■ MHS rallies for first win in nearly two years

By RICK WHITE Managing Editor

FRITCH — Quitting has been the simple solution for losing for years at Muleshoe High School.

That changed last week when players took a hard look at what it takes to win, and a hard line against three starters who quit the team. The soul searching came just two days after the whole team had quit on Muleshoe head coach David Wood during an embarrassing 55-0 loss to Perryton.

Quitting is no longer acceptable.

Muleshoe displayed its new resolve Friday, snapping an 18game losing streak with a 25-14 District 1-3A win over Sanford-Fritch. Muleshoe reeled off 25 unanswered points after falling behind 14-0 six minutes into the game.

"I think it all started Monday," said sophomore quarterback Matt McClanahan, who completed 9 of 16 passes for 144 yards and a touchdown and ran for two more scores. "We had a few players quit, but that by golly they're not going the rest of us decided to stick it out, and I think that helped bring us together as a team."

Muleshoe's last win was 43-15 over Dimmitt Oct. 28, 1994.

"It's the best feeling I've had in a longtime," said senior Jarrod Redwine, who ignited the Mules' comeback with a clutch 26-yard reception in the "The (rest of the) players first quarter. He also made touchdown-saving tackle with Muleshoe clinging to a 18-14 lead in the third quarter. "Iknew we were finally going to win."

■ Lady Mules ignore pain, gain 1-3A title

AMARILLO — Call them the "pain gang."

With freshmen Lynsie Black and Stacy Locker gritting out painful injuries Saturday, the Muleshoe Lady Mules bunched four runners in the top six to capture the District 1-3A girls cross country title at Thompson Park.

MHS' 31 points easily outdistanced 1995 state qualifiers Dimmitt and Sanford-Fritch. Dimmitt finished second with 51 points and Sanford-Fritch third with 56 points.

Sanford-Fritch's Starla Cole won the individual title, covering the 2.1 mile course in 13 minutes and 17 seconds. Dimmitt's Shawna Kenworthy was second (13:18) and Muleshoe senior Priscilla Aguirre was third (13:19)...

The top two teams and five individuals advanced to the Class 3A Region I meet this Saturday at Mae Simmons Park in Lubbock.

"It was the worst 24 to 48 hours of my life," said Muleshoe coach Kim Zollinger after Black strained a hip flexor during basketball practice Thursday and Locker sprained an ankle Friday when she fell off a pyramid during cheerleader practice. "They we're in a lot of pain. But I told them they have to do it for the girls in front of them."

Senior Cari Faver was fourth

MISD explores assistance program for employees

By SAMUEL VILLARREAL Journal staff writer

The Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees Monday discussed a program that would provide financial and health counseling for district employees during its regular bi-monthly meeting.

The Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is a program for businesses and school districts that provides employees with information on a wide array of topics, ranging from consumer credit information to health issues.

"When you think about how money and health can cause stress on our employees, this program would provide excellent benefits," said MISD superintendent Bill Moore.

Funding for the program would come from the MISD workers compensation fund, according to Moore.

District employees would have unlimited access to the EAP's resources through company hot-line numbers. Employees can also receive short-term psychological counseling at no additional cost.

Edwards also discussed the possibility of seminars covering topics of interest to employees, students, and parents. According to Edwards, the EAP programs provides a consumer credit program geared towards junior and senior students to help prepare them to be financially responsible and independent.

In other items discusses Monday, the board also received a recommendation for weighted grade point average for Advanced Placement (AP) courses at MHS.

LUBBOCK - Several students at Muleshoe High School recently attended the "Celebration of Teaching" conference Oct. 14 at Lubbock Christian University.

The conference focused on introducing students to the field of education.

"The conference was to make students aware of the need for good teachers," said Georgia Pena, director of federal programs at MHS. "Educators are always on the lookout for new people with new ideas of how to teach."

The main speaker was Dr. Juan Solis, who is an education professor at the University of Texas -Pan-American in Edinburg.

"Dr. Solis was a great speaker," Pena said. "He talked to the kids about the teachers who influenced him most, and how he became a teacher."

Students attending the conference also got the chance to get a taste of college life by spending the day with LCU students.

Other students who received prizes were Andres Martinez, Lusila Flores, and Nick Gutierrez.

Mighty 'M' band fails to advance

By SAMUEL VILLARREAL Journal staff writer

The Muleshoe High School Mighty 'M' Band placed 9th Saturday at the Area A University Interscholastic League Marching Competition.

"They did their best and had a wonderful performance," said director Rob Lovett. "I was very pleased by their performance."

UIL Area competition uses a five-judge system to place bands. Each band receives an individual ranking from each of the five judges, Rankings are then totaled, and the two bands with the lowest totals advance to state competition.

Crane High School swept the competition, receiving first place votes from all five judges. Brownfield placed second, while Denver City was chosen as alternate.

According to Lovett, judges cited the low number of brass players in the as their reason for placing the band as low as they did.

LUBBOCK—Issues come and issues go and Lubbockbased Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) has little time to reflect on the battles won and lost over its 40 years of service to High Plains cotton producers and the allied industries they support.

Through the years, representing some 20,000 cotton producers and landlords, PCG has developed a strong, wideranging support structure. This structure allows PCG to rapidly address situations that threaten area cotton producers. It also provides an efficient mechanism for the advancement of beneficial ideas and programs on behalf of the High Plains cotton producer.

An excellent example of how this system is utilized is the current effort to reform proposed regulations that will govern how Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) is carried out in the future.

"Without adjustment the proposed CRP rules have the potential to eliminate a large number of existing High Plains CRP contracts," warns PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson. "If adopted without some consideration for the beneficial effects this program has had on air and water quality and wildlife we could, as a result, erase much of the progress that has already been made and throw away a significant environmental investment."

Johnson notes that PCG staff members have been working with a number of groups, including the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 and the National Cotton Council, to convey these concerns, along with recommendations for change, to the Natural Resource Conservation Service and Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickman. In comments being prepared at this time, the Secretary is being asked to consider carefully not only the adverse effect that might result on the High Plains, but also the effect in areas adjacent to the High Plains.

In another area PCG representatives have been working once-again to fix problems that exist in the current Federal Crop Insurance Program.

PCG officials note that primary areas of focus at this time center on the introduction of a Revenue

Winning new experience for seven seniors

FRITCH — Friday's 25-14 win at Sanford-Fritch was magnificent for seven Muleshoe seniors.

For more than half of them, it was their first high school win.

All seven played significant roles as Muleshoe snapped an 18-game losing streak.

■ Linebacker Harvey Alfaro recorded a teamhigh 11 tackles in his first start, including six solo tackles. His 11-yard sack right before halftime was a big emotional lift.

"He stepped up big," Muleshoe coach David Wood said. "We talk all the time about being ready when your number is called. He was ready when his number was called. He's been ready since the first day of practice.

■ Cornerback Cory Williams played solid in pass coverage. His interception inside the Muleshoe 20-yard line with 27 seconds left sealed the win.

"He's one of our more solid secondary players," Wood said. "Except for the Dalhart game, he's been in the right place every game."

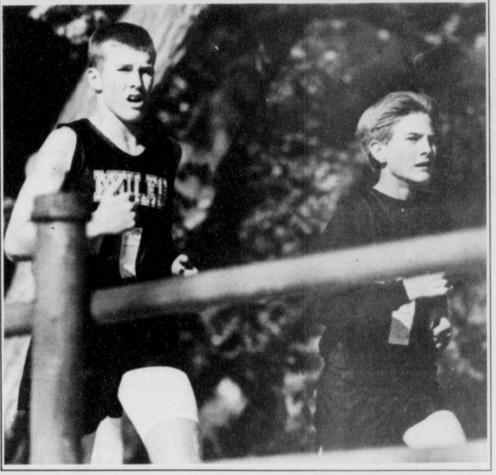

■ Defensive tackle Jose Lopez. Lopez helped Muleshoe control the line of scrimmage after the first quarter. He was at his best in the second quarter when he stuffed two consecutive running plays.

Teams have run at him and away from standout junior tackle Ricko Aguirre all year.

"He played a good game all-around," Wood said. "He graded out pretty high."

■ Wide receiver Jeff Wheeler two passes for 34 yards. His 23-yard catch and run on fourth down

Most coaches don't want to play top-ranked Whitharral.

Lazbuddie coach Mark Scisson is hoping to play the Panthers twice.

Lazbuddie hosts Whitharral Friday in a showdown for the District 3-1A title.

Both teams are 8-0 overall and 3-0 in the district. Both teams have already qualified for the state playoffs.

"Win or loss, I think we have a real good chance to see them again of seeing them again in the state semifinals," Scisson said. "That's we'd like to do is see them again."

Whitharral is ranked No. 1 in the state and Lazbuddie is ranked No. 7.

Whitharral's team quickness does justice to its nickname. The Panthers have the area's top-ranked defense and has outscored its opponents, 412-42, including five shutouts.

Lazbuddie counter with the area's top offense, averaging more than 400 yards a game.

The Longhorns hope to keep the Whitharral's offense off the field with a ball-control offense that has gained more than 1,500 yards both rushing and passing.

"There's no stopping Whitharral," Scisson said. "You can only hope to slow then down. But if we can control the ball and avoid turnovers, we have a chance to win the ball game. If we don't, they'll do the same thing to us that they've done to the other teams."

Muleshoe (1-7, 1-4) was staring another blowout out when on the next series McClanahan squeezed a perfect 26-yard strike between two defenders to Redwine at midfield.

"I think that gave us some confidence," Redwine said. "That was a great throw by Matt. My job is to catch it."

McClanahan was a perfect 3 for 3 on the drive for 51 yards, including a 15-yard to B.J. Gonzales on third down that put the ball at the Sanford-Fritch 1. McClanahan scored two plays later, completing an 94-yard, 18-play drive.

With a little less than five left in the half, Muleshoe forced a Sanford-Fritch punt into the wind, and took over midfield.

Ten plays later, McClanahan snuck over from the two-yard line to pull MHS within 14-12 with 1:15 left in the half.

Douglass Field, who finished with a team-high 91 yards on 17 carries, kept the drive alive with a 4-yard run on fourth-and-short at the 41. A 22-yard swing pass to Louis Hines advanced the ball to the 15.

"The big thing was, yeah we won, but we came back from a deficit when we could have easily said, 'here we go again," Wood said. "For whateverreason, they started believing in themselves and what we're doing."

Muleshoe had been outscored 125-14 in its three previous games.

After exchanging punts to start the second half, Muleshoe took an 18-14 lead with two minutes left in the third quarter on a 10-yard swing pass to Hines on fourth -and-three.

Field supplied the key play in the 71-yard drive. On second-and-one at the MHS 39, the junior fullback shot through a hole in the middle of the line, veered left, and raced all the way to the Sanford-Fritch 28.

After taking the lead for the first time all season, Muleshoe nearly gave it right back.

After the Eagles scrambled to recover a short kickoff, Holland raced 63 yards to the Muleshoe 5-yard

Holland fumbled on the next play after being popped by Redwine and Chris Shelburne recovered. It was the first of three costly second half turnovers by the Eagles.

Muleshoe took nearly seven minutes off the clock before giving the ball up on downs at the Eagle 25 with 6:29 left in the game.

Two plays later, Sanford-Fritch quarterback Haven Reed fumbled a snap and Field fell on it at the 31.

On fourth-and-four at the 24, McClanahan hit Jeff Wheeler on a short hitch. The senior wide receiver lugged all the way to the one-yard line.

Field scored on the next play and when Ricko Aguirre kicked the extra point, Muleshoe had scored almost as many points in one game as it had the rest of the season (26 points).

Laney supporter objects to smear tactics

Dear Editor:

I would like to encourage the local and area residents to vote for Pete Laney in the District 85 State Representative election on Nov. 5th.

Pete is unequivocally the best man for the job. He has proven his strong capabilities over the past 24 years. Yes, he has served for 24 years and while his opponent presently states his objection to long-term service in the legislature,

I feel relatively certain that Mr. Cain would be "singing a different tune" if he were elected.

No one advances to the position of Speaker of the House of Representatives overnight. It requires a great deal of time and experience to arrive at such an honorable rank.

over the past 24 years. Yes, he So, why would we in this has served for 24 years and area of Texas want to lose that while his opponent presently advantage?

states his objection to longterm service in the legislature, a smear campaign recently and

Draft dodger in the White House

Dear Editor:

This great country of ours is probably the only country in the world where a draft dodger could sleep in the White House, while war veterans are sleeping out on the streets.

If I had voted for Bill Clinton in 1992, I would feel like I was getting in bed with liars, adulterers, draft dodgers, and homosexuals.

If I had voted for Bill Clinton for President, I would be ashamed to go to church. I would feel like I ought to ask my church to withdraw membership from me because I would be the biggest hypocrite you could find. To me, the integrity of a person running for office and the morals of our country mean more than any easy dollar that someone could promise to give me.

Clinton is dragging the good name of the Baptist faith in the dirt when he claims to be a Baptist. He doesn't represent any of the things a Christian stands for, much less Baptist. I'm concerned about the future welfare of our country. God has always really blessed our people, but if we go too far astray from His teachings, and if we elect leaders who have no morals or character, eventually God will punish us. I don't want my children and grand-children to suffer for something I did.

I've been a registered Democrat all my life, but I'm not a stupid Democrat.

Please pray for our country.
Though the above is copied, this letter is so true, By the Bible and undenied truths.

Do you want your children and grandchildren looking up to a man that says it is all right to smoke drugs that are illegal and so bad for them.

All I ask is, that you will study your Bible and pray, then vote! A Democrat all my life till now and a Baptist,

Cyrus Dale

the charges have been totally unjust.

I find it very interesting that the attack upon the character and integrity of the Speaker of the House came immediately after the press released the fact that Mr. Cain had solicited and received contributions outside this district and he worked very hard to keep those contributions secret. Why could that be?

Pete is being criticized on several issues, primarily over the reimbursement for the operating expenses of his private airplane which he uses for state-wide-travel. What a shallow issue! Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock, Ag Commissioner Rick Perry, Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, and Railroad Commissioner Barry Williamson as well as other elected officials travel by private plane and all of them are reimbursed for their expenses. Is Mr. Cain saying he would travel at his own expense if he were elected? I think not. The Speaker of the House has 150 members spread all over this big, wide state and as Rep. John Smithee (R-Amarillo) so aptly worded it, "flying by private plane is the most feasible way to travel."

Among the other false accusations about Pete Laney, the most blatant misrepresentation is that he has supported more government control and less local control of our schools.

Pete has been committed to strengthening local control of the schools in this state. He also has worked diligently to bring high technology and computers to every school, even the smallest in rural areas

And, as for the age-old complaint that the lottery income is not being used for the sole purpose of education, PLEASE stop blaming Pete Laney for that — he had 1 vote on the issue, not total control.

Some of us have either forgotten or never understood that we were never promised the lottery revenue would be dedicated in its' entirety to education. The intent was to increase the state revenue which would in turn provide more money for education as well as other needs.

Although I have never been in favor of the lottery, I think I can be fair and open-minded enough to accept the fact that the lottery income was never promised to one singular need.

Like Mr. Cain, I, too, have daughters who are school teachers and grandchildren who attend public school, so naturally I would love for the majority of the state revenue to go to teachers' salaries and continued improvements in education. Unfortunately, there are many other needs which must be met in this huge state.

We've got a good thing going for us here in District 85.
Let's keep this train moving forward!

Westminster Abbey

In Westminster Abbey, author Alan Bennett (shown above) goes behind the scenes to present a personal portrait of the history, beauty, and everyday life of one of Britain's best-known landmarks.

Mingling with the crowds of tourists, watching cleaners and tour guides at work, and eavesdropping on services, Bennett uses the Abbey to scrutinize the English and English history, as well as his own relationship with the Church of England. Spending a full day in the Abbey, he highlights three of its most famous features — the Coronation Chair and the Stone of Scone, the Tomb of the Unknown Warrior, and the Poet's Corner — providing anecdotes and background information.

As presented by Bennett, Westminster Abbey is a place of ironies and oddities. The resting place of "names," its most famous corpse is anonymous and honored in a way no one else is: visitors may walk on the gravestones of any of the regal, legal, and literary lions buried there, but no one may walk on the grave of World War I's Unknown Warrior.

On his tour of the tombs, Bennett discovers that many of the aristocracy occupied a number of different locations within Westminster, as successive kings and queens decided on a reshuffle to ensure "pride of place." In recounting some of the Abbey's more curious tales, he reveals that for many years, Edward I's coffin was opened regularly to display the body, preserved in oiled linen.

Westminster Abbey will be broadcast Monday, November 4th at 9:00 p.m. and Tuesday, November 26th at 2:00 p.m.

NATURE "Mask of the Mandrill"

The dense and uncharted rainforest of Gabon in west Africa has long been one of the last true wildernesses. Only in the past decade or so have intrepid researchers sufficiently explored the land beneath the dark canopy of tropical vegetation to encounter some of the least-known animals in the world.

One of the most fascinating of those creatures, the largest and most colorful monkey on Earth, is profiled in "Mask of the Mandrill," premiering on Nature.

Even though existence of the mandrill has long been known to researchers, its behavior had remained largely a mystery until now.

Marked with a bright red, white, and blue face and other exotic coloring, the mandrill is an awesome and imposing primate. Living in troops, its constant need to eat young, tender leaves compels the mandrill to live life on the move.

Nature airs Sundays at 8:00 p.m. on KENW-TV. The series repeats Saturdays at 12:00 midnight.

Tis Cain n Education

In the first six months or 1996, Pete Laney improved his awesom ollis Cain believes providing a quality education for our children is the most important issue in Texas. Hollis is an advocate for public education. As a former school board member, Hollis understands the needs and problems of rural schools. He understands the impact of legislative action on local school districts and taxpayers. Hollis is proud that two of his daughters are certified teachers. He understands the difficulties faced by classroom teachers in complying with bureaucratic paperwork and mandates. Hollis is committed to working to make the schools in District 85 the best in the state.

Hollis Cain with five reasons he cares about quality education his grandchildren.

HOLLIS CAIN WILL WORK FOR:

- cutting centralized bureaucracy and bloated administrative costs
- putting savings from cuts into classroom resources and teacher pay
- curriculum standards that are objective, measurable and achievable
- back-to-basics academics and meaningful vocational programs for students
- less decision-making in Austin and more at the local level
- a school funding plan that benefits all schools without passing the burden on to property owners
- the fundamental right of parents to direct the education and upbringing of their children
- ensuring retired teachers have adequate pensions
- continuing the downsizing of the Texas Education Agency

Hollis Cain's opponent, James E. "Pete" Laney, voted for Robin Hood against the wishes of 70% of District 85 voters. Mr. Laney last month received another $25,000, his largest single contribution, from the liberal Texas NEA. Maybe that's why, as speaker, Mr. Laney has instructed his House Education Committee to consider giving incentive pay to innercity (Houston, Dallas, Austin, San Antonio) teachers. Hollis Cain wants to cut bureaucracy and waste and give more pay to ALL teachers.
