Vote For Socialism—I Need Help
This motto, which is seen occasionally on bumper strips, is meant to be a funny dig at the Democrats. But is it, really? The big thing these days seems to be whether you are a Democrat or against socialism.

The Democratic Party is the party which is concerned for people—no matter how small and insignificant they are. The Republican Party is one of aristocrats, whose theory is that a large percentage of the country's wealth belongs in the hands of a few. I couldn't afford to be a Republican if I wanted to be one.

Lots of things are used as examples of socialism. I think there is a big difference between being against socialism in general and against socialized medicine, for example. I don't particularly like the Medicare proposal, but I do recognize that something needs to be done, and my position is that a party shouldn't knock a plan unless it has a better one to offer in its place.

You accomplish nothing by continually seeking to destroy things and never offering a workable replacement.

With break-throughs in the cure of certain heretofore fatal illnesses, life expectancy may be increased. It is not impossible to imagine that if cancer and respiratory diseases were conquered, life expectancy could be extended by several years. How, then, could a person hope to accumulate enough money during his first 65 years to retire and live another 25 or 30 years with tired old mind and body? It's something frightening to think about with today's rising cost of medical care and hospitalization.

For the wealthy this poses no problem, but for the salaried (of whom there are many) it isn't possible to save the large amounts necessary for the kids' college education, future emergencies and old-age retirement. Many live from hand-to-mouth from paycheck-to-paycheck.

Do you remember last winter when the weather made stockmen's lives miserable? Huge snowdrifts separated ranchers from their cattle for several days, and people were faced with huge losses if they could not get feed to the cattle. It didn't take the big ranchers of this district long to call Washington for help. And Congressman Walter Rogers saw to it that government planes and personnel were available for the air-lift which followed. Stranded cattle were located by air and feed was dropped to them.

Shortly, Wes Izzard had a comment on this to the effect that he was appalled at this step down the long road to socialism.

Well, people, if this is socialism I guess I'm for it. I think it is just fine when a government can help its people. It would have been awful to deny the use of government equipment in such an emergency.

The funny thing about this is—do you suppose those big ranchers will reward Congressman Rogers with their vote in November?

Another example I'd like to use is the theory our postal department is socialistic and should be a private enterprise. The theory has been advanced that it just isn't right for us to be able to mail a letter from here to New York for less than it actually costs to carry it there.

The idea is that the postage should amount to the exact cost of making the delivery. Instead of the five-cent, ten-cent, etc. postage stamps, it would be more like five-dollar, ten-dollar, etc. stamps.

If the U. S. postal system is socialistic, then I'm for it. What a mess we'd be in without it!

It is true that we are rapidly advancing into a socialistic society then the wealth of the people should be arriving at a happy medium. We should all be in about the same circumstances, driving cars of about the same price and age.

Well, if this is so I'm getting cheated. There are lots of people who'd laugh if they knew how low our income bracket is. There might be some few who would be willing to trade theirs for ours. There are lots of people who have more money than we who are receiving government checks, and I'm not expecting that in the near future anyone is going to pay us not to print newspapers. And, I don't mind working for the money I spend.

Where's the indication of the socialistic trend that we're supposed to be rushing headlong into?

In this day and hour we need to try to analyze our situations to determine if the "talk" we're hearing has truth in it, or if it is just another scare campaign.

Why don't more people use a little more foresight and a little less hindsight?

Chicken Supper Set For October 23

The school cafeteria workers are planning to sponsor a chicken supper on Friday, October 23, from 5:30 until 7:30 p.m. Prices will be $1.00 for adults and 75c for children.

Proceeds will be applied to the purchase of an ice maker for the school lunchroom, along with the proceeds of the chili supper held recently, and the profit from the snack bar.

Mrs. Bula Baird, lunchroom supervisor, has expressed the hope that an ice maker can be purchased for cash after the first of the year. Contributions will be accepted toward the purchase of the ice maker.

Boy Scout Campaign Opens November 10

As the Boy Scouts begin a campaign on November 10 for funds to continue and strengthen the work here in behalf of our youth it is timely to review the Scout purposes and operations.

The Boy Scouts of America is what may be characterized as a "character-building" organization, which while probably accurate enough, it in no way imparts the tangible value of such an organization to the community. Scouting is essentially an educational program giving boys incentive to achieve, recognizing achievement, imparting skills, trains for participating citizenship, teaches democracy and group action, places tangible goals before curious and ambitious minds and stresses moral values.

Who pays for Scouting?
 The boy pays an annual national registration fee of fifty cents. This maintains the national work. He pays for his advancement literature, his personal equipment, basic camp costs, earned awards, special unit activities, and his unit's dues from his personal funds, thus learning the lesson of self-reliance.

From members' dues and approved money earning projects that teach lessons of group responsibility, the Scout unit pays for unit meeting equipment, program supplies, leadership tools and literature, camping gear, special unit needs and its special events.

Behind every Scout and his unit stands the chartered institution and there are 85,000 such local institutions sponsoring 129,000 units. The representatives of these institutions constitute the majority of voting power in the local Scout council.

These institutions—churches of all faiths, parent-teacher associations, service clubs, veterans groups, organizations of many kinds, use Scouting in serving their people and communities.

They furnish meeting place facilities, heat, light, leadership tools, special unit needs and recognition awards.

But after the boy, his unit and the chartered institution have done their part to make Scouting possible there are still some basic needs to be met to provide a total Scouting program for each unit in every community.

Those needs must be provided by the citizens of the local area. Through supporting the local council, which truly represents the entire community a powerhouse is provided to make effective the work of the adult volunteer leaders.

The local Council is made up of men of influence and vision who build effective budgets, men who emphasize health and safety factors, men who feel deep concern for the values that some to boys through participating in camping and outdoor activities, men dedicated to organizing additional units so effectively that they will enrich boys life and provide satisfaction to adults.

A local program can not be operated by volunteers alone. The overall direction of the Council program, training of leaders, scheduling and coordination of functions in keeping the units active, well-informed, and organized requires the services of professional Scout leaders—most of whom started as Boy Scouts themselves.

The contribution you give goes to help maintain the Council Scout Camps at Tres Ritos, New Mexico, Camp Post near Post, Texas, and Camp Haynes near Silverton. The rest of the funds are used for administrative expenses and materials, professional service to the local Scout units, education and leadership training. Most of the recognition and advancement awards are furnished also.

It is the personal and group contributions of citizens in each community that make possible this full program of Scouting for every boy, regardless of race, color or creed. Here's an investment today that will pay off in tomorrow's citizens.

This year, as in the past, your local Lions Club, which sponsors the Boy Scout activities in this community, will spearhead the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, Finance Campaign.

Lion Troy Jones is community campaign chairman, and Lions Bill Long and Jack Strange are co-chairmen. Several other members of the Silverton Lions Club will serve as team members of the solicitation drive, which climaxes on

Nation's PTA's Ask: Join, Help Children

Membership Offers New Challenge

PTA's throughout the nation are offering a challenging new invitation this fall to membership in an organization that works for all children and youth.

With membership in the PTA comes an opportunity to take part in activities designed to attack the problems that most critically affect children's welfare today.

Says Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers: "The scientific, technological, and social revolution of our time make it more imperative than ever that every child receive the highest advantages in physical, mental, social, and spiritual education."

Still, she notes, "nowhere, not even in the most favored community, are all children served well or equally well."

That's why the National PTA Action Program for the coming three years is to be planned and written by PTA leaders and members throughout the nation—with counsel from leaders of other organizations that share, in some measure, the PTA's concern for children and their welfare.

The suggestions for PTA activity will be flexible enough. Mrs. Moorhead believes, so that "every community can benefit by the broad experience represented in the parent-teacher movement."

She sees PTA's as "uniquely qualified" to pinpoint each community's need or services to children—and to help meet these needs effectively.

—Do children face inadequate school facilities? The PTA may work to secure funds for new buildings, scoring like the parent-teacher association in Gaylord, Michigan, which won community support of a $950,000 bond issue.

—Do children from deprived families fall behind in school for lack of encouragement or opportunity to study? PTA's can establish a study center like that formed by Chicago's Southeast Council of PTA's, which provides books and desks and even student tutors from the nearby University of Chicago.

—Do current movies or television programs threaten children's moral and spiritual values? PTA's can plan a survey of TV-viewing and movie-going like the one conducted by the Valley Area Council of PTA's in Ohio—a two-year effort involving nearly 5,000 parents and students in the Cincinnati area—and make their views known to producers and distributors.

—Do children growing up in the U. S. today have too little respect for law and individual liberty? The PTA Magazine helps parents provide the basis for developing self-discipline in children and understanding better what is involved in safeguarding individual rights and liberties. And PTA's in communities large and small provide a forum for bringing together parents, educators, religious leaders and civic specials, directing attention to the needs of children and offering the seasoned leadership needed to equalize and improve services to those children.

That's the challenge implied in every invitation, "Join the PTA."

It's an invitation being offered this fall by more than 47,000 local PTA's in the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. By accepting the invitation millions of Americans will find many avenues of service to children. Through such services children benefit immeasurably—in physical and emotional health, spiritual strength, and good citizenship.

"With more children than ever before growing to maturity," Mrs. Moorhead points out, "more dedicated parents and teachers than ever before are needed in the PTA."

Most of the world lives in darkness

More than half the countries of the world live under a partial or complete black-out of news, through censorship. The people of these countries have lost a guiding light to freedom—the complete, true knowledge of all that is happening in the world.

These countries have lost their freedom of the press because their governments know that what Thomas Jefferson said was true: "When the press is free and every man able to read, all is safe." The leaders of these countries know that suppressing news suppresses not just the people's voice in government, but the people themselves.

In our nation, freedom of the press and public education were made an integral part of our way of life, because our Founding Fathers, also knew that Thomas Jefferson's statement was true. And they planned our government to rest in the hands of the people.

The job of making all of the news available to every man who can read rests mainly upon our newspapers. Day in and day out, they are able to report the news completely, as only newspapers can deliver it!

And the people of our nation want not only accurate news, but all of the news. The proof: Since 1920 during a period which introduced both radio and television, newspaper sales more than doubled—every day over 60 million copies of 1,800 daily newspapers are circulated. That's more copies than the number of families in our nation.

To keep up with this demand for news, the newspaper industry has been continually working to improve their service—by introducing the most up-to-date communications and production methods.

So while most of the world lives in darkness our newspapers serve as a light of freedom, making a big difference in people's lives.

Contents Chosen For 5,000-Year Time Capsule

WORLD'S FAIR, N. Y. — Pieces of the first atomic reactor and of Lt. Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter's Mercury spacecraft Aurora 7 will rest alongside a "Beatles" record for the next 5,000 years. Each is a part of a key to our civilization for the distant future which has been compiled by a group of world experts for the Westinghouse Time Capsule. The contents selected are examined here by Mrs. Robert Peirce, Westinghouse secretary, and Dr. John C. R. Kelly, Jr., director of materials research and development, Westinghouse Research Laboratories. The telephone books in the background represent the more than 50,000 years of information that will be microfilmed in the capsule which will be buried at the end of the New York World's Fair, Oct. 16, 1965, not to be opened for 5,000 years. The Capsule will be lowered into the ground next to its sister Capsule — the famed Westinghouse Time Capsule of the 1939-40 World's Fair — at the site of the Westinghouse pavilion in Flushing Meadows. The Capsule's contents, which will bring up to date the chronicle of the "history, faiths, arts, sciences and customs" of our civilization for the people of 6339 A.D., will be displayed at the Westinghouse pavilion during the 1965 season of the World's Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Brown and Rita were also Sunday visitors in the Mallow home.

DIANNE DAVIS

Dianne Davis Chosen As DAR Good Citizen

The National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution gives an annual award of a $100 U. S. Series E Savings Bond, or a $75.00 scholarship in lieu of the bond, to a senior girl in each state who possesses to an outstanding extent the qualities of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Contestants must attend an accredited public high school. The method of selection is that the students of the Senior class elect from the class three girls who possess the four qualities mentioned. Those selected by the Class of 1965 were Dianne Davis, Janice Lewis and Mert Mills. From these the faculty chose Dianne to be the Good Citizen of Silverton High School.

A competitive method in the form of a questionnaire on a merit basis will be used by the State Chairman and State Society to choose the State winner. She will receive the state award and will be the guest with expenses paid of the Texas Society, D.A.R., at the State Conference, March 16, 1965, in San Antonio. She will also receive the State pin.

A certificate of award is given by the National Society to each school's Good Citizen, and she is entitled to a Good Citizen pin from the chapter sponsoring her.

The State winner competes with other state winners for the national award by writing an essay of not more than 300 words on the subject, "Lest We Forget," which must reach the State Chairman by February 1, 1965. The national award will be a $1,000 scholarship to the college of her choice and a sterling silver Paul Revere type bowl engraved "D.A.R. Good Citizen, 1965."

CHAIN LETTER

by Orlin Grabbe

The other day I received a chain letter that read as follows: "The origin of this letter came from the Netherlands. Read Chapter 17 of Matthew in the Bible. The luck it has brought has been around the world 4 times by U. S. Army officers. The one who breaks the chain will have bad luck. Don't send any money. Don't keep this copy and please send this and four others to anyone who you wish to anyone who you wish to have bad luck. It must leave your hands 24 hours after you received it. This is Not a Joke! You are to receive good luck within 4 days after you receive this letter. You will receive this through the mail. General Ruskin received $8,000 only to lose it after he broke the chain. Add your name to the bottom and send it on in the mail."

Following was a long list of notables and lesser notables. Now I think this is a good idea, as it offers a way to get back at your friends and enemies. I'm sending three or four copies of this letter to some of them. And being faithful and not breaking the chain, I receive my good luck tomorrow. Already I'm packed for Las Vegas. And perhaps if enough people sit up and heed and take notice, we can rid the world of such disasters as teenagers and Billy Sol.

Ice Maker Is A Community Project

The cafeteria ladies will sponsor a chicken supper on Friday, October 23, at the school lunchroom. Prices will be $1.00 for adults and 75c for children, and the proceeds will go toward the purchase of an ice maker for the cafeteria. Serving hours will be from 5:30 until 7:30 p.m.

There was a profit of approximately $30.00 from the chili supper sponsored by the cafeteria workers on October 2.

Mrs. Bula Baird reported that each month's profit from the snack bar is going toward the purchase of the ice maker. She is hopeful that sufficient funds will be raised to secure the ice maker by the first of the year.

Support this project by attending the suppers. If you have not had a part, make a contribution to this fund when an opportunity arises.

JIMMY MYERS

An Exclusive Interview

by Orlin Grabbe

In one of those far corners of the earth where cobwebs hang and spiders collect in droves, I picked up the trail of the leader of a notorious gang of robbers, the trail of Wendy Bird. He is identified by such expressions as, "drip, drip, running waters," and "watch it, watch it; the boogie man will get you and your nose will grow." Nicknames include "Falsies" and "Table Muscle." And, I think, what more sensational story possible than a personal interview for my monthly article in Police-boy. So taking my armored vest, a .45, and a bottle of tranquilizers, I returned with this story in all its gory details.

Wendy is the typical example of the mad scientist. I found him in his laboratory, involved in one of his fiendish experiments. A furry frog went hopping by, cackling contently, as I entered the room. There on the other side stood the old maniac himself with his working tools in his hands. After introducing myself, I asked:

Question: Wendy, you are wanted by the F.B.I., Scotland Yard, the Russian Secret Police, and the Federal Liquor Control Board. What do you contribute to your success?

Answer: Wa-a-el, most of it is due to heredity, environment, and my own efforts. My mother was a crook, my daddy was a crook, my little friends were crooks, my big friends were crooks, and I tried to outdo all of them. I was a great biology student in my time though. I used to amaze my teacher with my fervent pursuit of knowledge. I would set there for hours and hours with my head buried in my book. Then . . .

Question: Then what?

Answer: Then he found out that this "biology" book was really a pictorial study of anatomy.

Question: I notice you have quite a large number of unusual specimens in the cages. Can you give me some background into the facts surrounding their development?

Answer: It all began when I played football. That's where I learned the real art of dissecting. Then I got the idea of putting them back together again—with different shapes. I soon discovered that brilliant combinations could be made with more than one victim.

Question: This one looks unus-

Attend Ralph Yarborough Rally

Ben Whitfill, Bud House, Gale Whitfill, Joe Self, Howard Tomlin, Sandi House, Greg Towe, Jay Towe and Rocky Curby represented Silverton at the Democratic rally for Senator Ralph Yarborough held at the Holiday Inn in Amarillo Wednesday night, October 7.

Mr. Mathis was chairman of the proceedings. Mrs. Wyley Bullock of Muleshoe, whose husband and daughter helped organize the Silverton Young Citizens for Johnson and Humphrey Club recently, introduced the Young Democrats and the Young Citizens for Johnson and Humphrey who were present.

Mrs. Claudia Brummitt reported that there are seventeen Democratic Women's Clubs in the area, with a membership of over 1,000.

Paul Spillman, Collingsworth County Democratic Chairman, introduced Ralph Yarborough. Yarborough encouraged each Democrat attending to get out and work for the Democratic nominees and to vote the straight Democratic ticket. He spoke of his accomplishments both as a senator and as the chairman of three sub-committees. He told about his part in what has been called the Education Congress and of his work for a tax cut.

The County Democratic Chairmen who were present were introduced, including Ben Whitfill of Silverton. Counties represented included Roberts, Collingsworth, Briscoe, Oldham, Carson, Lamb, Swisher, Donley, El Paso, Hall, Deaf Smith, Gray, Dallam, Hartley, Castro, Moore, Parmer, Bailey, Hemphill, Potter, Randall, Crosby, Floyd, Hale, Lubbock and Armstrong.

John Noble of Wheaton, Illinois, spoke on the subject, "I Was A Slave in Russia." He and his father, both American citizens, went to Russia because of his father's investment in a Russian camera factory. When war broke out John Noble and his father were arrested. After approximately a year of imprisonment, Mr. Noble was tried by being taken into a small room and told to sign a paper sentencing himself to 15 years of hard labor. He was informed that if he refused to sign the paper, his name would be forged to the paper. Following his so-called trial he was

by Ruth Ann Minyard

The regular F.B.I.A. meeting was held Thursday, October 8. Members were reminded to pay their dues as soon as possible.

Honorary members elected for the year were Hugh Nance, Jack Strange, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sarchet.

It was decided that the club's annual project, the Variety Show, would be held November 10. Anyone interested in entering should contact Mrs. O. C. Rampley or an F.B.I.A. member.

The following were accepted for their Assistant's degrees: Linda Mercer, Linda Scott, Latresia Cox, Margaret Minyard, Connie Dudley, Jimmy Bursca, Tina Weaver, Sharon Martin, Randy Hughes, Kathy Hughes, and Linda Sissney.

OFFICE NEWS

The ninth-grade students will take the three-hour National Educational Development Tests Monday, November 2, according to O. C. Rampley, principal.

"The NEDT battery," he said, "is a series of tests in English, social studies, mathematics, natural sciences, and word usage, which have been designed to measure each student's ability to apply basic learning skills rather than his ability to memorize particular facts or specific subject matter."

"They are used as a help to students, parents, and teachers in identifying strengths and weaknesses in each student's educational development and in making a realistic appraisal of his educational and vocational objectives."

Published by Science Research Associates, the nation's largest commercial publisher of standardized tests, the NEDT battery was constructed under the direction of E. F. Lindquist, author of the widely used Iowa Tests of Educational Development. It has been administered to more than two million students throughout the country since it was introduced in 1959.

"One of the most interesting aspects of this program is that students who do exceptionally well on the test battery are singled out for formal recognition. Each student who scores in the top 10 percent nationally is awarded a special certificate of merit signifying his achievement. These certificates serve to stimulate a respect for academic excellence among the student body."

Dianne Davis Address Students

On October 7 Dianne Davis spoke to the assembled students and faculty and described the Citizenship Seminar which she had the privilege of attending at Sam Houston State Teachers College in Huntsville last summer. Her trip was sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau.

Over three hundred Juniors and Seniors, including FFA and FHA presidents and several members of the Texas 4-H Council were in attendance at the Seminar.

The basic purpose of the Seminar was to contribute to the strength and continuity of the freedom philosophy on which the American way of life is founded.

Dr. Clifton Genus, vice-president of Harding College in Searcy, Arkansas, gave one of the four main speeches during the Seminar. He spoke on "Our American Heritage," around which the Seminar was centered. He brought out the fact that in order to keep our country free we must first learn about our American Heritage and about the enemy that threatens us. In this case, our enemy would be communism.

Dr. Ganus read an article from a Soviet Union magazine describing the Boy Scouts of America. The story went something like this:

"The United States has an organization which they call the Boy Scouts. This is an organization which takes young boys and turns them into vicious, hostile mongrels. They are taught to worship the wolf which is a symbol of viciousness. They are taught such things as swimming (underwater espionage), hiking (guerrilla warfare), and chemistry (germ warfare). It is well that we be careful of this dangerous group."

Mr. Cleon Skousen, author, lawyer, educator, and former FBI agent, spoke on the life of Karl Marx and on the cold war.

John Noble of Wheaton, Illinois, spoke on the subject, "I Was A Slave in Russia." He and his father, both American citizens, went to Russia because of his father's investment in a Russian camera factory. When war broke out John Noble and his father were arrested. After approximately a year of imprisonment, Mr. Noble was tried by being taken into a small room and told to sign a paper sentencing himself to 15 years of hard labor. He was informed that if he refused to sign the paper, his name would be forged to the paper. Following his so-called trial he was

Juniors To Decorate Cars To Go To Game

Friday, October 16, the Junior class will be on hand right after school, at the school house, to decorate cars to go to the Hale Center game. Everyone is urged to bring his car and have it decorated.

The Juniors will decorate your car for only 50c.

FRESHMAN CLASS NEWS

by Debbie Dickerson

The report of the first committee was brought before the class Tuesday morning. The committee decided on going to the Boy Scout Camp Saturday, October 10, from 4:00 to 7:00 p.m.

The class voted to accept the committee report.

WHO DOES IT?

Who makes the school?
"I," said the principal. "Follow the rules; I make the school."

Who makes the school?
"I," said the teacher. "Learn your lessons; I make the school."

Who makes the school?
"I," said the pupils. "We must come before there is a school."

Who really makes the school?
Not principals, not teacher, not pupil,
But all together WE make the school.

"What does share mean?" Mrs. Thout heard one six-year-old ask his neighbor.

"Share," his friend whispered back, "is what you do when you have one of something and the teacher is looking."

moved from one prison camp to another. Only with the help of the President of the United States was he able to gain his release and then only after nine years of prison camp life.

The fact that made his speech so impressive was that he actually experienced what most people only hear about. The American people should always work to protect their freedoms lest some day they find themselves in a prison camp.

Dianne finished her address by reading a passage written by J. Edgar Hoover giving his views on communism and the young people of America.

From Kathy Peugh

When you look at the American flag what do you see? Do you only see stars and stripes or do you see what stands behind it? Do you ever really think about what our flag stands for?

I believe that the flag of the United States should be a true possession of every citizen. It should take pride in it and thankful that we live in a country where the flag means so much. It is respected the world over. There are many people today who would welcome the chance to be it for their flag.

It stands for something wonderful. It stands for freedom. Freedom is a thing which should never be taken for granted because it could very easily be lost. We took our forefathers many years to gain could be lost in mere few years. It is our job to see that this never happens by taking interest in our country and affairs.

Our forefathers fought and died for the privileges which we enjoy. Wouldn't it be terrible make their fight in vain after these years? How would it be see the hammer and sickle of communism on our flag poles instead of the stars and stripes? Think about this the next time you see our flag.

Harvest cotton faster with a new John Deere 77 Stripper

For really fast, clean harvesting of stripper cotton, you just can't go wrong with the new John Deere 77 Stripper. You can wade right through the heaviest irrigated cotton. You can work at speeds up to 6 mph. You save more cotton, and put less trash in the trailer. The 77 has a new auger and paddle system which keeps cotton moving into wide conveyors. Positive chain drive keeps you going. Open rod grates drop trash on the ground. Sealed bearings eliminate greasing. We know this equipment can cut costs for you. Stop in or give us a call, and let's talk it over.
