All Around the Town
by Mary Ann Sarchet

(Fifth in a series of articles commemorating the 75th anniversary of the organization of Silvertown and Briscoe County)

Homes of the Early Settlers
The homes of the earliest settlers were nearly all one-half dugouts. They were small, but warm and comfortable. The cavity was made about three feet and a wall was then built up about three feet more. The inside wall was made of cedar logs and plastered with white mud. This made the place clean, safe and very nice looking. The outside was built up around the logs with rocks that were also plastered together. Either a glass window or a wooden shutter was put in each side of the room. The roof was made in a triangle and three huge red cedar logs were placed as beams going lengthways with the room. Across them were placed, side by side, pole after pole which was covered with dirt. The abode probably had only one door and if it were built along a ledge, the back went into the earth and the front opened so one could almost walk straight in. In most cases, however, there were steps going down. This made it necessary to have a little roof projection or a door like a cellar. Many of the dugouts had cook stoves and all used buffalo chips for fuel.

Most of the beds were made of cedar posts. The mattresses were made of gunny sacks stuffed with dry grass. When the grass became broken and packed, the ticks were emptied and refilled with new grass.

Most of the women wore cotton checks in the summer and lincey dresses in the winter. The men wore jeans. Most of the mothers made the children's shoes out of the tops of wornout boots and shoes belonging to the older members of the family. Sometimes the soles were cut from the only available leather and the tops were made from the heavy jeans pants.

There was always room for company. The families had bedrolls which they used in case of company and the old saying seemed true, "There's always room for one more."

Entertainment was scarce, but people were happy and enjoyed one another immensely. Once each year the F Ranch gave a big dance. The families came from miles around in their wagons. They had the table laden with food and the couples ambled in to eat two or three times before the night passed.

By 1890, settlers were swarming into this area. The official business was handled in a neighboring county or in the county where the surveyors lived. A few houses sprang up here and there and almost everyone had dug wells. The dugout, though, reigned supreme for several years to come.

When a person died out in camp or on the trail, he was rolled in his bedroll and deposited as reverently as could be expected when one person was handling the situation.

In the settlements a coffin was made from wagon beds or any available plant. By 1905, they made the caskets from lumber and lined and covered them with black calico. A death wasn't questioned regardless of why, when or where it occurred.

By 1898, the population had increased considerably. Horses were more numerous; windmills were set up. People were growing gardens and stowing food for winter. Potatoes, turnips, pumpkins and cabbages were killed. The people soon learned that watermelons, pumpkins and cabbages kept under ricks of feed not only kept perfectly but acquired a delicious taste. Some orchards were put out and those who had them always had fruit. When cold spells came, they smudged with mesquite roots.

Camp meetings were held, lasting for several days, and the people brought food cooked and to cook, their bedrolls and clothes enough for the occasion. Big picnics were one of the best means of entertainment. Dance platforms were built, lemonade stands and other side amusements were in vogue at the picnics. (This was another means of making extra dollars.) Dances were given more often; the music was from a fiddle, and the whole family attended.

City Council Hears Water Project Report

The Silvertown City Council met in regular session Monday night with Mayor Jimmie House, Councilmen Jack Strange, Carl Bomar, H. A. Cagle, Troy Jones, Manley Wood and City Secretary Jerry Patton present.

The group voted to extend Milton Dudley's term on the Mackenzie Water Board for two more years. Mayor House gave a report on the Mackenzie Water Board meeting which was held in Floydada Friday night. He told the group about the methods for financing the project which have been suggested. The Council decided that the method they prefer to use is the number one plan, which calls for the sale of water at 30¢ per 1000 gallons and a 65¢ tax rate at 90% collection (including costs of assessing and collecting), based on an estimated assessed valuation of $37,500,000, which is the estimated valuation of all the towns in the project, calculated at 50% of actual value. Mayor House pointed out that all four towns, Tulia, Silvertown, Floydada and Lockney, will have to agree on the same method of financing.

Jack Strange and Carl Bomar were sworn in as the result of the recent election.

The Council voted to accept bids on a new trash truck to replace the 1958 model which is presently in use by the City.

The Council adjourned to meet with the County Commissioners and the Quitaque City Council to form a Civil Defense Program in the county.

The County Judge will head the Civil Defense organization with the two city secretaries, James Brunson and Jerry Patton, as his assistants. These three are to attend a Civil Defense school in Amarillo next week, and hope to learn how to go about setting up the remainder of the organization.

Grosdidier Resigns As County Agent

Leon Grosdidier has announced his resignation as Briscoe County Agricultural Extension Agent effective April 15.

He has accepted a position with the Lindsey-Funk Seed Company at Lubbock, and will be working as a district manager and in public relations.

Mrs. Grosdidier and the children, Andre', Rene', Dene', and Denise, plan to stay here until school is out, at which time they will join Mr. Grosdidier.

The Grosdidier family has lived in Silvertown for four years.

The Commissioners Court received the resignation Monday morning, and is presently working with Bill Gunter, Agricultural Extension District Agent in Lubbock, to find Briscoe County a new Extension Agent.

Monkees At Drive-In This Weekend

"Monkees Go Home" will be showing at the Arena Drive In Theatre Friday and Saturday, April 14-15.

Tuesday Will Be Cancer Crusade Day In Silvertown

Some fifty volunteers in Briscoe County will join with more than two million fellow volunteers across the nation on Tuesday evening, April 18, in launching a new attack on cancer.

Volunteers are asked to meet at the P. C. A. community room between 6:00 and 7:00 p.m. to receive their assignments and materials. Routes will be assigned as the workers arrive and each team can start working. Sandwiches will be served in the community room following the Crusade. Hostesses for the after-Crusade party will be members of L. O. A. Junior Study Club.

Locally and nationally, according to Mrs. Dee McWilliams, 1967 Crusade Chairman for the Briscoe County Unit of the American Cancer Society, the attack promises to be the largest ever undertaken against the second most fatal disease in the United States. The A. C. S. begins its annual educational and fund-raising Crusade with the start of Cancer Control Month as designated by President Johnson.

In Quitaque and Silvertown more volunteers will go into action than in the 1966 Crusade last April. Mrs. McWilliams said reports from the national headquarters of the American Cancer Society indicate similar gains throughout the country.

"The build-up for this year's attack on cancer demonstrates the growing public awareness of the urgency of the problem," she said. "We have a strong organization, an enthusiastic and determined group of volunteers."

"Members of the Silvertown Young Homemakers and L. O. A. Junior Study Club are assisting the Crusade along with other volunteers."

"I believe records will be established this year. More people will be reached than ever before with life-saving educational material. More funds will be raised—funds greatly needed for expanded research, education and service."

Mrs. McWilliams cited funds for research as one of the most urgent needs.

"Great progress has been made," she continued. "Intensified research promises new advances. Yet in the face of this, the Society has been in the position of having to turn its back on research projects that cry for support."

This year's Cancer Society volunteers will not only be leaving leaflets containing the seven warning signals but will also be asking residents to fill in the answers on a questionnaire to be mailed in an envelope provided. The district offices across the state will be receiving the completed questionnaires and tabulating the answers to determine the educational needs in Texas. An attempt will be made to determine how many people smoke, what ages they are and how many have quit smoking in the past year. Information will also be requested on frequency of health check-ups.

In urging the people of Briscoe County to support the work of the volunteers, Mrs. McWilliams recalled Abraham Lincoln's precept that it is man's duty to improve not only his own condition but that of mankind.

"If we act accordingly," Mrs. McWilliams said, "we can be nearer the conquest of cancer than most of us dare to think."

If you would like to volunteer to assist with your local Cancer Crusade on April 18, please contact Bill Griffin in Quitaque or Mrs. Dee McWilliams or Mrs. Randall Eddleman in Silvertown.

L. E. Davis Critically Burned In Accident

L. E. Davis continued to be listed in critical condition in the intensive care unit of Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo Wednesday following an accident at about 4:30 p.m. Monday.

According to reports, Davis had finished drilling a test hole on Mrs. Lois Thomas' farm about ten miles southwest of Silvertown and was taking his rig down when it came into contact with high voltage wires and Davis, operating the hydraulic controls behind the truck, was frozen to the truck.

An employee, Louis Grabbe, who reportedly also received a shock in the accident, grabbed a wooden handled shovel and prized Davis away from the truck and revived him with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Davis was taken to Swisher Memorial Hospital by ambulance and transferred to the Amarillo hospital.

He suffered very serious burns on his feet, hands, stomach and shoulder.

Several committees are formulating plans for a foreign dish luncheon in May, which is National Home Demonstration Month. One of the recommendations the clubs are working on this year is to have a better understanding of people in other countries. In connection with the foods from other lands they are planning a program to carry out this recommendation.

characteristics? The Bible refers to the hands more than to any other part of the body. The word is found many times in both the Old and New Testament. Just imagine how wonderful Jesus' hands were as He went about healing the sick and blind. His pair of hands help teach the simple truths of God's universe. They labored for the Kingdom of God. Remember how Thomas did not believe until he touched the Master's hands and side? The praying hands of Moses were uplifted to God to bring victory over the people of Israel. Pilot washed his hands to proclaim that he was innocent of the blood of Jesus. The hands of Jesus are mentioned forty-five times in the gospels.

Study your hands and see if yours can be of service to God. God's love is looking everywhere for hands to use.

George Washington said, "True religion affords government its surest support. The perpetuity of this nation depends upon the religious trend of the youth. It is impossible to govern the world without the Bible."

GOD AND THE MINORITY

The Baptism in the Spirit (Matt. 3:11) is for us too. Acts. 2:39. All of those that are afar off includes you and me if we are called. For what are people called? Rom. 1:7, called to be saints. When the Spirit comes in to dwell, He endues one with power for service. Acts 1:8. Invariably the Spirit will speak for Himself through you just as He did in Acts 2:4 and 10:46. Just a few believe in the above, but it is still God and the Minority.

I Cor. 14:21 says, "With men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people and yet for all of that will they not hear me saith the Lord." A few people do—God and the Minority. Few people believe that God speaks to His children today, but He does—giving a message in tongues and then giving us the interpretation thereof thus edifying the church. This is merely one way God speaks. These messages are of warning of the wrath that is soon to befall the world; messages of comfort and encouragement to God's children, to look up because their redemption draweth nigh; that Jesus is coming soon, and anything else that God sees fit to relate to His children.

Many people through ignorance and unbelief say this is all of the devil, but if it is he has been converted and is warning people to flee the wrath soon to come and to look for the Lord's soon return.

How many churches teach a heartfelt religion? How many teach divine healing? How many teach the baptism in the Spirit according to the Bible pattern? How many teach the soon coming of the Lord? Just one out of eight or ten. See, it is still God and the Minority.

The members voted to call the club the Progressive Home Demonstration Club. The program was "Better BuymanShip in Fabrics and Ready-to-wear" given by Mrs. Becky Hall, Home Demonstration Agent.

Pointers were given on reading and observing all tags on garments as to the contents of fabric and instructions on care of garments.

Mrs. Maude McJmsey, recreation chairman, led the group in games.

The club now has seven members and several prospects who will be welcome to attend the next meeting with Eudene Crow on the first Monday in May at 2:30 p.m.

Son Of Former Resident Receives Silver Star

First Lt. Dennis L. Graham was recently the recipient of the Silver Star, the nation's third highest combat award, recently for demonstrating gallantry while participating in aerial flight in Southeast Asia.

Lt. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clemmons Graham of Greensburg, Kansas, distinguished himself by gallantry in connection with military operations against an opposing armed force on September 7, 1966. On that date, Lt. Graham was providing flak suppression for the other members of his flight who were striking a key bridge as an important line of communication. With complete disregard for his safety, Lt. Graham struck a surface-to-air missile site resulting in complete destruction of an important defense. This attack allowed the other members of the flight to safely strike and egress the target area.

Lt. Graham was also presented the Distinguished Flying Cross for extraordinary achievement on September 4, 1966. On that date, he was a member of a flight of four aircraft that were to strike an important target. Under extremely hazardous conditions, including hostile ground fire and three surface-to-air missiles, Lt. Graham's flight inflicted heavy damage to the target and successfully egressed from the area with

Foreign Exchange Student Is Guest Of L. O. A. Junior Study Club

Miss Maria Christina Tambucho-Ribas of Salto, Uruguay, who refers to be known in Texas as Chris Tambucho, was a guest of the L. O. A. Junior Study Club Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Tambucho answered questions club members had about her home country and described home and family life, schools, and other elements of interest in Uruguay. The daughter of a professional photographer, Miss Tambucho is a native of Argentina, and her home had housed an American girl in Uruguay under the American Field Service program prior to her coming to live for a year in Tulia. One of the greatest desires of her life was to see snow, and for this reason she had hoped to live further north. Tulia has had little snow this season, and since Miss Tambucho, like other Tulias has been caught up in the excitement of following the basketball team to the state tournament, she missed what snow Tulia did have.

"You don't know how I felt when our plane arrived in Miami, Florida," she told the junior clubwomen. "All my life my parents or brothers had accompanied me everywhere I had gone. Then all of a sudden, there I was in Miami, six hours from home, in a great hotel, with every decision my own to make. We could go out alone if we wished, and had the full responsibility for all our actions. I lost my suitcase and had lots of trouble before I got here."

She went on to say that five girls from South American countries went sightseeing in Miami, and having lost their directions, called a cab to take them back to the International Hotel. "We were not very far from the hotel," she related, "but the driver charged us $5.00 each —$25.00— for the ride back to the hotel. In one of the Central American countries we were very thirsty, and in order to get a glass of water at the air terminal had to buy a sandwich and Coke. They charged us $7.00 for this, and we weren't even really hungry! I've learned a lot now, and I'd never pay $7.00 for a sandwich again."

Items imported from the United States into Uruguay are very expensive, and she said that her sorrow was that she could not take a car home with her. "In our country your automobiles would cost about the equivalent of 30,000 American dollars!" she said. "On our way here, we saw cigarettes for sale in Panama for $1.00 a carton; here they are about $4.00 a carton. At home they are about $8.00 a carton."

Miss Tambucho had studied five languages before coming to Texas, but her native language is Spanish. The universities in Uruguay are specialized, and if a student desires to enter a university he must complete the first 12 years, similar to the system in this country, then take two years of special studies in order to pass the exams to qualify for admission to a university. She hopes to attend a medical university and would like to be a heart specialist. Her older brother is a student in a medical university, and is studying the body's nervous system.

Schools in Uruguay are open from 8:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon, at which time families are expected to gather for lunch at home. School takes up again at 2:30 in the afternoon and continues until 7:00 p.m. Supper is usually about 9:00 p.m., Miss Tambucho said, and therefore evening activities always take place at a very late hour.

The boys and girls don't date like they do in the United States, but groups of boys and girls go places together. A girl would not more think of ruining her reputation by going out alone with a boy than she would think of smoking or getting drunk. "It just isn't considered feminine," she said. The boys and girls do go places together, always in groups. Even though wine is drunk with meals, she said it is of low alcoholic content, and since it is so commonly partaken, no one ever drinks in excess or becomes drunk.

Girls in Uruguay have "coming out" parties when they are 15, at which time they are accepted into the grown-up world. They have the right to vote at 18 and there is no compulsory military service for boys. The country has only a small army and the function of the army is mostly to add color to parades, she said.

No one is expected to do their own housework, she added, because there are so many people who want to work as maids and cooks just to have a roof over their heads and regular meals. "You should have seen me learning to make my own bed after I got to Tulia," she laughed. "The bed was such a mess I could hardly sleep in it. I've learned to do it now, but I won't do it when I go home."

The thing she will miss most when she goes home, she said, will be "learning all over again to walk places instead of riding in the car."

Strawberry cheesecake and Cokes were served by Mrs. Bill Durham to Miss Tambucho, Mrs. James Ross Alexander, Mrs. Randall Eddleman, Mrs. Joe Kitchens, Mrs. J. E. Patton, Mrs. Charles Sarchet and Mrs. John Schott.

During the business meeting, club members voted to donate $10.00 for the purchase of books for the public library on the occasion of the silver tea sponsored by the March of Time Study Club. Other projects were also discussed.

Members voted to change the date of the tour to the Panhandle-Plains Museum to Saturday, May 13. The hour of departure, etc. will remain the same.

Club members are to meet at 6:00 or 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 18, at the P. C. A. community room, to assist the Cancer Crusade. Mrs. Robert Haley Hill is to contact members about refreshments.

Mrs. Edwin Crass was in Plainview Monday and visited J. C. (Dock) Burleson of Matador and Mrs. Farris Martin, patients in the Plainview Hospital.

Travis McMinn, a coach in the Plainview schools, attended a track meet in Hereford Saturday. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud McMinn, accompanied him to Hereford and spent the day with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John Hacker. They enjoyed supper in Tulia.

Rev. and Mrs. Ronald Ledbetter and children of Arnett, Oklahoma, spent Wednesday night and Thursday with relatives here. They visited his mother, Mrs. J. Paul Ledbetter, at Swisher Memorial Hospital and spent the night with Paul Ledbetter. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunt.

Graduation Gift Suggestion

While you are pondering the prospect of filling your graduation gift list, may we make a suggestion?

Most of the boys and girls will either be attending school or seeking employment away from home or establishing a home of their own soon after their high school graduation. We are offering a special rate on a "school subscription" for nine months to begin when the student chooses and to be sent where he tells us for $2.00.

If you would like to send a gift subscription, we will mail a card notifying the graduate of your gift and asking him to give us his address when he is ready for the subscription to begin.

LONG'S PHILOSOPHY

Everytime about this time of year, millions of individuals come in contact with the world-wide disease known as Spring Fever. This is a very contagious disease. It spreads throughout the land, bringing millions of innocent people into its monstrous grip.

The symptoms of this disease are very noticeable. The person who has it will first start to yawn a lot. He will yawn so much that pretty soon his mouth will start to grow into the shape of a yawn. He will feel as if he can't make it through the day without taking a nap. Many times he will have to slap himself to keep from going to sleep. During the sleepy stage, the individual will develop dark, heavy rings around his eyes. He will go around slump-shouldered and not pay much attention to anyone or anything. The third and last symptom of this horrid disease, is laziness. The individual will not want to do anything. He doesn't want to work, play, or even relax. He gets so lazy that it is a chore to bring the food from his plate to his mouth. After the third symptom, there is not much hope for the individual. He is a goner.

Is there any hope for this terrible disease? Science has not found the cure for this disease as yet, but they have found certain remedies to help ease the pain of the disease. First, the scientists recommend WORK! They say that in a very few cases, this remedy cured the cases completely. Another remedy is to throw the sick individual into a room and hope that the disease will soon go away. Very few cases have been cured this way.

As you can see, Spring Fever is a serious subject. Maybe through years and years of fighting, man can overcome this menace. Maybe one day a man can take a stand in this world without the fear of catching this disease that drains the life out of him.

CHEERLEADERS, OFFICERS

CHOSEN BY PEP SQUAD

Cheerleaders and officers were elected for next year at the Pep Squad meeting Friday, April 7.

Trying out for cheerleaders were Lanis Davis, Evelyn Wood, Debbie Bomar, Rhonda Dickerson and Vici Jasper, freshmen; Roy Dale Garrison, Cathy Jones, sophomores; Ginger Martin, Carol Ann Montague, juniors; Nancy Long, Debbie Dickerson, seniors. Each girl had to do a group yell and an individual yell.

Debbie Dickerson was elected to be head cheerleader. Others chosen were Nancy Long, Ginger Martin, Cathy Jones and Rhonda Dickerson.

It was voted at this meeting to have three parliamentarians next year instead of the usual two. They will be Mary Lane Whitfill, Paula Birdwell and Carol Ann Montague.

At a meeting earlier last week, Jane Self was elected to serve as president of the Pep Squad next year. Other officers will be Diana Strange, vice - president; Venita Teeple, secretary; and Roy Ann Bomar, treasurer.

Student Council Elections Results

During the past week, the halls of Silvertown High School have been covered with campaign posters of the candidates nominated for offices in the Student Council. Each class nominated a candidate for each of the four offices—President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer.

For the office of Treasurer, Nicky Long, Janet Montague, Carron Montague and Venita Teeple, were nominated. The first ballot resulted in a three-way run-off between Nicky Long, Venita Teeple and Carron Montague. Another run-off was required between Nicky Long and Venita Teeple. Venita was elected to the office.

For the office of Secretary, Lanis Davis, Juannah Nance and Debbie Dickerson were nominated. The first ballot resulted in a run-off between Juannah and Debbie. Juannah was elected Secretary.

For the office of Vice-President, Donald Weast, Paul Ray McWilliams and Roy Dale Wood were nominated. The first ballot resulted in a run-off between Roy and Paul Ray. Roy Dale was elected. Lynn Frizzell was nominated for the office of President by all four classes. Lynn had no opponent, and therefore became President of the Student Council for 1967-1968 by acclamation.

AMERICAN HERITAGE CONTEST

WINNERS ARE ANNOUNCED HERE

Approximately fifty papers were submitted in the American Heritage contest which is sponsored annually by Wayland Baptist College of Plainview. After due consideration and much deliberation, the winners have been chosen.

The first place winner was Vicki Vaughan, a junior, with her essay, "The Rights and Responsibilities of a Student." Vicki was the first place winner of the contest last year. For her place essay, Vicki will receive a cash award of ten dollars.

The second place winner was George Masey, also a junior, with his essay, "Rights and Responsibilities." George will receive five dollars for his efforts.

Third place went to a sophomore, Crockett Grabbe, for his "Rights and Responsibilities" essay. Three dollars will be Crockett's award.

Pat Grabbe, another junior, was fourth place winner with her essay, "The Causes of the American Revolution." Pat will receive two dollars.

All four winners will be honored at a banquet at Wayland Baptist College later in the spring. As a result of Silvertown High School's participation in the American Heritage Program, the high school library will receive approximately one hundred dollars worth of badly needed books.

★ ★ ★ The Rights and Responsibilities Of a Student

by Vicky Vaughan
Have you, as a student in a small, average high school, ever given proper consideration to the rights that you have within school property, or to the responsibilities you have because of these rights? No? That's not unusual, most of us haven't. In fact, few adults ever even give much thought to their own rights and responsibilities in life.

What is the most important right the people, especially the teenagers, of our country enjoy? The right to attend excellent schools and universities made available to us. Without this opportunity other rights and privileges would be meaningless. We would not have the knowledge to have acquired these rights, or, if we had them, to make use of them.

Our elementary schools and our high schools help to prepare us for the time when we will be the leaders of our country; the ones to decide what additional rights we are ready for; the ones to help build our nation, our world, into a better place to live—or to destroy it entirely.

"The fate of our future lies in the hands of our youth." How many times have you heard this familiar quote? How much have you thought about it? What does it mean? It means, fellow students, that if we do not care what happens to us or to our fellow

The Genuine - Accept No Substitutes.

DEAR MEDUSA,
This problem may not seem bad to you, but it is to me. You see, some of my close friends have this habit of going through my notebook, purse, and other things. I don't know how to tell them I don't like it. Some of them think that anything they like, they can take, not telling me and hope that I don't find out.
What am I going to do? I would like to find a kind way of saying: Mind YOUR Own Business!
Signed,
Help
Dear Help,
There is a handy little device that you can obtain in any Army Surplus Store. It is called a hand grenade. With just a little time and wiring, you can rig your purse into a nice little booby trap. You might have to sacrifice a purse, but you will never have to worry about your "close" friends again. And to top it off, you won't even have to tell them to mind their own business!

DEAR MEDUSA,
Recently I heard about a new club that had been formed in S. H. S. It has been rumored that (this club is called the F. F. & W. Club. The minute I heard the name I knew I had to become a member. But then I found that this is a highly secretive club. This makes me want to join all the more.
I hired a detective to find out all he could about the club. He discovered that the club is highly active on Sunday nights after church, but is also heard from at other times. Also the members of this club are notorious for doing dumb things. In fact, some of the dumbest things imaginable (would you believe ghost watching). I am very interested in this club. Would you please find out how I can join.
Despairing
Dear Despairing,
I have looked into this club and found out some very surprising facts. In fact, I'm so amazed I'm not going to print the facts until I find out more. The club seems to accept only the best of people into its close-knit membership. It would be very difficult for you to get in. But this is truly a club on the go. From this group—you'll be hearing.

How Will They Spend It?

A new emphasis has been added to one of the oldest programs for 4-H Club members. The 45-year-old national 4-H Home Economics program this year features consumer education, according to the National 4-H Service Committee.

The reason for introducing the consumer section in the program is because of the need for more guidance in this field in view of the tremendous buying power of American teenagers, a committee spokesman says.

By 1970 teenagers will spend from $21 to $30 billion. This compares to $11 billion spent in 1963.

In less than three years, it is estimated that more than one-fifth of the total U.S. population will be between 10 and 19 years of age. The purchasing power of this young generation will exceed anything in the past.

Today approximately 1.3 million 4-H youths are engaged in home economics projects involving some purchasing. Most of the members are girls, but with the emphasis on consumer education 4-H leaders expect more boys to participate.

Their reasoning is that boys buy clothing, grooming aids, food, furnishings for their rooms, record players, records, televisions and radios.

Girl members buy the same things plus small appliances, sewing and interior decoration items. The importance of being an informed shopper is further underscored by the fact that today's teens will suddenly become tomorrow's homemakers.

Club members who highlight consumer emphasis in their projects will be rewarded by Montgomery Ward, the program sponsor.

Awards are six national $500 scholarships, a trip to the National Club Congress in Chicago for the state winner, and honor medals for four top members in the county. Winners are named by the Cooperative Extension Services which directs all 4-H programs.

To help 4-H leaders and members carry out program goals, the National 4-H Service Committee has published a brochure entitled "4-H Home Economics with Emphasis on Consumer Education."

This educational aid will show 4-H girls and boys, who contribute a sizeable sum to the nation's economy, how they can get the most for their dollars.

Among things to do are (1) become familiar with stores in the community (2) examine quality of merchandise and services (3) check brands, labels, utility (4) compare impulse buying versus planned buying. The young consumers also are urged to study ads, take advantage of seasonal sales, and learn about cash, credit and installment buying.

Buy Bonds where you work.

They work in Vietnam—for freedom. They're helping to pay the bill for freedom, too. Like many of our servicemen overseas, they're investing in U.S. Savings Bonds. Bonds are a good deal. A good way to save up for college . . . or for a home . . . or just for a future that's free and worth having. There's a good way to show these men you're on their side. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds where you bank, or join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. You'll walk a bit taller.
