The metal strips used to band birds are inscribed: "Notify Fish and Wildlife Service, Wash., D.C." They used to read "Washington Biological Survey," abbreviated to "Wash Biol Surv." This was changed after a farmer shot a crow and disgustedly wrote the government: "Dear Sirs: I shot one of your pet crows. I washed it and bled it and served it. It was terrible. You should stop trying to fool the people with things like this..."

WHAT IS LAUGHTER?

A few weeks ago Time magazine devoted an entire page to the definition of laughter. The summation was: laughter is indefinable.

Actually, laughter is a very personal thing. One man's hysteria may well be another man's pain. "Children, for example, laugh only at disaster," wrote Erma Bombeck in the Fort Worth Star Telegram. "A head-on train collision on television will send them rolling on the floor. When they are viewing a movie on World War II, you get the feeling that they're rooting for the other side. Our children never laughed so hard as the day we were water skiing and their daddy got his ski caught in the sleeve of his swim suit.

"Teenagers laugh at straight lines. (My kids' favorite comic is Charlton Heston.) The other night I said, 'Do you know why the mother painted her garbage can lids orange?' They roared with laughter, the tears streaming down their faces.

"Hold it down," I begged, "you are going to love the snapper. She painted them orange so they would think they were eating at Howard Johnson's."

"There was silence. Then my son said, 'That's sick,' and marched out of the room."

She continued: "A husband's laughter, generally, is an internal one. The only way you can tell if they're amused is when their kidneys jiggle or they snort and the hairs in their nose part. Often as not, their face will remain a mask of tragedy and they will seemingly have no pulse. When you say to a man, 'Stop me if you've heard this one,' he will.

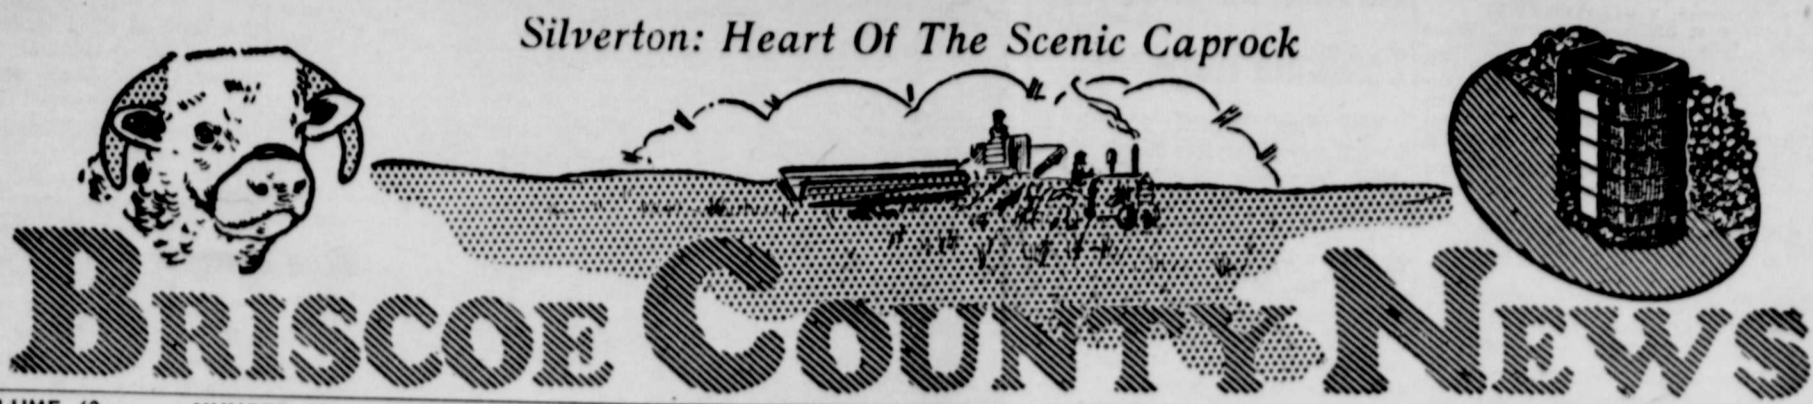

"Animals rarely laugh at themselves. They find levity only in human misfortune. Believe me, there is nothing worse than to step out of the shower and have your dog snicker. We used to have a hamster that laughed so hard when I made the bunk beds he fell off his exercise wheel. One day I moved his cage to the back of the commode. He eventually became paranoid from the flushing and rarely smiled, let alone laugh. "Women, God bless 'em, laugh when they can. It's an intricate part of their survival kit to get them through each day. I have seen women giggle at irregularly problems, become hysterical with one foot in a girdle and observe a 40th birthday without even crying."

Maybe it is best that laughter is undefinable. First thing you know, some pharmaceutical house would get the formula, bottle it, put a prohibitive price on it, and the people who need it the most could never afford it.

The "Kansas University Witan" gives some terse precepts to those of teen age, under the caption of "Ten Things I Wish I Had Known Before I Was 21."

1. What I was going to do for a living—exactly what my life work would be.
2. That my health after 30 depended in a large degree on what I ate before I was 21.
3. How to take care of money.
4. The commercial asset of being neatly and sensibly dressed.
5. That habits are mighty hard to change after you're 21.
6. That worthwhile things require time, patience and work.
7. That the world would give me just about what I deserved.
8. That a thorough education not only pays better wages than hard labor, but it brings the best of everything else.
9. That my parents weren't old fogies after all.

Prospects For Mackenzie Reservoir Money Very Bleak

Kenneth Tate, secretary and treasure of the Silverton Lions Club, is shown presenting a check for $100 to H. B. Simpson to be deposited to the account of Silverton Enterprises for the repair of the Arena Drive-In Theatre. The Lions are hoping that by sharing their funds to help promote the local theatre project they can help influence other civic groups to do likewise so that Silverton's young people can attend movies here during the summer months.

Lon Davis, president of the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority, has reported that prospects for securing $3.8 million for building the Mackenzie Dam look "very disappointing" at this time. Davis was among the representatives of the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority who were in San Antonio recently to appear before the Texas Water Development Board. The group learned that no priority rating has been set up for use of the $17 million bond money available.

Davis reviewed the steps that have been taken by the Mackenzie Authority in the past 6½ years:

In October of 1967 the people of Tullia and Floydada turned down a bond vote for approximately eight million dollars to build the dam, treatment plant and pipeline to the four Authority cities, Floydada, Lockney, Silverton and Tullia. Lockney and Silverton voted for the proposal, but the other two cities turned it down.

The Authority Board agreed the water rights should be secured and brought the issue to another vote in September of 1969 on a $4,615,000 proposal to build only the dam and partial treatment plant. This proposal passed in all four cities and the Authority went to the state water board to sell $3.8 million in bonds to begin the project.

The picture at the state water board had changed in the meantime. The Board originally had $200 million available for projects but was down to $17 million and had already promised $27 million for various water projects all over the state.

In January of this year, Davis and other Authority representatives went before the board to say that the Mackenzie project is "ready to go" and that it hoped a priority policy would be set up for issuing the bond money as each authority is ready to build.

The water board agreed that it had some authorities that might not be ready to build for several years which had already been granted approval of funds. The board told Davis and the other members of the delegation that they were impressed with the Mackenzie presentation, that it was exactly the type of project for which the funds are intended and asked them to return February 25 because there was a possibility that a priority system would be initiated and work could be started on the Mackenzie Dam.

The Mackenzie group came away from that meeting feeling very optimistic about the situation.

Michael Edens Buried Here Tuesday

Funeral services for Michael Lynn Edens, 29, were conducted at 3:00 p.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church in Silverton. The Rev. C. H. Murphy, jr., pastor, and the Rev. Aubrey Green, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Lubbock, officiated.

Pallbearers were Billy Garvin, Dwain Henderson, Claudia Welch, Ronald Welch, Robert H. Hill and Joe Davis.

Burial was in the Silverton Cemetery, with arrangements under the direction of the Silverton Funeral Home.

Edens died in a one-car accident at the intersection of I-25 and I-40 in Albuquerque, New Mexico, Saturday. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

Born in Plainview, he lived in Silverton most of his life and attended school here through the ninth grade. He was a graduate of Amarillo High School and had served three years with the U. S. Army in Germany. At the time of his death, Edens operated a motorcycle service shop in Albuquerque.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Silverton. Survivors include his wife, Beverly Gean; his mother, Mrs. Glenn Green, and his father, Steve Edens, both of Hereford; two half-sisters, Shirley Kay Edens and Lois Ann Edens, both of Albuquerque; a half-brother, Steven Edens of Hereford; his grandfather, H. A. Morris of Amarillo; and a grandmother, Mrs. Danny Edens of Claude.

Largest university building in the world is the Lomonosov University south of Moscow, which stands 787 feet tall, has 32 stories and contains 40,000 rooms. It was constructed in 1949-53.

Judge Receives Authorization To Enter Program

At the regular meeting of the Commissioners' Court of Briscoe County on Monday, March 9, County Judge M. G. Moreland was authorized to enter into an agreement with the State Department of Public Welfare for the operation of a Food Stamp Program in Briscoe County.

This agreement has been prepared and mailed to the State Department of Public Welfare. Judge Moreland said, "All who are now on the welfare rolls will qualify and some other low-income families may also qualify."

Further details will be published as they are available. It is expected that the Food Stamps will be available here in the near future.

F.F.A. Members To Show Animals Soon

The Silverton F.F.A. boys will exhibit 19 barrows and 5 lambs at the South Plains Stock Show in Lubbock March 17-20.

The boys who will be showing barrows are Lynn Smith, Alan Grimland, Dana Martin, Ron Vaughan, Mark Hutsell, John Burson, Stan Martin, Monty Teeple, Ricky Stephens, Trent Brown, Wade Brannon and Max Weaver.

Boys who will be showing lambs are Derrel Martin, Kerry Reeves and David Holt. The sheep show will start at 8:00 a.m. Thursday, March 19, and the barrow show will begin at 1:00 p.m. Thursday. The barrow show will not be completed until Friday, March 20. The sale of all placing animals will start at 8:00 a.m. Saturday, March 21.

When the group returned February 25, they found there to have been some changes made. Two members had retired from the board and Governor Preston Smith had appointed two members from down state to take their places. Floyd County's Marvin Shurbet is, however, the new chairman of the board.

"We felt that we were received very coldly, informed that no priority policy was initiated, and that perhaps our Authority might be issued the money if another $200 million were ever set up a gain," Davis said. It was pointed out that the Texas as taxpayers are paying interest on the $17 million worth of water bond money while the water board "sits on it."

Steps are being taken by individual cities in the Authority to seek another purchaser for the water bonds.

It could be emphasized that the Mackenzie Authority is not asking for any money to be given it; rather, it is seeking $3.8 million to be repaid with interest.

Young Farmers Have Feed-Lot Tour

A group of 20 Area I Young Farmers met in Plainview Thursday, February 26, and boarded a chartered bus for a 2-day tour of feed-lot and feeding operations.

Billy F. Sylvester's warm-up feed lot, southeast of Plainview, was the first stop. Utilization of farming land with wheat, rye and grass pasture for small calves was seen. The calves were then put in lots and fed corn silage (which was grown on the farm) and supplement, getting them accustomed to eating from troughs like they would find later in commercial feed lots.

At the Jimmy Dean Meat Company, the Young Farmers saw the hogs being processed into sausage. High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway welcomed the group and showed slides on soil management and swine feeding and housing. A tour of their feeding operation followed.

10 resounding reasons why you should buy a new Chevrolet instead of a new something else:

- Higher resale value. Year after year, no other car in Chevrolet's field gives you as much back on your initial investment.
- Deep down value. Exclusives like flush-and-dry rocker panels and an extra set of fenders keep Chevrolet looking good longer.
- Smooth, smooth ride. Because of Chevrolet's computer selected springs, Full Coil suspension and advanced body mounting system.
- Impressive styling. The impression is that it's an expensive car, if you want to make an impression.
- Massive interiors. Result? Room to stretch out or to sit tall. Chevrolet has more front leg room than any other car in its field.
- Side-guard beams. Chevrolet puts more between you and the outside. Steel beams built into every door.
- A finish that lasts. It's unfortunate other cars in Chevy's field don't have a Magic-Mirror finish because it sure keeps its shine.
- Exceptional engines. Chevrolet's standard 350-cubic-inch V8 runs on regular fuel. Plus there are five more engines available.
- Tremendous selection. Of colors. Of accessories. Of engines. Of transmissions. Of fabrics. And of models. There are nine big Chevrolets alone.
- America's favorite. Something a new "something else" can't claim. If actions speak louder than words, doesn't this say something to you?

Putting you first, keeps us first. CHEVROLET

Catfish Farming Is New Cash Crop For Briscoe County

Catfish farming is a new cash crop for farmers in Briscoe County. Unlike the lake operations where you have to hook your own fish, these will be raised from fingerlings, then sold to individuals and marketed across the state.

Catfish may never take the place of beef or pork, but it may become a commoner sight on the plates of families in this area.

Charles Grantham and Riley Ziegler were the first in the catfish farming business here when they weren't the only ones for a similar operation was added by the Harold Storie family.

Both of the fish farms are expected to be in full scale operation by fall, and the catfish farmers are optimistic about prospects.

Grantham, active manager of the Grantham and Ziegler fish farm which began operations about two months ago, said they have five acres under water now and they have plans to build more tanks to hold fish.

An average pair of catfish can produce 8,000 offspring, and room is a consideration.

Grantham and Ziegler are starting with 100 pairs and plan to work from there. A cautious start is recommended because catfish farming is a lot more complicated than catfish fishing.

"If the water gets below 50° the fish stop eating," Grantham said, "and then they don't grow. The best temperature is between 80° and 84°, but when the water gets that warm, it doesn't get as much oxygen. Everything connected with the fish has to be considered."

"When we first got set up," he said, "we put several hundred fish in a pond. The water got low and then froze over. The fish didn't have enough oxygen, and to add to our problems, a bacterial infection set in. We lost a lot of fish, but we learned a lot from it."

The breeding of catfish is as important as it is in cattle or horses, Grantham says. "We have to separate the breeding stock," he added, "because if we don't, they will inbreed and produce inferior fish. We have a bunch in one pond that were allowed to inbreed and now we've got several fish without fully developed tails or fins. They're probably as good to eat as other fish, but they look a little strange, and people won't buy strange looking fish."

Grantham said that when the farm is in full operation, there will be about 40,000 fish in stock.

That's a money crop figured at prices of 85c to $1.25 per pound for a two-pound fish purchased for 6 to 10c as a fingerling.

Catfish farming, Grantham said, has already become a major business in other parts of the state and nation. "In South and East Texas," he said, "there are plenty of fish farms, and they can be found all over the South, too — just about any place where there is a lot of water."

He said that fish is high in food value and the cost of production is about the same as that of other agricultural products.

"You probably use more water than you would raising cattle," he said, "but not a whole lot more, and I don't think they're as hard to take care of."

"The ponds we have now leak a lot of water, but when more fish get in them, they will seal up the bottom, and the leakage problem should be pretty well taken care of. If they get a bacterial infection or something like that, the methods of treatment are different because you usually have to put something in the water."

Grantham and Ziegler's fish farm is located on a triangular patch of land bordered on two sides by highways, and is two miles east of Silverton on Highway 86.

"Some people think that this area is too cold for catfish," Grantham said, "but it isn't. When it gets too cold, the fish go into a sort of hibernation, but they don't die off. Catfish are good for this type of raising, too. They like slow moving water. They don't require as much oxygen as other types of fish. On a breezy day with the sun shining, enough oxygen gets into the water to keep them going for several days."

Another factor which prompted his entering the catfish business is the lack of fresh fish in this area. "People get tired of that frozen stuff," he said.

The fish that Grantham and Ziegler have for sale can be purchased either straight out of the tank or dressed, but at present they have no plans for full-scale marketing.

"We're expecting to be able to take care of the area," he said, "but it would probably be too expensive to try to ship them out. If the demand is good enough, there is a possibility that we could eventually ship fish to markets in Amarillo and some of the other larger cities in the Panhandle."

tion of feed until about September, at which time they should weigh 1½ to 2 pounds each. This is considered a good size for selling for the table and also for contract sales.

Channel catfish, like any other animal crop, become more subjected to parasitism and bacterial pathogens when they are stocked at relatively high rates. Most diseases usually exhibit symptoms that can be noticed by the fish farmer if he is aware of what to look for. The organisms responsible for the disease, however, are microscopic and cannot usually be seen by the naked eye.

"As a catfish farmer you must observe your fish daily," Storie said, "preferably in the early morning, in order to notice any changes in their behavior. A possible disease outbreak can usually be controlled before it has a chance to spread throughout your fish population. For this reason, water is not run from one pond to another."

Symptoms that may be exhibited by sick fish are changes in behavior; overproduction of mucus; nervousness (fin twitching); skin lesions; bloody areas in the skin; cysts; diarrhea; anemia; abscesses in the internal organs, and reduced vitality.

If a fish farmer observes any of these symptoms in his fish population, he may want to contact a fish biologist. The Stories believe that if a disease outbreak occurs in their ponds, it is usually a result of poor management practices, and to anyone thinking about becoming a fish farmer, they make the following recommendations:

1. Use well water when possible.
2. Do not overstock.
3. Do not overfeed.
4. Check fish daily.
5. Drain, dry and disc each pond at the end of the growing season.
6. Be ready for some hard work.

The three Storie children are students in the Silverton Schools, with many activities. They are Sharon, 15; Gary, 13, and Debbie, 10. They spend much time with the fish farm work as family owner-operator-apprentice. This status affords experience for varied fields of occupation.

Beryl Long and Harold Edwards, Silverton farmers, were pictured with Congressman Bob Price during the Farmers Union fly-in held in Washington, D. C. in February. The local men reported that Congressman Price listened to their case against the administration's proposed farm program, posed for pictures with those present, and told them that he intended to support the Administration's farm proposals.

Naman Says West Texas Farmers Could Lose Three Million Dollars

Texas Farmers Union President Naman of Waco while visiting the North Plains to welcome out-of-state organizers who were in Texas for a three-day Farmers Union membership campaign, told the news media that farmers in 15 counties—mostly in West Texas—would lose $3 million in income if the Department of Agriculture does not rectify its decision on projected cotton yield.

Naman said, "We have pointed out to Secretary Hardin and the officials of USDA that the decision requiring a reallocation of projected cotton yield in certain counties could result in the reduction of payments as much as 10 or 20 percent to some growers in the affected counties. In one county the reduction has been as great as 35 percent to some growers."

"This USDA decision repeals a provision in the regulation relating to projected yield and ignores the legislative history regarding projected yield which was written into the 1965 Farm Act."

"Previously, the regulations have been interpreted to give the farmer the benefit of the doubt if he suffers from adverse weather. This Administration apparently wishes to move toward forcing farmers to prove up their cotton field which is contrary to the legislative history and intent of the 1965 Farm Act."

Naman urged that cotton producers who feel that they have been dealt with unfairly in the allocation of their projected cotton field, file an appeal with the county ASCS office immediately. "Farmers Union will spearhead drive to get farmers to file their appeals, and if necessary, take them to Washington. Loss of projected yield will not only affect this year's payments, but, if the present cotton program is extended, future yields and payments will be affected.

"Our appeal to USDA seems to have fallen on deaf ears. We will continue to work with the farmers in the fifteen counties affected in hopes of getting USDA to review its decision and modify it. We are exploring the farmers' legal rights in case our appeal fails," Naman added.

PARENTS AND CHILDREN

Perhaps democracy is being forced upon children when they are too young. To saddle a child or adolescent with freedom beyond his demonstrated capability of judgment is not fair, even though it be done under some high-sounding name.

The privilege of developing children little by little up to the point where they can cope with the bewildering world into which they have been launched is the reward and crown of parenthood.

It is popular to blame influences outside the home when a boy goes wrong, or to rail against television, radio, newspapers and magazines. But all these enter as a second influence, and if the first—the ingraining of a sense of decency by parents—has been effectively done, then all these lose their power to debase.

—Royal Bank of Canada
Monthly Letter

The Harold Storie family, who live five miles south of Silverton on Highway 70, started out as a beginner in the fish farm business about three months ago.

They now have four tanks for 10,000 channel catfish. One tank is 300'x100', and three tanks are 330'x80'. The average depth is about 5' to 6'. Water for the tanks is furnished by a 6" well.

The plan is to keep about 2500 fingerlings in each tank. The 6' to 8' fingerlings are purchased at a cost of about 6 to 10c each, and there are several commercial fish farms in Texas where the fingerlings can be obtained.

At present, the Storie Fish Farm has only the fingerlings, but later, after the purchase of brood fish, there will be fingerlings to sell.

The fish will be fed a daily ra-

To Present Concert Of Religious Music

Larry Russell, Music and Youth Director for the San Jacinto Baptist Church in Amarillo, who is directing the revival music at the First Baptist Church in Silverton this week, will present a concert of religious music beginning at 7:30 p.m. Saturday as the first part of the evening revival worship service.

He will sing and will also play his trumpet.

There is a certain relief in change, even though it be from bad to worse; as I have found in traveling in a stage coach, that it is often a comfort to shift one's position and be bruised in a new place.

DEFINITION OF A SQUARE

"Square," another of the good old words, has gone the way of "love" and "modesty" and "patriotism" . . . something to be snickered over or outright laughed at.

Today, a "square" is a guy who doesn't want to stop at the bar and get all juiced up, because he prefers to go to his own home, his own dinner table, his own bed.

He gets all choked up when he hears children singing "My Country 'tis of Thee . . ." He even believes in God—and says so—in public!

A "square" is likely to save some of his own money for a rainy day, rather than count on using yours.

He tells his son it's more important to play fair than to win.

Imagine!
Will all gooney birds answering this description please stand up.
You misfits in this brave, new age, you dimly organized, improperly apologetic ghosts of the past, stand up and be counted.
You SQUARES who turn the wheels and dig the field and move mountains and put rivets in our dreams.
You SQUARES . . . who dignify the human race.
You SQUARES . . . who hold the thankless world in place.

Remember The Basketball Trips!

We had to "Head Out on the Highway" although the weather report was "Windy" and "Stormy". The first words from the coaches was "Hush, Hush."

Coach Wright decided to stop and change drivers, but Coach Stovall insisted, "Why Don't We Do It In The Road?"

As we left the "Green, Green Grass of Home" and headed down the Cap, we got "Dizzy," and then turned a "Whiter Shade of Pale" as the bus really was "Moving On" "Round Every Corner."

Coach Nicholl said, "I Can Hear Music," and held his transistor closer to his ear. As we approached Clarendon everyone began "Washin' and Hopin'" that we would eat at Mrs. Bromley's after the game, because we were "Hungry" for her "Yummy, Yummy" food.

When we arrived at the gym and the girls were getting out of the bus, Coach Nicholl reminded "Don't Let Me Down." We decided to "Get Right Down to the Real Nitty Gritty" and if the going got rough to try not to "Tighten Up" but just "Act Naturally." Sometimes we'd lose the ball but we kept on "Snatchin' It Back."

After the game, as we headed for Mrs. Bromley's, things seemed to be "Jam Up and Jelly Tight" until the lights came on and everyone could see the "Tracks of Lanis Tears." She exclaimed, "Oh What a Day!" I've lost my contacts again. They were finally found, and everyone hurried in. We enjoyed that home cooking and agreed that there "Ain't Nothing Like the Real Thing."

When we were "Homeward Bound," some kids went to sleep in spite of the "Chug-a-Lug" of the bus and the sound of "Laughing." By then we were tired of that bus and cried, "I Want to Go Home." Just when we thought we'd never get there, someone shouted, "I See The Lights," and we began to "Twist and Shout" because we were nearly home. "Let the "Bus Stop" before you try to get out, Coach reminded us at the gym.

"It's Over" and now we like to remember "All These Things" now that we can "Celebrate" "Eight Days a Week" because we're not in training anymore!

Judo Exhibition Presented Here

John Daring and Bruce Campbell, both of Lubbock, presented a Judo demonstration for the community on March 5, 1970, in the school gym.

A large crowd turned out for the demonstration, and afterward the local Judo participants had a workout.

Four from Silverton, Jay Long, Bill Strange, Herb Stephens and James Alexander, instructor, will attend the National Judo Championship matches in Los Angeles, California, April 9-11, 1970.

Juniors on the Way!

The Rex All-Purpose Cleaner has now arrived. If you have not yet received your cleaner or if you would like to order more, please contact any member of the Junior class, who will be glad to deliver it to you.

There are a few extra bottles on hand, but they are going fast. The price is $2.00 a bottle, and the proceeds will be used to finance the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Those of you who ordered cleaner will receive it as soon as possible.

Buy Bonds where you work.

He does.

It's miserable work, crawling through a rice paddy. And being shot at. This American does the job for freedom's sake. So do thousands of his buddies. Many of these brave men also support freedom with their dollars. A majority of our servicemen overseas are investing in U.S.

Savings Bonds. Would you like to show this man you're with him? One good way is to buy Savings Bonds where you bank or join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. You'll make a good investment. And you'll walk a bit taller.

U.S. Savings Bonds

Bond facts: Savings Bonds pay you back $4 for every $3 at maturity in only seven years... are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen... have special tax advantages... can be redeemed whenever the need arises.

WINTER FEEDING—With snow on the ground and no grass in sight, cattle gobble up protein-rich cottonseed pellets. This safe, natural feed is also high in energy value and contains phosphorous and other minerals.

VETERAN CATTLEMAN—Ranch operator Ray Jackson poses with part of the pure-bred Angus herd on the 28,000-acre Powell spread in Meridian, Texas. He knows grass plus supplemental winter feeding of cottonseed cake maintains strong, healthy cows and bulls and produces big, growthy calves.

COTTON AND CATTLE

GOAL: 100 Percent Calf Production

On the N. P. Powell Ranch in Meridian, Texas, herds of wild deer roam the rolling 28,000 acres and, occasionally, a riding horse gets bitten by a rattlesnake.

This is mesquite country . . . home of the spiny shrub or small tree which exudes a gummy, commercially worthless sap. Its lacy, shadeless foliage has no grazing value and its roots sometimes penetrate as deep as 70 feet.

Ranch manager Ray Jackson has learned to live with it. His is a light-stocked operation supporting 1,400 cows and 125 bulls, which include a registered herd of 150 cows producing 140 calves a year on the average. That's 93 percent and close to perfection.

Lean and cattle-wise, Mr. Jackson is strong in his preference for cottonseed cake as a supplemental feed. Good grass plus the P.E.P. (Protein, Energy, Phosphorous) content of the cake during the winter maintains strong, healthy cows and bulls and, therefore, big, growthy calves.

Aware of the many faddish feeds on the market today, Mr. Jackson insists, "I get better performance using one pound of cottonseed cake, which contains 41 percent protein, than three pounds of 20 percent range cubes."

Young bulls from the pure-bred Angus herd get a special ration on the Powell Ranch. As calves, they are placed in a special feed lot at weaning time and given grain, cottonseed hulls, cottonseed meal and molasses. After a month or two, they are turned out to pasture, to self-feed on cottonseed hulls, meal and cake for a week or so to get used to eating the cake. Thereafter, the young bulls get two pounds of cake per head per day until they're old enough to join the bull herd or be sold.

Mr. Jackson gets $450 or more for an 18-month-old breeding bull.

Pressure will be Topic At Circuit Assembly

"Withstanding the Pressures of Our Day" will be the main subject discussed during the forthcoming Circuit Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held in Memphis April 10-12.

More than 500 are expected to attend from 16 neighboring counties in the Plains and Golden Spread, according to Von D. Tiffin, presiding minister of the Quikaque congregation. Hundreds of family groups will make up the delegation with expectations for having their faith strengthened in what Mr. Tiffin described as an assembly to encourage all in attendance to measure up to the fine Christian principles of the Bible. "The Bible was written for every kind of man, in every walk of life, in every generation," Mr. Tiffin said. "It touches on every aspect of man's existence and speaks authoritatively as regards his past, his present and his future. It has survived centuries of violent opposition and misrepresentation and still stands as man's oldest time-tested guide and counselor."

The desire of everyone in attendance will be to learn more of its unsurpassed qualities," Mr. Tiffin indicated.

A baptism of new ministers and the above-mentioned Bible lecture will be two of the convention highlights.

Oldest known formally written translate 114 languages and 72 dialects and spoke 60 languages fluently.

Earliest adhesive postage stamps were the "Penny Blacks" placed on sale in the United Kingdom on May 1, 1840.

Area I YH Officers Have Meeting Here

Area I Young Homemakers of Texas officers met Saturday, February 28, in the Silverton High School homemaking department for their second executive council session of the year.

Mrs. David Prewitt presided, and the invocation was given by Mrs. Jim Roberts. Mrs. Charles Weatherford called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting.

The annual Young Homemaker Field Day sponsored by the rural electric cooperatives was discussed, and the tentative date announced was April 17, at Plainview. The council voted to help at the Research Field Day at Halfway in September if called upon.

Mrs. Tommy Garrison, treasurer, gave a report from the budget committee meeting held February 3. She distributed forms to each officer to be filled in with the expenses for their terms of office. These will be used as a basis for a budget to be set up in the future.

Mrs. Gary Waldie and Mrs. Jerry Logan were appointed to meet with Mrs. Prewitt and the Young Farmer committee to plan the Area I YF-YH Convention to be held in September at Hereford. The theme for the Young Homemaker Convention will be "Shape

Up in the 70's." Several speakers and judges for the awards were suggested.

Mrs. Jim Roberts gave a report on the area membership. Plans were discussed for the Bluebook, Area I YH handbook, and Mrs. Jimmy White asked that all information to be included be sent to her immediately.

Mrs. Gordon Lowrey gave a report on Publicity and Scrapbook Happenings.

The group ate lunch at the City

Next meeting will be immediately following the YH Field Day in April.

Those attending were Mrs. Prewitt and her advisors, Mrs. George Wilson and Mrs. R. Brackeen of Ralls; Mrs. Waldie and her advisor, Plainview; Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Ben Holcomb, Dimmitt; Mrs. White and her advisor, Mrs. Roland McCormick, Muleshoe; Mrs. Lowrey and her advisor, Mrs. Ken
