All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

Our son is intrigued by the fact that people are dropping flies over Silvertown.

County Agent Leon Grosdidier explained the sterile screwworm program to us last week shortly after the drop of 100,000 flies was made in a ranch area of Briscoe County.

The screwworm is undoubtedly one of the most vicious of the parasites that ranchers have to deal with. The tiny pests live in animal wounds, and unlike other maggot-type creatures, they feed on live flesh. They have been known to enter wounds on newborn calves and eat them from the inside out in a very short while, leaving only the animal's covering.

One rancher told of a grown animal that was attacked by a number of the pests. He said it was down in about 24 hours and in another 24 hours it was dead. This gives us an idea of the need for the eradication of the screwworm.

Normally, our cold winters are severe enough to kill the dormant screwworms. Their migration begins each year somewhere near the Mexican border and moves across the country. They travel rather slowly, at about the same rate as the boll worm, and probably would not reach this area if it were not for animals occasionally being brought north carrying screwworms.

The screwworm eradication program was begun several years ago and a laboratory was established at Mission, Texas. Contributions of $2 per head of cattle owned were donated by ranchers and livestock producers to pay the expenses of the laboratory. The research proved that the screwworm flies mate only with one another, that the female fly mates only once, and that the male mates many times. This is the basis for the eradication program. When the sterile male flies are released in an infected area they mate with the females who then produce no new screwworms.

The release made last week was the first in a series of three that were made when an outbreak occurs. Mr. Grosdidier tells us that if anyone else reports a case of screwworms, even if he happens to be the next-door neighbor of the owner of a previous case, three more drops are made over the area.

The entire eradication program is made possible through the cooperation between interested ranchers, the county agent and the Mission Laboratory. Prompt identification of worms found in animal wounds is most important in getting the eradication program started. Ranchers are asked to submit samples of any worms observed in any wounds, because only by close observation at the laboratory can they be identified as screwworms. In the Briscoe case, the report was confirmed on Monday and the drop was made on Thursday, so you can see they don't waste any time getting the job started.

The pilot and "bombardier" who made the drop smiled good naturedly when asked if the hundreds of green flies that had escaped from the boxes and were buzzing about in the plane bothered them. They assured the questioner that the flies are sterile and could do no harm.

Robert Williams of Sweetwater, "bombardier" on the Briscoe drop, explained that the flies are dropped automatically. The boxes are stacked on an apparatus which every five seconds rips open a box and lets 400 flies out for their earthward trip. Some of the flies are in the hatching stage, explained Jack Benton, also of Sweetwater, who piloted the plane. All of the flies have reached the adult stage and some hatch during the flight. Both sterile males and females are contained in the boxes, because it is impossible for the researchers to determine which is contained in the eggs.

So, even though our son may be a self-appointed protector of the green flies, it's not for me. Get the swatter! I can't stand them in the house!

The plane took off at Sweetwater carrying 600,000 of the sterile flies and made other drops, one of which was in Floyd County, before arriving in this area. ## Conservation Practice Popular In County Farmers and ranchers in the district continue to plan and apply conservation practices at a fast rate. Since the middle of March, eighteen have entered the Great Plains Conservation Program. On these farms and ranches all needed conservation practices have been planned and will be cost-shared where needed. Space does not permit listing all the names of those participating, but some examples are given below.

Onar Cornett plans to sprig about thirty acres of Midland bermuda grass for irrigated pasture. He will also do some land leveling and install about thirty-five hundred feet of irrigation pipeline. Cornett is working his place over to conserve water, to improve the ease of irrigation, do the job easier and at the same time get more production. His plan also calls for livestock to become an important part of his farming operation.

J. D. McGavock has a similar plan to the one belonging to Mr. Cornett, and has already sprigged part of his Midland bermuda and has installed about four thousand feet of irrigation pipeline.

Many others have plans similar to these. Carroll Garrison plans to seed 160 acres of native grass on land now in sorghum alnum. He will mow or shred the sorghum alnum this summer to prevent seed production and hold the growth to a minimum. The grass will be seeded in the sorghum alnum litter next spring.

Some of the others who plan grass seeding similar to that which will be done on the Garrison place include R. G. Alexander, north of Silvertown, and G. O. Coker, east of Quitaque. The mowing and shredding, seeding operation and grass seed cost will be cost-shared on the above places.

Others interested in developing conservation plans on places similar to the above, and obtaining cost-share assistance, should feel free to call or drop by the Soil Conservation Service office in Silvertown for further information.

The sale of a farm is taxable, says Elton W. Davidson, Administrative Officer at the Plainview office of Internal Revenue. Mr. Davidson points out that farmers must pay tax on any gain on the sale of their farm or other capital items, even though they may turn around and use the money to buy another farm or similar item.

In a letter to County Agricultural Agents, the District Director of Internal Revenue in Dallas asked the County Agents to help IRS correct the erroneous thinking. The tax man advised farmers to check the tax consequence before they sell, trade or swap. Leon Grosdidier, the local County Agent, has pointed out that farmers can get a good general idea of taxes owed by reading the farmers tax guide furnished free by the Internal Revenue Service.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Strange of Dimmitt left Lubbock by plane for Dallas Saturday and he entered Baylor Hospital for lung surgery on Wednesday. He previously has had surgery on one lung and is having the same type of surgery on the other lung at this time. Mrs. Strange's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thompson joined them in Dallas this week to stay as long as they are needed at the bedside of their son-in-law.

Jimmy and Floyd Perkins spent the weekend here with relatives. Both are employed in Amarillo.

Cotton Thirstiest While Fruiting

College Station, July 4—Cotton's need for moisture is greatest during the square, bloom, and young boll stages, says Wayne Keese, extension agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The rate of water use by cotton plants varies through the growing season and intelligent irrigation is based on the periods of greatest need, says the engineer. The plants use very little water for the first few weeks after emergence but beginning with the appearance of the first square the rate of water use increases steadily. When the first blooms appear, the water requirement again increases rapidly and the maximum rate of water use occurs at the peak bloom stage which is usually three to three and one-half months after planting, says Keese.

Shedding of fruit by cotton has been found to be associated with low soil moisture during the early bloom and fruiting stage and therefore an adequate supply is needed for high yields, Keese explains. Excessively high moisture levels should also be avoided especially after the first bolls appear. This moisture can cause late vegetative growth which probably will not increase lint yields and can be undesirable if machine picking is planned. Keese warns not to wait until all the available moisture has been used before irrigating the crop. Normally, irrigation should be started when 50 to 60 percent of the available moisture in the root zone is depleted. He recommends regular examinations of the soil in the root zone to determine the amount of soil moisture remaining. A soil auger or a sharpshooter can be used to obtain the soil sample and the rooting depth of the crop can also be checked. Don't overlook the importance of soil fertility in successful cotton irrigation as optimum yields are produced when soil fertility and soil moisture are balanced, says Keese. See County Agent Leon Grosdidier for more information on cotton irrigation and while there get a copy of B-896, "Texas Guide for Growing Irrigated Cotton."

Some 800 National Guardsmen from over this area left last week end to take part in the annual summer training at North Fort Hood. The famed T-Patch 36th Infantry Division commanded by Major General Seldon Simpson of Amarillo began its training Sunday at the central Texas fort. Advance parties left Tuesday. Truck convoys left Thursday and Friday. More than 8,500 T-Patchers arrived before the training began Sunday. Units of the battalion are located in Pampa, Borger, Canyon, Dumas and Tulla. Individual officers and enlisted men from other area cities, including Silvertown, are members of the unit. Pat Northcutt of Silvertown is the commanding officer of the Tulla unit, of which Steve Jarnagin and Von Kliebrink are also members. Training during the two-week summer camp includes basic individual, advanced individual and basic unit categories.

Residents are urged to be careful when using chemicals, such as 2-4-D, for weed killing. Since the heavy rains weeds have become a problem throughout the area. However, the chemical killers drift on the breezes and some local residents are suspicious that 2-4-D may be the cause for trees and other yard plants dying. Respect the yards of your friends and neighbors, and exercise care when using chemical killers. Motorists asked to watch speed. Motorists have been requested this week to watch their speed when driving on the streets of Silvertown. Recently the speed limit on the highway through town was raised to 40 miles per hour. However, warns Fred A. Strange, city secretary, this increase was for the highway traffic only, and does not apply to other city streets. Tickets will be issued to those traveling at that speed on the other streets.

BRISCOE COUNTY NEWS

AUSTIN, Tex. - Creation of many new lakes in Texas has resulted in a money problem for the State Highway Commission.

Commission Chairman Herb Petry, Jr., of Carrizo Springs expounded on the situation when a Nacogdoches delegation headed by Carl Monk and County Judge F. L. Harris came to Austin to ask for a farm-to-market road from Nacogdoches to McGee Bend Reservoir, now 59 per cent complete.

Petry said cities and lakes are draining heavily on state road funds. He pointed out that the State Highway Department worked up a plan for access roads to McGee Bend in 1959. That work has been proceeding in cooperation with the surrounding counties. But there was no new Nacogdoches County road in the plan.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer stated that the farm-to-market road law specifically authorizes use of that money for building roads to recreational areas. Petry said some people call these fish-to-market roads.

PADRE'S DEED-Lawyers have drawn up the deed by which state-owned land in Laguna Madre will be transferred to the United States. This land is to become a part of the Padre Island National Seashore.

But the deed can't be signed by the School Land Board until the law authorizing the transfer takes effect on August 23.

VACATION-Governor John Connally and his family took off for the family ranch at Floresville for a brief vacation.

So far his vacation has been interrupted twice for speeches in Austin and Dallas.

Connally also took along a pile of work to do. He has many appointments to state boards, commissions and courts to make. He gathered up a file of letters containing recommendations. These will help him decide whom to name to the two new Courts of Civil Appeals (at Corpus Christi and Tyler), to the new Parks and Wildlife Commission, and to many other state boards.

He also obtained an opinion from Attorney General Waggoner Carr, saying that the six new justices he will name need not live in the districts at the time of their appointments. Only requirement is that they move into the district before they take oath of office.

RED REGISTER-Attorney General Carr is taking steps to force Texas' only known communist to register. But he has not decided where to bring suit.

A 1951 law requires any communist remaining in Texas as long as five days to register with the Department of Public Safety. No one has ever registered. Two weeks ago, U. S. Attorney General Robert Kennedy notified the man, a resident of San Antonio, to register within 20 days under a Federal registration law, or face prosecution.

Carr picked up the ball and decided to try to make him register under the unused state law.

LIQUOR FINES- People still keep violating the liquor laws. Liquor Administrator Coke Stevenson, Jr. reports that his agents filed 743 cases last month. There were 738 convictions, with 28 jail terms, for violations. Fines came to $46,172 during the month.

The Lubbock district, mainly dry, was as usual the location of the largest number of cases among the 18 enforcement districts.

INSURANCE UP-Recommendations for higher auto insurance rates have been made to the State Board of Insurance, by insurance companies, and the Board's own staff.

Losses under current rates prompt a general statewide increase averaging 8.6 per cent. But there are variations.

Farmers and ranchers, who have chalked up a good non-accident record, will get substantial cuts. They will range from 20 to 30 per cent, in various parts of the state.

City drivers will face higher rates for their public liability insurance. Statistics show that where there are more cars there are more accidents.

State is divided into 26 rating territories. Drivers living in safer areas will pay less for their insurance.

Board will announce its decision soon, and new rates will take effect on August 1.

SEWER AID-State Health Department has compiled a list of 37 cities awaiting word that Congress has appropriated money to continue the federal-aid program for construction of sewage treatment facilities.

These cities have applied for $4,067,626 worth of grants to help them build $15,960,384 worth of projects.

Expected Texas allocation is about $3,200,000. So some will have to do without federal aid-or wait for next year.

ETHICS-Three representatives who piloted a tough code of ethics bill through the House of Representatives still are trying.

Reps. James E. Nugent of Kerrville, Robert C. Eckhardt of Houston and Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi presently are seeking help from the Attorney General in drafting a new version for the next session of the Legislature. Later on they hope to talk with Governor Connally about it.

When The Interest Came Due

Author Unknown (Contributed by a Reader)

A young man lived with his parents in a public housing development. He attended public school, rode the free school bus, and participated in the free lunch program. He entered the Army, and then upon discharge retained his national service insurance. He then enrolled in the State University, working part time in the State Capitol to supplement his GI education check.

Upon graduation he married a public health nurse and bought a farm with an FHA loan, and then obtained an RFC loan to go into business. A baby was born in the county hospital. He bought a ranch with the aid of the veteran's land program and obtained feed from the Government.

Later he put part of his land in the soil bank, and the payments soon paid out his farm and ranch. His father and mother lived very comfortably on the ranch on their social security and old-age assistance checks. REA lines supplied electricity. The Government helped clear his land.

The county agent showed him how to terrace it; then the Government built him a fishpond and stocked it with many fish. The Government guaranteed him a sale for his farm products at highest prices.

Books from the public library were delivered to his door. He banked money with a Government insured agency. His children grew up, entered public schools, ate free lunches, rode free school buses, played in the public parks, swam in the public pools, and joined the FFA. He owned an automobile, so he favored the Federal highway program.

He signed a petition seeking Federal assistance in developing an industrial project to help the economy of the area. He was a leader in obtaining the new post office and Federal building, and went to Washington with a group to ask the Government to build a great dam costing millions to give the area "cheaper electricity."

He petitioned the Government to give the local air base to the county. He was also a leader in the movement to get his specific type of warming special tax write offs and exemptions. Of course, he belonged to several farmers' organizations, but denied that they were pressure groups.

Then one day, after hearing that the per capita income tax bill in 1959 averaged out to $251.49 for every man, woman and child, he wrote his congressman:

"I wish to protest these excessive governmental expenditures and attendant high taxes. I believe in rugged individualism. I think people should stand on their own two feet without expecting hand-outs. I am opposed to all socialist trends and I demand a return to the principles of our Constitution and to State Rights."

Equality We Can Do Without

(From "The American Citizen") In order to achieve "equality" with the U.S.S.R., this is what the U. S. would have to do:

- ☆Abandon three-fifths of its steel capacity. ☆Abandon two-thirds of its petroleum capacity. ☆Scrap two out of every three of its hydroelectric plants. ☆Eliminate 95% of its electric motor output. ☆Rip up 14 of every 15 miles of its paved highways. ☆Destroy two of every three miles of its railroads.

☆Slash all paychecks by three-fourths. ☆Transfer 60 million Americans back to farms. ☆Rip out nine of every 10 telephones.

In America, there are about 370 square feet of housing for every man, woman and child. In Russia, the figure is about 79 square feet.

In hours of labor, a Russian pays about 13 times as much for a suit of clothes, 30 times as much for a pair of shoes, 3 times as much for bread, and 6 times as much for milk.

It would seem that, in spite of Russia's "economic miracle," the U. S. is still comfortably ahead.

NEW CHEMICAL INSECT CONTROL

DEVELOPED

Olin Mathieson announced the making of a new early season insect control on cotton. The new chemical, called BIDRIN (R) insecticide label, was approved by the United States Department of Agriculture for use on cotton April 1, 1963.

Bidrin is a systemic insecticide. It kills some insects by contact, but its greatest asset is that it kills most sucking and chewing insects by systemic action. When Bidrin is applied to growing cotton, it is almost immediately absorbed into the plant. Its killing action to insects in the plant may last from one to two weeks. Since most of Bidrin applied to cotton plants is absorbed it is not available on the plant surface. Hence, beneficial insects develop in a normal way. In a 1962 cotton season, Bidrin was used with good results for thrip control on 1500 acres of cotton lands of the Texas Prison Farm System.

The new chemical (dimethyl Phosphate of 3-hydroxy N, N-dimethylis crotonamide) is a water-miscible product. For foliage applications, the correct amount of technical Bidrin is mixed with sufficient water to provide uniform coverage.

For control of thrip, fleahoppers, aphid, spider mite and overwintering bollweevil, Bidrin is applied at the rate of 0.1 pound to 0.2 pound per acre of cotton. For control of lygus bugs on cotton, Bidrin is applied at 0.5 pound per acre.

Bidrin comes packed in one quart containers, six per case. Each quart contains 1.8 lbs. of actual Bidrin and will treat 18 acres at 1 lb. per acre or 9 acres at .2 lb. per acre.

COST OF CHEMICAL 70c PER ACRE.

Nance's Food Store

SILVERTON, TEXAS

COPYRIGHT 1956 D. E. SCOTT

Most of us lead a double life.

One minute we're a BUYER. The next minute we're a SELLER . . . of goods, services, time, or talents.

Of course, there's some incompatibility in a Buyer-Seller combination. About like you'd expect in a dog-and-cat mixture.

Consequently, we sometimes get to playing our part as Mr. Buyer with such enthusiasm we forget that our other self, Mr. Seller, has to put dollars in our pocket before our Mr. Buyer self can spend them out of it.

And every time we, as Mr. Buyer, take one of those dollars out of circulation here by spending it out of town, we shrink Mr. Seller's market so it's a little harder for him to get us some more dollars.

It's too bad we don't get more teamwork out of our two personalities. When Mr. Buyer is cutting Mr. Seller's throat, we need to recall that they are both using the same throat.
