

All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

Advertising has become an important part of American life. Without it the free press would cease to exist. Almost every publication in the country depends upon it.

The cost of producing the newspaper is the basis for establishing an advertising rate. Surveys released by the Texas Press Association last year revealed that most of the weekly newspapers in this area have advertising rates in the medium-low bracket.

Newspapers mailed on a second-class permit are permitted to carry a maximum of 75% advertising. Small newspapers rarely reach this limit. We consider that our week's work has been successful if we have 50% advertising matter and 50% reading material. A profitable ratio is 60% ads and 40% news. As the ratio of advertising increases, the number of pages of the newspaper increases. Therefore, if you note that your weekly newspaper has only four pages, three of them would have to be completely filled with advertising to be at the 75% maximum. If the four pages have reading matter on each page, you will know that the publisher just about made expenses for the week.

Sometimes there are periods of discouragement in the newspaper business. At best the number of advertisers in a small town are few. All of our neighboring newspapers are presently complaining about the scarcity of advertising we have been receiving the large national companies. Television has caused a great drain on the amount of advertising allotted to the weekly newspapers.

A recent survey by the Advertising Research Foundation with 4,826 individuals of 15 years of age and older, revealed that 49% newspaper, while only 28% said the same of television.

Two-thirds of the people have an habitual time for reading the newspaper. It takes place at every time of day. However, the newspaper is not normally read in a sitting. The typical reader and looks into his news-times each weekday.

Advertising for a small weekly is one of the most illusive commodities to sell. Because of the normal inertia of small towns, it is difficult to measure the return to the businessman of his advertising dollar. There never is a great rush to a store except during special sales. There are not that many people who are immediately interested in the product listed. If a newspaper with 200,000 circulation receives 150 responses to an ad, that is a lower percentage than an ad in a paper with 1000 population which receives two answers. Response to classified ads sometimes came as long as six months after the appearance of the ad.

For this reason the apparent smallness of circulation of a weekly newspaper should not be frowned upon. Advertisers should recognize the fact that the population is not great in our trade territory, and that the local newspaper is reaching most of the prospective customers of the area.

This is what the beloved Will Rogers thought of the weekly newspaper:

"Take away my ham, take away my eggs, even my chili, but leave me my newspaper."

"Even if it has such local news as 'Jim Jones came home last night unexpectedly and bloodshed ensued,' or 'Jess Busyhead, our local M.D., is having one of the best years in his career, practically speaking — but they just won't pay when they get well' and 'election ain't far off, and everybody is up for office that can sign an application blank.'"

"Now all that don't seem much news to you. But it is news, especially when you know the people and they are your own folks. So, no matter how punk you think your local newspaper is, let them take it away from you for a while and see how you feel. The old newspaper, I think, is about the biggest blessing."

"So let's read and be merry, for tomorrow the paper may not have enough ads to come out!"

George Folley of McLean has recently fallen at his home breaking his hip. He is thought to be doing satisfactorily in a McLean hospital.

DOCTOR GIVES ADVISE CONCERNING DOG BITES

"One of the fairly common injuries in the spring, or in the warm weather breaks like we've had lately, is dogbites in children, and a word about the proper treatment in such cases seems appropriate," says Dr. R. N. Mueckleroy.

"Treatment of the injury is simple; take the child to your physician. Proper handling of the dog is very important also, and the first rule to remember is DON'T KILL THE DOG IMMEDIATELY. "The dog should be penned and observed for a period of at least 10 days. If he is well at the end of that period he did not have transmissible rabies at the time of the bite and anti-rabies vaccine is not needed.

"If the dog dies, his head should be sent to the State Health Department in Austin, where rabies or the absence of it, may be diagnosed. Early in the course of the disease the diagnosis may be difficult," he added.

"Rabies, once the disease is established, is uniformly fatal. The anti-rabies vaccine is painful, expensive, and sometimes dangerous, but this may be the necessary price for improper handling of the dog," he concluded.

Wells Announces Candidacy For Re-Election

H. G. Wells last week announced his candidacy for re-election to the Texas House of Representatives from the 89th district. Wells has represented this district composed of Hale, Swisher, Floyd and Briscoe Counties since 1959. He was re-elected in 1960 without opposition.

Wells has been a resident of the district he represents almost all of his life, having lived in Plainview prior to moving to Tulia in 1939. The son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wells of Tulia, Texas, Wells is 28 years old. He attended schools in Tulia, Texas, graduating from Tulia High School in 1950, where he was elected president of the student body. He was again elected president of the student body of North Texas State College while majoring in Government at the college, and in his senior year was selected "Outstanding Student of the Year." Upon graduation from North Texas State College with a BA degree in government, Wells volunteered and entered the army. After two years active duty in the army, H. G. returned to Tulia where he served as government and history teacher in the Tulia High School system and completed graduate work in government at West Texas State College.

In 1957 Wells began work on his law degree at the University of Texas and in 1960 was admitted to the Texas Bar. While in the army, Wells received the Freedoms Foundation Award. He also has received the American Legion Citizenship award and the Battle of Flowers Oratory Award. He is a member of the First Methodist Church in Tulia, the Kiwanis Club, Toastmasters, and the Texas Bar.

In H. G. Wells' first term in the Texas Legislature, he was named to the Agriculture, Education, Conservation and Reclamation Constitutional Amendments, and Judiciary committees. In his second term he served as vice chairman of the important Rules Committee, chairman of the Engrossed Bills Committee, and member of the Five Man Insurance Investigation Committee. He also held membership on the powerful State Affairs Committee and recently was named chairman of a five man committee to study the distribution of state monies to school districts.

Wells has been a leading worker for improvements of our public education system, a fighter for retention of private ownership of underground water, and a sponsor of much agricultural legislation. He has advocated and sponsored legislation calling for loan shark regulation, revision of the merit rating plan, an adequate juvenile parole system, and modernization of our criminal laws.

In the recent special session, Wells authored the bill and spearheaded the fight to bring gas companies serving irrigated areas under the regulatory powers of the Railroad Commissions, arguing that farmers deserve the same protection accorded city gas users.

In announcing for re-election, Wells stated that he would campaign extensively throughout the district and that he would release a detailed platform in the near future.

Flying Queens To Meet Nashville Business College

Outstanding West Texas cagers will be featured when the two top women's AAU basketball teams in the United States, the Hutcherson Flying Queens of Wayland College and Nashville Business College, clash in Plainview, February 23-24.

All-American Glyna Masten of Sudan and Laura Switzer of McLean, along with teammates Opal Bogard of Bula, Carol Cooke of Bula, Margie Guinn of Abernathy, and Gay Ivey of Pettit are West Texans who will be playing in the two action packed games.

The Flying Queens, defending National AAU champions, won over Nashville Business College in the finals of the national tournament last spring. Wayland has won the national title six of the last eight years, with NBC winning the other two seasons.

Nashville has three All-Americans for use themselves. Nera White, a 6-0 seven year All-American choice, and Joan Crawford, a 6-0 five year All-American selection, are members of the Women's AAU Basketball Hall-of-Fame. Rita Horky, 6-0 rover, is a three year All-American.

In the only meeting between these teams this year, Nashville upended Wayland, but the Flying Queens have come on strong, winning their last 14 contests and will post a 16-1 record when they take the court Friday.

A regular season championship is also at stake in the games this weekend. NBC leads the National Girl's Basketball League with an untarnished record. The Flying Queens, in second place, have lost only to Nashville, and a win in the Saturday league will pull them into a first place tie.

Flying Queen Coach Harley J. Redin, with his best balanced team in the history of the Flying Queens has four seniors, five juniors, three sophomores, and two freshmen to use as weapons against Nashville.

Game time Friday is 8 p.m., while the Saturday Flying Queens-Nashville game will start at 7 p.m. Wayland's Pioneers play the main event Saturday against McMurry College at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Erma Piercy of Turkey, was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McMurry.

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, Pat and Karen, spent the weekend in Lamesa with relatives. Pat remained for a visit with his grandparents, Mrs. Moody Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gamblin.

A Word on Infectious Hepatitis

By Dr. R. N. Muckleroy

Infectious hepatitis—a disease primarily of school-age children and young adults—is on the increase. That is why it would be well for you to learn something about the ailment and what can be done about it.

Infectious hepatitis is an infection of the body which attacks the liver and intestines. Sometimes it is called "infectious jaundice" or "catarrhal jaundice," but these names are incorrect because not everyone who gets the disease has jaundice. It is also called "hepatitis A," but should not be confused with the terms "serum hepatitis" or "hepatitis B."

Serum hepatitis, sometimes called "hepatitis B," is a disease similar to infectious hepatitis. Both are caused by a virus and the symptoms are almost identical. Serum hepatitis takes a much longer period to develop—from 60 to 160 days as compared with 10 to 40 days in infectious hepatitis.

The virus of serum hepatitis is found in the blood of patients but not in their body wastes. Therefore it is always spread by blood or objects or products contaminated with the virus. The virus may persist in the patient's blood for long periods after recovery from the illness. It may occur in children or adults at any season of the year.

Neither antibiotics nor sulfa drug are effective against the viruses of either infectious hepatitis or serum hepatitis. Rest in bed, sometimes for several weeks, and proper diet are essential to the patient's recovery. Isolation of the patient with infectious hepatitis during the first week of illness is required.

In both types of hepatitis, all instruments coming into contact with the patient's blood or tissues must be sterilized by boiling (212 degrees F) for 15 minutes or by autoclaving at 15 pounds pressure (250 degrees F) for 10 minutes.

To prevent the spread of infectious hepatitis to others in the household sanitary disposal of body discharges and strict cleanliness in the care of the patient must be observed. Everyone should observe all phases of personal hygiene, especially hand washing after visits to the bathroom. Gamma globulin given early to persons exposed to infectious hepatitis frequently prevents the illness, but it has not proved effective against serum hepatitis.

Recognizing the symptoms of infectious hepatitis and serum hepatitis is important so that a doctor may be called promptly and the patient given the best chance for early recovery. Patients with hepatitis may have few or all of these symptoms:

1. Aches in the head, back or joints

2. Fever, nausea and vomiting

3. Tenderness over the liver or "heaviness" in the abdomen

4. Washed-out feeling, like flu or grippie

5. Yellow (jaundiced) appearance of whites of eyes or skin (Remember, children with hepatitis usually do not become jaundiced.)

If you or anyone in your family has these symptoms, call your family physician without delay. As most textbooks point out, the first four on the list above may occur with any feverish illness.

Cancer Committee Has Planning Session

Joe Bob Johnson of Lubbock, Field Representative for the American Cancer Society, met with the local cancer committee in the community room of Plainview Production Credit Association on Monday afternoon of this week. The meeting was opened by Mrs. W. E. Schott, jr., president.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. J. W. Lyon, jr., secretary. Discussion was carried on regarding the spring cancer crusade in April.

Rev. Carlos McLeod, county chairman, selected Alvin Redin to be in charge of solicitation of the business district, and Mrs. Neville Muckleroy to be in charge of the house to house drive during the campaign. W. A. Griffin is in charge of house to house solicitations in Quitaque, and Jimmy Davidson is in charge of the business district in Quitaque.

A meeting of all the workers will be March 19 at 2:00 p.m. in the school film room.

How The American Cancer Society Funds Are Used in Texas

For every dollar that was contributed to the American Cancer Society in Texas in 1961 in all phases — memorials, crusade, special projects and unsolicited funds — the following amounts will be spent in Texas by the Society in 1962:

.45 FOR CANCER RESEARCH — in Texas Research Institutions.

.17 FOR PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION AND SERVICES — keeping physicians informed of up-to-date developments in care and treatments of cancer, providing clinical fellowships, supporting Tumor Clinics and Cancer Registries, supporting professional conferences.

.24 FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION — informing Texans of Cancer's Seven Danger Signals in order that they may guard themselves and their families against cancer.

.11 FOR SERVICES TO PATIENTS — providing cancer patients with dressings, loan closets, and comfort items, and other volunteer services on the local level.

.05 FOR ADMINISTRATION and development of program.

.08 FOR CAMPAIGN to provide materials to reach three million Texas families during the April Crusade, and in memorial, legacy and special gifts programs for dollars to support continuing cancer control programs of research, education and service.

Due to the high level of national research grants being made in Texas, the Society will in 1962 spend more money in Texas than was raised in the 1961 Crusade and other activities. For every dollar raised, the Society will spend, as shown in the breakdown above, one dollar and ten cents.

Glimpses of Briscoe County History Since 1892

The Texas History Class of Silverton school contributed much to our knowledge of the history of Briscoe County with a book dedicated to the pioneers of Briscoe County, compiled chiefly by the members of the class during the spring of 1936. They were:

Arlis White, Albert White, Virgil Crow, Jack Blocker, Garner Guest, John H. White, Jr., Jackie Bomar, Mildred Deavenport, Harley Redin, Worth H. Alexander, J. W. Foust, Mary Ann Fortenberry, Ruth McGavock, Raymond Bean, Gaynelle Douglas, Buster Allard, George McReynolds, Lenora Dudley, Wilma Dickerson, Wynona Bomar, Claudine Chitty, Lillus Ruth Ledbetter, Dorothy Crass, Mozelle Stodghill, C. J. Dorrough, Sibl Blair, Marie Allard, James Long, Lloyd May, Opal Chappell, Iwana Simpson, Perry Thomas, Lois Davis and Annis Fowler.

Credit was given for the kind assistance of the pioneer families of this section: Clyde Thomas, formerly with the Briscoe County News; R. F. Stevenson, who had a private museum; G. W. Lee who through his kind offer helped defray a considerable part of the expenses; and many others whose articles are to be found in the pages of the book. The teacher of the class was A. R. Castleberry.

The town of Silverton was built on land owned by T. J. Braidfoot, familiarly known as "Uncle Tom". Mr. Braidfoot was one of the first settlers of the country and lived here until his death in about 1917. Other of the old settlers of the county were:

J. R. Wright; D. H. Sweeney; J. L. Crawford, father of Miner and Tom Crawford; A. R. Jago, who lived in the Quitaque neighborhood and who was one of the first men to take up large holdings of land in that part of the county, W. H. Savage and A. J. Askey.

Other old settlers of the county were W. A. Rogers, S. P. Huss, G. W. Brown, T. B. Micheal, K. E. Bain, a brother of J. A. Bain. Some of the men who settled the Beverly and Milo communities are R. F. Cope, J. E. Pietsch, J. N. Montgomery, Sr., Sam Gregory. Old settlers who settled in various parts of the county are Q. B. Brown; Dave and Gid Mayfield; J. H. Hughes; Elf Hanna; J. L. Frances; Ed Burleson; J. C. Whitely; R. Sedwick; J. H. McClendon; N. M. Dickerson and A. P. Donnell.

FIRST SCHOOLS

It is noted that the early settlers of the county realized the value of an educational system and soon after the organization of the county, a school building was built. This building was 24x36 feet. The school was taught the first year by John M. Skeen, a brother of Ples Skeen, one of the pioneer settlers of the county. The Skeen brothers also conducted a real estate office in Silverton for a number of years.

The second school was taught by J. W. Beck, a relative of R. Sedgwick. The second year it was found that a larger school building was needed and a two-story wooden building was erected. This building stood until it was replaced by a brick school building in 1911. The old building was torn down by a windstorm several years later.

Practically all of Briscoe County schools were organized on May 10, 1892, although no school was held in some of them for several years due to the fact that this county was very thinly settled at that time.

Silverton School District No. 1 was organized with most of the rest in 1892. Among the first teachers were D. C. Lowe, Eva Wright, and Sena Crawford. The first school house was situated in the southwest part of town and it was later destroyed by fire. The first brick school building, erected in 1911, was used until the early 1920's. Silverton's present high school building was erected about in 1920 at the cost of $100,000.00.

Lakeview School District No. 2 was also organized in 1892, among the first teachers were: Mrs. B. C. Cook and Chas. A. Donnell. Their salaries were $46 and $36 respectively. At one time a church was located near the school building, but it was destroyed by fire, and since then the Sunday School and other social affairs have been held in the school building. This school was named from the large lake located in front of the building.

Francis School District No. 3 was located about fifteen miles southwest of Silverton. No school was held here until after 1898. The school was named for an old pioneer, Mr. J. L. Francis.

Rock Creek, at one time called Coker, was School District No. 4. Its first teacher was B. C. Paco. The first school at Rock Creek was held in January 1892, with a term of four months, and a salary of $40 per month.

Beverly, District No. 6, was organized in 1892, along with the other schools of the county. The first teacher was W. I. McGehee. MORE MORE MORE MORE. We find that later on District No. 5 and District No. 6 consolidated to make District No. 16, which was named San Jacinto.

Heckman, District No. 7 was named after an early settler, John Heckman. Bertha Warner was one of the first teachers for this school, and her salary was $30 per month.

Red River District No. 8, was also organized in 1892. The name was given to the muddy boundary between Texas and Oklahoma.

McGoughey, District No. 9, was once known as Red River, and it was renamed Antelope. This school had a modern brick building and was the center of social activities for that part of the county.

Jago, Common School District No. 10 is at present time Quitaque Independent School District. McGoughey was consolidated with Jago to make the Quitaque Independent School District.

Holt, School District No. 11 was located in the southwestern corner of the county. The first teacher was S. T. Cooper, and his salary was $33.75 per month. This school, too, was named after an old pioneer family. The pupils were transferred to the Lone Star School in Floyd County.

Kent, School District No. 13, was located in the extreme eastern part of the county and was a modern country school, being well-housed in an up-to-date brick building.

Gasoline, School District No. 14, was located in the southwestern part of the county, and was a very efficient school, having a good building and efficient teachers.

Howard, District No. 15, was located on the Howard Brothers land in the Northern part of the county.

San Jacinto, District No. 16, as stated above, was created when Malone No. 5, and Beverly No.

6 consolidated. This school is in operation at the present, housed in a brick building.

Depreciation And Income Taxes

Depreciation takes its toll from farm machinery, buildings and other farm investments every year. It's just simple economics that capital goods lose value as they age. There is a bright spot, however, because farmers can deduct this depreciation from their income tax, says C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

All farmers, whether they complete their own tax returns or provide information to an accountant for filing, should study the choices on depreciation available to them. A copy of the Farmers Guide 1962 Farmers Tax Guide, which may be obtained from the local county agent, provides an explanation of the alternatives available. The discussion in Chapter 9 of the Guide explains how each of these choices can affect the amount of tax to be paid in a particular year.

A rather recent change in the tax law allows what is called Additional First Year Depreciation. This is a flat 20 percent deduction allowed the first year on personal property used in farming (or business) provided the assets have a useful life of six or more years. The total on which this deduction can be taken is $10,000 on a single tax return, or $20,000 on a joint return, explains Bates. For computing regular year-to-year depreciation, the farmer has a choice of three different methods. If the Straight Line Method is used, the farmer subtracts a reasonable salvage value from the cost of the asset, and then divides the remainder by the number of years of estimated useful life. This gives the annual depreciation allowance, which is the same amount every year.

Under the Declining Balance Method, the rate of depreciation on new assets is double the rate used in straight line method. For example, on a tractor having 10-year life, the depreciation is computed by taking 20 percent of the cost as the first year's allowance. This is then subtracted from the cost, and 20 percent of the remainder is the second year's allowance, Bates points out. No salvage value is required under the Declining Balance Method there is a "remainder" after 10 years deductions.

The farmer's choice of the Declining Balance Method or other fast write-off on an asset would depend on his need of larger deductions. For example, in a year of unusually good income, a tractor, combine or other asset bought could be placed on this method, thereby doubling the depreciation. Conversely, if the year's income is small, any asset bought could be placed on the Straight Line Method, thereby holding the depreciation to the lowest possible level.

Farmers should also remember that depreciation may be taken on breeding stock. It should be claimed on those animals that are purchased at a cost considerably above what they will bring when discarded from the herd.

It is believed that many farmers can manage to claim larger de-deductions on their business assets, thus reducing their tax obligation, says Bates. Get a copy of the 1962 Farmers Tax Guide and study the choices you have in claiming this important business deduction, he suggests.

HOW WOULD YOU EXPLAIN IT TO A CHILD?

What do you tell him — "Daddy isn't coming home anymore"? Or, "You're the man of the house now"?

Maybe everyone ought to witness sudden death on the highway . . . and watch the stunned faces of the ones who were left living. Because once you see it, you never forget it.

You begin to realize how suddenly it can happen . . . and how abruptly the same can happen to you, or to your family.

This year alone, nearly 42,000 funerals will result from traffic accidents, according to the present mounting rate.

Yet many of these accidents can be prevented—with your cooperation.

HERE'S HOW:

FIRST—Drive safely and courteously yourself. Observe speed limits and warning-signs.

Where traffic laws are obeyed, deaths go DOWN!

SECOND—Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws. Traffic regulations work for you, not against you.

Where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

THIRD—Work through your church, PTA or civic group for extra policing where needed, better street lights and signals, and a school safety program.

Where people work actively for safety, deaths go DOWN!

FOURTH—Call on your local or state safety council for help in promoting better laws and uniform enforcement.

Where everyone understands the law, deaths go DOWN!

In city after city, day after day, it's been proved over and over again—

Four Persons Injured In Month of January

The Highway Patrol investigated 4 rural accidents in Briscoe County during the month of January according to Sgt. D. R. Dowdy, Patrol supervisor of this area. These wrecks accounted for four persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $1,660.00. The Highway Patrol supervisor pointed out that rural motor vehicle traffic deaths, injuries and accidents increased in the 31 county Panhandle district during January, 1962, as compared with the same month last year. Fourteen deaths were chalked up last month as compared to six that were recorded in January, 1961. 81 injuries were reported this January with 51 for last year. A total of 162 rural traffic accidents were investigated as compared to 127 for January, 1961. "This trend can get us off to a bad start, unless motorists assist every way they can in helping to keep these grim statistics to a minimum," the Sergeant stated. The Highway Patrol Sergeant reminded motorists that Texas law requires all registered motor vehicles to have valid inspection stickers displayed by midnight April 15 and the best way to avoid the long line expected in the last minute rush is to have your vehicle inspected now.

"WHAT IS A MAN PROFITED IF HE GAIN THE WHOLE WORLD, BUT LOSE HIS SOUL?"

This is a question Jesus asked the multitude. It is a question asked us today — and one we must answer. The way we answer this question dictates where we will spend eternity. The difference between these two answers is the difference between Heaven and Hell. There is no "middle ground" — no "neutral ground". All who are not POSITIVELY GOOD are bad. "He that gathereth not with Me scattereth abroad," said Jesus.

Man's wealth isn't measured in land, cattle, bank accounts, oil or stocks and bonds. Neither is it measured by physical ability or mental aptitude. "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he hath," said Jesus. Man's wealth IS HIS SOUL. THIS LOST, ALL IS LOST!!

If it were possible for a man to "gain the WHOLE WORLD" (all the cattle, land, oil, silver, gold, Buildings), should he lose his soul, his life would have been a MISERABLE FAILURE! But should you live the life of a Lazarus (lame, a beggar, helpless, "moreover the dogs came and licked his sores"), but should SAVE THAT SOUL, the misery of your life would be swallowed up in YOUR GREAT SUCCESS!! (Some people when they read the story of "The Rich Man and Lazarus," Luke 18:19, are disposed to pity Lazarus. Don't waste your pity on him! Pity the OTHER! Pity him who "was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day." Lazarus doesn't need your pity; the other does — if it would help.)

When we all stand before God in judgement, a lot of things we have thought were important are going to suddenly lose their value. And a lot of things that we just haven't had time for are going to suddenly skyrocket in value. The only trouble may be that we have spent so much time on trivials that we haven't had time to gather those treasures that will there be so important.

Not A Stone Unturned

By Jerry Williamson
 Courage is the Answer

We were deeply impressed by a recent incident that happened at the FFA-FHA Sweetheart Banquet two weeks ago. A young man stood before practically the entire high school and stated that he could not play for a dance because it was contrary to his beliefs.

"My! What kind of fanatic is he?" some thought. Whether everyone would admit it or not, this young man had more courage than the average person. When we heard of his stand for his principles, we asked, "Could we do the same thing under the same circumstances?"

It is sometimes popular, it seems, to call young Christians "sissies." It takes a great deal more courage, however, to stand pat for one's beliefs than it does to play morals, ethics, and convictions aside and follow along with the crowd.

"Hypocrite" seems to be a good name for the one who suddenly has no religion when the gang comes around. But a better name would be coward, pure coward.

A weak person hasn't the courage to stand for what he believes, so he allows himself to be jerked about by every "wind of perversion" until he has no beliefs at all.

I become very disturbed at people who not only indulge in the practice of cheating themselves, but also encourage others to join them in the crime. These "brave" people are such low cowards that they must have someone to accompany them on their "exciting" road to "fooling the teacher." But when they are caught cheating, they are so cowardly that they won't admit their wrongdoing and make their punishment.

It takes a great deal of courage to refrain from cheating on tests, especially when some teachers make it even easier by leaving the room.

We can all profit from a lot more courage in the face of opposition. Courage to face those who are against us will make us strong and it will make our nation strong.

OUR APOLOGIES —

Our apologies to those grade school teachers who have been faithful to turn in their news. We regret that we cannot always print it.

STUDENTS VOICE CANDID COMMENTS ON FOREIGN SCHOOL PLAN

There was a great deal of subdued excitement and interest in a Sophomore geometry class Thursday morning. The teachers had been to a program the day before and heard the European educational system discussed.

Mrs. Redin announced to her class that she was going to follow the European plan for the remainder of the year. There would be no daily grades, no weekly tests, no six-weeks' grades. At the end of the year a comprehensive test would be given. All who passed the test would receive credit for the year's work.

Mrs. Redin asked the class to express their reactions to the new plan before she explained that she was "only talking." She had not planned to carry the idea so far, but when the students accepted it so readily, she decided to find out what they really thought about it. Many varied were their ideas about such a plan.

Dwin Davis doesn't think the idea is worth a plugged nickel. Students who learn rapidly may ask that a problem be explained and the slower students will become confused and try to use a theorem they have not learned.

Jimmy Myers, Raye Garrison, Sheryl May, and Jimmy Smith expressed similar sentiments in that the poor student would be inclined to slow down and it would be hard for them to pass the course.

Riley Harris, Susie Hill, Mary Monroe, Kenneth Cole, Linda Harvell, and Mary McWilliams plea for daily grades and more tests. They believe that tests help chart the progress of a student that he can restudy the things he failed to learn.

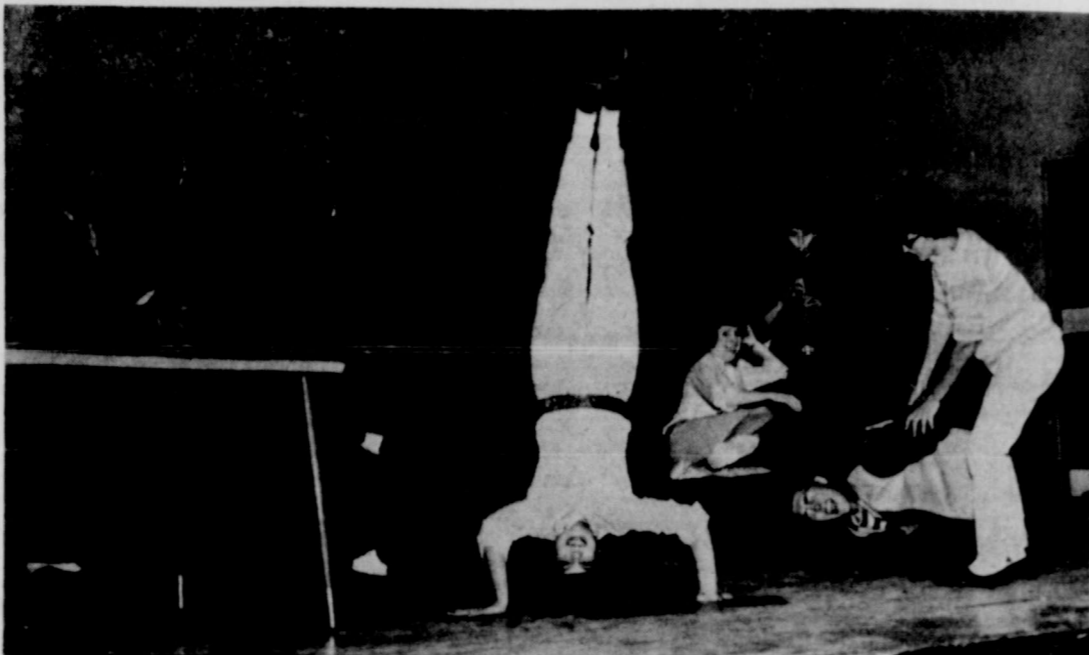

Raye Garrison, Sheryl May, Jimmy Smith, Ronnie Hester, and Gary Hunt think this system would be good for the better students

Hauu Kite Addresses Students

On Wednesday, February 14, Brother Hauu Kite of the Silverton Church of Christ brought a talk to the high school student body during Activity Period. Brother Kite's main theme was "Honesty." Mr. Kite said that we should be true to ourselves and our country. He said that he felt that too many people were becoming lax about telling the truth and being loyal to the flag. "It doesn't take an intelligent person to be dishonest," he said, "and it doesn't take a strong person to be dishonest. But it does take a weak person to be dishonest."

Brother Kite finished by saying that if we would go back to some of our standards we could stand up to our flag and proudly salute it knowing that we will continue to live under it.

Young People's Citizenship Poll

This week the "Young People's Citizenship Poll" did a survey of the entire high school. Students were asked their opinions concerning integration and segregation.

In the Senior class, 58% oppose having Negroes attend school with the whites in Silverton. Forty-two per cent would not mind attending school with Negroes. Seventy-four per cent would mind having their children attend school with Negroes, but the same 74% believe that Negroes will eventually attend school here with whites. Sixty-eight per cent of the class feel that integration will lead to mixed marriages while the remaining 32% say differently.

The Junior class as a whole voted for integration. Only 24% said they object to going to school with Negroes. However, 38% object to having their children integrated with Negroes. Sixty-seven per cent of the class think that Silverton schools will become integrated and 81% think that integration will lead to mixed marriages between the races.

Of the 40 Sophomores questioned, the majority voted for integration. Only 33% oppose integration but 45% do not want their children integrated. Seventy-three per cent feel that integration is coming to Silverton while the remaining 27% think that Silverton schools will retain segregation. Sixty-eight per cent do not think that integration will lead to intermarriages.

The Freshmen class also voted for integration with 73% saying that they do not object to Negroes attending school with them. Sixty-six per cent do not mind having their own children go to an integrated school and the same 66% believe that Negroes will eventually attend school here with the whites. Sixty-eight per cent do not believe that integration will lead to intermarriage.

The school as a whole voted for integration with 81 or 67% voting "yes" and 40 or 33% voting "no." Of the four high school classes, the Senior class was the only one that voted against integration. This possibly shows a change of viewpoint in succeeding generations.

Twirp Week Trophies Presented

Last Wednesday during assembly, Robert Rhode, Student Council president, presented trophies to the winners of the Twirp Week Dating Contest. Sandi House was presented a loving cup engraved with the words, "World's Greatest Hunter," for having the most dates with different boys during the week. Emmett Tamlin and Larry McWilliams tied for the honor of being the boy most in demand. Emmett won the toss and was presented a trophy which said, "Man of the Year." The number of dates these two champions racked up was not disclosed; however, we believe it must have been a large number because of the many dates that some of the other students had.

ONE-ACT PLAY DIRECTORS MEET

TALKS WITH TEACHERS

TEACHER DISCUSSES THE PROBLEMS OF HER PROFESSION

This week 'Talks With Teachers' interviews a grade school teacher, Mrs. J. S. Hinds, third grade teacher.

Q. What do you consider your greatest problem as a grade school teacher?

A. My greatest problem is time. The days are just not long enough. I must make the most of each child's characteristics. Each child is an entity in himself. To provide personal security in the classroom and help each child develop to the utmost plus all the extras in my day really makes a time problem.

Q. Do you think students who have done poorly scholastically should be passed on to higher grades because of their age? Why?

A. This depends on several important factors. I would say no for at least one year and until everything possible had been done to meet the child's needs. Then if the child is to be weak scholastically, I would favor placing him on to higher grades but keeping his learning as much on his level as possible. I think parents should understand the placing and grading method in these cases and his permanent records show it also.

OWLS SHOCK CHIEFS, 61-59

As a grand finale, the injury-ridden Silverton Owls scalped the Crosbyton Chiefs 61 to 59, Tuesday night, February 13.

This was the final game for the Senior quintet, Larry Elms, Larry May, Kenneth Peugh, Robert Rhode, and Kenny Thornton. Due to a recent injury, Larry May was unable to play but supported the team from the stands. Robert Rhode and Kenny Thornton, recovering from earlier injuries, limped on and off the court while their Senior team mates, Larry Elms and Kenneth Peugh sparked the team to victory.

However, fate had still another ankle injury for the battle-scarred Seniors; Larry Elms hobbled off the court at the end of the game having become the fourth crippled Senior out of the five departing players. To the finish, these Seniors exhibited their "togetherness" in that each seemed to have chosen the right ankle for mishap.

In order that SHS might have happy memories of them, the Seniors accounted for 44 of the team's 61 points. Larry Elms with deadly accuracy at the basket racked up 19 points in his final effort for the Red and White.

These players who finished their high school basketball activities expressed great respect for Coach Bob Whelchel and an appreciation for his guidance both on and off the court.

These Seniors also extend to the other members of the team their gratitude for the pleasant association of the year. They have great confidence in the ability of those players who will make up the team next year and expect them to capitalize on the experience gained to produce winners for many seasons to come.

This game represented a battle in which the loser was forced into the cellar spot of our district. Since the Owls won this contest, our team placed 4th in conference competition with a 2-6 game record.

Individual scoring in this last game went as follows: Larry Elms, 19; Kenneth Peugh, 16; Fred Stafford, 12; Kenny Thornton, 9; Jay Towe, 4; Greg Towe, 1.

Admission price will be 25c. The Student Council urges everyone to come to see the last basketball games of the season.

show and tell time for different kinds of valentines. The refreshments were decorated heart-shaped cookies to two kinds and cakes or strawberry pops.

When we came in from recess, we found red novelties on our desks. We also had red suckers which were heart-shaped. We thought the cookies were too pretty to eat, but we did eat them. Some children said it was a nice party. We wish to thank the mamas who helped us have such a nice party.

They are Mrs. L. E. Davis, Mrs. Melvin Hester, Mrs. Truman Stephens, and Mrs. Kenneth Tate. I thought it was very nice of them.

I have found in my experience older children do not fit socially with younger children. The age groups work together as a whole much more formably.

Q. Do you think that very intelligent children should be allowed to skip grades? Why?

A. No, I do not think they should skip grades but they should not be allowed to grow mentally lazy either. They should have a "stepped-up" program and be challenged to meet it. Teachers tend to spend too much time with slow pupils because they are not independent. The wise teacher will use individualized reading, research, reports, daily problems and many other resources to meet the challenge of the gifted. I would like to see special classes once or twice a day where they can be offered a foreign language, science laboratories, music and other things. This method keeps the children socially adjusted as to age too. The gifted child doesn't come to feel "smarter" either and is better liked by all.

Q. Do you consider the large number of Latin-American children in school a handicap to the learning of the other children? Why?

A. No, I have found no problems here. All the children work together nicely and fit in with my slow, medium, and fast groups. They are very willing and well-mannered students too. Their biggest handicap is due to bi-lingual difficulties and they are weakest in language arts. I would like to see a compulsory summer program for Latin-American beginners so they could enter first grade better prepared to understand English.

Q. Do you think that there is a limit to the amount that a third grader can learn or do you think that he is perfectly capable of taking on heavier subjects such as foreign languages?

A. I think my slow and average 3rd graders have a full program. They take quite a big step from the second to a more formal or heavier social studies, science, and language arts program in the third. But again, the gifted 3rd grader could easily meet a heavier subject as foreign language and be perfectly capable of learning it too. I do favor teaching foreign language in the grades in this way.

The boys' schedule will be: Freshmen and Sophomores will play at 6:10 p. m. Monday, and the Juniors and Seniors will play at 8:30 p. m. Monday. The losers of these two games will play each other at 6:10 p. m. Tuesday, and the winners will play for first at 8:40 p. m. Tuesday.
