Byron Durham, Luella Durham, all of Snyder, and Olive Wills of Fluvanna.

A variety of talent is represented in this group; Ward Golden was president of the sophomore class for three quarters; Carl Periman was a member of a winning debating team; Wayne Boone was a member of the Red Men, a men's pen organization. Mr. and Mrs. Durham received their degrees at the end of the spring term.

Miss Fay Lemons was a member of the Methodist Student Federation Council, and Miss Lucile Taylor of the Baptist Student Union Council. Miss Blanche Boone was a member of the high school graduating class in the training school division of the Teachers' College. FLUVANNA NEWS.

Church Notes.

According to previous announcement the meeting of the Christian Church began here last Saturday night. Rev. Robinson of Fort Worth doing the preaching. The attendance at the services is good, the sermons very earnest and the song services are conducted by Brother Pemberton of Snyder. The meeting will continue through the week, with dinner on the ground next Sunday as was the case last Sunday. This last named public dinner was a veritable feast. Folks will talk about hard times, but public dinners in this community, never seem to tally with the talk of the folks who haven't counted their blessings lately.

We understand that the First Baptist church (and board) will start their protracted meeting next Sunday.

Business Affairs.

It should not be forgotten that on next Saturday—election day—the women of the Fluvanna Baptist church (board) will serve dinner at some convenient place in town. Proceeds to be used for church purposes.

Riley Austin and Mert Patterson, in charge of the big caterpillar tractor and grader are doing some fine work on our roads.

Good roads are a great boon to any community. We are all to be appreciated.

Our crop prospects are still looking large. So far as we can judge they were never better at this season. If there is a farmer (or anyone else) in this community who is not rejoicing over the outlook, he should open the window of his soul and let the flood of gratitude pour in.

Ethan Ball is now running the North Side restaurant. John Govey is cutting fresh meats and Mrs. Burney is dispensing cold drinks—all of these in the same building. These people will be glad to supply your needs.

The Beaver thresher is busy taking care of the small grain crop this week. We understand the new thresher into this community this week.

J. C. Dorward shipped two more cars of beef cattle to the Fort Worth market last Saturday.

Emer Long is shipping one car of beef cattle to the same market this week.

Trips and Visits.

John Staveley and Jas. H. Tate went, last Wednesday, to Buffalo Gap where Mr. Staveley attended a meeting of the board of directors of the Buffalo Gap Young People's Encampment of the Presbyterian church. The encampment was opening on that date. Mr. Staveley's was strictly a business trip, but Mr. Tate remained over until Saturday noon to enjoy the splendid meeting of the encampment which will close on Wednesday of this week.

On last Sunday afternoon D. A. Hays and Mr. W. D. Hays and their wife, the ladies of the same encampment for a few days' outing, baths, instruction, etc.

B. O. Staveley and family spent the Sabbath with relatives at Camp Springs.

H. H. Haynes went, last Tuesday, to Abilene on business.

Mrs. J. A. Staveley, Sr., Miss Vera Staveley and Mrs. Deitz and two sons, of Waxahatchie, but at present visiting relatives here, all spent the week-end with relatives at Post.

Ardis Haynes and family, accompanied by Mrs. H. H. Haynes and her two younger children went, last Saturday, to Big Spring for a visit with relatives, returning home Monday.

Mert Jones and wife are out this week for a vacation in parts unknown to the writer.

Mrs. Colon Janes, clerk in the Fluvanna Mercantile, is spending some two weeks of vacation seeing some of the sights in the state of Colorado.

Will Clawson, clerk in the E. V. Boynton store, and family are out on a vacation trip this week in parts unknown to the writer.

Jim Holdridge, our lumber man, and family, accompanied by Clarence Dowdy, recently returned from a vacation trip to Ruidosa, New Mexico, where they report having had a great time. Clarence stated that a good-sized bon fire was necessary in those parts to keep them comfortable before retiring at night. Clarence has some branches and burs of the yellow pine, brought back with him, on display in the Dowdy store.

Mrs. W. R. Craft and daughter, Agnes, who have been visiting several days with the married daughter, Mrs. John Staveley, returned Sunday to their home in Southland with Mr. Craft, who came down for them.

Will Chaney and wife of Post, Mrs. Ted Melton of Justiceburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Chaney of Haskell were all delightful visitors of F. W. Park last Sunday.

Sickness.

It seems that about all our folks are well again, with about two exceptions, to wit: Leo, son of Will Weaver, is said to be quite sick this week.

Maek Staveley returned Monday from Lubbock where he recently had his tonsils removed. He is said to be doing well.

Correspondents' Contest.

This scribe finds himself in hearty accord with the view expressed by the writer of "Union Dots," in his article of last week. It might be well for our readers to turn to the Times-Signal of July 15, page 8, and read, or re-read, the last paragraph of that article, because it clearly and fairly sets forth the principles of this correspondent's contest. I do not know who that scribe is, if I did I would call him, or her, by name and say that, in my judgment, he is exactly right. Certainly no subscriber is expected to vote more than one ticket (no difference how many may appear in his paper, neither is any correspondent (or any of his special friends) expected to canvass for votes. Any correspondent who would use such means or accept such aid (knowingly) would be acting unfairly. Surely none of us scribes mean to do this! It would be pretty hard in me, for example, to go to subscribers and ask them to say, by their vote, that Tate has rendered the best service of any in the whole group. I shall not do this. In fact, I did not enter the contest. I was a correspondent when the contest was put on; and I have gone on just the same, paying practically no attention to it. If I should win any premium at all, I hope that no one can ever feel that it was done through working any kind of scheme. I would rather be right than win.

Strange Things.

Some how, some where, between my typewriter and the big Times press, a whole line of "copy" as the printer calls it, slipped out of my article of last week, thus making the item about the Baptist services of the Sunday before, and the "Campbellite" services of last Sunday, read as one state. It indicated quite a mix-up—rather a peculiar combination—of a Baptist B. Y. P. U. and a Christian protracted meeting and dinner, all in one, "two in one," not "made in Germany," either. Strange, is it not? How "copy" lines will, sometimes leak out or transpose or something. However, these things may happen. There are several chances for such slips, hence no accusations against anyone.

In view of the report that the Snyder community is suffering from shortage of moisture, and the further fact that the Fluvanna community is enjoying a glowing prospect for big crops, W. P. Sims thinks that, maybe, some arrangement should be started whereby our friends of that community may secure employment at heading maize, picking cotton, etc., this fall. This seems to be a generous proposition. We hope to treat you right, brethren.—Jas. H. Tate, Cor.

NOVARRO INJURED IN "MIDSHIPMAN."

Star Confined to Bed After Severe Work-Out With Annapolis Crew.

Picturizing "The Midshipman" written by Carey Wilson, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first official photodrama of Naval Academy life, which will soon be seen in the Palace Theatre, was not without its hardships.

In the midst of the most important scenes Ramon Novarro, who plays the starring role, suffered a painful injury and had to be confined to his bed for several days, causing all work to be suspended.

Novarro, unused to powerful rowing, over-exerted himself at boat practice with Coach Richard Glendon of the Navy Varsity. He strained his abdominal muscles but continued to work in spite of his injuries. Abdominal stricture finally set in and necessitated treatment by Dr. George Mott, Lieut. of the Navy Academy, Medical Corps.

At the time Novarro's illness was so serious that Director Christy Cabanne believed that it would be necessary to remove him to the train by ambulance when the company departed for California.

Under proper care, however, Novarro recovered completely by the time he returned to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios in Culver City.

PRESIDENT C. OF C. CALLS MEETING.

I have called a meeting of the entire membership of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce to be held at courthouse the first Tuesday in August, which is the 3rd meeting to begin at 8 p. m. It is my earnest desire that every member be present at this meeting, as some important business needs to be transacted. Refreshments will be served.

Now, friends, this is your town, your county and your commercial club, and I want your support and hearty co-operation in making it not only worthy of its name, but a force and a power that will help Snyder and all Scurry County. No one man can accomplish any great thing alone, but with everybody working there is no telling how much good we can do.

Therefore, I am going to expect every member of the organization present on the above date. Come and bring with you some one who wants to become a member.

In fact, every resident of Scurry County who is interested in making Snyder and the county a better place to live is cordially invited to attend this meeting, as the work of the organization is all done in the open, with no secrets to conceal. H. P. WELLBORN, President.

WENT FISHING—CAUGHT 'EM

C. N. von Roeder, Ed and Lee Murphy and John Binnion returned Sunday from a fishing trip down on Devil's River. The boys say that before trying to fish they took a trip over on the Old Mexico side in order to—well, they were told that snakes were numerous on this side, and they did not want to start out fishing without a reasonably good supply of snake remedy.

With everything all primed, they baited their hooks and waited results. According to Mr. von Roeder, it kept one man busy taking fish off their hooks. He declares they caught some mighty good ones, one weighing twenty-two pounds.

Bythel Martin returned to the city Monday morning from Quanah.

BAND CONCERT.

There will be a band concert in the grand stand Thursday evening, July 22, at 8:30 o'clock. The public is invited.

Scurry County Times And Snyder Signal.

The Times-Signal has about come to the conclusion that Moody will lead so strong that there will not be any run-off. So mote it be.

With early feed already practically made, and with the promise of a bumper cotton crop, Scurry County ought to have a period of prosperity, beginning with the coming fall.

"Give us for Governor a good business man like Lynch Davidson!" insists an exchange. Lynch may be a good business man, although he only recently endorsed a worthless check for $350.

Scurry County now has a working chamber of commerce, but it needs your heartiest co-operation, brother. So come out the first Tuesday evening in August and encourage the officers by your presence. Refreshments will be served and a good time is expected.

Well, anyhow, the agony will soon be over. And the world is wondering if Ferguson will give his word about resigning if Dan Moody gets one vote more than Mrs. Ferguson. Well, Jim may keep his word—God knows it's about time he was—he never has so far.

Don't forget the big trade trip, but be ready to start with the crowd of live business men at 12:30, Tuesday, July 27, and at same hour July 28. Get your signs, banners and novelties all ready before the last day. The Snyder band is going along to help make things lively. Let's go!

The Times-Signal can't help but feel that our business men ought to begin right now to put on a campaign for the coming fall trade. Keep your name before the buying public. The mail order houses and the largest concerns don't wait until the battle is on before they begin to advertise, but they keep everlastingly at it.

We see that Emilie Cane, the little Frenchman, who claimed to have been able to cure disease auto suggestion, is dead. All one had to do was to repeat, "Every day, in every way, I'm getting better and better." Such fanatics and impostors have existed in all ages, and have had a following. Saul called on the Witch of Endor, although he was no doubt familiar with the 10th, 11th and 12th verses of the eighteenth chapter of Deuteronomy, and therefore knew the penalty of such an act. Therefore, "Beware of false prophets," saith the Lord God of hosts.

In 1885, thirty-four Civil War veterans entered into an agreement that they buy a bottle of wine and that the two last survivors drink it. The club meets annually, and at the last meeting there were only three left, and they all three agreed that the wine be drunk immediately after one of the three dies. And it reminds us of the story of the Irishman, who, just before his death, called a number of his friends to his bedside and said: "Friends, I'm going to be dead in a few minutes. You will find plenty of wine to drink to my health." "Shall we drink the wine before we take you to the cemetery or after we come back?" one of Pat's friends asked. "Why, drink it before you go," said Pat, faintly, "I won't be with you when you come back."

Maori Fish Legend Old legends still prevail among the Maoris of New Zealand. One of the earliest of these stories tells of the formation of the north island of New Zealand, which resembles a fish in shape. A great warrior named Maui brought up from the depths of the ocean a giant fish, the tale runs. The fish did not sink again, but in course of time it died and the body petrified and became land. About 40,000 of New Zealand's 1,000,000 population are descendants of the original native Maoris.

New England Rag Dolls

Old rag dolls were treasured heirlooms of many New England homes. Of all sizes, and attired in many sorts of quaint costumes, they had some points in common. Their faces were invariably flat, their hands were stiff and rigid, their hair they wore toupées of yarn or hemp or wisps of real hair. Their garments were full skirted gowns of sprigged muslins or prints, and they often wore sunbonnets of the same materials as their dresses. In one New Hampshire family still lives an old rag doll who for over 80 years has pleased its daughters. True, she has become somewhat the worse for wear, but her bleached features have been renewed by the simple expedient of recovering her face with a piece of fresh cloth.—Antiquarian Magazine.

Famous Old English "Beau"

The sobriquet "Beau Nash" was bestowed upon Richard Nash, a fashionable personage of the eighteenth century. He was born in Wales in 1774, and studied law, but later became a gambler, for which he seemed to have a greater liking and aptitude and from which he derived an ample revenue. In 1704 he transformed Bath from a vulgar and neglected watering place into a gay and fashionable resort. The city of Bath, in gratitude for his services, placed his statue between those of Newton and Pope. He lived to be eighty-seven, but his last years were spent in poverty, owing to the act of parliament that suppressed gambling.—Kansas City Star.

Redwood Log "Gold Mine"

Lumber valued at $3,000 and 80 circular dining-table tops, each worth $75, were cut from a redwood log found buried in the sand by an Oregon man, who declared that the discovery was almost as good as a gold mine. Two days' work with team and scraper were required to unearth the huge log, which was 8 feet in diameter and 50 feet long. According to the rings it was 527 years old and had lain in the same place for many years before anyone had thought it worth the trouble to remove it.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Many Seniors Unkissed

As a result of a questionnaire sent to a number of universities seniors it has been found that 69 were willing to marry for money, 57 preferred bachelorhood and 83 admitted never having been kissed. Fourteen said they never had danced, and 12 thought their education not worth while. Mark Twain seemed to be the favorite author.

Suggestion Great Aid in Preserving Youth

"My, but Americans are young looking people!" exclaimed Miss Alma Law, an Australian, on her first visit to San Francisco. "There don't seem to be any old ones. And such handsome, well-dressed and pleasant folks." We do look young and, in fact, are looking younger every day. This is partly the applied science of the pulchritude parlor, but in large measure it is due to mental attitude in which a native optimism is reinforced by friendly suggestion.

We have not discovered the elixir of life—that is, not the elixir put in bottles—but we have the secret of keeping young, and it is telling each other that we look so.

Americans do know how to greet one another, and though greetings cannot make any difference to the calendar they may make a world of difference to one's appearance. Years are cut off when we are told we are looking well, and if we feel younger we cannot help looking younger.

Statistically we know that modern medical science has added at least ten years to the average American life, but the average man, and certainly the average woman, looks ten years younger than he and she did 20 years ago.—San Francisco Bulletin.

ITS A BAD IDEA.

When congress' quit without furnishing the farmers the relief they had hoped for it was a sad blow to agriculture. But a far worse feature of the whole affair is the fact that in arguments for and against the various farm relief bills there crops out an ugly feeling among our politicians and one that isn't going to do the country any good if it is permitted to flourish.

Indigestion bad spells relieved. NOTHING can take the place of Theford's Black-Draught with us because we have never found anything at once so mild and so effective. When the children have spells of indigestion and upset stomachs, I always straighten them out with a dose or two of Black-Draught.
