Final Report Due On Project

The Mackenzie Municipal Water Board will meet April 7 in Floydada to hear the final report of Freeze, Nichols & Endress of Fort Worth, engineers of the proposed dam on Tule Creek.

The board heard the first draft of the report last week, and each member received a copy to study in preparation for the final report. There are two representatives each from Silvertown, Floydada, Tulia and Lockney on the board.

The major concern of the board is to develop a feasible method of financing the $7,925,000 project. The engineers' report included two alternate plans.

One plan would finance the entire project by the sole use of revenue bonds. This would eliminate the necessity for a water tax in the four-town district. However, a higher water rate would be necessary.

The other plan was a combination revenue bond and tax rate.

Joe W. Smith, vice president of the First Southwest Company of Lubbock, gave as an example the charging by cities of 30 cents per thousand gallons of water used annually. This would cover a large portion of the cost of the project. The remaining cost would be met by a 65-cents-per-$100 tax based on a 50 per cent valuation of the property. Smith serves as a fiscal agent to the Mackenzie Water Authority.

The combination revenue bond and tax proposal is flexible and probably will be chosen, said Don Bookout of Tulia, attorney for the water authority.

"This plan is good because the higher the price of water is set, the lower the tax would be. This also works in reverse and a reasonable combination could be reached very easily," Bookout said.

1967 Cancer Crusade To Be Launched In Briscoe County Tuesday, April 18

The 1967 Crusade Against Cancer will be launched in Briscoe County on Tuesday, April 18, with the house-to-house march.

In addition to the urgent goals of getting information about cancer into every household in the county and raising funds needed to continue cancer control activities throughout the state, volunteers for the American Cancer Society will have a new and important assignment this year.

The cancer education survey will be conducted in Texas for the first time. An estimated 600,000 replies will be collected from households in every section of the state.

The house-to-house drive will be made in Silvertown on April 18. After householders have been given the list of cancer's seven warning signals, they will be asked to fill out a brief, confidential form, answering questions about their own health practices. The completed forms can then be mailed back in the envelope provided and will be counted by volunteers in the district Cancer Society offices.

In connection with the drive, churches across the state will join in the observance of Cancer Crusade Sunday. Texas churches have agreed to join the Crusade on an individual basis by using specially prepared church bulletin folders during their Sunday services. On the folders is a beautiful illustration of the Cross and the Society's Sword of Hope with the legend: A Christian Con-

W. S. Gregg came in a covered wagon with his family to Briscoe County and filed on his land six miles from the F Ranch headquarters and near the present site of Quitaque. The family camped for six weeks at Cottonwood Springs while Mr. Gregg built their dugout. The wagon beds were hoisted on cedar poles and they lived in these. Mrs. Gregg cooked the family meals on an open fire. The wagon frame was used to haul cedar logs which were used in the dugout. While they camped the dugout to be towed away securely to keep the bears out.

The Greggs then moved into their new home which had a fireplace where they cooked for two or three years. Mrs. Gregg sewed for her family on her fingers. She did the washing and hung the clothes on the bushes to dry. Her batirons were heated on the fireplace and she ironed on the homecern for Cancer . . . a concern to protect yourself and your family through a regular physical examination . . . a concern that all of mankind should be spared this disease, the ultimate goal of the Crusade Against Cancer."

Not only do householders need to be reminded of the need for regular health examinations, but the answers on the surveys will also guide the Texas Division ACS in planning the most needed and successful educational programs possible.

In line with the American Cancer Society's vigorous campaign against smoking, volunteers are seeking to discover how many people in each community smoke, how many have stopped smoking in the last year, and what the ages are in each group.

A follow-up survey will be conducted during 1968 to complete the progress made through the society's year-around programs of pamphlets and speakers.

The cost of the survey, as it will be carried out in each of Texas' 254 counties, will only amount to the cost of printing. All other services are rendered free by interested citizens in each community.

Members of L. O. A. Junior Study Club and the Silvertown Young Homemakers are planning to assist with the Crusade. Others wishing to volunteer as workers in the Crusade Against Cancer on the evening of April 18 are asked to telephone Mrs. Dee McWilliams, the 1967 Briscoe County Cancer Crusade Chairman.

Cotton Board Members Named

Officers and other members of the Cotton Board, which will administer a research and promotion program for upland cotton with the assistance of U.S.D.A.'s Consumer and Marketing Service, were announced recently.

Officers elected at the Board's first meeting were George C. Cartwright, Rolling Fork, Mississippi; J. Russell Kennedy, Bakersfield, California; Roy B. Davis of Lubbock; and Joe Fleming of Huntsville, Alabama.

Each cotton-producing state or designated combination of states is represented by at least one member on the Cotton Board, with additional representation determined by the state's average annual cotton production in 1961-1965 crop years. Initial members and alternates will serve terms expiring December 31, in 1968, 1969 or 1970.

The Cotton Board met early in March to organize, develop operating procedures, and begin planning designation of handlers to collect $1 per bale assessments, and collection and refund procedures. Assessments are expected to start at the beginning of the 1967 ginning season, around July 1, in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas. The program financed by these assessments is being developed to strengthen cotton's competitive position and expand its uses at home and abroad.

After eating with their guests, a ceremonial was held and honor beads were given with a special honor charm representing three years with Camp Fire.

Receiving the three-year charm were Donna Stodghill, Rhonda Sweek, Sue Lynn Allard, Melva Meason, Dorothy Yancey, Mary Stodghill and Linda Childress.

Several games were played and enjoyed by the more than 40 who attended.

Winners of the best-decorated boxes were Tammy Stephens, first; Karen Childress, second; Susan Northcutt, third; Robin Drewry, fourth, in Blue Birds. Group Two winners were Donna Stodghill, first; Ann Offield, second; Rhonda Sweek, third. The Junior High winners were Nancy Kiser, first; Linda Childress, second, and Annette Williams, third.

THE OPEN DOOR

"Behold, I have set before thee an open door . . ." Rev. 3:8
 by Rev. Clyde Cain
 This is Death

This is not death, but triumph and reward:
 To walk by faith through all life's little day
 And then, at eventide, to meet the Lord,
 And hand in hand with Him to go away.
 This is not death—this is abundant life,
 Eternal life, the freeing of the soul
 For bliss beyond earth's time of toil and strife.
 This is not death, but the immortal goal.

Mrs. Elma Massey of Tullia and
 But this is death: In trespasses and sin
 All through life's journey carelessly to roam;
 To find the Door—and never enter in;
 To see the Truth—and never take it home.
 Unmindful of the Christ, who draws each breath
 As though this world were final.
 This is death.

GOD AND THE MINORITY

Was the Comforter or Holy Spirit received by all? Jesus said, "I will pray the father and He shall give you another Comforter, that He may abide with you forever: even the Spirit of Truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth Him not, neither knoweth Him: But ye know Him, for he dwelleth with you and shall be in you." John 14:16-17. He dwells in one's body. I Cor. 3:16 and 6:19.

When the Holy Spirit came to the 120 (Acts 1:15) on the day of Pentecost the multitude (Acts 2:6) thought they were full of new wine, v. 13. So it is today. The Majority won't accept the manifestations of the spirit. They think it is foolishness and so it is but it is the foolishness of God. I Cor. 1:18-28.

Where does it say in Scripture that salvation isn't a real experience but a mere form? Where does it say that healing isn't for us today? Where does it say the Holy Ghost isn't for us today?

Look at the key verse of the Bible. Matt. 5:4. Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." Who are you to modify God's Word and twist it around to suit you belief? "O man, who art thou that repliest against God?" Rom. 9:20.

Look at the great commission (Matt. 28:19-20), a portion of which is teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you, etc. What did Jesus command? "Go preach, saying, the kingdom of heaven is at hand, Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers; raise the dead, cast out devils; freely ye have received, freely give." Matt. 10:7-8.

Read James 5:13-15 and see what it says to do if you are sick or afflicted. This comes under every word of Matt. 4:4 and under all of Matt. 28:20. Who is it for? Man. Matt. 4:4. That means you and me if we are children of God, because God is no respecter of persons. Acts 10:34.

Home Demonstration Agent

Our 4-H Food Show participants had a good showing Saturday at the District Food Show in Lubbock. They brought home four blue ribbons and four red ribbon awards. Each participant received a gift certificate for a Gladia product from the Fant Milling Company.

Those winning blue ribbons were Rhonda Sutton, Junior Bread and Cereal Group; Debbie Cantwell, Junior Meat Group; Cynthia Sutton, Senior Milk Group; and Christi Northcutt, Junior Fruit and Vegetable Group.

The red ribbon winners were Pat Jarrett, Senior Bread and Cereal Group; Kathy Self, Senior Fruit and Vegetable Group; Barbara Davis, Senior Meat Group; and Sharon Jarrett, Junior Milk Group. We are very pleased with our girls and feel that they were outstanding in the competitive groups. Our appreciation is extended to the fine work the 4-H Adult Foods Leaders did in teaching these girls.

A new Home Demonstration Club has organized with Mrs. Claude (Verna) Allison as president. They had their first regular meeting this week in Verna's home. I thoroughly enjoyed presenting an illustrated lecture on "Better Buymanishp in Fabrics and Ready-to-Wear," to this group. Their recreation chairman, Mrs. L. A. (Maude) McJinsey had a clever game that stumped most of us and brought lots of laughs and fun. Fellowship is one of the four-fold objectives of Home Demonstration Clubs. The other three are community improvement, education and leadership development.

The new club which voted to be called the Progressive Home Demonstration Club elected Mrs. Virgil Crow and Mrs. Glenn Smith as Council Delegates. The County Home Demonstration Council is organized to serve as a chain of communications between clubs in the county and also helps give continuity and unity of purpose to the program of work. The president and two elected delegates from each club are members of council as well as committee chairmen appointed by the Council chairman from club members throughout the county.

Council meets each first Thursday morning of the month in the P. C. A. community room at 9:30 a.m.

Thursday, April 13, is the date for the annual District THDA (Texas Home Demonstration Association) meeting. The Seury County Home Demonstration Club women are hostesses and the meeting will be in Snyder. Make your plans to attend the meeting. Call Mrs. Allen Kellum, County THDA Chairman, or the office (4271) for specific details. Several of us will be taking our cars, so if you can go but need transportation, just let us know. A very outstanding program is planned.

Our voting delegates for the meeting are Mrs. Allen Kellum and Mrs. Roy Mack Walker.

Several have indicated interest in more information on sewing techniques to give a professional finish to garments. Through the help of clothing leaders in the county, we have been able to schedule Mrs. Martha Schmidt, Fashion Representative with the David B. Carmel Co. of New York City, for a program demonstrating and illustrating the use of linings, interlinings and interfacings and the latest finishing techniques. She will give this presentation Thursday, April 20, in the school cafeteria at 2:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Texas Day Observed By Junior Study Club

L. O. A. Junior Study Club observed Texas Day with a safety program in the home of Mrs. Charles Sarchet Tuesday afternoon, April 4. The meeting was opened with the reading of the Collect, followed by the pledges of allegiance to both the American and Texas flags.

Mrs. Robert Haley Hill presented a program on "Why We Need State - Supported Driver's Education Teacher Pay" which included statistics on traffic accidents in the state. She pointed out that many more persons die in traffic accidents than die as a result of wars.

Joni Self brought a delegate's report on her trip to the Texas Youth Conference, which was sponsored by the Texas Law Enforcement and Youth Development Foundation last summer. The junior club helped pay Joni's expenses to the conference.

Mrs. Sarchet brought news from the Caprock District Convention and added general information about the club and federation for the benefit of visitors.

Mrs. Randall Eddleman presided over the business meeting, during which plans were discussed for the volleyball tournament to be sponsored by the club April 27-28-29.

It was decided to meet at 6:00 p.m. on April 18, in the P. C. A. community room to assist with the Cancer Crusade.

Mrs. Eddleman brought news from the junior conference held at the district convention, and the resolutions which were endorsed by the Caprock District Juniors. Discussion of attending the T.F.W.C. Convention in Dallas was also heard.

A table was decorated with one of the angels made by Mrs. F. E. Hutsell, decoration chairman for the district convention, and the certificates which the club won for first-place and sweepstakes in the pressbook division; first-place in yearbooks; first place for the club president's overall report, and first place in the Council of International Clubs department.

It was also mentioned that the club's Americanism Day program was the outstanding program reported in its department.

Mrs. J. E. Patton and Mrs. Sarchet served Cokes and cake to Mrs. Bill Durham, Mrs. Eddleman, Mrs. Leo Fleming, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Joe Kitchens, Mrs. John Schott, Mrs. Paul Williams, Miss Self and Mrs. Champ McGavock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud McMinn were in Amarillo Monday and visited Mrs. Melvin Watkins while there.

The 4-H Adult Clothing Leaders are meeting with the 4-H clothing project members this week to make plans and begin practice on the Clothing Educational Activities, which are a method demonstration or illustrated lecture on some phase of clothing. The 4-Hers will practice before their 4-H Club groups, the Home Demonstration clubs and others. They will be preparing for the county 4-H eliminations that will be held before the District Eliminations, Saturday, May 6, in Lubbock. Senior winners at District will attend 4-H Round-Up in June on the Texas A & M campus.

Try a few tangelos this week when you shop for fruit. Shoppers who bought them in the past liked them so well that growers were encouraged to plant large groves to meet the demand. Tangelos are a cross between a tangerine and a grapefruit. They are orange in color and peel like a tangerine. They have a sharp-sweet flavor.

who is thinking about future generations. She added, "In Austin today there are a lot of the former."

"We can no longer afford indifference to safety legislation," Mrs. Seay told the assemblage, "with 3,405 deaths on Texas highways in 1966—of which 700 involved teenagers. There were 207,000 injuries on Texas highways during the same period, at a cost of over $1 million to Texans. And 31.7 per cent of the fatal accidents during 1965 were caused by drivers between 15 and 24 years of age."

Pointing out that insurance companies assert automobile rates will be reduced if adequate safety legislation is passed by the state, Mrs. Seay urged club representatives to strongly support such legislation. She said instances were known of virtually sightless drivers being licensed to drive on the state's highways, and that a misdemeanor bill (No. 395) passed in 1965 gave intoxicated drivers the right to probationary periods, when numerous fatal accidents were caused by second-offender DWIs.

Emphasizing proposed new safety legislation will alter the minimum age for licensing drivers, and also requires frequent re-examination for drivers over 65, Mrs. Seay said, "If we need retraining, let us have it—accidents are rarely caused by mechanical failure, but by human error. Let us have legislation that will help eliminate some of that margin of error."

In discussing the war in Vietnam, Mrs. Seay said, "There is no promise now that this war will ever end—peace comes only after much loss of life, great holocausts and much sorrow, so we must continue to send our children to a war not of their making." Mrs. Seay is the mother of two servicemen.

In reference to unshaven, protesting picketers advocating peace at any price, the soft-spoken blonde president of the state federation told the women, "Ladies, they are allergic to soap and water more than anything else!"

"As long as communism and aggression continues, we must continue to stand on our democratic principles."

Mrs. Seay concluded her address by saying, "Community service each of us gives makes a

Mrs. Bill Durham, Pressbook Chairman for the L. O. A. Junior Study Club, displays her entry which won the first place and sweepstakes awards at the Caprock District Convention recently. Mrs. Leo Fleming, who assisted her in the preparation of the pressbook, looks on. The pressbook has been sent for judging on the state level.

Mrs. James Ross Alexander, Mrs. J. E. Patton, Jr., and Mrs. Randall Eddleman, members of the program committee, examine the blue ribbon on the L. O. A. Junior Study Club yearbook, which was awarded at the Caprock District Convention in Lubbock. Mrs. Eddleman's Club President's Report won first place as did the Council of International Clubs department report. The winning yearbook and first-place reports are now being judged by the state chairmen and their committees.

T. F. W. C. President Is Caprock District Convention Speaker

"We as women can contribute to humanity on the local level and then on the national level, banding together. Public affairs are private affairs to keep pace with a computer world that's heading for the moon," Mrs. B. F. Seay, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, told delegates at the seventh annual convention of Caprock District, held at the Pioneer Hotel in Lubbock March 27-28.

Speaking Tuesday at the noon luncheon in the hotel ballroom, Mrs. Seay's topic was "Quo Vadis?"

"We can no longer ignore the rising rate of juvenile delinquency

—the 100,000 illegitimate births per year to adolescent mothers, the $2.1 billion dollars spent on controlling and treating venereal disease in young people, the fact that 53.9 per cent of the known cases of venereal disease is among teenagers—when one in 15 syphilitics become heart patients, one in 25 are permanently crippled, one in 50 become insane, and one in 100 are blinded.

"Sex education is not the responsibility of the church or the school, but if parents ignore it, it must become so," Mrs. Seay continued, saying, "We cannot allow a hush-hush attitude about this—if sex education cannot be given in the home, we must go about educating school officials in how to teach it in the schools.

"Women, as effective molders of public opinion, have a heavy responsibility to study and to understand and to search the souls for solutions to problems of today. It is our duty to study issues and candidates and to vote, although we, as women, need to refrain from criticizing those in government, for we put them there, either with our votes or because of our negligence in not voting."

Urging the group to contemplation of political issues and participation in voting, Mrs. Seay advised women to select "first-class statesmen rather than third-rate politicians" as governing officials. She described a politician as one who is thinking about the next election and a statesman as one

Words of Wisdom

An Answer for Teenagers
 by Verna Hildebrand

"But, Mom, everyone does. Why can't I?" pleaded thirteen-year-old Kathy. What parents haven't heard similar pleas from their teenagers? How do you cope with them?
 As parents, we have several deep concerns, when our children reach the age to begin leaving the nest. We want to give them enough independence, but not too much. There's no magic formula. Each family must cope with the problems in whatever way seems best for its special circumstances.
 However, in a number of communities parents have decided to challenge the "everybody's doing it" plea. In town-meeting type get-togethers parents are talking over the rules they want their teenagers to live by. They are asking: What is it that the youth of certain ages should be doing? What freedoms should they have? What restrictions?

The guidelines established by such town meetings cannot supplant the family values. Parents must still say "Yes" or "No" to children's pleas, depending on their view of the appropriateness of the request for their child. They may be helped by knowing the general feeling of other parents in their community.
 Through such meetings, school officials can learn the parents' feelings about after-school and night activities. Officials can communicate with parents concerning the goals of the school and can advise the parents how they can help achieve these goals.

In some cases teenagers can factually show that "there is nothing to do in this town." By organizing a "teen town" as the teen recreation center is sometimes called, the community can provide a place for teenagers to congregate for wholesome recreation. There are several advantages of such a center. It is safer because a local center eliminates the need for driving long distances for entertainment. It is far less expensive than commercial entertainment. The teenagers have the experience of setting up the organization of their "teen town," of establishing the rules by which it will be governed, and of participating in activities that are of their own planning.

A teen center may include a place to eat and activities such as movies, record listening, games, social dancing, folk dancing, etc. Swimming or skating parties, hayrides, and picnics may also be sponsored.

The "turbulent teens" may be more responsible and less frustrating to parents in communities where all groups work together to give these young men and women opportunities for development under wise leadership.

Spring Has Sprung

by Vicky Vaughan

Look out the window nearest you. What do you see? A dry stretch of yellow grass, bare skeletons of desolate trees, perhaps tangled undergrowth, as yet not cleared away from last fall.

But look closer. There are tender shoots of green in that dry yellow grass. Tiny buds cling to the limbs of those trees. Pick up that undergrowth and there nestles a blanket of tiny flowers trying so hard to grow through the heavy mass of death.

You wake up one morning and suddenly you feel winter and alive. You forget your "winter wistfulness." You want to wear something light, cheery, Springy.

Yes, if you try just a little harder, you, too, can feel that "spring has sprung."

A thing called spring - fever takes over, invading classrooms, affecting teachers and students alike. No one escapes. The symptoms are always the same: drowsiness, accompanied by a sudden awareness of someone new, usually of the opposite gender. The drowsiness always occurs between the hours of 8:30 and 3:30, but sharply declines thereafter.

We might as well face it. The inevitable has happened. Spring HAS Sprung.

Future Homemakers of America

Over 72,000 Future Homemakers of Texas will see this birthday greeting on outdoor billboards across the State of Texas during the week, April 2 to 8, 1967. This salute to National FHA Week is sponsored by the Future Homemakers of America, Texas Association, and the rural electric systems of Texas. The Outdoor Advertising Companies of the State are donating the sign space for the showing.
