The Ginno's Report Today Shows
7,740,632 Bales Against 5,443,620 Last Year.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Census Bureau report today gives cotton ginno. To October 18th as 7,740,632 bales against 5,423,620 bales last year this day.

Texas ginned 2,694,067 against 2,070,261; Oklahoma 394,012; Arkansas, 277,978 and Louisiana 175,446.

Differential Knocked Out.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 25.—The Supreme court today denied the railroads application for writ of error in the Galveston differential case sustaining the decision of the Court of Appeals.

It is being intimated now that ex-Governor Campbell will get into the Senatorial race, and will receive the pro support. The friends of Morris Sheppard, however, are telling it around that Ball's vote will fall into the Sheppard band wagon.

NOT TO CONTEST YESTERDAY'S GAME

Connie Mack Says Giants Were Entitled to Game—Will File No Contest.

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—In answer to Empire Klem's statement yesterday that Doyle did not touch home plate when he came in with the winning run in the tenth inning, Connie Mack of the Athletics today said: "I will make no protest, the Giants won and are entitled to the victory. Doyle was safe at the plate by five feet and the question as to whether he slid over the plate or along the edge of it is a matter of minor importance."

It was developed here today that pitcher Combs of the Athletics was seriously injured internally in the sixth inning yesterday when his foot caught in a hole in the pitcher's box as he delivered a ball, twisting or wrenching his side.

Despite the pain he continued to pitch the remainder of the inning. Three doctors have been in attendance upon him today and they say that it will be impossible for him to go into the box again before next season.

As McCombs is one of the Athletic's mainstays in the pitching department, the accident may cripple them in winning the series.

ATHLETICS ARE THE CHAMPIONS

Connie Mack's Aggregation Walk All Over the New York Giants

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—The Athletics today again demonstrated that they are the champion ball losers of the World by giving the Giants an overwhelming defeat in the sixth game of the series. Final score 13 to 2.

This is four games for the Athletics and 2 for the Giants.

Today's game in all probability will be the last of the series.

Burglars Start Fire

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 26.—Burglars this morning started a $50,000 fire in Beavers Club in the American National Bank building. Emory Seets of Burleson was fatally injured by jumping from the window to the pavement below.

Sheltered McNamara.

Los Angeles, Cal. Oct. 22.—It is unofficially admitted here today that while the state was working on the clue from Salt Lake city during the week following the destruction of the Times building, that McNamara was sheltered in the home of J. E. Munsey, twice in this city.

Flight May Be Abandoned

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 24.—It is learned here today that Cal. Roger's flight from ocean to ocean may be abandoned. A hitch in the financing of the trip, the details of which are not known, has arisen and until some satisfactory settlement is made, Rogers will stop at Del Rio.

Hen Eggs 20 Cents Each.

Tucson, Ariz., Oct. 25.—Eggs are selling at 20 cents each in Guaymas, Mexico and other foods are correspondingly high, according to delayed mail advices which reached Tucson today.

The high price of eggs is caused by the drooping of many hens in the recent floods and because of damage to the transportation facilities.

The transport Sampson, owned by the Sierra Pinto Mining Co., at San Jorge Bay, left that port on October 15 with a cargo of general supplies for Menlo Blanca where many storm sufferers are reported to be in destitute condition.

MANY GUNS ARE FOUND

Coweta, Oklahoma, Filled With Negroes Who Threaten to Resist the Militiamen.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 23.—Although everything is quiet at Coweta, Okla. where a race riot was threatened last night on account of the killing of a white man and negro, it is feared rioting will break out tonight as the negro population in that section is reported strongly aroused. Soldiers will be kept on guard at Coweta all night.

Troops this morning searched the Coweta negro quarters for arms and found practically every negro house had some sort of a gun in it. Twelve blacks were arrested and sent in chains to Waggoner.

Twelve Bales from Six Acres

Saltillo, Texas, Oct. 25.—Tug Allen living near Gladewater has marketed his twelfth bale of cotton from six acres. This is probably the best record that has ever been made in northeast Texas.

Allen's seed cotton was a special Alabama seed handpicked for two seasons.

Husband in Jail; Wife Gets Job.

Houston, Texas, Oct. 26.—Going to work in a department store the wife of Charles H. Gunkelman, former Medina county, Ohio banker, is trying to make her own living. Her husband is in jail here awaiting extradition papers to Ohio on charge of embezzlement.

Mrs. Gunkelman formerly acted as her husband's book keeper.

DRYS MAY WIN OUT IN MAINE

If Correction in Returns is Allowed, They Have a Majority.

Augusta Me.—The possibility of correction of the official figures of the State's vote of September 11 on the repeal of the constitutional prohibitory amendment rests upon the ability of the town clerks of Athens, Limestone, Matineus Isle and Westfield and other interested persons to prove to the governor and council that their original returns were wrong.

The next step will be to hold a public hearing when all persons interested for or against the acceptance of corrections will be heard. Governor Plaisted will then have until December 1 to make his final announcement of the result.

If the corrections already filed are allowed, it would mean the over throw of the present official majority of twenty six for repeal and the establishment of a substantial majority in favor of maintaining constitutional prohibition.

Stolen Mules Recovered

Marfa, Texas, Oct. 26.—About sixty head of mules stolen from Mexicans across the lines were recovered here today by the United States Inspector Gibbs. The owners of the mules traced them to the border and then put the case in the hands of the American authorities.

The thieves became frightened and abandoned the mules near here where Inspector Gibbs found them. The culprits have thus far made good their escape.

Saloons Obey Sunday Law.

Galveston, Texas, Oct. 26.—For the first time in the recollection of any citizen of Galveston the saloons were all closed Sunday and no liquor could be purchased anywhere, even on the water front.

This state of affairs has been brought about by Comptroller Lane forfeiting the licenses of 42 saloons for the violations of the Sunday law. During the past week, notice was served on all these saloon men and those who have been violating the law with impunity have come to the conclusion that the Comptroller is in earnest. On Sunday, October the fifteenth the saloons generally were kept open.

Six members of the state ranger force spent Sunday in Galveston doing detective work, but it is said that the saloon keepers unwittingly them by keeping closed all day.

EXPENSES OF THE PANAMA CANAL

WOULD MAKE CANAL REVENUE PAY OPERATING EXPENSES.

IMMEDIATE ACTION IS URGED

In Order That Revenue May Be Started Sooner and Commission Asks for Rates.

By Associated Press:
 Washington, Oct. 20.—Fore-shadowing the early completion and opening of the Panama Canal, the Isthmian Canal Commission in its annual report made public today, recommended Congressional legislation governing canal tolls, organization for the operation of the canals and for government of the canal zone, utilization of canal revenue to pay operating expenses and to repay the capital invested and other action. Expedition was urged demanded in order to advise the Commercial world of the use it may make of the great waterway or the cost of sending ships through it and just when it will be opened.
 The commission wished to give at least eighteen months notice of the rates to permit the world's maritime interests time to readjust their routes and to build new ships and organize new transportation companies. It was also deemed desirable to put the canal to use as early as possible, not only to secure financial returns on the enormous capital invested, but to make possible the passage of the world's fleets without confusion or delay.

 The report showed that the engineers board has already found that all the concrete in the great Gatunlocks will be laid by June 1, 1912 and five months later, the locks on the Pacific side will be finished except the gates which will be ready June 1, 1913.
 Mean time by April 1, next the giant spillway at Gatun would be to the fifty foot elevation and the entire dam there would be completed by the following winter.
 The excavation through the Culebra Cut, the greatest earth digging enterprise the world has ever seen will be completed by July 1, 1913, if the slides are not in excess of the estimates.
 In that case the exterior channel will be sufficiently advanced to pass the shipping that would use the canal.
 Though these estimates were made a year ago, the Commission states that there is no occasion to make any considerable change. Though the concrete lying in the Gatun locks will be moved back a few months to January, 1913 it will not delay the erection of the gates or the completion of the work as a whole.
 Time can be saved by making public announcement of the rates to be charged and the formulation of rules by which the tonnage of ships is to be determined.
 The Commission is already preparing much information on these points for the guidance of Congress in legislating next session.
 The Commission expressed a belief that it can secure the best operating force for the canal from among the workers now employed on the Canal. High wages were paid at the outset when it was difficult to obtain men on account of the bad reputation of the country and the temporary character of employment. But the commission contended that as the death rate on the zone is much lower than for most parts of the United States and as the operating work will be permanent, a much lower wage scale can be adopted. The commission regarded it as essential that the cost of operating shall be reduced to a minimum, consistent with efficiency if reasonable tolls are to be established.

 The total outlay for maintaining the canal will be for wages of the operative force, engineering work, sanitation and civil administration. The commission was insistent that the revenue of the canal should go to pay, not only the operating expenses, but to repay the capital invested. Every legitimate means for raising revenue should be adopted, said the report which recommended that the government should not only supply coal and oil for its own vessels but should sell them to merchant shipping. The existing commissary furnish all these things to shipping, passing through the canal for a consideration.
 It was suggested that the government should sell tools and appliances needed by ships and still another forward movement, they should actually undertake to dock and repair ships in the neighborhood of the canal. For that purpose a dry dock and a machine shop was recommended and it was pointed out that these would be available for the use of our navy. A wireless station for naval and commercial use was another adjunct required.
 The commission has given much thought to the disposition of land in the canal zone, important because of its bearing upon the future administration of the zone, and the operation of the canal. Of the 436 square miles of land in the zone the government owns 363 of which 96 miles are occupied by the canal. A large part of the government land will be required for military, naval and other official purposes. It was deemed essential that the Spanish law shall continue to prevail to prevent friction with the neighboring Panamanians in the cities of Panama and Colon.
 Most of the land is unsuitable for extensive farming enterprises and the inducements are not such as would attract American farmers owing to the difficulties in obtaining title and the peculiarities of the Spanish system of taxation, which must be continued. Other occupants than Americans are not desirable. The commission wants to get rid of the great body of foreign laborers, who were imported to dig the canal as soon as the work is finished. They now populate the established townsites and the Commission declares that they should be repatriated after work can no longer be given them.
 It was stated that the greater amount of land leased and the number of townsites established and occupied, the greater will be the cost of sanitation and civil government.
 The report declared that for several years to come at least it should be the policy to keep all government lands for government purposes. Whatever military force is located on the Isthmus will be charged with its own sanitation. The reservations of all lands for governmental use would result, therefore, in minimum cost for those two items.

 As to the form of government for the zone, the commission directed special attention to the military necessities, the canal being deemed a military asset.
 In conclusion the commission holds it essential that an entity be established, so organized that any military contingency can be properly met.
 It was recommended that Congress authorize the canal managers to pay damages to vessels injured in passage in as much as this government must insist on taking complete charge of all vessels during that transit to guard against injury to the locks.

THE ARCADE

Editor Seeing the Sights
We have received the following letter from Editor J. S. Hardy:

"I have been a week on the wing. We found our daughter and family at Plano well and I spent one day at the Dallas Fair. Met a great number of the Texas newspaper men there including Thomas of Stamford and Joe Pickle of Roscoe. Most all of the editors, except us West Texas fellows are candidates for office and what they don't know about tariff, reciprocity and prohibition, doesn't count much. Their knowledge of irrigation, agriculture, transportation, country development has been gained principally from reading.

The Fair is a great educational institution and it is there you meet people from everywhere and note the great improvements in agriculture in invention and all lines of industrial activity. There are enough interesting features at the Fair to interest a West Texan for several days.

The agricultural exhibits from several west Texas counties call forth much favorable comment, and I could not help regretting that Scurry County's booth is not occupied this year. We could easily have put in as fine a line as those of Floyd and Lubbock.

I have noted conditions in Collin, Dallas and Ellis counties and will say that prospects of living art no better here than in the West. While their cotton crop is better than ours, they made no corn and oats and will have to buy all the feed stuff they use. The cotton crop of Ellis county is estimated at 140,000. I have just been talking with an oil mill man who thinks that Texas will furnish four million bales of a fifteen million crop, but I still think his sights are too high. It is true that every gin and every compress platform is full of cotton, but this is because the railroads are tied up by the strike and can't ship the cotton.

The strike is something distressing. I have just come from my old home town, Ennis, where the H. & T. C. shops are up against a hard proposition. More than two hundred men are out there. The road has a considerable force at work, but they have been picked up from here and there and a great many of them are said to be incompetent. They waste material, they are behind with their work and it is said that the engines and cars are rapidly running to the back and that there are fifty dead engines in the shops and that one of the conditions upon which the new men have agreed to work is that they be furnished liquor. As a consequence the rangers who are kept there to guard the property of the strikebreakers against outside interference are kept busy keeping down disorder inside of the shop grounds. No man can tell where it will end. The strikers are getting seven dollars a week and many of them have other employment and they say they can hold out for a long time. The Company says that they will fight it out if it takes fifty years. Meantime the country is suffering a loss.

I started out to tell you what State of Ohio, City of Toledo I have seen and heard, but it will take too long. Many people are asking about the West and are being attracted by the reports of the healthful climate, good crops and cheap lands and I look for an immense movement of home-seekers to our country within the next few months.

Nowhere except around Dallas and Fort Worth is to be seen as much building and improvement as in the west and men who have been farming hundred dollar land are waking up to the fact that $20 land will suit them as well.

This is Sunday and am at Midlothian, enroute to Cleburne and expect to meet a big bunch of Snyder Democrats at the Fair next Saturday to greet Governor Wilson.

OSTEOPATHY

What is it anyway?

It is a science which if you were to live and study for a long life time you could not master. The True Osteopath seeks to cure disease by removing the cause and having restored one to health, he teaches him how to stay well. The correctness of our philosophy has been many times proven even in Snyder where I have done many wonderful things that cannot be duplicated by other means. I am not egotistical. Any Osteopath should be able to do what I have done and many could do better, but no one striving any other way could begin to do these things.

Three things are extant that will remain in the healing art.

They are dentistry, surgery and Osteopathy, they are separate branches of the same idea to cure by removing the cause.

A lady told me recently that her observation was that all well informed people are beginning to regard Osteopathy favorably, to which I assented, and added that Osteopathy will some day become the universal practice. It will win as it is winning when people begin to think only a little for themselves. It is everyone's right to enjoy good health and if not, to know why, it is not only your privilege, but your duty to know something of Osteopathy. Ten or twenty years from now your child, nerve racked and afflicted may say to you: "Papa, why did you not take me to an Osteopath when I was young?"

I have given a number of single treatments in Snyder, that were worth more to the individuals than all the attention of all the M. D.'s in Snyder would and could be worth in a life time.

The friends of Osteopathy are those who have tried it and know it's simple truths. It has two classes of enemies; those whose business it opposes and the moral cowards who wish to be on the side of the majority, regardless of right or wrong; they are followers and not thinkers.

There is a great class that I am striving to reach who are just simply too busy to give it any serious thought as they are in no immediate need of a doctor, they send for a regular and with implicit confidence not formed on reason or common sense they close their eyes, open their mouths and take any concoction of poison he sees fit to give. This is not faith, but blind credulity.

Dr. William Mayo, one of the world's most famous surgeons, recently said: "Anyone who has spent over two hours studying materia medica has lost some valuable time."

I long to convince the people that health and happiness are from within and not from without.

WAREHOUSE FIRE DESTROYS COTTON

Twenty-five Bales of Eight Cent Cotton Destroyed by Fire.

The alarm of fire was sounded this morning about 3:30 and twenty five bales of cotton at the Farmers' Union Warehouse were discovered on fire.

Enough workers responded to the alarm to put it out, had they had anything to work with, but in the absence anything of the kind they simply rolled the burning bales to one side and let them burn.

Insurance was carried on it all with the exception of but two or three bales.

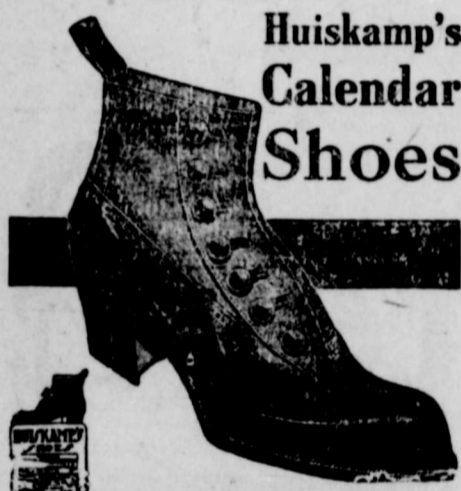

It is thought that the fire started at the gin in some way and was smoldering in the bales and thus escaped detection, yesterday when it was delivered to the warehouse.

Here is another instance where property is lost through the lack of adequate fire protection.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

Dr. Warren is still confined to his room from injuries received from a fall last Friday night. The doctor was on his way to visit a patient near Dunn. The recent heavy rains had washed out the embankment to the bridge over the creek near Joe Merritt's and the road now runs down in the hollow along the side of the bank. The doctor's horse, however, followed the road on the embankment until he got to the washed out bridge. Dr. Warren got out of his buggy to back the horse off of the embankment and in the dark missed his footing and fell down the deep cut. He was shaken up considerably and sustained some painful injuries, but no broken bones. He is improving and will probably be up and about in a few days.

Every pair of these shoes has a calendar attached so you can mark the date of purchase and see for yourself how much better and longer they wear than any shoe you ever had on your feet.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT BARELY ESCAPED

Obstruction on Santa Fe Track Near Scurry Switch Was Knocked Clear.

Wednesday, the south bound Santa Fe passenger train, due in Snyder at 5:05 p. m., narrowly escaped a disastrous wreck at Scurryswitch, just north of Dermott.

Some one had placed several cross bars used on telegraph poles across the track at this end of the switch around the curve near the deep cut. The engineer did not see the obstruction until within a few feet of it and could not stop his engine. The pilot in some way struck the timbers full force and in a way that knocked them clear of the track, an occurrence that rarely occurs. It was almost a miracle that the timbers were not thrown under the engine and the entire train derailed.

The train crew reported the matter as soon as they arrived in Snyder and B. O. Pollard, special agent for the Santa Fe in company with Sheriff Boles immediately began an investigation. They went up to the switch and in just a short time discovered who the culprits were. They were much surprised and shocked to find that two thirteen year old boys were the guilty parties.

The boys admitted their guilt and said they only wanted to have some fun and see the train knock the timbers from the track and did not realize or once think about the horrible results which might occur. From the manner in which the boys told their story and from other circumstances surrounding the case, the officers believed that the boys were telling the truth, so Mr. Pollard told them that he would not make a complaint against them this time, after telling them about the horrible wrecks that have occurred by obstructions being placed on the tracks and of the men, women and children who might have been killed through their desire to have a little fun, let them go with the tearful promise that they would not do anything of the kind again.

The officers felt that it would be better to let them off, seeing that there was no premeditated mischief in their act, than to arrest them.

Both of these gentlemen have had considerable experience with juvenile offenders and thought more about saving these thoughtless boys than of punishing them for and act done in their ignorance and youthful thoughtlessness.

Boys who read this should take these young fellows as an object lesson and be very careful how they "try to have fun." The officers might not be as lenient with you as they were with these boys, and for some little act you saw no harm in, be arrested and sent to prison to associate with all the evil characters, confined there and thus bring disgrace upon yourself and your parents.

J. W. Copeland, of Dayton, Ohio, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for his boy who had a cold, and before the bottle was all used the boy's cold was gone. Is that not better than to pay a five dollar doctor's bill? Sold by all dealers.

MAN KILLED BY THE A. & S.

Escaped From Colony Yesterday Morning and Made Rude Crutches to Use

Abilene Reporter:

Tobe George McSpadden, aged 22 years, an inmate of the epileptic colony, died at Abilene Hospital this morning at 9:30 as a result of injuries received when he was struck by a northbound Abilene & Southern passenger.

The accident which cost McSpadden, his life, occurred about 2 1/2 miles north of Abilene, train No. 16 bound for Hamlin and which left here at 8:25, having been the one to strike him. The injured man was put in the baggage car on a mattress and carried to the depot. Dr. Audra V. Cash, railroad surgeon was called and placing McSpadden in the baggage wagon made a quick run to the hospital where he died 5 minutes later.

McSpadden was a one legged man and escaped from the Colony yesterday by removing the grating from the window and crawled to the ground. He left the grounds without crutches, presumably hopping on one foot.

From the place he was struck it is believed that he was trying to get to Seymour, the home of his parents.

In the accident, McSpadden's leg was crushed to a pulp from the foot to the thigh. Near him were found two rudely made crutches which were evidently made after he left the colony.

Engineer Hoehn stated that when he first saw McSpadden he was lying at full length across the railroad track, just around a curve and not more than 150 feet from the engine. He threw on the brakes and did everything possible to stop, but couldn't do it.

Several theories have been advanced as to why McSpadden was either unable to get off the track or unable to receive warning of the approaching train, but none of them have been well established.

GIRL SAVES LIFE OF HER LITTLE BROTHER

In Lighting Gasoline Stove Explosion Enveloped Six Year Old Boy in Flames.

Abilene, Oct. 20—Margaret, the sixteen year old daughter of John B. Goodnight, yesterday afternoon performed an act of heroism which would have been a credit to one many years older when she saved the life of her younger brother, Edgar, aged six years who was enveloped in flames from gasoline.

Edgar had started to light a gasoline stove, but before the gas had fully generated, again turned on the oil when an explosion followed, scattering burning gasoline over the room and burning him. Hearing the boys screams and the explosion Margaret ran into the room where she found her brother. Hastily wrapping him in her clothing and covering his head and face with her hair which was wet at the time, she having been engaged in washing it when the explosion occurred, she smothered the flames.

Little Edgar was taken at once to the sanitarium where examination showed that he had been burned about the face, head, left arm and knees. Dr. Alexander dressed the wounds and stated that though very painful, they would not likely prove serious.

TEXAS WITHOUT "POSTING" LAW

Omitted Law Applied Only to Tracts of 2000 Acres or More Suit is Now On.

Austin Statesman:

According to Jeff D. Cox, Deputy Game, Fish and Oyster Commissioner, the board of codifiers by their omission in the codification of the statutes re-inacted by the Thirty-second Legislature have practically deprived the State of any "posted" laws. He says that after full investigation on his part and consultation with numerous attorneys, some of them members of the bench, he has found that there is no provision whatever for posting tracts of over 2000 acres against hunting or fishing. Articles 1225 and 1226 are the only articles that he can find and they provide that a man is subject to a fine of $10 to $100 for hunting or fishing in any fenced tract of less than two thousand acres without permission. No provisions whatever are made for posting tracts of more than 2000 acres, says Mr. Cox although numerous statutes have been passed by the Legislatures on this matter.

The Board of Codifiers is suing the Secretary of State in mandamus proceedings in the Supreme Court because Governor Colquitt vetoed a bill which would continue them in office. There have been numerous complaints and errors reported in their work and they have always insisted the complaints were unfounded. Mr. Cox is the latest to complain and says he found the error because he was investigating to see if there was any provision at present to keep people from hunting and fishing in tracts of more than two thousand acres and he found that because of the board's omissions there were none.

Notice to Ginning Public.

I have not said anything in the paper about the ginning business for the reason that most people have to be shown. I have tried to show them; but a great deal has been said about me first and last and I thought it would be right for me to make a statement for my customers of my gin.

In regard to that gin meeting at Snyder, myself and Mr. F. A. Rayburn were present and everything that is stated in that little circular was discussed and the advisability of advancing the price was discussed. I told them that I was not in favor of it and was asked if I ever made any money in the ginning business. I told them that always had to compete with oil mill gins and that they would not let me make any.

When Mr. Fuller was called, he said he would do whatever the balance of us did, he wanted harmony.

As to the rumor that when all the gins got in the hands of the oil mills they could do as they pleased, I said that I am just as honest in it as Peter was in the gospel he preached—history bears me out in it. Now the above statement is the truth, nothing but the truth, so help me God.

As to buying seed on a credit, I will say that the report is true, for that much said is the truth.

Now about those pet names they have given me, they have a right to call me them, but I do take exceptions being called "Oil Mill Flunky" the rest or O. K.

At the "ginners meeting" it was agreed to gin at 70 cents a hundred net and allow two pounds of seed for every pound of lint, net. Everything that I agreed to do, I have stayed with same like a man.

I have never been guilty of getting upon my competitors' wagons to see if they were ginning the same way—because I always give a man credit for being honest until I find out differently.

Are You Nervous?
What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women. Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.

School Board Passes on Course of Study.

THE STATE OF TEXAS:

County of Scurry
At this, a regular term of the County School Board of Education of Scurry county, Texas, the following order was made to-wit:
It is ordered by the County School Board of Education of Scurry County, Texas, that during the school year of 1911 and 1912, the course of study recommended by the State Superintendent (F. M. Bralley) shall be the course of study for the schools of Scurry county.

Done by order of the School Board of Education this the . . . day of October 1911.

LEE BOREN, Pres.
Fritz R. Smith, Sec.

In pursuance to the above order I have ordered and received from the State Superintendent a number of copies of the course of studies as recommended by Mr. Bralley and I would like for every teacher and trustee in the County to have one and will gladly furnish it if you will call at my office. This course of study is one well prepared, by Mr. Bralley and is the most practical course of study that could have been gotten out. Of course we expect every school in the county to use same, and in so doing it will save the expense of purchasing so many new books; one expense that has become somewhat annoying, and it has been the object of the school Board to save as much of this expense as possible.

I expect to be in every school in this county during this term and I am sure with the teachers we have we are going to have one of the best school years we have ever had. I hope to find you, on my visit, taking advantage of the time and every school doing its best.

Respectfully,
FRITZ R. SMITH,
County Superintendent.

At the October meeting of the State Board of Education practically the entire meeting was given over to independent and common school district bonds, and $44,300 the total amount available was expended for school house bonds.
