

Wheat Acreage Allotments Mailed To Producers

Notices of 1964-crop wheat acreage allotments have been mailed to all wheat farm operators, Louie Kitchens, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has announced.

For most wheat farms, the chairman explained, the allotment represents the farm's share of the 1964 national wheat allotment of 49.5 million acres. For small farms, however—those with wheat allotments of less than 15 acres, the allotment represents the larger of (a) the farm's allotment based on the national allotment, or (b) 90 percent of the farm's average 1959-61 wheat acreage, but not more than 15 acres.

Mr. Kitchens pointed out that all the wheat produced on a participating farm's wheat allotment acreage may be marketed free of penalty if marketing quotas are made effective for the 1964 wheat crop. The question of whether to use marketing quotas for the 1964 wheat crop will be decided by wheat growers in a referendum on May 21. "Small farm" operators will be eligible to cast ballots provided they register—by May 13—their intention to participate in the 1964 program as an allotment grower. They will do this by signing in the space provided on the back of the regular allotment notice, MQ-24, and filing the notice at the ASCS County Office before the deadline. Under quotas, a small farm operator who does not elect to participate in the wheat program as an allotment grower would be able to stay out of the program, and plant wheat up to the larger of his 1964 allotment or his 3-year base (but not more than 15 acres) without being subject to marketing quota penalties. Penalties would apply to wheat in excess of this limit. Such a grower will not be eligible to vote in the referendum, however, and he would not be eligible for price support or diversion payments. If at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum approve quotas for the 1964 wheat crop, price support will be available to participating growers who keep within their acreage allotment at (a) $2 a bushel, national average, on certificated wheat, and (b) $1.30 a bushel, national average, on noncertificated wheat; and diversion payments will be made to growers on acreage diverted from wheat production into a conserving use (including the acreage reduction reflected in the farm allotment). If more than a third of the growers voting in the referendum oppose the 1964-crop wheat quotas, price support at 50 percent of parity (about $1.25 a bushel) will be available to participating growers who keep within their acreage allotments. Without quotas, no diversion program would be in effect. As in the past, the allotments will remain in effect, whether or not quotas are approved for the 1964 wheat crop.

All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

All around the town this week it has been cool and dry. Everywhere except in the Briscoe County News shop, that is—in our shop things are always different. One day this week our son let the water hose out of the developing tank and it flooded the back shop.

That day we would have gladly shared our water.

The dry weather has almost reached the life-or-death stage in parts of the county. Some of the dryland wheat looks as if it may be beyond help, and some of the range grass is needing water very badly. Some of the land below the caprock appears to be so dry that we don't see how they can plant without a rain.

With cotton planting time upon us, night time temperatures have hovered in the forties and even dipped into the thirties. Daytime temperatures have failed to reach the eighty and ninety degree marks to which we had become accustomed in the past several weeks.

Overheard at the baseball game Tuesday afternoon: "Jack (Strange), why didn't you put on a jacket before you came out here?"

Reply: "My cotton's planted."

You know, people read a lot of things they already know in the columns of the local newspaper. But they keep on reading them to see who got caught!

I don't know how many of our readers are acquainted with Mrs. Ruth Baker, who teaches fifth grade in the Silverton elementary school, but she is a remarkable lady. Her work with the children doesn't end at 3:30 when the boys and girls go home.

Last year Mrs. Baker assisted with the organizing of a Girl Scout troop, which meets after school. (Hope everyone bought some of the really delicious Girl Scout cookies they have been selling.)

And now Mrs. Baker has organized a weekend educational train trip to Colorado Springs for those in her class who will be able to go. They are to leave the Amarillo depot at 9:30 p.m. Friday, May 3, with other groups from other schools who will be making the special trip which is sponsored each year by the railroad.

I understand that ten students are signed up for the trip. The railway company arranges for buses to meet the train in Colorado Springs and transport the students to places of interest including the zoo there. Hotel reservations and everything are included, and I believe she said the price of tickets for the entire sightseeing trip is $27.50 each.

What an opportunity for the students! Hope they will give us a completely detailed write-up of their trip when they return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Williams and sons of Amarillo spent Sunday and Monday with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Williams, Martina and Annette.

GENERAL TELEPHONE TOWNS ON THE MOVE

Bonham Initiative Saves mill Payroll

When the Bonham Cotton Mill announced it would close its doors finally in early 1962, that North Texas city stood to lose a 61-year old industry with a $14,000 weekly payroll.

Aggressive citizens of the 7357 population community arose to the emergency. Today, little more than a year later, Red River Textile Mill, Inc., is not only continuing the operation of its predecessor, but is talking plans for an eventual major expansion.

Bonham's vigorous enterprise in the face of crisis is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

A cow with an upset stomach often does not cause a farmer much immediate concern. But she should.

The reason? Some gastric or digestive upsets often become complicated and very serious problems in cattle. For instance, rapid fermentation in the rumen is an important factor in many cases. And this may cause paralysis of the rumen, with formation of toxic quantities of some organic acids and destruction of most of the rumen's normal bacteria. Some gastric problems in cattle may result in death within a short time unless prompt treatment is obtained. This happens all too often because many farmers simply do not realize the seriousness of this sort of condition.

Bloat and other gastric problems of cattle take a heavy toll, much of which could be prevented.

Some cases develop slowly, some rapidly. One cannot tell from the initial symptoms. Therefore, the safest rule to follow in gastric upsets is to call a veterinarian immediately. At best this could result in saving an animal's life. And, at the least, it could cut down the economic loss these problems can cause.

There are a number of symptoms of gastric upsets in cattle which should act as warnings to the owner. They include lack of appetite, restlessness, swelling of the rumen as in bloat, dehydration, depression, reluctance to move, staggering and a cold, clammy feel to the skin.

Bloat is one type of gastric upset which has demanded special consideration because of the many losses resulting from it and the mystery surrounding its cause. Authorities now believe bloat is caused simply by the failure of the gas-expelling mechanisms of cattle to function properly.

Acute bloat may develop rapidly and can kill an animal within a few hours. Chronic bloat can cause losses through poor gains. In both instances, the sooner a veterinarian can treat the sick animal the better.

TEXAS COTTON GROWERS REPORT:

Entire Season Control of Thrips, Aphids and Mites...

Di-Syston-Treated Plants Are Stronger, Straighter... Produce More Squares Earlier

West Texas and New Mexico cotton growers now have a new way to control thrip damage and early-season stunting... with Di-Syston granular insecticide. Di-Syston is placed in the soil with the seed or side dressed after planting. The chemical is then absorbed by the growing roots and carried to all parts of the plant through the sap stream—as soon as the plant emerges. No part of the plant is unprotected—even tender new growth as it is formed.

The result? With Di-Syston, your early cotton grows faster, has stronger, straighter stems, more vigorous foliage. Squares form earlier and the plant produces more of them. Many growers in the Lubbock area have reported full season control of thrip with just the one application. You get higher yields because of the good Di-Syston start. This year, get your crop off to a good start with Di-Syston. Complete instructions for use are printed on the label on every package. Use Di-Syston.

Ponds and slow-moving streams can be ready-made sources for spreading leptospirosis.

inated by carrier animals. These streams can be sources of infection for humans, also.

The death rate from "lepto" may range from 10 per cent in mature cattle up to 25 per cent in calves. It may also cause abortions and be mistaken for brucellosis. A sharp drop in milk production often occurs among dairy cattle. Other signs may include thick, yellow and blood-tinged milk. In calves, there may be depression, loss of appetite and scours.

Lepto is more difficult to spot in swine because symptoms are not as apparent. In addition to abortions, the disease in swine can cause poor gains, loss of appetite and occasionally intestinal disturbances.

Symptoms of the disease in sheep and horses are similar to those in cattle.

Because many symptoms of leptospirosis are similar to those of some other serious diseases, it is a good plan to have a veterinarian examine the sick animals when any of these symptoms appear. That is the only sure way to find out the real trouble.

Fortunately, veterinarians now have effective vaccines against lepto for both cattle and swine. In areas where the disease has been a problem, animals should be vaccinated routinely.

Also, livestock should be kept out of low, swampy areas and away from slow-moving streams, feed and watering facilities should be protected against contamination, and swine and cattle should not be allowed to run together.

The 190 foot tall Sky Hook and the romantic Merry-Go-Round dominate the new six acre oil Boom Town Section of Six Flags Over Texas. This area—new for the 1963 season now in progress—is patterned after the wonderfully exciting wildcatting days of the oil industry in the Lone Star State.

Student Artists Attend Dedication

Several student artists from Silvertown attended the formal dedication ceremonies Sunday at the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation's amphitheatre in Palo Duro State Park.

Jerry Garrison, Jimmy and Cliff Walker, Becky Thomas, Carol Ann Montague, Carron Montague, and Kathy Peugh were those who attended who had submitted pictures from which one was chosen to represent Briscoe County on the theatre's facade. Jerry Garrison's drawing of the old McDaniel home place will represent this county.

The 39 winning drawings will be inscribed on a map of the area to be placed at the amphitheatre's entrance.

The youthful artists made their way across the stage to receive congratulations from Mrs. Ples Harper, president of the foundation, and a certificate from Mrs. John Marchant, president of the Amarillo Federated Women's Clubs. Federated women's clubs, including the L.O.A. Junior Study Club, Century of Progress Study Club and March of Time Study Club of Silvertown, sponsored each county's contest to determine the best design.

Limited Edition

Although the U.S. Treasury issued over 85 million separate Series E Savings Bonds last year to you and your fellow Americans, only about 5,000 of them were the big $10,000 denomination.

One reason for the limited demand for these big babies is it takes $7,500 to buy one. Another is you can only buy one a year. In fact, whatever size E Bond you buy, you can only buy $10,000 worth in your own name in any one calendar year.

This ruling is a deliberate one to interest the steady, long-term American saver. And it's one of many reasons why U.S. Savings Bonds are one of the world's soundest securities.

Millions of Americans own $45 billion worth of U.S. Savings Bonds—a powerful argument against the claim by the enemies of freedom that our economic system is doomed to failure.

Why not start setting part of your earnings aside each month for U.S. Savings Bonds? Even if you collect only the $25 variety, you'll be building for your own future while you help your country today.

Quick facts about U.S. Savings Bonds

- You get $4 for every $3 at maturity
- You can get your money anytime
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, or destroyed
- You can save automatically on Payroll Savings.

Dying Laughter

Did you realize that something very precious is dying? That something is laughter. I have noticed since I came into high school that the students laugh less and less. Is it because of their studies?

That I cannot believe. Studies are, it is true, a little more difficult but they are not so strenuous that we cannot laugh a little. Anyone can tell you that if people do not laugh at work they are not enjoying it. Why, then, are we letting laughter die in our halls?

Perhaps the first thing that enters my mind is the idea people have now that students have to be grown up by the time they are in high school. They should have decided what they are to be so that they can start preparing themselves from their freshman year. They should act as maturely as many adults don't, be prepared to accept the responsibilities that come with maturity at any time, grow up, grow up, grow up, that being the most often heard phrase coming from the correcting adults.

We restrain ourselves and try to grow up, and we do improve but we are born children, not adults, and it takes time for us to develop into well balanced adults. Our world is fast-moving; everything in it moves fast. We have to move into adulthood and assume responsibilities soon enough; why should we rush into it?

Why should we be grown up before our age permits? Why must we lose the most beautiful and heart-warming music in the world, laughter?

Human nature makes it impossible for us to answer this. But one answer to juvenile delinquency would be a little more clean cut laughter and a little less anxious adulthood.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?

by Sue Lanham

Did you know that almost without exception, women have a higher life expectancy than men everywhere in the world? Usually the life span is from four to five years higher, varying accordingly.

Men, what's the matter? Are the women stronger than you physically? Surely no man would admit this! It would be quite a slam on the male ego.

Maybe it isn't the man's fault—but the woman's. Could it be that women worry the men to an early grave? Surely this is not so. Maybe the men work themselves to death. Men, something is wrong!

LESTER GRABBE ACCEPTED FOR SUMMER SCIENCE PROGRAM

Lester Grabbe has been accepted for the Summer Science Program

Awards Presented In Assembly

Facit Accuracy Contest awards were presented to Lester Grabbe, Dwight Rampley and Dianne Davis in a recent student assembly.

Lester was invited to attend the Regional Invitational Typing Tournament to be held at Okmulgee (Oklahoma) High School on April 27.

Students in high schools all over the United States participated in the Facit Accuracy Contest, and it is quite an achievement that Lester was invited to the regional contest, as well as a credit to the school.

The grand prize winner of the national contest will receive a trip to Sweden for himself and his business teacher.

Mrs. Norman Strange, president of the Century of Progress Study Club, recently presented award pins to the following students who have been on the honor roll at least one time during the current school year: David House, Bill Schott, Sue Lanham, Sheila Jarnagin, Lester Grabbe, Dianne Davis, Janice Lewis, Linda Fisch, Nena McDaniel and Orlin Grabbe.

in biology at the University of Texas. The program will begin June 9 and last until July 20, and those who desire to continue may participate until August 10.

Every year the National Science Foundation sponsors Summer Science and Math Programs in various colleges around the United States for high-ability students. Out of the hundreds of applications to the University of Texas, only 35 are chosen to participate in the biology division of the summer program.

Jeanne Davis was accompanied by Jerry Garrison as she sang two selections. The FBLA sextet, accompanied by Mrs. Bill Edwards, sang two numbers and Sharon Weaver performed a vocal solo. Assorted salads were served buffet style.

by Sheila Jarnagin

Snap! Snap! So what if you go blind? You wanted your picture in the annual, didn't you?

"Oh, what a day to have them made," you say. "The wind nearly blew me away," "I can hardly hold my eyes open (rough night last night)" and "Everything looks wrong for a special picture."

Let's face it. Some of us have it and some of us don't. Some people could make a good picture while asleep while the rest of us couldn't make a good one if we worked at it for weeks! Still, we try again every year, hoping for the best. As you go from year to year your pictures improve—only slightly, perhaps—but they will improve.

So if your picture wasn't all that you had hoped it would be this year, you'll have another chance next year to try to make it better. Perk up, and start your improvement project right now. Maybe by this time next year you will be as beautiful or as handsome—or maybe just a little better looking than you were this year.

Meet The Seniors

Stanley Fogerson

Jolly, jolly, jolly describes Stanley Fogerson to a "T". He is a happy person and radiates that happiness to those around him.

Stanley has been a member of the FFA four years and serves as vice president of that club this year. He has been a member of the S-Club for one year. Stanley has served the Owls and manager in football, basketball and track during his junior year.

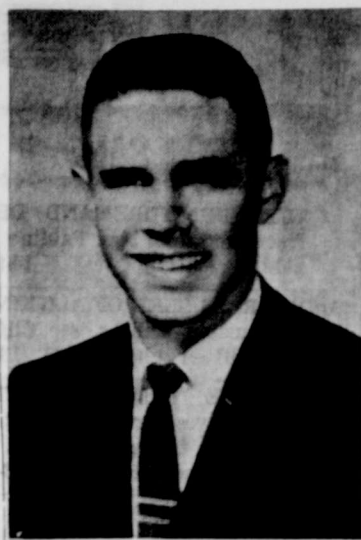

He was a member of the FFA Meats Team his sophomore year and assisted his team in winning third at the Chapter Conducting Contest in Lubbock his sophomore year.

Stanley's classmates showed their friendship and admiration for him when they elected him their Halloween King last year.

Seniors Revert To Childhood

Among the swirl of short skirts, knee pants, teddy bears and squirt guns the seniors enjoyed a second childhood last Friday.

The girls, with flowers, short skirts, teddy bears and white gloves, ran gleefully from the little senior boys who were heavily armed with the dreadful enemy of the hair, the squirt gun. The water didn't bother the boys who were decked out in "little" pants, with bright suspenders and gay hats.

Fred Edwards

Fred Edwards is a quiet, friendly soul. He laughs a lot, smiles a lot, but doesn't talk much!

Fred seldom gets excited about anything—pardon—there is one thing that excites him, namely girls. At any rate, he is well liked by his classmates and teachers alike.

Fred has been active in football. He received an honorable mention on the all-district team his junior year. He participated in track last year, also.

He has been a member of the S-Club for three years and of the FFA for three years. He has been outstanding in FFA work and was on the Meat Judging Team his freshman year and the Soil Judging Team as a sophomore. His team won fourth in the FFA Farm Skill and third in Chapter Conducting competition in Plainview.

Fred has been chosen by his classmates as Most Handsome for two years.

After a short assembly program which the seniors presented to the high school, they enjoyed an early lunch with the grade school children, who thought if they were ever seniors they would never look like that.

After a quick change of clothes, the seniors went on an excursion to Lubbock, where they bowled, rode go-carts, and saw a movie.

128-page travel guide—Enjoy Our Wonderful Southland More

The 128-page travel book is presented by the Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers of the South. It is a carefully selected compilation of the outstanding Southland travel articles published during the past fifteen years in Ford Times, Lincoln-Mercury Times, and The Continental Magazine. The authors and artists, many of whom are Southerners, have depicted their area of the country in a way that makes fascinating reading. Southern Journeys is a useful travel guide, for in its pages the car owner finds the Southland's best known historic shrines and travel attractions, the little known by-paths leading to long remembered family vacations, and a listing of recommended restaurants of the South; all proving that there's something for everyone to enjoy in our wonderful Southland... the year 'round.
