Review Safety Rules Before Hunting

Before hunting this fall, review safety rules and help prevent accidents. Hunting is one of the safest sports when the large number of hunters is compared with the small number of accidents. But even one accident is tragedy for some families. If taking youngsters to the field for the first time, impress on them that accidents are caused by careless shooters. Practice safe gun handling at all times and encourage young hunting friends to do the same. Treat every gun as if it were loaded. Never point a gun at anything you don't expect to shoot. An be sure of your target before pulling the trigger. Be sure the barrel and actions are clean and clear of obstructions. Keep the chamber and magazine open at all times when the gun is not in use. And never store or leave a loaded gun unattended. Carry the gun so you can control the direction of the muzzle—even though you stumble. And unload your gun before climbing trees or fences or jumping ditches. Don't drink alcoholic liquids before or during hunting or shooting. Never shoot at a flat surface or the surface of water. Practice safe gun handling rules they become second nature. By remembering to treat every gun with respect and pointing only at things you want to shoot, you

Continuation of Price Freeze Announced

The Cost of Living Council announced on October 28 that the regulations which made the 90-day program a "freeze" will be modified to make the system more effective. Donald Rumsfeld, Director of the Council, stated that there will be no automatic ending on November 13 of present freeze rules on wages, prices, and rents. They will be changed only by the introduction of new regulations, thus preventing a gap that would occur if present rules were allowed to end before new ones had been instituted.

Rumsfeld noted that, as stated in the President's Executive Order of October 15, the provisions of the economic stabilization program which have been in force since August 15 will continue until they are specifically modified by the Pay Board, Price Commission, or the Cost of Living Council. However, changes will occur only through explicit action taken by competent authority. It is anticipated that initial modifications to the freeze rules will be announced prior to November 13.

The October 15 Executive Order states, in part: "Pending action under this Order, and except as otherwise provided in section 202 of the Economic Stabilization Act of 1970, as amended, prices, rents, wages, and salaries are stabilized effective as of August 16, 1971, at levels not greater than the highest of those pertaining to a substantial volume of actual transactions by each individual, business, firm, or other entity of any kind during the 30-day period ending August 14, 1971 for like or similar commodities or services. If no transactions occurred in that period, the ceiling will be the highest price, rent, salary or wage in the nearest preceding 30-day period in which transactions did occur. No person shall charge, assess, or receive, directly or indirectly, in any transaction, prices or rents in any form higher than those permitted hereunder, and no person shall, directly or indirectly, pay or agree to pay, in any transaction, wages or salaries in any form, or to use any means to obtain payment of wages and salaries in any form, higher than those permitted hereunder, whether by retroactive increase or otherwise."

Replanting Irises

Late summer-early fall is an ideal time for planting or renovating iris beds. And, while you are at it, plant some hardy bulbs such as tulips for spring flowering.

Most irises need digging and dividing three to five years after planting. Separate rhizomes (fleshy roots) and replant clean, disease-free ones.

New plantings do best in a garden-type soil that is insect-free and well supplied with organic matter. Space plants to suit your needs, but remember the closer rhizomes are planted, the sooner they'll have to be dug and separated.

Treat hardy bulbs likewise. Spring flowering bulbs such as tulips get smaller and less vigorous over the years, so you'll have to dig and separate them periodically or add new ones to keep up desired flowering.

A "rule of thumb" for planting depth is about three times depth of bulb or rhizome, which means four to eight inches for most bulbs.

In areas where ground freezes, mulch bulbs with a few inches of clean straw, pine bark or similar material. At spring bloom, fertilize lightly with a low nitrogen, complete fertilizer such as 5-10-10.

When new growth starts in spring, protect it against thrips and other leaf mining insects. I use a good, broad spectrum insecticide such as Spectracide regularly throughout the growing season.

Right now while you are planting irises and hardy bulbs is a good time to check ornamentals, apple trees, and garden vegetables for spider mites. These tiny fellows, called red spiders, thrive best in dry weather. Spray plants thoroughly to control these pests. With Spectracide you can treat most vegetables up to 10 days of harvest.

Dining with Imagination

There's nothing as romantic or lovely as dining by candlelight. But unfortunately it can be a darkening experience, since people rarely use enough candles to allow diners to enjoy the food, table setting or each other.

Dining rooms automatically lend themselves to imaginative lighting because high lighting levels are usually not needed. And you can create the effect of candlelight by artfully using two or four candles on the table supplemented with subtle lighting. The trick is to get the effect of lighting without obviously revealing the source.

The chandelier is the traditional source of general illumination in dining areas. It also adds to the focal importance of the table. The base of the chandelier should be 30 inches to 36 inches above the table top, depending on the size of the fixture and the ceiling height. Originally a chandelier meant a candlestick with several branches, and to retain its true character, small flame-like bulbs such as Sylvania's Decor Lites should be used.

To cut down on glare, there should be additional incandescent illumination on the walls. General room lighting must be built up to a level where the contrast between the chandelier lights and other lighting is not objectionable.

Lighting can make your dining experiences more enjoyable, and there's no need to fear losing the charm of candlelight. Subtle lighting will only enhance the setting and add to the charm.

A blue ribbon study commission... come out strong for state constitutional revision and widespread restructuring of the state and local governmental system.

The Texas Urban Development Commission, winding up an 18-month study which enlisted the services of experts and laymen, issued its 200-page report to Gov. Gordon Smith.

Smith, commending the body for charting "a clear course for those government to act on," announced appointment of a 17-member permanent Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. The latter will follow up the report of the study group.

THE LAND

THE LAND is one of man's most valuable assets—we think it is prime collateral. In the past 54 years the Federal Land Bank of Houston has made almost 200,000 loans on Texas farms and ranches.

In other words, we specialize in making farm and ranch real estate loans—long term loans with prepayment privileges.

headed by Arlington Mayor Tom J. Vandergiff as chairman and Dr. Earl M. Lewis of Trinity University in San Antonio.

"The Texas Constitution," said the Commission, "should be thoroughly changed to allow state and local governments to exercise more initiative and to be more responsive to current and future demands but at the same time free to be truly responsive to changing needs and emerging problems."

Among 50 major recommendations were the following:

"State government should begin moving toward a new organizational and management system and consolidation of urban services in about 20 existing agencies."

"The governor should have more power over budgeting and appointments and removal of state agency governing boards chairmen."

"Local governments should be reorganized to meet specific local needs and granted greater fiscal authority through additional revenue sources and property tax overhaul."

"Growth of special purpose districts must be checked."

"Urban growth planning programs and coordinated land planning should be launched at all levels of government."

Appointments
George E. Stanley of Port Arthur was named to the Veterans Affairs Commission, succeeding the late Charles C. Ford of Longview.

Governor Smith named 10 members of the Criminal Justice Council executive committee and designated L. O'Brien Thompson of Amarillo as chairman.

Smith appointed an 18-member study committee on traffic court reorganization.

Lawrence L. Jester has been designated district engineer of the State Highway Department's Atlanta district on retirement of G. A. Youngs.

William G. Reid of Austin will serve as general counsel for the recently-established Texas Criminal Defense Lawyers Association.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes named committees to study the system of state licensing and examining boards and retirement benefits for employees of public educational institutions.

Bonds Sold
Continuation of the veterans land program was assured by sale of $20.8 million in bonds.

The low bid of 4.48943 per cent effective net interest was submitted by a group of 50 investors. The constitutional ceiling on interest rates is 4.5 per cent for the program.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said the sale means the program can operate until almost the end of 1972 when Texas voters will have a chance to pass a constitutional amendment to raise the interest rate ceiling to six per cent.

The Veterans Land Board is constitutionally authorized to sell another $70.7 million in bonds. More than 43,500 Texans have bought land under the program.

A New Governor
Texas will have a new governor briefly in December—When Sen. W. E. (Pete) Snelson of Midland takes over as chief executive for the day.

Snelson, as president pro tempore of the Senate, is third in line for the governorship. Governor Smith and Lieutenant Governor Barnes will be absent themselves from the state December 4 so Snelson can have the honor of serving as governor. He represents 35 counties of the 25th senatorial district.

Courts Speak
The State Court of Criminal Appeals upheld Texas' abortion law, and said the state has the right to prohibit operations, in a decision conflicting with a June 18, 1970, three-judge federal court ruling at Dallas.

The Court of Criminal Appeals also reversed a Waco marijuana conviction due to improper questioning of witnesses by the prosecuting attorney.

State Supreme Court heard arguments in a suit seeking to nullify University of Texas acquisition of a 588-acre Odessa site for the new UT-Permian Basin campus because of the proximity of oil and gas equipment and a potential safety hazard.

Ag Opinions
The governor can commute death sentences to life imprisonment even though convictions are on appeal, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

"A new 'surtax' on misdemeanor and felony convictions ($2.50 to $10—cannot be assessed for offenses committed prior to last August 30, date the law went into effect.

"Issue of tax cancellation certificates are authorized, and should cover all tax certificates showing no taxes due which had been previously and lawfully issued.

"Computation of actual interest expense incurred and to be recovered as an item of selling price on long term federal water contracts shall be made by applying the cumulative average effective rate to only that portion of the 'direct cost' of the facility which is attributable to Texas Water Development Fund money.

Pesticide Decision Put Off
The new State Pesticide Advisory Committee delayed its decision on banning DDT for household uses.

No recommendation was made because the Environmental Protection Agency has not made its official rulings on DDT, committee chairman Dr. Perry Adkisson of Texas A & M University said.

The five-member committee will meet again December 7 to consider the matter. Texas Department of Agriculture, charged with administering the state law on pesticides, asked advice from the advisory panel authorized by the legislature this year.

Hunt Invite "Disappears"
State legislators and officials who had been invited to hunt on state game management areas found the invitations suddenly withdrawn after newspapers publicized them.

Parks and Wildlife Department Executive Director James U. Cross issued the invitations, although other would-be deer hunters are required to draw for the limited number of free permits in the areas. PW Commissioners expressed doubt special exceptions could be made for state officials and legislators, so the bid was unceremoniously taken back. One commissioner called for Cross's resignation over the incident, but the new director said he plans to stay on the job.

Pool Meet Slated
Complaints about the new Texas catastrophe pool insurance plan will be aired at a public hearing December 7.

The State Board of Insurance announced it will "consider all aspects" of the plan approved by the Legislature for 14 seacoast counties this year.

Texas Association of Insurance Agents will offer testimony and stress "positive steps" that can make the pool work as intended.

Short Snorts
Attorney General Martin lambasted the new state code of ethics for public officials as a "virtual mishmash" and predicted a court effort by one or more political subdivisions to invalidate it.

TRIUMPH OF EVIL

"All that is necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing."—Thomas Burke

Liberty is not lost in one stroke. It is lost by a series of small, insidious evils, that strip us of our rights one by one.

Our comfortable way of life can easily lull us into a false sense of security. Unless we become alert to the seemingly minor inroads being made into our freedom, we may awake with a start one day to find it gone. Be AWARE of what is going on in your country—SUPPORT AMERICA!

© Coleman Advertising Serv., 2653 Tarna Drive, Dallas, Texas 75229

Our priceless heritage embodied in the flag of the United States, is as alive today as it was when written for the ages in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. It stands for all the world to see and for all Americans to cherish. And in the tradition of Washington, Jefferson, and Hamilton, we, too, have a privilege, a right, and a duty. While we may disagree as to the methods, we should not disagree as to the goal—that of preserving the greatest democratic society the world has ever known.

Our flag is a symbol, not of sentiment, but of history, the history of men and women willing to live and die for it. Surely this willingness is with us still, because daily we experience more of the blessings that are ours—ours because we are Americans.

Young Homemakers Hear Guest Speaker

Silverton Young Homemakers held their November 4 meeting in the Pioneer Room at First State Bank. Guest speaker was Mrs. Ed (Merle) Wittner of Plainview.

Mrs. G. W. Chappell gave the devotional, "For This One Hour." Mrs. Wittner spoke on "The Fine Art of Liking Ourselves." One point brought out was that the things one likes least about others is the same he dislikes about himself. Have a motto such as "I don't expect anymore of myself than I can do at my best!" Happiness is obtained through being straight with God.

During the business meeting that followed the Young Homemakers voted not to sell pecans this year due to the high cost. The Roving Santa will be in Silverton on December 15-17, 20-22. Each family that wants Santa to visit in their home may call the Young Homemakers for an appointment. The cost will be $1.50 per family.

The annual progressive dinner will be held Saturday, December 11. Following the dinner, cards and dominoes will be played in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Chappell.

Odds are your '72 harvest won't be as good as this year's But you can cut those odds. By taking some of the gamble out of next spring's planting and plowing down with Oxy's high-phosphate Zipp® fertilizer. It cuts the odds by plenty. Spring planting is no time to run out of time. Or equipment or labor or dealer service. Or fertilizer. A few days at planting can make a lot of difference. One sure way to buy a few extra days next spring is plowing down this fall. Fall plowdown's like insurance at no extra cost. It gets your fertilizer down when the weather is right. When the soil is firm. And fertilizer is available on a no-wait basis. Suppose next spring is not as dry as this one was. Wet, sloppy conditions could put a two or three week damper on your planting schedule. Fall plowdown won't improve next spring's weather delays. But it will insure that a good and proper fertilizer bed will be ready and waiting when you do start up. Oxy can help. See us now about your fall fertilizer—high-phosphate Zipp. And get the jump on spring. Hill Farm Supply, Inc. Silvertown, Texas
