Youth To "Trick or Treat" For C.R.O.P. October 26

The Youth of the First Baptist Church and First Methodist Church will be joining other Christian youth throughout the state of Texas in collecting money for C.R.O.P. (Christian Rural Overseas Program). They have designated Wednesday, October 26, as the day for this program. They will meet at the Methodist Church at 7:00 p.m., receive their assignments, and knock on every door in Silvertton.

WHAT WILL CROP DO? In 1965 each dollar value contributed to C.R.O.P. provided $1.66 worth of aid overseas. Contributions to C.R.O.P. made possible the distribution of over 47,891,600 pounds of overseas - donated commodities plus 4,639,560 pounds of C.R.O.P. shipments. C.R.O.P. also provides additional supplies of food, cotton and self-help items that would otherwise be unobtainable to the overseas programs of the churches. All are provided by the American people who contribute both farm commodities and cash.

Floyd Wood Buried Here Last Saturday

Funeral services for Johnnie Floyd Wood, 72, a retired Silvertton farmer, were conducted at 2:00 p.m. Saturday at the Silvertton Church of Christ. Richard Williams of Big Spring, a former minister of the Silvertton church, officiated.

Pallbearers were nephews, Joe, Don, David and Rex Crawford, James Wood and Elmer Beavers. Burial was in the Silvertton Cemetery, with arrangements under the direction of Silvertton Funeral Home.

Mr. Wood died at 12:15 p.m. Thursday in Lockney General Hospital, where he had been a patient for 12 days.

He was born in Hill County and came to Briscoe County in 1902. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include his wife, the former Ethyl Beavers; two sons, Willie D. of Guatemala, Central America, and Clayton D. of Dell City; one sister, Mrs. Eula Rogers of Morton; two brothers, Marvin of Levelland and Sam of San Jon, New Mexico; and eight grandchildren.

Voter Registration Now Underway Here

Voter registration is now underway in Briscoe County and other counties across Texas.

Husbands can register for their wives and wives can register for their husbands, but one member of the family must go to the Sheriff's Office before January 31, 1967.

This will entitle the voter to cast a ballot in all elections held from February 1, 1967 until February 29, 1968. No poll tax is being charged, but you must register now if you intend to vote.

Wayne Nance spent the weekend at home with relatives and friends.

Early Freeze Affects Crops

Friday night's freeze, one of the earliest in this area's weather history, may have hurt Briscoe County's cotton and castorbeans and put an end to most garden vegetable production. There have been heavy frosts almost every night since, with a cold front having brought cool daytime and cold nighttime temperatures to the Panhandle.

The U. S. Weather Station in Plainview recorded a Friday night low of 31 degrees which broke a 26-year-old record for that date set on October 15, 1940, when a temperature of 26 degrees was recorded. The earliest freezing temperature recorded for Plainview was a 30-degree reading taken on October 7, 1952. First killing freeze last year was November 27.

The freeze was not needed this early by most farmers, and the best time for a freeze would have been the first or second week in November, when the crops would have been needing defoliation.

Dean Howard, associate agronomist at High Plains Research Foundation, said the Foundation's weather station indicated Saturday morning temperatures dropped below 30 degrees at 2 a.m. and stayed below the 30 degree mark until 8 a.m. Saturday morning's lowest temperature of 26 degrees was registered at the Foundation about 6 a.m.

Howard said the low temperatures "got a real thorough kill on foliage and cotton bolls" at the Foundation. As to damage to the plants, Howard said the earlier, mature cotton "came through in fine shape" and was not damaged by the early freeze.

He said it looked like farmers in this area would get through stripping their cotton before Christmas this year.

Delbert Langford, a castorbean buyer in Plainview, said he had made a brief tour of four fields Saturday and it looked like the cold weather had completely stopped castorbean development, at least in plant tops.

Langford said area farmers should obtain pretty good yields from their castorbeans despite the freeze. "But if the freeze had waited two weeks, farmers could have expected excellent yields," Langford said.

He estimated farmers would begin harvesting castorbeans in about two weeks because of the amount of moisture still in the plants.

Owls Idle This Week

The Owls have an open date Friday night, and are preparing to meet McLean at McLean on October 23.

The Owls battled the Wheeler Mustangs to a 0-0 first quarter score Friday night before allowing the Mustangs to open the scoring from the two-yard line in the second period. Halfback Bobby Vanpool made the opening score, and Fred Goad, who had been named as the Globe News Back of the Week, added the two extra points.

The Owls came back with a touchdown pass from John Montague to Lannie Arnold. The play covered 30 yards. The run for extra points was no good.

The Owls came back shortly with another score on a five-yard run by Randy Hughes. The run failed, and Silvertton led 12-8. At this point the Owls appeared fired up enough to beat any team, but after Donald Rives ran 15 yards to score for Wheeler and Goad added the extra points, the teams retired to the dressing rooms for halftime. When the teams returned to the field, a cold north wind was whipping dust across the field and the Owls never found that spark again.

Rives scored from five yards out and David Jamison quarterback sneaked the two extra points in the third quarter. Everything broke loose in the fourth quarter as Goad scored twice and Vanpool scored once and added two extra points, to develop the 44-12 final score.

Wheeler made 18 first downs, as compared to 10 for the Owls.

G.S.P.A. Asks Grain Loan Hike

"An increase in the price support loan rate of 25c per hundred in the 1967 feed grain program is the surest way to assure farmers that their income will be maintained and strengthened," Elbert

Harp, President of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association told Orville Freeman, Secretary of Agriculture, in a letter this week. Harp pointed out that this action would provide the grain producer with a stronger credit base as well as protect him from declining markets at harvest time as USDA seeks to bring many of the diverted acres back into production. Freeman had earlier indicated that the 1967 feed grain programs when announced will be administered in such a manner as to attract from 15 to 18 million of the 30 million acres now diverted from corn and grain back into production.

Harp went on to indicate that he along with other officers and staff of GSPA in recent months have served on various committees and councils charged with the responsibility of assisting with the development of the new feed grain program laws.

During these close liaison sessions as well as through all regular association administrative activities that GSPA has worked for four basic principles: (1) That increased producer income be the number one objective of the 1967 feed grain program; (2) That the loan rate be increased from the current $1.52 national average to $1.77; (3) That the combination of the diversion payments and the direct price support payments be retained at their current levels; (4) That payments be made on the total acres on which the farmer produces rather than just one-half of the acres as in this year's program.

The Abernathy farmer and GSPA head in talking with farmers points out that these four principles may not necessarily be incorporated into any new program which may be announced in a matter of days, but that he feels it important that farmers as members of the Association know the principles for which their association has been working in their interest.

This is the time of the year for local farmers to pay their GSPA dues. "Keep your GSPA working for you by paying your dues when you deliver your grain to the elevator," John Francis said today.

VERSAILLES! Palace of Louis XIV, where the Sun King "relaxed" by staging boar hunts or moonlight masquerades in his own "indoor" forest. The magnificent Orangerie, Louis' famed conservatory, 509 feet long, was filled with 100,000 square feet of exotic plants, trees, and flowers for his many ladies-in-waiting.

WHEN HYDRONIC HEATING (hot water circulating through steel pipes) first came into use, every earl, duke, and millionaire built his own private conservatory. Today, conservatories and household greenhouses are once again in fashion and much less expensive to own! Steel pipes circulating steam or hot water can recreate economically the native environments of many plants. Build your own private conservatory or visit one of the many public botanical gardens around the country.

GARDENS IN THE DESERT, abundant crops growing in the world's wastelands. This is a must if we are to feed the earth's exploding population! Squash in the Sahara? Melons in the Mohave? Why not? I told Mrs. Carr, the homemaking teacher, I'd like to steal them into Home demonstration work. Several of them are members of the Town & Country Home Demonstration Club and the Southwestern Home Demonstration Club.

On the 4-H scene, a District 2, Dawson County girl, Miss Linda Harp of Welch, won first place on her cotton garment at the State

Dress Revue. She was one of 45 4-H girls from throughout the state competing in the event, which is held annually during the State Fair of Texas.

Two other South Plains 4H'ers, were among the top 12 finalists for the outstanding cotton garment at the Dress Revue.

The Briscoe County 4-H Awards Banquet has been set by the 4-H Leaders Association Committee for Saturday, November 5, at 7:00 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

The Home Demonstration Council met Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. in the P. C. A. community room. Mrs. Aubrey Russell, the District Home Demonstration Agent, and Mrs. Tom Box, Texas Home Demonstration Association Chairman, were guest speakers. Mrs. Russell explained council organization and its function and Mrs. Box interpreted the Association and its role in each county.

CROP AND LIVESTOCK REPORTING SERVICE CELEBRATES 100 YEARS OF CONTINUOUS REPORTS

Cary D. Palmer, Agricultural Statistician in Charge of the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin, reads a proclamation from Governor John Connally, designating 1966 as Crop Reporting Centennial Year in Texas. Accurate and timely statistics of agriculture help Texas farmers and agri-businessmen make intelligent production and marketing decisions.

Over a century ago, farmers began to realize that they were at a disadvantage when bargaining because they knew little about crop and livestock supplies outside their area. They asked the government for help and a system of crop reporting was begun to fill this need. This year marks the 100th anniversary of continuous reporting of acreage, yield and production for the United States.

Cary Palmer says that the crop reporting system of collecting agricultural statistics relies heavily on some 40,000 farmers and agri-businessmen. Their voluntary reports month after month and year after year have an important role in providing Texas agricultural statistics and make the American farmer the best informed of any in the world.

One hundred years of voluntary reports is an achievement from which all America has benefited.

LONG'S PHILOSOPHY

This is a poem to make a lot of people stop and think and to stop taking the men in Viet Nam and other foreign ports for granted.

Maybe it will also help all the boys who have been burning their draft cards and the ones who have been jailed for not reporting for their physicals and those who have not reported back to their bases when they knew they were headed for Viet Nam.

My brother, Skeet Worley, is in Viet Nam right now. My dad tried to talk him into not going, but he said that if he wasn't needed over there that he wouldn't be sending him. So two months ago he left and will be over there for seven more months.

I got the idea for this poem from his bravery. I sure hope that it helps a lot of people understand how badly we do need men in Viet Nam.

DUTY CALLS

Today I was called to the army—I said, 'Give me a far distant land; Now, I feel there's been a big, bad mistake—Because I'm on my way to Viet Nam.

I went up to my Colonel—And said, 'Sir, listen to me;—Sir, I was only joking when I said I wanted to fight for liberty.'

The Colonel said, 'Private, one year ago today—My son stood there in your place—And I begged my boy with tears in my eyes—Not to go to this ugly place.'

My boy said, 'Father, forget I'm your son—There's a battle that's got to be won—And, Sir, I know as well as you—That this trip won't be fun.'

Today I got a Telegram, son—From the President of the United States—Or is it a

Dear Lost, I know most of the people in our town, and I think that when they hear your plea, they will understand your problem better. In my opinion, that rule has never been changed simply because no one could get organized. However, this is the parents' prime opportunity to unite with their teenagers in a common cause and I believe that the best choice will be made.

Just remember: Parents are humans, too, and they must know what is going on before they can give any support.

How long we'll be in Viet Nam—Well, I wouldn't ever want to mention—But, we'll be there, you can bet—Until the Commies stop their intervention.

If all you people will stop right now—And look straight up above—And say, 'We wish for peace, dear Lord—With your everlasting love.'

Shopping at a supermarket, I was standing near a mother and her young son when he picked up a box of something from a shelf and brought it over to her.

"Oh, no, honey!" she exclaimed. "Put it back—You have to cook that!"

DEAR MEDUSA,

I'm not sure I should be writing this letter, but I can't get in trouble for it, because I won't sign my name, so here goes.

I love my school, I really do. However, this "problem" not only affects me, but the whole student body. We are allowed only two school-sponsored dances a year: the Junior-Senior Prom and the Sweetheart Banquet.

Some kids are talking about having a Halloween Ball following the Coronation, but I heard that we can't because we'd scar up the gym floor. Honestly, we'd take our shoes off! The gym would already be decorated and the queen could reign at the dance. It would be something new and something good.

But we don't know who to talk to. Everyone tells us, "They say you can't." But who is "they"? If anyone knows please write "Medusa" so we can talk it over with "them", and "they" can tell us why we can't have more dances, or how we could EARN more.

Do you think we have a chance, Medusa? Or is it a Coach Nutt is taking up a new profession: match making. For his first subjects he has picked L. H. and Dorothy Weathered.

Mr. Grosdidier likes to take the long way around corners so all the kids can get home late.

Tina Weaver and Glen are getting to look more and more like each other everyday in the wrinkle department.

I wonder why it is that Coach Thornburg is trying to get something that will embarrass the editors of OWL'S HOOT?

Is it true that John does belly dances during Trig?

Is there a romance stirring between Marilyn Minyard and Danny Vaughan?

What was that explosion, sixth period typing class?

Well, Mr. Grosdidier, now you finally have to eat in the cafeteria. Everybody loves a clown; but, really, Leland, enough is enough!

Margaret, Juniors aren't so bad after all, are they?

It seems as if the Misfits and any others that can be packed in a car can make up a lot of juicy songs on a Thursday night.

Connie is making advances at the wrong person, isn't she, Venita?

Is straddling poles IN, Nancy Kay?

Debbie Dickerson, are you practicing for a strip tease? Doug Turner thinks so.

Is it true that "spoolies" are coming back in style, Ricki?

Dale, why is it so hard for you to face the fact that you are a lover?

Gail Ann, you finally caught a BOY! Mike Tate, Gail Ann thinks you are a lucky boy!

John Montague, would you please quit flirting with Connie?

Roy Ann, is it true zebras have more fun?

"I want to exchange these snakeskin pumps," a woman in the crowded shoe store told the clerk. "They are imperfect—see those scratches?"

The clerk agreed that there were some tiny scratches, and brought out another pair. The lady examined them carefully. "These are marred, too."

A few minutes later the clerk returned with eight pairs of shoes. The customer thought she detected some flaw in each pair. "They are all imperfect!" she exclaimed as she discarded the last one.

"Madam," the salesman said wearily, "I'm not perfect, you're not perfect. How can you expect a snake to be perfect?"

"Oh, no, honey!" she exclaimed. "Put it back—You have to cook that!"

Everyone knows that she is shy. For her there's a few special guys. The Kress Game wasn't too happy for her. Some other girl grabbed her favorite feller.

On the sidelines you can hear him shouting "Go Owls, fight um, beat um."

As a Junior from Claude to us he came.

The football boys got him a new name.

This girl has a slinky walk. To Turkey she does trot. Through braces she does talk. A boy named Claud she sees a lot.

F.B.L.A. NEWS

The F.B.L.A. Chapter met on Thursday, and planned a talent show as a money-making project for later on in the year. It was discussed and voted on that a pie auction be planned for the same time.

The chapter chose Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sarchet, Doc Simpson and Troy Jones as honorary members.

WEDNESDAY DEVOTIONAL

Last Wednesday, October 21, the entire high school student body and Mrs. Williams' third grade attended the regular Wednesday morning devotional.

The flag was raised by John Montague and Larry Comer with the assistance of Donald West. Carol Montague read the scripture and Roy Dale Wood led the prayer before the students returned to their classes.

American Heritage Meeting Attended

The featured speaker for the American Heritage meeting of October 10, was Dr. Paul Wood, history professor from Texas Technological College, Lubbock. Dr. Wood, a graduate of the University of Illinois, spoke on the Confederation Congress and the difficulties this governing body experienced.

Dr. Wood discussed what he termed the "Dark Days" of our history during the years 1783-1787 when we were under the direction of the Articles of Confederation.

This government was hampered in its actions by several deficiencies. One, the power of taxation, which is essential to any organized government, was not granted to the Articles of Confederation. Secondly, the government did not have the power to raise an army. Thirdly, the Confederation Congress had no power of coercion. Laws were passed but it was left to the states to enforce these laws. Fourthly, the government could not regulate commerce between the states or with foreign countries. Fifthly, it took a unanimous decision of the thirteen states to amend the wrongs of the Articles and usually no more than four or five states ever attended the meetings. Also, where the Congress was to hold its meetings posed a problem. During the years 1783-1787, the Confederation Congress met in five different cities: Philadelphia, Princeton, Trenton, Annapolis and New York. At one time the Congress was chased out of Philadelphia by soldiers who had not been paid for their services.

Dr. Wood related two long-lasting accomplishments of the Articles of Confederation Congress. One was the passage of the series of Northwest Ordinances and the other was the calling of a special convention in Philadelphia. This Philadelphia Convention was charged with the task of revising the Articles, but instead the convention exceeded its orders and as a result the Constitution was conceived.

Dr. Wood, an interesting speaker, addressed an audience of about 25 area social studies teachers who had gathered on the Wayland Baptist College campus for the occasion. Erma Joy Luhman and Zobia Self represented the Silvertown Schools at the meeting.

On The Sideline

by Charles Sarchet
 I noticed that Leon Grosdidier, Robert Ledbetter and Bob Rauch are all smiles again.

The Wheeler Mustangs lived up to their reputation Friday night when they beat the Owls 44-12. Their speed was too much for us.

It seemed that our boys could handle them when they wanted to enough. The thing that impressed me was the Wheeler had only 15 men suited out for the game.

The open date will give our team a chance to get prepared for McLean on October 28 at McLean.

McLean beat Claude last week, 24-12. McLean's fullback, Raymond Baker, was the work horse for them, scoring three touchdowns.

Clarendon beat Canadian 41-14 in non-conference action Friday night.

If you haven't seen the Junior High team play, you should go tonight at 7:00 p.m. to see them play Claude here. They are looking good. Coach Herb Stephens is doing a good job with the Junior Owls and the boys give their all for him.

When boys like Nicky Long, Monty Teeple and Terry Bomar can block boys twice their size, it proves they are well coached and want to play.

Junior Owls Take Win From Matador 44-22

The Silverton Junior High Owls rolled up another victory last Thursday night by defeating Matador 44-22. The Matador team scored first as a result of several penalties against the Owls.

Matador kicked off and Bill Strange ran the ball 80 yards to

The Sportsman's Corner

by Dr. Joe Linduska, Remington Wild Life Expert

FOWLING
 Bird on the wing has always been a hunter's most difficult target. Among the earliest firearms were "fowling pieces" which used small pellets that were more apt than the single ball to get the bird. These primitive shotguns were cumbersome and very inaccurate.

In 1831 the new sport of trap shooting came to America from England. Designed to sharpen the hunter's eye, live bird targets were released from underneath men's top hats. Because of the easier handling shotguns, it became "fashionable" even for women to compete.

Upland game, waterfowl and clay targets are popular with modern scattergunners. Grouse, quail, doves or migrating ducks and geese are fair game to today's hunters. Many discerning shotgun enthusiasts opt for the light weight Remington Model 1100 automatic shotgun, one of the most accurate for "bagging the bird."

score for the Owls. Marvin Self added the two points after the touchdown.

In the second quarter, Roger Younger took a pass from Trent Brown that covered 65 yards for a score. At halftime, the Junior Owls led 14-6.

In the third quarter, the Owls scored twice, first on a one-yard run by Marvin Self and second on a 30-yard run by Bill Strange. David Holt added the two extra points after Marvin's touchdown.

In the fourth quarter, Bill Strange intercepted a Matador pass and ran the ball 25 yards for a touchdown. David Holt scored the two extra points.

Again Bill Strange ran 80 yards and Trent Brown passed to Ronny Strange for the two extra points. Matador scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, giving them a final count of 22 points.

Ronny Strange made key blocks that cleared the way for Bill Strange's first touchdown and for Roger Younger's touchdown.

It would be impossible to pick an outstanding player for the Owls because all played well. Monty Teeple had a 205-pound boy playing in front of him, and he did a fine job of handling him. Trent Brown is developing into a really good quarterback for the Owls.

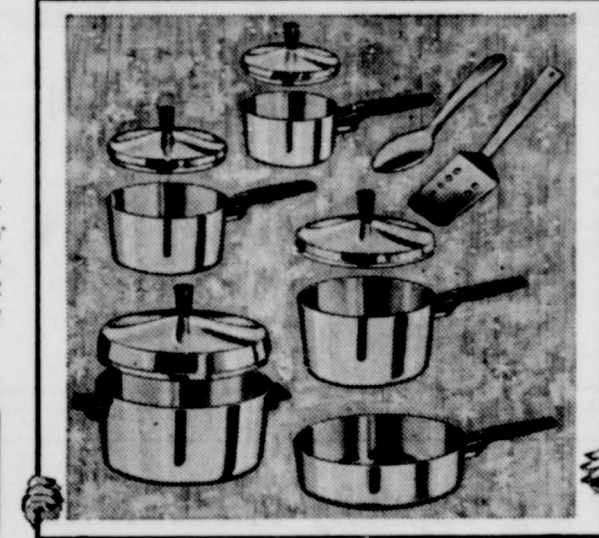

The Owls had 12 first downs to 7 for Matador.

The Owls will play Claude here Thursday at 7:00 p.m. Claude won the first time they played the Owls by a two touchdown margin.
