

All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

We know of a town that is killing its local newspaper. The townspeople are not doing this quickly as with a gunshot, nor are they being as merciful as the department of justice is when it sends a criminal to the electric chair or to the gas chamber.

It is as if the newspaper were a living, breathing organism over which an airtight cover is being placed. It is choking now, as the air supply diminishes.

In the case to which we refer the owner is a woman. She is not the owner, publisher, editor, ad salesman, bookkeeper, reporter, clerk and janitor by choice, but, being the operator of a small town newspaper, simply cannot afford to hire an assistant.

At the end of the month she delivers her statements of account to the local merchants who smile broadly as they hand her their check, and remark, "Here's my donation for this month." On being approached for advertising he replies, "I'm one of your best advertisers; don't bother me for a larger contribution." In reality his monthly advertising bill probably amounts to $12 or $15 — most likely the newspaperwoman spends double that amount at his store each month on items that she may feel are priced a little too high, but she doesn't complain, nor does she begrudge him his markup in order to make a living.

It seems that merchants in a small town, especially if they have the only business place of its kind, feel that they are without competition and that advertising is of no value to them other than as a crutch for the local newspaper. They overlook the fact that while she will work for almost no salary at all, the ridicule and harassment will destroy the editor's pride in her product, and eventually the newspaper will wither and die.

Even in the horse and buggy days local merchants realized the value of advertising. (Copies of the Briscoe County News which were published years and years ago contained more advertising than it does today.) And in those days the highways were not so good, transportation and communication facilities were poor, and the local merchant might have been justified in feeling a smugness, with a "they'll come to me" kind of attitude. It appears, however, that is not the way they operated their businesses.

Today, times have changed so much that a lot of people think nothing at all of boarding an airplane for a shopping spree in Dallas or Houston, much less driving to Amarillo or Lubbock for a few hours. In the future with the jet airliners, customers will travel even further to shop.

And, don't think for a minute the big city merchants don't realize the value of the out-of-town customers. Why else would so many of them spend thousands of dollars every month to reach their customers through the daily newspapers, radio and television time, and direct-mail advertising? These are the competitors of the local businesses — the ones who buy pages and pages every month in the newspapers they think their customers are most likely to read and on stations they are most likely to watch and listen to.

When they pay their bills for advertising each month, do you think for one minute they say or even think, "This is my contribution to keeping our newspaper, radio and television stations alive"? Not on your life — it is an investment that pays dividends.

Lots of small town merchants forget that they have to advertise their goods or services if they are to sell more. Whether they walk out to the curb to invite someone into the store, hawk their goods on a public address system, paint signs on their windows or place advertising in the medium their customers are most likely to subscribe to, they do have to advertise if they are to be successful and if they are to compete in this modern day.

Does history repeat itself? Apparently so, for the little town of which we speak has killed its local newspaper before.

Even the firms who have long been famous for their volume of mail-order business are now among the biggest newspaper advertisers. They send their catalogs out to each and every customer — but that isn't enough. They still advertise, and their testimonials indicate

Silverton, (Briscoe County) Texas

VOLUME 55 NUMBER 8

Northcutt Re-Elected President Of G.S.P.A.

Pat Northcutt will head the Briscoe County Grain Sorghum Producers Association as President during 1963. The Silverton Community farmer was elected at a County-wide meeting of the producer group this week, at which speakers challenged local grain growers to step up their interest in local livestock feeding and other outlets, and to become more interested in foreign and domestic policies affecting their own pocket-book.

The fact that immediate knowledge on the part of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association that area farm income was destined to be lowered through changes in the administrative interpretation of the 1963 Emergency Feed Grain Program, back in November, 1963, was credited with the group's being able to obtain changes which resulted in restoring farm income through the 9 cents per hundred increase in price support which was announced by Secretary Freeman on December 10, 1962. In reporting this, Nolan Chandler, Agricultural Assistant of GSPA, went on to point out that the Association is carrying on vigorous prodding to more orderly expansion of grain sorghum's use and availability. He mentioned specific examples of needed attention if additional markets are to be had in the Arizona-California cattle feeding area, and the vast poultry feeding district of the Southeast United States.

In giving direction to the Association for its legislative activities through the coming months local farmers wanted a program much the same as they are having this year.

Other officers of the Briscoe County group for 1963 elected at the meeting are: Charles Whitfill, Vice-President; Lem Weaver, Secretary-Treasurer; and Glen Lindsey, Elevator Representative.

Patrol Investigates Two Rural Accidents

The Highway Patrol investigated 2 rural accidents in Briscoe County during the month of January according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for one person injured and an estimated property damage of $670.00.

The Highway Patrol Supervisor pointed out that rural motor vehicle traffic deaths, injuries and accidents slightly decreased in the 31 county Panhandle district during January, 1963, as compared with the same month for 1962. Five deaths were tallied last month as compared to seven in January, 1962. 61 injuries as compared to 81 for January, 1962. A total of 132 rural traffic accidents were investigated as compared to 162 for January, 1962. "This slight over-all decrease of deaths, injuries and accidents is encouraging, but these figures must be greatly reduced for each of the following months of 1963 if we are to have a safe year in motor vehicle travel," the Sergeant stated.

The Veteran Patrol Supervisor reminded motorists that the law requires all Texas registered motor vehicles to have valid inspection stickers displayed by midnight April 15. The best way to avoid the long line expected in the last minute rush is to have your vehicle inspected now.

Texas, Our Texas
(State Song)

Texas, our Texas!
All hail the mighty State!
Texas, our Texas!
So wonderful, so great!
Boldest and grandest
Withstanding every test;
O Empire wide and glorious,
You stand supremely blest.
Texas, O Texas!
Your free-born Single Star
Sends out its radiance
To nations near and far,
Emblem of Freedom!
It sets our hearts aglow,
With thoughts of San Jacinto
And glorious Alamo.
Texas, dear Texas!
From tyrant grip now free,
Shines forth in splendor
Your Star of Destiny!
Mother of Heroes!
We come your children true,
Proclaiming our allegiance
Our Faith, our Love for you.
Chorus:
God bless you, Texas!
And keep you brave and strong,
That you may grow in power and
worth,
Thro'-out the ages long.
God bless you, Texas!
And keep you brave and strong,
That you may grow in power and
worth,
Thro'-out the ages long.

New Highway Map Available at Austin

Austin, Texas — The strikingly colorful 1963 edition of the Official Highway Travel Map of Texas is ready for the asking.

Designed to show Texan and tourist alike how to discover the Lone Star State's vacation "fun-tier," the Texas Highway Department publication is free to the public. Copies may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, Travel Division, Austin. It is also available at the 25 highway district offices and eight Tourist Bureaus operated by the department. County tax offices have special cards for ordering copies of the map.

Within the year, 750,000 or more of the free maps depicting Texas delights in vivid full-color photographs will find their way to glove compartments all over the United States . . . and the world.

Keyed to the swelling Texas tourist industry . . . up 14 percent in visitor volume last year . . . the new travel map urges users to "Discover Texas . . . Today's Fun-tier." The map and its "fun-tier" is the objective of making sure that physicians are informed on the latest methods of diagnosis and treatment. When a person goes to a doctor, he should receive all the benefits of the best medical knowledge and skills."

The second goal of the 1963 Crusade, Mr. Griffin said, "will be more much needed money for research. Only through research can we hope eventually to save the one half of those who develop cancer who can not now be saved. There is new hope in the scientific community that cancer can be eliminated as a threat to life. New knowledge of cancer is piling up at a rapid rate."

Mr. Griffin said that increased funds are greatly needed to keep this knowledge building toward eventual solution of the cancer problem. "Contributions to the 1963 Crusade will pay dividends in the future. It is very gratifying that the 1962 Crusade, with contributions exceeding $39,000,000, was our best Crusade year in history. Let's try to beat it this year. I believe the people of Briscoe County will give more in 1963 to cure more."

there are links in a promotional package of publications and other materials aimed at enhancing the image of Texas as a vacation paradise.

Purpose of the map is to stimulate travel in Texas by both Texans and visitors, and to make it easier for motorists to get from place to place. Scenic and cultural diversification of Texas is capsuled in a message by Governor John Connally urging prospective visitors to "visit our historical sites, vacation playgrounds, inland lakes and Gulf Coast beaches . . . our mountains, plains and piney woods . . . our cities and towns. The Texas Highway Department will be happy to provide you with any information you may need for your visit."

Eighteen full-color photographs illustrate the Governor's description of Texas' varied vacation-lands. Depicting activities ranging from big-league baseball to bass fishing, the photographic cross section and easy-to-read map comprise a useful showpiece of the many-splendored charms of Texas.

The 28x36-inch map shows that highways have been growing with Texas and contributing to the growth of its tourist industry. Multi-lane-divided highway miles now completed and indicated on the new map total 2,808 miles.

Nearly 50,000 miles of highways Some 22,000 miles of Farm and are shown on the current map. Ranch to Market roads are shown and all Interstate, U. S. and State highways are indicated. Located on the new map are 854 Roadside Safety Rest Areas.

CHEVROLET TRUCK QUALITY

You can see the difference wherever you look

If you believe various makes of trucks are pretty much alike, you aren't doing justice to your pocket-book. There are differences.

A Chevrolet truck welcomes comparison. Look at the little things on it—latches, hinges, stitching in the upholstery. Notice how strong the tailgate is, the rubber encased chains that keep it from sagging.

The body floor is made of select wood to eliminate the rust problem and give you better footing. The lower side panels are double-walled; you might dent the inside but it won't show through.

Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense?

If you are going to need a new truck this year, you should look at the quality Chevrolet has to offer. May we bring over a new '63 so you can examine it?

President Kennedy thinks, and you must agree with him, that our youth is dwindling into a trickle of nothingness, and that if nothing is done we will soon reach the point of being devoid of muscles. Maybe you disagree with him on this point.

The American youth is not what it used to be, if so, where are those young men and women who walked 10 and 15 miles to school each day? They are gone, true; the auto has replaced them. However, the auto does not have a brain and can not think for itself. We, on the other hand, do have a brain which must function efficiently or we will cease to be superior to the other animals. Since the beginning of the recorded literature, great philosophers and later, doctors have recognized that in order for the brain to work the body must have good circulation. Exercise is the ground work of a good physical strength and good physical strength leads to clear thinking.

Go home and look at yourself in your mirror, and if you can imagine — try to think what you will look like by the time you are 25. If it appears gruesome, then do something about it. You don't have to walk 50 miles, 25 would do. You may be sore for a few months from it, but you will be a lot happier for it and above all else, you will feel better. Don't let America's future go to "pot."

Most everyone thought that the towers of the CASTLE at the Sweetheart Banquet were deserted because they were too small for a human to enter, but—the LADY was watching all the boys and girls who were sweethearts for the evening. How nice she thought everyone looked in their gowns, suits and white sport coats.

The Rampley boys were having fun. It was learned that they had no trouble getting the car; however, Mr. Rampley had to ask his mother for her car. Wonder if he blushed at having to do so after all these years.

Who was with Becky? He must be her friend from Oklahoma.

Brenda and Rita had large eyes. It was thought at first that they were making eyes at the boys in the band, but they also smiled radiantly at their dates.

Jimmy Reid had evidently practiced his speech quite a lot to be able to deliver it with such nonchalance, but he most likely didn't practice the beet red blush. Wonder what was in the box? Sure hope a boy picked it.

When the dancing began everyone enjoyed the band. Why should anyone have to be asked to dance? Sooner or later the freshmen are going to have to learn how to step on their date's toes gracefully.

As the dance warmed up some of the boys and girls looked like they had twenty extra joints in their backs. If agnesswasventured as to what they were doing it would probably be the Dish Rag Twist. Sometimes they face one way while their feet go the other. What a wild fairy tale!

AN EPISODE OF SPARROWS

By Rumer Golden

On Catford Street, London, there was not so much as a blade of grass, nothing that was not man-made; the poor streets of a big city hid earth and earth's power of growth under bricks, mortar, asphalt, and paving stones. AN EPISODE OF SPARROWS is the story of how two of the Catford street children made a garden in the unpromising surroundings. It was a little garden, but, as Vincent the restaurant-keeper said, nothing is just itself, and this story, which begins with the dropping of a packet of cornflower seeds on the pavement, ends in the changing of several people's lives; not only the children's but Vincent's and the rich Miss Chesneys' in the Square.

This book has poetry, humor, compassion, and profound understanding; not only that, from page to page you want to find out what happens.

Norma Gray

Do you know Norma Gray? If you don't, perhaps it is because she moved here at mid-term to attend Silvertown High School. Most of the students have come to know her and to appreciate her kind smile and friendly voice.

Norma moved to Silvertown with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Cantwell, from Fort Worth. She hasn't been here long enough to compile many records, but she took an active part in her school at Fort Worth. She was on the honor roll for two years.

Norma was a member of the FHA for two years, the Junior Historians Club one year, and of the Library Club for two years, during the time that she attended school in Fort Worth.

For the students and teachers of Silvertown High School, the staff of THE OWLET says, "WELCOME NORMA. We hope we can help you to love our school as we do."

The list of prize winners at a recent picnic was announced as follows: "Mrs. Smith won the ladies' rolling pin throwing contest by hurling a pin 75 feet."

"Mr. Smith won the 100-yard dash."

A very stout man was walking on the promenade of a seaside town when he noticed a weighing machine with the notice: "I speak your weight."

He put a penny in the slot and stood on the platform. A voice answered: "One at a time, please."

Student Council Is Planning Volleyball Tournament

The Student Council of Silvertown High School is planning an outsiders volleyball tournament. Classes in the school will be ineligible this year; however, students may play on any outsider's team.

According to Bill Schott, council president, details and date of the tournament will be announced later.

"The woman next door has a hat just like the one I bought," the wife wailed.

"And I suppose you want me to buy you another one," he said. "Well, it would be cheaper than moving."

Diner: "Waiter, this soup is cold, bring me some that's hot."
Waiter: "What do you want me to do? Burn my thumb?"

Annual Sweetheart Banquet Held

The annual Sweetheart Banquet, honoring the members of the FHA and FFA, was held last Saturday night in the Silvertown high school building. The theme, "Stairway to the Heavens," was enjoyed by the approximately 150 who attended.

The "stairway to the heavens" was covered with angel hair and heavenly blue lights with small cupid, glittering with anticipation, leading the way. The guests of Heaven entered the gates into a fantasy of blue. Behind the head table was a huge castle covered with glossy angel hair which seemed to change colors from every direction. Tables were also covered with blue and on each table was a candle. Everyone ate by candlelight, which was rather romantic.

The meal consisted of baked ham, baked potatoes, yellow wax beans, tossed salad, hot rolls, angel food cake and strawberries, and iced tea.

After the meal Sue Lanham welcomed the guests. Jimmy Myers responded on behalf of the FFA.

Sue then introduced the Chapter Mothers, Mrs. Johnnie Lanham, Mrs. Ben Whitfill, and Mrs. Farris Martin, as well as Miss Elaine Simnacher, FFA sponsor, and Jack Mayfield, FFA sponsor.

Miss Lanham then presented the FHA Beau, Jim Reid. Following this, Miss Simnacher presented Sue Lanham with the Homemaker of Tomorrow Award.

Entertainment was furnished by a group known as The Premiers. Many stayed and danced after the banquet, which was termed a "heavenly success."

Athletes Looking Forward to Track

Basketball season has ended, and though the teams did not realize their goal of stealing the district spotlight, both boys and girls teams have done well and have provided many evenings of entertainment for the fans of Silvertown.

The athletes are now looking forward to track... all of them. This year, for the first time, the girls will participate in the track events. This should prove interesting as well as healthful for both boys and girls.

Mrs. O. C. Rampley was appointed to serve on the Heritage Committee.

By Ben Ezzell
in The Canadian Record

My love affair with the United States of America began nearly 47 years ago . . . in 1916, when the first World War was in full swing and President Woodrow Wilson was about to lead this nation to the defense of western Europe for the first time.

I didn't know it then, of course . . . but I'm sure I must have been under the influence before many months had gone by. Probably it was a case of early brainwashing . . . my parents taught me to love my country from the beginning, and I never got over it.

What I was taught, however, was not blind devotion . . . but an understanding of the democratic processes of our government and how it works . . . and I was taught that every one of us in this nation has a share in this government, and an obligation to it . . . and that this is a fine and wonderful thing. I still believe this is so.

I believe that it is a citizen's privilege to criticize this government . . . and a citizen's duty to try to change it, through due process of law and election, when he is convinced that changes should be made . . . but it is also a citizen's obligation to support it and uphold it and defend it against all who would tear it down.

That is why, I suppose, that organizations like the John Birch Society, and publications like the Amarillo Daily News . . . which obviously distrust the democratic system and can find nothing good in the system of government of the United States but continually criticize it and attempt to undermine it at every turn . . . arouse my ire so frequently and give me an urge to fight back, in defense of my country, with whatever weapons I can command.

I mention this by way of explanation to readers of this newspaper . . . so that you may know that my occasional editorial outbursts against that great patriot, Editor Wesley Izzard, are not due solely to my own bad temper or an evil disposition, but should probably be blamed on that early brainwashing by my parents, grandparents, and first teachers which convinced me, beyond all changing, that this really is a great country and that I should be proud of it.

Because I think it is . . . and I am.

IN THE PEOPLE'S CAPITALISM

A few years ago a representative group of Americans gathered at a university round table to discuss our economy, and named it "people's capitalism."

Reaction from the Communists was instant. They were appalled. They scorned the idea. They called it "impossible as fried ice." They mobilized their professors who wrote papers proving to their complete satisfaction there could be no such thing as "people's capitalism."

The fact is that much of the capital that runs America comes from the millions of people who make up America. It flows into our economy through their savings accounts, pension funds, stock and bond purchases, life insurance premiums. And through the $45 billion worth of U. S. Savings Bonds held by tens of millions of Americans.

This stake the American people have in their country is evidence of our abiding faith in our way of life and our determination to keep our freedoms intact. And to help mankind all over the world in its fight against slavery and oppression.

Are you in the fight? Show that you are by buying Savings Bonds at your bank or through Payroll Savings where you work. And see if you don't feel pretty good about it.

Beginning Drivers Need License, Too

What must a Texas teen-ager do to learn to drive?
 Captain Sanford B. Lee, Driver's License Service supervisor for this region of the Texas Department of Public Safety, says if you want to learn to drive or need to practice before you take the driving test, you must make application and pass the vision, signs and rules test.

Then a license will be issued to permit the beginner to drive only when there is a licensed driver in the front seat with the driver. If the applicant is at least 16 years of age or has successfully completed the Driver Education "Behind the Wheel" training, the restriction will be removed from the license when the driver completes his test by passing the driving test.

LICENSE REQUIRED

Every resident of the state who drives a motor vehicle must have either a valid Texas operator's, commercial or chauffeurs license.

Lee says if a youth is under 18 years of age, his application for a license must be signed under oath by someone who is willing to assume responsibility for any negligence or misconduct on his part while driving.

If the father is living and has custody of a minor, he is required to sign the application, otherwise the application must be signed by the mother or guardian.

If neither, father, mother, or guardian has custody of the minor, then the application must be signed by the employer or judge in the county in which he lives.

"It is unlawful for any person who has the custody of a minor to permit such minor to operate a motor vehicle without a valid license," Captain Lee said.

If a minor is under 16 years of age, he must meet one of three requirements before being examined for a license.

ONE - he must present a certificate signed by a certified driver education instructor and the school superintendent or principal showing he has successfully passed an approved driver education course in the public school system.

TWO - the applicant must present an authorization from the Department of Public Safety showing an emergency necessity for driving.

THREE - the applicant may apply for a commercial operator's license restricted to motorcycle or motorbike only, not to exceed 5 brake horsepower.

NONE UNDER FOURTEEN
 A person under fourteen years of age in Texas may not be licensed and must not drive.

Lee stressed that boys and girls driving motorscooters must have a license and obey traffic laws and signals just as a driver of an automobile. "This same rule applies to motorscooter drivers, that no one under fourteen years of age be allowed to drive them," Lee said.

"Motorscooters must also be inspected and licensed annually just as an automobile," he added.

Some parents think it is permissible to let their children drive on dirt roads while they are learning. "This is not legal because these roads are the same as any other public highway that is open for use of the public and are controlled by Texas statutes," Lee said.

Everyone should know that ignorance is no excuse for disobeying the law, because a person can ask any officer what the correct procedure is on a beginner learning to drive or can obtain a digest of traffic rules or a driver's handbook from any DPS office.

When a person without a license drives the automobile of a friend, if stopped by an officer, the friend can be held on in court for allowing an unauthorized minor to drive.

If a parent or guardian permits an unlicensed person to drive, they too can be held on for permitting an unlicensed minor to drive. Lee advised that both offenses are subject to $1 to $200 fines.

The Driver's License Office in Silverton is located in the Court-house and is open the 4th Thursday in the month. Written examinations begin at 9:00 a.m. and at 1:00 p.m. and are followed by the driving test, Captain Lee concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fleming and grandson, Wes Fleming, spent the weekend in Byers with Mrs. Josie Fleming, mother of Walter.

Mrs. Ted Strange, Debbie and David of Dimmitt, and Mrs. Ray Thompson returned home on Thursday of last week after spending two weeks with Mrs. Thompson's mother, Mrs. J. E. Johnston, at San Diego, California, and other relatives in that area. They went by train from Clovis, New Mexico. While they were in California they took the children to several places of interest and Mrs. Thompson reported that a highlight of the trip for her was attending a performance of the Co-Stars at Montclair, in which her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Tex Johnston, were members of the cast.

Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Fox of Lubbock spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Crass. All attended Sunday morning services at the local Church of Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stanford and daughters of Amarillo spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Davis, parents of Mrs. Stanford. Other Sunday dinner guests in the Davis home included Edwin Davis and family, James Davis and family, O. C. Rampley and family and Marlin Jarnagin and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Harber and Ty of Olton were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mercer and children. All attended morning services at the Church of Christ.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

Washington is chucking over the discomfiture of the Federal Trade Commission. A university professor has taken what to the bureaucratic mind is the most treasonable stand possible in recommending that more practical businessmen be placed in key positions in a bureau.

This heresy is contained in the preliminary report on FTC operations by Prof. Carl A. Auerbach, of the University of Minnesota.

Prof. Auerbach has recommended that fewer lawyers be in top spots in the FTC, and in their places, that actual businessmen be appointed. FTC officials are working day and night to suppress this draft.

Very bluntly, the report states that the FTC is not getting the job done its members are paid to do. In addition, it states that the members of this bureaucracy are spending entirely too much time "policing" advertising instead of cleaning up the market place.

For some time, the enlarged FTC staff has been most busily engaged in analyzing advertising, probably because anybody can sit in an easy chair and pontificate on advertising. At the same time, according to the report on mergers released by the House Small Business Committee, the National Federation of Independent Business headed by Rep. Wright Patman, discrimination and preferential treatment in market place has hit all time high.

Recently in the Boston Federal Court of Appeals the FTC was slapped down in one of the cases. It employed to make headlines. It took action against a shaving soap advertised on TV as effective in shaving sandpaper.

Of course, the commercial was quite silly as it can be assumed shaving soap is bought to shave beards, not sandpaper. But inasmuch as sandpaper does not photograph well, in making the commercial a simulated sandpaper, or what is known on stage and TV as a "prop" was used. This could not be done, the FTC ruled.

The court held otherwise, on the basis that deception is only concerned with what is seen on the screen, not what means are employed to achieve an affect to make up for deficiencies in photographic processes.

If the FTC had gotten way with this edict, it would have led to a whole series of rulings.

Of course, it is generally considered that attacks on advertising are merely a feint. The real objective is government control of all communication.

Recently there was the interesting development known as government "news management" followed by career assassination by news "leaks."

Thus, it is quite refreshing for a university professor to recommend FTC get busy solving evils existing in monopolistic trends and quit trying to be advertising experts.

Mrs. Lela Smith of Roswell, New Mexico, left for Florida on Wednesday of last week after having visited her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dearwood Oneal, since the previous Saturday.

Jesse entered a hospital and expected to undergo surgery Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Mars Ratliff of Lockney accompanied her brother and wife to Lubbock.
