

All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

As a footnote to my comments of last week regarding the telephone service here, I would like to add something which I should have included with the original article. I meant in no way to cause reflection upon our local telephone serviceman, as I realize that he is not to blame. I place the blame on equipment which is inadequate and a company which apparently does not strive to give the best of service.

Several of our readers have asked me what they should do to emphasize their displeasure with the phone service. I would suggest that anyone who is not satisfied with the service he is receiving write or phone:

January 31—tomorrow—is the deadline for paying poll taxes.

The indifference of many citizens when it comes to paying the poll tax this year is beyond my comprehension. Voting is a basic freedom in our democratic system of government. Voting, even though we may not be absolutely certain we are right, is our voice in government. It is our privilege and responsibility to use all the information available to us to determine which candidates are best qualified for office, and cast a ballot.

What would our government amount to if the voting privilege were taken away? When you refuse to exercise the right to vote you GIVE it away.

The sum of $1.75 is cheap, I think, for such a right, and I'll bet there are people in other countries who could tell us that freedom is worth almost as much as life itself. No person over the age of 21 should ever let himself lapse into a state of indifference when it comes to voting.

Remember, it doesn't matter how loudly you complain to the man on the street about what should be done by a particular officeholder, or who should be elected or rejected. The only time your voice counts for anything at all is at the polls.

I don't believe that citizens of this city and county, state and nation have reached the point where they don't care who the governing officials are. We feel, rather, that it is a reflection on the circumstances which presently surround the poll tax laws. State officials made it clear last November that the situation would be confusing if the proposed amendment failed, and even though I opposed passage of the amendment, their predictions have come true. We are now being told that by November Texans will not have to have a poll tax receipt to vote in the national election. However, there are many important offices to be filled on the city, county and state levels, and you will have to have paid $1.75 if you have a voice in these elections.

It costs less than a half cent a day to qualify yourself to vote. Pay it today! Saturday will be too late.

They overlook the fact that many of the tasks formerly performed on the farm now are being done in towns and cities, and that the total of our people involved in what is now called "agribusiness" is almost forty percent of our population.

The public is invited to attend this meeting.

Announcement of the appointment of Jim R. Baird of the Harvest Queen Grain Co. in Silverton as Chairman of the Silverton chapter of the National Federation of Independent Business was made today by Jack Downing, District Manager of the Federation in this area.

Each business and professional man member of this organization maintains a voting membership, and is polled by ballots regularly throughout the year on bills and issues that affect independent enterprise at the national and state levels.

In an effort to do everything possible to maintain the American way of life and keep our free competitive system of business, the businessmen express their personal opinion on the ballots each month and turn them over to Baird, who makes tabulations of the total number and the manner in which they voted.

These tabulations are sent, with the underlying signed ballots, directly to the desk of Congressman Walter Rogers in Washington, D. C., and to State Senator Andy Rogers.

Miss Nakabe To Address Century Of Progress Study Club

Sign-Up Nears For '64 Feed Grain Program

Farmers will have an opportunity to sign up in the 1964 feed grain program early in February, according to Louie Kitchens, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. The sign-up period will be for seven weeks, from February 10 through March 27.

As in previous years, the Chairman explained, the feed grain program will be voluntary and each individual producer on farms growing one of the three feed grains covered by the program will make his own decision about whether to take part. The program is available for corn, grain sorghum and barley.

To take part in the feed grain program, the farmer will agree to take out of production and devote to an approved conservation use at least 20 per cent of the total feed grain base (for all of the three grains grown on the farm). The farmer may divert the acreage of one or more of the feed grains, but his payment will be figured according to the rate applicable to the crop diverted.

Farmers who participate in the program will be eligible for diversion and price support payments, and for price support loans on their 1964 production of the three grains. The price support payments will be made to participants whether the feed grain produced in 1964 is fed on the farm, sold, or placed under a price support loan.

Chairman Kitchens points out that two major improvements have been made in the 1964-crop feed grain program as compared with programs of previous years: (a) As much as 50 per cent of the total feed grain base may be diverted on any farm (this is up from the 1963 maximum of 40 per cent of the feed grain base); and (b) the average payment rate per acre for diverting 40 per cent or more of the base will be substantially higher than last year.

Farmers are encouraged to look into the advantages of taking part in the 1964 feed grain program, so that their production plans for this year may be cleared up by the time the sign-up opens.

A Memoir Of Dave Loughborough

by Mrs. C. C. Blackwell

I had heard of Dave Loughborough several years before I ever met him. I had heard some ludicrous stories about him, but I was wholly unprepared for the man I met.

A woman of my acquaintance told me that he often made a meal of apples eating peeling, core and all. Also a man who knew him personally said, having purchased a pair of boots that hurt his feet badly, he took them off, tied them to his saddle and continued his long ride in his sock feet. He had the misfortune of losing one of them which he substituted with an old overshoe.

He came from a distinguished family and some of his ancestors were close friends of Lafayette, the famous French soldier and statesman, who so gallantly aided the Colonists in their fight against England for independence and who was an efficient member of George Washington's staff.

During the Spanish American War Dave was in the Service, but he seldom mentioned it and some of his closest friends didn't know that he was a veteran of the war of 1898.

One of his sisters was a writer of poetry and had several volumes of poetry published. Another sister was an artist and studied under some eminent European art teachers. She traveled in Europe and painted some beautiful pictures of scenic Norway.

After Dave got out of the service he returned to his Virginia home but not for long. Becoming discontented and restless and fed up with the Bureaucrats in Washington D. C. he came to Texas.

On the JA Ranch he got a job that he liked and there he stayed for some time. He was not much of a cowboy but he made a good wagon boss and helped mend many a fence.

His acquaintances soon learned that he sometimes backed up an argument with his fists and were reluctant to press a disagreement. He reveled in being eccentric and usually succeeded.

He had a camp on the Tule and seemed to enjoy the solitude. Once when asked if life wasn't dull with only cows for companions most of the time he replied dryly, "Not at all. I like them better than some people. They are just as friendly and a lot easier to get along with."

One hot August day he had been out to repair a fence, and having completed the task he rode in camp a little before sundown. About the time he got a pot of coffee made a stranger approached riding an exhausted horse. Although Dave was wearing only his trousers and no shoes or socks he played the gracious host. He invited the man to unsaddle his horse and come in for some coffee.

Later over the evening meal the visitor commented that cowboys ought to be able to save a lot of money.

"Oh, yes they do," replied Dave quickly, "All but me. I spend all of mine for clothes."

He invited the stranger to spend the night and as dark approached their conversation was interrupted by a commotion outside the cabin that alarmed the visitor.

"Don't worry," said Dave. "It's only a bear. The breaks are full of them."

"I think I had better be getting out of here," said the man uneasily, as he prepared to make a hasty departure.

The truth was, Dave had rigged up a raccoon trap that with the help of a string through a knot hole in the wall, he could throw the trap and catch the prowler.

Several years later he left the ranch and moved near Silverton. He spent a lot of time with friends; sometimes with people who were intellectually inferior, then perhaps the next night he would be the guest of a senator. His friends were from all walks of life. Every man was his friend or his enemy, or at least that was the way he felt. He was a philanthropist if I ever knew one. He was always a friend to the oppressed, the weak or the unfortunate.

Anyone who frequented the town of Silverton back in the twenties or thirties probably saw him many times on Saturdays, leaning against a wall with arms folded like an Indian; talking little but listening to every bit of conversation that reached his ears.

Dave was far from being a conformist in any respect. He seldom buttoned his shirt sleeves and said he didn't like winter because he had to wear too many clothes. He might have been mistaken for a Westerner but his speech betrayed him. For he never lost his Virginia brogue.

Although he never married he had a special fondness for children and he told me once that when he worked on the JA Ranch he had ridden miles to the Schott Ranch just to see the little Schott kids. "They were the only little kids I ever got to see," he said with a soft smile.

He died in Silverton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Newman. His request was that he be buried in the Silverton Cemetery, not in a casket, but in a pine box and he asked that Emmett Puckett build it. His request, however, was not fulfilled for his friends felt that his remains belonged to his family. O. R. Tipps and N. R. (Jake) Honea, County Judge and

The Owl's Hoot F.B.L.A. NEWS

Thursday, January 23, FBLA had their regular meeting during which the members were reminded to bring their sweaters the following Monday for the group picture.

It was decided to have a variety show the first Friday in March. Committees were appointed, the shorthand class being on the program committee; the typing II class on the advertising committee; and the typing I class in charge of the entertainment. Members were also asked to bring a pie for the pie auction afterward.

Humility and Vanity

Solomon said a mouthful when he said in the Book of Ecclesiastes: "Vanity of vanities, sayeth the Preacher; vanity of vanities, all is vanity." Now, that statement may sound a little far-fetched, until you think about it for a while. But really, is it? What is pride, if not vanity? What is selfishness, if not vanity? It seems that everything we do is out of vanity. Just for example Benjamin Franklin stated a great bit of truth when he said in his AUTOBIOGRAPHY (when giving reasons for writing it): "... perhaps I shall a good deal gratify my own vanity. Indeed, I scarce ever heard or saw the introductory words, 'Without vanity I may say, etc.' but some vain thing immediately followed." The characteristic we should substitute for vanity is humility. Humility is just the opposite of vanity. Think a minute. Don't you admire humility in anyone?

One of the most outstanding characteristics of Jesus Christ was humility. Robert E. Lee was noted for his humility. Benjamin Franklin, in his AUTOBIOGRAPHY, set down 13 characteristics he wanted to develop. One of these was humility.

Humility, substituted for vanity, will make a great change in your life.

FTA Members Are Guests of Delta Kappa Gamma

Gamma Iota chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma society met in Plainview recently in the Wayland College Home Life Building.

Miss Mildred Hulsey of Tulia conducted the program, "Trends in Social Patterns and Implication on Youth," for F.T.A. members of the area who were special guests along with some Wayland College students who are preparing to teach. Miss Hulsey started the program by passing out slips of paper which carried thought provoking questions to the preparing teachers. When each F.T.A. member rose to answer his question, he introduced himself and told the name of his town and school.

Miss Hulsey conducted a "conversation" on the book, "A School for Suzanne," by Marjorie Miller Freer. F.T.A. members answered a second group of questions which summarized and brought out the theme, main purpose, and worth of the book.

For some years, Miss Hulsey has sponsored an essay contest on the subject, "What the Teacher Who Helped Me Most Did For Me." A prize of $25 goes to the first place winner. The money is to be used in helping pay the expenses of the chapter's delegates to the State F.T.A. Convention.

Sid Hooper of Tulia won first place for his chapter this year. Plainview won second place in the contest and Silverton third. The judges reported that all entries were excellent.

The Silverton contestant mentioned Mrs. Winnie (A. L.) Redin as the teacher who had been most helpful. She was pictured as a patient, kind teacher who is always ready to explain a math problem one more time for the benefit of those who did not understand.

F.T.A. members attending from Silverton were Linda Sissney, Joni Self and Janice Lewis. Gamma Iota members from Silverton were Mrs. O. C. Rampley, Miss Anna Lee Anderson, Mrs. Lee D. Bomar and Mrs. G. E. Lacy.

Book Reviewed By Mrs. Whitfill

March of Time Study Club met January 16, 1964, in the P.C.A. community room at 3:00 p.m. Mrs. Alvie Mayfield gave the invocation.

Mrs. Marvin Montague presided during the business session. Chairmen of the standing committees gave their reports, after which Mrs. Joe Mercer was elected to membership.

The club members voted to have a Valentine Party for their husbands on February 6, 1964, at the Phillips "66" Restaurant.

Mrs. Fred Mercer, yearbook chairman, was hostess.

Mrs. Ben Whitfill, Home Life Chairman, opened her book review with the quotation for the day, "There are a few things that never go out of style, and a feminine woman is one of them," by Jobyna Ralston. Then Mrs. Whitfill continued with her review of "It's a Woman's World," by Ruth Stout.

The author was born in Topeka, Kansas, and was married at the age of 45. Mrs. Stout was about 75 when she wrote "It's a Woman's World." She enjoys life and lives each day as it comes. She thinks women worry so much preparing for guests that they are too tired to really enjoy them.

Mrs. Stout says there are two kinds of house keepers—"The woman who can't stand to see dirt," and "the woman who can't see dirt."

Coffee and Cokes were served to Mrs. Clarence Anderson, Mrs. True Burson, Mrs. Tony Burson, Mrs. Troy Burson, Mrs. Rex Dickerson, Mrs. H. A. Cagle, Mrs. A. L. Redin, Mrs. J. V. Self, Mrs. Roy Mayfield, Mrs. Fred Mercer, Mrs. Alvie Mayfield, Mrs. Marvin Montague and Mrs. D. T. Northcutt.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Holt were hosts at a family dinner on Sunday. Guests were Mrs. Lela Wallace and Mrs. Laura Rowell of Strathmore, California; Mrs. Ivey Ellis, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Seay, Tulia; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Don Wallace and daughters, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Dock Wallace and Gloria, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Holt, Karen, David and Kent, Jerry Frizzell, Mrs. Billy Wayne Garvin, Scott and Dara, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Zeigler and Bobby Kitchens.

Calling in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Don Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. West, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Holt, Silverton; C. E. Ellis and Mike, Plainview; Mrs. Blaine Holt and Mrs. Jerry Bartram of Lockney.

A. N. Brooks of Oakland, California, was a weekend visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lindsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Patterson of Oklahoma City have been recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rhoderick.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bud McMinn Friday evening of last week were Mrs. Bama Oliver of Dallas; Mrs. W. L. McMinn and Mrs. Madue D. Skeen Stout of Lubbock. Mrs. Oliver, a sister of Mrs. McMinn, is spending a visit with her in Lubbock.

Upon her return to Silverton from an extended visit in Louisiana, Mrs. Eunice Bishop is now visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher in Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer May of Dalhart spent Tuesday night of last week with Virginia May.

Mrs. R. N. McDaniel attended the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Homer Fore, 73, at Gatesville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes returned home from Las Vegas, New Mexico, Friday afternoon of last week. He had been a patient in the hospital there for a week. Jim Tom Nichols of Tulia and Mr. Hughes were at the Nichols cabin near Las Vegas when Mr. Hughes became ill and developed pneumonia. He is recuperating at his home here.

Mrs. Clifton Stodghill underwent surgery Thursday morning of last week in Swisher County Hospital.
