4th holiday gets mixed reviews

■ Wind, hail dim otherwise outstanding celebration

be remembered in the Muleshoe area as the holiday with a set of luggage that didn't match.

The mixed-bag holiday brought record crowds to town for the Joe's Boot Shop Tent Sale, the High Plains Junior Rodeo Association rodeo and the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture's Fourth in the Park.

Welcomed rains on Thursday night and Saturday morning kept the heat down and made the celebration more pleasant with little adverse effect, other than delaying wheat harvest and making the rodeo arena a little muddy.

But the rain returned on Saturday night, bringing with it damaging winds and hail. The fast-moving storm left shredded corn, cotton, milo and Damage was still being evaluated Tuesday, and most farmers were unsure what direction to pursue. Some of the most severe damage was reported near Coyote Lake Feedyard, where 800 acres of silage corn was a total loss.

"There is about 8-10,000 acres of crop damage," said Curtis Preston, agricultural extension agent. "It's too early to say what it's done to corn, probably a 20 percent to a total

PASSING BY MULESHOE

Country music legend Johnny Rodriguez brought his show to Muleshoe last weekend, playing at the Joe's Shop Tent Sale and the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture's Fourth in the Park celebration. Rodriguez, a Tex-Mex music pioneer, played to a record crowed at Joe's and spent time signing autographs (above) and talking to fans. The Texas native also visited the Muleshoe Area Healthcare Center, stopping for a photo and chat with 87-year-old Ruby Wilson. Rodriguez was accompanied by his manager, Randy Willis (left) and his girlfriend, Debbie McNeely.

Cyclists push into Muleshoe

Students from universities and colleges across the country cycled their way through Muleshoe Monday as a part of PUSH America's 10th annual Journey of Hope.

PUSH America is a nonprofit organization that that helps children and adults with mental and/or physical disabilities that encourages students to become more involved in their communities. The Journey of Hope, a program of PUSH America, donates and builds adaptive equipment through educatioanl programs, and promotes volunteerism on college campuses.

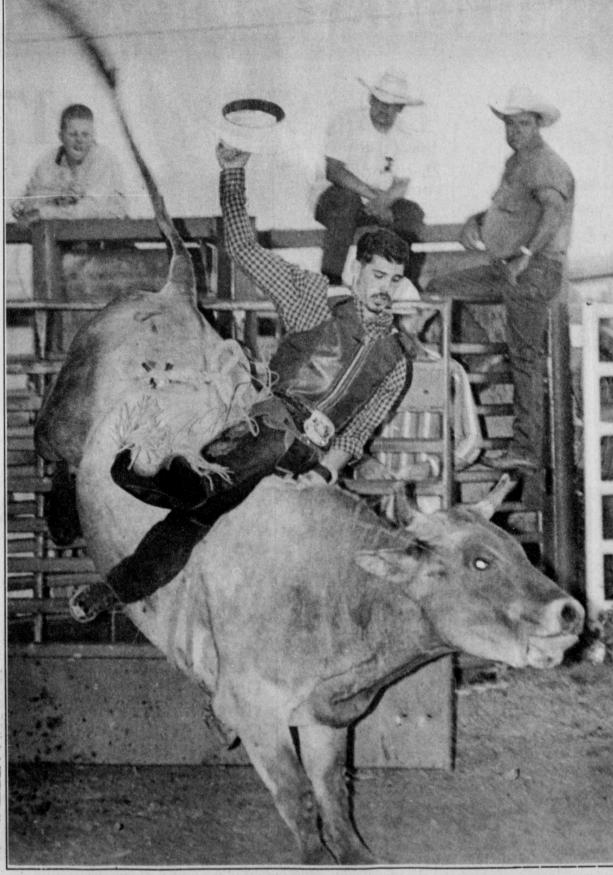

Traveling through 22 states in 63 days, cyclists stop at certain points along their route to help at centers with disabled persons.

"It makes the ride worth while to know that I reached out to somebody," said Lyn Wright, a cylist with the south route. "It's what keeps me riding."

In 1987, Bruce Rogers, a Pi Kappa Phi fraternity member, started PUSH America. Rogers traveled from Oregon to Virginia alone, raising awarness of the disabled.

Since then, the program has grown to an average of 60 cyclists per year, raising $300,000.

To qualify for the team, bikers had to raise $4,000 and crew members had to raise $3,000. Team members were selected may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest is 3.75 percent.

"As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FSA emergency loan," Ms. Thompson said. Farmers participating in Federal Crop Insurance programs will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepting until February 16, 1998, but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing and possibly over into the new farming season," Ms. Thompson said.

however, resort to black-eyed peas, grain sorghum or some sort of hay crop, or just wait until the fall for wheat.

Despite the bad news, the celebration had its highlights. Country music recording star Johnny Rodriguez arrived aday early for his performances at Joe's Boot Shop and at the Chamber of Commerce's celebration in the park. Rodriguez took time out to visit the Muleshoe Area Heathcare Center and 87-year-old Ruby Wilson, a longtime fan who was unable to make the performance at Joe's or the park.

Rodriguez's performance brought the largest one-day crowd in the 14-year history of the Joe's Boot Shop Boot Tent Sale and he spent an hour between sets signing autographs and visiting with fans.

The High Plains Junior Rodeo, sponsored by the Lazbuddie Senior Class, added to the fesitivities with three full days (more than 650 runs) of rodeo.

There were 47 entries in the Chamber of Commerce's annual parade, as well as numerous bicycles, go-carts and three-wheelers, said chairman David Tipps.

An expanded schedule of youth events in the park added to the celebration. The traditional fireworks and entertainment, both by local talent and Johnny Rodriguez, made for a complete day.

"I was very pleased with the turn out at the parade and the park," said Chamber Manager Patty Hartline. "We were trying to do something different this year, trying to involve teenagers in activities and hopefully next year we can do even more."

Texas cotton acres remain steady

AUSTIN — Texas upland cotton acreage for 1997 is estimated at 5.7 million acres, the same as last year but 11 percent below 1995. The first estimate of harvested acreage and production will be released on Aug. 12.

According to figures released by the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service, planted acreage estimates for wheat, peanuts, soybeans, dry beans and sunflowers are above 1996 levels, but acreages for most other crops are below last year. "Although wet soils delayed planting in many areas, most crops are off to a good start with excellent moisture conditions," state statistician Dennis Findley reported.

Based on results of a June 1 survey, Texas sorghum planted acreage totaled 3.3 million acres, down 25 percent from last year, when sorghum acreage increased following failed cotton. Producers expect to harvest 3.15 million acres, down 17 percent.

Planted acreage for corn is projected at 2.0 million acres, down 5 percent from 1996, while harvested acreage is expected to remain unchanged at 1.8 million acres, as less acreage is expected to be abandoned

Texas' peanut planted acreage is estimated at 300 thousand acres, 11 percent more than 1996. Harvested acreage is also expected to increase 11 percent to 295 thousand acres.

Rice producers along the coast have planted 260 thousand acres, down 13 percent less than the 1996 acreage. Harvested acreage is estimated at 259 thousand acres, down 13 percent from last year.

Acreage planted to soybeans is estimated at 420 thousand acres, up 45 percent from last year. Producers expect to harvest 400 thousand acres, compared with 270 thousand in 1996.

Planted acreage for winter wheat, at 6.3 million acres, is up 5 percent from last year. Harvested acreage, at 4.1 million acres, is up 41 percent from last year's drought-plagued crop but the same as 1995.

Texas' harvested acreage for all hay is estimated at 4.81 million acres, up 11 percent from last year.

United States Upland cotton acreage is estimated at 13.75 million acres, 4 percent below last year. Corn acreage, at 80.2 million, is up 1 percent, while sorghum acreage decreased 22 percent to 10.3 million acres.

Nationally, producers expect to plant 70.9 million acres of soybeans, up 10 percent from 1996, and 1.42 million acres of peanuts, up 1 percent.

Russia's War

Russia's War is a 10-hour documentary series that covers the history of the people of Russia from 1924 to 1953, concentrating on the conflict between Soviet Russia and Nazi Germany. The programs draw on Soviet archives, once-secret documents, and the scholarship of leading Russian historians to explore the tyrannical reign of Stalin before, during, and after World War II. Henry Kissinger introduces the series. Two hourlong episodes air at a time.

Russia's War will be broadcast Sunday mornings at 10:00 a.m. beginning July 13th on KENW-TV.

The Message in the Music

For the past eighteen years at an out-of-the-way farm in pastoral Mt. Union, Pennsylvania, 60,000 young people camp and share close quarters without incident, drug use, or profanity. The event is the Creation Festival, the largest Christian music festival in the country. This program takes a look at this festival and one of the fastest growing segments of the music industry — contemporary Christian music (CCM). It also features many of today's top CCM artists.

The Message in the Music will be broadcast Sunday, July 13th, 4:30 p.m. on KENW-TV.

"Dance in America: Suzanne Farrell: Elusive Muse"

One of the great dancers of the modern era is candidly profiled in "Suzanne Farrell: Elusive Muse," a presentation of Great Performances. The Oscar-nominated performance documentary details the remarkable career of the legendary ballerina and her intense professional and private relationship with George Balanchine, the choreographic genius who was 42 years her senior.

Great Performances "Dance in America: Suzanne Farrell: Elusive Muse" will be broadcast Thursday, July 17th at 9:00 p.m.

Toxic Talk: Pesticide Safety

Statistics say someone in your neighborhood this year, perhaps a child, could experience vomiting, seizures, the heart slowing down to almost a stop, difficulty breathing and could possibly die. All this from pesticide poisoning.

Organophosphates

This class of pesticides generally has the highest level of toxicity. A few of the organophosphates can be found in home and garden applications such as diazinon, malathion and chlorpyrifos. Symptoms in a poisoned child occur rapidly, are severe and can be prolonged . These symptoms include: excessive secretions in the airway, the heart slowing down, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, Organophosphates are great pesticides, but with only a small amount needing to be ingested; or prolonged skin contact required to poison a child, extreme caution is required when utilizing these pesticides.

seizures and possibly death.

Carbamates

Carbamates share the same symptoms of organophosphates; however are generally short lived in comparison (lasting only 6-8 hours). Examples such as sevin, propoxur and aldicarb are commonly found in outdoor use products. Carbamates can also be found in flea collars, dusting powders and pet shampoos.

Chlorinated Hydrocarbons

The EPA has sharply curtailed the use of some of these pesticides (ddt, aldrin, etc...) for their accumulation in the environment. Generally the public is aware that these pesticides are very dangerous. However, what the public is not aware of is that Lindane is related chemically to this group of pesticides. Lindane is the insecticide found in lice shampoo and creams. While lindane does not accumulate in the environment, lindane poses significant toxicity if used improperly. Over usage of Lindane on the skin or accidental ingestion can result in rapid prolonged seizures, difficulty in breathing, low blood pressure, and possibly death.

Pyrethrins/Pyrethroids

Chrysanthemum flower extracts makeup this class of pesticides. Pyrethrins are of low toxicity to large mammals such as humans, though young children can be poisoned with this product since their metabolism is not fully developed. Pyrethrins are the most commonly found pesticide in the market today. These products are found in several spot sprayers, indoor aerosol cans (RAID), and certain indoor foggers. Primarily symptoms from an exposure to over the counter products are nausea, vomiting and skin irritation.

Citronella oils

While not a class of pesticides, citronella deserves mention for its increasingly popularity in keeping insects away. Citronella is derived from citral which is the main product in lemon grass oil. Toxicity from this product is very low, usually resulting in only skin irritation and drowsiness.

Guidelines

Pesticides and their individual toxicity vary widely. Symptoms can be anything from rapid seizures and death to mild drowsiness. Therefore it is imperative to use common sense prevention if using pesticide products. Here is a list of guidelines that may help:

1) Read the directions on the back of the bottle. You may get away with putting together a bike without instruction, but a bike can't be absorbed through the skin causing seizures.

2) Avoid wearing leather products, such as boots, gloves, belts, etc..., when applying pesticides. Leather readily absorbs pesticides and will persist in them. So if you really like your Nikes, take them off before application or they may have to be discarded.

3) Don't apply pesticides in the wind. Here in the panhandle that may be a little difficult. Applying pesticides in the wind can allow the sprays to blow back on you and cause an accidental exposure.

4) Washing your clothes after pesticide application takes special precautions. First, place the exposed clothes into a plastic bag immediately after use and keep separate from the rest of the laundry. Second, when washing, use the hottest water possible, the full amount of laundry detergent recommended and utilize a pre-wash spray. Last, dry the clothes out-

5) When applying pesticides outside avoid contaminating puddles of water, animals tend to drink out of those puddles creating a significant poisoning hazard.

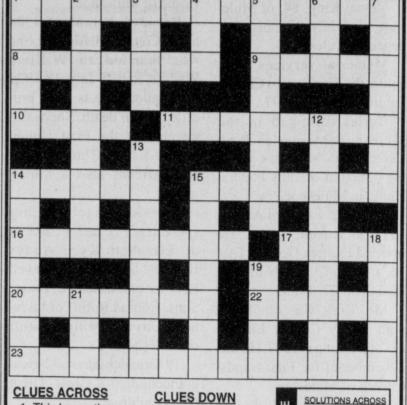

6) When setting off indoor foggers, make sure all people and pets are out of the house beforehand. The Poison Center receives a number of poisonings a year when an owner goes back inside the house, after the foggers are set.

7) When coming back inside after indoor fogger in use, wash all eating area, exposed eating utensils, plates and areas where children place their hands (such as window sill, etc...) with soap and water.

8) Do not think a little is good therefore a lot must be great! Many accidental exposures occur when large mounds of granular pesticides are applied to ant hills or other insect manifestations and kids go and play in and eat pesticides

9) Keep these products up very high in the garage. THEY ARE DANGEROUS!

10) If there is any possibility of an exposure or you have questions on safe application or would like a free brochure on application or types of poisons, call the Texas Poison Center Network at 1-800-764-7661 (1-800-Poison -1).

9-12 age group, tying for third in the ribbon roping, placing sixth in the breakaway roping and eighth in the calf touching. Eric Magby of Lazbuddie was fourth in the 9-12 steer stopping, while Clay Myers of Muleshoe was seventh in the chute dogging. Mandy Myers of Muleshoe was seventh in the 16-19 pole bending and Brady Black of Muleshoe was ninth in the 8under barrel race.

There were more than 650 runs over the three-day rodeo, which was made difficult at times by weather. After competitors battled windy, stormy conditions from the midway point of Thursday's first performance, Friday's weather was perfect. But two inches of rain in the early morning hours Saturday made arena preparations difficult. A storm with lightning, high winds and rain interrupted Saturday's final performance and left the arena sloppy in spots.

It was the second HPJRA event in Muleshoe this summer. The competitors will be in Colorado City July 10-12. Here are final results:
