

All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

Walter Fleming called my attention to an article in the Wichita Falls Record-Times Monday in Glenn Shelton's column:

"Note where the Andrew Fischers of Aberdeen, South Dakota, parents of the Fischer quint, are again expecting. They now have ten children and we're wondering how many the new birth will add. 'Well, Mrs. Fischer will have to go a long way if she wants to set a record. A Russian woman, Mrs. Fredor Vassilet, gave birth to 69 children: 16 sets of twins, 7 sets of triplets and 4 sets of quadruplets—a world record.'"

I wonder what a couple does with 69 children knocking about the house?

World records are okay, but how would you like to keep that many kids in shoes?

This is probably a bit of Communist propaganda, but the Russians always are the firstest with the mostest.

Investigate Five Accidents In June

The Highway Patrol investigated five rural traffic accidents in Briscoe County during the month of June, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for three persons injured and an estimated property damage of $4,475.00.

The rural traffic accident summary in Briscoe County for the first six months of 1964 shows a total of 13 crashes resulting in seven persons injured and an estimated property damage of $10,870.00.

"As of July 3, there had been a total of 1,060 fatal crashes in Texas taking the lives of 1,288 persons," the Sergeant stated. This is 174 more traffic deaths than for the same period in 1963. If traffic deaths continue at the present rate, 1964 will become the most deadly year in Texas history for traffic fatalities, not only exceeding the 1963 all time high of 2,729 deaths but going over the 3,000 fatality mark.

The veteran Patrol Supervisor stated, "This is not just a probability, but a possible reality, unless the motoring public becomes more thoughtful in regard to complying with traffic laws which would break the rising trend."

Doctor From Johns Hopkins Hospital Visits Smith Home

Dr. Arthur Strasburger and Miss Margaret R. Hawkins, R. N., of The Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Smith Sunday and made several tests on Mr. Smith to gain information for a research study they are conducting on the descendants of the Brown family which settled in Collin County in 1844.

Some of the descendants have had "straight" fingers, which have no middle joints for several generations. The doctor and nurse flew from Maryland to Houston, where they rented a car, and the two were visiting all known descendants in this area. They are making a series of tests on each, whether or not they have the unusual "straight" fingers.

Mr. Smith told the Briscoe County News that his mother and two of her sisters had "straight" fingers, and that his only brother and eldest sister inherited this. Mr. Smith and two sisters had normal fingers.

Two brothers of Mr. Smith's father also were known to have had "straight" fingers.

In spite of the fact that to a person whose fingers have the normal middle joint this sounds like a handicap, Mr. Smith says all those of his knowledge had excellent use of their hands, and could perform anything that anyone could. He said he knew that some of them fought in the Civil War and others had complete dexterity of their hands.

July 19-25 is National Farm Safety Week. It is the responsibility of area farmers to make next week a safe week by looking at safety facts and following a few simple rules.

Farming is classified as a dangerous occupation. It is estimated that farming has a higher accident rate per man hour than any occupation in industry. A USDA report states that each year about one out of every five of our farm population has an accident serious enough to cause time loss from the job. One person in 33 suffers a serious accident resulting in a disabling injury. One in 1,600 ends up a fatality. Accidents with farm machinery make up about one-third of the total. Unavoidable causes of farm accidents (lightening or other forces of nature) amount to 24% of the total. The use of faulty equipment causes about 10% of farm accidents, and carelessness results in 86-88% of farm accidents. Actually, there isn't really much excuse for any accident.

The tractor is involved in more fatal and non-fatal accidents than any other farm machine. Tractor accidents cause more than 1,200 deaths each year in the United States. Statistics show that the highest percentage of these deaths are people between the ages of 10 and 19 and between 40 and 49. The next highest age group is between 50 and 59 years. The lowest accident fatality percentage is from 20 to 29 years and over 70 years. Most of the accident victims under 10 years of age are "extra" riders on tractors.

A very important policy to follow is to keep young children off

Babe Ruth Game Is Tough Pitching Duel

The Silverton Deeres met the Tullia Giants in Tullia last Saturday evening, expecting to face one of the Giants' weaker pitchers as both of their ace pitchers had used up their eligibility for the week. The Deere coach thought this would be an opportunity to search for pitching depth, and turned in his line-up with one of his infielders doing the pitching. The Deeres were immediately faced by the ace Giant pitcher, and made the best of it by using three infielders on the pitchers mound. The Giants scored 14 runs in the first three innings though Mike Moore and Gary Weaks held them to one run in the last three innings. The tight pitching in the last three innings wasn't enough for the Deeres to catch up, and the Giants scored 15 runs on 5 hits while the Deeres scored 5 runs on 3 hits.

The President of the Mackenzie League immediately informed the Giants that they should forfeit the game due to using ineligible pitchers. The Deeres do not want to win this way, and are willing to replay the game according to the rules and regulations.

The Deeres will play the last game of a double header in the local park Thursday evening, hosting the Tullia Dodgers at 7:30. The Tornadoes will host the Tullia Yankees in the first game which is scheduled to begin at 5:00 p.m.

Three of the Deere players and three of the Tornadoes will participate in an All-Star Game against the Canyon All-Stars in Tullia Saturday at 3:00 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt McLaughlin hosted a fish fry Tuesday evening at Horner Lake near Flomot for members of the Helping Hand Club and their husbands.

tractors and away from areas where machinery is working. The operator must be the only person in the tractor. Keeping the tractor under control is a full-time job for the operator without having to look out for extra riders.

The chance of a tractor upset is four times as great when the tractor speed is doubled. Front and rear wheels should be set as wide as the job permits to reduce the possibility of an upset. Use the engine to slow a tractor down instead of the brakes except in an emergency situation. Always reduce speed when turning whether in the field or on the road. Always keep tractors in gear when going down a hill.

Refueling a tractor while the engine is running is very dangerous and can cause serious burns and damage to the tractor. Invisible fuel vapor is three times heavier than air and will flow downward and collect around the engine where it could be easily ignited. An interesting fact to remember when refueling a tractor or other farm machinery is that one gallon of gasoline, when vaporized and mixed with air, has the same explosive force as 87 pounds of dynamite.

When tractors and farm machinery are kept safe, the chances of having an accident are reduced. Before beginning a day's work with a tractor or other power-driven machinery, a thorough safety check should be made. Fuel tanks, lines, and connections should be carefully inspected for leaks, power-take-off shields should be securely in place, the seat should be set so that the operator can reach all controls easily and the seat must be kept securely tightened so it will not cause the operator to fall from the tractor, and make sure the brakes are adjusted evenly so that the tractor will not pull to one side if an emergency stop is necessary. Tires, wheels, clutch, steering and hitch should also be included in the safety check.

Pulling loads up steep slopes and hitching above the drawbar are common causes of backward upsets. Always hitch to the drawbar and back up steep slopes.

Before operating an engine in a building, always fasten the door open to avoid asphyxiation by carbon monoxide contained in the exhaust gases of an engine.

No fuel of any kind is safe to be stored indoors. Locate fuel storage tanks as far as practical from buildings, but not under 40 feet. Keeping a fire extinguisher on the tractor and in the farm shop is an added safety measure.

When removing pressurized radiator caps, allow the system to cool first or use a cloth over the cap to avoid burns from escaping steam.

Tractor safety on highways involves not only the tractor operator, but also the drivers of cars and trucks. Highway motorists must realize that their vehicle is probably moving three or four times as fast as a tractor. The safest place to operate a tractor is on the shoulder of the road if possible. NEVER drive a tractor with one wheel on the pavement and one off, as this encourages passing by faster vehicles when there is not enough room. If it is necessary to drive a tractor on the highway, occupy a full lane as you would in an automobile. A safe practice for identifying a tractor as a slow-moving vehicle on a highway is to use a bright red or orange warning flag at least 18 inches square and attach it to a pole so it is displayed well above the tractor. A similar flag should be used on trailed equipment behind a tractor. Courtesy and caution are key words to safe tractor operation on highways. Tractors should not be operated on highways at night if it can be avoided. If it is necessary to do so, state laws require that the tractor have a white light on the front and a red light on the rear, both visible for 500 feet. Blind corners are a major hazard in rural areas and should be eliminated if possible.

A tractor is about 500 times more powerful than a man. Any moving part of a machine, whether it is a pulley, blade, sprocket, belt, chain, knife, or otherwise is faster and more powerful than a man. Always remember and observe this important rule: NEVER ATTEMPT TO UNCLAMP, LUBRICATE, OR ADJUST A MACHINE WHILE IT IS RUNNING. All shields on a machine are there to protect the operator. An unnecessary risk is taken if these shields are not kept in place. Improper dress and clothing causes many accidents around machinery. Loose fitting clothing or just a small string can easily be caught in a universal joint, a pulley, or shaft. Be especially careful with gloves, shirt tails, sleeves and pants legs.

Fatigue is a major cause of accidents as it reduces alertness. Eat plenty of food, avoid too long hours when possible, and get plenty of rest.

Farm machinery operator's manuals contain many safety precautions and much safety advice. The manuals should be read thoroughly when new machinery is purchased and reviewed at least once a year. The symbol of the National Safety Council is a green cross inside of a circle containing the words: "Green cross for safety."

This symbol is used frequently in machinery operator's manuals and on farm machinery. Wherever you find this symbol, read the information printed beside it — it may help you prevent a serious accident.

Above all, stay alert, be careful and plan ahead to avoid accident situations.

LOOK AT THE LABEL

Perhaps you have received a prescription for a drug dispensed in tablet form. And on the label it said "5 mg." or perhaps "2 mg." Exactly how much is 5 milligrams or 2 milligrams? It's 5/1000th or 2/1000th of a gram. And there are 28.35 grams to an ounce.

You'll agree, then, that 5 mg. or 2 mg. is a very tiny pinch of medicine. And that tiny speck must be very powerful something to be respected, and taken exactly as directed.

That's one vital reason to rely on the special knowledge and professional care of your prescription pharmacist. Dealing in exact dosage is our business. Prompt precision is always yours at our pharmacy.
