Mrs. W. S. Hudson (Bath-room Scales); Loyd Deavenport, Fred McDermitt, Bill Long (Each case of Wanda Grease and Load-a-matic Gun). BASIC TRAINING SESSION HELD HERE

District-Wide Basic Training for all cub scout leaders, den mothers, and committemen was held Sunday afternoon, March 13, in the Methodist Church. The meeting was under the direction of John F. McDonough, Assistant District Commissioner. Lectures were given, and films were shown to better acquaint the leaders to their responsibilities toward the cub dens and packs.

Those attending were Glen O'Neil and John Shropshire of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Norville Birdwell and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Singer of Dimmitt, Mrs. Henry Bollman, Mrs. Jimmy Hodel, Mrs. Lena White, Mrs. J. N. Tye, Mrs. Joe Stone and Robert McDonald, of Lockney, Kenneth Tate, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby McDaniel, Mrs. Bill Long, Mrs. Jack Strange, Mrs. Dee McWilliams, and Mrs. Charles Whitfill, all of Silvertown, and the speaker, Mr. McDonough of Plainview.

A reminder that the Cub Scouts have their monthly meeting the last Monday in every month. The meetings are held in the basement of the Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. An excellent opportunity to sign up any boy between the ages of 8 and 11. Every boy loves scouting—let's give them the chance. All cub parents, leaders, and interested people are welcome to these monthly meetings.

QUITAQUE BAPTIST REVIVAL TO BEGIN SUNDAY

Quitaque Baptists begin their spring revival Sunday, with Dr. J. P. McBeth preaching. The meeting will have services twice daily, at 10:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Morning services begin Tuesday. Dr. McBeth is a full-time evangelist. Best-known as a Bible teacher, he is also a former pastor

QUITAQUE F. F. A. AND 4-H LIVESTOCK SHOW HELD

The Quitaque F.F.A. and 4-H Club show was held in Quitaque, Texas, on Saturday, March 12, 1960. This show is sponsored by the Quitaque Junior Livestock Show Association. The Judge for this show was Tom H. Seay, a teacher of Vocational Agriculture in Estelline, Texas. The ribbons and prize money was presented to the boys by the Quitaque F.F.A. Sweetheart, Miss Willie Mae Woods.

There was a total of eight head of calves entered in the show. Six of these calves were dry lot fed club calves, and the other two calves were commercial fed calves. There was a total of thirty head of swine entered in this show. The grand champion dry lot fed calf was owned by Robert Phelps. This animal was sold to the livestock sale Saturday afternoon; it brought 40c per pound and it weighed 940 pounds. This calf was purchased by Ross Herrington, manager of the Paymaster Gin in Quitaque.

The reserve champion was owned and shown by Warren Lee Merrell and this calf did not sell as they plan to take it to the Lubbock Stock Show. The third place calf was owned by Ray Gene Hutcheson. This animal was sold to the First National Bank, Quitaque, Texas, for 36.25 cents per pound and it weighed 880 pounds. The commercial calf showed by Lee McDonald sold for 26.50c per pound and weighed 520 pounds. This calf was purchased by Ray Persons of Quitaque.

In the swine show, Lyn McDonald owned both the grand champion barrow and gilt. Lonnie Cagle had the reserve champion gilt. The reserve champion barrow was owned by Dwayne Smith. In the barrow sale, the grand champion weighed 186 pounds and sold for 42c per pound. This animal was purchased by Orb Payne. The reserve champion weighed 260 pounds and sold for 35c per pound and was purchased by the Farmers Co-op Gin.

Others who bought animals in the hog sale included City Grocery and Market, Merrell Food, Denver Anderson, Paymaster Gin, and the First National Bank. To the many others who bid, but didn't get any of the animals, we wish to say "thanks!" and that we appreciate the help they gave us. The Word of God plain and simple! The Quitaque church wants to extend a cordial invitation to Briscoe County friends to join them in praying for and attending this revival. George Owens will lead the singing, Mrs. A. E. Gragson will play the piano, and Mrs. Bob Ham will play the organ. Monday night the church's chapel choir, directed by Mrs. O. R. Stark, Jr., will have special music.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church of which she was a member on March 16, at 2:00 p.m. with Rev. G. A. Elrod officiating, assisted by Earl Cantwell, Church of Christ minister. Active pall bearers were R.L.O. (Rags) Riddell, Albert Mallow, Virgil Crow, George Seaney, Hugh Nance, and Hank Brown. Honorary pall bearers were Ray C. Bomar, S. P. Brown, A. D. Arnold, Bud McMinn, Paul Ledbetter, J. E. Wheelock, and Marvin Montague. Burial will be in the Itasca Cemetery at Itasca, Texas, this afternoon, March 17. Arrangements are by Roberts Funeral Home of Silvertown, Texas.

Survivors include one son, Earl London, Corpus Christi; four daughters, Mrs. Viola Sanders, Corsicana, Mrs. Grace Keele, Silvertown, Mrs. Blanche Wilson, Itasca, Mrs. Letha Lanham, Silvertown; one brother, Henry Kimmons, Albuquerque; one sister, Mrs. C. O. Southward, Ralls; thirteen grandchildren and several great grandchildren. and an author. His works include a classic commentary on the Book of Romans and sermons entitled, "Origin of the Devil and the Battle of the Ages" and "Inspiration of the Scriptures." Since the first of February, Dr. McBeth has held revival meetings in Dallas, Oklahoma City, and El Paso, with an engagement in Clovis this week before coming to Quitaque. Pastor Bob Beck told the congregation recently of a friend of his who jokingly advised, "Get your people ready. Dr. McBeth will step on some toes. He just preach-

RODEO

At The University of Arizona
by J. M. (Corkey) Garner

Ed. Note: This is an article which appeared in the March, 1960, issue of 'Hoofs and Horns' Magazine. It was written by Silvertown's own Corkey Garner, who is the current University of Arizona Rodeo boss.

Back in 1941, the first college rodeo using National Inter-Collegiate Rodeo Association rules was held here at the University of Arizona at Tucson. Then it was somewhat different than it is now to have a college rodeo. Now here at the University we have a six-man rodeo team. In order for any of these men to compete, they must be carrying at least 12 units; they must have had a 3.0 average during their past semester; and they must be enrolled in Rodeo Physical Education.

Rodeo P. E. was first introduced at the U. of A. a year ago on a trial basis. We believe it a "must" for rodeo to be classified as a sport and for the boys to keep in good physical condition to compete. The P. E. Department here has given their full cooperation and it has worked with great success. Our boys work out three times a week in the gym and on the track under supervision. This prepares them for most any rodeo event. The recognized NIRA events are saddle bronc riding, calf roping, bareback bronc riding, bull riding, ribbon roping, bulldogging, girls' barrel racing and girls' goat tying.

We are in the Pacific Coast Region and try to send a team to all the rodeos in our region. This past season we only missed two; one because it was 2,000 miles away, and the other because it conflicted with another NIRA show.

Last year we had one boy and three girls who made the finals. Mickey McCarty made it on total points and the girls were Marty Lehmann in barrel racing, Patty Weech in goat tying, and Karen Reynolds in total points. Karen had to go from Douglas, Wyoming, her home, to Klamath Falls, Oregon, where the National Inter-Collegiate Rodeo Finals were held this year. The finals were during the Fourth of July celebration. The NIRA convention was held there at the same time.

Last spring the Rodeo Club held its election for the coming year. I was elected president and Rodeo Boss for the 1960 season. I make my home in and around Silvertown, Texas, during the summer and at the University during the winter.

The vice-president is Bill Perkins from Sheridan, Wyoming. Bill is one of the up-and-coming cowboys in college rodeo. Our secretary is from Redwing, Colorado. Her name is Jocelyn McAlpine and she is quite a personality in the cutting horse world. Treasurer is Beulah Morton from Ajo, Arizona. NIRA reporter is Gerry Bishop, an RCA cowboy from Tucson. Business manager for the rodeo is Harry Kruse from Cashion, Arizona. Our Rodeo Club and team also have an advisor, Dr. Bill Van-Arsdale, who devotes nearly all his free time to the club, the team and the rodeo sport in general.

Down here we don't rodeo just during the spring, but try to get to as many shows as we can on our own time during the fall and winter. Nearly everyone expects to get bucked off a bull or horse or see his calf run off down the arena and hear the announcer say "no time." But by the time spring rolls around we feel that we are ready to get down to some serious rodeoing, for then is when the points add up for the finals.

Some of the members of the Rodeo Club bring their horses to school with them. Those who do keep them at private stables at a nominal fee. There are plenty of stables here in Tucson.

We are always looking for good cowboys and cowgirls at the U. of A. If you're interested in getting an education and doing a little rodeoing to boot, we'll be seeing you around the middle of September on the University of Arizona's campus in Tucson. And don't forget our rodeo here at Tucson, April 2 and 3.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

A lot of us got a little slip from our bank or someone telling us to pay tax on our dividends and interest this year. The tax folks know it's awfully easy to forget a little dividend check or interest on savings account. They want you to do a little recollecting on these things come tax filing time. Guess we'll have to pay.

Lorene Long, a student at WTSC, visited Mrs. Clyde Lightsey and Spencer Long and other relatives here from Thursday through Sunday. Lorene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Long, of Maples, who formerly lived here.

It's Tough To Be A Dictionary

by Charles D. Rice

Just the other day, a child of mine asked me: "Do dictionaries ever make mistakes?" "No never," I said, and then added, "well, hardly ever." But I wasn't sure and so I went to take a look, and the first thing I found was that most dictionaries are all wrong on certain points of geography.

Go to your own dictionary and look up Mt. Whitney — you'll probably find it described as the highest mountain in the U. S. But it isn't; Mt. McKinley is the highest now that Alaska has joined up with us. You may find Lassen Peak in the Sierras, described as our only active volcano. But Hawaii, is now a state, and we have scads of volcanoes.

So you can see that dictionary editors are more than normally worried by headlines — even good news can make them jittery. They have enough to contend with in human error alone. In the past few years, three dictionaries have made the following slip-ups: catechism spelled "catachism" recommendable spelled "recommendable" opossum spelled "opposum"

The famed Webster's Unabridged once went a step further and dreamed up a word that didn't mean anything.

The 1936 edition listed "dord" as a scientific term meaning "density." A physicist said he had never heard the word "dord" used, and where did it come from? The editors found the entry had originally gone to the printer for the abbreviations section: "D or d—density." Somehow, the card got mixed into the main section and emerged as the brave, new word "dord."

Jess Stein, of the American College Dictionary, points out that lexicographers have not only headlines and human error to grapple with, but also pressure from readers. Chiropractors demand that the definition of their practice be couched in more elegant terms. The American College lists "McCarthyism" and gives a favorable and an unfavorable definition. So pro-McCarthy readers and anti-McCarthy readers both complain.

Clarence Barnhart, editor of the Thorndike-Barnhart dictionaries, notes that editors suffer many of their headaches over mistakes that almost get into print. His own favorite rite (though he didn't at the time) was a definition "black bear," which he can't find the last moment: "A large black bear with black fur."

Mr. Barnhart has had through sad experience to be especially wary of the illustrations. A former edition of his dictionaries for children had a great deal of eye-catching among parents and with its entry of "skirts" and outer reaches. The illustration was: "Mr. Smith lives in the town." In the edition, it was dropped for tence with less ray over.

There is one illustration tence that must be the eye lexicographers in their moments. The British edition of Universal Dictionary comp illustrate the use of the "damn" with the following ed sentence: "Damn this ary!"

What did I tell my boy child? I said that dictionaries never wrong — well hardly. And anyway, the mistakes to prove that a dictionary man, too!

Mrs. Harvey, nee Billy Donno which I enjoyed the money or the poem. Uncle Claude, Claude News

And I Quote Being of a timid nature, we're not likely to do it, but if we were of a more aggressive type we'd get us a bucketful of "areas" and stick the noses of several news and TV reporters of the plains right down into it and leave them there until they blubbered. How much can a word stand before it cracks under the strain. "Area" must be a tough one to take it so well. —Hamer Steen, Floyd County Hesperian

And I Quote Get a Good Night's Sleep An old doctor listened patiently while the woman in his office explained why she could not sleep at night. The ills of the world frightened her. How could she rest with the whole universe in such a deplorable state? Just think of it! They were not satisfied with the dreadful atom bomb. No. Someone had to build a more horrible hydrogen bomb. Wasn't it bad enough to have small planes flying over our homes? Then why do they have to have them bigger than a house and faster than bullets? And what if flying saucers are real? When she tried not to think about these things, she remembered that there are too many babies in India. And there is too much food in America. And that made her think of the cost of living. She could not afford a new car. But that did not bother her as much as the fact that our highways have become speedways. And on them our young people are driving to the devil as fast as they can. But that is not surprising when you see some women's necklines. How could she sleep? How can anyone sleep?

The old doctor let her talk and talk. All of the time he hoped the world would last long enough for her to finish. Then he gave her a packet of pills and told her this little story.

Some three hundred years ago, a statesman who had some responsibility for world affairs could not sleep either. His wakeful servant saw the lighted candle in his master's bedroom. Knocking softly, he entered and found the man pacing the floor. When the disturbed servant asked what he could do, the statesman shook his head.

"It is the terrific problems of the world that keep me awake. You can do nothing about them."

"Sir," said the humble servant, "Who watched over the world before you came into it?"

"Why, God, of course."

"And sir, will God watch over the world after you have gone from it?"

"Certainly," the statesman answered.

"Then sir, why don't you let Him watch over it just long enough for you to get a good night's sleep?"

And I Quote Moods—Occasional or Habitual? Are you suddenly subject to black moments when you wonder why you were born? Or find yourself blowing up and saying things you later regret? Your temper is unpredictable and hard to control. One day you are on top of the world, the next you're in the depth of despair. When you're feeling fine, you're a delight to everyone around you, but when you're unhappy, you're a holy terror. If this describes you, there are two courses you can take. You can just sit and let your moods keep you depressed and irritable. Or you can find out why those things get out of hand sometimes and what you can do about it. If you're having trouble in school, what seems to be the difficulty? Do you find subjects hard to learn? Pin down the specific problem that's bothering you and then tackle it. Have a talk with your teacher. Tell him of your desire to do better, and ask him for suggestions.

Are you convinced that you're an ugly duckling? Face the facts. There are certain things about yourself you can't change. But make the most of what you've got. Even if you can never be beautiful or handsome, you can be attractive, well-groomed, and well dressed.

What if your friends give you a left-out feeling. Improve your sports (dancing, tennis, etc.). Practice how to tell an amusing story well. Converse interestingly or just be a good listener. Join clubs, volunteer for special projects. Go out for activities.

You can't expect to escape low moods entirely. Everyone has them at times. But it is a mistake to let despondency become a habit or to accept it as part of your personality. By doing something constructive about your black moods, you'll pull yourself out of them. So try substituting action for brooding.

WE NOTICED IN THE PAPER

One of Will Rogers' famous remarks was "all I know is what I read in the papers." Maybe this isn't true of today's generation for people now get information from other news media. But it is true that about all most people know is what they read or see—and reading seems to be the best news media. We read in "Texas Parade" this month that Alice, Texas, way down in South Texas is boasting of a population of over 21,000 and is one of the few small Texas cities with an industrial development area that is getting results. Alice did have a population of nearly 5,000 and that hasn't been too many years ago. Oil, of course, is one thing that has helped push Alice forward. But with the coming of oil Alice seemed to gain momentum in her other resources. The ranching and farming interests have kept pace with oil to where Alice is a substantial, economically sound little city.

We also read in the paper where thirty Texas cities have been approved by the State for aid in making civic improvements, planning for better streets, schools, churches and community development. All of these cities were located in South Texas. Maybe South Texas has something we don't have. Maybe we should investigate.

However, it is certain, towns are being built—they're not just "growing."

Reading about what others are doing and visiting around occasionally to see what they are doing is the best way to "keep up with the Jones" fever. It's awfully easy to get in a rut and fall asleep. That's what Rip Van Winkle did.

And I Quote

Local News reported by MRS. CARL CROW

Mrs. J. E. Vaughan returned home on Thursday after an extended stay with relatives in Hollis, Oklahoma. Her father, D. T. Johnson, returned home with her for a visit. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Smalts and David, of Plainview, were week end visitors with her mother, Mrs. Vaughan.

W. D. Vencil, Jr., of Jayton, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Cook of Hamlin, and Mrs. Virgia Dennis returned home Saturday after having gone to Phoenix, Arizona, where their father, W. D. Vencil, 82, is a patient in a hospital. The elder Mr. Vencil was found in a coma at his home near Phoenix, where he lived alone, on Saturday, March 5. He had been sitting with his legs extended around a lighted heater for such a long time that both his legs were severely burned. When relatives arrived in Phoenix, he had regained consciousness and was able to talk. His burns are responding to treatment and all things considered, he felt he was doing very well and in good hands. He advised his son and daughters to return home and felt that he would be alright. They were advised that he would probably undergo surgery in the near future if it is thought best after he has recovered from the burns.

Mrs. J. E. Oneal is spending a few days in Midland with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Arnold, and daughters. Mrs. R. M. Haverly, of Ada, Oklahoma, arrived here on Friday of last week for a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Long. They were in Lubbock on Friday. Mrs. Roxie Neely of Lubbock, and Mrs. Lowell Bond of Plainview, transacted business here early this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Deene Donnell and family of Canyon and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Donnell and family of Tulia, were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Cora Donnell. Mrs. Agnes Bingham and grandchildren, Patricia and Dwain Giddens, of Amarillo, called in the afternoon. Mrs. Cora Donnell is the mother of Mrs. Bingham and the Messrs. Donnell.

Patricia and Dwain Giddens, of Amarillo spent the week end here with their grandmother, Mrs. Agnes Bingham.

Brubs Bomar has been a patient in the Tulia Hospital since Sunday. He had not been well for sometime before going to the hospital.

E. W. Clifton, of Tulia, has been transferred from the VA Hospital in Amarillo to the VA Hospital in Denver, Colorado, for further examination and treatment. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton and Hope formerly lived here. Mrs. Clifton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Oneal.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Birdwell and children came home from Dallas on Thursday of last week where they have been staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Collins of Snyder. Mr. Collins is in a coma at Methodist Hospital in Dallas and his condition remains unchanged. Mr. Birdwell has gone back to Dallas but Mrs. Birdwell is staying here to keep their daughter in school. Mr. Birdwell's mother has come here from Oklahoma to spend some time with the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mallow and Becky have been recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. George Wayne Rampley and children and other relatives in Roswell. Doug Rampley returned home with them for a visit with them and his other grandmother, Mrs. H. P. Rampley.

APPROVED GOSPEL

But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. As we said before, so say I now again, if any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed." (Galatians 1:8-9).

(1) The gospel preached by Paul and divinely inspired men of the New Testament was the only approved gospel. It consisted of facts to be believed (1 Cor. 15:1-5), commandments to be obeyed (as Mark 16:16), and promises to be received (As Acts 2:38).

(2) This approved gospel was first preached by the Apostles on Pentecost (Acts 2), later in Judea, Samaria and the world (Mark 16:15; Acts 1:8). When Paul wrote to the Galatians he said, "We have preached unto you" (the gospel), and "ye have received." (the gospel).

(3) However, there were other gospels preached then (Gal. 1:6-7). But the "other" gospels were not just as good. There was no substitute. Nor was there a changeable gospel. Those who preached contrary to the truth were accursed (condemned). Honesty, sincerity and education made no difference.

The danger today is little different from the danger in Paul's day. Men are still seeking to cut loose from the Bible. To obey but not to carry on religious work but after man's choosing. This danger is present today largely because of a lack of individual investigation coupled with an unconcern for the truth and an uncompromising prejudice against those who teach the one gospel. And a few through false notion of superior knowledge openly defy the Word and carry on in their own way. All who preach a different gospel come under the condemnation of God.

Too few people really realize the complete program we have in our Homemaking Department under the leadership of Mrs. Buster Miller, our instructor. We learn not only how to cook, but also how to buy groceries wisely with attention to price, weight and quality.

In the clothing field we learn how to dress tastefully and economically. We learn to choose and care for our clothes with an eye for practicality. We are taught garment making from the choosing of pattern and material to the finishing touches of the garment.

In the cultural field, we have luncheons, banquets, salad suppers, showers, style shows, and this year we are adding a Silver Tea to our calendar of events.

The Homemaking Department invites you, the public, to visit us, and evaluate for yourselves the progress the girls of Silverton High School are making in this broad homemaking program.

SENIOR GIRL OF THE WEEK

Nora Mary LaRock

Nora was born on October 5, 1940. She is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Lark Miller. She is 5'3" tall, has brown eyes and brown hair. She moved here from Amarillo when she was in the third grade. She has been a member of the FFA Chapter four years. She played the bass drum for two years in the band and participated in the Junior Play.

Nora enjoys religious music; especially the works of the Blackwood Brothers Quartet. Her plans for the future are to work in a children's or orphan's home.

A wonderful sense of humor and the ability to make people like her, makes Nora a wonderful person.

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

At a meeting earlier this year, the mothers of the members of the Junior Class expressed a desire to feed the Lions Club at the first opportunity afforded them. The class has been notified that they may feed the organization on Ladies Night, March 31.

Plans are underway and tickets are being sold in advance in order that the proper amount of food may be prepared. Members of the class plan to visit Lions Club on Thursday of this week. If you are planning to attend on March 31, and have not been contacted for a ticket, call Mrs. Rampley at the High School.

We especially want this to be a profitable venture for the class, because the proceeds will help pay for the Junior and Senior Banquet that is coming up soon.

F.H.A. NEWS

The Silverton FFA Chapter is very happy to have two girls to work on their State Degrees this year. They are Toni Rhode and Doris Estes.

The Chapter may send two delegates and two girls who are working on their state degrees to the State Meeting. The State FFA Meeting will be held in Austin April 29-30.

Please help the Chapter pay their expenses by participating in the forthcoming bake sales. There will be three, the first one this Saturday, March 19, in Nance's Food Store. The sale will begin at 9:00 a.m. Please watch the OWL'S HOOT for information concerning the others. There will be pies, cakes, cookies, brownies, etc.

FEUDS AND FISTICUFFS

by Jerry Williamson

Let's choose sides, get out the shooting irons, draw a line down the middle of the hall, and feud! That's exactly what some people do; feud — pout — and feud some more. Like little children, they sulk until they have had their own way or got something changed in their favor.

For babies or for adults, feuds are infantile, childish acts, fit to be carried on only by backwoodsman who know no better way to settle their petty whim. (If you happen to notice anyone suffering from excruciating pains, you'll know that the truth hurts them.)

Probably just a little more perverse are fisticuffs. One good thing about fisticuffs—they are not limited to the male sex. Even women and girls seem to enjoy a little slapping and hair pulling.

Even an occasional "battle royal" is not good. These childish shows of anger accomplish little, except perhaps a wee bit of blood letting or a scratched face. But the greatest injury is usually to the pride.

If people insist on these little battles, we should mark off a ring, hire a referee, and charge admission to the fights. A grand way to make money and settle differences at the same time!

SENIOR BOY OF THE WEEK

LARRY DWANE WALLACE

Larry Wallace was born on November 28, 1941. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dock Wallace of Silverton. Although he was almost seven years of age when he started to school, he began to strive for the higher achievements. When Larry was in the fourth grade he moved to Yates Center, Kansas. Four years later he returned to Silverton to continue his education.

After graduation, Larry wants to work at farming or ranching before he continues his education in the higher schools: college.

During his years in high school, he was a member of the FFA Chapter and the Explorers.

Students Take Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test

Twelve students at Silverton High School took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. O. C. Rampley, Principal, administered the test at the high school on Tuesday, March 8, from 9:00 to 12:00 a.m.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test is a three-hour measure of educational development and college aptitude. Emphasis is on broad intellectual skills, and on understanding and ability to use what can be learned, rather than on sheer knowledge of facts.

The test is the first step in the sixth annual competition for Merit Scholarships provided by some 100 corporations, foundations, professional societies and individuals, as well as by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself. Over $15,000,000 has been awarded in the first four years of the program.

For students taking the test on March 8, results will be reported before the end of the spring semester. The scores may be used in many high schools to help students make decisions about college and the most appropriate courses in which to major. Many students throughout the country who do not expect to win, have registered for the test in order to learn more about their individual strengths and weaknesses.

Some 10,000 Semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, will be named early next fall. Names of Semifinalists are published in a booklet which is widely distributed among colleges and other scholarship agencies.

Each Semifinalist will be asked to take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance in the second examination will become finalists in the Merit program. Winners of Merit Scholarships will be selected from this group of finalists on the basis of school records and recommendations, test scores, extracurricular and outside-of-school interest and accomplishments, and other indications of future promise. Each finalist in addition to being considered for a Merit Scholarship is awarded a Certificate of Merit attesting to his outstanding performance.

Four-year scholarships are awarded to the winners with stipends depending on financial need. Minimum award in 1961 will be $100, the maximum will be $1,500. The average stipend in 1959 was $743. Supplementary cost-of-education grants are usually made to the colleges and universities which the Scholars attend.

An additional 25,000 students selected without regard to state quotas are awarded letters commending them for their superior performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. These students are asked to complete brief personal data cards and are considered for special awards made through the facilities of NMCS. Names, along with test scores of both Semifinalists and the students in the commended group, will be sent without charge to the colleges indicated as either a first or second choice by the participant.

The National Merit Scholarship Program is a nationwide search for students who demonstrate extraordinary ability to benefit from a college education. More than a million and a half high school students have participated in the Merit Program, and in the fall of 1959 more than 3,100 Merit Scholars were enrolled in nearly 400 colleges and universities in the United States.

We are going to miss Richard Stephens. He has moved to Amarillo. We hope his new teacher and friends learn to love this little boy with such a happy smile and good disposition as much as we do.

The further we go in our science book, the more interesting it becomes. We are reading about seeds and plants now. We are collecting seeds and noticing the different sizes and shapes of seeds. Gail Anderson brought some bean seeds that were beginning to grow for us to look at. We will plant some different kinds of seeds and see what the plants look like. We are also watching to see if Jimmy McWilliams' potato eyes we planted will make a potato plant.

SECOND GRADE Mrs. Bomar

In the Teacher's Edition of our "Weekly Reader" we find this letter which we would like to pass on to you.

HOW PARENTS CAN HELP A CHILD SUCCEED IN SCHOOL
Gruenberg said, "When we stop to consider how much knowledge and how many skills a child acquires in his first five years, we can see what effective teachers parents are, whether or not they intend to be."

Parents help a child succeed in school when they:

Use clear, correct speech. "Baby talk" and careless speech hamper reading, writing and spelling. A child must hear the right sounds and associate them with the right letters.

Give him rich experiences. What a child learns in school depends in part, on the extent of the related experiences he brings to school. depends, in part, on the extent of the related experiences he brings to school. Listening-and-look walks, trips to the zoos, parks, shopping centers, libraries, fairs, and farms are sources of good experiences.

Read to him and listen to him read Children who are read to and who read to others have larger vocabularies, more information and clearer concepts than do other children.

Stimulate his imagination. Begin simple stories and let the child suggest what may happen next.

Teach him to observe. Learning to detect likenesses and differences is an important step in learning to read and spell. Encourage a child to note the likenesses and differences in such things as flowers, houses, animals.

Answer his questions. Adults should realize that the inquisitive child is not trying to be a nuisance. He is merely trying to satisfy a vital need to know and learn about his world.

Set an example. Children are small mirrors of the homes from which they come. Parents should set an example of the speech, behavior, and values they want to see reflected in their child.

Develop his self confidence. The timid, fearful child is a reluctant learner. Parents can give him small tasks and help develop his self-confidence.

Listen to him learn. A child's small talk tells a parent a great deal about his ideas, information, vocabulary and values.

MISTAKES ARE EVERYWHERE—even in you

How many mistakes do you make every day? It's certain you make several, major ones and minor ones also.

Everyone makes mistakes in all walks of life. Mistakes are present everywhere; they are not new to anyone.

But what do you feel when you make a mistake? Chances are, you feel ruined for life and wish you could live that part of your life over. Is this really the solution to your problem? Should one mistake ruin your outlook on this phase of life?

Mistakes are here to acquaint you with life and to teach you its lessons. How many times do you think back to a mistake just before doing the same thing again? Mistakes bring experience and will help you or others later.

What would life be without mistakes? "Wonderful!" you say. But no, life would be smooth sailing, yet very boring. It stimulates your alertness to make mistakes and makes you more aware of a mistake coming.

Many people don't think much of mistakes. They hide and shield them from public eyes. Is this gaining experience? The bravest part of making a mistake is admitting how wrong you are. After the first brave attempt at admitting a mistake, the others come easier and so will the respect handed to you from both friends and enemies.

Mistakes are all in all, a blessing so you see. It seems strange that so much can be gained from even the most horrible mistakes, but it is true. Next time you make a mistake don't become embarrassed and hide from it. Hold your head higher and admit the extent of your wrong, and you will carry for the rest of your life the privilege of knowledge and experience hard-gained. You will find this easy to keep with you always.

Albert M. Bishop returned here early last week after having been a patient in the Veteran's Hospital in Big Springs. He is a brother of Mrs. Charlie Cooper and Lois Bishop and has been making his home here with them and Mr. Cooper for sometime.

Many Parents Visit Silverton Schools

We had 91 parents to our school during Public School Week. Most of them attended the day that they visited and after visited classrooms before after noon. We hope that each of you felt welcome and want you to know that we were glad to have each one of you. Come visit us again.

You who did not come during the special week, make plans to visit some other time. We would like to have you any time.

High Plains Test Safflower

Safflower will be tested at the High Plains Research Foundation this year in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture as a part of the Foundation's program to develop new crops for the area.

Five varieties were used in 1959 tests at Halfway. Heavy frost on June 22, 1959, damaged the crop so severely that the tests had to be abandoned. There is possibility that a variety called "A 5731," developed at the area, Dr. Earl Collier, Chief Agronomist, said in announcing acceptance of the request of the U.S.D.A. and farmers in the area for further research on the safflower test of its kind to be tested are being supported by Dr. Lester N. Leiminger, Search Agronomist, of the Agricultural Research Service at the State University.

The eight varieties to be tested in the test are U.S. 10, N-10, N14054, N-4055, Gila, A 5731. Three of these varieties were included in the 1959 test program at Halfway.

Explorer Post 64 Hold Meeting

Last Saturday, March 12, the local Explorer Post of Quitague journeyed to Lubbock to the Boy Scout Exposition. After arriving in Lubbock, we proceeded to the Municipal Coliseum where the exposition was to be held. After decorating our booth, we began to put up our display, which consisted of two kayaks which we had built.

The hard work that went into building these boats was paid in full Saturday afternoon by the crowds of people who were continually around our booth asking questions. We returned home with a blue ribbon Saturday night and a feeling of pride.

The next day, Sunday, March 13, at 12:30 we left for Silvertown, where we engaged in a four-hour training session. After four hours of studying, we returned to Quitague with a better knowledge of how the Explorer Post should be run.

Funeral Service Held For Mrs. Frances Loana Ashby

Services for Mrs. Frances Loana Ashby were held Friday, March 4, at 1:00 p.m. in Willard, Missouri. She was born May 19, 1877, near Jamestown, Arkansas. She married D. H. Ashby in the fall of 1898, and to this union was born 8 children, seven of whom are living. Her husband passed away in 1941. They were both converted and joined the Baptist Church at the same time.

She is survived by three sons, W. W. and R. L. of Walnut Grove, A. F., Morrisville; four daughters, Mrs. Altha Bilyeu, Springfield, Mo., Mrs. Orpha Hartsell, Willard, Mrs. Bertha Mace, Crocker, and Mrs. Repha Schmittou, Kansas City.

Three brothers and three sisters also survive, Ray Wilson, Zona Askew, Fina Smith, Norma Potter, all of Valley Springs, Ark., Ewing Wilson of Waco and Otis Wilson of Quitague.

She had 7 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren.

Those visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Wes Harvey were their granddaughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Wheeler and family and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith, all of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Chandler of Madill, Oklahoma, were visiting with relatives and friends the first of last week.

Mr. G. H. Wagon, who is a patient in the Veteran's Hospital at Amarillo, came home Sunday to visit his son, J. C., who was returned home from Stanley Hospital at Matador the first of the week. J. C. is recovering from a heart attack. Mr. and Mrs. Ewert Wamack and family of Amarillo were also visiting in the home of her parents.

Moisture Makes Nitrogen Application Favorable Here

Especially good moisture conditions this spring makes the application of a top dressing of nitrogen to wheat look attractive. This practice can pay good dividends where ample moisture is available for the crop. Recent recommendations from the soil testing laboratory indicate that a top dressing of 20 to 30 pounds of actual nitrogen would be desirable. This is especially true in the mixed soils below the Cap Rock.

If this practice is followed, wheat should be fertilized within the next few days to get the maximum benefits.

Some wheat growers are beginning to see winter weeds in their crop. These little weeds will draw from 7 to 14 times as much moisture as comparable wheat will. They can be killed with an application of 24-D. Day temperatures should be over 55 degrees when 24-D is applied.

Bomar on Sunday in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Rex Long, Nea Gaylia Bomar.

Mrs. Lela Kellum came home from the Lockney General Hospital on Sunday after having been a patient there since Wednesday of last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Travis McMinn, Debbie and Dudley, of Wichita Falls, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud McMinn, on Friday and Saturday.

Chapel Choir Sings

The Chapel Choir of First Baptist Church, Quitague, Texas, met at its regular meeting time, 5:00 p.m. Sunday, March 13, 1960. Among the songs practiced were "Abide With Me," "Teach Me, Oh Lord, to Pray," and "Revive Us Again."

Our revival begins next Sunday, March 20, and the Chapel Choir will sing Monday night. Please be present next Sunday afternoon because we need your voice! What a wonderful blessing you will receive in praising Our Heavenly Father!

Mr. and Mrs. Berton Hughes, Robert and Randy and Jerry Williams were in Amarillo last Friday. Berton went for a check up on recent nose surgery and was advised that he is doing satisfactorily.

Mmes. A. L. McMurtry and Dean Allard have been in Turkey two or three mornings this week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Briley are returning this week to their home at Grapevine. Mr. Briley has been working here the past several weeks on the repair of the tunnel.

NEWS FROM THE CHURCH OF CHRIST

Lester Monk spoke at both morning and evening services. The revival has been called off due to conflicts, and will begin April 3 and continue through April 18. Tommie Williams of Turkey will be the preacher during the revival.

Opal Brummett, of Quitague, visited Mrs. L. C. Yates one afternoon last week.

Mmes. Charles Gowin and J.W. Lyon, Sr., of Quitague, visited Mrs. J. C. Rhoderick, Sr. Monday afternoon.

Miss Mary Ellen McCracken visited the past week with her sister, Mrs. E. D. Richmond, of Turkey.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Gragson and children visited Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Gragson. Rex Johnson of Flomot also visited with the Gragsons.

Ray Don King and friend, Bernie Myers, spent the week end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Morris. The boys are attending school at Hardin-Simmons in Abilene.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS STUDY CLUB CHOOSES VOGUE PATTERN CONTESTANT

The Century of Progress Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Pat Northcutt on March 9, with Mrs. L. D. Griffin serving as co-hostess.

This was the Texas Day program that is annually observed by the club. The topic of study was entitled "Coronado's Route Across the Staked Plains." Mrs. James Davis and Mrs. O. C. Rampley, substituting for Mrs. Jack Strange, presented the program.

The feature of the meeting was the modeling of garments made by two members of the club to be entered in the 1960 Vogue Pattern contest. Mrs. Buster Miller and Mrs. Gene Morris were the contestants.

Mrs. Morris modeled a complete ensemble of marigold. The material was a blend of rayon and cotton hopsacking. She wore a box jacket with a matching slim skirt and stole. Her blouse of rayon blended perfectly with the other pieces. A gold flower with a touch of orange was very attractive on the jacket. Mrs. Morris wore a straw sailor hat, matching bag, gloves and shoes.

Mrs. Miller modeled a one-piece dress with matching jacket, made from a navy blue fabric. The material was a blend of cotton silk and rayon. The jacket was lined with red cotton, and the dress was completely lined with navy blue rayon. Her navy blue straw hat was trimmed with the same red material as the lining of the jacket. She wore a white pearl pin and earrings, and carried navy blue gloves. Her pattern was a Paris Original.

After much discussion and hesitation, the members of the Century of Progress Study Club chose Mrs. Morris to represent them at Lubbock in the District Vogue Pattern Contest.

Those present for the meeting were Mrs. O. C. Rampley, Mrs. James Davis, Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. J. W. Reid, Mrs. George Long, Mrs. Buster Miller, Mrs. Gene Morris, Mrs. Norman Strange, rs. Wayne McMurry, Mrs. Carl Bomar, Mrs. L. D. Griffin, and Mrs. Pat Northcutt.

Mrs. W. C. Womack left for her home in Gordonville on Thursday of last week after a three-week visit with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Womack. Mrs. H. Roy Brown and Mrs. Bruce Womack took her to Floydada to catch the bus for home. They went on to Plainview to do some shopping.

Mrs. H. P. Rampley took her sister, Mrs. Tom Hackett, to Floydada on Thursday of last week from where she left by bus for her home in Stephenville.

Mrs. Dewey Beavers fell at her home here Sunday, March 6, and has been a patient in the Tullia hospital since that time. Mr. Beavers and their son, Elmer (Brubs) Beavers of Adrian, have been with her. Mrs. Pete Chitty, Mrs. E. C. Newman and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Woods visited her on Saturday. She is seriously ill but did not seem to have been seriously injured in the fall. Mrs. Beavers is a sister to Floyd Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Sullivan of Palo Alto, California were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carrill Garrison. The entire Garrison family visited in the Carrill Garrison home Sunday afternoon. Mr. Sullivan is the nephew of Gabe Garrison.

Methodist Church News

Rev. and Mrs. Frank Story, Joyce Thornton and Bobby Stafford were Abilene visitors this week. Rev. Story attended a meeting of the Northwest Texas Conference Commission on Town and Country work of which he is a member of the executive committee.

Mrs. Story was on her way to the Northwest Texas Women's Society of Christian Service Annual Meeting which convened Tuesday in Brownfield.

Bobby Stafford and Joyce Thornton were investigating the possibility of entering McMurry College in the fall.

The Commission on Education of the local church will meet Sunday, March 20, for the purpose of setting up plans and personnel for a Vacation Church School immediately after school closes. The time for this meeting is 6:00 p.m.

The Fourth Quarterly Conference will meet Wednesday, March 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the local Methodist Church. This is a rather important meeting as it sets up the official family for the church for the ensuing year. It also determines a minimum salary basis and many other items that affect the work of the church for the incoming year.

Dr. R. Luther Kirk of Plainview will preside. As Dr. Kirk has been Superintendent of the Plainview District for six years, the church forbids his holding this position until he has been in some other field for three years, this is the last time he will be with the local church in this capacity.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR WILEY FORT, 67

Funeral services were held in Lubbock Saturday afternoon for Wiley Fort, 67, who died Thursday, March 11, in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. He had been a resident of Lubbock for 32 years.

Survivors include the wife, six step-daughters and five step-sons; three brothers, Roscoe Fort of Lubbock; Perry Fort, of Morton; and Sam Fort, of Bryan; two sisters, Mrs. W. C. Mausey, of Lubbock, and Mrs. Ralph Johnson, of Harrison, Arkansas. The Messrs. Fort and Mmes Mausey and Johnson grew up here and are sons and daughters of the late Rev. and Mrs. George Fort, early day settlers in this community. Rev. Fort was a well known Methodist minister in this area.

Mrs. J. N. Cantwell and Mrs. Marie Bishop were in Lockney on Sunday afternoon to visit Mrs. Katie Hill who has been a patient at the hospital there since Wednesday of last week. She is undergoing examination and tests following an unsatisfactory recovery from the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Whitfill and Scott, of Lubbock, spent the week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Paige, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Whitfill.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Burson, John and Jim, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Welch and children and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Vaughan attended the twenty-first Annual Convention of the American Quarterhouse Association in Amarillo.

When is the best time to go fishing?

Best answer to that question is "Go anytime you can!"

However, many anglers get scientific about this fishing business. They go by the "solunar table," for example.

As the name implies, the solunar table takes into consideration the relative positions of the sun and moon at the various hours of the day, and thereby "selects" the best time of day for fishing.

Most outdoorsmen will agree that positions of the sun and moon do have some effect on the behavior of wildlife. But that's about as much as they will agree on.

Some say that the waning moon is better for hunting—as well as fishing. Others declare the opposite is true.

However, anyone who has spent time in the open knows that animals, birds and fish are prompted at certain periods of the day or night to move around and seek food, exercise or amusement.

A "scientific" fisherman watches for such activity. When he sees an old cow get up from under a shady tree and start walking around; or when a flight of birds suddenly comes wheeling by; or when the clear air is all at once filled with insects—he intensifies his fishing activity—for he knows the fish are active too.

If you'd like to experiment, take the solunar table with you next time you go fishing, and observe whether, at the specified time, you hear dogs barking, or see sheep arise and munch grass, or note mullet jumping.

When outdoors creatures become active, at one of the solunar periods, you ought to be in business if you are in good fishing water and using the right method.

There's bound to be something to it, or so many newspapers wouldn't be publishing solunar tables.

Actually, the solunar table is one of the many guides to good fishing. You don't have to rely on it alone.

For example, some of the tackle manufacturers (Shakespeare in particular) will supply you with a calendar which shows the days of the month when fishing is likely to be at its best. These calendars also are based on the moon's phases.

The solunar table and the fisherman's calendar are two indicators. But there are more.

One is the "rumor gauge." That is when you inquire of others as to whether or not the fish are biting.

Rumors are worthwhile if reliable and timely. Last week's report, of course, is of dubious value, because conditions may have changed.

Some fishing camps and tackle shop operators will tell you the fishing is fine when it isn't. They want to sell you equipment, services, and accommodations. Fortunately, most of these businessmen will give you factual information. If they don't, they'll eventually be found out, and their business will suffer.

The rumor gauge is good only if you can evaluate the rumor accurately.

If you are at the lake and one of your good buddies comes in with his limit of fish and he tells you exactly where and how he caught them—go to that spot as fast as possible. Your chances are pretty good unless conditions have changed materially in the meantime.

What about the barometric pressure? General consensus is that the barometer should be high or rising. Here's another place where you can get as technical as you like.

For example, let's assume that our fish are ten feet deep and the barometer is very low at 29.50. This means that the pressure on the fish is about 18.80 pounds per square inch. All of a sudden (which never happens) the barometer reading jumps up to a very high 30.50. If the fish remains at ten feet, the pressure on them will increase half a pound per square inch. But if they rise to nine feet, the pressure will remain the same, because fish compensate for the increased air pressure by reducing the water pressure, the latter being lower at higher water levels. See?

That's just to indicate how ridiculous some of the sharpies can be.

Actually, a steady high or rising barometer simply means that we can expect fair weather for awhile. If there is a weather reporter on your local radio or television station, check him for good indications about what weather to expect for the next couple of days.

A bright sky is considered the best for fishing, generally. One that is beginning to be overcast ranks next. But there are so many variants here that it would take

by Harry Bray
(all rights reserved)

You can discern the faces of the sky; but can you not discern the signs of the times? (Matt. 16)

Behold the fig trees, and all trees: When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is nigh at hand. So, likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, ye know that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand. (Lk. 21)

On every man's calendar of time there is a special day. For that day, here is a rhyme, Jesus Christ is the way.

Healing hearts that are broken binding wounds up, too. Of redemption hath he spoken Even from Lucifer, to you.

Like each new raindrop of spring, Why! Even the snowflakes of winter.

Does each new grace of salvation bring As into His grace ye enter.

This calendar day denotes Spring. One day nearer eternity too.

In that day what will he bring, At the judgment—for you?

Soon it is spring and the hills from drab grey to dandelion yellow will change. Spring rains will fall and the mocking bird will imitate the sparrow. Days will grow longer and lazy and the trout seem to dare the angler. The call of the quail will soon be heard at mating time.

While the three day spree of the husband is on, the black-eye peas will be planted; though we know that soon, the goat-head will take over. No need to worry about that nor the sweat that the plow will soon bring, but only enjoy these first grand days of a new season while somewhere on the bank of the creek, a butter-cup will rise and say, "It's spring!"

This spring will come and these seasons go, we know they cannot last forever, but the greatest season of all will be when those who

YOUR HAIR by Ryta King

Ever notice the condition of your hair—other people do. The over-all condition of your hair may be affected by the general condition of your body—mental and emotional states. Fatigue, extended periods of stress, worry or excitement may cause your hair to change its complete character—it may become suddenly oily or brittle in texture or dry and unattractive. You and your moods may have a tremendous effect on your hair in many cases without realizing the cause for change.

Here are a few helpful hints that will aid you in better hair grooming:

Washing—We all know that oily hair should be washed weekly. Less frequently if dry. Brushing with a well kept clean brush is important. Some times a dirty comb and brush can undo all the effort of a shampoo. Keep combs and brushes clean.

Dandruff Control—Many women (and the men are no exception) have dandruff or a dandruff condition. When we wear dark clothes, especially in the cool months it is more noticeable on our shoulders. Warm weather does not ease up on dandruff — it's a year-round problem.

Today you can do something positive to remove your dandruff condition. The days of reaching for an old home cure are past. Your local beauty shop, barber shop or druggist can supply you with a commercial anti-dandruff preparation that will perform wonders in the removal of dandruff. I, personally like and use a product known as Dandruffide. I find its removal action extremely fast. And best of all it is pleasant to use and economical to buy. A large bottle retails for one dollar and will last for months and months of anti-dandruff rinses.

Less Worry—If I could only reach some of today's women who worry more about the rising hemline than falling dandruff, or oily hair or dandruff I would say: "Your personal grooming starts with the top of your head—the first thing people notice is your hair — take care of it and your charm and success will increase naturally."

P.S. If you cannot obtain any of the products used and recommended in this feature, simply mail one dollar (the retail price) to me with your name and address, and I will be sure to have the manufacturer send his product to you. More next month. Ryta King, 114 12th Street, Brooklyn 15, New York

Mrs. Milton Dudley is Hostess to Club

The Silverton Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Milton Dudley on March 15, 1960, for the first meeting of this spring. Devotional was given by Mrs. R. M. Hill.

An interesting program was given on "Flower Arrangements, with Real and Artificial Flowers" by Mrs. D. T. Northcutt. "Preparing House Plants for Summer" was given by Mrs. Carroll Garrison.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Bill Edwards, Mrs. Gordon Alexander, Mrs. R. M. Hill, Mrs. Bud Posey, Mrs. Gabe Garrison, Mrs. D. T. Northcutt, Mrs. R. C. Hutsell, Mrs. Carroll Garrison and the hostess, Mrs. Dudley.

Mrs. Bland Burson, of Channing, visited her mother-in-law, Mrs. Una Burson, and other relatives here a day or two early last week.

Carroll Garrison and daughter Jerry and Mrs. Buck Hardin, and Mrs. Don Garrison and the Pascal Garrison and families, were in Amarillo on Wednesday night last week when Howard Payne Junior College won the regional V Junior College basketball championship. Tom Garrison, a student at Howard Payne, was named to the 10-man, all tournament team. Tom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Garrison of Tullia, is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hodges and Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Garrison.

Mrs. Edgar Morrison and Mrs. Stel Thomas, of Quitaque, visited Mrs. James C. Rhoderick one afternoon last week.

Mrs. Bland Burson, of Channing, visited her mother-in-law, Mrs. Una Burson, and other relatives here a day or two early last week.
