Long Distance Service Disrupted

Long distance telephone service was disrupted between Ralls and Lubbock June 16, from 7:00 until 11:30 p.m. when a power line became entangled with telephone lines, according to an announcement by Sherron T. Lee, District Manager for General Telephone Company.

This disruption occurred near Lubbock and affected 27 of 28 intertoll long distance circuits. No circuits from Ralls to community dial office exchanges were affected, Lee said.

Tidwell To Head Local Delegation

Carl Tidwell, local minister of Jehovah's Witnesses, will head a delegation of nine Silverton residents to attend the "Word of Truth" District Assembly of the group in Lubbock July 22-25. An additional several delegates will tentatively leave the following week for a similar convention in Odessa.

Tidwell said the meeting will be held at the Fair Park Coliseum, and is expected to draw upwards of 6,000 delegates. It will be one in a series of 30 assemblies being held this summer by Jehovah's Witnesses and practically all of the local delegates will be attending one of the Texas assemblies this year. These conventions will have a uniform theme and program consisting of morning, afternoon and evening sessions of Bible talks and practical demonstrations.

"From the first day of the Lubbock assembly to the last," Tidwell said, "the program will focus attention on the Bible as God's 'Word of Truth.' Fundamental Bible truths will be thoroughly discussed and practical counsel from God's Word on the problems of everyday life will be considered. Those attending will grow in appreciation of how much the Bible can add to the happiness of their home."

"A fine feature of this assembly which local delegates will share in," said Tidwell, "is visiting the homes of Lubbockites with an encouraging message from the Bible. Not only will entire families enjoy a mid-summer vacation, but it will also serve as a fine opportunity for Christians to worship together as the Bible commands."

Changes Made In 1965 Wheat Program

After three years of trial, sedimentation values are being discontinued for the 1965 wheat crop as a basis for computing premiums under the price-support program, Louie Kitchens, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Briscoe County Committee, said today.

John Robert Wheelock Accepts Position With Dallas Firm

John Robert Wheelock, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Wheelock of Canyon and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wheelock of Silverton, has accepted a position with Texas Instruments, Inc. of Dallas.

Wheelock, who will be in the semi-conductor division of TI, graduated in May from Texas Tech with a master of science degree.

He majored in physics, and his thesis project was Linear Expansion by Precision Incremental Capacitance Measurement.

While at Tech he was elected to Sigma Phi Sigma, national physics honor society, and the Society of Sigma Xi, honor science research society.

Wheelock is a graduate of West Texas State University, where he received a bachelor of arts degree with majors in physics and mathematics.

He served as a of Sigma Chi, honor society, and Sigma Nu, social fraternity, while at WT. He was also named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, professional music society.

Wheelock was named outstanding actor in a musical role for his performance in Show Boat at WT, and was a member of the Project Understanding Choir which toured the Orient several years ago.

Williamson Named To Dean's Honor Roll

Jerry Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williamson of Silverton, has been named to the Dean's Honor Roll at Wayland Baptist College, for outstanding scholastic attainment during the spring semester.

Williamson, a junior English and history major, had a perfect 4.00 average for the semester's work.

A 1962 graduate of Silverton High School, Williamson holds membership in Chi Omicron, men's social service fraternity, Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity, which he serves as president, Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary history fraternity, which he serves as president, and Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics fraternity. He served as chief justice of the Supreme Court and was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and Spinning Wheels.

per bin tested. Final settlement for all farm-storage loans will be on the basis of tests made at time of delivery. Premiums and discounts, as applicable, will be applied to the basic price-support rate for warehouse storage loans and for wheat acquired by the Commodity Credit Corporation under a loan or by purchase.

The schedule of premiums for 12 percent or more protein will be applicable to 1965 crops (grading No. 3 or better) of Hard Red Winter, Hard Red Spring and Hard White wheat of the varieties, Baart, Bluestem and Burt. No discount will be applied to under-12 percent protein for 1965.

U. S. Department of Agriculture officials have explained that the decision to drop the sedimentation tests made reluctantly since the testing procedure was easier and quicker to use in the field than other tests for bread-making quality, and the program has helped to encourage the production of higher quality wheat. However, the system, introduced as a means of assisting foreign buyers in the purchase of U. S. wheat, has not been used extensively by the export trade and has not been a factor in the expansion of U. S. wheat exports. The Department will continue to work toward higher quality wheat production through improvement of wheat standards, discounts in support prices for undesirable wheat varieties, premiums for protein as a quality measure, and the development of other measures, and the development of other means to encourage quality production.

Producers who wish the premium added to the loan rate may request protein tests for farm storage loans by paying a fee of $3.50

Pvt. Arnold Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morris, is undergoing nine weeks of basic training at Fort Polk, Louisiana.

July 1 Is Deadline For Wheat Application

Farmers who wish to be considered for a "new wheat farm" allotment for 1966 on a farm which does not have a 1965 wheat allotment should get in touch with the ASCS County Office during the next few days, Louie Kitchens, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said today. Such farmers have until July 1 to file applications for such an allotment.

Producers eligible to file such applications are those with a farm for which no wheat allotment has been established, who have no interest in the wheat allotment on any other farm, and where the farmer expects to receive more than 50 percent of his income from total production on the farm.

The chairman emphasized that formal application for a "new farm" wheat allotment is made by filing a written application—on a form provided for that purpose—at the ASCS Office prior to the July 1 deadline.

Attends F.F.A. Electric Workshop

More than 100 Future Farmer of America members and vocational agriculture teachers attended the third annual F.F.A. Electric Workshop, sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company, at the Episcopal Church Conference Center in Amarillo June 14-16.

Silverton representative at the workshop was Joe Bob Watson.

There were five courses of instruction offered at the workshop, and the student selected as outstanding in each course was awarded a trip to the National F.F.A. Convention in Kansas City. Each boy who successfully completed the conference received a farm electrification medal from Southwestern Public Service Company.

The courses of instruction offered were electric controls, farm motors, farm wiring, lighting and heating.

June 14, the boys saw the Albuquerque-Amarillo Texas League baseball game, and on June 15 they toured Nichols Station, the electric company's modern generating station northeast of Amarillo.

Exchange Student Honored Sunday

Johan Bull-Njaa, who has made his home here with the Pascal Garrison family while attending Silverton High School under the American Field Service program, was honored with a farewell party in the Norman Strange home Sunday. His friends and classmates hosted the affair from 3:00 until 5:00 p.m.

Early this week, Johan gave the following statement to the Briscoe County News:

"On behalf of my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bull-Njaa, and myself, I would like to express my great appreciation for all that has been done for me during my year as an A.F.S. student here in Silverton. I hope that people here in Silverton and elsewhere in the United States will keep up the A.F.S. program, and give still more kids from abroad a chance to visit your great country; go to school here and benefit both by learning and by getting to know all the friendly people here.

"I would like to thank all my teachers in high school for being so patient and understanding with me.

"Also, I thank all the girls that helped make possible the wonderful farewell party given for me Sunday, June 20, in the home of the Norman Strange family.

"I will be leaving Silverton in just a few days now, first to tour the United States, and next to go back home to Norway. This has been a wonderful year for me, and I will always remember the friendly people in Silverton.

"Sincerely, Johan Bull Njaa

"P.S. If anybody from here ever comes to Norway, be sure and come to see me."

Johan's address will be: T. Hornkloves GT. 43 Stavanger, Norway

THE OPEN DOOR

"Behold, I have set before thee an open door . . ." Rev. 3:8

by Rev. Clyde Cain
 Last week I read a book by Louis H. Evans entitled, "Your Marriage—Duel or Duet?" For the next few weeks I would like to discuss some of the things mentioned in this wonderful book.

The scripture says, "There be three things which are too wonderful for me, yea, four which I know not: The way of an eagle in the air; the way of a serpent upon a rock; the way of a ship in the midst of the sea; and the way of a man with a maid." (Proverbs 30:18-19) Certainly, the last is the most thrilling and bewildering of all the mysteries.

The Word of God speaks many times on marriage, thus reveals God's vital interest in the matter. God is Love. All the world loves a lover; so does God. This, after all, is His idea, and His pattern for life.

4H's Get Food $$$ Worth

Many teenagers short change themselves by skipping breakfast and by satisfying their hunger with snacks of insufficient nutritional value.

The 4-H Foods-Nutrition program helps youngsters to get their nutritional money's worth, observes the Cooperative Extension Service. More than 708,000 4-H Club boys and girls are enrolled in the program.

The necessity for the program is evidenced by nutritional studies showing that 4 out of 10 teenage boys, and 6 out of 10 teenage girls have poor diets.

Club members develop demonstrations which they present before groups and on TV showing how meals are planned around the four basic food groups:

Meat—including poultry, fish, eggs and other high-protein foods; milk and dairy products; vegetables and fruits; bread and cereals.

They learn why protein, minerals and vitamins are essential in their diets. They know that breakfast should furnish from one-fourth to one-third of the day's food nutrients.

Projects are built around the interests and needs of individual club members. Some concentrate on balanced meal planning and cooking while others delve into the scientific aspects of nutrition. But whatever the subject matter, the 4-H's strive to do the very best job possible so they can compete for annual awards.

Again this year General Foods Corporation, sponsor of the 4-H Foods-Nutrition program, will award six $500 scholarships to national winners. The state award winner will attend the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago next fall. Medals will be presented to county champions.

Western Show Soon In Palo Duro Theatre

The story of Texas and her most spectacular Canyon was recreated June 17 at the opening of the production in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park, "Thundering Sounds of the West."

And there was thunder, and bugle playing, and flutes, and singing and dancing, and fire making, and praying, and walking, and climbing, and covered wagon riding, and sweeping, and making of sign-language, and riding of horses, and soaring of banners, and driving of mules, and waving of broad brimmed hats.

And the purchases for the show included wooden barrels, tiny wrenches, cowboy shirts, sound machinery costing many thousands, trouser lights which cast their beams a thousand feet, rug to control the echoes in the sound booth, brooms to sweep the seats, beige colored programs to blend with the soil if they happen to be dropped, cloth for teepees, wheels to move sets, old lumber to build aged looking fences, an old gate, curtains, mirrors, rope, shovels, spades, make-up, blanks for gun fights, deputy star (imitation), vests, bandana handkerchiefs, paint, flags, flag poles, guitar strings, tape for recorders, color gelatins for lights, tickets, lock box, sand, gravel, dirt and fish.

And there was a gay, lilting, live first section to the show, keyed by the arrival of a wagon train. And the perfect acoustics of the theatre carried every word of the conversation between the sheriff and the storekeeper as they prepared the town for the arrival of the newcomers, even threatening to jack up the prices a little. The newcomers brought song and dancing and excitement to the town.

After the first section, the story of the Canyon opened in light and sound. Using the unique acoustical properties of the place and very sensitive recording equipment, the script draws the audience through the experiences of the sounds which the Canyon has heard. And great lights ferret out the Permian beds as the music recalls the surge of the surf on the great inland sea which formed them. Next they reveal the Spanish skirts which were the remainder of amphibian times when the sounds were frogs croaking and crocodiles booming. Touching a highlight here and there through the ages, the lights and voices dramatize the day the Spaniards were crossing the endless sea of grass when the earth opened under them and they discovered the Canyon.

The second act opens with an Indian village tucked high on the cliff and the villagers moving about their daily tasks. We hear the story of the last rebellion and of the last battle when the soldiers won, and drove away 1500 horses to be killed.

Admission is $1.00 for adults and 50¢ for children. The theatre will be open through Labor Day, September 6, every evening except Tuesdays, and the opening hour is 8:15 p.m. For tickets write the Pioneer Amphitheatre, Box 268, Canyon, or call OLive 5-4272 in Canyon.

The theatre was built by the people of the Texas Panhandle and the State of Texas, working through the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation. It has been created by the work of thousands who wanted to make a living monument to the builders of this country.

MRS. BOBBY H. STEPHENS

MR. AND MRS. BOBBY STEPHENS TO MAKE HOME HERE

Miss Donna Gay Kirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kirk of Duncanville, became the bride of Bobby H. Stephens on Saturday evening, June 19, in the First Methodist Church of Duncanville.

Dr. Luther Kirk, uncle of the bride, officiated at the ceremony. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stephens of Turkey, formerly of Silverton. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of candlelight peau de soie, accented with re-embroidered lace. The bodice of the gown, designed with an empire line, featured a round neckline and the sheath skirt extended into a chapel train. The bride's veil of illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls, and she carried one long-stemmed white rose.

Miss Charnell Pruitt of Lovington, New Mexico, was the bride's attendant. Miss Pruitt was attired in an aqua floor-length gown designed with an empire line. Roy Gene Stephens of Turkey, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Miss Dana Lee Wilson of Austin, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Guy Rush of Levelland and Walter Kirk of Duncanville served as ushers.

Guests were registered by Miss Cheryl Stephens of Turkey, sister of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kirk chose a pink dress of peau de soie with matching accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mrs. Stephens chose a blue lace ensemble with matching accessories, and a white orchid corsage. The couple are on a trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, and other points of interest in the West. After June 28 the couple will be at home in Silverton, where both plan to teach in the local school system.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stephens are graduates of West Texas State University. The bridegroom was a member of Alpha Tau Omega and the bride was a member of Chi Omega. During the past year, Mr.

The daughter of a former Silverton Presbyterian pastor, the late Rev. Mr. P. E. Henderlite, is the first woman to be ordained to the ministry of the Southern Presbyterian Church in the United States. She is Dr. Rachael Henderlite.

The ordination ceremony took place earlier this year in a predominantly Negro congregation, All Souls Presbyterian Church in Richmond, Virginia.

Another "first" for Dr. Henderlite is that she is the only woman to hold a full professorship at a Presbyterian Church, U. S. seminary. She has been elected professor of Christian Education at Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Austin, Texas. She is presently on leave to travel and study until January 1966, when she will assume her teaching responsibilities.

The widely-known lecturer and teacher of religious education holds the Ph. D. degree from Yale University and the L.H.D. degree from Queens College in Charlotte, North Carolina. She has taught at Montreat College, the Assembly Training School in Richmond, Virginia, and Kinjo College in Japan, and is the author of six published books.

In recent years, Dr. Henderlite has been the guiding hand in the development of the Covenant Life Curriculum, now in use as Christian education material by five denominations and which is the official teaching program of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. (Information furnished by the Rev. Mr. N. D. Nettleton of Carleton, Kansas, a former Silverton Presbyterian minister. The Henderlite family made their home here from 1926 until 1934.)

C. V. Watson of Mountain View, Oklahoma, a brother of Mrs. E. D. Wilmeth, was seriously injured recently when run over by a tractor and harrow. Mr. and Mrs. Wilmeth spent last Wednesday and Thursday in Hobart, Oklahoma, where Mr. Watson is a patient. He has undergone surgery, and may have to undergo further surgery.

Weldon Irion and Mrs. Grace Irion of Amarillo spent Tuesday night of last week with Mrs. Clyde Lightsey and Spencer Long.

Stephens has been a teacher and athletic coach in the Turkey school system.

Pigs Get Select Treatment in 4-H Projects

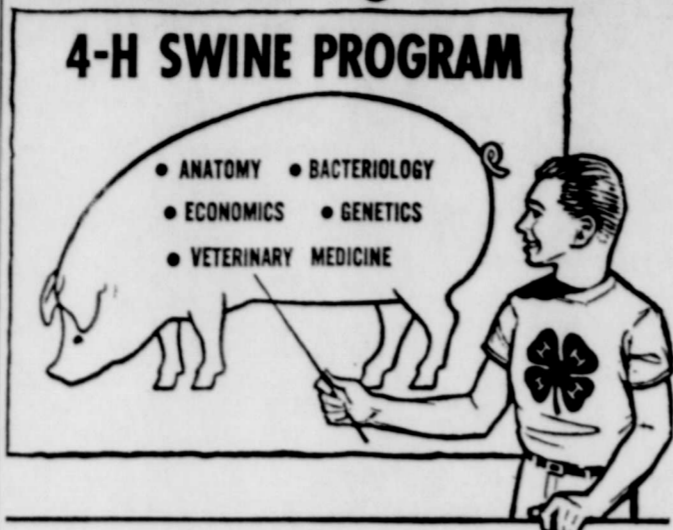

How many pigs in the parlor? It all depends, say animal scientists. Eight square feet per pig has been tried, but the answer was not conclusive. Size of the animal, season of the year and temperature are some of the variables that affect hog housing, they report.

This and other answers based on scientific experiments are sought by 4-H Club members engaged in a swine project. The day is long gone when pigs wallow in mud and get fat on scraps and leftover milk. Today, balanced ration feeding is understood and practiced.

The scientific approach is applied to modern 4-H animal projects. Besides nutrition, studies are made in genetics, biology, bacteriology and economics, to name a few. Benefiting from information supplied by the Extension Service and guided by club leaders, the young swine growers gain valuable knowledge, and frequently cash.

Experience in the project has led many youth to a career in

fields relating to animal science, marketing, veterinary medicine or in operating a profitable hog farm.

The Moorman Mfg. Co. of Quincy, Ill., has been helping career-minded 4-H'ers by providing annual scholarships of $500 to the six national winners named by the Cooperative Extension Service.

A company official recently said, "Moorman's is proud to be a donor of 4-H awards, and considers it a privilege to be of service to young Americans." Other awards provided are expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress and gold-filled medals.

To be eligible for a Congress trip or a national scholarship, the member must be over 14 years old, and have completed three years of 4-H Club work, with the current year in the swine program, according to the county extension office.

They are of use to prospective landowners, land appraisers, students of natural sciences, road builders, pipeline companies and others. In some urban areas, corrosion of underground pipe is a problem, thus soil maps are used as a guide for re-routing their pipelines around these salty areas, thereby saving these cities much expense. S.C.S. LISTS USES OF SOIL SURVEY MAPS

Soil maps are a basic tool for selecting a system of soil management. The maps show the kinds of soil in a field, a farm, or in a city or town. Currently, about one-half of the land in the Texas Panhandle has been surveyed. In the local Cap Rock Soil Conservation District, about 54% has been completed to date and it will be completed as manpower becomes available. The ultimate goal of the United States Department of Agriculture is to have a soil survey or map of every acre of land in the Nation.

What, then, does a soil map predict about a piece of land? In the Nationwide system now in use the soils are classified and named, just as plants and animals are. For example, plants are identified and named by such features as the structure and the shape of the leaf. Likewise, soils are identified and named by their main characteristics which are its texture (proportions of clay, silt, sand), color, depth, kinds and sequences of layers or horizons, and any other feature that is important to its use and management. These soil traits or features can be determined in the field by the Soil Scientist making the map. The names of the soils are taken from towns or localities near the place where the soil was first defined. Examples of soil names from this area are the Amarillo series, Pullman series, Dalhart series and Randall series. After the features or characteristics of a soil have been studied and determined, predictions can then be made about how it will respond to various kinds of management or use. Some of the questions that a soil survey and its interpretations can answer are: Is this land suited to cultivation? What kind of crops can be grown? How much erosion has occurred on it? What practices will be needed to maintain or increase the soil's fertility? Is the soil suited to irrigation and what kind of system will I need? What kind of native grasses will it grow? Does the soil swell and shrink, creating a hazard to structural foundations? Does it flood often, and many others.

The principal users of soil surveys are those involved in producing agricultural products — farmers, ranchers, dairymen, etc. Special interpretations have been made by Soil Conservation Service Technicians to assist agriculturalists in the use of the surveys. This is the land capacity classification system. Soils are placed in eight classes, all of which do not normally exist on any single farm or ranch. Class I through IV are suited to cultivated crops. Classes V through VII are suited only to grazing and wildlife. Class VIII land is suited only to wildlife.

Through the soil survey, this land capacity system provides the basic facts with which the Soil Conservation Service Technicians and the landowner or operator develop the conservation plan for the cultivated land on his farm. For rangeland, the soils are grouped into range sites. Each site is composed of a group of soils that respond similarly to kinds of grazing and that grow the same kind of grasses.

Soil maps are made by experienced Soil Scientists who are graduates of agricultural colleges and universities, where they were trained in the soil sciences, crop sciences and related subjects. Ordinarily the Soil Scientists use aerial photographs as a base for plotting the soil boundaries. They go over the land with a spade, auger or power sampler and dig as often as necessary to determine the kinds of soil and to mark their locations.

Soil maps have many other uses.

DEAR EDITOR:

DEAR EDITOR:

Hale Center's debt of gratitude can never be repaid. This was the conclusion of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Board as they surveyed the list of those who came to our aid following the June 2 tornado disaster.

To the extent possible a register was maintained of the hundreds of cities, communities, business concerns, organizations and individuals that gave so much and worked so hard during those horrible days of havoc and ruin. By their many contributions of sharing what they possessed, giving of their time and ability and rendering their many services, our burdens and sorrow and suffering was made much lighter.

The Chamber of Commerce speaks for Hale Center in expressing to all our friends and neighbors, wherever they may live, our most sincere and deep appreciation and thanks. In spite of the tragic and sorrowful results it is extremely rewarding and gratifying to know that the concern of our fellowman is the spirit by which we live.

Although the list of those who helped us is numbered in the hundreds, it is by no means complete. We regret our inability to say a personal "thank you" to each community, organization, business and individual. But may we, by this method, let you know how we the people of Hale Center appreciate all that has been done.

May we also express our regrets that hundreds of you came in person, only to be turned back at points of entrance to the city. We sincerely hope you will understand the necessity for these precautions.

Through the efficient and untiring efforts of the Department of Public Safety, the State Highway Department, county and local commissioners, county and local law enforcement agencies and military organizations from throughout
