Farm Commodity Legislation Discussed

(From a talk given at a luncheon of the American Corn Millers Federation, October 6, 1969, in Washington, D. C.) Farm commodity legislation is now entering a crucial development period, according to Carroll G. Brunthaver, associate administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Farm programs are sought which will help farmers share more equitably in the fruits of advancing technology and the benefits of the farmer's own efficiency. At the same time, the ASCS official said, "it is just about essential that program costs be checked, in order to be acceptable to Congress."

very few decades, and we are feeling the pressures. The minority remaining in agriculture — slightly over five percent — find that their lives are drastically altered by changes in technology, communication, and the structure and organization of farming itself.

According to an announcement by the University Interscholastic League last week, Memphis will compete in Class A for the next two seasons, and will rejoin the membership of District 2-A to play a five-game conference schedule with Clarendon, Claude, McLean, Wheeler and Silverton.

An effort to establish a Satellite School for the Silverton area, in order to provide training for the mentally retarded, is to be undertaken soon by the local Mental Health Advisory Council if the people will cooperate in a move to emphasize the need for such a facility as well as to indicate a willingness to help support and staff it.

Any person who is interested in having a Satellite School here is asked to write Mr. Eugene Garms, Amarillo State Center for Human Development, Box 3070, Amarillo, Texas 79106, to (1) describe Silverton's need for the school (there is a list of 18 possible students); (2) to pledge support of the facility; and (3) to indicate your willingness to serve as a volunteer (unpaid) assistant to the school's teacher.

Satellite School Being Discussed For Silverton

The Satellite Schools are being established under the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, which provides a year-around salary of $434 for the school's teacher. Professional diagnosis and evaluation of students is provided, as well as parent counseling, training, research, information, education referral, medical services and a recreation program.

Satellite School teachers are not required to have teaching certificates, but must be mature and have had some experience in working with groups of children. They are given special training to equip them for this special job at the Amarillo State Center for Human Development before beginning, and this training and supervision continues as long as the facility is in operation.

The centers will take children as young as three years of age. Focus is on the preschool child because it is necessary to reach these youngsters and their parents early in order to help effect attitude changes as well as favorable behavior changes.

Amarillo's State Center is in the process of developing a full range of services for the mentally retarded in the Texas Panhandle. Eleven Satellite classes are now in operation with a three-hour class five days a week for the preschool children and a three-hour class five days a week for postschool children. Several cities are presently making an effort to secure the one facility to be established at this time, and Silverton is the smallest of the towns involved.

Silverton's Mental Health Advisory Council met in the school cafeteria last Thursday afternoon to discuss a Satellite School. Pictured are Mrs. Carman Rhode, Rev. Bob Sewell, Burtis R. Hollis, Mrs. Delphine Klemman, Eugene Garms, Mrs. Lee D. Bomar, Judge M. G. Moreland and Mrs. Alvin Redin. (Briscoe County News Photo)

AUTUMN MEANS APPLES

Just received in my office is a bulletin from the USDA, "Apples In Appealing Ways." It offers a great deal of useful information about our old favorite, the apple.

An apple, eaten raw, makes a pleasant, low-calorie snack or dessert. A medium-size apple contains only 70 calories.

Like other fruits, apples contain some vitamins and minerals. Bottled or canned apple juice may be fortified with vitamin C.

There are many good all-purpose apples, plus others especially suited for preparing in certain ways.

Apples that "go to pieces" when cooked are usually best for applesauce; those that keep their shape are best for baking whole. Tart apples are good for cooking; sweeter varieties for eating raw.

Some varieties especially good for eating raw are Red Delicious, Jonathan and Winesap. Good cooking apples are the Rome Beauty and the Winesap.

Be sure to buy good - quality apples. Those that are mature when picked have the best flavor and texture. They should be firm and crisp, have a good color and be free from defects.

For a hearty salad, try:
2 cups cooked, chopped chicken (or turkey, pork, ham, veal or a 13-oz. can tuna)
2 cups diced apples
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 to 1/3 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

1 tablespoon lemon juice
Combine ingredients and mix well. Serve on well-chilled lettuce.

The youngsters will enjoy mak-

The enrollment bracket for Class A has been set by the UIL at from 120-229, and the raising of the maximum average-daily-attendance figure caused Memphis to drop from Class AA to Class A. Memphis presently has the smallest school enrollment in District 2-AA.

Memphis residents are expecting this enrollment classification to be temporary due to the fact that a trailer manufacturing industry is being established there and the families who are to be involved in this work have not yet moved into that area; however, all of the districts are arranged for two years at a time.

In dropping back to District 2-A, Memphis will renew long-time rivalry with Clarendon and McLean. Claude, Wheeler and Silvertown have been moved into District 2-A since Memphis stepped up into Class AA four years ago.

Happy is moving into District 3-A, where there are other changes because Hart is moving up to Class A from Class B and had to be worked into the schedule. It is expected that Happy and Hart will compete in District 3-A.

Combine a one-pound package of dairy caramels and 3 tablespoons hot water in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water, stirring frequently until caramels melt into a smooth sauce.

Wash six red apples, remove stems and insert a wooden skewer into each apple part way into the stem end. Remove sauce from heat and tilt pan. Holding each apple by the skewer, quickly twirl it in sauce, remove from sauce and continue twirling to allow sauce to spread smoothly. Then dip bottom and sides of apples in chopped nuts, if desired. Place apples, skewer side up, on lightly buttered cookie sheet and refrigerate until serving time.

IT WAS COLD IN WHEELER

It was a cold night at Wheeler and foggy on the way home following the Owls' 6-18 loss to the Mustangs. The Owls didn't look quite as good as they did the previous week against Kress, but were hindered somewhat by the "flu bug" and a few assorted "hurts." There were also a few errors.

The Mustangs sneaked in a first score on a 70-yard run and later gave the Owls several opportunities on which the visitors were unable to capitalize. Wheeler's total offense was about 315 yards as compared to about 180 for Silvertown. The Mustangs made 19 first downs and were penalized 15 times for 85 yards, while the Owls made 8 first downs and were penalized about 40 yards on six infractions.

Wheeler scored all of their points in the first half, starting with the long gallop by Roy Don Chick, who also carried the 2-point conversion.

In the second quarter, Keith Wood kicked a 30-yard field goal for the Mustangs, and this was followed by a touchdown on a handoff to Chick and a pass to Steve Simmons. Wood added the extra point with 57 seconds remaining in the first half.

The Owls opened the second half with a drive that was ended with a touchdown scored on a 13-yard pass from Trent Brown to Roger Younger in the end zone. Brown faked a handoff and kept the ball on a 2-point conversion play which failed.

Early in the fourth period, the Owls drove down to the Wheeler 7, before fumbling and losing the ball. The Owls held Wheeler in that end of the field and could have had another good shot at a score when the Mustang punter got a bad center, fumbled the ball and began to scramble—but the Owls didn't put any rush on, and didn't seem to penetrate the line of scrimmage until the punter had picked up the ball and recovered from the bobble. Had the Owls either been in position to recover the fumble or block the late punt, this opportunity might not have passed them by, but instead the punter got it off as if nothing had happened.

Akimbala Is Guest Speaker For Club

Funsho Akimbala, a Nigerian student attending Wayland Baptist College, was guest speaker for the L. O. A. Junior Study Club Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Champ McGavock.

Akimbala, who attended school in Canada last year, told the club about the three regions of Nigeria, and described the language and living conditions in his country. He showed the typical dress of men in his region of the country and a picture of his aunt in native attire.

The son of a Baptist minister, Akimbala plans to teach in Nigeria when he finishes his education.

When asked about youth problems in his country, he related that in Nigeria the young people respect the word of any person older than they and obey without question.

There are not enough schools to offer an educational opportunity to all young people in Nigeria; and due to a decrease in the foreign aid from the United States, Akimbala says that at the present time about 200 students from Nigeria are attending Russian schools for every 10 who are receiving an education in this country. At one time, Nigerian students who attended school in Later in the fourth quarter, the Owls held the Mustangs, and Wood attempted a field goal from about the 20-yard line. The now-desperate Owls tried to field the ball and were dropped inside the five-yard-line, where they struggled through two half-the-distance procedure penalties to hang on for the last half-minute of the game.

Russia were outcasts when they returned home because the Nigerian government saw to it that they were unable to find jobs; however, during the past four years, Akimbala, said, more and more young people have been enticed to Russia while U. S. policy is making it harder for them to come here.

He also stated that due to policy changes, Nigeria has been unable to secure airplanes from America, and consequently the country is using many Russian-made planes which have been made available to them.

Mrs. Champ McGavock, first vice-president, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Robert H. Hill. The devotional, "To Our Guests," was given by Mrs. Bud Couch.

During the business meeting, the club made plans for the Halloween party at the High Plains Training Center for Retarded Children in Plainview, for which the members will be hostesses and will provide refreshments.

Mrs. Dean Rowell and Mrs. McGavock volunteered to represent the club at the party, and Mrs. Rowell will pick up the pick up the cookies, decorations and favors from the individual members Thursday afternoon, October 30.

The establishment of a Satellite School in Silvertown was discussed, and members were encouraged to write letters to Mr. Eugene Garms at the Amarillo State Center for Human Development, Box 3070, Amarillo, Texas 79106, describing the need for such a facility.

Guests of the club were Akimbala, Mr. and Mrs. David Nail, Plainview; Mrs. Bob Sewell and Mrs. Bill Bailey. Members present were Mrs. Couch, Mrs. Randall Eddleman, Mrs. Fred Edwards, Mrs. McGavock, Mrs. Jerry Miller, Mrs. J. E. Patton, Mrs. Rowell, Mrs. Charles Sarchet and Mrs. John Schott.

Cake, punch, mints and nuts were served to those present, and the guest speaker was presented with a token of appreciation by the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Lark Miller visited over the weekend with Rev. and Mrs. James Poteet in Luling.

tion. She has served in each capacity with efficiency, dignity and pride—pride not only in achievement but with the sense of serving for the good that must be done.

Mrs. Shaper has been a member of the TFWC Executive Committee for the past nine years. For the seven years previous to that she was a member of the Board.

At the local club level, Mrs. Shaper holds membership in five member clubs of TFWC. She is a Past President and Life Member of San Antonio Women's Federation; she has been a member of the Woman's Club of San Antonio for more than twenty years and has served in various elective and appointive offices, as well as actively participating in several of the Round Tables. She is a member of the Woman's Breakfast Club of San Antonio and an honorary member of Sorosis Club and is currently serving as president of the Past Presidents' Council of the San Antonio Women's Federation. She is serving also as Federation Counselor for both the Woman's Club and the San Antonio Women's Federation.

Her participation in community affairs has been outstanding and continuous for the past quarter century. Her first work with organized women's groups was in Parent - Teacher organizations where she held office on local and district levels. It was while working with the P-TA City Council, rendering a weekly radio program for a period of two years, that she was presented a special award of merit.

Other civic and cultural organizations in which she contributes through active membership include Bexar County Civil Defense, Motion Picture Advisory and Reviewing Board (immediate past president), San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, San Antonio Little Theatre, USO Board, Women's Pavilion at HemisFair, and Mrs. Shaper was named Clubwoman of the Year in 1957 by San Antonio Express - News reader ballot.

As a member of Beacon Hill Presbyterian Church, her record reveals that she has held almost every office in women's activities, including the presidency and Bible leadership. While serving as president, she organized the Popular Beacon Hill Church Garden Club. She held numerous positions in the activities of the United Church Women and was one of the organizers of the Women's Committee of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. She is also a member and vice-president of the Beautify Texas Association.

Mrs. Shaper was educated in the San Antonio Public Schools and attended Our Lady of the Lake College as a fine arts student. She is a third generation Texan, a widow, the mother of one son, Henry F. Shaper, jr., and is the grandmother of Peggy Michele and Henry Hugh Shaper. She manages her own business affairs.

It could truthfully be said that

Celeste Gutzeit Shaper was "born into Federation" for her mother, a close friend of Miss Eleanor Brackenridge who founded the Woman's Club of San Antonio, was very active in club work and often took her young daughter with her to club meetings. TFWC is now reaping the benefits with this dedicated leader.

ITEM: When selecting new furniture for your first home, remember that you can use two inexpensive armless webbed chairs to make a love seat; three to make a sofa. Later, when you can afford to buy the good quality sofa you desire, the chairs can be used as occasional pieces in living room or bedroom.

ITEM: The cost of a moderate living budget for a family of four in the United States is now calculated to be $9,191.

ITEM: Give your steam iron proper care and it will last longer. Always store a steam iron in an upright position, on the heel rest, whether you leave water in or remove it from the iron. The upright position prevents chemical pitting or marring of the soleplate from moisture remaining in the iron.

ITEM: Press seams as you sew. This gives you a professional-looking garment. You can wait until you have several seams ready to press at one time, but always press each seam before joining with another.

ITEM: As with most tools, good brushes make house painting easier and contribute to a more satisfactory job. The homeowner will usually require three sizes: a 3-1/2 or 4-inch brush for large areas; a 2-1/2 or 3-inch brush for shutters, windows and door trim; and a 1 or 1-1/2 inch oval brush, or sash tool for painting window sash and mouldings.

From Ruth M. Greenslade, Santa Rosa, Calif.: "I have been enjoying the articles in our little town paper and wish to contribute my share. I am 80 years young and thank God for the good old days! I remember kerosens lamps and the gas lights and especially the old lamp lighter who arrived sharp at 6 o'clock to light the street lamp on the corner. "I remember the ice man who came to your door with ice for your icebox and how the kids waited for him to return to his wagon to give us all the pieces that broke off the block of ice, some large, some small. "I remember the fish peddlers who blew a horn, and the Chinese men who carried baskets across their shoulders on a pole. I still remember a voice at the door saying, 'It's the old lady with the basket. Any pins or needles today?' to see the kids stop at a grocery store and come out with "nothing visible," and a little later see them puffing away. And it is children 13 and up.

Or just try riding outside town late in the evenings and you'll see them getting their drinks from under a culvert. Do you suppose it is Cokes they are hiding? You see couples together from the time school is out until midnight (or later). Is it any wonder that they sometimes "have to get married"? You say, "Oh, that's old fogey thinking." Maybe so, but these children have to live with these things on their minds. You know, as I know, there are still many good parents and good children in Silverton, but to those to whom it does apply, do you know where YOUR children are, and WHAT they're doing? And parents, do you children know where you are and what you're doing? If so, would they respect you or reject you?

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article has been submitted for publication by a resident who did not wish a name to be attached thereto. It has also been requested that the Briscoe County News publish the information which is to follow, taken from a series of articles written by Dr. Max Rafferty, California Superintendent of Public Instruction. Dr. Rafferty comments on various factors in today's civilization that are fighting against the younger generation, and the Silverton resident involved believes that this material can be helpful to parents who are interested in the problems their young people are confronting.

The person requested anonymity and said, "I hope every person in Silverton will think this was submitted by their next-door neighbor. I've decided not to sit back any longer; this may not help anything, but at least I will have done what I could to combat what I believe is a serious problem."

POSSIBLE TO FIGHT PORNOGRAPHY AND WIN—ONLY YOUR KIDS AT STAKE
The smut salesman despises your children even while he bloats and batters upon them. He makes war upon them, and simultaneously he makes big money off them. Without the kids, he would be small potatoes.

My own state of California, I'm sorry to say, is the pornography capital of the country. At the San Francisco airport, you can buy so-called "novels" in which every vile and perverted act from voyeurism to bestiality is depressing. In Los Angeles, "sex shops" exist where all kinds of dirty snapshots, films and gadgets may be purchased by anyone who has the price. And the slick Hollywood film factories which once guaranteed family entertainment to the world now export obscenity to its four corners. The cheek-by-jowl relationship between pornography and sex crimes is pointed up by police chiefs and county sheriffs all across the land. Whole odorous stacks of this filth are found in the pads of virtually all the youthful sex offenders who are rounded up by the law. And while it's currently popular among some of the more modish psychologists to lift a critical eyebrow at any suggestion of a connection between sex garbage and sex offenses, I ceased believing in this sort of satanic coincidence at about the age of six.

The muck merchant relies upon two characteristics of today's youth: its immaturity and its affluence. Mature adults find pornography yawningly dull, if only because sheer repetition of its extraordinarily limited repertory of words and postures sooner or later produces boredom unlimited. The immature, on the other hand, find every elderly nuance and ancient position new and exciting, thereby affording ample proof of said immaturity.

Moreover, young people today have money to spend on this sort of offal which their predecessors didn't have, to put it mildly. Let's face it: Today's kids are loaded. The youth market is a multibillion dollar one, capable of changing national clothing styles, revolutionizing the country's record industry, and even shaking to its foundations that grand old institution, the American barber shop. Lured by such golden bait as this, the pornography peddlers circle over the youth market like vultures over a battlefield.

All such degenerates for profit are enemies of the children whom they fatten upon. But two groups of these ghouls deserve singling out, if only because they do more mischief than their equally festering fellows.

(1) The Apologists
Hear them chant the slick slogans of the Sick Sixties—the new paeans to purity—the roundelays to rottenness: "Much of the world's great literature is erotic in content. It's no longer a question of whether children should be exposed to such material, but only a question of when." And . . . "Today's 'New Morality' is far franker and healthier than the old. It's better for the young to be shocked by the Vietnamese war than by a staged simulation of sexual intercourse" and even . . . "Sexual misconduct is no longer a relevant term. There's no such thing any more."

Every one of these statements is a deliberate lie aimed straight at your children. Let's knock this sort of guff on the head right now. Sexual misconduct is behind half the murders and most of the acts of violence committed in this country. Sexual perversion is a sin as well as a crime. Premarital sex causes thousands of heartbreaks and wrecked lives, if only because of the chilling selfishness which permeates it. And the corruption of the individual to which commercialized obscenity is dedicated has no more to do with the Vietnamese war than Ralph Ginzburg and Eros Magazine have to do with Gen. Westmoreland and the Articles of War.

No, the function of the Apologist is to smooth the path of the pornographer, to make his way straight so that he will have a clear shot at your kids. He justifies his filth and simultaneously sows the seeds of doubt among the decent. He talks glibly about "avant-garde literature" and "adult entertainment," and with every word he gnaws away at the moral standards which took centuries to build. His task is to make putridity the "in" thing, and to tar its critics with the brush of Victorian narrow-mindedness. The Apologist is an intellectual prostitute. And a two-bit one, at that. Next come the Movie Makers. TO BE CONTINUED

Posing behind the familiar 4-H emblem and under the Official Seal of the National Press Club are principals of the annual 4-H Week observance in Washington October 9, including five members of the 4-H Report to the Nation Team. Left to right are: Miss Janice I. Glover of Westbury, N. Y.; George Wallace, Hopedsie, Ohio; Miss Karen Seppa of Petaluma, Calif.; Jack Linkletter, famed TV star and West Coast businessman; J. C. Penney, founder of the department store chain bearing his name; John D. Heffernan, Washington Bureau Chief for Reuters News Service and Press Club President; Miss Margaret Bartosiek, Rockledge, Fla.; and Chris Peterson, Millifin, Pa. (Seth Muse Photo)

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It was "an historic night" in the 61 years of the National Press Club October 9 when National 4-H Week was observed with a large representation of national 4-H leadership from business and government.

Jack Linkletter, famed young TV star and son of Art Linkletter—they are National 4-H Foundation Co-Chairmen for the West Coast—received rapt attention and a standing ovation, a rare occurrence with Press Club audiences, as President John D. Heffernan observed at the conclusion.

"It is Not the Generation Gap—it's the Communication Gap" was Linkletter's topic, previously selected by his father, who was unable to attend because of a death in the family. Young Mr. Linkletter generally praised today's younger generation, and declared that much of their demonstrated resentment reflected their feelings toward hypocrites in an adult society that dictated strict codes of behavior for youngsters, not necessarily practiced by their elders.

Linkletter cited the need for 4-H principles among today's youth, and said that he and his father were committed to the current $8 million capital fund campaign to expand the National 4-H Center, located in suburban Washington.

The expansion of 4-H membership, and emphasis into urban and suburban areas by the traditionally rural organization, was outlined by Chris Peterson and his colleagues on the 4-H Report to the Nation Team, representing the Nation's 3 1/2 million 4-H members. The poise with which these youngsters communicated 4-H goals and the great strides in reaching city youngsters earned repeated applause from the audience.

A special tribute was paid J. C. Penney in the audience, the 94-year-old founder of a department store empire who, with Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, is Honorary Co-Chairman of the Advisory Council. His 60-odd years of philanthropy and work with young people, notably with 4-H, was cited, and he received a respectfully affectionate response from the large attendance.

The Club President introduced several special guests, including Henry M. Hansen, National 4-H Foundation Board Chairman and Associate Director of Extension at the University of Connecticut; Edwin L. Kirby, Deputy Administrator, Federal Extension Service, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture;

Norman C. Mindrum of Chicago, Director, National 4-H Service Committee, and these Advisory Council leaders from American business and industry: James M. McKee, Jr., President, CPC International, Inc., who was also representing Howard C. Harder, CPC and Advisory Council Chairman; Herbert M. Cleaves, Senior Vice President, General Foods Corporation; Charles W. Parker, Jr., Vice President, Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. and Milwaukee Area Chairman for the capital fund campaign; and Merritt D. Hill, Chairman, Hill Associates, and Detroit Area Chairman for the capital campaign; William T. Brady of Los Angeles, Calif., Honorary Chairman, Executive Committee, CPC International, and Russell B. Robins of Detroit, Executive Vice President, The Jam Handy Organization, and Chairman of the Foundation's Public Relations Advisory Committee.

Young Chris Peterson presented a beautiful plaque of appreciation to the Press Club on behalf of the nation's 4-H members; President Heffernan said it would hang in a place of honor so long as there was a National Press Club.

Next various members of the Student Council presented a hilarious pantomime, "And The Lamp Went Out." The principal characters were played by Paula Birdwell, Max Hamilton, Steve Brown and Cathy Jones, with Lanis Davis reading. Others taking part in the skit were Gene Whitfill, Alvin May, Rhonda Dickerson, Dana Martin, Donna Sissney, Art Hamilton and Joan Cross. The skit was followed by a few "Laugh-In" funnies.

Will It Happen Again Next Spring? Buy "Wet Field" Insurance... PLOWDOWN NITROMITE THIS FALL

If the big rains come again next Spring, you're safe - with nitrogen already in the ground to give young plants a strong start. And you get the job done when the product, labor, and equipment are readily available. No last-minute rush. Even if you graze stalks this fall, there'll still be lots of crop residue left in the field. NITROMITE plowdown will aid decomposition of this residue, releasing valuable nutrients for new plants in the Spring. The clincher is at harvest: if ever there was a good time, this will be the year to give your crop a great big shot in the yield with NITROMITE. Shamrock's fine brand of anhydrous ammonia - 82% nitrogen for bigger, high protein yields.

Fight back. Fight for your share of the big profits next year. PLOWDOWN NITROMITE THIS FALL.
