

GET READY FOR THE BIG FAIR

Scurry County will hold an Agricultural and Livestock Exhibit in connection with the annual Poultry Exhibit this year, and committees are now at work on the proposition.

How to Get Ready for the Big Show

It means much to put over a County Fair. It means lots of hard work as well as an outlay of considerable cash. It means, also, that there must be a general good feeling among the people and hearty co-operation on the part of the leading men and women of the entire county

There is no better way to bring about such a co-operation in putting over a successful fair than to begin NOW to bring about a hearty co-operation between the business men of Snyder and the farmers of Snyder's trade territory.

Therefore: Bring your cotton to Snyder to have it ginned; that is, if you live in Snyder's trade territory. If you live in the trade territory of some other town, take your cotton to that place, as the Fair is going to be a whole county proposition.

Bring your other farm products to your home town and trade with your home merchants. All this will help our business men of the county to contribute more liberally to the success of the Fair.

LISTEN! We are speaking in a very low tone. Some of our own business men who have been giving their orders for printed stationery to printing concerns in other cities say that they are going to have their printing done at home in the future.

The Law Makes No Distinctions

There are no distinctions as to how much of your estate persons of the same class shall inherit under the laws of Texas.

For instance, if you have five children they will all share equally. Yet, two of these children may be married and have good homes of their own. One child may have established himself in a good, successful profession or business. Another one may be an invalid for life and no means of support except what you bequeath it. The fifth child may be just a little tot. To even start on an equal basis with the other children, it must be taken care of until it is legally a man or woman and educated.

Furthermore, do you realize what interest the surviving husband or wife is entitled to under the laws of this State?

MAKE YOUR WILL TODAY AND PROVIDE FOR YOUR SPECIFIC CASE! If there are any distinctions or unusual bequests to be made you must make them by a will, THE LAW DOES NOT.

This bank is anxious to assist you in these matters. Ask us.

"THE BLIND GODDESS" TO HAVE PREMIERE AT PALACE

A girl demanding the life of her own mother!

This is one of the powerful situations in "The Blind Goddess," Paramount's mighty novel, which makes its local debut at the Palace Theatre next Monday.

Victor Fleming, noted screen director, is said to have turned this intensely dramatic story into a gripping picture, rich in romance, pathos, suspense and emotionalism.

The action involves four principal characters, played by Jack Holt; a New York policeman, portrayed by Earnest Torrence; his daughter and Holt's fiancée, charmingly personified by Esther Ralston, and the mystery woman, impersonated by Louise Dresser.

Miss Dresser is accused of murdering Torrence. Events leading up to and following the crime indicate that she is the guilty one. The gun found alongside the dead man's body is proved to be hers. She was last seen with Torrence. Her latch-key was discovered in the room where the murder had been committed. She was fleeing from the city at the time of her arrest. This and other circumstantial bits of evidence are used to build up the case against her.

Holt is told to prosecute and Miss Ralston demands that he ask for the extreme penalty. Unknown to the girl, the accused woman is her own mother, who had deserted her husband many years before. What happens when Holt resigns his position and gives up the girl he loves to protect the mother, goes to make up a picture of tremendous appeal.

FLUVANNA NEWS.

The thief. On last Sunday night while at church Ed Fortenberry's car was stripped of about all that could be conveniently taken away, including extra tire, radiator cap, lights, etc. Some three weeks ago the village preacher lost his flash light and, later, the tail light from his car. This it becomes evident that we have among us at least one of the meanest men (or boys) to be found anywhere. He is a veritable cancer on society. He is not only untrustworthy, he is a nuisance, an abomination and a dangerous character to have in any community. Therefore, the sooner he is in the penitentiary the better for the community.

Think of it, so long as such a vile person is at large, your valuables, your property (in whatever movable form it may exist) is in danger. The honest, trustworthy, hard-working man is liable to lose his stuff—from his home, from his car or wagon, from the store or other place of business, on the public road, at church—anywhere and at any time—especially if it is at night; for thieves love the dark. And, he it is remembered, the heart of the thief is as black as the darkness of night. Such a person has no right, whatever, to a place in our society. By his very acts, voluntary or willful, and self-planned acts, he has sacrificed every legitimate claim to respectability. His very words are wholly unreliable, for he is a liar. All thieves are liars. They cannot be otherwise. The thief has to lie in order to get by. If he would always speak the truth his deeds would come to light at once. My! my! how low, loathsome, mean, despicable and wretched the thief is. And, worst of all, but as a natural consequence, such a person is bound for hell and damnation. He is already headed for the penitentiary, and unless he fully repents, returns the stolen goods, and fully accepts salvation through Christ, he is as certain to go to perdition as is the rising of another sun. Poor, wretched, foul and miserable creature that he is; the Village Preacher would gladly instruct and pray for him if he could.

Car Wreck. This item is not strictly Fluvanna news. It is a highway incident, to wit: On Tuesday p. m. a man from Okmulgee, Okla., going north on highway No. 7 one mile south of Dermott, driving a Chrysler car, had a rather serious accident. Fortunately no one was hurt. The driver saw the situation soon after the accident. The driver stated that he was attempting to pass (meeting) another car which did not allow him sufficient room.

could—if he had the chance.

Matters Religious. The Baptist meeting is in progress here this week. The pastor in charge, Rev. A. D. Leach, is assisted by Rev. Sam Malone of Abilene, who is doing the preaching in a very earnest way. The attendance and interest, to date, are good.

Crops.

As previously mentioned our crop outlook is very fine. We had more rain last week, thus giving us a fine season. Some farmers are beginning to fear the possible coming of worms or other cotton insects. So far, however, it seems that there is but little occasion for such alarm. Last Monday two of our energetic, and thoughtful farmers—J. W. Squires and J. J. Belew—took magnifying glasses and went over about 150 acres of cotton, in different fields, in search of the dreaded pest. They reported an occasion for alarm. True they found a few worms and, in a few wet spots, some cotton (or vegetable) lice, but these were not sufficiently numerous or widespread to indicate real danger. We always have some insects when the crop is thrifty.

Visiting and Trips.

F. W. Wooten and wife of Fort Worth have been here several days visiting relatives and friends.

Strange Things.

Is it not strange that even the governor sometimes makes a bad guess?

Instead of winning by at least 100,000 votes she has lost by more than that number. Pretty wild guessing.

It is strange that while no one wants trouble, some folks are all the time making it.

The Village Preacher testifies that, on last Monday he saw two good men starting out, with magnifying glasses, in earnest search of trouble. Fortunately they found but little of it. (See under "crops" above.)—Jas. H. Tate, Cor.

Times-Signal Signals.

A lot of fellows who graduated from the school of experience are still paying their back tuition.

What chance has a Snyder man to keep his shirt front clean now that we have reached the season of chicken gravy?

With his ability to talk people into anything we suppose Mussolini would be selling oil stock if he lived in this country.

It has gotten so mother isn't the only one to complain when father demands economy. The kids have learned to protest, too.

The trouble with most Snyder autoists who take a long trip is that about all they can tell you when they get back is where they struck the hardest detours.

Since this isn't a presidential year what are they going to blame the shortage of the wheat crop on?

The trouble with much of our common sense is that too many people consider it too common to use.

It looks as though Snyder people may spend a sad Thanksgiving day. We see where an Arkansas man got $1000 for a turkey.

We wonder how large our cemeteries would be if people had to wait as long for the doctor as the doctor has to wait for some of his bills.

The smoker who says chewing tobacco is an ugly habit is right. But chewing it never started a forest fire.

It is hard to get credit where credit is due, but the Snyder man who wants to try something that is hard should try to get credit where bills are due.

There is no place like home, so many account for the reason so many people stay away from it.

A Brooklyn judge has ruled that a hearse is a "pleasure car." But the pleasure is all the undertaker's that the joy in getting back from a vacation trip consists largely in the state of the wife's temper.

Girls of today may know what it is to be popular, but they don't know what it is to be embarrassed.

Maybe the reason our language is called the "mother tongue" is because father gets so little chance to use it.

Sometimes you can figure the breadth of a Snyder man's knowledge by the length of his argument.

LONE WOLF NEWS.

A very good rain fell here Friday afternoon.

Preaching at the Baptist church Sunday night was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stahl of South Texas, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. August Stahl, left for home Monday.

Gas Stahl is visiting in Wilson County.

Mr. and Mrs. John Habache and family of Roscoe were visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coldeaway's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schwarz were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Schwarz Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Ohlenbusch were visitors near Loraine Sunday.

Henry and Herman Wachendorf of Lavaca County were visiting their cousins, D. Ohlenbusch and Mrs. Henry Coldeaway, Monday.

Several of this community attended singing Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Haggerton and Mrs. Bessie and children of Sweetwater visited Mrs. Haggerton's uncle near Colorado Sunday.—Dad's Girl.

EAST SIDE CHURCH OF CHRIST.

The meeting at the tabernacle is in full swing and the interest continues unabated. The attendance is not quite what it should be, but of course we expect this to increase.

Bro. Bankhead will discuss such vital subjects as: "Evidence of Pardon," Friday night; "Who, Then, Can Be Saved," Saturday night; "Church Finance," Sunday a. m.; "The Judgment," Sunday p. m.

Let us enjoy these services together. Services will be at the tabernacle Sunday morning.—Reporter.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to express my appreciation for the most liberal support which I received at the polls on July 24th for the office of commissioner, Precinct 4. I desire at this time to thank each person who gave me their vote, and to assure each one that did not vote for me that there is not now, neither will there be at any time any ill will on my part toward anyone. In discharging my duties I will strive to be honest, courteous and will give you my very best service. Sincerely yours, W. A. JOHNSON.

UNION DOTS.

The church attendance was good Sunday. Bro. Wilkerson preached from the text found in Hosea. He emphasized the thought that the church had lost a great deal of its efficiency, as a soul winning institution, from the backslidden condition that exist among the membership of the church and we really believe this is true to a greater extent than is often thought or recognized by the membership of the church or churches.

The meeting closed as a Baptist meeting and is being continued by the Methodist church, and we are glad to say that Bro. Moore, our pastor, was fortunate in securing Bro. H. W. Hanks, pastor of Loraine Methodists, to assist and do the preaching for the meeting. Bro. Hanks is very spiritual and helpful and we are glad indeed to have him with us.

The attendance at Sunday School: Baptist, 56 present, $1.43 collection. Methodist, 65 present, $1.50 collection.

Uncle Bill Shuler and family.

Uncle Bill Shuler and family and Ed Shuler and wife and Mrs. Lyman Wren have returned home after a two weeks' visit in good old Arkansas. They report good looking crops all along their trip.

Uncle Bill got so many ticks that he had to be dipped but then that is part of good old Arkansas.

Well, we happened to go to see the editor Monday evening to invite him to come to our meeting at Union and while there were informed that we were one of the lucky ones in the correspondent contest and it was a surprise indeed but a happy one and it made us feel our unworthiness when we found that our good friends had by their vote given us, or caused to be given to us, such a nice premium. Now, my good friends, by this act of kindness you have placed us under renewed obligations to you and we thank every one of you and it shall be our pleasure to serve and help you in any way possible. Many, many thanks.

We are grieved to note the death of Laton, the little child of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Biddle. They were only allowed to keep this precious little jewel 2 1/2 years. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved parents, and relatives and we commend the promises of God for your consolation and help.

Mrs. J. T. Biggs continues to grow stronger, but we are sure that she thinks it is dreadfully slow.—Reporter.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to thank every one who has taken part in helping me in the correspondent contest. I wish to thank the editor also.

THE NEW WAR

American farmers in 1776 struck telling blows for Liberty. They were the first to take the field against the hordes of King George, and the lessons of Concord and Lexington were heeded by the entire nation.

"By the rude bridge that arched the flood
 Their flag to April breeze unfurled,
 Here once the embattled farmer stood
 And fired the shot heard 'round the world."

"Today in 1926, the 150th anniversary of our great Republic—a still greater war looms before the American farmer. But the enemy of today is the Middleman, who robs both producer and consumer. Nor is he less subtle than King George and his corrupt crew were in their day. But our weapons today must be unity and co-operation, not bullets.

Let us show the spirit of 1776! Let us join in the Farm Labor Union of America and show that we will no more submit to economical tyranny than the farmers of '76 would submit to political tyranny.

Come in, we need you and you need us.

POWERFUL BLACK STAR OF WILD HORSE DRAMA

Rex to Be Seen in New Unique Production by Hal Roach

"Black Cyclone," the Hal Roach feature showing now at the Palace Theatre, is the story of Rex, a wild horse—a flashing black of great power—an ebony streak in the sunlight. He was born in the Wild Lands, self-raised and self-taught, for a rattlesnake bite had deprived him of his mother while he was still of tender age. He sought protection in a herd, but its leader, the ferocious Killer, drove him out. He had no place in his herd for an outcast—a weakling—a baby stallion. But there came a day when this untrained weakling was a magnificent, powerful creature who defeated the Killer, who had never before known anything but victory.

Rex, who made his film debut in 1924 in "The King of Wild Horses," is an even more magnificent creature in "Black Cyclone," a story which shows his wooing of Lady, a beautiful dapple grey mare, and his great love for and protection of her, and of his friendship for a man who saved his life from the treacherous sands.

But three people are required to tell the story of the humans in "Black Cyclone," and they are Guinn Williams, Kathleen Collins and Christian J. Frank. Among the animals are Rex and Lady; the Killer, one of the craziest-spotted horses ever seen and the Pest, a burro that is quite the funniest little animal in existence. For atmosphere are hundreds of wild horses, a wolf pack, a honey-hunting bear, and a man-hunting cougar.

Thousands of acres of Nevada's beautiful plans and hills supply the background for "Black Cyclone," which is hailed as the year's greatest sensation—both as to dramatic value and photography. Its story, as in the case of "The King of Wild Horses," is by Hal Roach, and the direction by Fred Wood Jackson.

THERE IS NO SATURATION POINT FOR HONEST VALUE

Build a product that the world needs, better than the world expects, and mounting sales will answer those who are constantly predicting a saturated market.

During the first six months of this year, for instance, Dodge Brothers sold 207,115 motor cars and trucks. This represents a gain of 49.3 per cent over the first six months of 1925, and continues Dodge Brothers in the enviable position of THIRD IN THE INDUSTRY.

For the three weeks ending July 17th, 23,862 motor cars and trucks were delivered to customers—an increase of 62.4 per cent over the same period last year, and impressive evidence that Dodge Brothers great sales gain is continuing through the quiet weeks of mid-summer.

There may be a saturation point for mediocrity, but honest value will always command a great and ever expanding market.

B. Y. P. U. IS ENTERTAINED WITH PARTY.

The Intermediate B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church of this city was entertained with a party Tuesday evening, July 27, at the home of Pauline Jones.

By 8:15 some twenty-five or thirty young people had gathered at the "large white house down on the farm."

27 GIRLS ATTENDING SHORT COURSE.

Twenty-seven girls from the communities over Scurry County and their county-home demonstration agent, Miss Laura Belle Rotten, left Snyder Sunday morning August 1 for College Station where they are attending this week the Farmers Short Course at A. and M. College.

The girls have been and will continue to be under the care of strict chaperones from the time they left Snyder Sunday morning, until their return to the city this week-end. They are staying, along with other girls attending the course, in two dormitories with three chaperones in each dormitory.

Death of Moses—La Frances Hamilton.

You are invited to be at the Methodist church at 8 o'clock.

MRS. IVAN DODSON HOSTESS TO "FRIENDLY HELPERS."

The Friendly Helpers class of the Methodist church met in the regular monthly social, with Mrs. Ivan Dodson, Thursday afternoon, July 29. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Homer Snyder, after which all business was disposed of with Mrs. W. W. Hamilton, in the chair. The constitution and by-laws committee read their report, which was unanimously accepted, and which made a standard Wesley Bible class. This class is composed of young married women between the ages of twenty and thirty-five years, and has grown from a membership of about twelve to twenty-six, under the splendid leadership of our teacher, Mrs. Preuitt. It is our earnest desire to be "Friendly Helpers" indeed, in truth and to strive to live up to article 3 in our constitution, which reads: "The object of the class shall be to develop each member in a Christian character that will express itself in worship, right living and Christian service."

We extend to all visitors and new members a cordial welcome, and the splendid fellowship which exists among our members proves that a Christian spirit predominates in this faithful band of young women.

After the meeting was declared adjourned an hour of forty-two was enjoyed. The hostess served a delicious two-course luncheon to twelve members and Mrs. Patterson of Wichita Falls.—Reporter.

Kiddies' Evening Story

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"Moo, moo," said Mrs. Cow to Miss Cow, and as Miss Cow had very excellent manners she replied in her best cow voice: "Moo, moo, I hope you are quite well."

"After lunch."

"I can chew my cud and think of the happy days of the summer time which we are now beginning; to enjoy and which we will continue to enjoy for some time to come. 'I can sleep and wake up feeling refreshed when it is time for morning milking. 'You see, Miss Cow, I enjoy life because I do not spend my time grubbing about this and that and because I do not care about dashing about all the time. 'I see people dashing by in automobiles. Sometimes they stop by the side of the pasture and eat their lunch. 'You would think they would have a good time. Sometimes they do. 'Sometimes they stay around after lunch and the fathers smoke their pipes and perhaps take little naps and the mothers take their time about putting the lunch things away, and the children play and maybe go in wading.

Miss Cecile Strayhorn was entertained with a surprise party on her birthday, Monday evening, August 2, at the Strayhorn home, Misses Dorothy Strayhorn and Mary Lynn Nation as hostesses. Dinner was served to the honoree and Misses Ina Martin, Hattie and Gertrude Heron, David Curry, and Helen Boren. Bridge was enjoyed during the evening.

Nervous hot flashes

"SOME time ago when in a very nervous, run-down condition," says Mrs. Martha F. Marlow, of Broken Bow, Okla., "I tried numerous remedies to try at least to keep going, but I could not. I was weak and tired—just no good at all. My back ached and I had hot flashes until I was so very nervous I smothered. 'I couldn't sleep and I was never hungry, and I kept getting weaker. I couldn't stand on my feet. This was an unusual condition for me as I had been pretty strong all along. I knew that I would have to do something, and that pretty soon. 'Some friend suggested that I take Cardui, and it certainly was a good suggestion, for after taking one bottle I could tell I was stronger and better. I didn't quit, I kept it up and did fine. I felt like a different person after I began taking Cardui. 'Cardui has helped thousands of suffering women. Sold by all druggists.

CARDUI A Vegetable Tonic

"They don't hurry right off in their automobiles again. 'But there are others who are always in such a hurry that they never enjoy anything. 'They stop here for lunch and sometimes they are in such a hurry that they do not even get out of their automobiles to eat. 'They sit right where they have been sitting while they have been riding and they eat it quickly as they can. 'The children ask to go wading and the parents say: 'There isn't time. We can't make the next place and get home before dark if you stop to go wading. 'So the children look sad and disappointed and they all go hurrying off again. 'They get started before they have even finished eating. They are having their fruit or their cake while they are driving off and the one who is driving the car has someone feed him bits of cake or bites of banana as he drives. 'But what I think is so foolish is that they should always be trying to go as far as they can. 'When they have gone as far as they can in so short a time as they can and get back home again they are tired and maybe they are cross and the whole day has been, to my cow way of thinking, quite unsuccessful. 'Why isn't it better to plan to go only a short distance and take enjoyment out of that little distance? 'Why isn't it better to go slowly so those who are riding can see the trees and the flowers, the blue sky and the fluffy white clouds? 'Why isn't it better to stop and have a real picnic instead of one of those hurried meals? 'Why isn't it better to get out and rest and enjoy the beautiful country, the streams, the rivers, the ponds, the lakes, the woods, than to go hurrying, scurrying by so quickly that lakes and woods and flowers and beautiful scenery are passed without being noticed? 'What is the point of riding through the country if it is not

Maybe Go in Wading.

"No more can I," said Miss Cow. "Moo, moo, I agree with you."

Turning the Tables

A class of children were wrestling with a lesson in arithmetic, and the scholars found that fractions were too much for them. The trouble started when little Doris declared that she would rather have half a pie than two-thirds of it. "How often have I tried to drive it into you," said the exasperated teacher, "that two-thirds of anything is more than a half? Now you all know," she went on, "that Doris prefers a small portion of pie to a large piece. Funny child, isn't she? 'Doris, having been held up as a model of stupidity, put up her hand. 'Well?' asked the teacher, sharply. 'Please, miss," said Doris, in a small, clear, piping voice, "I don't like pie."

Mrs. Jno. W. Sears of Hale Center spent last week in Snyder visiting with her sister, Mrs. Dick Crowell. Mrs. Sears was joined Sunday by her husband and they
