Friday Is "Soap and Towel Night" For Athletic Department

Friday night as been designated as "Soap and Towel Night" for the school athletic department.

The Owls will scrimmage the Matador Matadors at 8:00 p.m., and for a little extra fun and to help the athletic department, each man attending will be asked to donate a towel and each woman will be asked to "pay" a bar of soap for her admission fee.

Of course, no admission is charged at the scrimmages, and anyone who doesn't bring a towel or soap will be admitted just the same; however, if a fan forgets to bring a towel or soap and wants to help this project, he can drop a little money in the box that will be provided.

The "Soap and Towel Night" last year netted 84 towels, 155 bars of soap and $38.50 in cash. This is used in the athletic department all through the school year.

Boys Ranch Rodeo Feature Of Labor Day Weekend

The 350 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch will stage their 26th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo September 6 and 7 as a feature of the Labor Day weekend.

Believed to be the only rodeo of its kind in the nation in which the only contestants are boys riding professional rodeo stock under R.C.A. rules, the event is expected to attract about 5,000 persons for each of the two afternoon performances which begin at 2:30 p.m. The boys have been getting ready for the rodeo with qualification rides on calves, steers, Brahma bulls and bucking broncs for about two months. All will have a part in the rodeo with 88 riding as contestants for the trophies that will be awarded to the best riders. Top honors will be the Senior and Junior All-around Cowboy trophies, with first, second and third place trophies going to contestants in each riding event.

Texas-size barbecue sandwiches with all the trimmings will be on sale for $1.00. The barbecue concession is one of several that will be operated by the boys. Another rodeo feature will be the appearance of riding clubs from area communities in the rodeo's grand entry.

Reserved box seats can be obtained by calling the Boys Ranch office, 372-2341, in Amarillo. Ticket prices are $2.50 for box seats; general admission tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75c for children.

Veterans who attended classes during the spring and summer sessions under the GI Bill should make sure their Certification of Attendance cards are returned to the Veterans Administration immediately, Jack Coker, director, VA Regional Office, Waco, said today.

Coker explained that unless the cards are returned, veterans cannot be paid the educational money for their last month of training. Neither can they be paid for their first month of training when they return to school this fall.

COMPANY TO CONSOLIDATE DIVISION OFFICES SOON

Southwestern Public Service Company will reduce its number of division offices to three with the consolidation of the Southern and Plains Divisions into a single division, headquartered at Lubbock, it has been announced by Roy Tolk, president of the electric company.

Faster transportation, improved communications, advanced technology and better trained and more skilled employees at the local office level were cited by Tolk as reasons for the consolidation. "When we put this company together in its present form 28 years ago we had six division offices. In the mid-50's we reduced that number to five and last year we cut it down to four. The purpose of the division office has always been to lend staff and administrative support to the local office, the one which serves the customer. We can get around faster now, we can talk more quickly on radio or telephone and we have better equipment and better employees. That lets us concentrate more on serving the customer more efficiently and economically and directly through local offices," Tolk pointed out.

Troy Burson is a patient in the Swisher Memorial Hospital this week, having entered the hospital on Tuesday.

Donald Ramsey, pianist; Randy Berryhill, Eddie Owens, Scotty Stark and Max Ham.

The young people will practice their musical program in a variety show to be held tonight (Thursday, September 3) at 8:00 o'clock in the Quitaque School Auditorium. The money raised will be used to help defray expenses on their trip to College Station.

TO APPEAR ON TELEVISION

The Quitaque young people will also be featured on the KGNC Farm and Home Show at noon on Saturday, September 12.

Welfare Caseworker to Certify For Food Stamp Program Here

Briscoe County low-income families interested in the Food Stamp Program should contact Mrs. Helen Phelps, local caseworker with the Texas Department of Public Welfare.

She is at the county courthouse in Silverton on Friday of each week, according to Lester Woods, welfare unit supervisor, Pampa. The program opened in Briscoe County on August 21.

Issuance of food stamps will be made on Friday of the first full week of each month and again during the third week.

In general, families eligible for the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food Stamp Program include those who work for low wages, or receive public assistance or a small pension check, and who cook food at home. Food stamps cannot be used to pay for meals at restaurants, and are not good for imported foods or non-food items, such as soap, paper goods and liquor.

Food stamps give low-income families more food-buying power. For example, a family of four with an income of $155 a month will pay $42 each month and receive food coupons worth $106. The difference is made up by "bonus" coupons paid for by federal funds.

Food stamps are used just like money at local grocery stores authorized by USDA's Food and Nutrition Service to accept them, and are redeemed at cooperating banks through the Federal Reserve System.

 COST-PER-UNIT PRICING

For some time now, homemakers have asked for help in figuring out which size package or can is the "best buy." By this they mean they would like some way to help them find out which size to choose in order to get the most for their money.

The food shopper today wants facts not only about the product she buys, but also about the price tags attached to them. Encouraged by numerous consumer-oriented federal, state and local laws and regulations recently enacted or pending, retailers are looking for various means of providing the food shopper with more information, clearly stated.

Unit pricing is one of these measures. In recent months a number of big food chains have introduced customers to unit pricing on a temporary basis. It's too soon yet to tell whether unit pricing is what customers really want, and whether it is something they will use for their own benefit.

Unit pricing tells customers how much products cost by the ounce, pound, pint, quart, or some other common denominator suitable for specific, comparable items. The idea is to take the guesswork out of prices and make it easier to compare costs.

At present, there are about 8,000 different items in a big supermarket, and around 2,000 new items are being added every year. These items come in numerous differently-sized packages. The 6-slice packages of bologna, 320-ounce boxes of detergent, 2-ounce jars of instant coffee, and No. 303 cans of peas of undeclared weight are examples.

For the food shopper without a strong background in merchandising, or some talents in mathematics, making comparisons between various sized packages in order to determine which will offer the most for the money becomes difficult.

One's dilemma is heightened when items are priced in multiple such as 2/for, or 3/for. Suppose the same size cans of evaporated milk are priced at 2/39c and 5/99c. Which is the least expensive per can? How much would a single can cost?

If you are an economy-minded food shopper you should be able to tell which of the items are the best buy for your food dollar. Unit pricing would give you the answers.

Being able to take advantage of the best bargain by using information available, and being able to do some simple arithmetic can save the food shopper money. Remember that pennies add up to dollars.

Interest in unit pricing is spreading fast. But most leading food retailers, and spokesmen for consumers as well, seem to agree that it warrants a closer and longer look before specific costs and consumer reaction can be gauged to a meaningful degree.

It is recognized, too, that food shoppers don't buy on the basis of price alone. They also have preferences, sometimes deep-rooted, for certain qualities, brands, and packagings. These are also status considerations.

Many questions about unit pricing remain. Consumer surveys and analyses of sales data in upcoming months may answer at least some of them.

For example, if there is a noticeable consumer shift from one size package or brand of product to another it may mean that some consumers have gotten the message written for them.

But how many? And how many from inner-city, low-income families? Those are the people whom unit pricing is particularly designed to protect and benefit.

After all's said and done, unit pricing may prove to be what consumers want and what their sponsors will endorse.

Quitaque and Briscoe County will be in the spotlight as one of the honored guests. The community won second place in the state contest year and will be awarded a silver tray and a $450.00 cash prize. The Quitaque community youth will also provide the entertainment for the program.

Let The Bible Speak

Edwin J. Myers, Evangelist

PROPER ATTITUDE TOWARD THE SCRIPTURES

Either the Bible is the inspired Word of God, or it is not. If it is the Word of God—and it is—then we are obligated to follow it in our religious word and worship. If it is not the Word of God, then we might as well think nothing of it and go ahead and do as we please, following our own bent of mind as our sole rule of conduct in life. There can be no middle ground. One's attitude toward the Scriptures is not right, if he claims to accept them as the Word of God, but at the same time transgresses them in order to follow self or other men.

Some Regard Their Traditions As Authoritative As The Bible

When Jesus came into the world, the scribes and pharisees had some traditions which they cherished very much. Some of these were not necessarily wrong within themselves. In fact, some of their practices were excellent, had they not made a part of their religious life, and sought to bind them upon everyone else. But when they substituted their traditions for the Word of God, Jesus denounced them in a very stern manner. "Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition." (Matthew 15:6) "But in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men." (Matthew 15:9). The traditions of men always blind them to the truth, and lead them farther and farther from the way of the Lord. The more rigidly we adhere to our traditions, the farther we depart from the truth of God.

Proper Attitude Toward The Scriptures Will Not Allow Tampering With Them

Some accept the Scriptures when they meet with their approval. They like to think of the Bible as God's Word, yet do not want to accept all it says. They want to put their own construction upon it. They regard the Bible very much as the Romans did the oracle of Delphi. It always admits of two or more meanings and every individual has his choice as to which he will accept. The Bible is not the product of deceit and duplicity. It reads alike to every one. If two see it differently, then one is wrong, and maybe both, but it is impossible for both to be right. The Bible does not teach both conditional and unconditional salvation at the same time. It teaches salvation by faith alone, or it does not. We must remember men have tried to warp and twist the Scriptures so as to make them support every theory imaginable, and therefore I exhort you to "Try the spirits whether they are of God; because many false prophets are gone out into the world." (1 John 4:1)

Wofford - Garrison Vows Exchanged In Candlelight Service at Stephenville

Miss Molly Sue Wofford and Mr. Garner Michael Garrison were married in a candlelight service in the First Baptist Church chapel in Stephenville on August 21 at seven o'clock in the evening, with the Rev. Emil Becker officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wofford of Stephenville and Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Garrison of Silvertown.

The wedding vows were exchanged before a gleaming arch of white tapers and baskets of white gladioli. Votive candles and greenery marked the pews.

Mrs. Lowell Carder accompanied Miss Sarah Wofford, sister of the bride, as she sang "O Promise Me."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire style silk taffeta gown with moulded bodice fashioned with wide oval neckline. The waist and long fingertip sleeves were of Alencon lace traced with tiny seed pearls.

Her veil of silk illusion extended to form a coif of the Alencon lace and seed pearls.

Mrs. Charles Richard Wenmohs of Stephenville and Denton attended her sister as matron of honor. Jerry Martin of Silvertown served as best man. Ushers were Leland Wood of Silvertown, Don Dunn of Bellevue and Nat Wofford of Stephenville, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a re-

Americans - and proud of it

Yes, most of us are proud to be living in America, enjoying the freedom and prosperity it permits us. To be able to raise our children in a land of opportunity where each and everyone may direct his own life and destiny according to his choice is certainly not the least among our blessings. The great majority of us who are proud of our citizenship may be silent, but, at least, we try not to be neglectful in our respect for law and order.

There are those, however, who seek to undermine the cause of freedom in our land by disorder and disobedience to the law. Just as this minority seems determined to undermine the foundations of our social order, we that are proud of our citizenship and thankful for the opportunities it offers should be just as determined to save all those things we have always valued so highly... Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness.

LIBERTY AND JUSTICE FOR ALL
 Our priceless heritage embodied in the flag of the United States, is as alive today as it was when written for the ages in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. It stands for all the world to see and for all Americans to cherish. And in the tradition of Washington, Jefferson, and Hamilton, we, too, have a privilege, a right, and a duty. While we may disagree as to the methods, we should not disagree as to the goal—that of preserving the greatest democratic society the world has ever known.
 Our flag is a symbol, not of sentiment, but of history, the history of men and women willing to live and die for it. Surely this willingness is with us still, because daily we experience more of the blessings that are ours—ours because we are Americans.

A long time ago, when ladies couldn't be as frank as we can today, Lydia Pinkham recognized the problem and set about finding a remedy. She knew it was not natural for women to have to suffer with what was obviously a natural process.

So she turned to nature for a remedy. She developed a marvelous compound of medicinal roots and herbs that turned the trick for the women she knew. Because it is a natural answer to your natural problems, it can turn the trick for you, too.
