Home Equity loans major issue in Nov. 4 election

COLLEGE STATION — Texas voters decide Nov. 4 whether or not to change the state's constitution regarding home equity loans. But a legal expert notes that making an informed vote requires study.

"Since the inception of the Texas Constitution, homeowners have been protected from general creditors by the state's unique homestead law," said Judon Fambrough, attorney and senior lecturer with the Real Estate

Center at Texas A&M University. "This protection, however, restricts the use of home equity as security for a loan. Voters decide in November if they want to remove some of the restrictions."

The actual amendment is lengthy and complex, notes Fambrough. The proposed constitutional amendment addresses home improvement loans, home equity loans and reverse annuity mortgages.

"Home improvement loans have been constitutionally authorized for tween the owner's loan application and signing the contract for work and material. The contracts for the work make up the bulk of the amendment. Several of the procedures are parallel to those proposed for home improvement loans.

For example, with one exception, a 12-day cooling off period must occur between the loan application and the closing. The closing may occur in the office of a lender, attorney or title company. The three-day right of rescis-years," says Fambrough, "but the amendment introduces three procedural changes: a cooling-off period, limitations on locations for closing and a right of rescission."

At least 12 days must elapse belender's, attorney's or title company's office. After signing, the homeowner has a three-day right to rescind the contract without penalty or charge.

Mules hunt 2nd-straight win at Tulia

By RICK WHITE
Managing Editor

Muleshoe is gaining the respect of not only opponents, but Amarillo sports writers.

Every Friday, Muleshoe players check the Amarillo Globe for the game predictions of the staff writers, according to Mules head coach David Wood.

The last two years, Muleshoe has been the underdog each week.

"They like to prove (the sports writers) wrong," Wood said.

But times are changing.

Muleshoe will most likely be favored for the second-straight week Friday when the Mules (3-5 overall, 2-3 in district) travel to Tulia (1-7, 1-4) for a 7:30 p.m. District 1-3A game.

Wood said its nice to be favored, but his team still must tend to business.

"We're not a good enough team yet to not play well and win," Wood said. "No matter what, if we don't play well, we're not going to win."

Tulia, which beat Sanford-Fritch 9-7 three weeks for its lone district win, is coming off a 35-12 loss at River Road.

The Mules snapped a two-game tailspin with a 37-6 Homecoming win last week against Sanford-Fritch, exploding for 23 points in the second half. MHS finished with a season-high 424 yards.

"We were kind of sporadic I guess," Wood said. "In the second half, we were able to do pretty much what wanted to do."

Junior tailback Gilbert Vela topped the 100-yard mark for the third-straight week for the Mules, finishing with a career-high 164 yards and four touchdowns on 24 carries.

"Our passing and running game are comple-

BLACK MHS HOMECOMING QUEEN

Senior Katie Black was named the 1997 Muleshoe High School Homecoming Queen at Friday night's game against Sanford-Fritch.

Katie is the daughter of Rex and Brenda Black. She was escorted by her father.

She is involved in cheerleading, golf, the Student Community Action Club, Leadership Muleshoe, the First Baptist youth group, Fellowship of Christian Athletes and church choir.

She is also the senior class vice president and a member of the National Honor Society.

Other Homecoming Queen candidates were seniors Cassidy Cleavinger, Keila Kennedy, Amy Locker, Brianne Locker and Shelbi Robinson.

Also juniors Krystal Heathington, Kayna Puckett, Melissa Williams and Ellen Wood.

The Homecoming candidates were selected by the football team with the student body voting on the Queen.

Lady Mules look to defend district title

The Muleshoe Lady Mules will be hard pressed to defend their District 1-3A cross country title Saturday at Thompson Park in Amarillo.

The Muleshoe girls have struggled with numbers this year after finishing ninth in the state in 1996.

Three basketball players have volunteered to run at the district meet, enabling Muleshoe to field a team. MHS has been competing with four runners most of the year.

The top three teams and 10 individuals advance to the Region I meet

Starting times Saturday are: varsity boys, 10 a.m.; varsity girls, 10:30 a.m.; junior varsity boys and girls, 11 a.m.; junior high boys and girls, 11:30 a.m.

Dimmitt, led by Shawna Kenworthy, appears to be the strong favorite to win the title, with Dalhart and Sanford-Fritch fighting for second.

Muleshoe sophomore Stacy Locker should challenge for the district title. She finished fifth at the district meet last year and won the Amarillo Invitational on the same course earlier this year.

A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS

Pennies add up to $700

Muleshoe High School students toted hundreds of pennies, in fact 70,000 pennies, to school last Friday as part of a school-wide fund raiser.

"We never dreamed it would generate this much interest," said Principal David Jenkins.

One reason for student's enthusiasm was the school's enticing incentive — the last class of the day couldn't start until each teacher counted all the pennies their class brought.

Even students that don't usually participate in school activities joined "Pennies Day," said Jenkins.

The $700 raised by students will be used to purchase Texas flags for each classroom and replace old American flags.

New Century takes hit

The parent company of Southwestern Public Service Co. Monday reported losses of $47.2 million during the last three months.

Despite the third-quarter losses SPS spokesman Ken Vaughn told the Amarillo Globe that the company still has confidence in the merger.

Officials at the parent company New Century Energies blame the loss on high taxes levied against a British utility company that New Century owns.

The British government placed a one-time windfall profits tax of about $111 million on Yorkshire Electricity. New Century owns half of the British company.

SPS and the Denver-based Public Service of Colorado merged to form New Centuries.

Brown wins FB contest

Scott Brown of Lazbuddie won the Journal's football contest for the games of Oct. 24-27.

Brown and Thomas Reed of Friona each correctly picked 15 of the 18 games. Brown won the tie-breaker game and the $15 first prize, guessing within three points of the combined score of Lazbuddie's 53-8 win against Cotton Center.

Reed had to settle for the $10 second prize.

Nathan Crawford of Lazbuddie and Liz Torres of Muleshoe tied for the $5 third prize.

menting each other real well right now," Wood said.

Matt McClanahan passed for 90 yards, including a 32-yard touchdown pass to Manuel Campolla. The Mules failed to catch three other passes that would have been touchdowns, Wood said.

Tulia has struggled to put points on the board, scoring just 56 points in five district games. By comparison, Muleshoe has scored 120.

"We're not playing as well as we'd like to right now," said Tulia coach Dan Pair, pointing to the Hornets' inability to sustain drives as the main problem.

"Muleshoe is playing with a lot of confidence and if we don't come out ready to play, it's going to be a tough one."

Roy Gonzales is the Hornets top threat, having rushed for more than 600 yards. Marcus Finch (6-0, 180) gained a team-high 97 yards last week and is also dangerous.

"Tulia has got a good ground game and can be explosive," Wood said. "We have to stay focused on our responsibilities. When we start dominating a team, we start free lancing, and that's when we get hurt with the big play."

Wood said he enjoys getting the respect being the favorite brings, but it does come with a price.

"It's more pressure to win," he said smiling.

DISTRICT

1-3A ROUNDUP

Friona can virtually lock up its second-straight district title by beating district co-leader Perryton Saturday.

A win at Perryton would leave the No. 5-ranked Chieftains (8-0 overall, 5-0 in district) as the only unbeaten team in district with one game left, against winless Sanford-Fritch.

Perryton has a much tougher path to district title. The Rangers (6-2, 5-0) finish the season at third-place Dimmitt (6-2, 4-1).

Both Friona and Perryton are coming off impressive wins.

The Chieftains jumped out to a 20-0 lead and outscored Dimmitt 46-28 while Perryton rallied in the second half to beat Dalhart 49-26 behind another outstanding effort from RB Allan Adkison.

In other district games, River Road beat Tulia 35-12 to keep its faint playoff hopes alive.

FRIONA 46, DIMMITT 28

DIMMITT — Friona simply ran over Dimmitt, piling up 374 of its 437 yards on the ground in a 46-28 win.

The teams combined for 55 points and 27 first downs in a first half that ended with Friona leading 34-21.

Friona junior tailback Matthew Kendrick rushed for 153 yards and four touchdowns on 26 carries. Fullback Daniel Cuevas added 113 yards and two touchdowns on 16 carries for the Chieftains. Friona is averaging 45.3 points a game in district.

Stuart Sutton scored two touchdowns for Dimmitt, including a 54-yard pass from Derek Buckley just before halftime.

PERRYTON 49 DALHART 26

DIMMITT — Allan Adkison rushed for more than 200 yards for the third-straight week, leading Perryton to a 49-26 win.

Leading 21-20, Perryton scored 21 unanswered points in the second half.

Adkison finished for 204 yards and four touchdowns, going over

Whitharral last hurdle to clear in Longhorns run for district title

Whitharral stands in Lazbuddie's path to its first district title in three years.

The No. 3-ranked Longhorns (7-1 overall, 3-0 in district) can virtually wrap up its first District 3-1A title since 1994 with a win at Whitharral Friday.

The Panthers (5-3, 2-1), have beaten the Longhorns the last two years and are the defending district champions.

"It's a big game," Lazbuddie coach Mark Scisson said. "We don't want this to come down to a coin flip."

In other 3-1A six-man action Friday, Three Way (3-5, 1-2) travels to Cotton Center (0-8, 0-3) in search of its second-straight win.

Whitharral (5-3) lost to Silverton 46-34 last week, and at 2-1 both teams trail Lazbuddie by a game.

Lazbuddie has beaten Silverton, but if the teams finish in a three-way tie for the district title, a coin flip will decide which two teams go to the playoffs.

Whitharral's lightning-quick defense has been able to shut down Lazbuddie the last two years.

"We've got to be able to score against them," Scisson said. "They put so much pressure on you."

Lazbuddie coasts by Cotton Center 53-8

LAZBUDDIE — Lazbuddie did what it had to do, breezing past last-place Cotton Center 53-8 in its Homecoming game Friday at Longhorn Stadium.

Seven players scored for the No. 3-ranked Longhorns, winner's of six straight.

"We're healthy," said Lazbuddie coach Mark Scisson. "That's the main thing."

The game was ended in the third quarter by the 45-point rule.

The Longhorns (7-1 overall, 3-0 in district) hold a one-game lead over Silverton and Whitharral with two games left.

The Longhorns finished with 355 yards, 100 yards below their season average.

The Longhorns started substituting liberally early in the second quarter.

Josh Morris, the area's leading six-man passer, completed 7 of 9 passes for 87 yards and one touchdown. He also ran 53 yards for a touchdown.

Adam St. Clair, a 1,000-yard rusher, led the Longhorns rushing effort with 65 yards and one touchdown on six carries.

Brice Foster scored twice for and finished with 33 yards on four carries.

Cameron Turner led the Longhorn defense with a pair of interceptions. Lazbuddie intercepted four passes against Cotton Center (0-8, 0-3) and have 11 on the season.

Blas Martinez returned an interception 35 yards for the Longhorns' final score.

LEWIS & CLARK
 The Journey of the Corps of Discovery

Lewis & Clark: The Journey of the Corps of Discovery tells the story of the most significant expedition in American history and of the extraordinary friendship between two exceedingly different men. Hal Holbrook narrates this four-hour documentary by Ken Burns. On-screen commentators include Dayton Duncan, author of Out West: An American Journey Along the Lewis and Clark Trail, and Stephen E. Ambrose, author of the best-seller Undaunted Courage.

Nearly four years in production, Lewis and Clark tells the dramatic story of the momentous journey that began on May 14th, 1804, when Merriwether Lewis — the troubled 29-year-old personal secretary to President Thomas Jefferson — and his trustworthy friend William Clark, a 33-year-old Virginian, headed up the Missouri River on what was the United States' first official exploration into unknown territories.

With them was a remarkably diverse crew: soldiers from every corner of the young nation; French-Canadian boatmen; sons of white fathers and Indian mothers; Clark's slave, York; and eventually, a young Shoshone woman named Sacajawea, who took along her infant son. Together, they composed what Jefferson called the Corps of Discovery.

In their two-and-a-half-years of traveling from St. Louis to the mouth of the Columbia River and back, Lewis and Clark became the first U.S. citizens to experience the immensity, splendor, and rigors of the Great Plains and to see the daunting peaks of the Rocky Mountains. They were the first to cross the Continental Divide and the first of their young nation to reach the Pacific Ocean by land. Ultimately, however, they failed to find what Jefferson and others imagined far beyond the Mississippi: a Northwest Passage — an easy water route that would link the Atlantic with the Pacific.

Though they failed to find a Northwest Passage, they found much more: a vast territory with wildly varying climates, 122 animals and 178 plants never before described by science, and a dizzying diversity of Indian tribes, some of whom befriended them and some who considered killing them. Lewis and Clark's journey began a legacy of exploration that stretches all the way to the modern space program. Theirs is one of the great adventure stories in American history. While extensive use is made of archival material, such as paintings, maps, drawings and pages from the Corps' journals, letters, government documents, and oral-tradition stories from various Indian tribes, the film is dominated by stunning cinematography: rolling woodlands, treeless prairies, and forbidding mountains (that to Lewis and Clark seemed endless), dormant volcanoes, dense Pacific forests, and the two mighty rivers flowing through them all — the Missouri and the Columbia.

Lewis & Clark: The Journey of the Corps of Discovery airs Tuesday and Wednesday, November 4th — 5th, at 8:00 p.m. on KENW-TV.

Propositions for Nov. 4 state election

PROPOSITIONS	ARGUMENT FOR:	ARGUMENT AGAINST:
Proposition one would allow a person who holds the office of municipal judge to hold another civil office in which they also receive compensation.	It would allow small cities that do not need a full-time judge to hire an individual who may be working for more than one municipality.	The judge would not be able to reside in each area that he/she serves. The amendment also might allow a person to receive compensation for two full-time public jobs.
Proposition two would allow the legislature to place a limit on the annual increases in the appraised value of residence homesteads.	It would protect homeowners from dramatic increases in property tax liability resulting from sudden increases in the appraised value of their homesteads.	A limitation on appraisal increases would only shift the tax burden from homeowners to other types of businesses which are not entitled to any limitation, primarily business property.
Proposition three would allow the legislature to authorize local taxing authorities to grant a tax exemption or relief on property on which a water conservation measure has been implemented.	It will encourage landowners to invest in water conservation measures to reduce the amount of water used, thereby conserving the state's limited water supply. The law would authorize local taxing units to decide to give a property tax exemption, the amount of the exemption, and the types of measures that would qualify; however, the legislature can impose restrictions or even repeal the statute to prevent abuse of the exemption by local taxing units.	Exemptions erode the tax base. Although water conservation is an important state goal, another property tax exemption would reduce the amount of property tax available for taxation and require local taxing units to shift the tax burden most likely resulting in higher property taxes for other property owners. Also there is a risk of inconsistent and unfair tax treatment from one jurisdiction to the next or even within a particular taxing jurisdiction.
Proposition four would allow lawmakers to clean-up the Texas Constitution which contains several outdated, obsolete and superseded provisions.	It makes no changes in effect of the law and is a positive step in the direction of a more streamlined and useful state constitution.	It does not go far enough in removing unnecessary and outdated provisions and could reduce the need for a more thorough revision.
Proposition five would allow the Texas Supreme Court to meet in Austin or any other location in the state, allowing the court to schedule public proceedings to hear oral arguments in other parts of the state.	It would be educational to court, attorneys, and the general public which would have the opportunity to observe proceedings without incurring the expense of traveling to Austin.	Conducting certain oral arguments in various areas of the state would result in unnecessary travel expenses for the justice and other court personnel.
Proposition six would allow the Texas Growth Fund, which is used directly for job creation and economic growth, to continue to invest in businesses without requiring those businesses to disclose investments in South Africa or Namibia.	The disclosure requirement was adopted to object to South Africa's system of apartheid, which no longer exists. Eliminating the disclosure requirement would save the state the cost of collecting, examining, and recording the disclosure affidavit.	Research has disclosed no evidence that any argument has been presented against the proposed amendment.
Proposition seven would allow the Texas Water Development Board to combine the existing constitutional bond authorizations for water supply, water quality, flood control projects and agricultural water conservation in a new water development fund.	It would maximize the funds available to local governments for different water projects at reduced cost. The amendment would enable the board, which has the information and expertise to predict the state's water development needs, to anticipate the areas of greatest need and plan and execute projects more efficiently and cost effectively.	The board should not be able to transfer bonding authority already approved by voters for one purpose to a different purpose. This authorizes additional state debt above the constitutional amounts with no limits. If the bond money is dedicated for a specific purpose by the constitution, powerful interest groups cannot sway the board into using a disproportionate amount of money for a single project that would benefit only a few.
Proposition eight expands the types of liens for home equity loans that a lender, with the homeowner's consent, may place against a homestead with the total amount of debt secured not exceeding 80 percent of the fair market value.	A person's home is usually their largest asset. They should be able to use the value of their home without being required to sell the home to gain access to this value. Because a home equity secured loan would be less risky for a lender than a nonsecured loan, secured loans will have a lower interest rate. Also, interest on a secured loan is deductible for federal income taxes.	This amendment will result in people losing their homes. Experience in states allowing homestead mortgages has shown that lenders will engage in high-pressure sales tactics to encourage homeowners to risk their homes for questionable purposes. Also, it will make unsecured loans less available. Lenders may refuse to make loans to homeowners unless they use their home as collateral.
Proposition nine would allow the legislature to permit rural fire prevention districts in Harris County to levy a property tax rate up to five cents per $100 of taxable property, if approved by voters in the district.	The present three cent limit is inadequate for rural fire prevention in Harris County where for lack of money, some districts find it hard to adequately fight fires. The law would authorize, but not mandate Harris County to raise taxes. Taxpayers in that area will decide if a higher tax rate is needed.	Because the amendment is limited to only Harris County, other rural fire prevention districts may propose similar legislation forcing taxpayers to pay for the expense of other statewide elections. The constitution should be amended to allow all rural fire prevention districts the same ability to raise taxes.
Proposition 10 would designate that the money in the compensation to victims of crime fund and the compensation of crime auxiliary fund may be used only for delivering or funding victim-related compensation, services or assistance, and if the money appropriated for emergency assistance is depleted, the funds may be used for assisting victims of episodes of mass violence.	A constitutional dedication would preserve the funds for victim-related purposes and protect the money from purposes unrelated to serving crime victims.	The language is broader than current law and may promote excessive expenditures from the funds. Dedicated state revenue limits the legislature's ability to address the state's fiscal needs and disburse funds that could benefit other equally worthy state interests.
Proposition 11 would place a limit on the amount of state debt that could be authorized. The legislature would be prohibited from authorizing additional state debt if the resulting annual debt service payable from the general revenue fund exceeded five percent of the average revenues.	It would give constitutional authority to the current statutory limit on state debt payable from the general revenue fund and, as a result, would transfer the legislature's power to alter the limit on state debt to the voters of the state. The amendment also places a fair and reasonable limit on state debt.	A constitutional limitation on state debt may not be able to handle unexpected or emergency situations, such as natural disasters. The legislature, if unable to meet the needs of state's residents, may be compelled to raise money through the imposition of additional fees or taxes.
Proposition 12 would establish a time limit for the Texas Supreme Court to act on a motion for rehearing. If the Supreme Court, which handles appeals in civil cases, does not rule on a motion for rehearing within 180 days, the motion would be denied.	This serves a significant public interest in ensuring resolution to litigation will not be unreasonably delayed because of pending motions for a rehearing to the supreme court. This deadline will not interfere with the authority of the court because it allows for a reasonable time period in which motions can be considered and acted upon.	This amendment does not allow for an extension of the deadline regardless of how unusual or extraordinary the circumstances of a case might be. Interference with the internal operations of the state's highest judiciary power sets a dangerous precedent for further attempts to limit the power and independence granted under the constitutional separation of powers.
Proposition 13 would extend the full faith and credit of the State of Texas to protect the Texas Tomorrow Fund which was created to allow for the prepayment of a student's higher education tuition. If the fund has a shortfall in any year, a sufficient amount of money would be appropriated out of the first money coming into the state treasury that is not otherwise constitutionally appropriated.	Investors need assurance that their investments will grow over the years and that those investments will remain secure until the investor's beneficiaries are able to take full advantage of them. This will encourage more individuals to invest in the prepaid tuition program. By making management and investment requirements of the fund part of the constitution, changes could only be made with the approval of Texas voters.	The fund should continue only as long as it is viable and able to support itself. This amendment would require the state to appropriate money necessary to honor prepaid tuition contracts if the amount in the fund is ever insufficient to pay the beneficiaries. If this would ever happen, money would have to be taken away from other important needs of the state.
Proposition 14 would allow the legislature to set by law the qualifications for individuals holding the office of constable.	The amendment gives the legislature the flexibility to set the qualifications in statute to allow for the changing roles in law enforcement for constables and to prescribe minimum qualifications for constables to ensure public safety and welfare.	This amendment is not necessary and gives the legislature no new powers. Under court interpretations, the legislature may set or change the qualifications for a public office if the constitution does not provide the qualifications. The legislature has already passed statutes setting qualifications for constables.

EQUITY

son follows closing without penalty or charge.

Not all the equity in the home may be used. The proposal limits the loan amount to 80 percent of the fair market value less the recorded indebtedness against the dwelling. The owner and lender must acknowledge the value of the house on date the loan extended.

Not all lenders may make home equity loans. For example, lenders who engaged in redlining are especially barred from making home equity loans.

"The loan cannot be open ended. It must be nonrecourse (without personal liability) unless the borrower obtained the loan by fraud. The loan must be entered into voluntarily. The lender cannot require that the proceeds be used to repay another debt on the homestead, except the one held by the lender," says Fambrough.

Some limits apply to the land used.

In rural area, a homestead designated for agricultural use for ad valorem taxes is ineligible unless the owners uses the property primarily for milk production. Only one home equity loan can be held against the dwelling at a given time. Once a loan is retired, another home equity loan cannot be extended until a year after the closing date of the prior one.

Reverse mortgages — sometimes referred to as reverse annuity mortgages or RAMs — also are included in the amendment. They would allow a homeowner to create an income stream for a certain period by using the home equity and without having to sell or move from the dwelling.

"According to the amendment, a reverse mortgage is a lien voluntarily placed on a homestead by an owner or spouse 55 years or older," says Fambrough. "The lender extends a lump sum or periodic advances based on the borrower's home equity."
