Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease. One thing sure—the quicker one rids himself to a cold the less the danger and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold.

If you do not enjoy your meals your digestion is faulty. Eat moderately, especially of meats, masticate your food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals and take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper and you will soon find your meals to be a real pleasure.

Life

The simple lass. The broken working man. When life entered the door. Only a gutter bum. The woman who knew no shame.

- By W. Alexander Imlay -

She was only a simple girl from the country. She entered the big money to give her the clothing of the fashion plate ladies and movie queens. Perhaps she came with the intent of making herself useful in the world.

She got a job. It was work, if that constitutes a job? She slaved nine hours a day behind a counter or possibly she stacked matches in boxes -no matter she got the job.

And the salary, magnificent-$10 a week. The clerks in Perkins' store back home only got $6 but then she was ignorant as yet you see.

So she drifted along until one fine night she found herself hanging over the railing of the river bridge, pocketbook empty, hungry-contemplating a leap from the bridge-or worse.

Then there is the working man. He knows no trade for he grew up in untrammeled America where one is permitted to do as he pleases. An indulgent father had not insisted on him learning anything useful. His mother upheld him in idleness.

Possibly the father went broke. Possibly he never had anything. At least we find our hero at forty, discouraged, know-Ing no trade, on the bum.

A bad season strikes his section of the country. He has no money, no friends. Then we find him-where?

So they run through the annals of life. But here is what happened.

The simple girl went to a clean boarding house and after a few years made good. She blossomed into a flower of pure workanhood.

The workingman went to working man's hotel. He was given shelter and clothing with food as the lowly Nazarene commanded. He learned a trade and became useful. He became a producer.

The gutter bum was offered a chance at self rehabilitation. He made good. He quit drink, got a job and was useful.

WOMAN SPEAKER TELLS OF CONDITIONS IN SOUTH AMERICA

MRS. IDA CLYDE CLARKE, TRAV. ELER OF WIDE EXPERIENCE, FINDS EXCEPTIONAL FIELD FOR WORK AMONG WOMEN.

By Mary Corner Raymond

With contagious humor and in picturesque descriptive style, Mrs. Ida Clyde Clarke, newspaper woman, traveler, magazine writer, author and contributing editor to Pictorial Review, held a delighted audience in smiles and wrapt attention at the evening session of the Southwestern field conference of the Y. W. C. A. at Dallas while she related her experiences and observations during a six months' trip in South America. Her subject was "The Challenge of South America to the Y. W. C. A."

True to her newspaper training and the characteristic temperament of the newspaper writer-ready for any emergency, from a fire to a sudden trip to South America-Mrs. Clarke picked up her hat and handbags on short notice and went to South America last January with a commission of three other wemen sent by the national board of the Y. W. C. A. to study the conditions and needs of women and girls in the Southern continent. Many appeals had come to the national board to send Y. W. C. A. workers to South America. As it is the policy of the association neveworkers anywhere for permanent work without first making an investigation as to the practicability of the enterprise, Mrs. Clarke, because of her experience as a traveler, was asked to be a member of this survey commission.

On the principal that a newspaper woman may go anywhere or do anything within the law, no matter what the traditions or customs of a country may be, Mrs. Clarke met presidents and diplomats, women of high and low degrees; made trips into countries where she was told women travelers never went alone, and everywhere, she said, she was treated with characteristic Latin courtesy. In every country she was struck with the immense wealth and culture of the higher classes, a universal eagerness for the progressive methods of North America. a universal desire for social and welfare work among women, and with it all she marveled at the vast resources of the country-forests of mahogany untouched by the ax and territory visited by no commercial enterprise except

Social work among girls and women is as undeveloped as many of the natural resources of the country, she said, and the much-abused packers are doing in some places for their girl and women employes Y. W. C. A. work-not in the name of the Y. W. C. A., to be sure, for there is no organization there; but the heads of packing industries are trying to meet some of the needs the Y. W. C. A. meets with employed girls in the United States. The Y. W. C. A., she said, is also doing as far as it can Y. W. C. A. work because there is so much need

The efforts of the men to provide opportunities for girls such as they have in North America were humorously illustrated by an enterprise undertaken in Brazil. A young President of one of the States of Brazil visited the United States and was greatly impressed with advantages af forded girls here. Like a regular Ad Clubber or Rotarian, he went back to his home city, interested all the other progressive young business men and they built a school for girls. It was elaborately equipped for teaching domestic science, thinking that first of all girls should be trained to be homemakers. Courses were announced for "graduate wifehood and motherhood." The school, plenty of money to conduct it, pupils—everything but teachers were found. Again they turned to the United States and got a faculty of young women about 21 years of age to teach wifehood and motherhood. The school is now closed and the "faculty" have sought more suitable vocations.

At Rio Janiero, a city of 1,000,000 population, she said, were 20,000 employed women and not a building where such a woman might have lunch, while every third door is a coffee house for men. "When eating in your scientific cafeterias and in the lunchrooms provided by factories and dethink of the girls of Rio Janiero, eating a sandwich and a banana whereever they can find a spot to stand or

The exchange is capitalized for $25,000, all of which is owned by the members of the Texas Farmers Union. Lyday says that this will soon be increased to $100,000.

The purpose of the exchange is to store, buy and sell cotton for Texas growers. By storage it is hoped to secure higher prices.

administration has been grossly extravagant, and, further, that it has built up a great central body which prise of very railroad organization." Both charges are probably true. The charge that the central organization has gathered to itself so much authority and power as "to benumb the incentive and enterprise" of every subordinate organization may be the more readily believed because that consequence is inevitable. It is a physiological fact, we believe that in an obese body the head robs the extremities of their due of its blood, and thus brings on a numbness such as Senator Kellogg says afflicts all those who are not high in the heirarchy of the Railroad Administration. But whether this law of natural organism governs an artificial body, such as the Railroad Administration, or not, there are limits beyond which size and centralization of authority can be attained without causing a condition such as that Senator declares to exist. Undoubtedly we have had too many railroad corporations and too much diffusion of the regular power over them. But we should come on greater evils by going to the other extreme. No Releif in Sight

The national politicians have fallen down so completely in correcting the profiteering evils that we might as well give up the idea and strike out for ourselves. So long as there is nothing in the criminal code to serve as a scare crow and the grand juries have flattened out without accomplishing anything the only redress left is to employ a lot of shyster lawyers and bring civil action instead of criminal prosecution against the sharks who charge exorbitant prices. In this way dealers would be compelled to produce their books and invoices, showing wholesale costs as well as selling prices of mercahandise handled by them. In criminal action the defendant cannot be compelled to provide such evidence, due to the constitutional provision that no accused person is required to bear testimony against himself. This has been the chief stumbling block to successful prosecution of the profiteers who are squeezing the tar out of us. Only last week a Denver dry goods company was caught in the overt act of selling a pair of shoes for $18 that cost only $6. -Field and Farm.

I have taken this 'Prescription' as a tonic during expectancy and I know it helped me in every way. It is an ideal medicine for the mother to be."—MRS. BEULAH OWENS, 313 North 4th Street.

GALVESTON, TEXAS.—"When I was quite a young girl I had a terribly nervous spell. My stomach was affected so that I craved food all the time, and I could not sleep at night.

My doctor advised me to take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription (sold by druggists), and before half the bottle had been taken I lost all the abnormal appetite and was able to rest well at night. I have never had such a condition since that time so can honestly say that the 'Favorite Prescription' cured me of my nervous ailment."—MRS. ELLEN LASWELL, 1614 19th Street.
