Low CCC Stocks Will Affect Farmers Marketing Methods

Spillway construction is underway at the Mackenzie Reservoir. The concrete bottom is from 18 inches to three feet thick. The upright structure is a support for the highway that will cross the spillway. Construction on the dam is about 40.68 complete. The work is running about 5% behind schedule; it is hoped that the work will be finished in February, but it may not be complete until April. (Briscoe County News Photo)

This picture of the Mackenzie dam shows the tower-like structure which is the draw-down or feeder line for the filtering plant. The water line (indicated by arrow) shows where about 25 feet of water was backed by the dam from earlier rains. This put the construction company's road, etc. underwater, and they had to let most of the water out. Water is being released through the draw-down all the time now.

Farmers can expect long-term beneficial effects from the sale of Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) grain stocks, and they can plan their marketing operations with this new factor in mind.

For the first time in a quarter of a century, producers no longer have huge government grain stocks hanging over the market. This means that farm prices in the future will more faithfully reflect the pull of the market. With CCC grain stocks practically out of the picture, farmers may want to plan their overall marketing operations accordingly.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently announced that CCC has sold or earmarked for special use all of its corn and wheat and has only small stocks of barley, rye and sorghums. The only grain being held in sizable quantity in CCC's uncommitted inventory is oats.

Orderly movement of government-held grain stocks into commercial channels has been progressing since early January when USDA announced plans to expand sales of CCC grain. The department pointed out then that it has a legal obligation to supplement short supplies of private grain, and since then over 250 million bushels of CCC grain have entered the market.

This means that anyone who wants to buy grain or soybeans for these commodities on the open market. Supply and demand now dominate prices which are no longer depressed by huge government-owned surpluses.

Looking ahead, this condition can be expected to continue as U. S. farmers everywhere can be looking ahead now to newer marketing methods—as many have already begun to do in many sections of the country.

Interest in forward contracting, hedging, and other forms of marketing to lock in profits, often before crops are even planted, is increasing across the country. One has only to notice the big increase in articles on the subject now appearing in the farm press to see this.

Now is the time for farmers to get information and make their own decision about whether, and in that way, to go about locking in the price they need to pay their expenses and make a profit. Information is available from local and national cooperatives, other local and national grain dealers, land-grant colleges, and frequently from bankers and other sources of farmer financing.

No one can tell a farmer when or at what price he should sell, because he is the one who takes the risk and stands to lose or gain. However, farmers everywhere are looking at their various options, and this is the way it should be.

Clinic Bids Opened Here Last Week

Bids for the building of a new medical clinic in Silverton were opened last week, and the lowest bid submitted was $102,000. The highest bid was $129,000.

It had been hoped that the clinic could be built for about $70,000, and the balance of the Cogdell gift kept on hand for maintaining the structure.

Clinic directors now say the structure will have to be redesigned so they can get a cheaper bid. Present design included facilities for two doctors and a garage for the new ambulance. It is likely that the ambulance garage will be done away with when the plans are modified and resubmitted for bids.

The first year's revenue sharing netted the City $5,008.00. Of this, a backhoe was purchased for $1,975.00; a bucket for the backhoe was purchased for $119.00 and a sewer machine was purchased for $1,345.00. There is $1,569.00 remaining on hand from last year.

Credit Institute To Be Held

Do you have trouble stretching your money from one pay day to the next? Is your money buying the things that are most important to you? Surveys show that many families do have problems with their money regardless of their income. Needs and wants seem to increase faster than income.

Many families have found that by using credit they can enjoy items for which they cannot pay cash. Some families have found themselves in financial difficulty because of the amount of credit they have used. Many companies have created new markets and demands for goods by consumers by making easy credit available.

Attitudes toward the use of credit are changing. At one time most families believed in "doing without" until it was possible to pay cash. Now many people believe in acquiring durable goods which have lasting value as needs arise, paying for these goods as they are used. Have your attitudes toward credit changed? Do you have questions regarding the types of credit which are available? Do you understand the legal credit rates in Texas? If so, you may be interested in attending a Credit Institute which will be held in Silverton and Quitaque. The institute will be held June 18 in Silverton and June 26 in Quitaque. More details regarding the programs being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, and the Briscoe County Home Demonstration Council will be printed in next week's paper.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Peggy Fleming.

The boys and their leaders were divided into seven Indian tribes. The tribes at different times went on these activities: Nature Trail, Archery, Obstacle Course, Indian Lore, Splash Time, Geology and Plaster Casting.

At closing time each boy received a Cub Country Day Camp badge.

Time Is Right To Kill Weed Pests

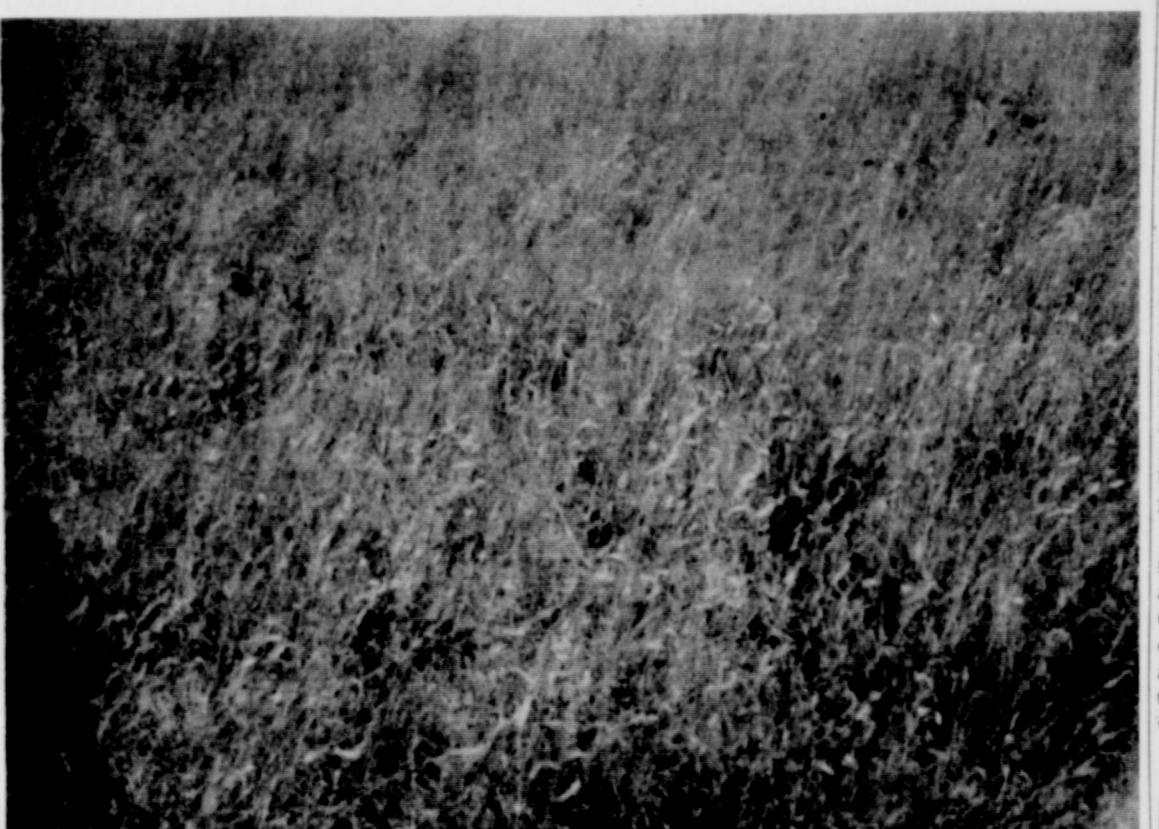

The time is right for growers to get a jump on those perennial weed pests—the woollyleaf bursage (lakeweed) and johnsongrass, says Dr. Robert B. Metzger, area agronomist - cotton, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

With adequate moisture and warmer temperatures, the weeds are making rapid headway in cot-

Silverton High School representatives at the 13th annual Texas Nuclear Science Symposium held June 7th through 7th at the University of Texas at Austin were Marshall Rauch, left, and John Shaller. The seminar was presented by the Atomic Energy Research Foundation, of which Southwestern Public Service Company is a member, and the university, 550 of the state's top students and teachers were present, including a High Plains delegation of 44 sponsored by Southwestern.

Proper grazing use and good management shown above, can result in excellent range condition as ton and other crops, he reports. "MSMA, sold under such trade names as Ansar or Daconate, will effectively control lakeweed and johnsongrass," the area specialist advises. "Ansar 529 is sold as a jug mixture containing a surfactant. Growers can apply one and a half quarts per acre if weeds are actively growing. But if weeds are moisture stressed, the rates should be increased to two quarts using 20 to 40 gallons of water per acre.

"Best results are obtained during open, sunny weather when the air temperature is 70° F or higher. Growers should not deep-break to control lakeweed. Cutting roots and shoots into smaller pieces of ten aids in further spread of this weed," he warns.

Says Metzger, "These perennial weeds will have to be resprayed to be effectively controlled. MSMA may be applied ahead of cotton planting, and after the cotton is three inches tall, a directed spray should be used."

The agronomist advises against applying over the top of plants or using MSMA after cotton begins to fruit.

"MSMA also is effective on other broadleaf weeds and grasses," he says, "such as cocklebur, volunteer sorghum, sandbar and nutgrass, but gives poor control of carelessness weeds."

To get around this problem, he advises, MSMA may be mixed with such herbicides as Karmex and Caparol to control these and other weeds.

"Another perennial weed, the Texas blueweed, can be controlled in cotton only by cultivation and hoeing since no effective herbicide is available," he adds. "In fields heavily infested with blueweed, producers could rotate to grain sorghum and use Banvel D or 2, 4-D. However, they should make sure no sensitive crop such as cotton or soybeans are nearby.

"Controlling weeds before they mature is essential," Metzger emphasizes, "in getting best results from herbicides or cultivation."

How Grasses Grow

About 95% of the plant food is taken from the air, 5% of the plant food is taken from the soil. Leaves are the food factories of the plant. In the presence of sunshine, they combine carbon dioxide from the air and water, nitrates, and minerals from the soil to make plant food. The roots gather raw material, water, nitrates and minerals which are converted into plant food by the leaves. Roots also serve as storehouses for food. This food is essential for regrowth. Nature gives you about 50% of the total volume of growth of a plant for the production of livestock and livestock products. The rest belongs to the land and the plant for grass insurance. This insurance provides for erosion control, soil fertility maintenance, water conservation, stabilized soil temperatures, plant development, and reproduction. Any use of the plant beyond 50% results in loss of plant vigor and future forage production. A healthy, vigorous, "well fed plant" always grows larger than a weak "underfed plant". And half of a large plant is always more than half of a small plant—and often more than all of a very small plant.

Wall Street in New York was so named because it follows the line of the palisaded wall or stockade built in 1652 across the southern end of Manhattan Island.

GOD LOOKS ON THE HEART

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Man's first reactions to another is based on outward appearances, and only time will help him to know the heart of another. God knows, immediately, every attitude of the heart, whether it is good or bad.

"Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God."

There are many rewards for those that follow the Lord. "Let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord."

Arnold - Sinor Vows Exchanged In Double - Ring Ceremony

Rock Creek Church of Christ was the scene of the marriage of Miss Penny Sue Arnold and Mr. Lee Sinor of Floydada, at 8:00 p.m. Friday, June 1. Earl Cantwell, minister of the church and a great-uncle of the bride, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Arnold of Silverton, and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Sinor of Floydada are parents of the bridegroom.

The candlelight ceremony was performed in front of the bride's family Bible and the setting was surrounded by candelabra holding lighted tapers.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length A-line dress designed with stand-up collar, long full cuffed sleeves ending in ruffles over her hands. Each sleeve had 24 cut-out hearts appliqued on it. Lace-edged rosettes with self-covered buttons in the center of each accented the collar and center front of her dress. Two lace-edged rosettes on her veil, dotted with daisies, framed her face as it fell from a band of daisies to waist length. Both the bride's dress and veil were made by her mother.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies, glameillas and baby's breath from which flowed white satin streamers tied with clusters of baby's breath in lover's knots. The bouquet was atop a Bible which was given to her parents as a wedding gift 23 years ago by an aunt.

To carry out bridal tradition, she added for something old a pair of pearl earrings given her by her mother and her new dress; she borrowed a silver cross necklace from her sister, and for something blue she wore a diamond-shaped ring, made by her mother, covered in the same blue fabric as the maid of honor's dress. For good luck she placed pennies in her shoes bearing the dates of the years of birth of the couple. The pennies were given to the bride by the bridegroom's grandfather, Mr. G. L. Fawver of Floydada.

The bride gave her mother a long-stemmed daisy with a kiss on entering to be married and one to the bridegroom's mother following the ceremony.

Miss Laura Arnold served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of blue trimmed with white in A-line design, and carried a long-stemmed daisy tied with blue streamers.

Candles were lighted by Miss Watha Cantwell of Plainview and David Bedingfield of Shallowater, cousins of the bride.

Guests were seated by Dana Martin and Dee Arnold, cousins of the bride. Gary Martin served as best man.

Soloist was Kerri Arnold, sister of the bride, who was escorted by Leslie Sinor, brother of the bridegroom. She sang "The Twelfth of Never" and "We've Just Begun." Mrs. Arnold selected a white dress trimmed with navy with white accessories and a glameilla corsage for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue dress with navy accessories and also added a glameilla corsage.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall following the ceremony. A blue streamer accented the center of the tables and a single white candle was placed on each table.

The wedding cake was made in three tiers and was decorated with blue and white roses and was topped with three large blue candy bells, a blue heart and two white doves. Serving and assisting with the reception were Mrs. Dana Martin, Mrs. Gary Martin, Miss Jeanette Arnold, Miss Doris Cantwell and Miss Sharon Jarrett, all of Silverton; Mrs. Lannie Arnold of Hereford, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Randy Moore, Lubbock; Miss Tammy Hamilton, Tullia, and Miss Kay Len Bedingfield, Shallowater.

Mrs. Edwin Wilcen of Spur, aunt of the bridegroom, presided at the guest registry which was covered with a white crocheted cloth given to the bride's mother 24 years ago on her graduation day by an aunt.

After June 16 the couple will be at home in Dallas.

The bride is a graduate of Silverton High School and has been employed by First National Bank in Tullia.

Pressure Cooker Testing Clinics To Be Held In County

You are invited to bring your pressure cooker for testing Tuesday, June 12. The testing will be done in Silverton at the Home Economics Department of the Silverton School from 9:00 until 11:30 a.m. Testing will be done in Quitaque at the First United Methodist Church from 1:00 until 4:00 p.m.

Have you had the problem of spoilage of home canned foods? It is possible your pressure cooker may not be accurate. Pressure cooker manufacturers recommend that the cookers be tested yearly to insure accuracy.

An adjustment needs to be made for the altitude. For each 1,000 feet above sea level, add one minute to processing time if the time called for is 20 minutes or less. If the processing time called for is more than 20 minutes, add two minutes for each 1,000 feet. Since the local altitude is about 3,300 feet, the adjustment would be from three to six minutes.

Free literature on food preservation will be available at the testing clinics.

Education programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

the convention scheduled for the Astrodome in Houston, July 4-8.

Theme of the conventions worldwide is "Divine Victory" and will stress the Witnesses' belief in the certainty of Divine intervention in human affairs in order for man's problems to reach an ultimate and permanent solution.

"This can only be accomplished through God's kingdom by Jesus Christ," Tiffin said.

"Tens of thousands of delegates will attend these conventions all over the world," Tiffin continued, "and regardless of national origin, race and cultural background they will meet unitedly to build their faith and appreciation in God and His Word, the Bible."

Study Club Visits The Beauty Salon

Mrs. L. D. Griffin, a member of Century of Progress Study Club, installed the 1973-74 officers for the March of Time Study Club recently by taking the club on a tour of the beauty salon. Installation instructions were directions for each officer and each was illustrated by an appropriate cosmetic or beauty and grooming aid. The last illustration was a can of spray net given to the chairman "to hold the club together so it can present club work as a unified and beautiful project."

Preceding the installation was a bountiful luncheon prepared by the members and hosted by Mrs. Fred Mercer, Mrs. True Burson and Mrs. Troy Burson.

Mrs. Alvin Redin thanked the club for her two years as president and she in turn was thanked and presented with a carnival glass dish of red and gold.

Mrs. Griffin was presented a compute of the same ware.

The new officers are Mrs. Tony Burson, chairman; Mrs. R. L. Hill, first vice-chairman; Mrs. Alvie Mayfield, second vice-chairman; Mrs. Troy Burson, recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Mercer, treasurer; Mrs. True Burson, corresponding secretary; Miss Anna Lee Anderson, parliamentarian; Mrs. T. T. Crass, reporter, and Mrs. Alvin Redin, federation counselor.

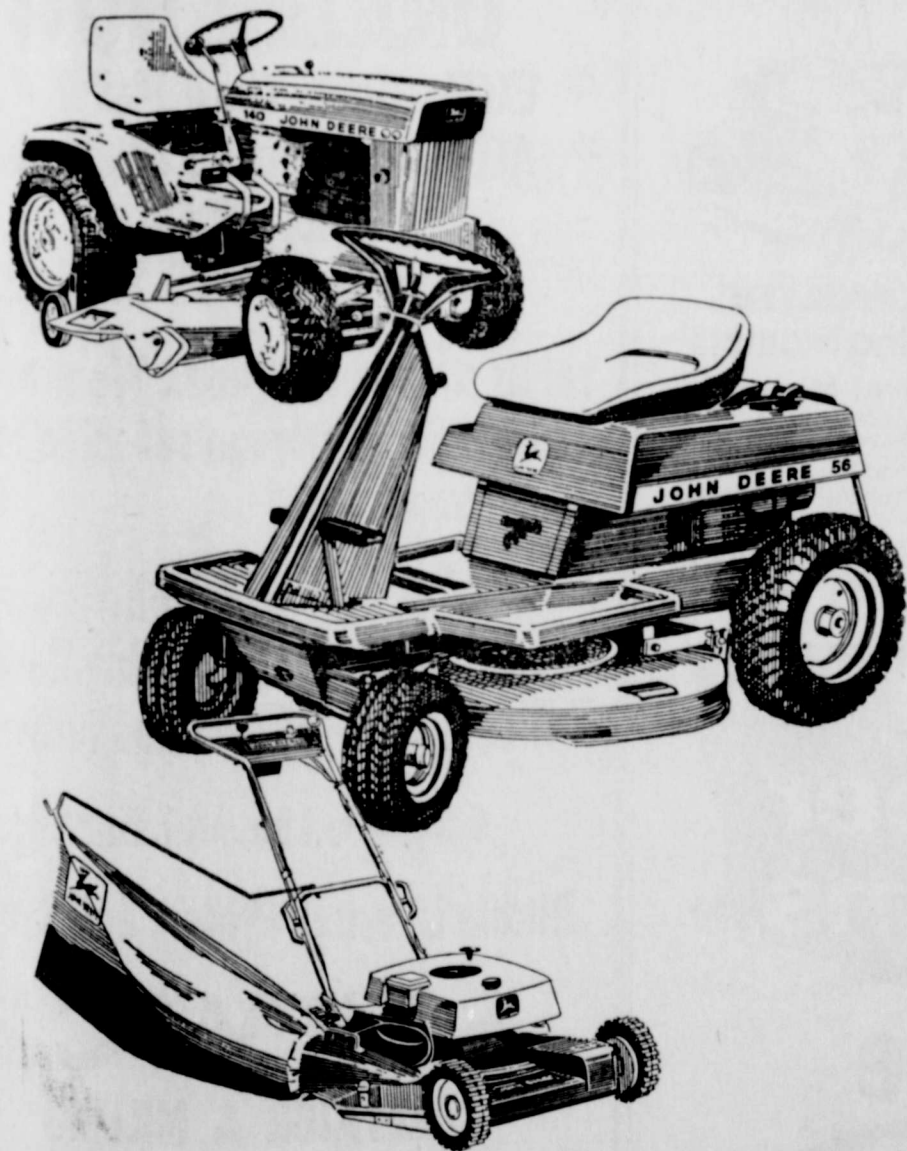

and Mrs. Lyndon Stephens, Anna and Laura of Portales, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Stephens, Albany, and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Holt, Karen and Kent also dropped by to visit the Lytle and Stephens families.

County Announces Plans For Use Of Revenue Funds

Briscoe County is to receive $16,520.00 for the six-month period ending June 30, 1973. The sum of $8,260.00 was received April 9, 1973 and the balance is to be received June 30 or soon thereafter. Plans for use of the above funds are listed below.

Public Safety (Law Enforcement, Salaries, Travel Expense, etc.), $6,850.00; Health (County Health Officer and other), $500.00; Libraries, $300.00; Financial Adm. (Salaries of Tax Office and County Treasurer), $5,500.00; Repairs (Replace windows in part of Courthouse), $3,370.00; Total, $16,520.00. Repairs were made on the Courthouse last year that cost the County $5,610.85 and are paid for. The Commissioners expect to replace all windows in the Courthouse as soon as money is available. The Courthouse was built in 1922, and the present windows are now 50 years old. The Courthouse is a sound building in other respects. Briscoe County is not in debt and the Commissioners expect to stay out of debt.

The Federal Revenue Sharing Funds will enable the County to make needed repairs without a tax increase in spite of inflation.
