This will be the pioneer plant to west Texas, the nearest similar mill being at Itasca, 200 miles east. It will be the first mill in the world combining every process of manufacture from the freshly picked, unginned cotton to the finished sheetings, under the same roof.

The plant will consume a large per centage of the cotton crop of Garza and adjoining cour ies and will furnish employment at the beginning to about 200 men. The annual production will be in the neighborhood of 2,000,000 yards of cloth made up in the form of finished Sheetings, hemmed and laundered ready to spread upon the bed.

There was no train out from Snyder to Roscoe Friday evening The R. S. & P. which passed up the line ran off the track on a switch at Fluvanna yesterday. The train was pulled by engine No. 1, and in switching at the western terminal ran on to a switch that had been tampered with probably by mischievous boys. An order was sent to Roscoe for another engine to pullher out and No. 2 passed up about10 o'clock last night. Gen. Manager James went to the scene of the wreck. The delayed train came in from Fluvanna about 9:30 this morning and went on to Roscoe and of course was late in coming back today. There was no one hurt in the derailment and but little damage done to property.

The Russian Treaty Affair. The Abilene Reporter says

"The Russian Ambassador to Wath ngton, George Bakhmetoff, has in .mated to President Taft and Secretary Knox that should the treaty of 1832 be abrogated, Russia would undoubtedly break all friendly relations with this country.

Just what our diplomats will de cide to de in this connection is, of course, not yet known, but if those higher up in state affairs have the nerve exhibited by our representatives in congress, "Sensative Russia" will soon have the chance to try the same bluff on Uncle Sam as she recently did on little Persia-and most probably get far different results-if her statesmen are so foolish as to advise such a course.

It is to be hoped that President Taft will not try to maintain the "friendly relations" which so far have resulted only in allowing Russian citizens to enter and leave America at will and while here be accorded all the privileges of American citizens, and on the other hand resulting in our ministers, missionaries and others as well as American Jews, being subjected to every indignity by petty Russian officials every time they attempt to cross the border into that nest of anarchism. even though they exhibit pass ports signed by ever official of the state department.

Mr. Bakhmetoff also states to Mr. Taft that the abrogation of the treaty would be in consistent with the long friendship which has existed between the two countries. This friendship has been of such one sided character that Russia shoud be made to pay an indemnity for it, rather than should the United States fear to break it. It will indeed be a sad state of affairs when the United States has to allow her citizens to be insulted in order to maintain the good will of an absolute monarchy.

ession of good years. It is extremely interesting and informing that the southern governors who are want to rail at the trusts and combinations have ent themseves to a movement which is nothing whatever but a spec ulative drive, could not possibly be anything else and which is criminal and certain to fall. There is more cot ton in the world today than ever bcfore and as a consequence prices are lower than for many years. The idea that prices can be forced up permanently by any such plan as proposed is not only chimeriacal but is against the Sherman act in the very highest degree.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

There is much in the above article that we cannot endorse. First we are satisfied that the governors of the southern states who inaugurated and participated in the movement to endeavor to bring about higher prices for cotton did so from purely patriotic motives. Of course, holding of any portion of the years crop will not essen the supply, which if added to big crop next year will mean still lower prices. The only solution for better cotton prices in our opinion, is to reduce the acreage. If this is done we may expect to see better prices. Otherwise cotton may go lower. It is possibe as a result of the south n gov ernors' conference a movement will succeed which will result in a materi al reduction of next year's cotton crop.-Stockman and Farmer.

There are those, who would not own a farm if they could. There are those who cannot own a farm but would very much like to, but their financial condition prevents. The latter is very true in the east where the price of land is high and very high.
