Swisher County Looking To Gala Picnic Celebration

Wayne Cooper, Chamber of Commerce manager in Tulia, finds Chamber work very demanding sometimes. When the time came to start planning this year's 74th Swisher County Founder's Day Celebration, Cooper found there was no chairman or committee. The resourceful manager called several reluctant "could-be's" together and started a conscription campaign.

Volunteers were still reluctant until Wayne began making promises. In order to have boat drag races, he promised that Tule Lake (almost dry then) would be full of water. In order to have an air show, he said he would make a parachute jump. Although work had not been completed at the City-County Airport, he promised that it would be finished and he would have a dignitary present to dedicate the airport—on top of that, there would be a fireworks display during the dedication.

Results: the lake is full; he has had a volunteer pack his chute; fireworks have been ordered; the airport is practically completed; the committees are organized and at work (those who refused jobs in regard to the celebration will have to jump also). The dignity? They don't have one yet, but we bet they will!

Harley Redin, a native of Silverton and an officer of the First State Bank in Tulia, is chairman in charge of organizing booster trips.

Phone Repair Work Nearing Completion

General Telephone crews have completed about 80% of the outside plant and rehabilitation project in Silverton, according to Sherron T. Lee, District Manager for General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

It is anticipated that the job will be completed about July 15, and will replace the old cable in the downtown area, as well as in some residential areas. Approximately $14,500 is being expended to replace old cable in various areas. This new cable will reduce the number of subscribers' trouble reports caused by damp weather and high winds and dust.

Weather conditions and lack of man power have delayed the completion of this project from the original estimated completion date of June 1.

"The telephone crews have made some changes from the old cable to the new cable and we hope any trouble caused has been slight. Every effort has been made and will be made to keep the amount of trouble to a minimum during this period," Lee said.

MRS. GUY BREEDLOVE

May-Breedlove Vows Exchanged In Pretty Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Sheryl Lyn May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin May, became the bride of Mr. Guy Breedlove in an evening ceremony on Friday, June 19, in the First Baptist Church of Silverton.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Breedlove, also of Silverton.

Rev. Clyde R. Cain, pastor, officiated at the double ring service beneath an archway covered with greenery and white gladioli flanked by a pair of candle trees decorated with greenery, white gladioli and coral carnations. Baskets of the same floral arrangements stood on either side.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of lace and tulle over taffeta, designed with scalloped portrait neckline trimmed with sequins. The long petal point sleeves were fastened with tiny buttons, and her bouffant skirt was accented by a flat lace panel with scalloped edges. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a tiara of orange blossoms, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations surrounding two phalaenopsis orchids.

The bride chose to carry out the traditional something old, something new, and for something borrowed she wore a veil which belonged to her friend, Mrs. Jerry Taylor of San Antonio, the former Marjorie Autry of Silverton.

Attending the bride were Misses Sue Neeley and Martina Williams, both of Silverton. They wore identical street-length dresses of coral cotton satin fashioned with modified bell skirts, scooped necklines and short sleeves. They wore white patent shoes, white pillbox hats with sequin trim and short veils. White gloves completed their costumes. They carried bouquets of coral carnations with white trim.

Mary Jo Thomas was flower girl, wearing a coral cotton satin dress with bouffant skirt, scooped neckline and short sleeves. She wore white shoes and a white headpiece trimmed with coral. She wore a wristlet of coral flowers, and carried a white basket filled with coral flower petals.

Chris Breedlove, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norvell Breedlove of Tulia, a nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Norvell Breedlove, brother of the bridegroom, Larry May, brother of the bride, and Roy Allen Battles of Dimmitt, a cousin of the bridegroom, were ushers.

Van Breedlove served his brother as best man, and the candles were lighted by Thurman May, brother of the bride.

Mrs. May chose a turquoise silk shantung dress with turquoise flowered hat, turquoise shoes and gloves for her daughter's wedding. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a blue linen dress with matching blue shoes and hat and white gloves. Both wore corsages of white glloxinias.

Mrs. L. B. Garvin, jr., of Silverton, was organist, and accompanied Mrs. Lance Shackelford of Amarillo, a cousin of the bride, as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's bouquet was used for the centerpiece on the serving table, and crystal and silver appointments were used in serving the four-tier white wedding cake and punch. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom standing beneath an arch decorated with white and coral flowers. Wedding bells and the names of the bride and bridegroom were also used as decoration on the cake.

Misses Carlene and Pat Thurman and Kay Ross, all of Tulia, cousins of the bride, Mrs. Carman Rhode and Mrs. Glenn McWilliams assisted with the serving and other hospitalities during the reception. Mrs. John Martin and Mrs. George McJimsey registered the guests in the bride's book.

For the wedding trip to Red River, New Mexico, the bride chose a yellow suit, yellow veiled hat, tapestry bag and shoes and the orchids from her wedding bouquet.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Silverton High School. He is also a graduate of Draughon's Business School.

The couple are at home in Silverton, where he is employed by First State Bank.

Regular Exercise Can Provide Both Physical and Mental Tonic, says AMA

Stretcher (4 to 10 times). Reach up to toes.

High-stepper (10 to 20 steps). Run in place, pump high knees and arms.

Side Bender (6 to 15 times). Raise first one arm then the other straight over head.

Push-up (6 to 15 times). Men on hands and toes; women on hands and knees. Starting in raised position, with trunk and neck straight, lower trunk to two inches from floor and return.

Curl (6 to 15 times). Starting on back with knees bent, hands behind head, tuck chin and "curl" as far forward as possible, aiming elbow to opposite knee.

Stride Squat (6 to 15 times). Hands behind head, stride forward deeply with right leg. Keep left toe in place, left knee off floor. Return and exercise opposite.

Compressor (6 to 15 times). Lie spread-eagled on back. Roll onto hip and with leg and arm straight touch toe to opposite hand. Return and exercise opposite.

Twister (6 to 15 times). Sit with legs and arms extended straight. Touch fingers to opposite toe. Return and exercise opposite.

ISOMETRIC EXERCISES

The following exercises do not involve movement, but rather muscular contractions. One of their advantages is that many can be done at times and places where normal exercise would be impossible, such as in the office. Hold each contraction forcefully for six seconds. Repeating is not necessary.

(1) Organ Grinder. Push hand against hand, then pull hand against hand.

(2) Thinker. Push forehead against palm, then push back of head against palm(s).

(3) Bird. Put back of hands against door jamb, then push palms in the same manner.

(4) Sampson. Push palms against door jamb, then straighten arms high against jamb and push again.

(5) Siesta. Sitting with back against one door jamb, push foot against other side, then push other foot in same manner.

There's more to physical fitness than mere muscles, but you can't be truly healthy and a bundle of flab at the same time.

To be physically fit you must be both medically fit and dynamically fit. The two don't necessarily go hand in hand, points out Raymond L. White, M.D., director of Environmental Medicine and Medical Services for the American Medical Association.

"Medical fitness means body soundness. This can be determined only by a medical examination. Dynamic fitness or 'action capacity' is a measurement of strength, agility and endurance," he said.

"A person who shuns activity may get a 'clean bill of health' from his doctor but if he can't endure even slight exertion, he's hardly physically fit. On the other hand, neither is the athlete with a chronic or undetected health problem."

In a sense it seems silly to be concerned about strength and endurance in a push-button age.

But the fact is, the human body was not designed for push buttons but for work, said Dr. White. "The absence of dynamic fitness through lack of physical exertion is a detriment to health. Furthermore, muscle tone, or lack of it, can be a factor in your whole outlook on life."

Strength and endurance, developed through regular exercise, leads to skill and agility and adds to poise and grace. Not only do daily tasks become easier, you also look better and so feel more at ease in social situations.

Even more evident, however, are the benefits to physical health, Dr. White pointed out.

Since exercise is a factor in weight control, it indirectly aids in preventing degenerative diseases, such as diabetes and arthritis, which are more prevalent in the obese.

Evidence indicates that exercise also may help prevent heart and blood vessel diseases. Active people have fewer heart attacks and a better recovery rate when such attacks do occur.

The best exercise is enjoyable exercise. Activities such as hiking, swimming, skiing, tennis or gardening along with their physical benefits can provide relief from tension, thus serving as a safe, natural tranquilizer.

When there is no opportunity for taking exercise in such form, however, a daily walk and series of calisthenics can provide much the same tonic.

Above are a few examples of scientifically sound exercises, taken from the AMA pamphlet, "Physical Fitness." Used daily, they will help to increase muscular strength, body suppleness and motor reaction, and to improve circulation and other body functions.

Start out slowly, Dr. White warned, and gradually work up to the point where you can do all of these exercises quickly without stopping.

Grand Assembly of Texas Order of the Rainbow for Girls was held this year in the San Antonio, Texas, auditorium June 15-17.

Members of the Silverton Rainbow Assembly traveled to San Antonio on a chartered bus with a group of members from the Happy Assembly and their sponsors.

Georgine West, Grand Worthy Advisor, chose as her theme "Service Above Self." Her colors were white and pastels, and spring flowers were used in decoration. The auditorium's stage was decorated with artificial rose trees and in the background were wisteria trees literally drooping with blossoms. Seated on lawn furniture amid this floral display were the Grand Officers and their honored guests.

In the foreground was a huge lily pond, and above all hung beautiful clouds. The decorations were made for Georgine's installation as Grand Worthy Advisor in June, 1963, by her home Assembly at Gainesville.

There were 4,414 girls in attendance. Those who attended from Silverton Assembly were Gale Whitfill, Donna Stephens, Peggy Phillips, Mary Schott, Joyce Brooks, Vicki Vaughan, Ian Lanham and Brenda Beames. Two girls and two adults served during the Grand Assembly. Mary Schott was a member of the Grand Choir; Peggy Phillips was a Rainbow Girl Guard; Mrs. Pat Whitfill was an Order of the Eastern Star Guard; and Ben Whitfill was a Masonic Guard.

The meetings were instructive and interesting. The Most Worshipful Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Texas, John R. Collard, Jr., and Mrs. Mollie Goodpasture, Worthy Grand Matron, Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star, were speakers. One of the thoughts that was brought out during the meetings was illustrated with a story about the Arab who, having lost his camel, inquired of another if he had seen the animal. "Is he lame in one foot and does he have some teeth missing?" the second man asked.

"Yes," said the Arab, "where did you see my camel?" The other replied that he had not seen the man's camel, but he had seen camel tracks that had undoubtedly been made by a lame animal and the grass was unevenly eaten, so he had presumed he had lost some teeth. The speaker concluded that all might not actually know who the Rainbow Girls are, but by their steps and actions they are able to leave the lessons of Rainbow upon others they meet through life.

Letters were read from various hospitals, thanking the girls for the used nylon hose they had collected and sent them. One hospital stated that they depend yearly on receiving the hose from Rainbow Girls, and that this saves the taxpayers of Texas several hundred dollars annually that would have to be spent in the state hospitals for handicraft materials if they didn't have the old hose for stuffing pillows, etc.

Silverton Assembly hadn't gathered the largest number of "bundles of ten" this year as they had hoped, but they had gathered more than 4,000. One Assembly had collected almost 10,000 "bundles of ten" used nylon hose.

"It is hard for our girls to compete with the larger Assemblies," said Mrs. Merlene Stephens, Mother Advisor of the Rainbow for Girls, "and we have to work about four times as hard to compete. With the cooperation of everyone we hope to be the number one Assembly in Texas next year by having contributed the largest number of 'bundles of ten.'" When ever you have worn-out nylon hose to discard please think of the Rainbow Girls. Any of the girls would be glad to come to your home for them, or you may call me and I will arrange to have them picked up.

"The girls and I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for all the old nylons you've saved for us in the past. We wish each of you could have heard the wonderful things that are being accomplished with them in the state hospitals, Baylor Hospital, the Veterans Hospitals, M. D. Anderson Hospital, and others."

The Grand Assembly will be held next year in Dallas.

Silverton Assembly made the trip by chartered bus, and members toured the Alamo and Brackenridge Park during their free time. The girls and their sponsors, Mrs. Whitfill and Mrs. Stephens, also took a boat ride down the San Antonio River which winds through the heart of the city.

P. H. McKenney was injured last Saturday when he fell from the roof of his house. His injuries were mostly to his hands and arms.

Mrs. W. E. Autry fell on Wednesday of last week and broke her thigh. She was taken to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. Mr. Autry, Mrs. H. P. Howard and Shirley Myers visited her Tuesday night.

Mrs. Earl Simpson was in Wichita Falls early this week visiting her sister, Mrs. Alma York and other relatives.

Sidressing Cotton of Concern

Time for a decision on whether to apply fertilizer to cotton sidressing operation, says County Agent Leon Grosdidier.

The application of adequate nutrients in proper balance to meet the requirements of the cotton plant is now accepted as one of the most profitable practices on the Plains. In producing 1 1/2 bales cotton an acre, about 100 pounds nitrogen, 33 pounds phosphorus, and 44 pounds potash are actually removed from the soil in the lint, seed and burs. If the soil is not capable of meeting these needs it then becomes necessary to add the nutrients in one way or another, usually as commercial fertilizer. The best method known for determining soil's nutrient status is the soil test.

It is usually considered desirable to apply about half the nitrogen and all the phosphate and potash (where needed) as a pre-plant on irrigated cotton. However, the fertilizer can be applied as a sidedress with equal response if certain factors are kept in mind, Grosdidier continues. By following the preplant plan just mentioned, a possibility of early deficiencies can be avoided. Also, the use of additional nitrogen—preferably by the time squares begin to set—can be increased or decreased, depending on the season and general crop prospects.

Some dryland producers prefer to delay fertilizer application until the crop is to a stand or until the moisture situation appears adequate. On sandier soils known to be deficient in plant nutrients, the use of fertilizer has been profitable for the past several years. On sandy soils with very low organic matter that have produced very short stalks in seasons of favorable rainfall, up to 40 pounds nitrogen per acre has paid good dividends. Where phosphorus is extremely low, phosphate has been necessary along with the nitrogen to get the desired increases. Up to 40 pounds should be considered.

Cotton has its heaviest plant nutrient requirement while actively fruiting. For best response, fertilizers should be applied ahead of this period. Where phosphate is used it is essential the material be placed deep enough so that it will be within reach of the permanent roots. If phosphate is placed near the surface, where subjected to alternate drying and wetting, it cannot be utilized by the plant since it moves little from the point of application. Nitrogen moves freely with soil water and for this reason its replacement is less critical.

Another important factor to consider in placement is the hazard of root pruning that can damage the crop. Determine the extent of the lateral root system with a spade. Then apply the fertilizer just ahead of the rapidly expanding root system. For older cotton, it would probably be best to apply fertilizer in the center of the middle to minimize pruning. In either case one chisel per middle is suggested.

Sidressing offers an excellent opportunity to balance out your fertilizer use program for this cotton crop.

Walter and Leo Fleming attended a high school homecoming at Byers over the weekend. All the children of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fleming attended the Byers High School.

Gardeners Should Use Water Efficiently

Most gardeners fail to realize that plants do not make very efficient use of the water that is available to them. Practically all the water that is absorbed by the roots of the plants is given off into the atmosphere again through the leaves. This water loss has much to do with the growth and development of the plants.

The primary consideration in determining how to water the garden, says County Agent Leon Grosdidier, is to determine how and when to apply the water so that the loss or waste of water can be avoided and plants can receive the maximum benefit.

There are two simple ways to determine when lawn grasses need water. Just before the grass reaches the wilting stage it becomes dark in color. When it is dry it will show footprints that will be slow to spring back into place.

In general, Grosdidier recommends several practices that can be followed that will not only conserve the water but will promote better plant growth.

When watering, the root zone of the plants should be soaked thoroughly. Watering should then be discontinued until the drying symptoms appear again. Infrequent even and slow water applications encourage deep root growth, not only on grass but on all garden plants. This assists plants in resisting drought conditions. Frequent, shallow waterings result in shallow root systems on plants which have no drought resistance. This results in a waste of water as well as leaving plants susceptible to

Sorghum Midge Research Stepped-up

The "recreational" activities of the sorghum midge are under close scrutiny by Texas A&M University scientists.

James Harding, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station entomologist, has taken 113 grass samples to date from fields over the South Plains. These samples are being held in the laboratory at the South Plains Research and Extension Center in Lubbock. Harding checks the samples constantly for possible early midge emergence from the plant heads.

Willing cooperation of electrical power companies on the South Plains has allowed placement of 28 sticky, insect traps on power poles in a nine-county area. Counties are Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Terry, Lynn, and Garza.

Harding says weekly grass samplings, along with checking of the insect traps on power poles, will give an insight into "why" and "how" the midge attains such damaging numbers to reduce yields of August-blooming grain sorghum.

A few adult midge began emergence during the middle of May and are suspected of depositing their eggs in available grass hosts. Study of the grass samples will determine this in the near future. In contrast to early reports of midge activity, it is believed these are the first midge out. There are several orange, "midge-like creatures" on the High Plains that are not sorghum midge, but greatly resemble them, says the entomologist.

Several "allies" in the fight against the sorghum midge have been found this year. Two wasp-like parasites of the diapausing midge larvae have been obtained from midge-infested sorghum florets. An external mite has also been found living on adult sorghum midge. Up to nine mites per fly has been observed.
