All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

On Friday, April 14, we will have a photographer here to take pictures of those living in our community whose pictures we do not have in our files. We would like to have an engraving of you and we are having the photographer set up his studio here in our office for that purpose.

Engravings of a good quality are very desirable and we have arranged with Winston B. Lucas, of Irving, Texas, to take the pictures and furnish us with engravings. Mr. Lucas is a specialist in this field, and has made pictures in Silvertown for a number of years.

Lucas Studio will show proofs for your selection for the engraving. You may purchase additional prints for your personal use if you wish, but this is entirely up to you. There is no charge made for the sitting, for the engravings or to the person when his picture is published in the newspaper.

During Mr. Lucas' last engagement here, we were able to secure some seventy-five engravings for our file. You have seen many of them in your home paper during the past year. Our goal is to get that many more at this time.

If you will cooperate with us in this matter, please come to the News office between the hours of 9:00 and 7:00 p.m. on April 14. If you would like to arrange an appointment time, you may do so by phone. The sitting will not require more than about ten minutes of your time, and will be worth quite a bit to your local newspaper.

This is a part of having a better newspaper and more community interest, and we will appreciate very much your cooperation.

WRIGHT CARRIES COUNTY TOWER, BLAKLEY IN RUNOFF

In a fairly light voting on Tuesday, Congressman Jim Wright polled 188 votes to lead Republican John Tower who received 101 Briscoe votes for the U. S. Senate seat vacated by Vice President Lyndon Johnson. The county placed Blakley in third slot with 62 votes, Will Wilson fourth with 48 and Gonzales and Maverick trailed with 5 and 4 votes, respectively.

Also receiving 4 votes was candidate Burlison.

Arthur Glover of Amarillo received 2 county votes, and Hugh Wilson received 2. Amos, Baker, Brooks, Davisson, Grandstaff, Guy Johnson, Posey, Stanford, Tredway, and Whitten each received one Briscoe vote.

These results are listed as incomplete, with the Antelope precinct not reporting. According to County Clerk, Dee McWilliams, only some 10 votes were expected to be cast in that precinct.

In the Silvertown box (combined) Wright 135, Tower 71, Blakley 42, Wilson 32, Gonzalez 4 and Maverick 4.

In the Quitaque box, Wright 35, Tower 24, Blakley 20, Wilson 15, and Gonzalez 1.

In the San Jacinto box, Wright 18, Tower 6, and Wilson 1.

Latest election tabulations from the Texas Election Bureau in Dallas at press time showed Tower running ahead with 321,710 votes; Blakley second with 186,669; and Wright third with 166,776. Wilson was fourth with 118,378. Maverick fifth with 103,066, and Gonzalez sixth with 95,744.

This indicates that there will be a runoff between Republican John Tower and William Blakley, who presently occupies that position.

DO MEN HAVE AUTHORITY TO CHANGE GOD'S WORD?

Jesus said, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." Mark 16:16. This was spoken after Jesus had been given ALL authority both in heaven and on earth (Matt. 28:18).

"Believeth" means to have faith "baptized" means TO BE IMMERSSED. The word "baptize" has a definite meaning. According to the Greek-English Lexicon by Thayer pp. 94, 95 the word "baptize" means "to immerse." Thus Jesus commanded immersion.

But this is not consistently practiced today. There are those who teach that baptism is administered by pouring water on the head. Yet this practice is no part of the commandment given by Jesus. Thus men seek to change Christ's commandment. Who are what is responsible for this effort? According to the Edinburgh Cyclopedia under article Baptism, "It was not until the year 1311 that the legislature, in a council held at Ravenna, declared immersion or sprinkling to be indifferent." Thus the church is given credit for the change. But what authority has any church to deal with God's Word in this manner? Is it possible that Jesus gave authority to the apostles to set aside what He, himself, has said and that such authority was then conferred upon successors?

If once it can be proved that Jesus gave UNLIMITED authority to the apostles AND that such authority was to be passed to successors and that there ARE legal successors living today then there is this fact to keep in mind, that other commandments of Christ may be set aside today if these successors choose to legislate as has been done with "baptism". If not, why not?

In the first place Jesus did not give unlimited authority to the apostles, Jesus gave ALL of them EQUAL authority to bind and loose (Jno. 20:22, 23) but this authority DID NOT PERMIT THEM TO CHANGE one Word of God. They were given power to ANNOUNCE the terms of pardon — not formulate them. THEY were to bind and loose WITH THE GOSPEL.

Jesus COMMANDED the apostles to preach, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" (Mark 16:16). The word "baptize" means to immerse. It is inconceivable that He would then give authority to DEFY His very commandment to them. Peter did not so understand it for on Pentecost he also said "be baptized" (Acts 2:38). If he had supreme authority by what right does someone later have to change what He said? The truth is that no man nor group of men have authority to change God's word.

The Silverton Church of Christ invites you to study and worship with us.

Mrs. Chris Ward

BROOKS - WARD VOWS EXCHANGED IN IMPRESSIVE EASTER CEREMONY

On Easter Sunday afternoon, April 2, 1961, Miss Jane Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brooks of Silverton, became the bride of Mr. Chris Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ward, of Tulia.

The Rev. G. A. Elrod, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Silverton, directed the exchange of vows in front of an archway formed by two candelabra decorated with greenery and Easter lillies. The arrangement was flanked by baskets of Easter lillies and yellow gladiolias and candelabra. Lillies and candles tied with satin ribbon decorated the aisles of the church. The candles were lighted by Miss Kathy Self, cousin of the bride, and Miss Jackie Carol Tate, both of Silverton. They wore identical dresses of pale yellow dacron fashioned with organza overskirts and each wore a wrist corsage and halo of yellow and white rosebuds and net.

Mrs. Lonnie Richmond of Turkey, Texas, attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore an ice-blue dress of organza over taffeta with a matching blue crown and shoulder length veil. Her flowers were a cymbidium and yellow rosebuds arranged on a fan with cascading blue streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn English, sister of the groom of Tulia, and Miss Laquetta Chitty of Silverton. Both wore pale yellow dresses designed with fitted lace bodice and bouffant organza skirts over taffeta. Their flowers were a cymbidium and yellow rosebuds arranged on a fan with cascading yellow streamers. Mr. Bill English of Dallas, Texas, brother of the groom, served as best man, and Mr. Jimmy McClendon, Mr. Richard Dalluge, both of Tulia, Mr. Alton Riddell, cousin of the bride, and Mr. John Schott, both of Silverton, were ushers.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. L. B. Garvin, Jr., at the organ. Sam Brown, pianist, accompanied Mrs. Clifton Stodghill when she sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly." The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a formal gown of white fashioned with a fitted lace bodice with scalloped, pearl-decorated sweetheart neckline and her long sleeves extended to petal points over her hands. Her bouffant skirt of tulle was applied with lace. Her waist length veil of tulle was edged with matching lace and fell from a pearl crown. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white rosebuds and a white orchid carried atop a white Bible.

The bride wore the traditional something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue and had a penny in each shoe. Mrs. Brooks, the bride's mother, wore a dusty pink lace dress over taffeta with organza trim and pink accessories. Her corsage was of white Easter lillies.

Mrs. Ward chose for her son's wedding a blue silk dress with white accessories and a white corsage.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the Sunday School Annex of the First Baptist Church. Miss Becky Malow presided at the guest book, and Misses LaJuan Curby and Lou Brannon served the guests from a table laid with a white lace cloth. The centerpiece was bouquet of yellow rosebuds and Easter lillies flanked by candelabra decorated with yellow rosebud nosegays. Nosegays also decorated the corners of the table.

For their wedding trip, the bride chose a yellow two-piece linen suit with yellow accessories and a white corsage.

Mrs. Ward attended Silverton High School. The groom is a 1958 graduate of Tulia High School and attended North Texas State College at Denton.

INCREASE CROP YIELD MAINTAIN SOIL FERTILITY WITH ARMOUR FERTILIZERS

Investment in proper fertilization pays two ways. First, good fertilization increases crop production, and can return up to $3 for every $1 invested. Second, it improves soil fertility, the land's most valuable asset.

Every crop harvested and removed from the land takes large quantities of the vital plant food elements necessary to grow good crops. Among these are nitrogen—which gives dark green color to plants and produces rapid growth, phosphorus—which stimulates early root formation and growth and gives plants a rapid and vigorous start—and potassium—which imparts increased vigor and disease resistance, and many valuable minor and trace elements as well. If this plant food is not replaced, soil fertility is depleted, and both yield and quality of future crops suffer.

This chart indicates generally the amount of each major element removed from the soil by a characteristic yield of a key crop:

CROP	YIELD	Pounds of Plant Food Removed*
		NITROGEN	PHOSPHATE	POTASH
CORN (grain; stover)	100 bushels	90	55	25
	3 tons	70	25	95
COTTON (lint and seed; stalks, leaves, and burrs)	1500 lbs.	40	20	15
	2000 lbs.	35	10	35
WHEAT (grain; straw)	40 bushels	50	25	15
	1.5 tons	20	6	65
MILO (grain; stover)	60 bushels	50	25	15
	1.5 tons	65	20	95

MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

When one car outsells all the rest the way this new Chevrolet is doing*—there's got to be a reason. And we can think of some pretty good ones. The clean-etched looks of the new Body by Fisher, for example. The eager brand of "git" that's under the hood. The easy way it handles. Plus the added advantage of cost options like triple-turbine Turboflame.

But to sample all these reasons together, you have to get a Chevrolet out on the road. And there's where that Jet-smooth ride takes over with its own gentle kind of persuasion. If you weren't absolutely sure, you'd imagine you were riding in a far costlier car.

No wonder people are buying more Chevrolets than any other make! Chevrolets have more of what it takes to please people!

*Official R. L. Polk & Co. registration figures show full-sized Chevrolets outsold the second-choice make by a record-breaking margin in 1960—and Chevrolets continue to set the pace for the industry this year!

FARM LABOR MEETING TO BE HELD IN PLAINVIEW

A Farm Labor Meeting will be held at the Plainview High School Auditorium on April 7, 1961, beginning at 8:00 p.m. All farmers and business leaders of this area are urged to attend this meeting.

Featured speaker will be Mr. Grant, Vice-President of the California Farm Bureau, a cotton farmer, dairyman and grower of feed crops from Visalia, Tulare County.

As a cotton grower in the San Joaquin Valley, Mr. Grant has long been very close to farm labor problems and as an executive officer of Farm Bureau, he has been very closely allied with farm labor problems on the statewide basis.

Mr. Grant traveled with Senator Harrison A. Williams' Senate Subcommittee on Migratory Labor when it toured California's agricultural areas. He has represented the California Farm Bureau at hearings in connection with field sanitations as well as other subjects closely allied with labor. And he took active part in a recent conference on "Families That Follow the Crops," after which he pointed out that "The findings of this group follow what the farmers themselves have known and advocated over the years—that it is the concern of all community leaders and agencies to see that the migrant worker is given the opportunity to become a better and more stable citizen" . . . in other words, that all problems concerning the migrant labor force are not those of the farmer alone, but of the community as a whole.

While it has no connection with labor, Mr. and Mrs. Grant spent six weeks during January and February living with families in India on a special study tour sponsored by the Farmers and World Affairs Organization, which was setup to promote better understanding in world affairs through making it possible for U. S. Citizens to live with people of other countries.

Mr. Grant has been a Farm Bureau leader on the County and district level prior to his election as Vice-President.

Activities outside Farm Bureau include County Chairman of 4-H Leaders Council, School Board Trustee and President of Visalia Production Credit Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Parker and Mrs. Ben Bingham left for Dallas Sunday morning to take the Parker's son, Britt, 6 years old, for an examination by a brain specialist on Monday. His left arm and leg became paralyzed last week. A Plainview pediatrician had advised that they take the child there for examination.

Mrs. C. R. Badgett has written friends that she is visiting her sisters in Fort Smith, Arkansas. She plans to return to her home here after a check up with her doctor in Houston early in June.

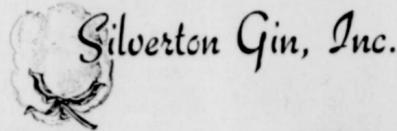

Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Fowler, Nancy and Robert were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grosse and family in Floydada.

Zobie Self spent the Easter week recovering from recent surgery, end in the home of her parents, and planned to return to classes Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Self. She is at Wayland College on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack McGowan and Steve of Plainview, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Masey, George and Harve. They enjoyed an Easter egg hunt in the afternoon.

Prizes Offered In Photograph Contest

The time is almost here for the opening of this newspaper's Big Child Photograph Contest, and we are urging all of our readers to have their children ready for the big day.

Winston B. Lucas of Irving, Texas, will be in Silverton Friday, April 14, at the Briscoe County News office from 10:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. for the purpose of taking pictures in this vicinity. In addition to having their pictures printed in this newspaper, the children will be competing for $20.00 in prizes, which are being offered for the three best photographs made during the day.

The photographs will be made absolutely free of charge, and no charge is made for their publication in the Briscoe County News. Proofs will be shown and you may select the picture of your child which you would like to appear in this newspaper. If you wish extra photographs they may be purchased, but no purchase is necessary in order to compete for the prizes. It is entirely up to you, whether you buy pictures or not.

There is no age limit on the contest, and every child's photograph in this section is wanted so that they may all appear in the Briscoe County News. However, it is necessary that all pictures be of uniform size, so they must be made by Winston B. Lucas on Friday, April 14, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Don't wait until little Mary gets married or baby brother is elected to a political office to see their pictures in the paper—make plans now to have these photographs made on Friday, April 14. Tell your friends and neighbors—the more, the merrier.

COOK IN TOWN!

That's you — when Reddy's your helper. The real cooking economies come from an electric range. Because electric roasting needs no air, it doesn't draw the moisture from your oven when you're roasting. Result? Less meat shrinkage — more for your meat dollar. Again — because electric heat is accurately measured — you use less water when cooking vegetables. Result? More minerals and vitamins stay in the food — less heat is used to bring the smaller amount of water needed to a boil. Savings for you once more. And finally — the big economy from the cleanliness of electric cooking. You won't have to wash your walls and curtains as often — and you'll stretch out the time between painting and decorating expense. Thrifty cooking? Of course, it's electric.

A Date With Darla

My Pet Peeve: People who call teenagers juvenile delinquents. A teenage prankster is a lot different from a juvenile delinquent. A juvenile is a teenager who feels he is unloved or unwanted. This feeling is called "Neurosis". All of us, of course, have some of these feelings some of the time, but the neurotic person has them to a greater degree most of the time. A neurotic person is one who is mentally ill. So physical cruelty would not help. Some of you are probably laughing at this and saying, "Mental illness, of all things," but if you would read an article on Mental Illness then you would see my point. These kids need help like other mentally ill people. They need the love and guidance of someone who understands their problem.

A teenage prankster, on the other hand, is a kid having fun. Some of their fun may not be your idea of fun, but they know when to call a halt to their pranks and how to act their age when the time comes. Show me a teenager who hasn't pulled a prank, and I'll show you a stuffed shirt and a sissy.

My junior year I put a tack in the chair of the boy who was sitting in front of me. The boy sat on it too. If Mr. Rampley had caught me, he would have said that he sure would hate to bust a big junior girl for pulling a fifth grade prank. If a teenager who does those things is a juvenile, then I guess I am.

A Baptist minister once said, "The kids now are no different from the kids of long ago. They just have weapons."

Math In My Life

The following is an excerpt from a theme that was written by Carolyn Garrison for Mrs. Redin's Plane Geometry class.

As my junior year began, I found I was required to take Plane Geometry. Again the older students had scared me, but I faced the future with hope. I knew from bits I had picked up that a great deal of drawing was necessary. This interested me because I love to draw things if I can measure them or use straight lines. The first day of class Mrs. Redin, who we were all delighted to have as teacher, told us, "I know you will all enjoy this course if you will let yourselves. Geometry is one of the most beautiful and practical kinds of math. It will help you to think clearly and make decisions." Everyone in class thought it had that meaning just for her. I found out that geometry was more than just drawing. I couldn't measure anything to make sure it was right; I had to "construct" it and then prove it to be true. I found that there are more reasons for statements to be correct than I ever imagined. As for geometry making a person think more clearly and make decisions, I think it has certainly done that for me. I have been surprised to ask myself "why" to almost any statement anyone has made to me. I think having to have reasons for proving problems has made me feel that it is necessary to have a reason for everything.

Construction has done a lot for me, too. Why, the other night I found myself staring at a star and a light from a house. In my mind I had drawn a line to the ground that would make a right angle at the star. When anything makes pictures in my mind like that, I have been greatly impressed with that subject.

I don't plan to take any more courses of math in high school, but I am really glad that I have had eleven years of it. I think it will help a great deal in my future life.

FROM THE OFFICE

Mr. O. C. Rampley, High School principal, recently received the following letter:

DEAR MR. RAMPLEY: I just had a most delightful visit with six young men from your senior class. I want to take this means of congratulating Silverton High School and also the parents of these young men for the fine manner in which they conducted their visit on our campus. Other persons about the campus have also commented on the fine bearing and good manners which these young men showed. They are approaching their college education in a most intelligent manner. It shows that someone has given them some good training. If you have more people like these young people we of course shall be glad to have them too.

In this letter I am referring to Joe Anderson, Dewey Estes, Dale Francis, Mike Mercer, Eldon O'Neal, and Dave Schott.

1961-61 Student Council Officers Attend Convention

On March 23, 24, and 25, the Student Council officers attended the 25th Annual Conference for the Texas Association of Student Councils. The conference was held at Odessa, Texas, in the Permian High School. The following attended: Robert Rhode, president; Bill Schott, secretary; Larry Elms, treasurer; and Mrs. Buster Miller, sponsor.

The theme of the convention was "Honor the Past; Serve the Future." It is customary for the President to give the key speech; this year it was given by Miss Sharon Roundtree from San Angelo. Her speech lasted 45 minutes—she used no notes, and she kept the attention of everyone in the auditorium. It was truly a very inspiring talk.

Other speakers were Louie E. Throgmorton and Rev. James Jauncey, who were also very good.

There was a barbecue, political rally, foreign exchange student pane, and many other interesting events which highlighted the convention.

At the last general session, the 1961-62 T.A.S.C. officers were announced. They are the following: Lubbock High School, president; Regan High School in Houston, vice president; Thomas Jefferson High School in San Antonio, secretary; Highland Park Junior High School in Dallas, parliamentarian. The convention closed at noon Saturday, March 25.

The convention was thoroughly enjoyed by the group and they appreciated the opportunity to go.

The same group is looking forward to the Student Council Workshop this summer.

Carroll Reece, a one time GOP chairman, says that in one of his first cases after having been admitted to the Tennessee Bar, he represented a sharecropper's widow in a suit.

The defense was ably represented by two dapper city attorneys who worked in shifts and put on an impressive show.

Reece was satisfied with the way things were going when court recessed for lunch, so he was shocked when his client insisted on getting another lawyer to help him.

"I'm doing all right," Reece protested. "Why do you want another lawyer?" "Well," came the reply, "I've been watching them other lawyers, and when one of them is up speaking, the other one is sitting there thinking. And when you're up speaking, there ain't nobody thinking."

Letter to a Boston paper: "Dear Sir: When I subscribed a year ago you stated that if I was not satisfied at the end of the year I could have my money back. Well, I would like to have it back." "On second thought, to save you trouble, you might apply it to my next year's subscription."

Elimination Held For Interscholastic League

Interscholastic League eliminations were held for extemporaneous speaking and number sense last week.

Competing in extemporaneous speaking were Robert Hughes and Eldon Oneal. Robert Hughes was judged the winner by George Miller who took time out from the busy schedule to judge the contest.

A host of students competed in number sense. The group was composed of Lester Grabbe, Larry May, Gerald Smith, Louie Strange, Robert Rhode, Robert Hughes, Bill Schott, Butch Norris, Freddie Durham, John Burson, Bobby Durham, Larry Elms, and Joe Anderson. The top three were Gerald Smith, Robert Hughes and Robert Rhode.

Other interscholastic league teams already chosen include the spelling team composed of Jerry Williamson and Lester Grabbe. Jerry Williamson is also entered in ready writing.

Easter Party Enjoyed by Pre-Schoolers

The Home Economics I Class had their annual pre-school child party, Friday, March 21. The children were entertained with an Easter Egg hunt. The refreshments were rabbit shaped cookies and orange juice. The "kiddies" were excellent guest.

The following children were present: Ann Hardin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Hardin; Butch Brannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brannon; Ty Wayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McMurtry; Sue Monk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Monk; Celia Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Simpson; Janet Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McWilliams Jr.; Julia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Dickerson; Dara and Scott Garvin, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy W. Garvin; Ronald Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hale; Rhonda Sweek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sweek; Cynthia Kerns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kerns; Linda Baird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. ### OH, TO BE A LEAF

The following paragraphs were written by Junior English students. They were told to write a paragraph imagining that they were a leaf on a tree in the Autumn.

All around me my brothers and sisters were beginning to turn golden and red. Each day several would loose their hold on the mothe rimb and gently drift toward the ground. As my day drew nearer and nearer, I thought about which direction I would like to travel and exactly what spot I would like to land on. On my trip I swayed to and fro on the cooling autumn breeze. As I landed, I found a peace I had never known before, but about ten minutes later, I felt my back crushed under the foot of some happy child on his way home from school.

—Carolyn Garrison

Oh, no, here it is fall. This is the time my Mother told me about. The tragic end of all my brothers, sisters, myself and all others like us. Well, there goes Herman and Sally. Oh, no, here comes a breeze. I feel myself slipping from my branch. I'm falling. As I fall, I feel myself rocking back and forth with the air flowing upward tickling my twig. The world seems to float upward as I rock downward. There's the ground. There, that wasn't too bad. Oh, excuse me, Herman, I didn't mean to sit on you. Wait a minute, what is that smell? Is it smoke from burning friends? And what is that thing. Oh, it looks like a rake. Help!

It's not my fault I'm here. I once was a happy little bud on this stick of wood. Then things started happening. I started getting big and fat. I got very sick and turned green. At first it wasn't so bad. It was nice and warm fluttering around in the breeze. Then some wise guy turned on that dad-blamed air conditioner. Br-r-r! It sure is getting cold. It got so cold I couldn't hold on to the limb any longer. I slowly fluttered to the ground. Hey! It's not so bad down here. What's that big rubber thing coming toward me? Oh, no! It's the sole of a shoe. Hey! Watch where you're going! CRUNCH!!!

I am a big, beautiful, colored leaf of an elm tree. I have enjoyed the long, warm summer greatly. The elm tree could not have survived without the leaves like me. Unfortunately, colder weather has come. The weather is getting colder every day. Suddenly, I have the feeling I am not attached to the tree any more. I feel very light as if I were falling. I hit the ground lightly. It is apparent that other leaves have met the same terrible fate as me. This helps my feeling some, because I see I am not alone. Considering that the tree no longer needs me, and that the seasons cannot be altered, it is not as terrible as you might think to fall from a tree as a leaf and die.

—Larry May

SENIOR OF THE WEEK

LaGuan Thompson

LaGuan Thompson is looking forward to graduation with even more interest than is usually exhibited. She is eager to begin her course in beauty school, but there will be an important June event in her life before that if all goes as planned.

LaGuan has been a very active member of FHA throughout her high school years. She went to the state meet her sophomore year, and has been reporter and vice president. This year LaGuan was a manager of the basketball team. She has been in the pep squad four years.

The head of a television network who was having trouble with his executives for a lecture.

"Look," he said. "You guys have got to get on the ball. That's all there is to it. If we have any bottlenecks around here, I want you to get rid of them immediately. Now, who has suggestions?"

From the rear of the conference room a junior executive piped up. "Sir," he said, "I've had some experience with bottles, and from that experience I can tell you, the necks are always at the top."

The only thing that consoles me about being a woman is the fact that I won't have to marry one.

My life will soon be over. I can feel the brisk wind pulling me from the tree, my only life. My wish will soon come true. One more puff then down I go. Gravity pulls me downward then the wind lifts me up again—I am drifting onward, floating gently over trees and houses. At last I can see the world, see sights I never knew existed in all my life. I'm coming in for a landing now right on top of a pile of leaves. What will become of me now? Is this the end of me? Suddenly I can feel something moist and soft touching me. I am being lifted upward again, but not by wind. I hear a voice say, "What an unusual leaf this is. This would certainly look nice in my collection." What excitement! I won't have to stay outside in the cold of winter. I'll be snug and warm in my new home pressed between the pages of a book.

Assembly News

The Student Council officers for next year gave an assembly program on Monday March 27. Larry Elms, Robert Rhode, Bill Schott, and LaQuetta Chitty went to Odessa for the Student Council State Convention on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. They told the audience about the different speeches and other things they did and saw. Mrs. Miller also attended the convention and told about a speech which impressed her very much.

Tuesday, March 28, the assembly was brought by Dr. Leon Hill. He had the group in the aisles rolling with laughter. Dr. Hill also stated that the future is ours and that we should make the most of our opportunities.

Wednesday, March 29, the assembly program was presented by the Music Department from Clarendon Junior College. They were apologetic for colds, but they gave a good program in spite of them.

No matter what happens, there is always someone who knew it would.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

By Kathy Peugh
During assembly this week Tina Williams and Wayne Nance received pins for their work in the Junior High Student Council. There were four other members who received them also.

Well, we're a little confused about our end of school picnic. We were previously going to Amarillo, but it seems that the school board says we can't go over 75 miles. Going a certain way the shortest mileage is 76 miles. Only one mile too far! We decided to go to Plainview on May 13th.

After the weather got so bad we decided to not go on an Easter Egg Hunt but to just have a party in our room. Each child brought an egg to color. The room mothers acted as judges and picked out the two prettiest eggs after they were all colored. Gene Davis and Karen Miller won the prizes for coloring the prettiest egg. The children thanked Mrs. Virgil Crow, Mrs. Robert McPherson and Mrs. L. E. Garvin, Jr. for the nice party they planned for us.

We had four children absent today. They were Johnny Salazar, Elida Parras, Willie Davila, and Alvin May.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

FARMSTEAD WINDBREAKS

By Virgil Henson
We have had recent word from the Kress Nursery and the Stanford Vader Nursery, both in Plainview, that their Arizona Cypress trees are ready to go. These trees can be set out any time now. About twenty people have made application to obtain Arizona Cypress and also assistance on planning the layout of windbreaks, at the S.C.S. office. All of these people are urged to obtain their trees soon, as it appears that the supply will become limited later.

We plan to assist as many as possible in planning their tree plantings, but probably will not be able to get to everyone who is establishing a windbreak. The following information is offered for those who are setting out trees for farmstead windbreaks.

The trees should be set eight feet apart in single or multiple rows. Where more than one row is set, the rows should be about sixteen feet apart. The trees should be set in a shallow ditch or depression to facilitate watering. They should be watered to get them started, but can stand a great deal of dry weather once they are established. A small amount of manure or commercial fertilizer at each tree will help assure fast, early growth.

Farmstead windbreaks fit best on the west, southwest, and north of the farmstead, as the high winds are usually from those directions. To the house on the north. If too close on the north, the tree row may cause snow to stack up on the house in times of blizzard and heavy snow. A spacing of sixty to one hundred feet on the north of the house is desirable.

We will be glad to assist anyone else who is interested, in obtaining trees and planning their farmstead windbreaks.

Livestock HEALTH HINTS
Prepared by American Foundation for Animal Health

A livestock disease which was widespread on American farms a few years ago is again staging a comeback, and farmers will want to keep up to date on it if they own horses, ponies or mules.

The disease is encephalomyelitis or "sleeping sickness." It has shown such a sharp increase that one state now requires annual vaccination against it.

What are the signs of sleeping sickness which a farmer should watch for? Chief signs include listlessness, sleepiness, incoordination and paralysis. Generally the first thing noticed will be sluggishness. The horse's lips may be loose and droopy. Muscle spasms also may be seen. Later, affected animals stand dejectedly, move reluctantly and awkwardly, grind their teeth, stretch their necks. Just before death, sick horses may lie on their sides and make bicycling movements with their legs.

If any of these symptoms are noticed, a veterinarian should be called at once. Speed in treatment is vital if the animal is to be saved. Also, encephalomyelitis can be passed on to the farmer and his family, making precautions doubly important.

There are two types of the disease. The Eastern type may cause deaths in up to 90 per cent of the cases, while the mortality rate with the Western type usually ranges from 20 to 25 per cent.

There are vaccines to provide immunity against each type, and in areas where both types are found, a combination vaccine is used.

Annual vaccination is the chief means of preventing encephalomyelitis. Although the disease is chiefly one of horses, ponies and mules, it also affects certain other animals, as well as humans and birds.

The virus causing the disease is transmitted by mosquitoes. Reservoirs of the disease include wild birds, ducks, chickens, ticks and chicken mites. Besides protective vaccination of horses, ponies and mules, preventive measures should include a mosquito control program and regular spraying of animals with insecticides.

Sleeping sickness is a real threat again on farms where there are horses, ponies or mules.
