

All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

Let's go back to school — if only for a day. Do you remember the smell of chalk dust when the blackboards were erased? Or the mixture of odors coming out of the chemistry laboratory? The sound of marching feet on the way out to recess? The sing periods? And the flag raising ceremonies on occasions? Well, you can experience all of this again during Public Schools Week, March 4-8, in the Silverton Public Schools.

You will be made welcome. So let's make a date now to go back to school — if only for a day. Open house is being planned throughout the local school system for Monday through Thursday of Public Schools Week, with a special open house Thursday evening before the senior play.

Our schools are a vital part of the community's life. Even those of us who have no children in school are interested because some of us will soon have children attending the local school and others may soon have grandchildren entering school.

What should our schools accomplish?

Provide all children with a knowledge of the traditionally accepted "fundamentals." These fundamentals were defined in the early elementary schools as reading, writing and arithmetic. As the pupil advances in school, these three R's should be accomplished by a study of such courses as higher mathematics, science, history, and English. Upon graduation from high school, a student should have had specific training to do something — to go to work and be successful on a job — in the event he finds it impracticable to continue his education.

Enable each child to develop the power to think constructively and critically, and to solve problems.

Provide experience for children and youth from which they learn self-direction and responsibility for their own behavior.

Assist in the development of moral and spiritual values, acceptable social skills and attitudes, and the ability to get along with others.

Assist each youth in his efforts to make a place for himself in the community. Some students prepare themselves for higher education; others work upon leaving school; and still others prepare for home-making. Programs of vocational education and of counseling and guidance are needed in achieving these goals.

Provide educational programs which take into account individual differences. Each child has the right to experience which will assist in his optimum growth and development within his capacity. This includes programs of enrichment for the gifted as well as opportunities for other exceptional children, including the mentally retarded.

Our school system stands in the dawning light of a new day. With increasing community population and increasing student population the school's future is bound to be filled with severe growing pains. Many great strides have been made in Silverton's educational system in the past several years, and the hard work of the school's administration and board of trustees is paying dividends as boys and girls from this community compete so well in colleges and universities across the state and nation.

Visit your local school during Public Schools Week and see how your investment in our future citizens is being put to work. Know, and encourage the teachers as they strive to put the best of themselves and their knowledge into their pupils.

half-time score was 19-17 in favor of the Quitaque five. At the close of the third period the score was tied 30-30.

In the fourth period of play the Panthers poured on the steam and increased their lead to 10 points. The Owls, playing for a win, tried to come from behind, but succeeded only in shaving the margin.

The Panthers are now looking forward to participating in the Regional Tournament to be held in Canyon.

Governor Proclaims Public Schools Week

Special observance of increased emphasis on our education system has been marked annually for thirteen years by a Public Schools Week in Texas.

During this period, parents are encouraged to visit the public schools, and all citizens are urged through special programs to recognize the tremendous importance of our system of education. Our goal is to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation, and to achieve this our citizens are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with their school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers.

Never before in our history has there been a greater need for educated leadership. As we rush to train young people in science and technology to keep pace with world events, it is also important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the period of March 4-8, 1963, as Public Schools Week in Texas.

PTA Congress Born On February 17

February 17 is a red letter day in the annals of parent-teacher associations for it was on that day in 1897 that the organization, now known as the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, was born.

This infant organization was to grow to great heights, nurtured by a group of women who believed the child to be the hope of the world. The women were inspired and led by Alice McLellan Birney of Georgia and Phoebe A. Hearst of California, who called together the, then, National Congress of Mothers.

They would have been pleased had 50 attended from over the United States but, to their amazement and delight, more than 2000 came. The women left the meeting fired with enthusiasm to return home and organize mothers' clubs and they did. Today the far-flung organization numbers more than twelve million women and men in some 47,000 units. The Texas Congress, organized in 1909, numbers more than 766,000, with some 2700 units.

The objectives of that first meeting are the objectives of PTA's today: the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church, and community. Many activities, which are accepted as part of the community and school system today, were started or encouraged by the PTA. They include the hot lunch program, health examinations, prevention of juvenile delinquency, raising the number and quality of the nation's schools and teachers, better teacher salaries and tenure, school bond issues, improved school equipment, health, school libraries, parent education, scholarships, moral and spiritual development — the list is almost endless as each new chapter is added.

Whether by speeches, pageantry, tributes, project dedications, special ceremonies, the membership will call attention this month to the PTA founding and growth.

The plan is said to have now been adopted by other companies interested in aiding these children back to normal lives.

THE FREE WORLD'S ARSENAL

The United States has a clearly defined policy of keeping our powder dry and our arms at the ready. The cost is enormous to the taxpayers of this nation. But I know of no one who would see even one bayonet removed from our arsenal under the conditions existing in the world today. I would like to tell you some of the things our country is doing to defend us. We are in the strongest most flexible military position in our history. Let no one doubt that.

In the two-year period from January, 1961, to January, 1963, the United States increased by one-third the number of strategic delivery vehicles on station. These are our long-range bombers, our land-based and submarine-based strategic missiles. In these two years we have doubled the number of these weapons on alert status, ready for use at any instant. These are the forces we would need to carry out the main burden of battle in a general nuclear war. But the major mission of this force is to deter war by its capability to destroy the enemy's war-making potential, including not only his nuclear strike force and military installations, but also his urban society, if necessary.

In the same period, our general purpose air and ground forces have been boosted. In 1961, the U. S. Army was composed of 11 combat-ready divisions. Today its strength totals 16 divisions ready for combat - an increase of 45 percent. In 1961, we had 16 tactical fighter wings in the Air Force; today our tactical fighter wings total 21 - an increase of 31 percent.

One of the major areas of our defense buildup has been in what are called counter-insurgency forces, units ready to conduct guerrilla warfare anywhere in the world. These units are being developed under the spur of President Kennedy's conviction that aggression involving the use of sublimated, indirect Communist guerrillas is the most likely form of aggression through this decade. Since January, 1961, the strength of our counter-insurgency forces has been doubled and re-doubled. This force is 540 percent stronger than it was two years ago.

General Maxwell D. Taylor, President Kennedy's military advisor, said in a speech recently: "Mindful of the dangers of atomic warfare, we require a military policy which takes as its primary purpose the deterrence of that disaster. At the same time, however, it must give due recognition to the need to cope with many situations short of general war - Happily, I believe that these objectives are thoroughly recognized and accepted in Washington today. When achieved, they will assure our leaders a wide range of choice when, at some future critical moment of our nation's history, they may be obliged to de-Defense Secretary McNamara side the issues of peace or war." recently told the House Armed Services Committee: "Last year I told this committee 'there is no question but that, today, our Strategic Retaliatory Forces are fully capable of destroying the Soviet target system, even after absorbing an initial surprise attack.' This statement is still true. We have a total of about 650 manned bombers on 15-minute ground alert and over 200 operational ATLAS, TITAN, and MINUTEMAN missiles on launchers and about 144 POLARIS missiles in submarines. And this force is rapidly expanding as additional MINUTEMAN and POLARIS enter our operational inventory." Secretary McNamara added, "Allowing for losses from an initial enemy attack and attrition enroute to target, we calculate that our forces today could still destroy the Soviet Union without any help from the deployed tactical air units or carrier task forces or THOR or JUPITER IRBM's."

The President's Budget proposal for the coming fiscal year calls for defense expenditures totaling $56 billion - an increase of $2.6 billion over the current fiscal year and about $10 billion more than 1960. The proposal calls for additional purchases of intercontinental ballistic missiles and for six more Polaris submarines. Stress is being placed on improving the non-nuclear general forces. Members of the Armed Forces on active duty at the end of 1964 are expected to number 2.7 million. Our reserve strength will total one million men and women. Part of our defense expenditure next year will go to continuing research and development projects - a new general purpose booster rocket for the national space program, ballistic missile defense systems, a variety of anti-submarine warfare projects, a new tactical fighter aircraft, the Defense Communications Satellite System, and a Mobile Mid-Range Ballistic Missile. All of these are important to our future security in a dangerous world.

President Kennedy pointed out in his State of the Union Address that we continue "to require the best defense in the world - a defense which is suited to the Sixties. This means, unfortunately, a rising defense budget - for there is no substitute for adequate de-

NEWS from the High Plains Research Foundation

Dr. Earl H. Collister, Director of the High Plains Research Foundation said today that "a major break thru in the Skip-Row system of planting cotton under irrigation had been achieved by scientists at the Foundation after five years of research. A skip-row system of two rows of cotton and four rows of soybeans has resulted in a cotton increase of 244 pounds of lint per acre as compared to solid cotton, which represents a yield increase of 23.3 percent.

The skip-row system has long been a practice in low rainfall dryland areas. The Foundation pioneered in experimenting with various crop combinations in the skip-row system under irrigation on the High Plains and found that it paid off.

Delbert Langford, Associate Agronomist at the Foundation, in charge of the Skip-Row research for five years stated that "the use of the skip-row system in planting cotton under irrigation during 1963 could increase the cotton yield by 500,000 bales over solid planted cotton in the High and South Plains. This would give a possible increase of fifty million dollars income in one year if the practice were adopted throughout the area. If the skip-row system were used throughout the entire Cotton Belt in 1963, it would result in several million dollars added income to the farmer and cotton industry."

This statement was made following a review of five years of research results of the skip-row systems that had been conducted by Mr. Langford at the Foundation.

Five-year results at the Foundation have shown a top cotton yield increase of 91 percent by using a skip-row system of two rows of cotton and four rows fallow as compared to a solid planting of cotton. The 1962 results varied from 10 to 60 percent increase due to use of the skip-row system over solid planting, despite the hail on May 16 which required replanting on May 23. The skip-row system results were compared with solid planting in each crop.

Eleven different systems are compared in Research Report Number 61 which will be issued by the Foundation next week.

The cotton was interplanted with soybeans, grain sorghum, and castorbeans in 1962. The soybean interplanted with the cotton system has been conducted for five years. The cotton-soybean system has proved more profitable than the solid planting of each crop every year. The two row cotton-four row soybean testing has been the best for five years. The soybean yield was not reduced in the skip-row system compared with solid during this period.

Cotton yield benefited from the skip-row system whether the rows "skipped" were planted to other cash crops or left fallow. Due to the various dates of harvest of the crops in the skip-row system, there was no trash residue problem that could have affected the grade of the cotton. The cotton was harvested after all of the other crops.

In 1962, the highest income from cotton interplanted with grain sorghum gave an increase of $32.42 per acre over solid planting of each.

The cotton interplanted with castorbeans produced a profit of $35.27 per acre over solid planting of each crop.

The top income from the best cotton-soybean interplanted system was $19.14 over solid planting of each cash crop in 1962.

THE STYLE SLAVE

The American teen-ager has more money to spend now than ever before in history. The teen-ager has more power within his grasp than he realizes. The industry of America realizes this potential power, and at present they are doing everything within their power to make a profit from this phase of American society, and render them service, in that order of ideals also.

The clothing industry has placed on the market clothes especially designed for teen-agers, for their tastes, and for their choice of wear. The automobile industry is taking great consideration that the youth, both boys and girls, have suddenly demanded more and better cars, just as have the adults. The cosmetics faction has capitalized on the tastes of the young ladies, and placed on the market more aides to glamour than we could possibly have glamour. Even the hair stylists have come into being for the main beauty for the head. How can a son of advising the teen-ager on teen-ager be expected to react to this great amount of attention?

Although there are a few teen-agers who have become "clothes horses" or big car drivers, or attempt that look of Cleopatra, most of them keep a pretty level head especially in the southwest where they are taught an excellent brand of reasoning, and common sense. You will find that most teen-agers have very definite principals and an outline for the life they intend to live. But if you are a teen-ager and you are undecided and confused as to where you are going, please just for a moment think of the eyes of the world that alternately glare at you and shine with great pride at your deeds. Those eyes are going to follow you where ever you go, whatever you do in your recreational time, what you buy, what you prefer in leadership.

Don't, whatever you do, forget that you can make or break this nation on which the people of the free world are so dependant, and to which they look to for their basic ideals.

CORNER BOOKSTORE MASTERS OF DECEIT

by J. Edgar Hoover

The Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation explains the startling facts about the major menace of our time, communism: what it is, how it works, what its aims are, the real danger it poses, and what loyal American citizens must know to protect their freedom.

MASTERS OF DECEIT is a powerful and informative book - a firsthand account of American communism from its beginning to the present, written by a man more intimately familiar with the complete story than any other American. Mr. Hoover shows the day-to-day operations of the Communist Party, USA: who the communists are, what they claim, why people become communists and why some break away. He describes life within the Party, communist strategy and tactics, methods of mass agitation and underground infiltration, espionage, sabotage, and its treatment of minorities. The picture of what life in this country would be under communism (toward which thousands of misguided Americans actually are working now!) is vivid and shocking.

The forceful, driving message of this book is clarified with many incidents and anecdotes, definitions of communist terms, key dates, and a list of international communist organizations and publications which illustrate the communist Trojan horse in action. And it concretely outlines just what you can do now to combat the evils of the "false religion" of communism, so that you can stay free.

MASTERS OF DECEIT is one of the most important books of our time... a warning of the clear and present danger to our way of life.

FARMER

I want to be a farmer,
And have a big red barn.
I'll raise lots of cattle and pigs,
And feed them lots of corn!
I'll plow the fields,
And sow the seeds.
And watch them grow and grow
Then harvest them for feeds.

The Wayward School Teacher

If you have ever wanted to take a subject or to further yourself in the study of one thing or another in school, you may have found that a teacher either hadn't time or the subject. Why is it that the wasn't immediately familiar with teachers in Texas are not so highly paid as the teachers across the United States?

Our teachers are as good as any and if they weren't here just because of their dedication to teaching, they wouldn't be here at all. If teacher salaries are not raised, how can we expect to compete with the educational standards of other states, since good teachers do go to other states for more pay or fail to teach simply because the pay is so little.

It is not only pitiful, but disgraceful, what the Texas teacher is paid.

SHS has a truly devoted staff; if they weren't so devoted we would surely find ourselves without many of the better teachers.

Clerical Facts and Figures Given

Mrs. Rampley

The Empire State Building is the world's largest office building. Forty-five thousand mailable transcripts pour out of the Empire State Building daily. These transcripts are produced by a clerical staff of no less than 16,000 office workers. The flow of business into the Empire State Building brings in 40,000 visitors daily... and they are rushed to their various floors at a rate of 1,200 feet a minute by 72 elevators, which of itself occupies almost half the building. Or, you can walk up... 1,860 steps to the 102nd floor. The number of telephones in the Empire State Building has never been counted, but the complex circuitry spans 3,500 miles of telephone and telegraph wire.

Reaching a quarter of a mile into the sky, the building is topped by a 222 foot steel television antenna... 60 tons worth. The building itself weighs 365,000 tons. It is truly the eighth wonder of the world.

The incredibly complex nature of this building is such that when it was sold a few years ago, 104 lawyers were in on the act.

Don't throw away your empty seed packages. They are often just the right size for storing your crop.

TO SMOKE, OR NOT TO SMOKE

Should I smoke cigarettes? The American Cancer Society suggests that everyone know the facts about lung cancer before deciding. About 40,000 men and women in the United States will die of lung cancer this year, if present rates continue.

About 30,000 of these deaths would not occur if the victims had not been cigarette smokers, according to Dr. R. N. Muckleroy, Professional Education Chairman of the Briscoe County Unit. Abstaining from cigarettes, he said, would also save the lives of additional thousands who will die this year of various types of cancer related to smoking, such as cancer of the lip, mouth, tongue, larynx and esophagus.

"There are about as many cancer deaths caused by cigarette smoking as there are deaths caused by automobile accidents," Dr. Muckleroy said.

For this reason, the American Cancer Society during its April educational and fund-raising Crusade is stressing the health hazards of cigarette smoking.

"If about 30,000 lives in the United States can be saved from lung cancer by not smoking cigarettes, it is the responsibility of the American Cancer Society to so inform the public," Dr. Muckleroy said. "The public should know that cigarette smoking is also responsible for many of the lives lost each year to cancer of the mouth, tongue, lip, larynx, and esophagus."

Dr. Muckleroy pointed out that the American Cancer Society's main concern was to get the facts to the public about the hazards involved in cigarette smoking "so that the individual can make a realistic decision of whether to smoke or not to smoke."

The Society, he said, is particularly active in its efforts to reach physicians and teen-agers. He cited a recent study which showed that at least one out of four physicians had given up cigarette smoking since 1954. "Today," he added, "three out of five physicians in the United States do not smoke cigarettes."

In its educational effort among teen-agers, Dr. Muckleroy said, the Society seeks to make clear to them the hazards in starting to smoke and the difficulties in breaking the smoking habit once it had been established.

Already the Society has reached more than half of the secondary schools in the country with the facts about smoking; its goal is to reach them all.

Dr. Muckleroy said that non-smoking men at the age of 35 have only a 23 percent chance of dying before the age of 65. But with cigarette smoking, if you smoke one to two packs a day, you have a 38 percent chance of dying before age 65. If you smoke two or more packs a day, it is a 41 percent chance.

Permanent Wheat Program Enacted

Unlike dairy and feed grains, Congress enacted a new, permanent program for wheat during the last session of Congress.

The program, called the Certificate Plan or two-price system, is a device that general farm organizations and wheat producing groups have advocated for many years — ever since the McNary-Haugen days. This program was actually passed by Congress once before — in 1956 — but was vetoed by President Eisenhower.

But now the Wheat Certificate program can be a reality if farmers approve it by a two-thirds vote

Social Security Should Be Checked

Many people lose money because they don't check on their social security when they reach retirement age, according to Hal Geldon, Amarillo Social Security District Manager. In many cases, these people are still working and believe they cannot get any benefit payments unless they are completely retired.

Geldon stated that workers who earn over $1200 yearly may still get some social security payments depending on the amount of their earnings. He cited as an example, a 65-year-old worker eligible for $100 a month from social security. In this case, the worker could get some benefits even if his yearly earnings were as high as $2600. If a wife or child were eligible for benefits on his account, the worker could earn more than $2600 and still collect some social security benefits for himself and his family.

"The facts," said Dr. Muckleroy "add up to the conclusion that lung cancer is a preventable disease which could almost be eliminated as a cause of death. The Society believes it has a responsibility to do everything possible to reduce the alarming death rate from lung cancer which has increased over 900 percent since 1932. Cigarettes are the major cause of this increase."
