FORTY-FOURTH YEAR.

SNYDER, SCURRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1920.

NUMBER TWENTY-ONE

CAS SCHOOL FUND SECOND IN UNION

st. Oct. 31.—Texas has a per cent school fund valued at $71,999, according to figures compiled by J. W. Baker, State Treasurer's forthcoming annual report. Of amount $214,024 is cash, $23,933 in county, city and school bonds, and $46,915,674 in land notes issued by the permanent school fund. Its vast school fund is said to be the largest of any state in the Union the exception of New York.

Practical Teaching of Thrift.

Esboro high school girls studying Home Economics will be taught saving and household bookkeeping with the aid of budgets prepared by the aid of budgets prepared by experts for the United States Bureau Department. Miss O. A. Duncan, their teacher, is using Savings Division's suggestions as a means of training she is giving her in running a home on a business basis. Superintendent Lofland and his wife are preparing to inaugurate a "Thrifty Thrift Bank" similar to that recently established in Brown school in Dallas, where more than 300 pupils became stockholders on the morning when the bank was formally opened and some 100 Thrift and Government Savings Stamps were bought by the pupils in less than an hour.

Andrews of our city. Mr. and Mrs. Duvett left Thursday for Fort Worth where they will make their new home.

It was a republican landslide. The people wanted a change and they are getting it. Missouri and Tennessee went over to the G. O. P. From returns at hand the senate will have 54 republicans, 40 democrats and three not certain. Of 34 governors elected, six are democrats.

It is expected now that the republicans will adopt some sort of a peace platform on practically the Wilson lines. Another has ever yet been suggested that their plan will be to rename it that Wilson may not be given the honor of it.

With Mrs. O. P. Thrane.

The El Feliz Club had its regular meeting with Mrs. O. P. Thrane, Oct. 22.

One of the best attendances we have had this year. After business the pleasure hour was greatly enjoyed five tables participating in 42."

Episcopal Church takes Forward Step

Amarillo, Texas, Nov. 2.—The Rev. Robt. N. McCallum, chairman of the diocese of Northwest Texas of the Protestant Episcopal church, National campaign, Abilene, is this week visiting parishes at Colorado, San Angelo, Coleman, Abilene and other points for the purpose of arousing initial interest in the campaign. A conference of the diocesan committee was held at Abilene Thursday, which is the second meeting on the work held there. They first accomplished organization under Mr. McCallum as chairman appointed by Bishop Edward Temple. The program for the campaign was then mapped out, the appointed diocesan committee supporting the chairman being composed of Rev. W. A. Williams of Colorado, Will Smith of Abilene, and the southern territory represented by Rev. Gerhart of Abilene; and the northern territory by G. C. Rafter of Clarendon. Mrs. Ledford is in charge of the distribution of literature, Mr. Shields is treasurer and Edward E. Talmage of Amarillo is publicity manager to whom all news of the campaign should be sent.

The purpose of the campaign is an annual affair to arouse and stimulate individual members to greater personal service expressed in increased activity along three lines: Religious education, meaning the church schools colleges and religious oversight, wherever possible for higher and lower schools; social service, looking to the betterment of social conditions in all walks of life. Schools, industry and Christian consciousness, in all things and not strictly the church extension, meaning the reaching of the unchurched, providing religious environment for remote communities, intensified program for ground already held by the church and the like.

E. A. Bills who used to teach school at Fluvanna was here this week. He is now in the newspaper game at Eastland and appears to be well fed.

B. Y. Rea of Foch was doing business in the city Wednesday.

Joe Taylor and wife left Thursday for Dallas where Joe will undergo an operation.

The Bryant-Link Company have their big stock of general merchandise about ready for the trade.

Mr. Tom Fletcher said Wednesday when he heard about the election: "If I were a cussing man I'd say ——— it."

The matter of extending the M. K. & T. railroad from Rotan to Snyder thence to Roswell, New Mexico, has been revived after ten years of quiescence. This special item and a similar one from Waco appeared in State papers last Saturday:

Stamford, Oct. 29.—It is reported in high Katy railroad circles here that that line is planning an extension of its Texas Central line from Rotan, its present terminus to Roswell, N. M. through the town of Snyder, Gail, Lamesa, Seminole, or Seagraves and Lovington, N. M.

The proposed new line will open up a territory fertile as any in the nation, and give a direct haul of the immense products of the Pecos valley and West Texas to all the big markets, including Fort Worth.

With the completion of the proposed Fort Worth & North Western railroad from Fort Worth to Stamford Fort Worth people would have a direct route "shoot" to Roswell, and important New Mexican points. It would also provide a new jobbing center for the rapidly expanding Panhandle.

The survey was made from Rotan to Snyder in 1910 by the Texas Central and it was understood that the company acquired about 30 acres of land at Snyder presumably for shop purposes but about that time there was a change of ownership and then came some new laws and a tightness of money matters and then the war and the prospects of extending the road went into cold storage.

Now, it seems the matter is coming back to active life. There is a railroad building wave getting underway. The Orient is planning to extend into Old Mexico and other lines in West Texas will be extended and it is a logical proposition for the M. K. & T. to reach out across West Texas and the South Plains and get the benefits of development in this rapidly growing section of country.

RESULTS OF STATE AND NATIONAL ELECTION ON LAST TUESDAY

The first returns from the last Tuesday election indicated that the Republican ticket had won although it was seen that most of the reports were from republican states.

It may be a few days before the exact results are known, but right now it looks like a republican victory and that the people do not want a League of nations, especially one sponsored by Woodrow Wilson and the democratic party.

Early returns indicated that Harding had carried Ohio and even had taken Gov. Cox's home county from him. Texas has gone democratic by her accustomed big majority. The weather was perfect and the woman vote was heavy in the state but not a full male vote because the men were busy. This was manifestly true here at Snyder for at this box only 504 votes were cast and about 100 of these were women.

The complete vote at the Snyder box gave:

Democratic electors 425, Republican 55, Black and Tan 9, American party 2, Socialist 8, Independent 0.

The vote for governor of Texas was: Neff 431, Culbertson 52, Capers 0, McGregor 2, Rhodes 6.

It has been expected that Rev. Clyde Lee Fife would be here next Sunday to enter upon the pastorate of the Christian church in Snyder. His household goods have been shipped, may be here now. He stopped off at Dalhart to hold a meeting. A letter came from him to Earl Brown this week saying he has been detained by sickness in his family and is not sure of getting here before December.

A large crowd gathered Tuesday night at the Opera house to read the election bulletins.

LOW GRADE COTTON SENT TO EUROPE

More than 1,600 bales of West Texas low grade cotton has been turned over by the growers for shipment to Europe by George Finbery, cotton factor of Abilene, under the so-called Finbery plan, adopted recently by the directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

This information was brought to Fort Worth by W. T. Wheeler, assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber who will be in the city for the next day or so.

The plan of Finbery is to make an initial shipment of perhaps 15,000 bales to three European ports, there to be sold to the best advantage, or, if the market is unsatisfactory, to be stored until it improves. The farmer deposits $20 with the nearest bank to cover expenses, the cotton is shipped to the nearest compress and then sent to Galveson for concentration. The farmer gets back his $20 out of the sale of the cotton, and is out a commission of 5 per cent to the Finberg house for handling.

It is pointed out that the "bolly" cotton is unsalable in this country, so that Europe is the only place where it can be disposed of. It is estimated that there are 65,000 bales of this class in West Texas.

Wheeler stated that West Texas will have an unrivaled exhibit of agricultural and other products at the Waco Cotton Palace. The several exhibits shown during the Summer at various State fairs have been combined with those seen at the Dallas Fair making one great exhibit occupying a space 75 by 30 feet.

Laundry Changes Owners.

Dr. L. T. Wilson has sold the Snyder Steam Laundry to Messrs. Larue and Brown and the institution is now under the new management.

Mr. Brown is already here and Mr. Larue will come next week. The Snyder people know Larue. He is a pleasant gentleman and an experienced laundryman.

PRESS COMMENT

Commenting on the action of the Methodist Conference at Clarendon in voting to withdraw financial support from the Southern Methodist University and the Texas Woman's College and give West Texas support to West Texas schools the Amarillo News says:

"Methodists of West Texas asserted their independence and their belief that the sons and daughters of the people of this part of the State are entitled to as good things as the people of the remainder of the state, when the Conference at Clarendon voted to withdraw support from Southwestern University and Texas Woman's College."

And along the same line the Amarillo Daily Tribune asserts:

"If citizens throughout West Texas act as decisively in their capacity as citizens as the Methodist denomination acted, this agricultural and mechanical college is assured."

These are straws showing the tendency of thought in West Texas that will some day result in a sovereign state in this region.

A farmer was standing on the corner the other day thinking about the low price of cotton when a friend came up saying, "Well, next Tuesday will elect a president, will it be Harding or Cox?" and the farmer mildly replied "I think so."

The Colorado Record recently mentioned having seen a copy of the Ulster county, (Va.) Gazette, that reported the death of George Washington, and the editor of the Lorraine Leader says he fed the press at Eastland in 1919 in printing several thousand copies of that fake.

C. W. Warwick has bought up all the stock in the Randell County News at Canyon and will now run the paper to suit himself. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram reproduces this thought gem from Henry Grady.

"Every day these times is a fitting day for repeating these words of Henry W. Grady:

"When every farmer in the South shall eat bread from his own fields and meat from his own pastures, and disturbed by no creditors and enslaved by no debt shall sit among his teeming gardens and orchards and vineyards and his dairies and barnyards, pitching his crops in his own wisdom and growing them in independence, making cotton his clean surplus, and sell it in his own time in his chosen market and not at a master's bidding, getting his pay in cash and not in a receipted mortgage that discharges his debt but does not restore his freedom—then shall be breaking the fullness of our day."

"Henry W. Grady saw the South's problem with unflinching clearness and expressed it in winged words. The South must work toward the goal of complete independence for States, for every farm. Its complete realization is, of course, Utopian, but the nearer we come to it the better will be our lot."

Henry W. Grady's career as a thinker and orator was short but brilliant. He exposed his health to serve his country and died while the echoes of his pleadings were still ringing in the public ear.

Roby Star Record thinks the Oregon party learned some American ideas while in Texas for they went back home and established martial law in one Mexican State. It will be remembered that when Villa was expected to be president of Mexico, he was asked if his country would adopt woman suffrage. He didn't know what that was. When it was defined and he was told that the United States was going to have it, he said, "Well, so will Mexico."

The Modern First Monday.

The time was in West Texas when First Monday was a real red letter calendar day in town. Then every body wanted to come in and meet everybody else, men wanted to compare crops, sell nags, swap horses and have a good time, then toward night some of the boys got mellow and "organized" and the fun would start up. Those old days have gone. The farmers are rushing the business of harvest and getting the cotton ready for market. The rural telephone and the local paper tell the gossip. The stray sale feature has been cut out, the buying and selling of plug horses and brocs have passed to the professional itinerant jockies and elements for creating temporary "bigness" and the disposition to shoot up the town and create uproar have been banished and now our First Mondays are quiet days. There were very few people in town last Monday and most of those here were in a hurry to get back to the cotton fields.

Gov. Hobby refused to urge farmers to hold their cotton unguined. He suggests that cotton can be better cared for in bales than in the seed and that speculators would soon be figuring on the great amount of cotton being held back, whereas if the cotton is in bales the gin books will show just how many bales are in the country.

Georgia has been in a turmoil for several weeks. The Republicans adopted a new scheme to carry that old state and break into the solid South, they have night riders, gin burners, coal mine strikes and Tom Watson.

When the Katy builds into Snyder we ought to bring the three roads together in a union depot at some convenient place in the town.

About this time last year there was much anxiety about an epidemic of "flu" and a year before that we had the real thing with us in distressing aggressiveness. This year we are, so far, not threatened and surely we ought to feel thankful for the good. Certainly we ought to be ready for the next event—Thanksgiving. The war is over, Mexico is pacified and the defeated party at home will save money enough from their crops to get by on.

Just as soon as the cotton crop is out of the way the Chamber of Commerce will be taking up other movements for civic advancement.

Heretofore it has been said by some that there was no strictly high grade cotton in this territory but this year has forced acknowledgment that it is here. The present manager of our warehouse has proved it and the result is that Snyder is now recognized as the best cotton market in West Texas.

The governors of Texas, Arizona and New Mexico are urging early recognition of the Obergon government in Mexico. These governors understand conditions and they know that recognition is the surest and quickest way to bring about the prosperity of that country and to insure friendly trade relations and protect the rights of Americans in Mexico.

It is presumed that the voices of W. J. Bryan and Joe Bailey are in prime condition. They have not been strained any in support of the Democratic national ticket.

There were seven republican votes polled at Ira.

We could not want better weather for crop gathering than we've had this week.

We have lived through more years of republican than democratic administration, but never have we had so many good wholesome laws enacted for the good of the common people as have been given us during the Wilson regime.

Eleven States were counted sure to elect democrats to the Senate and Georgia was expected to hold her nose while Tom Watson was being designated for the upper house.

There has been just a little showing of frost three or four mornings.

Not Against West Texas A. & M. The Star-Telegram says:

In a letter to the San Antonio Express, President Vinson of the University of Texas denies emphatically that he had any intention to give the impression, when speaking before the Rotary Club of San Antonio recently, that he is opposed to the creation of a West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College.

"Let me say clearly," writes Dr. Vinson, "that I expressed no opposition to the establishment of normal schools, or a West Texas A. & M. College. What I was pleading for was no institution should be established in Texas of any sort until a study of both the educational needs of Texas and the State's financial resources has been made, so that the State's educational system may be enlarged to meet conditions which clearly appear and consonantly with the financial ability of the State to meet the needs of the institutions already established and I therefore expressed the hope that the people of Texas not only will vote for the pending educational amendment to the constitution, but would also urge upon members of the Legislature to provide for an adequate and thorough investigation of the educational conditions and needs of the State of Texas before entering upon any further educational expansion."

It was not necessary for Dr. Vinson to suggest further study of the needs of the school in West Texas. That has already been conceded, and as to ability of the state to provide it, we might say the people of West Texas have been building institutions for other sections and the funds will come to build this one.

When a Woman is Nervous—Worried

The lives of most women are full of worry. Men's troubles are bad enough, but women's are worse. Worry makes women sick. It pulls them down, and in their weakened condition they are subject to pains, aches, weakness, backaches, headaches and dizzy spells. Most women neglect their health, and for this they pay the penalty. Any woman will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life. If she asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses peculiar to women, but is an all-round tonic that braces the entire body, overcoming nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness and a run-down condition.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.—"For about three years I have been in a run-down condition. I would be so weak at times I could scarcely get around. I was extremely nervous, could not sleep and I was in a miserable state when I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I have not taken all of one bottle but am feeling better than I have for a long time. I am going to continue its use for I know it is helping me more than any medicine I have taken." —Mrs. H. T. E. K. LINCOLN TOPS ALL-STAR CAST IN ZANE GREY PICTURE

"Desert Gold" Boasts Ten of Most Popular Players on the Screen.

The cast of Zane Grey's "Desert Gold," produced by Benjamin B. Hampton and Etinge F. Warner for Zane Grey Pictures, Inc., a W. W. Hodgkinson release, to be shown at the Cozy Theatre tomorrow reads like a page from "Who's Who in Fildom." Seldom if ever before has such an all-star cast been gathered and never before to bring to life the novel of a famous author. In choosing the cast more than 200 players were interviewed. Among the principals are such famed personages as E. K. Lincoln, W. Lawson Butt, Edward Coxen, Walter Long, William Bainbridge, Brank Lanning, Eileen Percy, Margery Wilson, Arthur Morrison, Russell Simpson and Laura Winston.

E. K. Lincoln has been a reader "fan" of Zane Grey for years, and although the star and the author had never met, Mr. Grey so gratefully admired Mr. Lincoln's work that he wanted him for "Dick Gale," W. Lawson Butt, the famous English actor, was chosen by Mr. Grey nearly a year ago to create the role of the Yaqui.

For the part of the dashing border captain, George Thorne, Edward Coxen was chosen as ideal and to the man who has won fame by such virile roles as he played in "Carmen of the Klondike," the part of Capt. Thorne opened wonderful new opportunities. The extremely important "heavy" Rojas, the bandit chief, is taken by the "worst hated man in pictures," Walter Long, whose work as "Gus" in Griffith's "Birth of a Nation" will be recalled everywhere.

The women's roles are in the hands of beautiful, go-getters Eileen Percy and the dark and willowy Margery Wilson, players notable for some remarkable screen achievements.

"Hallowe'en Party."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Grayum opened their beautiful home to Snyder's younger set on Friday evening to the gayest and most delightful party of the year.

About sixty young people responded to the very unique invitations so characteristic of the occasion.

From the time the guests arrived and were instructed to mask until the evening came to an end not a dull moment was passed. As we entered the promenade spooks in every disguise waylaid us with handshakes that were both icy and shocking. Further on we were attracted by the mourning and sighing of other goblins and imagine our consternation and surprise to find them grieving over the lost body of one of their number wrapped in its mistic shroud. In the distance we were permitted to view other laborers preparing the last resting place of this departed one.

After this vision we found ourselves groping in the darkness and din of the "Goblins' Inferno." The deafening noises of this place were rivaled only by the unrestrained laughter of those who wound their way through blocked passages, hot sands and every other bewildering device.

Next our fortunes were told us by an obliging witch, then we were served by the old negro mammy in her quaint little haunt.

The balance of the evening was spent in the reception halls where stunts appropriate to the occasion were made more delightful by elaborate decorations, which greeted us on every side.

Mesdames McCormick and Anderson assisted the hostess in serving a most delicious salad course consisting of sweetmeats, sandwiches and steaming coffee.

In wishing the hostess good evening, we felt that if there could be a tinge of regret entering into the merriment of this occasion it would be in a realization of the unusual effort and zeal expended by the hostess in preparation of the evening's entertainment.

Life Was a Misery

Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Palmer, Okla., writes: "From the time I entered into womanhood . . . I looked with dread from one month to the next. I suffered with my back and bearing-down pain, until life to me was a misery. I would think I could not endure the pain any longer, and I gradually got worse. . . Nothing seemed to help me until, one day, . . . I decided to

TAKE CARDUI

"I took four bottles," Mrs. Jones goes on to say, "and was not only greatly relieved, but can truthfully say that I have not a pain. . . . It has now been two years since I took Cardui, and I am still in good health. . . . I would advise any woman or girl to use Cardui who is a sufferer from any female trouble."

If you suffer pain caused from womanly trouble, or if you feel the need of a good strengthening tonic to build up your run-down system, take the advice of Mrs. Jones. Try Cardui. It helped her. We believe it will help you.

HALLOWE'EN WITH MR. AND MRS. E. J. ANDERSON

The El Fellz Club were at home to their husbands Thursday evening Oct. 28 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Anderson in a national convention of spooks.

Promptly at 7:30 the spooks began to arrive and in no time Hades Hall was full of spooks of all descriptions. After all had gathered the gentlemen spooks were led into the mysterious path and greeted at the entrance to the back yard gate by two lady spooks who extended to them a warm welcome with their ice hands.

In the dark recesses of the yard they came upon the grave diggers and the mourners and the mournful sounds that came from them were piercing the air everywhere.

We were soon all assembled in the convention hall where we were called to order by the high spookety-spook Mrs. O. P. Thrane. Then we had a contest guessing who the spooks were from their tone of voice.

Mr. E. J. Anderson representing Charon the guide of the spirits across the River Styx led each spook down the hall way into the chamber of the oracles. There we saw the mysterious hand writing, the woman with the blonde hair suspended in mid-air and the mysterious ouiga board who answered all questions. Each spook was given permission to ask these oracles three questions, which would unveil to them their future.

We were then all led to the open grave, where you were to bury your past follies. This ceremony presided over by Charon was indeed sad and very impressive. The fishing pond came next, where the spooks fished for their fortune, not a one threw the line without bringing to them their fortune written in a large hand writing but not readable without the aid of a mirror to decipher the mysterious letters.

Then came the unmasking of of spooks and all assembled in dining room and were seated on floor where we were served to a delicious sandwich, coffee, cake and candy, with a favor on each plate of a mirror.

The decorations were all that could possibly be to represent the occasion, through the home jack-o'-lantern gave out their weird lights. The assembly hall was full of witches, and cats, with seats all swabbed in white and the dummy reposed in a dignified manner, which turned out to be the Edison.

The dining room was arrayed in autumn products of apples, corn, maize and pumpkins.

The out of town guest of the evening was Mrs. Tillman Perkins of Mineral Wells.

The guests departed thanking the host and hostess for the delightful time they had spent.

My Announcement.

I am here and now making public announcement that I have sold my entire interest in the Snyder Signal to Mr. W. R. Bell and am retiring to private life. Hence forth the paper will be published by Messrs. Curry & Bell.

I came to Snyder in the early part of 1910 and have been continuously engaged in the printing and publishing business here for something over ten years.

I have had pleasant lines and lines not so roseate, but altogether these ten years have been enjoyable. I have striven to put out a newspaper that would be appreciated by the reading public and that might do its measure of good in the county.

I have tried to advocate those things that would tend to material and moral benefit.

I feel that I and my family have formed friendships here that we will always cherish and I can sincerely say that no country has a better people than our Scurry county folks.

I had faith in the country when I came here and I have that faith now stronger than ever.

Snyder has always been one of the best towns in West Texas and will be better still. Opportunities are coming and promises of prosperity are growing brighter.

I sold out because I wanted to. I feel that I have been in the harness long enough, at least for awhile.

You all know Curry and Bell and can feel assured they will give you a good paper and always represent the welfare of the community.

In retiring I want to say that you are my friends and I shall always sympathize in your troubles and rejoice with you in your happiness and prosperity. Goodbye.

J. S. HARDY.

J. S. Hardy Sells Interest In Signal.

A deal was consummated this week in which J. S. Hardy, editor of the Signal sold his interest to W. R. Bell of this city. Mr. Hardy in severing his relation with the Signal ends a long series of newspaper activity of something like 31 years having been connected with the Waxahachie Enterprise for 5 years, the Ennis Daily News for 16 years and the Snyder Signal for eleven years. Mr. Hardy has been a great factor in civic development and moral influence in each community where he has lived, always striving for its specific advancement. He, no doubt, can look back over these long years of newspaper activity with pleasure for that of moulding public opinion is of no little service. While in Snyder, Mr. Hardy has always been foremost in advocating civic pride and has seen wonderful development in Snyder and Scurry county. He will remain in Snyder for the present. But wherever he goes or whatever he does he will carry with him the best wishes and good will of all the people of Snyder and Scurry county.

W. R. Bell Buys Interest In Signal

A deal was made this week in which W. R. Bell becomes the owner of the J. S. Hardy interest in the Signal.

Mr. Bell needs no introduction to our people, he is well and favorably known in Snyder and Scurry county having lived in Snyder for the past eleven years and has been with the Signal most all those years, with the probable exception of a year or two. Mr. Bell has been in the newspaper business practically all his life having started when he was quite young. Therefore it is useless to say that he is perfectly familiar with every detail of the newspaper business. In view of this fact we feel that the standard which the Signal has ever upheld will continue to be maintained. Mr. Hardy will retire and the Signal will be published by Curry & Bell.

Farmers

I will be here in Snyder, Friday and Saturday, 5 and 6 of November taking orders for my famous cotton seed called

Rendons Advance Cotton

I have taken a good many orders since here in Snyder. I have talked to many farmers and all agree with me that we must raise a better staple of cotton. We haven't overstocked on fine grades, it is the short staple that has ruined the market in many places. My seed always brings $6.00 a bushel. While I am here I will take your order at $3.00 a bushel f. o. b. shipping point. If you do not see me while in the county, my state address is Blue Ridge, Texas, Collin county.

"MISS HOBBS," BIG REALART COMEDY COMING TO THE COZY
Given: A group of men and a group of women, separately located at any two spots on the habitable globe.
Problem: Keep them apart.
The little feminine group was composed of one reformer, one disillusioned bride, and one defiant fiancée, who has just broken her engagement and joined the Amalgamated Order of Man Haters.
The men's group consisted of one forlorn and deserted bride-groom, one disconsolate and rejected fiancée, and one jovial and extremely eligible bachelor whose sense of humor had thus far so filled his life with amusing adventures that women had failed to interest him.
Said the reformer and Chief Man Hater to her companions, "My dears, you are well rid of the hateful brutes, and now we shall be comfortable and happy and consider some worth while careers."
And over on the other side of the town, in the forlorn dove-cote of the erstwhile happy Newly-Weds, the jovial bachelor was cheering the flagging spirits of the deserted males by calmly asserting that they needn't worry—that the women are easy to tame—pooh—just make love to 'em and they become docile at once.
"But you don't know this reformer this man-hater this feminine disturber of other people's love affairs," the deserted men assured the gay bachelor.

"Man-hater, is she?" scoffed the bachelor imperturbably. "Pooh—that kind is especially easy to tame. Why, I'll wager I can kiss her in a month."
That, briefly sketched, is the comedy situation of the Realart Picture, "Miss Hobbs," starring Miss Wanda Hawley, which will be featured tonight at the Cozy Theatre.
FOR SALE—A gentle work mare. will sell cheap for cash. 22p See C. P. Shafer.

MRS. CUNNINGHAM ENTERTAINS WITH HALLOWEEN PARTY

Mrs. Dora Cunningham entertained the faculty and a few friends, last Saturday evening, with a Halloween party.

The guests entered and passed thru the labyrinth of difficulty, where the Black hand and Ouija board answered all questions asked by the witches and spooks. At the end of the hall the grave diggers were prepared to bury all troubles, or, anything in the past that the spooks wanted to forget.

The guests then passed into the room of amusement, which was beautifully decorated with black cats, owls, bats, witches, bundles of cane, pumpkins and corn.

Many interesting games were played and during the time a witch appeared bringing glad tidings to some. Later in the evening the gypsy came in and read the future of the ghosts.

After the amusements of the evening, suitable refreshments were served and the guests departed, declaring the evening one of the most enjoyable occasions of the season.
