OUR NEWS IS IMPORTANT! The news about what you and your family are doing is an important part of your local newspaper.

Adversity affects people in different ways. When some people meet adversity, they react with gritting of teeth, new resolve, and new determination that nothing will prevent them from reaching their goal.

Anyone can be a tiger when things are going his way, but it takes something more when the road becomes steeper and narrower. Some people have determination when they start toward their goal, but taking a few hard knocks when adversity presents stumbling blocks causes them to take a few backward steps.

When an unchangeable force meets an immovable object, the deciding factors have to be strength, willpower and determination. The one with the more powerful desire will remain when the dust has cleared.

"Adversity causes some men to break; others to break records"—William Arthur Ward

If you train yourself to be a good competitor in the game of life, the chances are very good that you will succeed in capturing crowns of achievement in many fields of endeavor. The competitive spark inside a person when the situation seems hopeless is the difference between success and failure, victory and defeat.

Recently I read an article about a jet pilot who dreamed of becoming an astronaut. When he might have been nearing this goal, an accident destroyed his physical perfection, which has always been considered a prerequisite for astronaut candidates.

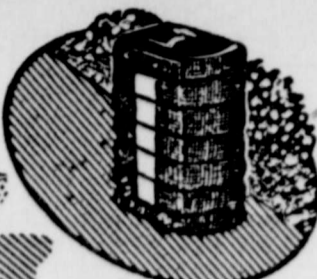

Encased in a body cast, with one leg amputated and the other crushed and to be removed six inches below the knee, he vowed from the wire stretcher on which he lay, "I'm going to be a navy astronaut."

On returning to health, he knew his only hope was to prove that he was as physically fit and capable of flying as any jet pilot in the navy. Even this would be hopeless unless he could prove it dramatically enough to topple navy regulations. He rode his bicycle, stood inspection, marched in review and played touch football. He volunteered for the navy water-survival test and fully clothed, extricated himself from the cockpit mock-up of a plane plunged into an icy pool 15 minutes faster than the average navy man or marine. He escaped from a parachute harness as he was dragged under water and even "rescued" a fellow pilot who had him in a stranglehold.

He completed the navy frogman's course, climbing a 35-foot net and scaling a wall. He went water skiing and dancing aboard ship. He parachuted from a plane, stopping only long enough to straighten one of his artificial feet after his landing, he climbed hand over hand up a rope, bounced on a trampoline, swung on parallel bars and plowed through a difficult obstacle course. He gave exhibitions of flawless flying in exact formation and made a series of pinpoint landings on the cruising aircraft carrier "Lexington."

He was the first double amputee in the history of U. S. military aviation to continue flying. He has had to prove himself over and over again in order to be considered as a candidate for the corps of astronauts. However, when the list of prospective candidates was submitted to NASA several months ago, his name was included. What a personal victory for Lieutenant Commander Frank K. Ellis, whose philosophy is that "to surrender in the face of adversity is to deny life itself."

How can any of us be satisfied with less than our best?

Owls Play Hard, Lose To McLean

another editorial opinion by Mary Ann Sarchet

The big red fighting Owls of Silverton High School made a tremendous effort against the McLean Tigers here Friday night, and had it not been for a couple of bad breaks early in the game, the Owls might have put an upset into the record books. Two early touchdowns, when the Owls were getting the feel of the game and building their confidence in their new quarterback, spelled the difference between the two teams, as the Tigers took a 20-8 win.

Lannie Arnold, who had been doing a fine job of quarterbacking the Owls and had been making some outstanding runbacks on kickoffs and punts this season, was unable to play Friday night due to the neck injury he received the previous week. His position was filled admirably by Mike Tate and Donald West Friday night. Tate did a very smooth, commendable job of carrying out the plays, and West filled Arnold's punting shoes. West is a good kicker, and got all the punts away with good averages on all of them.

McLean kicked off to the Owls, but after three plays the locals still needed about three yards for a first down, and punted to the Tigers. McLean's 00, Earnest Smith, found a clear path to the goal and carried 70 yards to put the Tigers on the scoreboard when the game was only about two minutes old. Tiger Quarterback Jim Hester laterally to Thacker Haynes, who carried the extra points.

The second McLean touchdown came about six minutes into the first quarter on a drive that used just five plays to carry from their own 30-yard line into the Owl end zone. Old 00, Earnest Smith, carried his second touchdown of the evening from 20 yards out, and the run for extra points failed.

In the second period, McLean's 00 pounced on an Owl fumble, and came from under the heap with an injury that was thought to be a broken collarbone. Another McLean player, Freshman Tackle Ricky Evans, received a knee injury.

Highlights of the first half for Silverton fans were on a play by McLean from their own 45-yard line when the Tiger ballcarrier was off and running in the clear for a touchdown, and Dale Sinsney turned on more speed than we suspect even he knew he had and overtook the play on the Silverton 15. This was one of Sinsney's better games, with the big Owl tackle showing the determination it takes to play football. Encouraged by saving the touchdown, the Owls set the Tigers for a four-yard loss on the next play, and on second down the McLean quarterback hefted a deep pass which was intercepted by Lynn Frizzell near the goal line and carried out to about the Owl-8. Frizzell, like Sinsney, showed new qualities of a football player Friday night, on pass defense (one of which was a little too close), and in defensive groundwork. Frizzell has turned in some sparkling offense this year, but we thought this might have been his best defensive effort of the season.

Owls Travel To Clarendon Friday

The Owls travel to Clarendon Friday to meet the Bronchos in their last road game of the season. Clarendon has declared its contention for the District 2-A crown this season, and has won all conference games thus far. Some of Clarendon's wins have been by small margin, their having dropped the McLean Tigers late in the fourth quarter with a field goal to win 9-8.

Clarendon's team-power was reduced last August when two returning lettermen died in an automobile accident and when their coach was transferred from the coaching staff into school administration. However, the team apparently has dedicated the season in memory of their departed teammates, and have been a tough competitor.

The Owls will be trying for a district win. A conference victory would do more for the spirit and moral of Silverton's team than a loss would hurt the Broncho record at this point in the season. The team needs all the support fans can muster, and as many followers to Clarendon as can possibly go. They will play harder if they know lots of fans have confidence in them.

Rare October Snow Accompanies Rain

The Silverton area got its first real blast of winter Tuesday and one of the earliest snowstorms many residents can recall. Halloween goblins tramped through a snow accumulation of approximately two inches to "trick or treat" Tuesday night.

Official weather instruments here measured .16 of an inch of moisture on Sunday and another .27 of an inch in rain and snow on Tuesday. Other unofficial moisture reports showed as much as half an inch measured Tuesday. Snow blanketed cars early afternoons, and it was an unusual sight to see youngsters throwing snowballs as they boarded school buses at 3:30 on the last day of October.

OWLS PLAY - -

The third period opened with a strong offensive drive by McLean, which carried from their own 35 into the Owl end zone on a short quarterback sneak. The pass for extra points was no good, and the Tiger scoring for the evening was finished.

The Owls opened a drive that carried inside the McLean 15 before a fumble was recovered by the Tigers.

The next Owl drive was made possible by Lynn Frizzell, who intercepted another McLean pass, but the offense was halted by a clipping penalty—when 15 yards are added, it greatly reduces the effectiveness of the offense—and even though we don't believe in name-calling in cases like this, we'd like to see this player erase this clipping blot (in several of the games) from his otherwise good record.

Silverton's scoring drive started on their own 40-yard line, and with Bill Strange and Cletus Grady, Jr. carrying the ball, the Owls moved downfield with a determination that the team had not shown in several games. Strange carried the score on a one-yard plunge and Grady added the extra points.

Strange, undoubtedly, played his best game of the season Friday night; Grady looked good at times, but generally is not showing up as well as he did earlier in the season, partly due to the fact that the opponents are looking for him to carry the ball most, we think.

Gary Whitfill is doing a good job at center, having inherited that position following Danny Vaughan's breaking a hand at Wheeler. Vaughan is out for the remainder of the season. Whitfill hasn't made a bobble at center and has also been putting out a lot of effort in the game. Larry Comer played one of his better ballgames Friday night, making some unassisted tackles and assisting on quite a few.

Another boy who probably played his best game of the season Friday night was Johnny Roy Weaver, who was where the action was all night long. He was cueing on McLean's right end and either made or assisted most of the tackles.

Harvey Masey has been playing good ball this season and is doing a great job on kickoffs. Van May played with a neck injury Friday night, and we just hoped all evening that he wouldn't get hurt again. He had re-injured his neck in practice earlier in the week, and Coach Herb Stephens had recommended that he not play. However, with the determination that is inherent in many boys who love sports, Van chose to continue playing.

Tim Mattheus has been having a pretty good year in spite of knee injuries and has been a mainstay this season for overtaking the opponent's ball carriers when they were out in the open, and for dropping opponents instantly after they have caught passes. Friday night, he seemed to be putting out the effort, but there were too many times when his tackles didn't count for anything because he didn't hold them. Mattheus had a muscle spasm in his neck before halftime, and didn't return to the game until late in the third quarter.

As a team, the Owls turned in one of their better offensive and defensive efforts of the season. Sometimes there is more honor in a well-played loss (when the qualities of good sportsmanship are called on again and again) than there is in a poorly-played win.

The number and quality of fans likewise was improved over previous games. However, there is one thing that fans must remember—that it is a great disservice to the team to become disgruntled when honors are accorded to individuals on the team. Everyone knows that a team cannot win games without teamwork—between the team and coaching staff, between the members of the team, between the team and the school, and between the team and fans. It is difficult not to heap honors upon those who carry the ball—in the excitement of watching their progress we often miss the efforts of others on the team. Lots of long-suffering linemen go unpraised, but we know that in just about every case, the linemen do their jobs well or the ball carriers fail. When the man who carries the score is praised, there are probably at least six other players who deserve praise as much as he. However, the sad truth is that those who report the results of ball games have no way of knowing how well the players followed their assignments if they succeed. In the case of Silverton's touchdown against McLean, it appeared to be the result of a lot of determination and bull-headed refusal to be denied.

In our opinion, honors accorded to any particular players on a team bring a favorable reflection on his teammates. We think no one will ever see a player so good or so important that he does the whole job alone. By the same token, we don't think you could field seven or eight players who could do the whole job alone unless they were terribly talented. Each of the eleven is vital on the field, and each of the reserves and each of the B-team players are important also, but no one ever knows when his big opportunity will come, and therefore, he must be constantly ready to do what is asked of him.

Honors are an important part of our American way of life, even though sometimes they may seem to fall on the wrong ones occasionally. Honors keep alive the competitive spirit and rivalry that are as much a part of our democratic American concepts as sports and apple pie.

If you, as a fan, know the others to whom the credit belongs in certain instances, then you are to blame if you don't tell them and give them a pat on the back when you see them. Knocking the one who did get credit isn't nearly the same as giving other players a pat on the back!

You Must Have Broken A Mirror

by Mary Ann Sarchet
 Sherrie Alexander must have been a mirror when she was a little girl to bring about a long string of misfortunes. In the past year, she has gone through one unfortunate experience after another, and though it doesn't seem to be getting her down any more than it would any other five-year-old, sometimes it's almost too much for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Ross Alexander. James Ross and Karla Alexander are teaching in the Silverton schools this year, and Sherrie is attending kindergarten. It was a hectic summer out at Brice, where they live, and it doesn't look as though things have improved much this fall.

 Sherrie had so many stitches for so many reasons during the summer that her mother remarked, "I think if you pulled the end of the thread in just the right place, she would completely unravel!" Sherrie had surgery twice and had various cuts, skins and bruises, in addition to an encounter with a dog during the summer. Then when she seemed on her way to better health, the Alexanders took her out to the Doug Forbes' to visit, and before they had been there much more than a quarter hour, Sherrie had hung herself by the arm from the top of the cyclone fence and had to be rushed to Tullia for a maize of stitches on the inside of her arm. The puncture barely missed the

Annual Francis Reunion Held In Plainview

The children of the late John Louis and Minnie Margaret (Cloyd) Francis, who established their home in Briscoe County in April, 1892, met in the shelter house in the Plainview park on Running Water Draw recently.
 The day's activities started with a worship service at 11:00 a.m. followed by lunch at 12:30 p.m.

large arteries that are close to the surface of the skin.
 Just after school started, Karla remarked that "So many things have happened to Sherrie now that I guess she tenses up so much when she starts to fall that she actually causes the injury to be worse."
 Regardless of what has been causing the misfortunes, the Alexanders probably thought they had just about settled into the routine of teaching when Sherrie broke her arm (for the second time). James Ross now says, "I think the insurance company is about to cancel her policy, and we couldn't get along without it!" And Karla adds, "She keeps getting her arm hurt again almost every day. First she fell on it, and then she slammed a door on it!"
 The Alexanders also have a son, Ross Wayne, who seems to be doing very well these days. But don't you imagine that he wonders why Sherrie gets so much attention?
 Things just have to improve.

L. C. C. Opens New Center

Mrs. Ray Thompson of Silverton was among those present Saturday when Paul Harvey, widely-known news analyst, was guest speaker at the dedication of the new Mabee American Heritage Center at Lubbock Christian College.
 In conjunction with the completion of the new structure, the college conducted an all-campus open house.
 The Mabee building will house the history, government and economics department and will be L.C.C.'s second permanent classroom building. It will also be used for economic seminars, managerial development workshops, national issues conferences and various religious activities.
 The college matched a grant of $125,000 from the Mabee Foundation of Tulsa to build the center. Matching funds were donated by Lubbock area businessmen.
 This was the first grant ever made by the Mabee Foundation to a junior college. Joe Mabee said, "L.C.C. is unique because it doesn't take federal aid" and expressed thanks for the opportunity to invest in a school which teaches more free enterprise and less government control.
 Harvey's broadcasts and newspaper columns have been reprinted numerous times in the Congressional Record.
 Mrs. Thompson was introduced to Mr. Harvey during her visit to the L.C.C. campus.

Survey Committee To Secure Markers

The Briscoe County Historical Survey Committee met Thursday, October 26, and voted to secure "in" and "out" markers to be placed at the west, south and east city limits of Silvertown indicating that historical markers are to be found within the city.

Mrs. C. O. Allard presided over the business meeting, and closed with a quotation from Wilfred Peterson: "America is an art of living through which you can reach higher, think bigger, grow greater and live deeper than any where on earth."

Mrs. Carroll Garrison gave a talk on the Sunflower from the book, "Voiceless Lips." She stated that the Sunflower is an unusual flower: it does not conform to any artistic plan; wherever it is it constantly follows the sun, and when it sees the sun it is satisfied. There is divided loyalty and compromise. The Sunflower, by its daily life, seems to be saying to every trusting heart: "You, too, have a sun to gaze upon in wonder and admiration—the sun of righteousness, look up!"

Coffee, punch and cookies were served to Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Allard, Judge and Mrs. M. G. Moreland, Mr and Mrs True Burson, Maynard Wilson, Marie Garrison and Vivian Hughes.

The next meeting will be Thursday, November 30.

Address Cards And Parcels Correctly

During this Christmas mailing season, there will be thousands of cards and parcels that will not be delivered due to illegible addresses, no address at all, or poorly wrapped parcels from which the address labels or outer wrappings become separated.

Always write or print addresses carefully and use ZIP codes, says Postmaster Fred Strange. If you have trouble reading the address, the people at the post offices will have the same problem.

Use of first-class postage on greeting cards will make sure your

Attends State Appaloosa Meeting

W. H. Fitzgerald was in San Antonio Friday and Saturday to attend a meeting of the directors of the State Appaloosa Association.

Complete rules and regulations for a Youth Horse Program were formulated, and plans were made for a 1968 open Youth Horse Show open to all youth and all horses to be held in this area. Anyone interested in the Youth Horse Show Program is asked to contact Wayland Fitzgerald.

Among those attending Parents' Day and the All-School Sing at Hardin - Simmons University in Abilene were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mac Walker, Jimmy and Cynthia, Mr. and Mrs. Carman Rhode and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Garrison.

The Walkers and Garrisons also visited with the G. A. Elrod while in Abilene. Bro. Elrod has been bedfast since a series of strokes. He is at home (1209 Albany, Abilene 79605) and does have company at any time.

mail is forwarded if the recipient has moved. Mail will be returned to you if it is poorly addressed or there is no forwarding address. This is one reason for using the special five-cent Christmas stamp. Cards sent by third-class mail, (four-cent stamp) which cannot be delivered wind up in the dead letter office.

Wrap your packages neatly and well. Pad your gifts securely so there is no rattling and there is sufficient support for other packages.

A card or piece of paper inside the package carrying your name and address and that of the person to whom the parcel is addressed will insure delivery in case the wrapping comes loose. A list of the contents will help postal "rewrap" clerks in the event your package is poorly wrapped and bursts.

Place the address and return address on only one side of the parcel. Some people will repeat the address on more than one side. Postal employees who are working at top speed to meet transportation connections for mail do not have time to check other sides and assume that postage is due.

Please mail early. This gives the Post Offices plenty of time to deliver your mail before the holiday.

Club Sends 16 Parcels To Servicemen

L. O. A. Junior Study Club sent 16 parcels to servicemen last week.

Gifts of pre-sweetened Kool-aid and candies went to five in Vietnam: Joedell Hutsell, George McJimsey, Guinn Turner, Mike Mercer and Harrell Minyard.

Homemade candies were sent to seven servicemen on vessels in the Middle East and off Vietnam: Jay Miller, Donnie Stephens, Dwin Davis, Travis Gilkeyson, Allen Thomas, John D. Baird and David Seaney.

Packages of homemade candy also have been mailed to Kenny White and Edward F. Monk, who are in Japan; Mike Norris, who is in Germany, and Arnold Lee Weathered, at Camp Pendleton, California.

A note was included in each package so that the receiver will know which families sent his gift. L. O. A. Junior Study Club paid the postage bill, and material for packaging and wrapping was donated by City Tailors and Briscoe County News.

Club members who have not participated are asked to take their homemade goods to the Briscoe County News office.

Local residents are reminded that now is the time to mail parcels to servicemen if they are to arrive before Christmas. The addresses on the poster in Nance's window have been corrected. Please remember "our own" at least with Christmas cards, is the word from Mrs. J. E. Patton, chairman of the club's project committee.

Holding a bachelors degree from Baylor University, Miss Applewhite has studied under numerous well-known art teachers, and herself teaches art classes in Lockney.

She brought examples of her work in five media, and discussed them informally with the club.

At the business meeting which followed, the resignation of Mrs. Louis Grabbe was received. Mrs. Leo Fleming was elected second vice-president to fill a vacancy recently created by a leave of absence. Projects were discussed, and plans were made for sending packages of homemade goods to servicemen.

FROM ME... ... TO YOU

by Ian Lanham

Have you ever stopped to think what attitude has to do with what you can accomplish? If you do not like a certain subject, then you will probably not make as good in it as you would in one that you like. Your attitude can mean the difference in an A or B, or in a C or F. Your attitude is not unchangeable. If you will, you can put out a little bit of effort and find that it is possible to like something you once hated.

The success of organizations depends on attitudes. It takes members that believe in what they are doing to make things really go over. An organization is often better off without people who have an attitude of dislike and unwillingness. If you take a look at our leaders in school, you will find that they believe in what they are doing. That is the reason they are leaders.

The attitude in sports is one of the most important things a team can have. You could say that the attitude of a team is their spirit.

Yes, spirit is your attitude toward yourself, your team and the school, or our organizations. To sum it all up, it is the way you look at life.

THE OWL'S HOOT

Official publication of the students of Silverton High School, compiled and edited by members of the Future Business Leaders of America.

VOLUME 8 NUMBER 9 THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1967

THE QUEEN AND HER COURT—Nancy Kay Long, Football Queen for 1967, was pictured atop the 1928 Chevrolet convertible (courtesy Simpson Motor Company, Tullia) after the crowning ceremony. Gene Smith drove the candidates onto the field and was pictured as he drove them away following the pregame activities. Marsha Teeple, Kathy Self and Lanis Davis were the other candidates nominated for Football Queen by the team.

Nancy Long Is 1967 Football Queen

In a ceremony preceding the Silverton - McLean football game, Nancy Kay Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Long, was presented as Football Queen of 1967. Miss Long was presented the traditional bouquet of red roses by Dale Sissney, senior team captain. Randy Cantwell crowned her with the football helmet crown autographed by the Owls, and presented the traditional kiss.

The four candidates, selected by the football team, were driven on the field by Gene Smith in a 1923 Chevrolet, courtesy of Simpson Motor Company of Tullia.

Escorts were senior team captains. Miss Long, senior candidate, was escorted by Van May; Kathy Self, junior candidate, was presented on the arm of Tim Mattheus; Marsha Teeple, of the sophomore class, was escorted by Harvey Masey; and escorting the freshman candidate, Lanis Davis, was Lynn Frizzell.

The candidates were brought down an aisle formed by the Pep Squad and football players.

Nancy Nance and Roy Ann Bomar assisted with the ceremony by handing the bouquet and crown to the co-captains while the candidates were being presented. The girls taking part in the ceremony wore corsages of red carnations, gifts of the S Club.

Pep Rally Queen Is Crowned

During the McLean Pep Rally, a mock crowning ceremony was performed as a take-off of the presentation of the football queen. Four candidates were driven onto the field in new, red convertibles furnished by anonymous sources.

The candidates, dressed in stunning gowns, were:
Freshman candidate, Miss Lulu (Lane) Garvin, escorted by Rodney (Rhonda) Dickerson, all-district fullback.

Senior candidate, Miss Jo Beth Mercer, escorted by Frizz (Nancy) Long, all-district tackle.

After a breathless pause, Mistress of Ceremonies, Debbie Dickerson, announced that Miss Mercer of the Senior Class was selected as the 1967-68 Pep Rally Queen. A bouquet of pink roses was presented to her and Debbie and Frizz presented her with the traditional kiss (after an indecisive moment when they almost couldn't kiss her).

The girls were then driven off the court, and as the queen passed Principal O. C. Rampley, she threw him a rose from her bouquet.

During the Pep Rally, Coach Fox suggested that the game be dedicated to the entire football squad, in the manner that the last game is always dedicated to the seniors. Randy Cantwell and Larry Comer also spoke to the student body about the forthcoming games.

Recipients of the Spirit Sticks were Rickie Bingham, Kathy Self, Paula Birdwell, Debbie Bomar and Cletus Grady.

THANK YOU

The Sophomore Class takes this opportunity to say "thank-you" to all who attended the Spaghetti Supper Friday night.

"Pure Magic" Is Coronation Theme

Saturday night, the 1967-68 Halloween royalty were presented in an impressive ceremony in the school gymnasium in a "Pure Magic" setting carried out in silver and pink.

The coronation ceremony is sponsored annually by the high school student council following the Halloween Carnival. The student council members and their sponsor, T. A. Thornburg, went to great expense and spent a great deal of time and energy preparing for the coronation.

The boys, one representing each of the twelve classes, entered from the left and the girls from the right, meeting beneath a white wrought-iron archway covered with white angle hair to give it the illusion of unreality. An observer was heard to remark, "It looks like Heaven or a wedding."

Beneath the arch, each boy presented the candidate for queen a long-stemmed pink rose before walking arm-in-arm down a silver pathway to the position designated for their class.

A bridge crossing a "stream" at the end of the path presented a striking note. On either side of the thrones stood tall silver trees touched with white angle hair, which represented a delicate mist.

Master of ceremonies was Lannie Arnold. Mrs. Mary Ann Rauch played background music and accompanied Cynthia Sutton as she sang "It's Magic" from the bridge.

High school Student Council President Lynn Frizzell, crowned Lanis Davis, freshman candidate, as the 1967 Halloween Queen, and presented her escort, Alvin May, with the septor, symbol of royalty.

The Court of Queen Lanis and King Alvin consisted of Princess Jan Hutsell and Prince Van May, Princess Paula Birdwell and Prince Max Hamilton, and Princess Kathy Self and Prince Cletus Grady, jr.

Junior high Student Council President Trent Brown crowned Princess Coleen Culwell of the eighth grade and presented her escort, Dana Martin, with his septor.

The elementary court consisted of their Highnesses, Art Hamilton and Laura Arnold, Buddy James and Susie Parker, Todd McJimsey and Brenda Payne, Brett Gill and Debra Strange, Mike Murphy and Tammy Hamilton, Charles Grisby and Linda Vaughn, and Earl Jarrett and Tracy Gill.

Lynn Frizzell's escort was Debbie Dickerson, and Terry Jones accompanied Trent Brown.

Crown bearers were Liz Wristen and Linda Hardin. Septors were carried by Kyle Bean and Kirk Durham.

An Open Letter To Parents

There has been a great deal of concern recently on the part of some parents because they feel they do not have an opportunity to know the teachers as well as they would like to. Some have expressed a desire to have an opportunity to visit with the teachers and to discuss problems relating to their children, but felt that they should not come to school to do so.

Nothing could be farther from the truth! Perhaps the fault of this misunderstanding really lies with the faculty. It simply has not been made known that all teachers throughout the system have some time during each day in which parents may come to them for conference.

The first four grades have recess time, both morning and afternoon, in which the teacher is available for a conference without the child being present. All the teachers, grades five through high school, have a regular conference period, one hour a day, set aside in the school schedule for the express purpose of conferring with parents or students.

To those of you who desire to know your teachers better, or to discuss problems relating to school with them, please feel free to do so on school time. What better place could be found than the classroom where all records, test scores, and papers of the students are kept?

Surely a visit to school would be much more rewarding to all concerned than a chance meeting at the beauty shop, grocery store, or a social gathering to discuss such an important matter as your own child's educational welfare.

Teachers do not feel imposed upon when they are visited at school. They are usually relieved to find that they are not the only person concerned about the child

HIGH SCHOOL ROYALTY — Lanis Davis and Alvin May, freshman candidates, were presented as queen and king of the 1967 Halloween Carnival in a coronation ceremony held in the school gymnasium Saturday night. Elected by the popular vote of all those in attendance at the coronation ceremony, the candidates from the twelve classes were presented in a pink and silver setting prepared by the members of the Student Council.

HALLOWEEN PRINCE AND PRINCESS—Dana Martin and Coleen Culwell, eighth grade candidates, were presented as prince and princess of the 1967 Halloween carnival in the coronation ceremony arranged by the S. H. S. Student Council in the school gymnasium Saturday night.

Jealousy: Keep Away From It

Jealousy can be and is a terrible thing and causes a lot of trouble. There are several kinds of jealousy, all of them bad.

One kind of jealousy, the most common kind, is jealousy over one's girl of boyfriend. Usually a person will find there is no great need for this kind of jealousy. It can cause a great deal of trouble instead of helping.

Another kind of jealousy is the kind one person has for what another person owns. If someone gets a new car, jealousy soon takes over and another person has to have one, too. This type of jealousy is just to keep away from it.

The door is open—do not wait until Public School Week next March to visit. Find out when the teacher is free and plan a visit whenever you desire. You don't even have to have a complaint; teachers appreciate encouragement, too, you know!

Jealousy can be one of the worst kinds. When it starts eating away, it never seems to stop. It keeps getting worse and worse, and sometimes it can destroy a person.

Don't let any kind of jealousy bother you. There may be just a hint of jealousy in your veins, but this little bit can keep building and building. The best thing to remember when it comes to jealousy is just to keep away from it!

F. H. A. MEETS

The Future Homemakers of America met October 25, and the chapter sponsor, Mrs. Brenda Cook, told the members that the candy they had ordered had arrived. This will be a money-making project to finance the Sweetheart Banquet, and the girls were asked to do their part to help sell it.

Members who had not delivered their Stanley Products were urged to do so right away.

Every $ You Spend Is a Vote

FOR or AGAINST

Your Own Future Prosperity

Spend a dollar here at home and it's a vote FOR the improvement of your own individual well-being.

Because it's a dollar that keeps on working for you . . . circulating and creating more trade volume in your own community.

Trade volume that makes YOUR business better, YOUR job more secure, YOUR schools and churches better, YOUR local investments more valuable and profitable.

Spend a dollar away from home and it's a vote AGAINST the life and growth of this community . . . the prosperity of which has much to do with the kind of living that YOUR work will provide for you.

Many small town folks have helped to vote themselves out of business, out of jobs, and out of investments which were the savings of a lifetime, by casting their $-ballots AGAINST the community in which they live.

Quality Cotton

On a farm operated by Mr. Bill Boggs, who farms 6 miles north of Plainview and one mile off FM 400 on the Providence pavement to the east, you will see a field of fine cotton, which not only gives promise of considerable quality but also of high production. This is a field of Gregg 25V one of the newer cottons for the Plains. The seed of this cotton is glandless, free of gossypol making it possible to use the meal in the feeding of poultry and swine, and also can be used as a high protein diet in human nutrition. Gregg 25V was specifically bred to resist verticillium wilt, however, a majority of those who have planted it this season have done so not because they have a wilt problem, but because of the other good qualities which it possesses, such as better micro-naire, better grades (being a smooth leaf it cleans well), a little longer staple, and a better grade of seed. (Yes, Mr. Boggs managed this cotton according to special instructions.)

You are invited to drive out and see this field of cotton, or if you prefer just come to our place two and one-half miles east of the courthouse on the Lockney Highway, and we will not only show you Mr. Boggs' cotton, but also several other good fields of 25V. Gregg Seed Farms, 2700 Lockney Highway, Plainview, Texas. (Adv.)
