Tiny Big Attraction At Six Flags In 1970

A carousel spins, a volcano erupts, geysers of blue water squirt a full six inches into the air and in the midst of it all stand hundreds of people 3/16ths of an inch tall, with their 3/16ths-inch children at their sides.

It's all part of one of the newest attractions at Six Flags Over Texas. The tiny people populate a 10'x10' model of the famous theme park.

The model took some 14 months to build at a cost of about $20,000. Experts from Cost Systems Engineers, Inc. of Fort Worth built the display. To assure accuracy, engineers worked from the Park's original plans for all buildings. Color photographs and on-the-grounds measurements were used whenever there was doubt.

The result was a perfect 1/16th scale model.

The artists, engineers and model builders tackled unusual problems in animating some of the familiar Six Flags features. In the finished model, the elevators in the Oil Derrick travel up and down. The Boom Town carousel goes 'round and 'round, as do the miniature models of the Sombrero Ride, Missile Chaser and Flying

Jenny. Tiny cars on the delicate replica of the Astrolift travel back and forth from one side of the model to the other. The pint-sized volcano in the Mexican section sputters real smoke. And, in front of the miniature Six Flags, three tiny streams of water spurt from the center of a scale-model lake.

An "N gauge" railroad train—an exact copy of the Park's steam driven trains—circles the entire model on a track with ties smaller than toothpicks.

The attention to detail shown by the artists who created the model is surprising to visitors. Even the tiny shingles on the roofs of various buildings are perfect.

ASTROWIND OR NO ASTROWIND? Investigating reports that the Houston Astrodome's air conditioning system may be partly responsible for a doubling of home run production there this season, Charles Kaufman, a Carrier Air Conditioning Co. engineer, checks air movement with an anemometer. Fred Gladding, left, top Astro relief pitcher, and Jay Alou, one of the Astros' leading hitters, protect their respective interests in the outcome. The verdict by Kaufman—no wind, just muscle.

TIM GAMBLE PROMOTED TO SPECIALIST FOUR

Tim Gamble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gamble, was promoted to the rank of Specialist Four in Vietnam, where he is serving with the First Squadron, Ninth Cavalry, of the First Air Cavalry Division.

He wrote the Briscoe County News. "I was real glad to receive a copy of the Briscoe County News. Really I didn't think I would be able to read a newspaper from my own hometown while I was over here in Vietnam. Now that I received your newspaper over here it gives me greater hope of making it back to good old Silverton, Texas. I have just about read your complete paper and I didn't realize there were so many interesting things in it until I took the time to read it all the way through.

"As I was looking at THE OWL'S HOOD section, I saw that most of the old friends I had graduated from Silverton High School. That was the section I paid the most attention to since I knew most of the ones who graduated. The only thing I regret is that I didn't stay with school and at least try to graduate with some of them.

EDITOR'S NOTE—We hope we won't have embarrassed Tim by

The exhibit is the centerpiece for Six Flags' new tourist information center in the Park's Boom Town section. The sign over the door reads, "Luther's Land Office" (Luther is Luther Clark, Six Flags president).

Inside, in addition to the model, are huge enlargements of both color and black and white photographs showing Texas' scenic wonders. And, at a special booth in the building, a friendly Six Flags hostess supplies pamphlets and maps telling of the state's many tourist attractions. The Texas Highway Department and the Texas Tourist Development Agency are working with Six Flags to keep the center supplied with the most up-to-date and interesting information available.

It is hoped that a visit to the exhibit will launch many an out-of-state guest on a full-scale tour of Texas.

General Federation Convention Held In San Antonio

More than 1300 delegates and guests attended the 79th annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in San Antonio June 7-12. Over 30 women from Caprock District TFWC attended including Mrs. O. C. Rampley, district first vice-president, and Mrs. Pat L. Northcutt, district Fine Arts Department chairman and president of Century of Progress Study Club in Silverton. Mrs. Northcutt represented her club as voting delegate at the convention.

Opening the convention was the formal Texas Gala Banquet, welcoming clubwomen from all of the 50 states, the District of Columbia and international delegates from more than 30 foreign countries. Following the banquet, the program, "This H'ars Texas," a musical satire, depicted all phases of life in Texas. Mrs. Henry F. Shaper, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, presided at the Texas Banquet, and the Honorable Preston Smith, Governor of Texas, gave the welcome.

Outstanding speakers had been engaged for each of the luncheon meetings, banquets and general sessions. Mrs. Claire Lee Chennault, one of the leading hostesses in Washington, born and educated in China, widow of a former Air Force General, who serves as president of Chinese Refugee Relief and several other organizations, challenged the women to take a positive stand in national politics today.

H. Ross Perot, chairman of the Board of United We Stand, Inc., was well received at the Thursday morning general session. Mr. Perot gave a moving account of his visits to North Vietnam and his attempt to secure the release and information concerning the more than 1400 men who are prisoners of war in that country.

He urged the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who represent more than 11.5 million clubwomen of the world to study the war issues and to urge their own local news media to take a positive stand concerning prisoners of war.

The closing session consisted of results of the election of the new GFWC officers, reports from various departments and the announcement that the 1971 convention would be held in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Northcutt and Mrs. Rampley were among ten clubwomen selected from each of the 14 Texas Districts to serve as Texas Hostesses for the convention.

When you're not like yourself, Lydia Pinkham understands

All of a sudden you might feel you're changing—not a good feeling. You're tired, edgy, out of sorts and that's not you. Lydia Pinkham understands.

A long time ago, when ladies couldn't be as frank as we can today, Lydia Pinkham recognized the problem and set about finding a remedy. She knew it was not natural for women to have to suffer with what was obviously a natural process.

So she turned to nature for a remedy. She developed a marvelous compound of medicinal roots and herbs that turned the trick for the women she knew. Because it is a natural answer to your natural problems, it can turn the trick for you, too.

Try Lydia Pinkham's root and herb remedy to help you feel better, more like yourself.

PRESERVATION OF FREE INSTITUTIONS

The last resolution of the convention was entitled "Preservation and Perpetuation of Our Free Institutions," and is quoted below.

Whereas, the moral fibre and structure of our great country is under attack both from within and without; and

Whereas, the strength of the United States in the future is in the youth of our nation; and

4-H Club DOINGS

Our first year clothing class was held June 2, 1970 in the home of Mrs. Gordon Lowrey.

Those who attended the meet-

Whereas, the youth of America has been singled out as a target for those who would undermine the very foundation of our nation; and

Whereas, subversive methods being used to undermine the free institutions of the government of the United States are: organized rioting, crime in the streets, trafficking in narcotics, smut, pornography, obscenity and perversion, promotion of disrespect for authority and disrespect for the flag of the United States of America, breakdown of law and order, destruction of the family and attack on our educational and religious institutions; and

Whereas, the Congress and others in authority have been apathetic about enacting and enforcing laws needed to combat the forces in our country bent on destruction of our free way of life; therefore

Resolved, that the member clubs of the General Federation of Women's Clubs mobilize to effect legislation and the enforcement of such legislation to strengthen the moral standards of this country, to restore law and order to halt the narcotic traffic, to eliminate the smut and filth to which the public is being subjected, and to elect officials—national, state and local—who will be responsive to these urgent concerns and problems; and

Resolved, that the General Federation of Women's Clubs invites all organized women's groups to join us in a mobilization of woman power for the restoration of a moral climate and perpetuation of our free institutions; and further ing were Margaret Ann Crosslin, Becky Perkins, Susan Northcutt, Jo-Jo Jarrett and Linda Vaughn.

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States, to the members of Congress, to the members of the Supreme Court and to the Governors of our respective states.

At the first meeting we learned how to run the machine and many more things about the sewing machine. Our next meeting will be June 15, 1970 at 2:00 p.m.

Milk is a basic food that everyone in the family needs every day. Milk is an excellent source of calcium—a mineral that helps form bones and teeth and keeps them strong. The protein in milk builds and repairs body tissues, helps the body fight infection and supplies energy.

Milk is rich in riboflavin, a B vitamin that helps keep the skin healthy and vision clear. There are other nutrients in milk, too—additional vitamins and minerals, fat and sugar.

With all this, milk is moderately low in calories. One cup—8 ounces—of fresh whole milk contains about 160 calories. A cup of skim milk contains about 90 calories.

You have a wide choice in the ways to serve milk to your family. You can offer fresh whole milk, fresh skimmed milk, buttermilk, chocolate or flavored milk, reconstituted dry milk, or canned milk products. Whatever the kind, chill the milk thoroughly to enhance the flavor.

If you use nonfat milk as a beverage, reconstitute it several hours before serving and keep it cold.

Milk shakes are nutritious and refreshing on warm days. Here is one which is inexpensive and delicious.

STRAWBERRY MILK SHAKE
2 quarts milk, made from nonfat dry milk

1 package powdered strawberry drink mix, like Koolaid or any other flavor
Sugar to taste

Beat the ingredients together until mixed. Add crushed ice to glasses. Pour milkshake into glasses. Serves 6 to 8.

A former Silverton resident, Roy R. Saucedo, has written the Briscoe County News and asked that his best wishes be conveyed to the graduates of 1970 of Silverton High School. Saucedo graduated from high school in North Carolina and is now a lance corporal in the United States Marine Corps. He is engaged to Miss Kathi Sargent, who works as a beauty operator with his sister, Helen Saucedo, and they plan to be married when his military service is finished. Roy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcos Saucedo of Auburn, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grabbe and children have moved to the country, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stewart have moved back to Silverton and are living in the house that until recently has been occupied by their daughter and family.

Mrs. James Davis presented a plaque and centerpiece, which represented the year's course of study, to Mrs. Wayne McMurtry at the luncheon in her honor at the close of her term of office as president of Century of Progress Study Club.

Mrs. A. T. Brooks was pictured with the store manager after her announcement as the winner of a portable color television set in the recent Busta Balloon promotional contest sponsored by an Amarillo firm. Mrs. Jack McFall also won a bathroom rug in the contest.

Los Voladores At Six Flags Over Texas

A show which has thrilled thousands from throughout the world—Los Voladores—is now at Six Flags Over Texas.

“Los Voladores—The Flying Indians Spectacular,” was the feature of the Mexican government's entry in the 1964 New York World Fair. For years the show has been seen at the Palacio Tropical in Acapulco.

The best-known feature is the “flight” by four members of the troupe who spiral from the top of a 100-foot pole while grasping slender ropes.

The flight is the modern version of a 400-year-old game of the Totonacan Indians, who still live in the vicinity of Veracruz. The breathtaking descent of the flyers is preceded by a performance by the troupe's Chief who dances on a 12-inch platform, ten stories in the air with no protection whatsoever.

The flyers are brilliantly costumed to represent eagles and other birds. The costuming is based on the Indians' religious belief that the dead returned to earth in the form of birds.

To accommodate the new attraction, Six Flags' arena, on the west side of the huge theme park, has been completely redesigned. More than 2,000 persons can be seated in the shaded outdoor theatre for each performance. Los Voladores present four to five shows each day through Labor Day. The show is free to all guests who have bought Six Flags popular, one-price ticket.

FLYERS ARE INDIANS

The flyers are Totonacan Indians. About 13,000 members of the Totonacan tribe live in Papantla, Mexico, following the traditions that date back to Aztec times.

The Indians of Los Voladores have leased a home for their use during the Six Flags stay. Since American food tends to disagree with Totonacan digestion, they have brought their own cook to prepare their native dishes.

The flight of the Voladores from the top of a 100-foot pole is based on a pre-Columbian rite designed to bring to the attention of the gods the fact that some rain was needed. The original ceremonial pole was a tall tree.

No nets or other modern safety devices are used. Except for the ropes tied loosely around their waists, the flyers have no protection whatsoever.

The flyers speak only their native Indian dialect. The Chief has a very limited knowledge of Spanish.

The man who created the Flying Indians Spectacular is Sr. Carlos Ochoa of Acapulco. He lived with the Totonacs for three months before persuading them to present their first public performance in 1960. Sr. Ochoa is also the founder of Acapulco's world-famous Club de Ski.

Now is the time to start getting your canning and freezing equipment ready so you can avoid delays when your garden is ready.

Check your canning jars. Use only jars which are designed for canning as they have been tempered to withstand the high heat of canning. Packers jars (those that other products come in) are made of thinner glass. They also have a narrower sealing edge which lessens the chance of a good seal. Use these "packers jars" for pickles or jelly or other foods which you do not process.

Run your finger around the sealing edge of your canning jars to check for any chips. A tiny chip could prevent the lid from sealing.

Look through the bottom of each jar toward the window to check for cracks. Don't confuse the seam in the bottom with a crack. Cracks reflect the light; the seam will not. A cracked jar will break when heat is added.

Check your supply of screw bands. Discard any rusty or bent ones. The screw band is designed to apply pressure evenly to the lid and sealing edge of the jar. A bent or rusty one will not apply pressure evenly.

Faulty screw bands actually prevent some lids from sealing.

Take inventory of your freezing containers. Do you need to purchase some additional ones? Do it NOW. Life gets tense when the beans are ready and you have to run to town for boxes or bags. Your local merchant may have just sold the last package.

Many people have said they are unhappy with their frozen green beans. First, select a good variety for freezing. Gather beans a little less mature than you would for canning. Take the vegetables from the garden to the freezer as fast as possible.

Hint for pickle makers: Gather green dill and freeze until the cucumbers are ready.

WHAT'S NEW AT THE ASTRODOME—Not Jimmy Wynn hitting a home run. He's done that before. The new look is the Texaco signs on either side of the 2-million dollar scoreboard. It took two huge cranes to lift the 5-ton signs 96 feet above the Astrodome floor. The signs measure 23 by 35 feet and the letters are 6 feet 6 inches. They are enclosed with "chasing, flashing" lights, wired to operate when the scoreboard indicates an Astros home run. Texaco replaced Gulf Oil Company as sponsors of the scoreboard space this spring.

4-H Girls Share Home Sewing Boom

One of the booming home arts today is sewing. Technology has made available a wide array of miracle fabrics, invisible thread, hidden zippers, and sewing machines that all but sew by themselves.

Learning to sew is no longer the tedious, baste-and-rip, time-consuming chore it once was. More young girls are making their own clothes today than ever before: In school, at home, and especially through 4-H Clubs.

Nearly one million girls from 9 to 19 are engaged in 4-H clothing projects. This means they decide what to make, get pointers from their volunteer clothing project leaders, salesclerks, Extension Service personnel, sewing bulletins, and the educational department of Coats & Clark Inc.

This 156-year-old firm, which started out making cotton thread and now is a leader in sewing notions, has a 30-year record as sponsor of the national 4-H clothing program. In this time span, company officials have personally congratulated some 1,500 teenage girls for excellence in making their own clothes.

These talented young seamstresses were top state award winners and guests of Coats & Clark at the annual national 4-H Congress in Chicago. More than 300 received national clothing scholarships.

Again this year, 51 girls, one from each state plus Puerto Rico, will travel to the Chicago congress at the expense of this faithful 4-H friend. Coats & Clark officials will be on hand once more to present $600 scholarships to six new national champions.

It's clothes like these that 4-H girls love to make and wear. The garments have style, comfort and are perfect for most any occasion. 4-H has a program called Clothing wherein girls as young as 9 years learn to sew. Millions of girls can thank the Cooperative Extension Service, and Coats & Clark Inc., the clothing program sponsor of 30 years, for making possible this learn-by-doing project. The program is supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service.

“Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must undergo the fatigue of supporting it.”

Thomas Paine Sept. 12, 1777

SILENT AMERICA

Why is it we never hear from the silent majority? It seems we only hear or read about 2% of our population. What about the 98% of good, loyal Americans who go day in and day out abiding by the law, working to make this country a better place in which to live, providing for their families, enjoying themselves and in general being good citizens. Have you ever wondered why it seems that about the only news we can read or hear is regarding the other 2%? Maybe, it's the old adage — "Bad news travels fast, good news doesn't travel at all." Don't you think it's high time we start publicizing the 98% of our population and the good and wonderful things that this majority is doing and show the rest of the world what America is really and truly like, instead of allowing the small 2% of our country to give a very distorted view to everyone in the world?

LIBERTY AND JUSTICE FOR ALL

Our priceless heritage embodied in the flag of the United States, is as alive today as it was when written for the ages in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. It stands for all the world to see and for all Americans to cherish. And in the tradition of Washington, Jefferson, and Hamilton, we, too, have a privilege, a right, and a duty. While we may disagree as to the methods, we should not disagree as to the goal — that of preserving the greatest democratic society the world has ever known. Our flag is a symbol, not of sentiment, but of history, the history of men and women willing to live and die for it. Surely this willingness is with us still, because daily we experience more of the blessings that are ours — ours because we are Americans.
