Blood Needed For Steve Morgan, Jr.

Blood donations are needed to replace the blood which is being used by Steve Morgan, Jr., of Kress, who is a patient at Parkland Hospital in Dallas. Morgan, who suffers from a kidney disease, is 52 pints behind in replacement. Blood can be donated at the blood banks or if enough volunteer to give blood, a blood-mobil will come to Silvertown to get it. Blood of any type will replace the blood which is being used. If you would be willing to give blood, please contact Joe Grabbe or Jim Boling. Steve Morgan, Jr. is the nephew of Mrs. Olos Chitty.

Within approximately five months, preliminary studies of the proposed Mackenzie Reservoir are scheduled to be completed, with the next step a bond election in which each of the four cities will give the project the green light or reject it.

According to Don Bookout of Tulsa, attorney for the Mackenzie Water Authority, voters of each city will decide whether or not it will enter into contract with the Authority to receive its water supply from the proposed reservoir.

The Authority was described by Bookout as "an independent entity set up by the Texas Legislature." Represented in the Authority are Silvertown, Tulsa, Lockney and Floydada.

Bookout said should one city reject the issue, another city can be accepted to fill the membership. He commented, "This certainly should not be difficult," and said other cities in the area have inquired into the project.

With core drilling completed and the site reported as "ideal," feasibility of the plan has been established. Adding to this "feasibility," Bookout pointed out, "is the fact nothing has shown up to indicate the wealth of these cities cannot handle this project. We are talking in terms of a $4 or $5 million construction."

He continued, "This thing is going to cost money and people need to realize it. But I believe the survival of these four towns may depend on this project."

(The share which would be paid by residents of the City of Silvertown is estimated at one-tenth of the total cost. This allocation is based on population, and another factor is that Silvertown's location in relation to the site of the proposed reservoir would necessitate a shorter pipeline than will be necessary for the other cities involved.)

At present, Bookout said, the Authority's fiscal agent, First Southwest Company, Columbian Securities Corporation of Texas, is compiling a financial statement and a report on the water needs of each member city. These findings will be combined with a report being prepared by Freeze, Nichols and Endress, engineers, "detailing what we are proposing to build and how much it will cost," Bookout said. "For this work, the government, through the Department of Housing and Urban Development, has approved a loan of $76,500." He stressed the amount is a loan, not a grant.

The financial study, he explained, is determining current water billing in each city—what each city uses and "how much it can pay for." He said each member city would have a contract with the Authority for a certain amount of water at a guaranteed price.

Engineer's report is a design of the dam, showing the exact size plus required amount of materials; location of purification plant, pipelines and all required systems, and land area needed both for the reservoir and materials. "It will include cost estimates in all phases," Bookout said.

One advantage in the proposed site is that 3 million of the approximately 4 million cubic yards of earthwork needed can be secured at the site. Bookout explained the additional million which is special material for the core dam, can be obtained nearby the site. He said although the Authority had hoped to secure all the material from the dam site, thereby deepening it, "we are glad the 3 million cubic yards can come from the site and that the other is so easily accessible. Otherwise, we could have had a problem."

The proposed reservoir, with a 900-acre surface area and a water capacity of 54,000 acre feet, would have an average depth of 60 feet and a maximum depth of 148 feet. Bookout stressed, "This is very good. Most reservoirs its size average about 23 feet. This extra depth would cut down considerably on evaporation."

Although deeper than many reservoirs its size, in surface area Mackenzie would be about half the size of Buffalo Lake at Umbarber or of similar dimensions to Inks Lake at Burnet and Marble Falls in the Austin area.

Bookout said long-range planning for the proposed reservoir includes recreational areas.

He commented the Authority is hoping for a government grant upon approval of the issue. If such a grant is not forthcoming, he added. SEE WATER PROJECT—

Variety, Change Characterize 4-H

4-H program has been Leon Grosdidier. Greater variety of educational projects, more emphasis on the improvement of the boy and girl and a program with appeal for young people everywhere, are some of the changes the agent pointed out.

A more recent but no less important change, Grosdidier says, is the demand for 4-H in towns and cities across the country. Still an important educational force in rural America, more than 77 per cent of its members reside in rural areas, nearly a half million 4-H members now live in towns and cities of 2,500 or more. A decade ago, 86.5 per cent lived on farms and in rural areas and 13.5 per cent in urban areas.

To meet the changing needs of youth, 4-H has increased its educational projects and opportunities. Among the new offerings are automotive care and safety, home management, personality development, conservation, horse, dog care and obedience and community beautification. These are being supplemented with intensified activities of career exploration, science, health, nutrition, recreation, public speaking and safety. For the young person with suitable facilities, the proven standard projects are highly recommended.

Agent Grosdidier invites all young people 9-19 years of age

We're glad to join in celebrating National 4-H Club Week. We proudly salute 4-H'ers, and the local leaders who give freely of their time and talents.

Look For The Lucky 4-H Clover

Most people consider it good fortune to spot a four-leaf clover. But those who find a four-leaf clover with an "H" on each leaf are even more fortunate, says County Extension Agent Leon Grosdidier.

The well-known symbol of 4-H has served one out of every five adults in the United States. These 23 million alumni and some 2.2 million 4-H boys and girls currently enrolled, provide strong evidence to back the agent's statement. Here in Briscoe County, 13% have discovered the lucky 4-H clover, Grosdidier says.

With these young people, 4-H is a way of life. For boys and girls between the ages of nine and nineteen, 4-H offers opportunities to develop wholesome character and leadership. They learn to work together and share responsibility. 4-H'ers explore career opportunities while gaining knowledge and skills that will be useful throughout life. But perhaps most important of all, 4-H members grow stronger together, learning to be responsible citizens and competent leaders.

Through a unique organizational structure, 4-H is cooperatively sponsored by the Extension Service at three levels of government. It is carried on at the county level by professional extension agents living in Briscoe County to learn of the opportunities offered by 4-H. They are invited to call his office at 4271. Now is a particularly good time to inquire about 4-H with new groups forming and established clubs being reorganized, he points out.

Adult volunteer leaders interested in working with youth are needed, the agent advises. Men and women willing to assist boys and girls develop to the fullest their citizenship and leadership abilities, are encouraged to contact the County Extension Office.

Opportunities In 4-H

by Joni Self

4-H gives young people the chance to express their dreams, hopes and desires. Each 4-H club member is urged to pick projects that will help him in the future.

4-H members meet many new friends at such activities as Electric Camp, Leadership Camp, district eliminations, and State and National Round-Up. A 4-H'er has the opportunity to grow and mature as a finer person by being lead by some of the most outstanding people in the community.

WHAT 4-H MEANS

by Micki Jasper

4-H means learning how to cook, care for animals and other skills.

and a corps of volunteer leaders and advisers. Statewide, the 4-H program draws upon the State Land-Grant University for educational resources and direction. Nationally, the U. S. Department of Agriculture administers the program as the youth phase of the Extension Service. Professional workers at all levels work with a half million volunteer adult and junior leaders in constantly adjusting the 4-H program to serve the interests and needs of youth.

The 4-H project, a highly successful educational method, is made more interesting with complementing activities. These offer variety to all boys and girls, whether they live in the country, suburbs, or the city. Some of the most popular areas are family living, personal development, home management, conservation, engineering, horse and community beautification.

Boys and girls value their 4-H training as they participate in school, church and community groups and activities. Their lives are enriched by having found that lucky four-leaf clover with the four "H's."

Texans As 4-H'ers

by Kathy Self
This summer I had the most wonderful experience of my life. I, as a 4-H'er, attended State Round-Up at Texas A&M. There I was associated with approximately 1300 other 4-H'ers and friends of 4-H.

There were five who attended from Briscoe County. Larry Comer, Joni Self and I attended and entered the contests. Mrs. J. L. Self and Joe Bob Watson attended as chaperones. Joe Bob was also Larry's coach, and he placed fourth in the Tractor Driving Contest.

Leland Campsey coached Joni and me, and we placed sixth in the Soil, Water and Range Conservation contest.

There were parties, banquets and barbecues given for the 4-H'ers.

They, as a group, proved that Texas Teens are one of the greatest groups in America.

OFFICERS OF THE SENIOR 4-H CLUB are Steve Brown, president; Cynthia Sutton, vice president; Pat Jarrett, secretary; and Lanis Davis, council delegate.

Learning Is Fun At Leadership Camp

by Pat Jarrett
This year I was chosen to attend 4-H Leadership Camp at Levellend Junior College. We arrived in time to get settled, meet new friends and see "old friends" before supper. The camp was based on having fun and learning at the same time. We had four subjects to choose from to learn more about: recreation, junior leadership, method demonstration and 4-H meeting.

I chose recreation, and learned how to get more people interested in the fun of recreation.

Leadership Camp is fun and I hope that someday I will have the opportunity to attend Leadership Camp again.

What I've Learned In 4-H

by Carol Louise Craft
In 4-H, Kathy and Joni Self were my leaders. I learned to use dry and liquid measures. I learned to cook many new foods, such as meat and salad dishes. 4-H has taught me many new things.

My major project is foods. This is my first year in 4-H. I have thoroughly enjoyed and learned many new things.

What I Have Learned In 4-H

I have learned to sew and cook in 4-H. I hope to be in 4-H many years to come. I hope to enter three more projects in 4-H.

WHAT 4-H MEANS TO ME

by Ronny Vaughan
4-H means to me how to get along with other people. It also shows me how to tend to animals.

Last year I had two pigs, and I won Grand Champion.

My 4-H Story

by Debbie Bomar
In 4-H I've learned to cook and sew better. I've learned to measure dry and liquid ingredients. It was very much fun to at least try to cook and sew.

4-H HAS BEEN VERY REWARDING TO ME

by Laqueta Bomar
4-H has been very rewarding to me. It has helped me to become a better individual by helping, teaching, learning and doing.

I have experienced many happy moments in 4-H. Receiving thanks for what I could do, being chosen as queen candidate, receiving awards and ribbons, demonstrating for junior 4-H'ers, and representing Briscoe County at District are just a few of the many, many things that 4-H offers the youth of today.

4-H will help me in my future.

Owls Defeat Lefors 14-12 To Make Four In A Row

Randy Cantwell is shown catching the pass from quarterback John Montague to give the Owls a first down in last Friday's game with Lefors.

Fourteen was the lucky number for the Owls Friday night as they won their fourth straight football game of the season. The Owls have defeated each of their four opponents by scoring 14 points.

All of the scoring in the clash with the Pirates came in the second quarter. On the third play of the second quarter, Lefors fumbled on their own 12-yard line. Silvertown recovered the fumble and on the next play sent Randy Hughes around left end for the score. The try for extra points failed.

When Silvertown kicked off to Lefors after the touchdown, Tony Pittman took the ball for Lefors at his own 30-yard line and ran all the way for a Pirate score. The run for extra points failed.

A pass from Silvertown quarterback John Montague to Randy Cantwell gave the Owls a first down on the Lefors 32-yard line. On the next play, Randy Hughes went around left end again for the Silvertown score. Montague earned the extra points on a quarterback sneak.

Randy Hughes was named this week as the winner of the Amarillo Daily News most valuable player award.

The 170-pound halfback, moved to the backfield two weeks ago, was honored as the most valuable player in Class A games last weekend.

Later in the second quarter, on a fourth down situation needing five yards for a first down, Marvin Finney ran a touchdown for the Pirates. The conversion failed, and the Owls led 14-12.

The second half was a defensive battle. The turning point of the game may have been when Cletus Grady, jr., intercepted a Lefors pass on the Silvertown 32-yard line late in the fourth quarter. This interrupted a drive by the Pirates, and as all fans will probably agree, it was dangerous for the speedy Lefors backs to run a single play. The game ended with the Owls driving hard on the Lefors 34-yard line.

Lannie Arnold carried the ball for the Owls 10 times for a total gain of 59 yards; Randy Hughes carried 21 times for 157 yards; John Montague carried 11 times for 85 yards; and Cletus Grady gained 9 yards. The total yards gained passing was 48, with Montague passing to Cantwell for 43 yards and to Hughes for 5.

Silvertown made 17 first downs as compared with 11 for the Pirates. Silvertown made 11 of these in the first half as compared with 6 for Lefors. In the second half, the Owls made 6 while the Pirates made 5.

Lefors was penalized 40 yards, while the Owls had 80 yards stepped off against them.

Next opponent for the Owls is Kress at Kress. The Kangaroos walloped Happy Friday night, and will be a tough opponent. The Owls had some injuries in the game with Lefors, and as a result the center Van May was hospitalized until Sunday with his neck in traction. John Montague had some stitches to close a cut over his eye.

The Owls have a lot of desire to win ball games this year, and even though the going gets pretty rough, they keep on trying. This kind of team is hard to beat.

Mrs. George Seaneay has been a patient in Swisher Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. W. E. Aulry Taken By Death

The livestock inspectors assigned to Briscoe County are Robert Streit and Harry Shaefer. These men will be contacting the live-

Within approximately five months, preliminary studies of the proposed Mackenzie Reservoir are scheduled to be completed, with the next step a bond election in which each of the four cities will give the project the green light or reject it.

According to Don Bookout of Tulia, attorney for the Mackenzie Water Authority, voters of each city will decide whether or not it will enter into contract with the Authority to receive its water supply from the proposed reservoir.

The Authority was described by Bookout as "an independent entity set up by the Texas Legislature." Represented in the Authority are Silvertown, Tulia, Lockney and Floydada.

Bookout said should one city reject the issue, another city can be accepted to fill the membership. He commented, "This certainly should not be difficult," and said other cities in the area have inquired into the project.

With core drilling completed and the site reported as "ideal," feasibility of the plan has been established. Adding to this "feasibility," Bookout pointed out, "is the fact nothing has shown up to indicate the wealth of these cities cannot handle this project. We are talking in terms of a $4 or $5 million construction."

He continued, "This thing is going to cost money and people need to realize it. But I believe the survival of these four towns may depend on this project."

The share which would be paid by residents of the City of Silvertown is estimated at one-tenth of the total cost. This allocation is based on population, and another factor is that Silvertown's location in relation to the site of the proposed reservoir would necessitate a shorter pipeline than will be necessary for the other cities involved.

At present, Bookout said, the Authority's fiscal agent, First Southwest Company, Columbian Securities Corporation of Texas, is compiling a financial statement and a report on the water needs of each member city. These findings will be combined with a report being prepared by Freeze, Nichols and Endress, engineers, "detailing what we are proposing to build and how much it will cost," Bookout said. "For this work, the government, through the Department of Housing and Urban Development, has approved a loan of $76,500." He stressed the amount is a loan, not a grant.

The financial study, he explained, is determining current water billing in each city—what each city uses and "how much it can pay for." He said each member city would have a contract with the Authority for a certain amount of water at a guaranteed price. Engineer's report is a design of the dam, showing the exact size plus required amount of materials; location of purification plant, pipelines and all required systems, and land area needed both for the reservoir and materials. "It will include cost estimates in all phases," Bookout said.

One advantage in the proposed site is that 3 million of the approximately 4 million cubic yards of earthwork needed can be secured at the site. Bookout explained the additional million which is special material for the core dam, can be obtained nearby the site. He said although the Authority had hoped to secure all the material from the dam site, thereby deepening it, "we are glad the 3 million cubic yards can come from the site and that the other is so easily accessible. Otherwise, we could have had a problem."

The proposed reservoir, with a 900-acre surface area and a water capacity of 54,000 acre feet, would have an average depth of 60 feet and a maximum depth of 148 feet. Bookout stressed, "This is very good. Most reservoirs its size average about 23 feet. This extra depth would cut down considerably on evaporation."

Although deeper than many reservoirs its size, in surface area Mackenzie would be about half the size of Buffalo Lake at Umbarber or of similar dimensions to Inks Lake at Burnet and Marble Falls in the Austin area.

Bookout said long-range planning for the proposed reservoir includes recreational areas.

He commented the Authority is hoping for a government grant upon approval of the issue. If such a grant is not forthcoming, he added sed the possibility of the beginning of construction within a year.

Location of the site may be pinpointed on the Briscoe County map approximately six miles upstream from the confluence of Tule Creek with Prairie Dog Town Fork of the Red River. The spillway would be about three-eighths of a mile west of FM 284.

Foundation studies recently completed by Johnston & Mason of Dallas found conditions excellent.

An excerpt from the report states, "Both right and left abutments capped by 45-foot sandstone. Redbed underlies the sandstone and is exposed in both abutments and the creek channel. Core trench will be nominal depth and will be dry. Adequate materials for construction of either homogeneous or zoned type of embankment. Riprap and blanket readily available. Emergency spillway through right abutment underlain by 45-foot sandstone." Tests showed there should be little or no leakage.

Service spillway level would have an elevation of 3,100 with emergency spillway, 3110. Length of main embankment would be 1,275 feet and total length embankment, 2,300 feet. Maximum height of embankment would be 178 feet with a maximum width of 1,058.

When bond elections are called, he continued, "if all goes well, the next step would be to acquire the land, both for the reservoir and water distribution facilities.

Also at about that time, contracts would be let." Construction is estimated to require about two years. Bookout added, "Then we would have to wait for the reservoir to fill. We could have half filled it with our watershed the past two years."

I bought my first Savings Bond
25 years ago

I was 14 years old

PAYING
WHEN HELD TO MATURITY

Mr. Jack Benny, distinguished star of the entertainment world, may not have a computer's memory when it comes to his age, but his dates are accurate about Savings Bonds.

The first Series E U.S. Savings Bond was issued 25 years ago on May 1, 1941, by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau to President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Mr. Benny was already famous as a radio comedian (the youngest in the business, by his own admission). And in the years which followed, he proved himself to be a good friend of the Bond Program, not only buying Bonds, but helping to sell them to the American people.

Through his efforts and those of countless other volunteers in radio and TV, stage and screen, and in all walks of life, the American people have bought more than $150 billion in Bonds.

Of these, about $100 billion have been cashed in for emergencies, homes, retirement, etc. The balance is being held by tens of millions of American families—a star-spangled nest egg for the future.

Why not start building your nest egg with Savings Bonds—for yourself, and to back up our men in Vietnam. But give it a chance to build up by starting young. Like Jack Benny.

NOW—Savings Bonds Pay 4.15%!

Interest on new E and H Bonds you purchase has been raised to 4.15% when held to maturity. E Bonds mature faster—now in just 7 years. Your old Bonds will earn more, too. Savings Bonds are better to buy, and hold, than ever.

County was requested by other states that had received scabies-infected cattle from Texas.

Scabies in cattle is commonly known as "common cattle scab" and is caused by parasitic mites of the psoroptes variety, which live in groups on the surface of the skin producing lesions that spread in all directions from the spot first affected. The first lesions usually occur on the withers, over the back and around the root of the tail. The scab mite pricks the skin to obtain food and in so doing causes a slight inflammation, but this early stage of the disease is rarely detected. As the mites multiply, large numbers of small wounds are made and are followed by intense itching and oozing of serum to the surface. Serum soon hardens into yellowish or grayish color scabs which are frequently stained with blood. In the early stages the scab may be about the size of a pea but gradually increases in size. Some of the mites migrate to other parts of the body and start new lesions which extend until they cover large areas. As the disease advances, increasingly large areas show loss of hair and become covered with thick adherent scabs. The itching is severe and the animal is constantly irritated. In its effort to relieve the itching and irritation, the animal spends so much time licking, rubbing and scratching that it has very little time for feeding; consequently it loses weight, becomes weak and emaciated and occasionally dies from heavy infestations.

It is a good practice to observe all cattle carefully at regular intervals for evidence of scabies. Select a location from which you can watch the animals without disturbing them, looking for restlessness, scratching, rubbing, licking, excessive tail switching and rough hair coat.

Texas statutes require that all animals in an infected herd be dipped twice in an approved manner and solution at ten to four-scabies, teen day intervals. All animals in exposed herds must be dipped once. All dippings must be accomplished under the supervision of a representative of the Texas Animal Health Commission. Spray dippings or box spraying is not approved for eradication purposes in Texas.

"This is a cooperative effort—and we need your cooperation," the County Agent said.

Statistics Tell a Startling Story

This crowded planet on which we live is seventy per cent non-white in population. Ninety-four per cent are non-American. Yet we Americans receive most of the income of the world. We are further privileged. The life expectancy of ninety-five per cent of the world's people is forty years, and ours is much longer.

Fully half of the world's people have never heard of Jesus Christ, or what He taught, or for what He lived and died.

Now, as the boys say who fly our planes, "fasten your seat belts." The average American family spends less than four dollars per year to share the Christian faith with the rest of the world. They give less to the total program of the church and Kingdom of God than they spend on maintaining their automobiles, or club

Home Notes

Home Demonstration Agent We are a united family again. Winston got home Sunday, September 25. He's having a little trouble getting us all organized, but I believe we'll let him stay. Some time this month he has to report to Yuma, Arizona, to get his discharge, then he should be home permanently.

Barbara Davis and Kathy Self arranged the fine display in Salem's window this past week to depict National 4-H Club Week. We also want to thank Troy Jones for allowing us to use his display window.

Joni Self and her committee did a fine job of selling advertising for the special section of the paper last week. And we certainly do appreciate the fine backing of the local merchants for the 4-H Club activities in this county.

The Town and Country H. D. Club has a crafts meeting planned next Tuesday with Mrs. Roy Younger and Mrs. Charles Meason in charge of the program.

The Quitaque H. D. Club had an outstanding program on "Etiquette" (The Art of Entertaining Simply and Graciously at Home) given by Mrs. O. R. Stark, jr. this past month and they are also planning a meeting on crafts for Wednesday, October 12, at 2:30 p.m. in the First National Bank meeting room.

The High Plains Cotton Festival and Miss Cotton Contest will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, October 20, in the Agriculture Center in Plainview.

Entrants must be single, at least 14 and not over 17 by October 31, 1966, and must be sponsored by a home demonstration club, 4-H Club, F. F. A., F. H. A., Young Farmer or Young Homemaker chapter.

The entrant's family must own or rent cotton-producing land. Entrants will be judged on their poise and appearance. They must model a street length cotton party dress.

Deadline for registering is 12 noon October 13 with the Chamber of Commerce, Box 340, Plainview, Texas.

The 4-H Club members are selling toothbrushes and school mementoes. This activity is to raise money for their 4-H Awards Banquet. The fine backing of all the families and friends of 4-H in this area is greatly appreciated.

LONG'S PHILOSOPHY

Viet Nam is something that everybody is familiar with. Everyday you usually hear something about it. I wonder how much Americans are really concerned about it. You feel bad when you hear the weekly American death list, but the next day you have forgotten all about it.

All Americans aren't like this. The death list really concerns them. These people are real Americans. They are willing to help the American fighting men even if they don't agree we should be in Viet Nam. They don't sit there and pout just because they didn't get their way; they are willing to help. America is over there to stay until peace is restored and they might as well get that through their heads.

What can you do to help the American cause in Viet Nam? The first thing to do is to keep up with the war. Don't ignore the war. Those are Americans dying over there and so all Americans are part of the war. America works as a whole, not apart. This is why America is the leader of the world. When you keep up with the war, at least you show that you are interested in why Americans are giving their lives. Read about the war to know what kind of conditions the Vietnamese people live with. They need help over there and, as Americans, it is our duty to help. Talk about the war with other people. There are pros and cons to every issue. It does people good to hear other people's ideas and to think them over.

America is dedicated to help other people. That is why it is the world's leading nation. Let's don't let it fall simply by not keeping up with its activities. Let's all get in there and pitch.

Medical Assembly Heard Here

A representative from Amarillo Osteopathic Hospital and Jack Edmonson from West Texas University spoke to the student body about the far-reaching field of medicine on Wednesday, September 28.

Assisting in the program was Becky Thomas, who is a senior student at Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing. They spoke about the different fields of medicine, and told the assembled body that each hospital is a small community within itself.

A representative from the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce showed slides which defined the different branches of the medical profession. A question and answer session was held after the showing of the slides. The students were encouraged to ask questions about the medical profession, and many of the students showed an interest in medicine. Forms were passed out to be filled in by the students to specify what fields of medicine they are most interested in. Information about these fields will be sent to the students.

A salty old judge's advice to an ambitious young lawyer: to be a good judge, you must have inestimable good judgment, a sense of fair play and a darn good bladder.

Dear Medusa,
I have a serious problem. My father beats me all the time. He is cruel, mean, low-down, and hates me. Everytime I come home from school, he beats me with a pipe. I thought about talking to him about it, but I'm afraid he might get mad and beat me. Please help me with my problem.

Bloody Pulp
Dear Pulp,
If I were you, I would see my Medicare man pronto!

Dear Medusa,
There is a little boy next door that I HATE. I hate him with all my heart. He is always over at our house. He destroys everything that he can get his grimy little hands on. He has simply ruined our house by throwing paint on it. He has fed our dog poison and has hung all our little kittens. All my little brother's toys are beyond repair. Tell me what I can do with this little brat.

Going Out of My Mind
Dear Going,
Murder is not the answer. It is against the law. My advice to you is to kidnap him and put him in a box addressed to North Viet Nam. They're sure to take care of him over there.

Pep Rally News

A Pep Rally was held Friday morning before the game with Lefors. There was plenty of school spirit shown.

The cheerleaders presented a pom pom routine to "Wave the Flag" and led the student body in several yells.

A bonfire was held Thursday night at which Coach Thornburg and the football captains made speeches. The school spirit has been high this year so let's keep it that way.

DATING AGE

"How was it?" asked the mother of a boy who had just taken his first girl to his first dance. "Oh, fine," he replied. "But every time we got going good on the dance floor, old Harris would cut in."
"Well, that's life when you take a pretty date to a party," said his mother.
"I know, I know," the boy said mournfully. "But old Harris is a girl!"

Does Connie always make it a point to be so coordinated that one little kick will splinter her to the floor? Right John? You've got quite a kick, boy.

Jane, do you have atoms in your brain or in your glasses?
Joe Mercer, what do you have against monkeys?

Lexie, don't worry—true love is everlasting.

Clifford, why didn't you see Truman and why didn't he see you? Maybe both of you need new prescription lenses.

Since when is Bill Strange king of the graveyard?

What if Miss Self didn't catch at least one person chewing gum every day?

What if Karen Holt wasn't always falling downstairs?

Have you ever noticed the Junior girls' elbows? Is it a deformity or a disease?

Dale, if we ever catch you writing your senators on the -----, you're gonna be sorry.

Jane, why is it you don't want to invite boys to the F. H. A. Christmas party? Has love flown out the window for Harvey and you?

Ricki, we've heard you have been robbing the cradle. Watch it or you will get your toes rocked on.

Is it true that C.S. has got her claws into D.T.?

I hear there was almost an explosion Monday in Physics. Better give up on the refrigerator, boys; your insurance isn't good under those conditions.

Tina, why didn't you want your name in the paper last week?

Ester, when are you going to learn? You sew the material, not the hand.

Faye Gene, what does a dead phone smell like?

Jimmy Burson, who is Inez? No one has heard of her but you.

John C, why do you always yell for the other team at football games? Don't you feel like a traitor?

It seems that Randy Hughes is beginning to look forward to the end of the games.

Mike Long tried to flood the Physics room Tuesday. The distilled water bottle doesn't turn off very well, does it Mike?

Physics just isn't your class, is it John?

Well, Judy, did you finally get your periods fixed on your typewriter?

Let's face it, Sophomore typing class, Crow is a born teacher.

I wonder why Mr. Grosdidier is always coming to the Pep Rally late?

Well, Jay, do you like being mistaken for a Beetle?

FOOTBALL NEWS

by Coach Thornburg
The Silverton Owls played host to the Lefors Pirates and came out with a close 14-12 victory. Lefors was the best team we have played so far and I was scared to death all week that it would be a closer game than we wanted.

Knowing the type of ball they play and the competition they had played, I knew they would be a real fine team. Although they have not won a game, they have a good ball team with speed and quickness in the line that is a problem to deal with. The four boys that played in the backfield for Lefors went to the state track meet in Austin last year in the mile relay.

The Owls moved the ball real well and due to penalties were stopped on many of the drives. The Owls made many mistakes, but did some real good things on the field.

The Owls moved the ball for 391 yards rushing and passing. The defense was hit for 264 yards, which is a little over the average of the other three games.

We thought that all the boys did a good job containing the speed of Lefors and did some good blocking and running with the football. Randy Hughes was the leading ball carrier with 156 yards rushing. He also scored both touchdowns. John Montague scored the two extra points.

This was the fourth straight victory for the Owls and we are looking for number five at Kress Friday night. We know that Kress is the best team that we will meet in non-conference play. They have a big and fast team with a lot of poise and a lot of boys that played on the district championship team of last year. We know that we will have to play good hard football to win.

Looking forward to seeing all of you at the game in Kress Friday night at 8:00 p.m.

Van May was selected as the outstanding defensive boy against Happy last week.

Teacher Supply Reaching Crisis Stage In State

(from "Texas Schools" published by Texas State Teachers Assoc.)
Texas is faced with the worst teacher shortage in 25 years and the situation may get worse before it gets better.

This was the statement of Charles H. Tennyson, TSTA Executive Secretary, in announcing the results of a TSTA teacher-shortage survey of every Texas school district. Tabulation of the survey returns showed that more than three-fourths of the total number of Texas districts reported a need for "fully qualified teachers." The total needed was 5,442.

The survey further showed 1,087 professional positions vacant at present, and 3,816 positions filled by individuals who are not fully qualified teachers.

"There is no question whatsoever," said Tennyson in his unusually strong statement, "that Texas cannot afford to live long with a situation like this."

Although TSTA has a program which will be presented to the Texas Legislature in January to increase the average salary of classroom teachers to the national level, it is evident that this increase alone will not be fully sufficient to solve the situation.

Texas is losing teachers to other areas of the nation, and some of the smaller communities are losing teachers to the big city systems which have greater resources to pay above the minimum state teacher salary of $4,100 per annum.

Every school child in Texas deserves instruction from no less than a fully qualified, fully certified classroom teacher. However, in order to provide qualified teachers, Texans must be willing to pay salaries in keeping with other professions.

High School Still Believes In God

We are proud to say that the students and faculty of Silverton High School still believe in God.

If you think that God is dead or doesn't exist, we invite you to come to the early morning devotional held by the high school students and faculty every Wednesday morning at 8:30 in front of the high school building. The students raise the stars and stripes of America's flag and our own state flag. After the raising of the flags, the President of the Student Council, Buddy Comer, leads the students and teachers in the Pledge of Allegiance. A reading from the Bible is given by one of the students.

This week, Paul Ray McWilliams and Steve Brown raised the flags, Mary Lane Whitfill read the scripture, and Randy Cantwell offered the prayer. The students and faculty then returned to their classes.

Although all students and faculty members are invited to attend, no one is forced to participate. All parents who bring students to school on Wednesday morning are asked to please have your children at school before 8:30 a.m. as not to disturb the devotionals.

Old Buildings at Fort Richardson by E. M. Schiwek

... a long time between paydays!

Across the western face of Texas, the brooding ruins of forts... here and there a restored barracks or hospital bring back a bloody page in history. A history that tells of marauding redskins thundering southward from Indian Territory, killing in their wake, pushing on to the Mexican border. A history that tells too of the hard and lonely life of the U.S. Army troopers who manned these strategic forts.

Fort Richardson, near Jacksboro, was one of the more important of these outposts. Here Kiowa Chieftains Satanta and Big Tree were incarcerated before their trial for a bloody massacre. But life in all frontier posts was much the same... best expressed by the soldiers themselves, "a long time between paydays."

BUT IT ISN'T SO FAR BETWEEN PAYDAYS NOW
... with U. S. Savings Bonds!

Today, there can also be a long time between paydays for those who have not established the thrift habit. But through the U.S. Savings Bonds program you can take care of this situation quickly and effectively.

For example, with as little as 63¢ a day you can buy an $18.75 Savings Bond every month. Keep this up for 40 months and you'll own a stack of Bonds worth $1,000, at maturity, which cost you only $750 in easy installments.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds every payday automatically through the payroll savings plan.

Maintain Your Boat

Some 40 million Americans now participate in boating of one kind or another, making this one of the nation's fastest-growing pastimes. To keep pace with this boom, boat makers are flooding the market with a large variety of new products designed to enlarge our enjoyment of boating, cruising and related water sports.

For the good old-fashioned boating enthusiast, however, a large part of this pastime consists of maintenance and repair work. For example, each spring, when it's time to take the "fleet" out of mothballs, there are lots of little jobs to be done: checking the hull and bilge for evidence of rotting, repairing or replacing rotting or water-soaked sections, painting, cleaning, motor tune-up, and so on.

But anyone who enjoys boating doesn't really regard this as work. In fact, painting, scraping, sanding and scouring are all part of the romance of boating.

One of the trouble spots which can easily be overlooked on a boat is the metal fittings which so often prove troublesome where maintenance is concerned. Not only are pits and corrosion unsightly but they can spell trouble in the future. It's important, for example, that instruments are adequately protected against spray (whether salt or fresh water), as well as rain and other hazards.

A conscientious boatman will keep a sharp eye on his metal fittings because he knows that in the boating world bright hardware is regarded as a mark of the expert. Nothing gives the amateur away faster than shabby metalwork aboard.

So when you find yourself in need of new metal hardware, consider stainless steel. Here are a few of the stainless steel products currently available: anchors and anchor shackles, boat hooks, lights, eyes, rails, brackets, cleats, marine fasteners, ladders, mooring bits and pendants, car locks, pulleys, rigging, shackles, sockets, terminals and tiller fittings.

How to save for a rainy day and help your country now
 Sometimes, you may have an emergency which will affect the future of your family. It's kind of comforting to have a fund standing by to help you meet that emergency.
 Your country also has emergencies to meet in the day to day job of keeping peace and standing up for freedom.
 You can help meet both needs with U. S. Savings Bonds.
 Your fellow Americans are already holding $47 billion in Savings Bonds—for rainy days, and sunny days, too. Why not join them? And see if you don't feel pretty good about it.
 Buy Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Or at any bank. No charge for the service.
 Keep freedom in your future with
