SNYDER, SCURRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPT. 16, 1921.

NUMBER FOURTEEN.

DIRT BROKEN FOR MCMURRAY COLLEGE

Abilene, Texas, Sept. 13.—The breaking of dirt for the first building at McMurry Methodist College here was celebrated this afternoon. Bishop William Fletcher McMurry of Louisville, Ky., for whom the institution is named officiated.

Another speaker of the occasion was the Rev. C. W. Hearon, former pastor of the Abilene First Methodist church, but now pastor at Denison. A number of presiding elders, pastors, laymen and directors of the college were here from all parts of West Texas to attend the ceremonies. Bishop McMurry and his cabinet held a meeting this forenoon to discuss affairs of the Northwest Texas conference, and the college directors also met in an important session. Tonight the bishop and other visiting clergymen were guests of local Methodists at a banquet.

Abilene gave the new college $200,000 in cash, a $50,000 building site, perpetual free water, and other concessions, while the church will supplement this with an endowment of $150,000.

FRED A. GRAYUM AND FAMILY LEAVE FOR WACO

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Grayum and son Willie and daughter, Miss Violet, left Wednesday for Waco, where they will make their future home.

Mr. Grayum has been in Snyder twenty-five years, and during that time has been prominently connected with the business interest of the town. He was connected with the Grayum Drug Store for a number of years and was at one time... County Clerk of the county. More recently he has been with the Baker, Grayum & Anderson loans and real estate and at the time of his leaving Snyder was Federal Land Inspector for the Federal Land Bank for the north west Texas district.

Mrs. Grayum was an active worker in the church and social affairs of the community. She was president of the Parent-Teachers Association last session and an untiring worker in its behalf.

We wish for them an abundant portion of prosperity in their new home.

SERIES OF LECTURES BY DR. JAMES WILLIAM LOWBER

Dr. James William Lowber, Ph. D., LL.D., will begin a series of lectures in Snyder Sunday night at the Christian church and will be here for a week.

Dr. Lowber was for twelve years pastor of the Central Christian church of Austin, Texas, but more recently has been in the evangelistic work. His lectures have to do with social reform, Christian Citizenship, etc.

The following facts are taken from 'Who's Who in America,' the National Cyclopaedia of American Biography and other publications. Dr. Lowber is a Ph. D. of Syracuse University, N. Y., a doctor of Social and Political Science of the University of Wooster, Ohio, a member of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, a councillor and lecturer of both the American Civil association and the American Institute of Civics, he is a member and committeeman of the American Health League. The National Cyclopaedia of American Biography says: "Dr. Lowber was one of the first in America to advocate the science of Christian sociology, and started a few years ago a social reform movement which has attracted a good deal of attention." Dr. Lowber has lectured in a large number of the American cities and in nearly half of the states of the Union and his lectures have always been commended by the press. These lecture-sermons are really a great social and religious revival.

The Austin Statesman has the following in reference to an address delivered by Dr. Lowber at the Parker Memorial Methodist Church, New Orleans: "Both the Times-Democrat and Picayune give a sketch of Dr. Lowber, taking their facts from

"Who's Who in America." Dr. J. W. Lowber has for the past twelve years been pastor of the Central Christian Church of Austin, Texas. He is a member of the Royal Societies Club of London. He is also a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of the Royal Society of Arts and the Royal Astronomical Society of London. He is a member of the Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain and Ireland; of the French Astronomical Society; of the Royal Educational Institute of Scotland and of the Royal Scottish Geographical Society. He is author of a number of books. It is said that he is one of the finest educated preachers in the world. He has also been a college president and university chancellor. It was at New Orleans, in 1906, that he was made a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science." Mrs. Lowber who is a gifted elocutionist, gives readings in connection with these lectures.

Subject for Sunday night will be "The problems of a higher social and spiritual life." Monday night "The Mission and Destiny of the American Republic." Tuesday night "The Marriage Problem and the Home." Wednesday night "The Abomination of Modern Society." The next Sunday night "The Reformation and Protestantism, What Will Be the Future of the Church." There will be no admission charged for these lectures, only contributions after each lecture toward expenses.

HERMLEIGH GOOD TOWN NEW BUILDINGS GOING UP

Hermleigh has always been a good town. It has stood the test of reverses and has always been on the alert to take advantage of prosperous times and has made the best of her opportunities. It has had some disastrous fires like all other towns, but the places made vacant by the fire is now being cleared preparatory to building some modern brick buildings.

Mr. Gentry president First State Bank was here Monday and stated that work had already commenced on the foundation, that he was putting in one of the buildings, Adams & Leverett another and C. Karnes another. The location of the new buildings will be just east of the bank building.

Wheat in the Hermleigh territory was unusually good this year and the acreage was considerably larger. Quite a large shipment of wheat was made from Hermleigh this season.

The cotton is fairly good in that locality, and two gins are now in operation and, up to Tuesday of this week they had ginned about 200 bales.

Hermleigh has a good ball team and has made some good records during the summer. They were at Big Spring the first three days of this week playing the Big Spring team. On Monday the game was a tie. We did not get the result of the last two days. This will be the last games of the season, the Hermleigh boys will play.

The Hermleigh State Bank shows a healthy condition at the close of business on Sept. 6th, and all other lines of business is taking on new life.

Hermleigh is on the Highway that leads through Scurry county and is said to be one of the best constructed roads in the state.

Sheriff Byrd Captures Still.

Sheriff Byrd had suspected for some time that a still was being operated and picking a time when he thought it would be opportune, he in company with his deputies, Messrs. Jim Chinn and Frank Brownfield, on last Friday night, they went to the scene about fourteen miles northeast of Snyder and took in charge another Moonshine still. They brought it into town, placed it on the court house square where it created a bit of attention. It was a crudely arranged concern. The equipment in this instance consisted of a fifty gallon steel oil barrel from which the top had been partly cut out, this hole was covered with a smaller metal dome from which a coil of one inch galvanized pipe about twenty feet long passed down through a water barrel. This is the third still for the past year in Scurry county. No one was found with the still.

NEW TAX SCHEMES BEING CONSIDERED

Washington, Sept. 14.—Many House proposals for tax changes were rejected or sharply modified today by the Senate finance committee. Probably the most far-reaching decision of the committee was that to restore all transportation taxes but with those on freight, passenger and Pullman accommodations in force only for 1922 and at half the present rates. The House bill provided for repeal of all of the levies on next January 1. While agreeing to the House plan to repeal stamp taxes on perfumes, cosmetics, toilet preparations and proprietary medicines, the committee voted to impose a manufacturers tax of four per cent on toilet articles and two per cent on proprietary medicines, and to restore the three per cent tax on toilet soaps and powders which the House bill proposed to repeal.

The section of the House bill reducing tax on candy from 5 per cent to 3 per cent was amended to provide that candy sold at wholesale for more than 40 cents a pound should bear a tax of ten per cent.

Under a new section added to the house bill the committee proposed that the tax on chewing gum be reduced from 3 per cent to 2 per cent.

The House provision repealing all of the so-called luxury taxes was accepted, but the committee deferred action on the proposal to impose a manufacturers' tax on a number of the articles on which a retail tax is now imposed.

J. S. HARDY GLAD TO GET BACK TO PLAINS

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hardy, for many years residents of Snyder, are in Amarillo, visiting with their son, Olin F. Hardy, of the Tribune editorial force. Mr. Hardy for a number of years was engaged in the newspaper business in Snyder, but recently disposed of his plant there, and has since that time been visiting over the state of Texas with relatives and friends. Mr. Hardy said:

"In coming to Amarillo, as we passed into the country this side of Childress and on into this city, it looked like a paradise. I cannot imagine anything more beautiful. The crops, the livestock, the general appearance of the country and the towns, bespeak prosperity. I am greatly impressed with future possibilities of this city and the surrounding country. It is not at all strange that the people are in love with this portion of the state. The very atmosphere inculcates one with a desire to linger here."—Amarillo Daily Tribune.

Cotton Opening Fast.

Cotton is opening very rapidly all over Scurry county and picking is in full blast. The gins are all working overtime. Yesterday morning there were about 15 bales waiting at the Bridge street gin and about 20 at the Fuller gin, waiting for their turn while the other two gins in the city were equally crowded.

The weather is ideal for picking and there is a great demand for pickers. Farmers are very hopeful that the weather will continue open for another six weeks.

Cotton sold around 20c yesterday.

Raymond Sims left last week for Waco where he will enter school at Baylor university.

HONORING MR. AND MRS. FRED A. GRAYUM

One of the very nicest parties of the season was the lawn party given Monday night by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stinson, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Grayum, who are leaving for their new home at Waco.

The lawn was brilliantly lighted, and beautifully decorated with ferns and pot plants.

The guests were met by Mr. and Mrs. Stinson and after exchanging greetings with the Grayums, Mrs. Dixie Smith and Billie Grayum took their hats and wraps.

The guests registered in two pretty hand painted books, one a gift to the honoree, the other to be kept by the hostess.

Mrs. H. G. Towle assisted at the register table. Delicious punch was dispensed by Misses Loree Stokes and Lolet Grayum. Misses Francis Harris and Lois Sears passed dainty score cards and twenty five tables of forty-two, players were soon having a jolly time.

Punch was served throughout the evening, Mrs. Lee Stinson furnished Victrola music and with Mesdames Harris and George Smith assisted in entertaining those who didn't play forty-two.

At 10 o'clock chocolate brick cream with lovely Angel Food and Devils Food cake was served by the young ladies.

With the pleasure of the occasion was mingled that tinge of sorrow, that we are to lose the Grayums.

Good wishes for a pleasant stay in Waco and that they may sometime return to Snyder to live was the unanimous expression of all.

Let the World Know.

A ma-goose on an eastern Kansas farm, having faithfully stuck to business and laid a baker's dozen of large eggs, complained that she was not being appreciated by her owner and the community.

"See that Missouri hen over there?" hissed this old Jayhawk Ma-goose, "she hasn't laid as many eggs as I have nor by any means anything like so big, but she has had bulletins and books written about her and songs composed in her honor, while nobody is saying so much as one good word about me."

"The trouble with you, Ma-goose," crowed a wise old Missouri rooster, standing safely on the State line, "is that you don't tell the public what you have done. You lay an egg and then at once waddle right away without saying one word, but that militant sister of mine never lays an egg without advertising to the whole neighborhood about it, if you want to cut any ice, you must get wise and advertise!"

DR. J. W. WARREN PASSES ON

Dr. John W. Warren was born Sept. 6, 1857, Camden, Ark. He died at his home, Snyder, Texas, Sept. 9, 1921. Shortly before 2:00 p. m. He was the son of Edward A. and Mary E. Warren. The Warren family is of English descent. The family first resided in Mississippi, then moved to Arkansas. Dr. Warren's father was a prominent attorney of Camden. He represented his district in Congress about the time of the doctor's birth. His father was also colonel of an Arkansas regiment in the Confederate Army.

Dr. Warren received his early education in a private school at Camden. Following this he went to the Hospital Medical College, Memphis, Tenn., and the Kentucky School of Medicine, where he was graduated in 1891 with the degree of M. D. This was later supplemented by a post graduate course at Chicago, Ill. After graduation in 1891, Dr. Warren moved to De Leon, Texas, and embarked in practice. He continued there to 1897 at which time he moved to Snyder where he has continued for the past 24 years, crowned with the success that attends the studious and faithful application of modern methods.

Dr. Warren was a true member of the Methodist church and has been since the time of his conversion.

Fraternally, Dr. Warren was connected with the Masonic order and widely known therein. In this Order he had filled all the positions of honor open to any one. He was past master of the local Blue Lodge, past high priest of the Royal Arch Chapter, past three illustrious master of the Council, past district deputy grand master, past worthy patron of the Order of Eastern Star, and was a member of the Masonic high priesthood.

Dr. Warren was married to Miss Fannie B. White at Prescott, Ark., July 12, 1877. This union was blessed with more than 44 years of loving fellowship, in which they together opened the meanings of life. He was the father of eight children, four of whom grew into maturity, Bob, Will, Allen and Dale.

Dr. Warren was a good citizen. He took a keen and intelligent interest in the community. He stood for the loving home, the clean, pure life, the school, the church, and high ideals in every line. He was a plain man, plain in dress, plain in speech, plain in living. He was genial in his fellowship, warming the heart with his hand clasp and cheering the soul with his greeting. He was honest and pure to the core, clean as the driven snow. He was a loving helper of all the needy, a ministering angel to the suffering. In short he was a Christian gentleman. For him to live was to promote Christianity. For him to live was to magnify Christ.

The loved ones, the friends, the Lodge, the church, the community, will miss Dr. Warren. We shall miss his warm fellowship on the street. We shall miss him in the Lodge lecturing us and making our faith greater. We shall miss him at the bedside of our sick, cooling the brow and calming the heart. We shall miss him at his home, frank, genial, friendly. We shall miss him in church, kneeling in the aisle facing the pulpit, leading us in prayer. We shall miss him as a citizen. Yet "to die is gain." Let us gather up the lessons, the good sermons of his life, and enlarge the meaning which life has for us and press on till his gain shall be ours. J. H. HICKS, Pastor.

The Deputy Constable left this morning in pursuit of a wooden legged man who is accused of stealing a calf from a man on Musket Ridge. When last seen the Deputy was making splendid progress as he has just one track to follow instead of two.

The fire brigade was called out this morning when smoke was seen gushing out of the home of Sim Flinders, but it developed that it was only Sim trying out some new smoking tobacco.

Jefferson Potlocks and his family spent Monday afternoon at Bounding Billows seeing the town. To keep from getting through too quick part of them looked at the store while the others were inspecting the blacksmith shop.

Slim Pickens has put on his work shoes, and his overalls, and cap and rolled up his sleeves. All he lacks now is something to do.

A man passed through here on a horse this morning. A man riding a horse will always get to where he is going sooner than if he was in a vehicle, as the horse is always a few steps in front.

Dock Hocks has gained considerable notoriety this week as a dentist and judging from the noise that has been issuing from his office he has been doing a good business.

Fletcher Henstep was over at the saw mill on Gander Creek Thursday and was called to help lift a large log. He took hold just like the others and made a face and grunted, but he didn't lift much.

Gander Creek, following the recent heavy rains, looked like a real stream and there was talk of having its pictures made at that time so that it could be put on the map.

Last Monday was the birthday anniversary of Columbus Alsup's wife, and he priced everything in the ten cent store trying to find her a nice present.

All of the nice young people have been invited by Miss Cordella Helwanger to attend the dance and ice cream supper at her home Saturday night, except Yam Sims, and he will go anyhow if he sets his head.

Jefferson Potlocks has been laid up with a bad cold for the past few days. He cannot imagine how he caught it except by sleeping too near an empty jug.

School Tax is Being Paid.

Quite a bit of school tax has been paid this week, so Miss Ida Kelley the collector states.

If you have the money and do not need it, it would be doing the school at Snyder quite a valuable service if you would pay your tax in September.

Buy Advertised Goods.

When the people of a community either send out of town for purchases or go to some other town to make these purchases, they do so for one of two reasons.

One of these reasons is that they cannot get the exact goods wanted in any of the local stores, and the other principal reason is that the buyer is led to believe through advertising that the prices are lower elsewhere.

The store that carries standard goods and is not afraid to describe and price them through various advertising mediums is the one that gets the bulk of this business, and this store is enabled to sell at a lower price because of the increased business. It costs every merchant a certain sum to open his doors every morning, whether he sells anything during the day or not. And the larger the volume of business transacted during the day the smaller the proportion of this fixed cost is to each purchaser.

As only good merchandise is worth advertising you can depend on advertised goods for both price and quality. Buy advertised goods.—Ft. Worth Record.

Mr. and Mrs.

What wonderful thoughts come up when these two abbreviations are printed in a news item—what intense human interest these portray.

In the country weekly paper they take the one big place in all news items, from the simple visit to relatives to the larger matters of human life.

"Mr. and Mrs."—the great news item of the universe, the bringer of fond recollections to the man far from home, who takes his home paper and reads the items of Mr. and Mrs. and lets his mind wander back to the days when he knew Mr. and Mrs. in knee pants and, shall we say, short skirts.

It's the home town paper where the real Mr. and Mrs. news items occur—and to receive the home town paper week in and week out is to know the great happenings of the world—the doings of Mr. and Mrs.—Lorraine Leader.

Thirty-three bands already have registered for the $1,750 prize musical contest during the national convention of the American Legion at Kansas City this fall. In the list are bands from New York, Massachusetts, Ohio, Michigan, Texas, Oklahoma, Indiana, Oregon, Kansas and Missouri.

Business Enterprise.

A tale of business enterprise on the part of two small boys is told in a financial review published by Mosher & Wallace of New York to illustrate how some of the youths of the country are utilizing their opportunity. These two boys, both under 10 years of age, bought a bunch of bananas and were peddling the fruit by means of a home-made push cart. They did not hesitate to cry their wares very vigorously, asserting that they were selling the best bananas of the season brought right to the home door. Their earnestness and eagerness to please enabled them to dispose of the entire bunch, and proceeded to sell out again in the next week. "Ain't a goin' to stop while there's people what want ter buy," said one of them.

"But you're making a great deal of money," said one who had been watching them. "Small boys like you do not need so much money."

"Don't we, though?" came back indignantly. "Well, you just better guess again, mister. We gotta buy a pushcart and then pretty soon we're going 't get a horse cart. Then maybe some day we'll get a store, unless we decide to be bankers or run a moving picture show."—Fort Worth Record.

Use of New York state's many armories as places of shelter for jobless exsoldiers is being considered by William F. Deegan, American Legion representative on New York City's committee on unemployment. The Overseas Woman's League last week offered the service of its members to put the armories in condition for the men's occupancy. Fully 50,000 ex-service men are among the city's army of unemployed, according to Mr. Deegan.

E. G. White was a business visitor at Sweetwater Tuesday.

From J. S. Hardy. Quannah, Texas, Sept. 11, 1921 To the Signal:

We left Ennis nearly two weeks ago. We stopped over for a day at Bowie to study conditions in the upper cross timbers, region. Bowie is the leading town in Montague county though not the county seat. There are about 4000 people there. It has two railroads, the Denver and the Rock Island. Bowie has had the name of being the biggest cotton market west of Fort Worth but this year, because of drouth and weevils, Montague County, expects not more than 1500 bales.

We visited the famous Johnson poultry farm and saw more white Leghorns than ever before, even at Allen Warren's ranch. The day we were there Mr. Johnson was filling an order for 500 pullets at three dollars each. This farm is a source of local pride. The people in town are sure to tell you about it and about their potato curing plant and their big crop of peanuts. Those people realize the importance of diversification. The cream trade there is a big item.

At Vernon we found a pretty and prosperous town. The oil boom brought on early in the year by the supposed comig in of the Sigler well, burst in about three months leaving its impress on the fortunes of many people. A great number of new houses were built and are now being held by the grace of big investment notes. Town lots were sold to $800 and $1000 and now wouldn't bring more than three hundred dollars. The people are still looking for oil signs.

They have good crops there and bankers and merchants say business is improving and most of the people are hopeful and contented.

We attended the county fair at Vernon, saw a good collection of farm products but the show of live stock and poultry was a disappointment.

Coming to Quannah on Tuesday we found the Hardeman county fair just ready to open its gates, and have been seeing the sights there.

The Quannah folks have a good showing of products, considering that the crops have been badly cut by drouth. Their cattle and hogs show up well and the poultry department embraces fine specimens of practically all popular strains. The orpington, the Leghorn, the Minorca, the Langshang, the Plymouth Rock, and the Rhode Island Reds, are the leading features.

Quannah claims 4000 people has two state banks with combined deposits around a million and a half.

We go from here tomorrow to visit Mr. and Mrs. Fred V. Clark and from there to Amarillo, at 1301 Van Buren Street. J. S. Hardy.

Saving Develops Manhood and Strength of Character

Money saved and banked is an evidence of your stability, thrift and foresight.

Without money you cannot accomplish much. It is a handicap that invites mental and physical depression.

The First National Bank solicits your account and will help you in your determination to forge ahead---to overcome your proneness to wastefulness.

MICKIE, THE PRINTER'S DEVIL

STATE UNIVERSITY BAND TO BE AT ABILENE FAIR

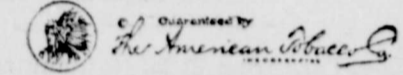

Abilene, Texas, Sept. 16th—Dressed in their brilliant white and gold uniforms and with all the pep that only a bunch of college boys can put into their work, the famous Longhorn Band of the University of Texas, will be one of the big feature attractions at the West Texas Fair, September 26, to October 1st.

Do you know you can roll 50 good cigarettes for 10 cts from one bag of

GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM TOBACCO

We want you to have the best paper for "BULL." So now you can receive with each package a book of 24 leaves of BULL.—the very finest cigarette paper in the world.

The Longhorn Band is composed entirely of students at the State University and is rated as one of the finest musical Organizations of the South. In a concert tour of the larger cities of Texas and adjoining States last year it was one of the sensations of the season, being the biggest hit of the week at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show last spring.

It is through special permission obtained from President Vinson of the University that the Longhorns are allowed to fill the West Texas engagement this month. Scattered showers fell Monday over part of the county south of town near Dunn. A heavy cloud hung in the north all the afternoon and reports are that the rain was heavy at Lubbock, Slaton and as far as Port.

Mrs. G. L. Rogers and Miss Janie Rogers of Fluvanna were in the city Saturday. They called at the Signal office while here and renewed their subscription to the Signal.

Howell Harpole left Wednesday to reenter school at Simmons College, Abilene.

Mr. Walter Wasson left Tuesday for his home at Mena, Ark.

TELLS OF LIGHTNING ZONES

United States Forest Service Corrects an Impression That Has Become Almost Universal.

It is an old saying that most proverbs are only half-truths. Some are wholly contrary to fact.

For instance, there is an ancient saw to the effect that "lightning never strikes twice in the same place." This is absolutely untrue.

The United States forest service, which dreads lightning as a frequent cause of forest fires avers that lightning has "zones of frequency," wherein it is likely to strike whenever there is an electrical storm. It suggests that such zones might be mapped with a view to special precautions.

These zones have reference to topography, especially in mountainous regions. A hill much more likely to be struck by lightning than any area of lowland because it is nearer to the clouds.

An isolated tree does not "attract" lightning, as is commonly supposed. If it be very tall, lightning is more apt to strike it than to hit objects in its neighborhood because of its height merely.

For a like reason the Eiffel tower in Paris is often struck by lightning. The lofty shaft erected in honor of the father of his country, in Washington, is a frequent target for thunderbolts, and has to be protected against them by an elaborate system of lightning rods.

A high mountain top is sure to be struck frequently by lightning. But not so if its elevation be great enough to uplift it beyond the ordinary level of thunderclouds. In that case it will have a lightning-struck zone lower down, around its sides.

Often a lightning-bolt discharged into quartz rock or quartz sand melts the silica and forms a curious little pipe of glass, perhaps an inch in diameter and some inches in length. Such pipes, called "fugarites," are sometimes found in large numbers on mountain tops.

MADE FIRST METALLIC PEN

Unfortunate Frenchman, Victim of Courtesan's Enmity, Was the Inventor, According to Historians.

The invention of the metallic pen belongs to France, the first writing implement of this character being used by the famous state prisoner, La Tude, who called down the wrath of Mme. de Pompadour by his passionate letters. La Tude was the natural son of a prominent court official and was brought up for a military career, but in his mistaken youthful adoration he misinterpreted the smiles of Mme. de Pompadour. In an effort to prove his fidelity his friends devised a harmless toy which exploded noisily when Mme. de Pompadour opened it—after receiving a letter from La Tude warning her of impending danger from her enemies. When the contents of the box were found to be nothing more dangerous than alum powder, La Tude was clapped into a dungeon, where he spent 35 years. In order to occupy his time La Tude tried to write his memoirs by means of an improvised fishbone pen. When this broke he begged a copper coin from the prison priest. This he ground into the shape of a pen by rubbing it against the cell walls. He also made the first known ink tablets by preparing bread crumbs pellets with his own blood. This happened about the year 1740, according to the French researchers. Metal pen points were not marketed, however, until nearly 60 years later.

Dig for Fish in Florida.

Izaak Walton scarcely would believe his eyes if he were to walk through the country near here, according to a telegram from New Smyrna, Fla., and encounter negroes digging live fish from the ground as if they were potatoes, and even persons accustomed to the miracles of this age would look twice and then set out in search of an oculist.

But the mudfish, a queer member of the finny tribe, inhabits streams and ponds which have mud banks or bottoms. The fish is black and weighs up to five or six pounds. When the water in a pond evaporates, as it does during certain seasons of the year, leaving only a mass of mud which on the surface is practically dry, it doesn't worry the fish. They merely burrow into the mud to wait for rain and apparently continue to live as long as the earth is wet. The negroes locate them by exploring the mud with their bare feet.

The fish is edible, but is not a favorite because of its stringy and coarse flesh.

Fish Nets From Spider Web.

Native to New Guinea is a giant spider, its body as big as a hazelnut, with hairy legs two inches long. It spins a web six feet in diameter and very strong.

Advantage of this fact is taken by the cannibals of the island, who set up long bamboo sticks in places frequented by the spiders, thereby offering an invitation to the arachnids to spin webs across them.

By this simple means (if one is to believe the story) ready-made nets are obtained which the cannibals use for catching fish.—Philadelphia Ledger.

More Figures to Work With.

"I thought Alice figured on marrying Jack."
"So she did, but she was outfigured by another girl with more money."

WISDOM OF TAKING "DAY OFF"

Leisure Time, That Has Been Earned, Means Better Health and Better Work Afterward.

"There is nothing that clears the cobwebs so effectively out of one's brain as a day off," the Young-Old Philosopher was saying. "Just as we play our work, we should plan our play; only, most of us, in the clamor of the times, forget that to loaf occasionally is as necessary as to drudge; and we confuse leisure with laziness.

"I know in my own case how difficult it is for me to make up my mind, definitely and unbendingly, that I require, now and then, a morning away from my desk.

"So if the day off means so much to us, mentally and physically, why are we afraid to take it when the opportunity arrives? I like nothing better than to see, in the big town, a group of middle-aged men hastening out in a motor car on some crisp morning, their golf sticks piled beside them, while others trudge to dreary tasks. They have earned their liberty, no doubt—let us hope so, at any rate; and they will be all the better tomorrow for those few hours of delightful sport and health-giving freedom.

"Too soon the curtain is rung down on this glowing world we live in; and it is heartbreaking to consider how many spots there are close at our gates which we never find the time to see and enjoy. Partly it is our own fault. The green earth cries out to us to come and tread the corridors of the countryside; instead, we cling to the granite of the city, and pace desolate hallways—the more desolate because they are crowded with people we do not know. And all of them are hurrying—where?

"I wonder. And so, no doubt, do they."—From the Outlook.

DATES FROM "DIVINE RIGHT"

"Star Chamber Proceedings" an Echo of the Days When Kings Could Do No Wrong.

"Star Chamber Proceedings" is an expression now almost invariably used to denote an official action which is conducted in secret and, usually, in a high-handed manner.

The phrase comes to us from the fact that centuries ago there existed in England an all-powerful tribunal consisting of a committee of the king's privy council. The custom was either instituted or revived by Henry VII. In 1486.

This council had omnipotent powers and was unfettered by rules of law. It dealt with civil and criminal cases alike by "bill and information," without the aid of a jury, and could inflict any form of punishment short of death.

The original was "star chamber" because in the room where the council met were deposited the Jewish bonds known as "stars" from the Hebrew word shekar, meaning a covenant.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Chinese Shoes Homemade.

There are shoemakers among the Chinese and shoes of varying grades are for sale in the shops, but many of the shoes worn by upper-class Chinese are products not of the shops but of the home. For the Chinese woman of good family who has been educated in the old-fashioned way, considers it both a duty and a pleasure to make the family shoes, and she lavishes upon them the money, the leisure, the taste and skill that do not enter into the making of the commercial article, writes Roland Gorhold in Asia Magazine.

The more wealthy Chinese men wear very charming, if somewhat unusual shoes, which might almost be called slippers. The soles, very much turned up at the toe, are made of bamboo and pith covered with white linen and are extremely rigid and light. The uppers of a pair in my collection are of pale blue silk, with an appliqued toe and motifs of purple and much embroidered in yellow, red and blue, enriched with gold.

Long Career as Statesman.

John Quincy Adams was the only ex-President who had a long public career after leaving the White House. Two years after his retirement from the presidency in 1829 he was elected to the house of representatives where he served until his death, more than 16 years later. He rendered ten years of public service after passing seventy, and was known as "the old man eloquent." Edward Everett Hale, in his "Memories of a Hundred Years," tells of a Down East sea captain who said he wished "they could take the old engine out of Adams and put it into a new hull." Adams was stricken in his seat at the capitol in Washington on a spot that is still pointed out to visitors.

Browning's Poetry.

The truth is that many readers of verse resent any demand upon their intellects; poetry to them being only a pleasing indulgence—an occasional substitute for a sherbet—not to be taken seriously. Certainly Browning's poetry is not for such. No one today who knows "Sordello" derides it, for, difficult as it is to the beginner, it contains many veins of the pure gold of poetry and its pictures of the passionate, tumultuous life of the late Twelfth and early Thirteenth centuries in Italy, with the fierce conflicts of Guelph and Ghibelline by which it was torn, are unequalled in vividness and truth by any historian.—Philip Starkur Murray.

WRESTLED FOR BIG STAKES

Bloodless Combat Between Sons of Mikado, With the Throne as Prize for the Victor.

The sporting Japanese gentleman knows all the fine points about wrestling. His enthusiasm on this subject are informed enthusiasms, and he inherits them from a long line of ancestors, says Julian Street in McClure's. When the Greeks and Romans wrestled, the Japanese were wrestling too. In the Ninth century the Japanese throne was wrestled for. A mikado died and left two sons, and these, instead of going to war with each other, left their claims to be settled by a wrestling match.

The sport is, furthermore, associated in a manner more or less diaphanous with Shintoism. Certain Shinto traditions are connected with it, and the matches used to be held on the grounds of Shinto temples.

The attitude of the sporting Japanese gentleman toward wrestlers resembles that of the sporting American or Englishman toward pugilists and jockeys. It is chic to know them, but not to equal them. One is very genial with them and at the same time a little patronizing, whereas they are expected to assume a slightly deferential manner. Perhaps the attitude of the Japanese sporting gentleman toward his favorite wrestlers is rather more like that of the Spanish sporting gentleman toward bullfighters, for in both countries it is customary for the wealthy patron to give expensive presents to the hero. But whereas in Spain handsome jewelry is sometimes thrown to the bull-fighters in the ring, it is the custom in Japan for the fan to throw his hat, coat, pocketbook, cigarette case or what not to the popular idol, who later sends the trophy back to the owner, receiving in exchange a valuable gift—frequently a gift of money.

INVOKED AID OF ST. VITUS

In the Past Many Have Had Implicit Faith in the Powers of Ancient Holy Man.

For some reason a chapel was dedicated to that holy man of the Fourth century who was martyred under the Emperor Diocletian—St. Vitus—whose festival is celebrated on June 15. We are told that to this chapel came annually many women who labored under a nervous or hysterical inflexion impelling them to violent motion. This ailment came to be known as St. Vitus' dance, and perhaps the term was gradually extended to other afflictions involving involuntary muscular motion. Scientifically this disease is known as chorea. Another explanation is that in certain places in Germany during the Seventeenth century it was believed good health could be obtained for a year by dancing before the saint's image on his festival day, and that it was in this way the original St. Vitus' dance was confounded with the disease. The aid of this saint is also invoked against sudden death, hydrophobia, and so on.—Chicago Journal.

Nova Scotia's Sheep Industry.

The sheep industry in Nova Scotia is more than 200 years old, records of 1693 telling of 173,271 sheep in Acadia. The province now ranks fourth among the provinces in the number of sheep, with 200,579, standing second to Quebec in price received for wool. Nova Scotia owes its superior quality to its low shrinkage, as compared with wool from other parts of Canada. The climate on the mainland demands shelter for sheep during the winter months, though on certain islands along the south shore they are out the year around and feed on the sea kelp washed up on the shore. These are the wild sheep descended from those brought in by early settlers. Enterprising farmers on the south shore, seeing that they fed off the kelp in winter, corralled them on nearby islands.

Famous Old London Bridge.

London bridge reached the height of its glory in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, when the city built a gate and tower three stories high at Southwark end, and the wonder of London, Non-such house, "a huge wooden pile, four stories high, with cupolas and turrets at each corner, brought from Holland, and erected with wooden pegs instead of nails," reared itself over the seventh and eighth arches, on the north side of the drawbridge. The whole bridge, in those days, was one wonderful street of shops and dwelling houses, with a chapel built or restored "with great splendor." Yet, but a hundred years or so later, the scene is changed indeed. The houses and shops and the chapel are still there, but a hundred years old.—Christian Science Monitor.

The Balalaika.

The balalaika is not an entirely unknown instrument in England. The interest taken in all that pertains to art, has enabled this variation of the ancient Persian tambour to find a welcome in London. It had a season of great success in the later nineties after its revival in Russia. For centuries it had been neglected, but the great Russian musician, Andrejev, saw in it the possibilities of expressing the national music of his country and formed the first Balalaika orchestra which played before Nicholas the Second in 1898, and became the forerunner of the popularity of the instrument not only in Russia, but in other countries where it was played.

Birthday Party.

Attractive little invitations, like white winged messengers, brought happy anticipations to the hearts of the little friends of Ollie Bruton, Jr., when it was found that they were to be his guests for a party on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 10, at his home, in celebration of his fourth birthday. The mother of this little-big man, Mrs. Ollie Bruton lent a helping hand and the affair was a happy success from beginning until the last good-bye was said after the party was over. The little folks brought many pretty play things, and each arrival was given a halloon by the small host, and Oh, the fun they had.

When the children had grown tired of games Mrs. Bruton piloted them into the dining room where a big white birthday cake with four lighted tapers rested in the center of the dining table. Ollie, Jr., blew out the candles, then the cake was cut and served with ice cream cones. Last, but not least, was the big imitation birthday cake out on the lawn. Miss Marilu Rosser removed the top from the big cake and found it contained a dainty basket of home made candy and a box of animal caks for each little guest. The little folks bidden were W. H. Shuler, Jr., Leland McGinnis, Wily Brice, Durella and L. Z. Bridgeman, Minnie Frances Bruton, Boy Huffman, Lila Davis, Roland Bell, Jr., Eunice Duff, Dixie Lee Davis, Halbert McQuinn, Doris Doak, James Rosser and A. C. Alexander, Jr.

Miss Marielu Rosser assisted Mrs. Bruton in catering to the desires and whims of the baby company.

Mrs. J. J. Harris who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Grady Walton of Dunn has returned to her home at Lockney. She stopped off at Snyder on her way home and spent the night with W. M. Curry and family.

Mrs. J. P. Billingsley and son Nat were in town Saturday. Mrs. Billingsley was a pleasant visitor at the Signal office.

Mrs. B. F. Phillips of Gladewater and little son are here the guests of her brother T. C. Watkins and family.

Why Suffer?

Cardui "Did Wonders for Me," Declares This Lady.

"I suffered for a long time with womanly weakness," says Mrs. J. R. Simpson, of 57 Spruce St., Asheville, N. C. "I finally got to the place where it was an effort for me to go. I would have bearing-down pains in my side and back—especially severe across my back, and down in my side there was a great deal of soreness. I was nervous and easily upset.

TAKE

CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

"I heard of Cardui and decided to use it," continues Mrs. Simpson. "I saw shortly it was benefiting me, so I kept it up and it did wonders for me. And since then I have been glad to praise Cardui. It is the best woman's tonic made." Weak women need a tonic. Thousands and thousands, like Mrs. Simpson, have found Cardui of benefit to them. Try Cardui for your trouble.

Water, Water, Everywhere.
The remarkable art of Will Rogers both as a comedian and as the portrayer of pathos, is once more registered on the screen in his newest Goldwyn Picture, "Water, Water, Everywhere." In this picturization of William R. Lighton's series of "Billy Fortune" stories which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. Will Rogers has the role of a western cowboy bent on sacrificing himself so that his friend and the girl that he himself loves in vain may find the happiness that is denied him.

The humorous background of the story centers about the attempts of a temperance society to banish liquor from the town. In the course of the story, the town saloon becomes a soda water parlor, and the men stay away from their homes—as usual to congregate there and swap stories. However, Will Rogers succeeds in his attempt to reform his rival, and then resignedly steps aside to permit him to wed the girl he loves.
A small but excellent cast supports the star. Among the cast are Irene Rich, Howland Lee, Wade Boteler, Marguerite Livingston, Lillian Langdon and Lydia Yeamans Titus.
"Water, Water Everywhere" will be shown at the Cozy Theatre, Tomorrow. It is a picture that will make one better for seeing it.

WHEN FIRE SWEEPS PRAIRIE

Man and Beast Suffer Alike Under Blistering Heat, and the Prayer for Rain Goes Up.
Hot sunlight, winds as hot, as shimmering heat which distorted objects at a distance and made the skyline a dazzling, wavering ribbon of faded blue; and then the dull haze of smoke which hung over the land, and, without tempering the heat, turned the sun into a huge coppery balloon which drifted imperceptibly from the east to the west, and at evening time settled softly down upon a parched hilltop and disappeared, leaving behind it an ominous red glow as of hidden fires. B. M. Bower writes in "Lonesome Land."
When the wind blew, the touch of it seared the face, as the smoke tang assailed the nostrils. All the world was a weird, unnatural thud, hard to name, never to be forgotten. The far horizon drew steadily closer as the days passed slowly and thickened the veil of smoke. The distant mountain drew daily back into dimmer distance; became an obscure, formless blot against the sky and vanished completely. The horizon crouched then upon the bluffs across the river, moved up to the line of trees along its banks, blotted them out one day and impudently established itself halfway up the coulee.
Time ceased to be measured accurately; events moved slowly in an unreal world of sultry heat and smoke and a red sun wading heavily through the copper-brown sky from the east to the west, and a moon as red which followed meekly after.
Men rode uneasily here and there, and when they met they talked of prairie fires and fire guards and the direction of the wind, and of the faint prospect of rain. Cattle, driven from their accustomed feeding grounds, wandered aimlessly over the still-unburned range and loved often in the night as they drifted before the flame-heated wind.

The line to be drawn is not always easy to define, perhaps. But one may best regard some extreme examples. The demand for subject and realism found strong expression in the vogue enjoyed by the chameos years ago. About the same class of people who made the popularity of these color prints at that time today buy the original landscape etching "at $2.37, framed."—"How to Appreciate Prints," by Frank Weltenkampf.
Simple Wet Battery.
Perhaps the most simple wet cell which can be made, says Experimental Science (Washington), is from a copper wire previously heated in a blue gas flame, and a silver wire, both held in running tap water. The copper wire in the gas flame becomes coated with a film of copper oxide.
A varied effect can be produced by separating the copper and silver wires by blotting paper and wrapping them with the same material, and then pouring one of the common electrolytes upon the whole.
Sulphuric acid or sulphuric acid can be used.
Fitting.

SUN REDUCES CHOLERA BILL
Unwise and Uneconomical to Depend Entirely on Serum to Protect Swine From Disease.
A few days' work in the pig pens and yards scraping, disinfecting and cleaning is pretty good hog-cholera insurance, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Strict sanitation is the best aid the farmer can give to the work of the hog-cholera serum. It is unwise and uneconomical to depend entirely upon the serum to protect the swine from this costly disease. In 1918 the farmers paid a serum bill of over $5,000,000 and they still lost $6,000,000 worth of pigs. There can be no doubt as to the effectiveness of the serum treatment, but the sensible farmer will do what he can with shovel, hoe and disinfectant to remove the cause of the trouble. The threat of cholera is always present so long as there are undrained cesspools and wallows. Straw stacks should never be left from one year to the next if they are where the hogs can reach them. Shelters and pens should be so constructed that they may be easily cleaned and exposed to the sunlight. A few days devoted to work of this sort in the fall when the hogs have been taken from the pens will do much to protect the herds of another year.

Hog Cholera Thrives in Suel. Sun- roundings as These.

"The Torrent,"
The wonder-novels Jules Verne wrote a generation ago and the romance-novels of Joseph Conrad writes today keep glowing in the hearts of the world's readers the love of adventure on far, uninhabited islands.
"Swiss Family Robinson," "Poul Play," Charles Reade's novel, and "The Admirable Critchton," Sir James Barrie's dramatic comedy, are noted recitals of adventures of castaways.
In its first year in business Universal issued "Robinson Crusoe," as "positively the greatest and most masterly three-reel feature ever made." Now, in Universal's latest release, "The Torrent," the desert island theme is again used, this time with an ultra-modern crossing.
For while the girl is castaway in a rowboat in "The Torrent" the man is marooned on the same island when he runs short of gasoline and is forced to land his seaplane, even the circumstances of the girl's finding herself adrift on the open sea on a life buoy are plausible and possible.
Stuart Paton is the director of "The Torrent," and it will be shown at the Cozy Theatre Friday. The star is Eva Novak, the blonde beauty who has recently made her way to prominence on the screen. She is supported by Jack Perrin, Leonard C. Shumway, Oleta Ottis and others.

Thrilling Slide for Life.

A slide for life was made by two workmen in New York city. A huge derrick, which was being dismantled on top of a 25-story building, crashed to the street and buried itself in the pavement, tearing a hole 30 feet wide in Seventh avenue. The two men were clinging to the top of the derrick when it started to fall. They seized a rope and slid to the roof as the machine went crashing over the building's side. The accident occurred during the noon hour when the street was crowded. Workmen in each of the 25 floors shouted warnings as the derrick fell, and men, women and children scattered in all directions. The only persons injured were four workmen who got hurt by a part of the machine, which plunged down eight floors within the structure and wedged itself among the girders.

Turning to Water Power.

French and British commissions are giving most serious attention to water power as a substitute for coal. Britain's coal, though still plentiful, is within measurable distance of exhaustion. France never has had coal enough. Both, therefore, are making every effort to develop a form of power which can not be exhausted. Extensive works are projected to utilize the waterfalls of the Jura mountains and the French side of the Pyrenees, while a British group of investigators has reported that in one district of Scotland water power can be developed sufficient to take the place of nearly 2,000,000 tons of coal per year.

Complicated.
"I should think your three daughters would solve the servant girl problem for you."
"Solve it. They complicate it. It's almost impossible to get a girl to work with five in the family."

PROSPECTS FOR CATTLE MEN

Nebraska College of Agriculture Encouraging Farmers to Increase Their Operations.

The Nebraska College of Agriculture is encouraging farmers to expand their live stock operations. The scarcity of all kinds of stock, especially cattle, points to continued good prices. With feed prices going lower better days seem to be near for both the live stock raiser and the live stock feeder. While it is true that many feeders lost money in the last two years, feed prices may be 50 per cent lower than last year. Likewise cheaper feed and labor should stimulate live stock raising. The number of cattle in the United States has been decreasing at an alarming rate. The number in the United States has decreased from 80 head for every 100 persons in 1900 to 42 head in 1919. During the same period the rate of slaughter increased 3,000,000 head annually. Some people go so far as to predict that in a few years only millionaires can have beefsteak on their tables, unless live stock production is stimulated.

FAT HORSES ARE PREFERRED

Farmer Makes Mistake in Disposing of Animals When They Are Somewhat Run Down.
It is better for the farmer who has horses to sell not to dispose of them when they are somewhat run down, following a hard summer's work, but to fatten them up. A fat horse always brings a much better price even though he be an inferior horse.

OPENING OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOL AT FLUVANNA

In company with Hon. Fritz R. Smith and Miss Nealy Squyres, our County Superintendent, last Monday morning, we left Snyder for that beautiful, quiet, literary and Sunday school loving city of Fluvanna. We found teachers, trustees, parents and children by the score already on the ground. Those people are an up to date and progressive people. They have a good brick building, well equipped in almost everything with the most modern conveniences attainable in their little city. Nothing short of the best teachers and best schools possible is satisfactory with that thriving and coming little city.

Soon the bell rang and all assembled in the chapel hall for chapel service, after which, Mr. Boswell, the superintendent, called Bro. Dixon, the pastor of the M. E. Church to make the opening address, which was brief but full of wisdom and an exhortation for a higher and better and more useful life. At the close of his address he introduced the Hon. Fritz R. Smith, who out of the richness of his experience and accompanied by that peculiar personality of his which belongs to him and him alone, he held that audience absolutely spell bound for about one hour. It is to be hoped that they will treasure up those wonderful truths that he planted in the youthful minds and that they will profit by the same. When Judge Smith had concluded the superintendent evidently took in the situation and saw that the writer would go off on a gastronomic tour unless he was allowed to raise the valve and let the surcharged accumulation of inspiration blow off so puff, puff, puff, pop, pop, pop, until normal conditions were restored. Then Miss Squyres in her exceedingly modest way made a few and appropriate remarks and called a business counsel of the trustees and the Superintendent directed the teachers and students to repair to their respective departments.

Now wishing for them the best school they have ever had taught, and speaking for the tryo, we thank you for the many invitations to dinner and to come back again. We sign ours, etc.

They never made a cigarette like this in my day—

The Camel idea wasn't born then. It was the exclusive expert Camel blend that revolutionized cigarette smoking.

That Camel blend of choice Turkish and Domestic tobaccos hits just the right spot. It gives Camels such mellow mildness and fragrance!

The first time I smoked Camels I knew they were made for me. I knew they were the smoothest, finest cigarette in the world, at any price.

Nobody can tell me anything different.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS FROM THE WEST ARE HEAVY

The movement of grain through the port of Galveston in August of this year broke all records according to figures of the Dallas News. Approximately 17,231,226 bushels were cleared for foreign ports in August. The official figure for July was 11,012,096 bushels. This is a total of 28,293,362 bushels for the two months as compared with 22,255,412 bushels for the entire fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, and only 8,624,454 bushels in 1919. The shipments for the first two months of this fiscal year are nearly one-third of the total of the record year ending June 30, 1921, with 8,522,162 bushels.

"This is an impressive record," said F. A. Lehman, general manager of Western Lines of the Santa Fe railway, in discussing this heavy grain movement through Galveston. "The water front terminals of this port have shown wonderful efficiency in handling grain. Every thing has moved smoothly, barring a slight barge early in the season.

"The railroads in the southwest," continued Mr. Lehman, "also deserve credit for moving an enormous quantity of grain since July 1st. This has been done without flourish of trumpets. Every one connected with the railroads has attended strictly to duty. Though the offering of grain has been unusually heavy so early in the season, there has been no serious delay in the grain movement.

"The Santa Fe Railway," said Mr. Lehman, "has loaded 22,546 cars of grain on its western lines alone, since July 1st, as against 9,384 cars in the same period last year, approximately 28,000,000 bushels compared with about 12,000,000 a year ago. Four divisions shipped the bulk of this grain.

"It is also interesting to note the heavy movement of grain from the plains of northwest Texas" added Mr. Lehman. "A few years back these grassy plains give little promise of successful agriculture. Since July 1, the Santa Fe Railway has moved over 3,000 cars of grain or approximately 10,000,000 bushels out of this district compared with 3,786 cars during the same period last year. This wonderful beginning

625,000 BOTTLES SOLD IN NEW YORK

Biggest Thing of Kind Ever Seen In That State, Declares Big Wholesaler.

The fact that 625,000 bottles of Tanlac have been sold in the state of New York since its introduction there less than one year ago, is a big business item that will attract unusual attention throughout the entire east, for nothing like it has ever happened before. It breaks all records.

Mr. George B. Eavus, manager of the Gibson-Snow Company, the well-known wholesale druggists, with branches in Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, recently announced that the preparation was now selling in their trade territories alone at the phenomenal rate of approximately 500,000 bottles a year.

"If the present rate continues," said Mr. Evans, "this state alone will probably require considerably over 750,000 bottles a year. This is a tremendous figure, but I am really conservative in making this statement."

Tanlac is sold in Snyder by Grayum Drug Company.

Olin F. Hardy, reporter on the Amarillo Daily Tribune, is enjoying a visit from his parents of Snyder.—Amarillo Daily News.
