Weather during July has been unusually hot and humid with little rainfall.

Grain sorghum, almost without exception is in good shape, while the cotton which got off to a late start appears to be coming along nicely. About four weeks late, a lot of the cotton is blooming now, and below the caprock cotton prospects look very good.

Temperatures have ranged from a daytime high of 99 degrees to a night time low of 55 degrees during July. Rainfall totaled 1.91 inches, with 13 on July 2, .63 on July 14, .08 on July 15, .24 on July 27 and .83 on July 28.

More showers are predicted this week.

Three Receive Lone Star Farmer Degrees

Three members of the Silverton FFA chapter received Lone Star Farmer degrees at the State Convention of Future Farmers of America in Lubbock July 17-19.

Riley Harris, Guinn Turner and Orville Turner received Lone Star Farmer degrees, the highest FFA award members may receive on the State level. The degree is awarded to students who have outstanding records in supervised farming programs conducted while studying vocational agriculture. Also considered in the selection for the coveted degree are the leadership activities in which the member participates.

To qualify each must demonstrate proficiency in parliamentary procedure and be able to lead a group discussion for forty minutes in addition to passing an occupational or FFA test provided by the governing body of the State association. He must have earned by his own efforts from farming or other agricultural work and deposited in a bank or otherwise productively invested at least $500 (at least two-thirds of the amount must be derived from his supervised farming program).

He must show outstanding ability as evidenced by his leadership and cooperation in student, chapter and community activities, and have a satisfactory scholarship record certified by the school superintendent or principal. He must have participated in an outstanding way in activities for community improvement and the development of agriculture.

Riley's supervised farming program has been composed mostly of crop projects. Each of the three years that he has been enrolled in vocational agriculture he has farmed his own irrigated cotton and grain sorghum. The first two years in vocational agriculture, Riley also raised broilers for meat production and gilts for pig production.

Riley has taken part each year in the various leadership activities conducted by the chapter. In 1960-61 he was a member of the Crops Judging team that placed third out of 27 teams entered in the West Texas State College judging contests. In 1962-63 he was on the Senior Farm Skill team that placed fourth out of 27 teams and also served as treasurer of the Plainview District of Future Farmers of America.

Guinn's supervised farming program has been composed of crop projects such as irrigated cotton and grain sorghums. Each year he has increased the size of his project.

Each year when leadership and judging contests begin, Guinn is one of the first to let it be known that he wants to participate. In 1960-61 he was on the Junior Chapter Conducting team that placed fourth out of 17 teams in the Plainview District. In 1961-62 he was a member of the Senior Chapter Conducting team that placed sixth out of 17 teams, and in 1962-63 he was on the fourth-place Senior Farm Skill team. That same year he was selected to serve as chapter reporter, and has received chapter awards for his crop and soil conservation projects during his three years in vocational agriculture.

Orville Baker's supervised farming program has consisted of livestock and crop projects. Each year he has had an outstanding swine program accompanied by a few acres of dryland cotton and grain sorghum. He has also had calves for show each year.

Orville has participated in many leadership and judging contests during his three years in vocational agriculture. In 1960-61 he was on the FFA Quiz team that placed second out of 17 teams in the district contest. In 1961-62 he was a member of the Senior Chapter Conducting team that placed sixth out of 17 teams, and in 1962-63 he was on the Senior Farm Skill team that placed fourth out of 17 teams. In 1962-63 he was elected secretary of the local chapter.

All three boys have had outstanding supervised farming and leadership programs and as a result of their work they were among the 270 boys in the state of Texas who received Lone Star Farmer degrees.

Jerry Perkins and Lynn Edwards represented the Silverton chapter as voting delegates to the State Convention. The boys were accompanied to Lubbock by Jack Mayfield, high school vocational agriculture teacher.

Riley Harris, Guinn Turner and Orville Turner have completed three years in high school vocational agriculture under the direction of Jack Mayfield, their teacher and F.F.A. chapter sponsor.

Time To Stop And Look Around

by Mary Ann Sarchet

A community can rock along, not worrying about anything more than day-to-day business. Then one day someone looks up and, lo and behold, we've been left behind.

It's time someone raised his eyes in Silverton. Our population growth has been steady and home-building has been substantial, but just how do we compare with our neighboring cities?

We could be doing better. We are surrounded by progressive communities which are doing well in regard to population, building, industry, etc. Energetic leaders are the keystones of these communities.

How are we doing at home? We have a nice little city, but how long has it been since a new business came to locate here? Is there a strong program for the advance of the city, both in the field of new industry and in other factors such as expansion of local plants and business?

The fate of the dinosaur is good proof of the philosophy of accepting what you have and not striving for something better. Progress eliminates those who don't try to keep in step. This is no time to be satisfied with ourselves.

Our location in this area provides two assets—neither of which have been developed one iota. We have an excellent location for a dam which could contain a large body of water, as well as a colorful history which could be developed into a solid foundation for a new industry: Tourism.

The fact cannot be overlooked, as we read items from cities who have been living with water rationing this summer, that our city exists on only one strong water well. The day is not far in our future when this one good well will not be adequate to fulfill our needs, especially in hot dry weather like we have seen this year. Experts are predicting another great drought within the next 13 years, and within that same period of years our city will be subjected to water shortage unless steps are taken in the near future to remedy the situation.

Industry has cast eyes toward Silverton in the past, and rejected it as a suitable location because of the water situation.

A solution to this could be to save the millions and millions of gallons of water which are lost annually down Tule Creek. A dam in the narrows could save this valuable resource, and the large lake impounded could be valuable to the city as a recreation area as well as a reservoir for emergency use. And the time will surely come when not only emergency water will be needed, but also water to fill the needs of a growing population.

Let's not let our city become so low on water that we can't fight our fires, water our lawns, fill the pool, etc. before seeking a solution to the problem.

No criticism is constructive unless it offers a solution. Another idea which I think could help the tourism industry in Silverton would be a city museum, displaying artifacts of the area. A museum and art center could be combined, a legacy for future generations.

An excellent location and building for such a museum could be Briscoe County's old jail house, which is definitely a relic from the past. Located on the highway, this historic location could be remodeled to house art treasures and artifacts and would be easily accessible to travelers. We think it is high time that the county consider new jail facilities if such facilities are to be used here.

Local citizens, whose whole-hearted support would be necessary for the realization of any of these possibilities, undoubtedly have additional ideas. But, in any case, it's time we raise our heads and look around.

A Look At Yesteryear

Items taken from the editorial columns by Roy Hahn in the 1943 files of the Briscoe County News—repeated to tickle your sense of humor.

If I had red ink on the press I'd print T. T. CRASS in blazing letters across the front page this week. Last Thursday with about half of the papers printed, old Betsy coughed and spit up a couple chunks of cast iron, that seemingly were vital to her innards. I caught Theron as he was quitting, threatened him a little and coaxed him a little till he jumped in and welded the cast iron intestines back together. I can't guarantee how long she will stay in good humor, but right now old Betsy is purring like a kitten. Theron has never failed to get the Briscoe County News going again, and like I've said before, I've took him jobs that should have gone to a ployees from the third-ranking executive down to the secretarial pools and file clerks, purchasing office equipment and furnishings, and so on.

Miskell still hopes to have the agency set up by August 23. This is the effective date of the new law governing the licensing and practices of lending firms who charge more than 10 per cent interest.

A flood of applications is expected from Texas loan companies seeking licenses and inquiring about specific provisions in the new lending regulations.

PROSPERITY OF CITIES

Texas merchants continue to operate at a high level of retail sales volume.

Total retail sales show no dramatic increases. But the level for the first six months of this year is about two per cent over the 1962 January to June period.

According to the UT Bureau of Business Research Fort Worth and Austin are in the lead with increases of three per cent. Dallas is next with three per cent improvement, followed by San Antonio with plus one per cent.

Cities recording disappointing half-year sales were El Paso, minus one percent, and Houston, with no change from the 1962 averages.

magician, or at least to a watchmaker.

Barb says that if I mention point rationing one more time in this paper, she'll scream. So I won't, cause when Barb screams, she screams!

Foxy Joe Oneal is really feeling foxy this week with the addition of another harvest hand to his crew. He sent me an announcement and said it was twins, gave me their names, weights and all the bragging necessary to put the story across. But I fooled him at that. I slipped out and counted them and according to a count, which may have been wrong, there was only one. You can't blame Joe for trying though. And then too, his wife told me that Joe was painting the kitchen table that day and had about a pint of paint remover left and being short of coffee, he drank the paint remover. So you can't blame Joe for thinking it was twins—I reckon he did see two of them.

Orlin Stark came up yesterday and was looking into my banty chicken business. He found out from last week's paper they are producers and now he walks in and says they are his. He said he gave the original stock to Watson Douglas and that Watt gave them to Coffee. And he is taking steps to get them back. What I can't see is how he is going to figure the interest on them.

It is the grandpappy of all eggs—U. D. Brown brought in the biggest hen egg that I ever saw Monday. It measures over seven inches the small way and 8½ inches the long way around, and weighs 6 ounces. It is a very light brown in color and has a pretty rough shell. Brown says for me to keep it around for a few days and then eat it and tell him what all was on the inside.

The only thing I can think of is that he let a Briscoe County News blow out across the chicken pen and one hen got a glimpse of some of the chicken and banty stories that I've been running in there. Or she may have been reading some of the souped-up publicity stories on Food for Victory and just had a patriotic streak. Yet again, she may have misread some of the ration news and thought that eggs were on the list. There's no doubt but if a man had a dozen eggs like this one on hand, rationing or no rationing, he could certainly be accused of hoarding.

Last week I told you about the old Red Hen of U. D. Brown's. Story has a sequel to it—the next day the hen died. Chalk up one that laid the big egg. Well the more score against Hitler. When our farm hens get to working for Victory to the extent that they sacrifice their lives it shows we are really getting in the groove. I might suggest for the benefit of other farmers with hens of large ideas that the Caesarian operation has been developed to a high degree among us humans—it might work in poultry too.

P. S. I broke the egg. It had a yolk and white and then another complete egg inside, shell and all.

Cooney Alexander was in today and was explaining the difference between the Catholic and Protestant religions. He said that the main branches of religious beliefs goes way back to the time of Moses. One bunch believes that Pharaoh's daughter found Moses in the bullrushes, and the other thinks "that was just what she said."

Some heat today. The devil himself would be in his shirt sleeves . . . J. W. Lyon, jr., in explaining his draft call said, "Got a letter from the President. It said, 'Greetings: I have run this son-of-a-gun by myself just as long as I can. I need you.'"

Jake Carthel was doing a little plain and funny roping last Sunday and had a little trouble with his mount. He bailed out at about twenty feet in the air and his chute failed to open. They are still looking for the pieces but so far have found only enough to make a one-legged man.

Delayed from Last Week

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Soden, Lynn Stevie, Rodney and Ronnie of Rocky Ford, Colorado, spent last week here with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Wofford and daughters, Mrs. Floyd Land, Greg and Rhonda of Fowler, Colorado, spent Thursday night in the Wofford home. Mr. and Mrs. Soden are parents of Mmes. Wofford and Lane. Sherry Soden, who had been here for three weeks, returned home with her parents.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Shelton, Martha, Virginia and Calvin were Mr. and Mrs. E. Shelton and Latonya of Tulsa, Okla. and Mrs. Haskell Shelton, Kent Keith and Kevin of Mosca, Colo.

AUSTIN, Texas—Texas Legislative Council, research agency for the Legislature, is in the curious position of being asked to take a close look at the ethical standards of its own boss.

Council, meeting in Austin, agreed on a proposed study of conflict of interest questions affecting State officials and employees. Gov. John Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr suggested the study as a result of investigations into the private business affairs of former Railroad Commissioner W. J. Murray, jr.

A Travis County grand jury found Murray innocent of any violation of criminal laws during his terms of office. Carr observed in a later report that the Murray case raised "a serious question of a conflict of interest" between official duties and private interests.

Carr's report said Murray grossed $1,700,000 during his 16 years on the Commission—most of it from oil and gas ventures. Attorney general recommended "adequate laws" to control "any deviations from (ethical) standards."

Council will be responsible for conducting research and investigation of possible conflict of interest cases among all State officials—including the lawmakers themselves—with a view toward "improving our present code of ethics."

MORE REPUBLICANS?

Another action by the Legislative Council had interesting "two-party" implications.

Rep. Bob Johnson of Dallas was named executive director of the Council, succeeding Read Granberry who died last year. Johnson has resigned his Dallas legislative post to accept the $15,500-a-year assignment—creating still another vacancy in the eight-man Dallas delegation to the House of Representatives.

This leaves only one Democrat, Rep. Ben Atwell, lined up against the six incumbent Republicans.

Dallas Republicans surprised themselves and stunned Democrats last year by winning all the legislative races they entered. Speculation then was that the three remaining Democrats on the Dallas House delegation — Reps. Bob Hughes, Johnson and Atwell — would be in for a rough 1964 general election should Dallas Republicans oppose them, and an even rougher time of it if Barry Goldwater were chosen to head the GOP ticket as presidential nominee.

Hughes recently resigned his legislative post to accept appointment to a judgeship. This caused more speculation about a possible 1964 election sweep by the Dallas Republican organization.

Johnson's resignation has intensified the "Republican sweep" fears.

Cram Course on Annexation

Texas Municipal League will conduct a special one-day "institute" in Austin on August 5. It will be a cram course for Texas municipal officials on the new law limiting city annexations.

William Olson, attorney for the League, will moderate a question and answer program, followed by a panel discussion featuring Mayor James McCrocklin of Kingsville, City Manager H. P. Clifton of Abilene, Planning Director William Anderson of Corpus Christi, and Steve Matthews, executive director of the League.

New law takes effect on August 23. But a provision in the Act requires that annexations pending or initiated after March 15 (1963) must meet terms set out in the measure. Furthermore these in-the-works annexations must be completed by November 23 or become null and void.

RAPID ERADICATING

Few eradication programs have produced such prompt and effective results as the U. S. Department of Agriculture's screwworm eradication plan.

A year ago scientists and field workers started the "saturation" release of sterilized flies to conquer screwworm population explosion.

Texas Animal Health Commission reported only 28 screwworm cases confirmed in a 5-day period—as opposed to nearly 3,000 cases recorded during a comparable period in 1962.

As further encouragement, the Commission noted that of last week's 28 reported cases, only five were in areas where the program's "controls" were in full effect.

How To Be A Commissioner

Frank Miskell, Texas' first Regulatory Loan Commissioner, is faced with the massive task of creating the agency.

Since state office buildings are filled his first job is finding office space.

Another immediate problem concerns selection of a deputy commissioner. He will assume much of the detailed work involved in establishing a budget and an organizational plan, setting salaries for employees, hiring em-

CONVOY TO STOP HERE AUGUST 6

A Fort Sill, Oklahoma, convoy transporting the Army's newest missile system—the Pershing—will stop in Silverton on Tuesday morning, August 6, about 11:30 a.m. enroute to White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico, to continue the Pershing Service Test program which began last spring at Cape Canaveral, Florida.

The convoy, made up of 185 vehicles and 400 men of the Second Missile Battalion, 44th Artillery, and the U. S. Army Artillery Board, both from Fort Sill, will conduct tests including several firings of the Pershing during the next three months at White Sands, New Mexico; Blanding, Utah; and Fort Wingate, New Mexico.

Men and equipment will be divided into five convoy segments—with the first approximately two miles long, and the others about a mile and one-half. There will be approximately a 30-minute interval between segments.

The Pershing missile is a two-stage selective range weapon for field Army support. Designed to be moved by helicopters, overland on tracked vehicles, or in fixed wing aircraft, the 400-mile range missile can be operated over virtually any terrain and under any conditions of weather and climate.

Named in honor of General of the Armies John J. Pershing of World War I fame, the system includes a mobile transporter-erector-launcher which permits the missile to be moved to an unprepared firing position, erected and fired in a matter of minutes by a relatively small crew.

The system also includes three other tracked vehicles—a warhead carrier, a mobile communications center, and a programmer test station. The tracked vehicles will be hauled on 46 foot trailers during the White Sands trip to prevent damage to highways.

The Second of the 44th, under operational control of the U. S. Army Artillery Board, has staged three successful firings of the Pershing down the Atlantic Test Range from Cape Canaveral last April as part of the continuing test program. Prior firings had been conducted by scientific and research personnel since February, 1960.

Battery A of the Second of the 44th will participate in the actual firings. Headquarters and service battery of the 44th and members of the Artillery Board will supply the supporting elements.

The men will move from White Sands to Blanding, Utah, in September and Fort Wingate, New Mexico, the following month. Three more firing batteries of the Fort Sill missile battalion will join the original group in October at the New Mexico site. They are currently undergoing Pershing training at the Artillery and Missile Center.

Firemen Answer Call To McMurtry Home

Silverton firemen answered a call at about midnight Saturday to the new home of Wayne McMurtry in the north part of town.

Dwin Davis and Guy Breedlove were driving past the house, discovered the fire, and firemen were able to contain the blaze in the double garage of the home.

The McMurtry family was in the process of moving into the new home. Cause of the fire was attributed to spontaneous combustion which set fire to paint rags left in the garage.

Navarro County Reunion Sunday

Plans for the annual Navarro County reunion have been made for Sunday, August 4, in Mackenzie Park in Lubbock.

All residents and former residents are invited to attend and bring basket lunches which will be spread together at noon.

Old Ways Are Best Ways For Quitaque's Smithy

from the Amarillo Daily News) Written by Bob Kerr

Working with iron seemed to be the blood of the Lyon family. J. W. Lyon's father was a blacksmith in Georgia and when the family came to Texas, J. W. took the trade.

Today he represents the only blacksmith in the Briscoe county area. You can't miss his shop driving through Quitaque. It's an old Baptist tabernacle converted to a blacksmith shop in 1928.

That's the year the Lyons moved to Quitaque. But before the move he had already become a master at working with iron.

"I worked in Clarendon 19 years as a blacksmith," Lyon said. "There it was mostly shoeing horses. My work was cut out for me every day. I would shoe from 20 to 25 head a day."

He tried a fling at farming before moving into Quitaque. "I thought I would get rich," he remembered. "But 1926 and 1927 graduated me from the farm."

Lyon then fell back on his lifetime skill. He moved to Quitaque bought the Baptist tabernacle, moved it to the main street and opened his business.

"There weren't too many cars in those days," he commented. "But we did all that work for years." If it breaks again, it will break anywhere but at the weld.

MASTER OF METALS—J. W. Lyon of Quitaque is a master when it comes to working with iron. He is Quitaque's only blacksmith—Amarillo Daily News staff photo

Lyon was quick to utilize new inventions in the blacksmithing business: "I had the first electric welding rig in the county." He was also Quitaque's wrecker service.

Today, the 75-year-old blacksmith says "there's nothing we don't do." He said he has quit working on cars, though. "I got too old to crawl around under them. And you know, you've got to study and keep up to work on these cars.

"There's very few that does it, too."

Lyon offers an assortment of trailer pins, plow points and other odds and ends. He was working on a set of steel stock racks as he talked.

"I buy junk. I just let it stack up and sell it when the price goes up. I guess I've got about 600 tons around here now."

One time the junk business caught him short.

"Before the war I wouldn't sell iron to the Japs. I told them I didn't want them shooting it back at our boys."

"Well, then OPA came in, set the price at a little over $11 and took it all. I had from $14 to $20 a ton in it."

Two prized cars are nestled in the piles of junk—a 1910 Buick and a 1917 Cadillac.

They are located in a small barn adjacent to the shop and are under odds and ends.

"Some fellow from California came all the way out here and thought he was going to buy them. He didn't."

"I'm saving those cars. The Cadillac runs like a top and if I ever get out of this business I'll have something to play with."

Lyon said he has been trying to go out of business for 10 years.

"But I can't find anyone to take it."

Lyon's wife also gives some insight on the Quitaque blacksmith. "There isn't anything he can't make out of iron."

And a trip through the Lyon home proves it. He has built elaborate porch supports, wrought iron tables and other small wares from metal.

"He does a lot of work for the children here. I guess he's worked on almost every tricycle, bicycle and wagon in town. And he's never charged for it."

Mrs. Lyon said her husband through his junk buying even owned a steam calliope once.

"A show went broke here and he bought it. He kept it for awhile and sold it to some fellow."

And in explaining Lyon's eagerness to sell the business: "We've been trying to get him to sell for years. But he seems to enjoy the work."

(Mr. and Mrs. Lyon are parents of J. W. Lyon, jr., of Silverton.)

A. E. Smith was brought home from a Littlefield hospital last Friday. He is recuperating with a badly broken thigh bone which occurred when he stepped out of a car into a small grass-covered hole while visiting at Littlefield. Mrs. Lillian George of Kingman, Arizona, came Friday to help care for her father. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lightfoot and children of Hamilton visited her father, Mr. Smith, and other relatives Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Don Homer, Kelly Dean and Donald Craig of Amarillo spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Turner, Paula Carol and Orville Baker spent a long weekend with Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Bates, parents of Mrs. Turner, in Collinsville. Other sons and daughters of Rev. and Mrs. Bates were also guests.

Mrs. E. C. Newman was in Plainview Tuesday to visit her sister, Mrs. Elma Baker at the rest home.

Opening Sunday At Opal's Beauty Salon

Mrs. Richard Hill has announced that she will have her grand opening at Opal's Beauty Salon, located 1 1/2 miles east of Silverton on Highway 86, Sunday afternoon from 2:00 until 5:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Hill will begin taking appointments for hair styling and manicures beginning Tuesday, August 6. She will be open Tuesday through Saturday every week.

Opal's Beauty Salon has been constructed adjoining Mrs. Hill's home by her father, Jess Brannon of Silverton.

Keep More of Your Marbles In the Home Game

After all ... here's where you get to take your turn at shooting

Our big-city neighbors offer invitations to us every day to put our marbles in their bigger and fancier rings ... so they can take out more for themselves.

But the game that OUR winnings have to come out of ... is the HOME game. And ... the more of our marbles we put into THIS game, the more WE get a chance to take out.

Maybe you've noticed the city folks bragging about how much trade volume they take away from the small towns like ours in their "trade area" ... getting our marbles into their pockets for keeps.

Trading at home ... and making it more attractive for our neighbors to trade here ... is the direct and positive route to better jobs, better property values ... better schools, better living ... a better community for US to live in.

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

Where but in print can you get so close to the advertising messages that interest you? Where else can a woman clip the coupons and recipes that intrigue her? Or tear out tips to try on leftovers? Or mark, for future marketing, any of the colorful food ideas which strike her fancy? And where else can she circle and compare the colors and styles of clothing and furnishings that appeal to her? Where else, in fact, can any message be re-run at will by an interested audience? So make sure a good part of your advertising message gets into print. Let somebody's eyes linger over it as long as they like. Let somebody's scissors clip it free of competition. And then watch someone's pocket or purse carry it to the place of purchase. Print makes sense because print makes sales.

CARD OF THANKS As it is impossible for me to thank you personally, I take this method of thanking each of you for your prayers, visits, cards, food and telephone calls. It has made my stay at home much more pleasant. Surely life without friends would be like a garden without flowers. May others be as kind to you as you have been to me. May God richly bless you is my prayer. Mrs. A. D. Arnold
