FAIR AND LEAGUE MEET HELD APRIL 1-2

BAPTIST REVIVAL MEETING CLOSSES LAST SUNDAY NIGHT

TRY AT HOME

It's a pretty safe policy to read your home merchant's ads carefully, and then try to get what you want from him. Nine cases out of ten he will save you money and time in your purchases—and GUARANTEE the goods.

Work Starts on New Water Well

Pumping Capacity to be Increased to 550 Gallons Per Minute

The derrick is now up and other preparations are being made for starting work on the city's new water well. The well will be 26 inches in diameter and will be set with 18-inch casing. It will be equipped with a turbine pump which will have a capacity of fully 300 gallons a minute. The present pumping capacity of the city is only 250 gallons a minute. The new unit will give the plant a total capacity of 550 gallons.

The city council, at a recent meeting, voted to purchase new and modern machinery for the old wells, as the old machinery has seen better days. In fact, it is in very bad condition. When the new improvements are made, Snyder will have a water supply that will be fully adequate to take care of the needs for many years.

Snyder Now Has Modern Laundry

Week of "Open House" Just Closed by Owner, S. A. LaRue

S. A. LaRue, proprietor of the Snyder Laundry, has just closed his last week of "open house," during which time he invited the people of Snyder to inspect his plant and the new and modern machinery he has only recently installed. Those who had not inspected the plant before were agreeably surprised to find such modern machinery and such a well organized plant.

Although the plant is not so large as some of the city plants, it is just as modern so far as it goes. For example, Mr. LaRue has just installed at a cost of more than $3,000 a number of the very latest pieces of machinery, including: utility drying tumbler, which is a departure from the old way of drying clothing in a dry house. Undergarments dried by this new process need no ironing at all, thus saving much time and expense. Among the other new machines recently installed are cuff and collar machines, bosom presser, sleeve machines, etc., thus making the plant one of the most complete in West Texas.

Mr. LaRue has for his slogan, "Good Washing Wins Good Will," and with his new and very latest laundry machinery, he can easily carry out his slogan to the letter.

Misses Mary Lynn Nation, Bill and Annie Mae Swann, Neoma and Cecile Strayhorn and J. D. Scott went to Colorado Sunday evening with Miss Dorothy Strayhorn. Miss Hattie Herin returned some with them.

Mrs. Wraymond Sims and son, Darrell Newsum, and Mrs. T. E. Irvin and daughter, Miss Evelyn, were visitors to Wynert one day last week.

TRY A WANT AD

Do you ever realize that your next door neighbor may have the very thing you want? Perhaps you may have something to sell and surely no one would think of it, unless you told them. Or maybe you want to buy something.

Scurry County folks have found from actual experience that The Times-Signal reaches the majority of potential buyers and sellers, and the cost is slight.

Beautiful Baptismal Service Held by Pastor Following Revival

Last Sunday night, April 3, marked the closing of a three weeks revival with the First Baptist Church of Snyder. Too much cannot be said about this meeting, for it was in deed and in truth a glorious meeting from every standpoint. Glorious, for it was heaven sent in answer to the earnest prayers of those who spent much time beseeching the Lord in behalf of lost souls and a general spiritual awakening of the community.

Thirty-six people were baptized the last night of the meeting. Some of these were converted before the meeting, while there are yet others who will join the church later. Quite a number united with the local congregation by letter, and several joined by statement. There was a total of 53 additions.

The meeting was conducted by the popular and beloved pastor, Rev. W. F. Ferguson, who was ably assisted by Lee A. Stulce as singer and Miss Wilma Tripp as pianist, both of Simmons University, Abilene.

Mr. Stulce is without doubt one among the South's greatest singers. He has a style all his own. His manner of conducting choir and congregational singing is unique. He has a happy, winsome disposition, and the people love him because they feel that he sings the old fashioned gospel message. He has a way of getting the folk to gladly and liberally respond to his requests: "Folks, let's sing like we mean it," and how they did sing! It was enough to make the angels rejoice. It sounded most heavenly because the music seemed to come from the deepest inwellings of their souls. No one who heard can ever forget that wonderful song, "At The Roll Call."

The solo work of Mr. Stulce revealed that he is an artist of marked ability in his line. Perhaps there has been no artist of his type to visit Snyder who so completely captivated, thrilled and inspired his audiences with his special numbers. His message in song seemed always appropriate and set for the deepest emotions of the soul. His songs seemed ever to be sweet and fragrant, yet richly laden with the golden truths of the old Book. Many were the beautiful old songs, such as our parents used to sing, "Come Ye Sinners, Poor and Needy," "I Will Arise And Go to Jesus," and many other old fashioned hymns that used to make our fathers and mothers shout.

Hymn playing is an art requiring rare technical ability and power of improvisation. The pianist, Miss Tripp, possesses this to a most unusual degree. She also missed to her playing a spiritual interpretation. As she played the dear old hymns in variations of trills and cadences, a reverential stillness pervaded the audience.

Pastor W. F. Ferguson, who did the preaching, was used mightily of the Lord in making the revival such a glorious success. Pastor Ferguson's pleasing personality, happy style, coupled with the old time gospel message indicted by the power of God, proved mighty factors in reaching the hearts of the people of the town and community. The Christians were greatly built up in the faith "once for all delivered unto the saints." These powerful gospel messages touched to the depths the hearts of scores of men, women, boys and girls, and were used as a means of bringing them to a full knowledge of their lost condition, resulting in the conviction, conversion and public profession of Jesus Christ as their personal Savior.

The preacher with the dignity and passion of our Lord made richer every life that was touched by his ministry during the revival. Brother Ferguson loves people, and has mastered the finest of fine arts, in finding and winning men. His work is built on Christ and God's Word; therefore will be likewise as enduring.

The Baptist people, in fact, the entire town and community, are providentially fortunate, divinely blessed and supremely happy in having Brother Ferguson in our midst as a spiritual advisor and the

Rev. J. T. Trice Dies Thursday

Funeral Service Held Here this Afternoon at 4 o'Clock

Rev. J. T. Trice was born at Summit, Alabama, October 18, 1849; died Thursday morning, April 7, 1927, aged 77 years, 5 months and 19 days.

Deceased came to Texas in May, 1873, locating in Freestone County, but later removing to Ellis County where he resided until 1898, when he removed to Taylor County. A few years ago he removed to Snyder where he lived until his death.

On July 6, 1869 deceased was married to Harriet H. Trice of Red Hill, Alabama. To this union were born 16 children, 11 of whom survive. Mrs. Trice died at Midlothian January 21, 1894. On September 30, 1900, Rev. Trice was married to Miss Emma W. Hyde. To this union were born two children.

A few days ago Rev. Trice suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which he hovered between life and death until death finally became the conqueror, as above stated.

Brother Trice was a pioneer Methodist preacher, having been engaged in his Master's cause for almost half a century, blazing the trails of West Texas when the entire country was one vast, open prairie. The long years of Christian service helped to keep him close to the cross, and like the experience that comes to every true follower of Christ, his last days on earth were his best days, and he died firm in the faith of Him who doeth all things well.

The few days that he lingered brought to his bedside all of his surviving children but two, Mrs. James Paul of Nacogdoches and Mrs. J. A. Greer of Rule, Texas, who were not able to visit him in his last hours. Those present at the time of his death were his faithful wife and the following children: A. H. Trice, Jeff Trice of Snyder, Mrs. W. C. Davidson of Camp Springs, Mrs. J. W. Benton of Jayton, W. R. Trice of Anson, Mrs. W. T. Willis and Mrs. W. O. Kent, and Mrs. C. E. Coggin of Abilene, Mrs. L. W. Greenway of Vernon, Mrs. Julius Wilkerson and Elkins Trice of Chillihothe.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in this city at 4 o'clock Thursday, April 7, by his old friend, Rev. M. H. Hudson; interment in Snyder cemetery.

undershepherd of the Baptist flock. It is evidently a very happy relation that exists between this noble pastor and his own people, also many other devoted friends, as indicated by the splendid cooperation given him in all phases of the work.

We feel that the values of the revival are worth to our community far more than we are able to estimate. Nearly every town in Texas seems to be very anxious for an oil boom. Some have them and others are spending millions trying to bring in a gusher. These things are well and good if, supremely happy are we, and satisfied with a comforting consciousness that the Giver of every good and perfect gift has, in these recent days, poured out upon us of His richest and sweetest blessings. He has given unto many of our loved ones "rivers of living water, springing up into eternal life." He has refreshed the sluggish souls of many who had been following afar off. There is no fresher that will clean up a community or a life like an old time, God sent, prayed down revival of Holy Ghost religion.

Prosperity is good and allowable in every sense. Snyder has it, both temporal and spiritual. If anybody wants to know about the former, let them communicate with Mr. Moore, secretary of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce. If information is desired about the latter, let them get in touch with any one who attended with interest the recent revival. Do we not believe that each of the two is most essential to the other? It is not to be doubted that the greatest blessing that can come to any heart, home or community is a genuine Christian revival. Talk to the many strong business men of our happy little city of the West; get their estimate of the values as mentioned. Most of our

Snyder Guard Is Inspected

"Very Satisfactory" Rating Given 142nd Infantry March 23

Company G 142nd Infantry of the Texas National Guard at Snyder was Federally inspected Wednesday, March 23rd, and was given by the inspector a "very satisfactory" rating, which is the highest rating that can be given.

There are three ratings given: Very Satisfactory, Satisfactory and Unsatisfactory. A company must be exceptionally poor to get an unsatisfactory rating, and must be exceptionally good to get a very satisfactory rating.

The inspector, Captain Charles Carl of the U. S. Army, first went through in detail the records and files of the office and the service record of each man and reported them in excellent condition. This work is done by First Sgt. Charles E. Dever and Company Clerk Sgt. Tommie J. Black, under the direction and instruction of Second Lt. Wren O. Moore, who is held responsible for the proper performance of all office work.

The supply room and the property of the company got a very satisfactory rating without a criticism. This was due to the efficient work of Supply Sgt. Roy O. Erwin and Mechanic Clarence H. Bush under the direction and instruction of First Lt. Benjamin F. Meek, who is held responsible by the company commander.

The company was called to attention for inspection at 8 o'clock with 39 enlisted men and three officers present, and the following demonstrations called for by the inspector, were put on for his approval:

The company was formed by First Sgt. Charles E. Dever and formed for the formal inspection by Capt. John Sontell, and the inspector gave each man the "once over," noting his rifle, side arms, uniform and general appearance, and asking many questions to test the training of the men. The company was then taken to the drill ground at the Fuller gin for the following drill:

Manual of Arms of the entire company, commanded by Sgt. Oliver Dever.

Calisthenics of the entire company, commanded by Sgt. Bill D. Hutcheson.

Company Close Order, commanded by Lt. Benjamin F. Meek.

One Squad Close Order, commanded by Corp. Clifton E. Davis.

One Squad for bayonet demonstration, commanded by Sgt. Tim O. Cook.

One Squad demonstration in extended order, commanded by Corp. Claborn J. Pirtle.

Demonstration in Interior Guard Duty, two reliefs, under command of Corporals Samuel O. Worthington and Clifton E. Davis.

Disassembling the Automatic Rifle, Pts. Mac W. Knox and Lewis W. Bennett.

Demonstration in First Aid to the wounded, four men in charge of Sgt. Claude E. Ingram.

Wig-wag signaling, Pts. Mac W. Knox and Elvin R. Thompson.

Demonstration in rolling and assembling the pack, Pvt. Noel L. Banks and Edwin C. Lane.

Pvt. Noel L. Banks functioned as bugler by sounding assembly when the inspector first arrived at the drill hall.

Each of the above drills and demonstrations was commanded

A. A. Bullock Organizing All Departments on Plane of Efficiency

That Scurry County Rural Schools are fast advancing under the able leadership of Mr. A. A. Bullock is made evident in the comments being heard on every side, as well as the active support and recognition of state leaders.

Mr. J. B. McClung, rural school supervisor from the State Department of Education, who was here on a tour of inspection said that with very few exceptions, Scurry County was among the head-liners in the state of Texas. Improvements that were suggested by the state man are already being taken care of. The spirit of cooperation that dominates Mr. Bullock's office, and his co-workers, places Scurry County on a high plane. They are getting some place, for they have established a definite program, and that is what counts.

The Texas Outlook, widely known publication that is advancing the interests of education, conservation, industry and finance, said in their current number:

"The score card is being used in every school in Scurry County with great results. We have organized Parent-Teacher Associations in most all the rural communities.

"I find that our Rural School News to be one of the greatest factors in the development of the rural schools of anything we have yet tried.

"We have a real live functioning County Teachers Association that meets once each month. All the teachers of the county are members. The city schools work hand in hand with us."

The above is only a part of the splendid report from Scurry County. Superintendent Bullock is furnishing a fine type of leadership to his group of teachers. He has a broad vision of the possibilities of his county.

We folks who live in Scurry County realize what our rural schools are doing, but when a publication the size of The Texas Outlook corroborates our own thoughts, it is indeed appreciative.

The spirit that should dominate every citizen, especially the parents, has been ably handled by Mr. W. L. Hughes, departmental editor, with his editorial included in his writings on "Among Texas Rural Schools," which says:

"In spite of all handicaps the Texas rural schools are making progress. There seems to be an educational awakening diffusing itself among the rural districts of Texas. In spite of our methods of choosing the rural school leaders, we have many high class, forward-looking, consecrated men and women as county superintendents. They are leading the schools to better things in many Texas counties. In spite of our primitive and inefficient rural school system, there is going on gradually but surely a process of uniting the weaker schools into larger and stronger schools. This is the hope of our country people. The larger school is the only school that will meet modern conditions and modern needs. The little one-room school is fast losing. It is right that it should. It is one institution that has outlived its usefulness. No one will shed tears when it is gone.

"Some of these days we will send a set of men to Austin who will listen to the school people and who will remove some of the handicaps of the country children in an educational way. This generation may not see it, but it will come. We are laying the foundation for it now."

Our hats are off to "Pat" Bullock and his organization. Folks that are doing such good things for a county as this group of educators are worthy of emulation in every line of endeavor.

J. C. Witherspoon and son, J. C., Jr., have returned from the sanitarium where they have been for several weeks. Glad to say that they are improving in health.

Miss Gertrude Herm of Colorado spent the latter part of last week in Snyder with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Herm.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Henry and son, Billie Mac, returned to Abilene last week where they will make their home.

Farmers Market Much Produce

$4,500 Paid for Cream, Eggs and Poultry Last Week Here

That Scurry County farmers are marketing much produce is proved by the fact that during the past week local firms have paid out at least $4,500 for poultry, eggs and cream. And last week was only an average week, as our two poultry houses are kept busy most of the time handling the products of our diversifying farmers. Fifty-five hundred dollars worth of poultry, eggs and cream each week would mean $225,000 a year, and which would beat cotton growing a mile. But suppose every cotton farmer should go into the poultry and cream business along with a few hogs, and grow more feed and less cotton? Or, suppose our farmers were to market $1,000,000 worth of poultry, eggs and cream each year? It is possible, and could be done without their being out a cent for feed. Think what it would mean to our farmers, merchants and everybody else!

The County School Fair was held April 1 and 2 at the Snyder school building.

Most of the work was brought in the week before and given to the different judges to be graded. Thursday evening part of the material, such as notebooks, themes and different project work was brought in and put up in the rooms on the second floor for exhibit. By nine o'clock Friday morning all the schools had brought in their material and the different teachers were busy putting it up. By two o'clock it was all judged and recorded, and the people were permitted to pass into each room to see it.

All the exhibits were arranged grade against grade in the same rank of schools.

There was more work and better work than has ever been exhibited before, which shows that all the schools are working and putting out better work. Each school, as well as each pupil, might well be proud of the work that is being done over the county. This reflects the splendid work and cooperation of each teacher with the county superintendent.

The awards were given Saturday evening at 5 o'clock at the First Christian church.

After all the points were counted, the results were as follows:

Group I, one and two teacher schools: First place, Arah, 825; second place, Big Sulphur, 675; third place, Woodard, 375.

Group II, three and four teacher schools: First place, Plainview, 990; second place, Ennis, 740; third place, Ira, 315.

Group III, five and six teacher schools: First place, Fluvanna, 2975; second place, Santa Fe, 920; third place, Dunn, 535.

Group IV, seven teachers and above: First place, Snyder, 1760; second place, Hermleigh, 640.

The Woodard school was awarded the prize for 100 per cent attendance. Several schools had above 75 per cent and Ira had 83 per cent present.

There were more pupils and patrons of the county present to see the exhibits than ever before, which shows their interest in the work. Too much honor and praise cannot be given Mr. Bullock, the county superintendent, for the effective work he is doing among the schools.

The cooperation of the teachers with the committee was most excellent. Everyone gladly did what he was asked.

We, the committee, wish to express our thanks to each teacher who worked so faithfully to do his part, for without this help the fair could not have been a success.

We wish to express our thanks to Stinson Drug Co. for the beautiful loving cup that they gave to the one and two teacher schools, which was awarded to Arah. Also, we thank the Snyder Tailoring Co. which gave the donation that bought the prize for the school of the largest per cent in attendance.

We want to thank each and every one who helped in any way toward making the fair a success.

STINSON, ROSS AND BRADBURY ELECTED TRUSTEES

Considerable interest was manifested in the school election last Saturday. There were three names on the ticket, Joe Stinson, Charlie Ross and J. S. Bradbury. Mr. Stinson received 243 votes; Mr. Bradbury, 245; and Mr. Ross, 243. There were a few scattering votes. The three men elected are all good men and possess that school spirit that is so useful in the qualifications of a real trustee. So, let's get behind the board and help them to hold our schools up to their present high standard.

Misses Maude and Alice Lindsey moved to Abilene Tuesday morning of this week.

Snyder and Dunn Win High Point Honors in A and B Divisions

The Scurry County Interscholastic League Meet was held in Snyder on April 1 and 2. In many respects it was the best meet we have ever had. It was especially so from the standpoint of entries and attendance.

All literary events were held on Friday and great crowds attended each contest. The high school auditorium was not in condition to use, and this fact caused a crowded condition that we were sorry to have. Many visitors and patrons could not get in the room where the declamation contest was held.

We are proud of the meet this year, and hope to make it better from year to year. The people over the county are waking up to the fact that there is really something worth while for their boys and girls in this meet. The training given the boys and girls in the public speaking contests alone is worth many times the efforts put forth in behalf of the meet, to say nothing of the contests in writing, reading, spelling, arithmetic, essay writing, music memory, etc. Then the athletic events are worth a great deal to the boys and girls who enter. It teaches love of school, fair play, develops the body as well as the mind, and fosters that spirit of inter-school competition that leads to a better and broader view of the other fellow and the other school's rights.

The following is a list of the winners and the schools that won the meet:

Snyder High School was the high point school for the county. Dunn was the high point school in the B division.

Cable of Snyder was high point man in the track and field events. Girls tennis, singles and doubles, was won by the Santafe school. The results of the other contests in tennis have not been learned.

Field Events

Class B: 12 lb. shot put, White, Dunn, Wenner, Fluvanna, Crabtree, Dunn, Pagan, German, 35 ft. 1 in., second in meet.

Missionary to Speak April 15

Dr. Smith is coming. He is a medical missionary from Africa. He is the most instructive and interesting speaker that it has been my privilege to hear as a returned missionary. He will challenge the physician, surgeon, scholar and minister. Come and hear him at the tabernacle Friday evening at 7:45 p. m., April 15th.

A few weeks ago Dr. Smith lectured to an assembly of eleven or twelve hundred people in Ballinger, Texas. The great Baptist auditorium there would not hold the people, and many were turned away.

Dr. Smith is under the direction of the Board of the Presbyterian church. No admission fee will be charged, but a free will offering will be taken to assist in paying the traveling expenses of the missionary. We extend a hearty invitation to you, one and all.

Dr. Smith's lecture is not one of those usually dry, tedious talks, but he will hold you spell-bound every moment. His fine stereoscopic views of the great African country will add much to the interest of the entertainment.

TIMES-SIGNAL SIGNALS

Hard cider isn't so bad if you happen to have a good, soft, rooey hat to wear the next day. Our idea of an over-abundance of faith is shown by any citizen of Snyder who gets ready to move everytime someone predicts the world is coming to an end. And many a man who thinks he is a national character is only a cinder in the public eye. About the only time European countries present a united front is when they are looking for a loan. What has become of the old-fashioned Snyder boy who used to saturate himself with musk everytime he went out to call on his best girl? Sending notes to the Chinese government is about like arguing with a Chinese laundryman over a lost shirt. It used to be said that the meat packers used everything about the hog but the squeal. The squeal belongs to the consumer. If you want to be sure of winning the friendship of the Snyder man who is getting old enough to wear glasses, just call him "Judge." Another thing hard to understand is why the mails are always on time at the first of the month. No woman wants to marry a tramp. But all of them appreciate the way a tramp eats anything set before him without grumbling. It's a wise Snyder woman who realizes that it's a hard job to keep up with her neighbors and her creditors at the same time. Orville Dodson says if some young fellows showed as much enthusiasm for work as they do for spooning they wouldn't have to hunt for a new job every few weeks.

The postmaster general may be named New, but that's more than can be said of some of his post-offices. It remains for Judge Harris to suggest that maybe jailbirds come from larks, bats and swallows. Few of those who hear a sermon broadcast over the radio ever broadcast anything back to the collection plate. "Any country would look prosperous," asserts Tom Boren, "if all the people were permitted to run big charge accounts." Bob Warren says he can't see why spring poets are always raving about daisies and buttercups when spring onions bring more enjoyment.

Calf coats are now being worn by the fair sex. It would be interesting only for the fact that "calves" are no longer a novelty. "More than one woman is inclined to believe that man sprang from monkeys," asserts Wayne Boren, "when she sees some of her husband's relatives for the first time."

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Coggin and daughter, Mrs. J. A. Hooper, of Taylor County visited the Trice families the past week. G. R. (Bob) Wren orders his address changed to Big Spring, Texas. You don't take a bath in a basin of water

Water is so cheap you feel you can use all you want. And electric light, too, is so cheap that it is no economy to use less than you need. It is the only service that comes into your home that is cheaper today than it was ten years ago.

and many others; but it will be better for everyone to try and grow one variety. This will afford a much better market, the gins could do a much better job of ginning, and the cotton of the county could be grown much purer. This is a high goal, but not impossible. If the thinking people will take advantage of what has been done and plan to in future years gradually work all of their fields into this one variety, all of the people will profit. A small acreage planted to good seed this year will afford an increase for the next year, provided the seed is well cared for. Gin men are glad to encourage this and will cooperate in caring for the seed.

This is a proposition much discussed and debated, but there is no question but that there is as much difference between plants as between animals, and why should we drift around, getting seed from questionable seed men, and seed that we know nothing about when there is available seed of known value; seed that has been planted and grown for several years very successfully in the county? Why not standardize on one variety? Many of the very best farmers have a different idea to this committee and will always have, but since it is an unquestionable fact that this group of men made this investigation in a very intelligent manner, wouldn't Quality cotton that they recommend, be the most practical variety to settle on? Wouldn't it be better to pull together and cooperate? A man's independence to do as he pleases is certainly a great asset, the asset of the farmer; but it can also be his curse.

County Agent.

ENNIS NEWS

Our school was dismissed last Friday for the boys and girls to attend the fair. Each reported that he saw some very interesting things done by the school boys and girls of Scurry County. We, the pupils of Ennis school, hope to have quite a few more things in the fair next year than we had this year. Ennis won second place in the three and four teacher school class. The boys won first place in double tennis in Class B. We are very proud of them and hope that our girls will win next year.

The primary room won 27 blue ribbons, 21 white and 4 red. The intermediate room won 28 blue ribbons, 12 white and 5 red. The principal's room received 12 blue, 7 white and 1 red ribbons, making a total of 67 blue, 42 white and 10 red ribbons. Wiley Floyd won more blue ribbons than any of the other pupils in the primary room; Libby Holmes more than any in the intermediate room, and Ouida Bea Horsley, Hattie Lee Hart and Dana Davis tied.

Miss Eunice Glasgow and Mrs. J. E. Smith took the teachers examination last Friday and Saturday. We hope they will receive a certificate soon as they have studied very hard for it.

Libby Ruth Holmes, Gladys McCollum and Mildred Davis spent last Thursday night in Snyder.

Alfred Roggenstein ate luncheon with Nathan Wade Sunday.

Granny Holmes spent last week in Snyder with Dee Robinson and wife.

Vivian Davis was a guest of Miss Sue McKeown Friday night.

We were surprised, but very gladly surprised, when Mr. Willis came out Tuesday morning. The school enjoyed the interesting pictures shown by him. We are very glad for him to come any time, but of course we especially welcome him when he has something new for us.

Mitchell McMath and wife of Snyder ate luncheon with Frank Wilson and family Sunday.

There is no doubt but that the Scurry County Rural School News, along with Mr. Bullock's untiring efforts has done more to put pep into our rural schools than any other one thing.

The Ligon-Angers Country Store put on at the Palace this week was well attended and seemed to have been highly appreciated.

The spirit, "Flowers for the Living," was made manifest by Mrs. W. R. Bell Wednesday morning when she left a beautiful bouquet of tulips on the editor's desk.

The Scurry County School Fair held here last Friday and Saturday was an outstanding success as usual.

Church Affairs

As previously mentioned, the Methodist congregation is lining their church building with sheet-rock; hence, their place of worship was all cluttered up last Sunday. Because of this fact, all the Methodist services were conducted in the Presbyterian church—the two Sunday schools holding together. The eleven o'clock hour was devoted to Sunday School Day, at which time J. L. Carrel, an experienced Sunday school man of Union, delivered the principal address.

Next Sunday the Village Preacher will hold his usual services at the Presbyterian church, and Rev. Anderson at the Fluvanna Baptist church.

On Easter Sunday night the Methodist and Presbyterian pastors will put on a stereopticon lecture in the former's church, the subject being "The Life, Death and Resurrection of Christ." All who can should see and hear this great lesson.

On last Sunday Miss Rosa Beaver was given a delightful birthday dinner in the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cribbs. The table was tastefully decorated and loaded with many good things to eat, in the midst of which was a fine cake crowned with its eighteen candles.

There were many good wishes to the effect that the young lady may marry well and live a useful and happy life until the figures are reversed. In addition to the Cribbs family, which includes Master Berry—a most excellent lad—those present were W. G. Sims and daughter, Miss Horace; Misses Rosa and Inez Beaver; Mrs. H. Lanham and Jas. H. Tate and wife.

Several of these Fluvanna birds seem to think it is funny that the V. P. has recently been caught out on the road with an empty gas tank. Well, it's a long lane that never turns. "Who'll be the next?" Anyway, V. P. has never yet been foolish enough to profess perfection.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

We remind you that this coming Sunday is our quarterly communion day. Of all days a Christian should be glad to come into the tabernacle of the Lord and celebrate the day on which His body was broken for him. We hope all members will make a special effort to be out with the full realization of the meaning of the day.

Our Sunday school session will begin as usual at 9:45 a. m. We should have no less than one hundred next Sunday morning. Easter time and nice spring weather make life aglow for us all. Let us make more of our church and Sunday school work.

Suffered weak, nervous

"I WAS in a very weakened, run-down condition, surely in need of a tonic and builder," says Mrs. J. R. Wrenn, of Anna, Texas. "I was so weak I had to go to bed, and kept getting weaker. I suffered with my back so much. I was very nervous, couldn't rest good at night. I couldn't eat anything—I just wasn't hungry. I had read so much of Cardui, I thought best to use it. I took seven or eight bottles, and by the time I had taken them I was stronger than I had been in several years. I can highly recommend Cardui. Thousands of others have found that the tonic effects of the purely vegetable ingredients of Cardui were just what they needed to help restore their appetites, to help bring them easily and naturally back to normal health and strength. It should help you, too. Buy Cardui at your local druggist's."

Mr. Giddens grows his own feed, except that he uses a sack of cotton seed meal each month. He also has a bunch of good hogs and raises poultry.

OBITUARY

L. M. (Papa) Blackard was born in Tennessee, December 13, 1848; died March 25, 1927, aged 78 years, 3 months and 12 days.

When but a child he removed with his parents to Mississippi, locating near Corinth. Here he grew to manhood, and where, on October 30, 1872, he was married to Caroline Johnson. To this union were born six sons and five daughters. Two sons have passed to their reward. The other nine children survive and were all present at the funeral of their father.

Deceased in 1882 removed with his family to Red River County, locating near Fulbright, and where they lived until December 1889, when they located in Brown County. In November, 1900, they removed to Scurry County where he remained with the exception of two years, until claimed by death.

About four years after the death of his companion on September 6, 1903, he was again married to Mrs. Julia Shipp, who died in May, 1919. To this union was born one child, a daughter, who survives.

Some two years ago, deceased began to fail in health, and since that time he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. B. Edmonds, of this city, who with her husband gave him every possible attention.

"Papa" Blackard, as he was familiarly known, was indeed true to his name—a real father, not only to his own children, but naturally possessed a fatherly love for every one his junior and a brotherly love and feeling for those of his own age. He was never heard to speak evil of anyone, but possessed that forgiving spirit that always characterizes a child of God. He professed religion many years ago, and for many years had been a member of the Church of Christ. He was indeed a good man, and will be greatly missed by every one in his community.

Funeral services were held at Dunn, and were conducted by Brother S. A. Ribble, an old friend of the Blackard family, the active pall-bearers being his grandsons, as follows: Lewis Blackard, Melvin Blackard, Leon West, Noah Huggins, Maurice Brownfield and Elmo Crowder.

The following children also survive to mourn their loss and to cherish his memory: H. M. and R. A. Blackard of Snyder; T. F. Blackard of Dunn; Mrs. Frank Crowder of Dunn; Mrs. R. C. Huggins, Mrs. F. M. Brownfield, Mrs. B. Edmonds of Snyder; Mrs. W. R. West of Lamesa and J. K. Blackard of Richland Springs, Texas.

Yet, despite all the additions, the price of the Coach was reduced to $695 f.o.b. Flint, Mich.

January, 1926—A not her spectacular increase in Chevrolet value—a model offering many mechanical improvements, such as a smoother, quieter motor with three-point suspension, a silent V-belt generator drive, new oil pump, more efficient cooling, an air cleaner, larger brakes, etc. Notwithstanding these improvements, the price of the Coach was reduced to $645 f.o.b. Smith Assesses Heavy Fines

Fines aggregating $12,300 were assessed by Judge Fritz R. Smith in District Court here today against forty-two witnesses who failed to appear for the trial of L. P. Kirk, charged with the murder of Crawford Tabor.

Seven of the witnesses were assessed fines of $500 each and 35 were fined $250 each.

"Of course," said Judge Smith after the adjournment of the day's session, "in some cases where the witnesses can prove they acted innocently there will be some remission of fines, but where witnesses willfully ignored the orders to be here the fines will stick. This case has been in court long enough for it to be ready for trial. I notified the attorneys two weeks ago that the trial of cases would be insisted on. The case is costing Runnels County something like $1,250 a day for witness fees and $500 a day for jurors, and there is no reason to let it drag."

The case was brought to Nolan County on change of venue from Runnels County. At the close of today's session all jurors and witnesses were excused until 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, at which time a motion for a continuance will be heard.

There are more than 100 witnesses in the case. When the case was called this morning the state announced ready for trial. The defense asked for time until 1:00 o'clock to see if certain witnesses could be obtained. Judge Smith's action resulted when at the afternoon session he discovered that the forty-one witnesses had failed to appear.

Kirk was indicted in Runnels County in connection with the shooting on December 19, 1923, of Crawford Tabor. It is alleged that on that evening Tabor was called out of the home of his father-in-law, Wells, by some men in a car. The latter fearing action by the Klan followed. In the fight that took place several shots were fired and Tabor was killed. Kirk was found in a hospital a few days later recovering from gun shot wounds, after which the charges were filed against him.

The six witnesses who were fined $500 each are: W. R. Lambert, Frank Hale, H. J. Henderson, Thad Henderson, Mrs. Alma Bryant, Henry Hick and J. D. Smith.

Those fined $250 are: Earl Pope, J. A. Pope, B. E. Thompson, B. F. Kirk, Henry Heck, F. F. Rains, Marshall Lett, George W. McDaniel, Fred Spears, Jim Logue, Ray Taff, A. W. Sledge, A. C. Stranther, Mrs. McWilliams, Luther Presley, George Pope, Al Henderson, Bob Miller, S. P. Kirk, A. C. Houston, Frank Kadi, T. M. Perceell, E. S. McWilliams, W. D. Saunders, H. J. Henderson, W. H. Spear, C. H. Willingham, J. M. Key, John Key, John Weeks, J. F.

McMillan, G. R. Hightower, B. W. Wilson and W. I. Rinehart.

Most of the witnesses are from Runnels County, but the residence of some of them is at present unknown.

The remainder of the criminal docket is set for trial this week, and Judge Smith announced at the time he set the cases some two weeks ago that he intended to go ahead with all criminal cases until they are disposed of.

The court reset the following civil cases:

Brady vs T-P Railway Company, set for trial April 13.

Reed & Tipton vs O'Neal, set for April 15.

Gray vs Rainbolt, April 20.

Rea vs Stephenson, April 22.

Pollock vs Abbott, April 22.

SPANISH CLUB PRESENTED IN "THE FRESHMAN"

The Spanish Club of the Snyder High School was presented by Miss Fanny Muse in a highly entertaining three-act comedy-drama, "The Freshman," at the Palace Theatre Friday evening, April 1.

The setting for this interesting story of the troubles and would-be trials of the modern college boy and girl was laid in a small co-educational college, with the first act featuring a typical campus scene in September. The curtain rose on three of the prominent students of the institution, Happy Jimmie Jamieson, played by Herman Trigg, Beau Carter in the person of A. D. Dodson, and Pepper Jervis, played by Nibs Warren. Jimmie proved to be a popular and most susceptible pupil, with whom ladies came first and books last. Miss Cherry Carruthers, a little girl with a changeable heart, new and homesick at school, found herself changing just at the opportune moment of Jimmie's appearance, and Jimmie likewise found himself susceptible. It was in this manner that Miss Cherry, played by Miss Mary Lynn Nation, soon forgot all her troubles including the boy friend at home with the sticky mouth.

Beau Carter was a prominent senior in all respects, but mostly in his own opinion, when he found himself receiving attentive glances from Miss Evelyn Newcomb, the college belle. The part of Miss Evelyn, a girl with the very modern idea of being fond of the last man with whom she is thrown and at the same time retaining the attentions of all, was played to perfection by Miss Gwendolyn Chambers.

Pepper Jervis was a noted student, noted for sticking to his ideal of studying repose at college and also putting his time to good use by practicing it. However, Nibs played unusually well the part of the happy-go-lucky boy, and won the good will of all the girls, including Miss Evelyn, as usual, and Misses Lois Hunter and Loretta Rea.

Miss Loretta was a girl of most romantic ideas and was always found preening when any undertakings with probable thrills were to take place. The part of Loretta was appropriately chosen for Miss Katherine Northcutt, while Miss Marie Pierce was an ideal character for the part of Lois Hunter. Lois was the well beloved college girl who was a friend to all and made happy the hearts of the new girls by inviting them to join her bunch. The arrival of new students was brought to a climax when Epeneus P. Boggs, a Pillar of Splinterville, brought his son, Aaron, to college. Hal Yoder was a perfect reproduction of the small town black seed, while Wesley Norred, awkward and blushing, had a most remarkable likeness as a child. The other students found an opening for a lot of college fun on the arrival of the boy from the sticks, and the fact was further emphasized when Aaron proudly claimed Splinterville as his home town.

Second-hand Abe was certainly a man of affairs, always arriving at the most opportune moment with the same familiar cry for second hand clothes. Tommie Black was a splendid second-hand man in a first class part, while Robert Gray played the part of Casey Jones. Casey was a good, likeable fellow, managing affairs for Casey first, while giving others a good lift on the side.

Miss Elizabeth Maudelia Feeny, nee Lizzie Feeny, was a perfect lady although a waitress. Lizzie did her work satisfactorily, won the admiration and respect of the entire student body and found delight in doing the duties which it had fallen her lot to perform. Miss Dixie Ruth Smith was the desired type for the part and played it most cleverly, and brought the first act to a delightful ending by her wisely laid plans, saving her friend and secret lover, Aaron, from a severe hazing.

The second act was of a college boarding house, and brought out many of the troubles as well as all the imaginary ones of such an institution. Miss Lila Mae Williamson took the part of a greatly loved boarding-house keeper, having won the admiration and respect of all the students by her good cooking, considerate planning and motherly ways. Mrs. Chubb, as she was called, had one real hindrance and fly in her ointment and that was her lazy, shiftless husband, Mr. Chubb. Clark Robinson took on the necessary slovin appearance for the part, and devoted his entire time to finding the job which he would surely get the next day, and in return when found putting it off until the next. Miss Ethel May Sturdivant, as Mrs. Pickens, was in the same business as Mr. Chubb, and spent her chief time in advising her neighbor as to how the house should be carried on and at odd times complaining because she saw no results. Mrs. Pickens stated at her last appearance that she had bought a barrel of oatmeal for her boarders because it was cheap, the results of such a purchase ending in her boarders going elsewhere. The second act also featured a most pleasant time for Mrs. Chubb when her daughter, Ter, Dollie, a vaudeville queen, returned home. Dollie, in the person of Miss Beatrice Stoker, proved her stage training had not affected her love for home when she insisted on helping her mother in the kitchen. The real close and climax of the second act was reached when Lizzie, out of love for her playmate, Aaron, ventured to gain fame and recognition for him by sending a telegram stating he was an heir to a large fortune. This act resulted in Aaron being elected president of his class and the favorite of all the girls, especially the ever guilty Evelyn.

Lizzie was soon made to realize her grievous error and came face to face with the fact that she had lost her Aaron and an invitation to the evening entertainment.

The third act was the satisfactory ending of all problems, including the romantic moment when Aaron expressed his love for Lizzie, Evelyn's return to her first love, Beau Carter, and Cherry Jimmie Jamieson was by far greater than the boy friend at home.

A large and appreciative audience witnessed this splendid home talent entertainment, which was given in connection with a number of between act numbers by other members of the Spanish Club. Music throughout the evening was furnished by the Symphony Orchestra with Misses Maurice Me-

Clinton and Margaret Dell Prim at the piano.

The Cactus Club met at the home of Mrs. J. E. Smith April 4 with Miss Carr present.

A CORRECTION

In the writup of the Towle building last week, the figures made us say that the new unit was 8x110 feet, when it should have been 80x110 feet. The total frontage of the building on Bridge Street, however, was correct as it was given, 210 feet. Work is progressing nicely on the big building and with fair weather will be ready for occupancy within a few weeks.

Yes, Plans Can Be Changed

By JANE OSBORN

ON SATURDAY afternoons they went about looking at small inexpensive apartments and until Joan became used to it she felt some embarrassment. Some of the hunters and agents undoubtedly thought they were married—and to have any one even suppose that she and Andrew were really married seemed a little shocking.

"You silly child!" assured Andrew as they walked along down a side street in search of an apartment they had seen advertised. "There is nothing the least bit shocking about what we're doing."

"Only you're going to live there before we are married," said Joan with embarrassment. "That might seem funny."

"We don't have to tell every agent our plans," Andrew assured her. "And when we have definitely settled on the apartment we can explain matters, and there won't be anything surprising about it."

It was late winter and Andrew and Joan did not intend to be married until the following autumn. Meantime they had decided that they ought to select their apartment now while they would have a wider selection than in the autumn. As a matter of economy Andrew would make his bachelor home there until autumn, cooking his own breakfast by way of economy.

The apartment that they finally agreed upon was two flights up in a house without an elevator. It was a back apartment, with two windows looking out on a rather pleasant back yard and with the rest of the windows on a court. The rent was—oh, very little for those days—even less than Joan and Andrew had planned in their most frugal moments.

"We'll make the kitchen the main room—we'll eat there and I'll have the walls painted a cheerful yellow, with blue and white gingham curtains at the windows. We'll have a nice big bedroom—so two rooms ought to be enough. Then we won't even have to worry about living beyond our income and we can give a little besides."

By way of answer Andrew pressed Joan's warm little hand. "There aren't many girls like you, Joan," he said. "You don't seem to care a bit about money."

"I don't," said Joan with interest. "In fact, Andrew, I've always looked forward to starting married life just like this. That's one of the things that makes marrying you so nice. Of course I love you, but I'm glad you aren't rich. And I want to start in eating in the kitchen after they've painted the walls yellow and I've made the blue-and-white curtains for the windows."

Soon after that Andrew signed a year's lease for the little apartment, and having sent on a couch, a bed, a bureau, a kitchen table and a few cooking utensils, started in keeping bachelor's hall by himself.

Andrew told her this as if he were confessing some misdeed. "It would all have been fine," he said, "only I know how you feel about money. I know you want to start here in two rooms, eating in the kitchen. It's funny, though—having the money come my way when I really didn't need it or even want it."

"But, Andrew," she cried, "we could build our own house—and subtle this and—and I've always dreamed of having a house with a sun parlor, and built-in cupboards in the dining room, and a shower bath and a cedar closet in the attic—and—and—"

"Then you're glad," gasped Andrew with relief. "Why, of course, you old sweetheart. Of course I'd marry you if you didn't have a penny, but I've always longed for a little luxury."

The secretary of the golf club had been having a thoroughly bad morning, not only with the company in the kitchen, but with various members of the concern and they've given me a ten-thousand-dollar bonus, and in place of my regular fifty a week I'm going to get twelve thousand a year."

self. The weeks passed slowly enough through the long summer, and the first glorious days of autumn. There were days when he did not see Joan even for a minute, days even when he did not have time to write or to telephone to her, but Joan bottled up her disappointment, convincing herself that Andrew really loved her just the same. And all the time she was making pretty things for the humble little apartment—curtains for the windows, and all the conventional list of household linens.

But as the time approached for the wedding clearly something was worrying Andrew. Then one day Joan asked him if he would meet her at the apartment. She hadn't intended going there at all, but she wanted to send some furniture and she wanted to plan with him where everything should be placed. Then somehow Andrew was urged to disclose the cause of his anxiety.

"I don't know how you'll take it, Joan," he told her, standing there in the little kitchen. "But I can't keep it from you. You see, things aren't unexpected turn at the plant. For a year or so I've been working out a process. I contrived a little appliance, made some changes in the method and—well, it's turned out better than I dreamed. In fact, it's going to save the company a great deal of money every year. Of course, I have no patent on the appliance. It was all part of the day's work. But they're doing the right thing. I've been made one of the directors of the concern and they've given me a ten-thousand-dollar bonus, and in place of my regular fifty a week I'm going to get twelve thousand a year."

Modern—Yet Old Fashioned

OUR funeral home represents the very latest improvements in establishments of its kind. All of our equipment is the most modern obtainable, and we have the technical end of our business down to a fine point.

And yet—we're just old-fashioned enough to believe that service is more important than the margin of profit, that sympathy and consideration are great commodities to handle, and that a reputation for square dealing is the best asset a business of any kind can have.
