Flowers Among Editors

MOST persons, knowing that Burnet and Marble Falls are only a few miles apart in the same county, would expect spirit of bitter rivalry between them and that Editor Fabian of the Marble Falls Messenger and Editor Chamberlain of the Burnet Bulletin would be at each other's throats almost constantly. But not so; they are good friends, and Editor Fabian took a whole column in his paper to tell what a fine fellow Chamberlain is. Among other things he said Editor Chamberlain "is entitled to all the nice things in this life and a greater crown in the life to come than any other name Chamberlain stands four-square for right doing, right thinking and the moral uplift of humanity." In thus singing the praise of his neighbor, Editor Fabian shows he is a big hearted man, one of the few who are not so often found in many men engaged in competitive business.

Stick to Home Enterprises

JOHN E. Cooke of the Rockdale Reporter uses almost the entire first column of his paper to preach a fine sermon to his townsmen about the way some of them have been treating Joe Stein, the local baker, "whose bread is as good as the best." He says that Stein has been baking bread in Rockdale for 31 years, that he is a good citizen, has reared a large family that he has clothed and fed in Rockdale, that he has supported every worthy enterprise of the community, has voted for every bond issue, paid his taxes, given liberally to local charities, and put his earnings all back into the town; and yet Rockdale people are buying truckloads of bread from out of town bakeries every day—bread that is not a bit better than Joe Stein's bread, for Joe bakes good, honest bread.

Bad Business Policy

EDITOR Cooke pictures Stein as an almost ideal citizen who puts quality and service into his business, but it seems that a number of Rockdale people had rather help along some other town than to patronize one of their townsmen who has shared their struggles for 31 years. The Rockdale man who buys bread out of Rockdale when he can get as good bread at as good a price from Joe Stein is not only booting Stein, but booting his own town, and to that extent helping to tear it down. Rockdale people are not the only folks guilty of doing such things, and the bakers are not the only ones who suffer from such practices. There is too much disposition in many places to trade away from home for merchandise of all kinds that can be bought to as good advantage at home. No town can thrive as it should where this is done. It is ruinous to business and holds back a town's growth.

Court House Records in Church

GARY County recently voted to move the county seat from Lefors, a small village off the railroad, to Pampa, a thriving railroad city. Pampa has no court house, but Pampa citizens have ingeniously made up for lack of a court building, and so the records were moved to the basement of the Baptist Church—a kind of necessitous admixture of church and county.

Rebuilding Phone Plant

AMONG the many other news reports showing the growth and development of the thriving Winter Garden town of Carrizo Springs is the statement that the telephone system is being rebuilt, the work to put it into shape to meet the demands of the place requiring about three months. Public utilities seldom reconstruct their plants until driven to it by necessity, and necessity in this case is growth.

First Car Mohair

HONDO has reason to be proud of the fact that it has shipped the first carload of mohair ever consigned out of the town. The mohair industry is increasing and that Hondo is becoming a more important marketing and shipping point. A few years ago there were only a few small, scattered flocks of goats in the place. Now there are many persons who have nice incomes from goats and mohair. One grower this season has sold something over 4,000 pounds of mohair from which he received $2,350.

Plainview Poultry Plant

POULTRY raisers of Hale, Election, Floyd, Swisher, Motley and Lamb Counties are going to erect a plant at Plainview at which eggs will be graded, stored and shipped, provided they get the farmers of these counties to agree to raise 40,000 hens from which to supply the eggs. This organization will enable poultry and egg producers to get better prices for their poultry products. Local depots will be established in each of the counties to handle the forward supplies to the main plant.

Aviation Club Would Put City On Aerial Map

Schattel and Fish, Both of Scurry Co., are Licensed Instructors

Snyder and its Airport Committee, appointed by the chamber of commerce, are fully alive to the responsibilities of their work and are completing their task ready to announce a real proposition in line with the work assigned them. The thought of an airport for Snyder brings to mind the question, "Can Snyder Afford an Aviation Club?"

The Times-Signal says "enthusiastically yes!" Other towns no larger and less progressive have organized clubs and are making a success as a club and also as a financial venture. Fifteen or twenty members could, without very much investment, individually, buy an up-to-date ship, and either send one member away to take a finished course in flying, he in turn to instruct other members of the club, or else employ an experienced aviator to act as instructor until such time as all members are qualified.

Snyder need not step outside Scurry County for its instructors in Paul Schattel we have a licensed pilot and operator of a plane that has received his credentials from the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce. Furthermore, Collie Fish of the Davis-Harpole organization has received his license and knows the aviation game from start to finish. Scurry County and Snyder are lucky.

The further advantages to be derived from the organizing of such a club, both as to members and also to the town as a whole are numerous. Firstly, Snyder is on the threshold of an airport located within the corporation limits of the city, accessible by road and in splendid location. However, the organization of a club could hasten the activity, thus saving the city a lot of money in the long run.

Secondly, part time of the ship that would be purchased could be devoted to student instruction work, other than members of the club, thus enabling a lot of young men to qualify at home for something that they would not be able to go away and take; and thirdly, the first ship purchased could be christened "The Snyder" which would make a flying advertisement to Snyder's progressiveness.

Of course, it is not expected that the older generation will take to flying with much more enthusiasm than a settling hen would take to a duck pond, but whether the older generation will or not, the younger generation of today is going to fly tomorrow, so the least that the older ones can do is to help make the path of progress as smooth as they can for the younger generation.

Snyder folks in favor of a club, please get in touch with either Clarence Wenninger, Andy Anderson, W. H. Rinaldaffer or the Times-Signal.

Davis-Harpole Add Basement Store This Week

Two Pages of Specials Open Snyder's Newest Dry Goods Enterprise

According to a two-page announcement in today's Times-Signal, the Davis-Harpole Dry Goods Company announces the grand opening of a new Bargain Basement store which will be of great interest to local and rural people. Messrs. Davis and Harpole are providing one of the most nicely equipped and furnished basement additions of any store in this great section of the state, and the basement would credit to a city ten times the size of Snyder. Fifty tables, all laden with bargains, are located in the basement which is entered through the main floor store. Extra clerks have been added to take care of the opening bargain days of the new addition.

The Times-Signal joins in wishing the new addition the success that should be accorded progressive tactics and good merchandising methods.

School Unite in Putting Over Fine Meet Here

Parade of 2,500 Students is Feature of Opening Day Friday

The final curtain for the 1928 Interscholastic League Meet closed in a blaze of glory Saturday night at the high school auditorium with the presentation of loving cups, medals and ribbons. The ceremonies were attended by a small but appreciative audience who waited in the auditorium more than two hours to hear the finals.

The most highly represented schools in the parade were Woodard and Pleasant Hill, who will have joint possession of a loving cup presented by Warren Brothers. Woodard has 28 pupils, and all of them were in line, while Pleasant Hill has 79 in school, and 79 were in line.

Bell school received the Stinson Brothers cup for the rural school winning the highest number of points.

The Hermleigh schools received the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce loving cup for winning the greatest number of points.

Woodard school won the cup this year for the two-teacher school winning most points, receiving 1,249 points.

The Higginbotham Brothers loving cup went to the Snyder Public Schools for the Class A school winning the greatest number of points in the meet.

Superintendent Wedgeworth in accepting the gift from County Superintendent Bullock stated that it was the hope of the Snyder school that Fluvanna, Hermleigh and Dunn would rank as Class A schools next year, which means a high school with not less than 120 pupils.

Pyron school won the loving cup for winning the greatest number of points in Group Two schools, having either three, four or five teachers.

Parade Featured

Every town and rural school in Scurry County was represented in the parade with more than 2,500 pupils in line, led by the Snyder High School Orchestra.

Ennis Creek appeared with a large truck loaded with good-looking school kids, with a large placard on its side which stated: "Push, Pull, or Get Out of the Rut."

Madison with two cars filled with their basketball girls made an attractive offering, while Bethel entertained with a string orchestra.

Fluvanna had a large delegation bedecked with colorful ribbons, while Camp Springs with the older generation of today is going to fly tomorrow, so the least that the older ones can do is to help make the path of progress as smooth as they can for the younger generation.

Snyder folks in favor of a club, please get in touch with either Clarence Wenninger, Andy Anderson, W. H. Rinaldaffer or the Times-Signal.

Colorado Brings Good Will Act Back to Snyder

Progressive Neighbor Puts Snap Into Creating Friendliness

West Texas Today, popular monthly periodical of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, recently carried the following article:

Colorado and Snyder demonstrated an ideal manner for towns to settle their difficulties recently. A new citizen of Colorado visited the Snyder Luncheon Club and while there was made the but of the well known joke concerning the bantam rooster that brought the ostrich egg back to his barn yard for the bantam hen to view. The Colorado man upon returning home made some remarks which were printed in a school paper published in Colorado. The paper was read by Snyder people and met with their violent disapproval. Editor Jimmie Smith of the "Scurry County Times-Signal" unlimbered his Oliver and fired a forty-two round broadside at Colorado for having made the remarks. Secretary Malcolm Evans of Snyder tossed a few written grenades at Jimmie Green, Colorado secretary. The atmosphere grew tense, and a break in diplomatic relations between these two hereditary friendly towns of West Texas seemed imminent.

However, Colorado would not have it so, and Secretary Greene assembled a delegation consisting of the county attorney, county judge and deputy sheriff of Mitchell County and Editor Reid of the Colorado Record. Taking with them the Colorado citizen credited with having made the objectionable remarks, they visited the Snyder Luncheon Club. The Mitchell County officers had the remarks read and the formalities turned the Colorado citizen over to the Snyder Luncheon Club, handcuffs and all, as a prisoner. He was thrown on the mercy of the Snyder Luncheon Club. The Scurry County judge, astonished asked "What is all this about?" and immediately the Colorado officials read a lengthy indictment including the good panning given Colorado by the Snyder paper and the letters which had passed concerning the incident. The "culprit" being a good sport, plead that he was a newcomer and did not know the traditional friendship between Snyder and Colorado, and had he known of it he would never have made any remarks to which Snyder could object. The Snyder men, not to be outdone in sportsmanship, served as defending attorneys for the "prisoner," and the case was promptly dismissed. The cigars were passed and everybody enjoyed an hour of good fellowship. A joke was made of the whole affair. Snyder voted to send the entire Luncheon Club, the high school orchestra and a big delegation to Colorado for the district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and to add to the thought, the Snyder Lions will be dinner guests of the Colorado organization there April 12. That shows what good-natured rival cities can do.

Pampa is the new county seat of Gray County, according to an election held March 6th. It took six large trucks to convey the county records to the new site.

Farm and Ranch Editor Holding Fine Meetings

Pyron and Fluvanna Visited By Four Square Plan Organizer

H. L. Gantz, field editor for Farm and Ranch who arrived in Scurry County Tuesday to start organizing the Four Square Community Plan, in meeting with wonderful success and is securing the active cooperation of the several communities already visited. Co. Supt. A. A. Bullock, County Agent C. C. Willis and Home Demonstration Agent Jessie Lee Davis, are assisting in the work.

Pyron was the first rural community to be organized, more than 350 people gathering at the school house Tuesday night. Officers elected were: Joe Adams, president; J. H. Jean, vice president; T. J. Bryant, secretary.

At Fluvanna last night in the face of a sandstorm, more than 150 were present, and officers elected were: J. R. Truss, president; J. R. Patterson, vice president; Mrs. Pat Jones, secretary.

Bison school will be visited tonight; Dunn tomorrow afternoon at 2:30; Ira Friday night; Ennis Creek Monday night, and Plainview Tuesday night.

During Mr. Gantz's stay in Scurry County he is compiling data on this section and will use it in an exclusive article in Farm and Ranch, along with a large number of pictures. This story and pictures will appear later in the Times-Signal through the courtesy of this well known farm publication.

Snyder to Have Cotton Exchange

Norman, Mayer & Co. of New Orleans to Open Here April 15

Norman Mayer & Co., New Orleans, one of the large cotton broker organizations in the South, completed arrangements yesterday whereby Snyder will have its own Cotton Exchange.

H. W. Ferguson, Dallas, district manager for the company, consummated the deal yesterday that will give Snyder full ticker service with offices of the company to be located in the new Nelson Dunn store, south side of the square.

Wm. Wilsford will act as the local operator-manager.

STATE HIGH SCHOOL SUPERVISOR VISITS IN SNYDER TUESDAY

H. F. Alves of Austin, state high school supervisor, spent Tuesday in Snyder personally investigating the activities of our school system. The Times-Signal had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Alves who paid a compliment to Superintendent Wedgeworth, the faculty and students, by stating that "The spirit in your schools is the best I have come in contact with for some time."

Mr. Alves was not averse to publicly stating that in "Superintendent Wedgeworth, Snyder had a raring man in the teaching profession, and an executive who knows his business."

Snyder Building Program to Have New Impetus

Fast Growing Small City Needs Concerns With Broad Vision

The Times-Signal received a letter from a well known independent building and contracting organization asking for more information concerning Snyder. They intimated that they had been noting the remarkable progress on building in Snyder and the unusually large number of permits granted.

Snyder has plenty of room for an organization of this nature, for if building new homes is to be sold to our citizens, we must of necessity have building concerns who advertise. Snyder is the only city in all West Texas according to our newspaper exchanges, that does not have regular lumber concern advertising, and if we expect to build to the point that the town is demanding every day and every week, then we need concern with the wisdom of selecting the idea. That goes today, tomorrow and every week in the year.

Dal-Paso Route Boosters Should Hold Meeting

Fisher County Judge Says Highway 83 to be Surfaced

County Judge J. S. Connell of Fisher County, speaking last week at a meeting of the Anson Lions Club of which he was a visitor, made a strong plea for cooperation in extending Highway 83 to the west, stating that this road offered an unusual opportunity for every town on the route to improve their condition in the future by bringing new traffic through the various towns, owing to Fort Worth being 103 miles closer by the Dal-Paso Cavern route.

Judge Connell further intimated in his talk, according to the Anson Western-Enterprise, that "Fisher County is about ready to carry out its part of a hard-surfacing program to complete Route 83, and Scurry County is awaiting Fisher County's activities to complete its part of the bargain."

Officials of the Dal-Paso Cavern Highway Association should be calling a meeting at Snyder, the half-way meeting point on the road, to arrange a definite program for 1928.

CO. G BOXING BOUTS ATTRACT BIG CROWDS

More than 650 people crowded into Company G Armory Friday night to witness the regular monthly boxing exhibitions. Some very hot numbers were presented for the crowd which included a knockout of "Toughie" Wright of San Angelo by Corporal Townsend in less than one minute of actual fighting. Griffin of Bethel, fighting outside of his weight class was knocked out by "Big Boy" Haines of Fluvanna. Several negro fights were alone worth more than the price of admission.

East and West Railroad News Interests Folks

Capt. Ed Kennedy to Arrive Here With Engineer This Week

The Times-Signal received a long letter from Capt. E. Kennedy, Houston, yesterday in which he stated that with his engineers would arrive in Snyder within the next few days to make a report on the proposed line, first as to the communities the line will touch, and also the approximate amount of freight that would be shipped from the communities along the line. Reports that have already been given the Houston office have been high enough to guarantee the construction of the line and to pay good dividends on the bond issue.

Mr. Kennedy further stated that one of his engineers that would be with him was also associated with the construction company, who in turn will report back to his company following the preliminary survey that will start in Snyder one day this week. A townsite commission operating in the Rio Grande Valley will take hold of various sections of land along the new route. The writer further stated that he was satisfied and highly pleased at the reception already given his proposition by various trunk line presidents.

Captain Kennedy, who has promoted various railroad enterprises in other sections states that he has the first railroad man that he has met yet that can say anything against his work, and that all give him the warmest of welcomes. He also admitted that he had no money and so told the various committees that met with him, but that he had promised to assemble the work and promote the road to the best of his ability. He stated that if folks living along the proposed route will cooperate with him, the report to be made by the engineers will put the line over.

Snyder and all this section will give Captain Kennedy every atom of help and cooperation with money and lands and free right of way as the promise made by the local rail committee—and Snyder stays by the promises it makes.

Dairy Survey Being Made by The C. of C.

Mass Meeting to be Held in Snyder Next Saturday Afternoon

The Scurry County Chamber of Commerce mailed out a questionnaire last week to every farmer in the county asking for definite information that the new Saveracid Creamery would officially know of the potentiality of the handling of the cream and milk products of our farmers.

The fact that Secretary Evans of the Chamber of Commerce was mainly responsible for getting the price of cream raised in Scurry County from 36 cents to 42 cents in the weekly cream check of local farmers and their active cooperation has been sought to give definite information, not only for Mr. Saveracid, but for Scurry County dairymen ready to help the farmer with his dairy projects. The new creamery will manufacture butter and ice cream and will pasteurize milk. Sweet cream always has a fine market value, and this section is to be congratulated in having a new industry which will contribute in a great measure to the success of this great section of the country. Coming from the state of Iowa, where for years dairymen have been successful in adding to the market value of land, Mr. Saveracid will receive the hearty co-operation of every farmer who believes in a forward-moving Scurry County.

The definite information that the Chamber of Commerce wants is herewith outlined:

1. Number of Jersey cows now being milked? How many will be later?
2. Number of Holsteins being milked? How many later?
3. Number of beef cattle? Do you belong to a bull circle?
4. Number of chickens. How many to be sold this spring?
5. Approximately how many dozen eggs per week? Turkeys? Geese? Ducks? Others?
6. How many acres of peanuts? This information must be secured now that definite promise may be made of a thrasher.
7. Cotton acreage? Corn? Maize? Wheat? Sweet Potatoes? Other crops?

These questionnaires are to be filled out and delivered to Secretary Evans of the Chamber of Commerce before next Saturday, March 31st, when a mass meeting of the farmers is to be held at the county court room. The data is most important, that definite information can be provided NOW for the new creamery, as well as for banks, so co-operate heartily in this work, for it means the furthering of many good and valuable things for Scurry County.

Three Thousand Attend Farmers Short Course

Need of More Active Co-Operation Cited by County Agent

Over three thousand people of Scurry and surrounding counties attended the annual Farmers Short Course held in Snyder on Thursday and Friday of last week. While this number is not as great as the attendance of former years, it was satisfactory, and the interest shown was unusually good, according to County Agent C. C. Willis, who was in charge of the course.

The program opened Thursday morning with a talk on the value of terracing and the use of a farm level by M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer from the A. & M. College. Mr. Bentley is a very apt teacher, and many present learned how to use this level and the value to the land after land had been terraced.

The afternoon's program was conducted by the Farm Bureau with Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner as the principal speaker. Mrs. Warner was introduced by Mr. Coglan, field superintendent of the field forces of the Farm Bureau. Mrs. Warner emphasized the importance of the country people solving their own problems and not leaving this job to people in other walks of life, and the importance of organized effort to meet and compete with organized industry that now exist. She pointed out the need of rural organizations and the benefits that would be derived when the farmer could through organization gain for himself a fairer wage for the products that he produces. She compared the present state of the small present that the producer gets. This program was conducted by W. W. Porter, local secretary and field man for Scurry and Mitchell Counties. Mr. Porter, patentee of the Corsicana ditcher, afforded the audience very enjoyable entertainment with his French harp and guitar.

The Thursday night program was opened with the Snyder High School Kittens and their orchestra and a seven piece band. Earl Sparks, accompanied by Mrs. Hooks, sang two songs with hearty applause. Dad A. K. Short followed with his address on the Ten Commandments of Agriculture, which he based on the Bible and which covered the various phases of agriculture. One of his outstanding statements was that "No people during the history of mankind had ever succeeded over a long period of time on crop farming when the crops were marketed in their raw state." He also reviewed the fifteen Master Farmers of last year, and every one of these winners was a livestock farmer. Everyone present enjoyed this brief address by Dad.

Thursday morning while Mr. Bentley was talking and explaining terracing, Mrs. Lee Jones of Mitchell County talked on the subject of home marketing to the women in the Christian Church. Mrs. Jones told of how canned black-eyed peas had been made famous in Mitchell County and of the opportunities in this field for the women of Scurry County. Her talk was very impressive.

Friday morning Dean A. H. Leigh talked on grain sorghums and seeds to the men and boys, while Miss Hayden talked on clothing to the women and girls. Dean Leigh made one of the most interesting talks of the short course, and every word that he uttered contained valuable information on his subject. He told of the development of grain sorghums in West Texas, how they came over from Northern Africa, and how the various ones were culled and selected for their merits, and also how they were ready for the people when they arrived in West Texas. The Dean ended with the utilization of grain sorghums and with the fact that this section is naturally one of the greatest undeveloped feeder sections in the world. Everyone was impressed with the immense value of the experimental stations by his talk.

The Ira String Band kept the afternoon crowd entertained with a number of very enjoyable pieces. Miss Hayden started the ball rolling with a talk on the living room, which was the stage setting for the women and girls. Botham's and piano from Baldwin Music Store. Miss Hayden suggested many possibilities and described the characteristics of a proper living room. Mrs. Carl Hoffman then conducted her poultry roundtable and went into the most minute details of poultry management, and among the new and interesting things she suggested were cheaply but well constructed poultry houses, advising the shed type of house, using boxing boards with strips for walls. Mrs. Hoffman laid special emphasis on three walls that were extra tight in the winter. Mrs. Hoffman suggested that concrete floors were too expensive. She attributed her success in combating diseases to the liberal use of lime and kerosene sprays and frequent cleaning of her houses. Her idea on trough nests under the dropping boards was a novel one that had mesh wire for the bottom of the nest; also her arrangement of the roosting poles from the front to the back and not back across. LIONS HEAR NOTED SCHOOL MAN AT NOON LUNCHEON

Yesterday's meeting of the Lions Club was featured with an interesting talk by H. J. Alves, state high school supervisor, who was here to make a report on the Snyder schools. Mr. Alves told of the keen spirit that he found in the schools here and of the enjoyment in inspecting a school of such high standards as the local organization exemplified, and also paid a compliment to Superintendent Wedgeworth, the faculty and students.

H. L. Gantz, field editor of Farm and Ranch was present and told of the organization of Scurry County in the forward movement of the Four Square Community Plan. Mr. Gantz also told of the story that will soon appear in his publication of the many agricultural projects now being fostered in this section.

Supt. Hooks of the Dunn school also graced the program with his presence and remarked of the movement prevalent in Snyder and citing the Lions Club as being responsible for the improvement. Colorado Lions Club will be advised that Thursday, April 12, will be the date agreed upon by the Snyder club to visit them.

Committees that will have charge of a musical program for all the meetings in April include T. L. Lollar, chairman, Otis Carter and J. M. Harris; for May, George F. Smith, Pat Bullock and Rev. H. J. Manley.

A special stunt committee was later named for matters in the person of Warren Dodson, chairman, Pat Bullock and Jimmy Smith.

REVIVAL MEETING INTEREST GROWING AT M. E. CHURCH

Revival services at the First Methodist Church are growing in intensified interest since their opening Sunday. Dr. I. J. Sparks occupied the pulpit Monday night with Rev. H. J. Manley preaching Tuesday night. The pastor delivered the sermon last night in the place of Rev. W. F. Ferguson who had promised to do so but was on the program at the district meeting of the Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. Convention, and had to be away. He will occupy the pulpit later.

Services are being held at 10 each morning and 7:45 for the evening worship. All are invited to attend and join in the services which are being highly enjoyed by a large number.

GREEN HILL FARMS HATCHERY GROWING

The Green Hill Farm's electric incubator is working night and day to meet the orders that are coming in. Monday morning orders were received in one mail for 4,200 baby chicks, 1,000 coming from Lamesa; 2,000 to Borden County, 200 to Lubbock, and 1000 to Leona.

"Chicken" Green wears a smile over these things, and incidentally walked into the Times-Signal office that afternoon with a $4.00 check paying his subscription ahead to Oct. 1, 1929.

COUNTY SCHOOL OFFICE TO HAVE MORE ROOM

County Supt. A. A. Bullock will be located in the offices formerly occupied by the Snyder Insurance about April 1. Pat has been hampered for room in the old location, and the new room will give him more than enough space to handle more than one conference at the same time.

SHORT COURSE

(Continued from First Page) the house was new and novel. Mrs. Hoffman has for her standard hen the 175-egg bird, which she holds as the profitable number of eggs that a hen should lay. This is an unusually high standard, and she suggests that her success with poultry is in part due to the high quality of birds that she keeps on her farm.

This statement also suggests that she must use a most intensive system of culling and use the highest production roosters that she can buy. Mrs. Hoffman also covered the details of incubating and brooding baby chicks and poultry, and anyone that would have followed her in every detail throughout her talk would have received all of the details of successful poultry management. Mrs. Hoffman's talk was certainly one of the most instructive and one that covered the little details so essential to successful poultry raising. She also incubates and broods a large number of turkeys annually, and her explanation of this was very interesting.

Each year since the initial Short Course the attendance has been dropping off, and so with the same decrease in attendance it appears that one for another year would not be profitable. They are the farm people, and if held for the farm people do not want them it is certainly not worth while to go to the trouble and expense of obtaining them, thinks County Agent Willis. In commenting further on this idea, Mr. Willis said yesterday:

"Almost every business profession holds an annual institute at which the newest developments of his trade or profession are explained, and it certainly seems that an institute of this kind could and should be of immense value to the farming people. It is the idea of this writer that for another year, one day's program could be devoted to the various phases of dairying, another to poultry, another to marketing, and another to plant breeding, but the attitude of the people must change considerably to hold an affair of this kind at all another year."

WHAT WOULD YOU SAY?

Say, for example, you were in the dairy business and a customer told you to deliver him milk. You kept on delivering your product week after week, month after month, and after a year's time, the customer would say to you, "My goodness, we haven't been at home and we cannot pay you for your product."

What would you do? We ask that question from the fact that a person came into our office Tuesday, after a statement had been mailed to the family for their subscription, and said: "My goodness, we didn't want your paper after it had expired." Yet that same person had taken it from the office for more than a year and stated that the family had received and read it every week. Do we want subscribers like that? No, we'll tell a wholesome world, we want friends who believe enough in the paper to pay for it. We want 100 per cent folks on our list and not folks who want to get out of paying an honest and equitable debt. Wind doesn't operate a real newspaper. It takes its coin of the realm and plenty of it.

The Vocational Agriculture class members of Snyder High School were visitors of the dairy last week. Mr. Stroud welcomes other visitors at all times. See his ad in this issue.

KNOWS HIS TEXAS

Since his retirement as chairman of the department of journalism of the University of Texas, former Lieutenant Governor Will H. Mayes is devoting his time to studying, interpreting and writing about the constructive activities of the State of Texas.

He writes a column for both the daily and the weekly press of the state, one under the heading "The Day in Texas," the other "Texas and Texans," and many of the daily and weekly papers of the state, including the Democrat, run these features regularly.

Governor Mayes states frankly that one purpose of his writing is to offset, as far as possible, the opinion too largely held and expressed, even in Texas, that Texas is more interested in criminal, scandalous and sensational news of a kind which many papers apparently are under the necessity of publishing, than in matters pertaining to Texas development.

He also believes that next to the local happenings of their own city or community, Texans are more interested in the activities throughout their state and in studying by comparison how they may keep step with the progress so evident over Texas.

Both his daily and weekly features are centered around the idea that the way to create love for Texas is to bring people to know all Texas, and that the best way to stimulate worth-while activities is to show what others are doing along such lines. He thinks, as he says, that the first thing to do to help create a better Texas is to "Sell Texas to Texans."

Mr. Mayes is a native of Kentucky, coming to Texas to engage in the practice of law before he was 21 years of age and locating at Brownwood. He was county attorney of Brown County, making a reputation as a vigilant and vigorous prosecutor in the "wild days" of that section.

Having always a fondness for writing he early engaged in newspaper work and soon bought the Brownwood Bulletin, then a small weekly paper. He finally quit the practice of law to give all his time to newspaper work, and in time established the daily Brownwood Bulletin, which he built up to one of the best small city dailies in the country. He later retired from his editorial control to accept the chairmanship of the school of journalism of the University of Texas, which he organized and successfully conducted for twelve years.

Prior to that he had been elected Lieutenant Governor of Texas, serving in that responsible position for one term, and winning the respect and confidence of all with whom he was officially associated.

During the World War he spent his vacations from university teaching in voluntary and unpaid service for the National and State Council of Defense, for which service he received a vote of thanks of both branches of the Texas Legislature.

He has served as president of the Texas Press Association, and of the National Editorial Association, and of the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism, as well as of many other organizations of less note.

In writing his column for the daily and weekly press of the state and in that way keeping before so large a number of Texas newspaper readers the important and progressive activities of the state he loves so well, Governor Mayes is rendering Texas and its people a broader and better service than in any of the numerous ways in which he has so faithfully served, and the Democrat is glad to be one of the many papers that takes his writings regularly to its readers.—Weatherford Democrat.

SNYDER SHOULD EMULATE TRAINING CAMP SLOGAN

Seven years of Citizens' Military Training Camps—camps which yearly are filled to capacity—have led their founders, the Military Training Camps Association of the United States to seek the one contributing factor responsible for their rapid growth and decide that these citizens camps owe their "all" to the spirit typified in that old army slogan, "Let's Go!"

"Let's Go" has been the spirit of this land since its birth. Warren used it to beat the British at Lexington; Teddy Roosevelt used it at the battle of San Juan Hill; Pershing took it with him to Mexico and later to France in 1917, when America's young blood came to the front.

This slogan of "Let's Go" stood above all others as typifying the American spirit. Over There, brief, terse, dogmatic, compelling, it is wholly and truly American, and now it is carried yearly throughout the entire country in hundreds of Citizens' Military Training Camps—the same spirit, flexible, humorous, gay, comes from thousands of young lips in ragtime measure, in clarion call,

MY WISH

I wish to live without hate, whim, jealousy, envy, fear. I wish to be simple, honest, frank, natural, clean in mind and clean in body, unaffected—to say "I do not know," if it be so, and to face any obstacle and meet every difficulty unshaken and unafraid.

I wish others to live their lives, too, up to their highest, fullest and best. To that end I pray that I may never meddle, interfere, dictate, give advice that is not wanted, or assist when my services are not needed. If I can help people, I'll do it by giving them a chance to help themselves; and if I can uplift or inspire, let it be by example, inference, and suggestion, rather than by injunction and dictation.—Elbert Hubbard.

"HOT AS CHILI" CAR PASSES TO THEATRE OWNER

Our good friend, T. L. Lollar, read the Times-Signal story last week concerning the new Packard being as "hot as chili." What did he do but buy one of the most beautiful five passenger sedans the Packard people produce. It is a dream to behold, and sitting behind the wheel is like driving something that does everything but talk.

Lollar is holding a singing school that started last week.

Does anybody claim six good hens that might have strayed away from home? But brother, better be sure of your property, for Dr. Sparks knows his chickens, some of them by name, so you better have the evidence.

Hermleigh News Notes

The following news notes are taken from the pen of Editor R. S. Norman of the Herald.

Coming Hermleigh Election Is Threatened With Issue

The present advancement of civic affairs in Hermleigh is much to the credit of the town. It would do credit to much larger towns than Hermleigh. The town has been sitting here for a number of years and has just the past year outlined plans for civic advancement. These plans are now only in the making, and any change in the policy of the Council would be disastrous to the civic welfare of the town.

The Herald has from the beginning commended the efforts of the Council and thinks that any change in the official capacity thereof would be a bad policy. The present Council has done an excellent work so far, and they and they alone are sufficiently familiar with the outline of plans to carry them through.

The present Council has a complete outline of plans for civic advancement, and it would look like that any effort to completely change its membership would be direct opposition to civic advancement. It seems now that there will be a pro- and anti-civic advancement issue in the city election of April 3rd. It is well that these things be fought out now.

T. W. Windle has bought a dry goods store at Moran and left Thursday to take charge of it. The business here will be left in charge of Mrs. Windle and Mr. E. C. Patterson.

Rufus Mize purchased a 400-egg incubator this week. Rufus is going to mix some chickens with the school and farm.

The Henry Telephone System has been sold to the Standard Telephone Company of Oklahoma. It is not known at the present who the local manager will be. Mr. Henry will have charge until the first of the month.

Work has been resumed on the city water works. We expect to have city water by April 1.

Hermleigh schools were awarded the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce loving cup for winning the most number of points in the Interscholastic League meet last week. Hermleigh has two major point winners in Davis and McMillan that would look good on the roster of any high school in the state of Texas.

The credulity of newspaper readers in Texas is severely taxed of late. We had hardly become reconciled to the Eastland frog when San Benito reported a quilting bee at which sixteen women worked for seven hours without saying a word. Next!

Hermleigh Folks Doing Big Things

County Supt. A. A. Bullock announced at yesterday's meeting of the Snyder Luncheon Club something of the remarkable work the Hermleigh schools were enjoying, and of the fine dinner he enjoyed in that school during the noon hour yesterday. The Times-Signal asked Pat for a written expression, and this is what he said:

"It was my privilege and pleasure to visit the Hermleigh High School on Wednesday of this week and to be in their splendid weekly chapel program. The program put on by Miss Ruby Forrester's room composed of third and fourth grade folks was very, very good indeed. Some unusual talent was displayed among the little folks, and Miss Forrester deserves a lot of credit for the training she has given them.

"After the program and after short talks by Rev. C. E. Leslie and myself, the school returned to their respective rooms and classes. I visited in most of the rooms, and I want to say right here that Superintendent Gramling and his able corps of teachers have a real school over there. Their school received 11 units of affiliation last year and will get more this year. They may not have all the things some other high schools have, but they certainly are thorough in what they do attempt. Every department is A-1.

"I want to make special mention of the manual training and farm mechanics department and the home economics department. These departments mean much more than many people realize. These boys and girls are really learning to do things, and their equipment is the best. Mr. Gramling teaches the boys work, and Miss Haze Let Rainbolt teaches the home economics work. I was very much interested in the hot lunch being distributed throughout the school from this department. Each child was served with a hot dish right at his or her seat, and I being dismissed for the noon recess.

"The greatest treat, however, was the magnificent luncheon served in the home economics department by the class to a group of Hermleigh business men and trustees. I was fortunate enough to visit the school on the day this was being done and enjoyed the feast along with the boys down there. This luncheon, or dinner, as I like to call it, was prepared by the eleven girls in the class, under the supervision of Miss Rainbolt. No hotel chef could have turned out a more appetizing and well-balanced meal than these girls gave us. The menu consisted of roast beef, mashed potatoes, gravy, beans, pimento salad, lettuce salad, boiled custard, angel food cake, hot chocolate, jam, fresh butter and so many other things it would be hard to enumerate them.

"Nothing could be better for the boys and girls of our county than to have this and the vocational departments put into every school in the county. The board of trustees of Hermleigh, along with their splendid faculty and the citizenship of that community are seeing to it that their boys and girls get the best. Keep it up! I'm for you!"

J. R. Coker's speech at the German school auditorium last Friday evening was highly enjoyed. Mr. Coker's speech centered around what to us is the very soundest business principles with reference to buying and selling. "If you are offered the top price for your best milk cow, take it. If you are offered a sow and pigs at a low price, buy them." When everything goes up, sell; when it goes down, buy, was Mr. Coker's advice.

"For instance, we sell all our livestock and all our feed each year to the northern folk. They buy our livestock and fatten them, doubling their money. We have the stock and the feed; why not fatten our own livestock and sell them for the top price and get the difference ourselves?" he continued.

Hermleigh Produce Market
Our local produce men will pay the very best price for your produce. If Hermleigh is not offering the best price for any and everything you have to sell, because of local handicaps to our market, the Chamber of Commerce will be only too glad to help in finding better markets. We are laboring with the county organization now with this in view. If Hermleigh is not affording a market at a good price for everything you have to sell, notify our secretary, S. C. Randals.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

By C. C. Willis

Pink Boll Worm Scare

No one can overlook the closeness of this county to the zone where the pink boll worm has been found without a certain amount of nervousness. This pest is no doubt a serious one, probably the most serious cotton pest that preys on cotton today, but there is no justification in a panicky feeling and panic talk. The chances are that should the pest be found in the county, the entire county would not be affected, but only a very small percentage, and only in comparatively small areas where stringent measures would be necessary. There is no justification for the policies that some men follow or suggest they will follow in case we have the great enemy of cotton. The measures are not half so bad as they might seem and do not work the hardships that some people suggest. In some localities people unscrupulous people, have become rich at the expense of the people before the details of putting control measures into effect were learned by the people.

What Can Be Done

First, there are inspectors from the federal government at the present time looking for this pest, and these men should be given every cooperation. It is folly of the worst kind to hide the pest; it would be worse than hiding a criminal. Second, if you see anything that might lead you to believe you have the pink boll worm, investigate thoroughly, get all the evidence, and then turn this over to someone who knows before you spread the alarm. Third, the pink boll worm is probably transported by Mexican pickers in their bedding, and every man using Mexican labor should see that his premises are absolutely cleaned and everything burned. If everyone would do this, very likely the boll worm would never have got into the fields of West Texas.

Master Wheat Farmer Urges Soil Preparation

World Chamm Giles Garner Gives Factors of His Success

Giles W. Garner, master wheat farmer of Scurry County, who has broken the world's record for average production per acre and who last year shipped the first car of wheat in the United States to the Fort Worth market, where it was sold at a good premium, attributes his success chiefly to preparation of soil and use of only registered seed.

Mr. Garner, whose farm is located two miles west of the Snyder square, in 1924 established a mark for other wheat farmers to shoot at when his crop averaged 86.15 bushels per acre. His total average over a period of 14 years in Scurry County he places at 20 bushels per acre, and deducting all expenses he estimates his net profit at $25 per acre.

Mr. Garner early learned that raising wheat alone, or cotton alone, was poor business and is a staunch believer in the diversification program being preached and practiced throughout Scurry County. He had a word of praise for the county agent and home demonstration agent for their work in conservation of soil, crop rotation and diversification.

In relating his farming experience to the interviewer, Mr. Garner said:

"When I came to Snyder 14 years ago I had a ticket to El Paso and a cash capital of $62.15. I rented a place and went to work just as many another farmer. I practiced the strictest economy, necessarily, and raised most of my living at home. Today I have 300 acres in wheat and 160 acres in cotton and raise enough feed for my hogs, cows, chickens and work stock.

"For two years I made a failure of wheat and then turned my fields to cotton, thereby beating the drouth.

"Soil preparation and the use of registered seed I believe are largely responsible for the success I've had in farming. I am often asked to sell my seed to other farmers, and I do, to those who convince me they will properly prepare their soil, but I always refuse to those who will only half way prepare their lands. It is useless not to give good seed the chance they deserve.

"I have made more money out of wheat with one-third the cost and by working only 45 days out of the year than I have ever made out of cotton."

Mr. Garner makes several trips yearly to various parts of the country studying the methods of other wheat farmers. "I learn from others," he said.

Before coming to the Snyder area Mr. Garner was a hard rock miner and knew practically nothing about farming. From his humble start he has in 14 years proved himself a master wheat farmer, has one of the best 500-acre farms in the country and is independently wealthy.

Mr. Garner, who is 55, ended the interview with a laughing remark that he was not looking for political office. "When I was young," he said, "I had political ambitions. I got the appointment as postmaster at Breckenridge—and spent the next five years trying to resign."

Thirty students will be sent abroad for study by the Peruvian government and at its expense. Three years each will be the maximum period.

Important Announcement to every owner of a Model T Ford

ON MAY 25, 1927, when Henry Ford first announced his plans for making a new car, he announced also that he would continue to make parts for the Model T Ford. He said: "The Model T Ford car was a pioneer. It blazed the way for the motor industry and started the movement for good roads everywhere. It broke down the barriers of distance in rural sections, brought people in these sections closer together, and placed education within the reach of everyone. We are still proud of the Model T Ford. If we were not, we would not have continued to make it so long." For twenty years, the Model T Ford led the automobile industry and it still serves more people than any other automobile. Over one-third of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords—an indication of the sturdy worth of the car and its value to people in all walks of life the world over. The Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts for these cars "until the last Model T is off the road." That is a part of Ford service. That is what Henry Ford meant when he said: "We believe that when a man buys one of our cars we should keep it running for him as long as we can and at the lowest up-keep cost." Because of this policy a considerable part of the Ford manufacturing plants is given over to the making of parts for the Model T Ford. These replacement parts are made of the same material and in the same way as those from which your car was originally assembled. Make it a point, therefore, to see the nearest Ford dealer and have him look over your Model T Ford. You may find that a very small expenditure will enable you to get thousands of miles of additional service, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

SOCIETY

MRS. J. M. HARRIS HOSTESS TO MOTHERS CLUB

A most interesting session for the members of the Mothers Self-Culture Club was held Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. M. Harris as hostess.

After the business session and roll call, the lesson was read by Mrs. G. H. Leath.

As an opening number, Mrs. P. C. Cheneaut gave a most instructive talk, "Teamwork in Home-Making, in Religion, in Business, and in Civic." A general discussion followed on these particular phases and habit-forming in the home, and many helpful thoughts were exchanged, including experiences of different mothers in rearing children and meeting the many and varied situations confronting both mother and child, puzzling to the mother as to how to meet them to best advantage to the child, and puzzling to the child as to why, what and when.

Special topics given relating to the subject and preparatory readings were: "Intellect," by Mrs. H. L. Davis; "Purpose," Mrs. C. Leath; "Culture in Maturity," Mrs. J. R. Hucklebee; "Grouping," by Mrs. B. M. West; and "Formation of Habits," by Mrs. G. H. Leath. The final number, "Famous Sayings of Great Americans," was given by Mrs. Geo. W. Northcutt.

A delightful social time was spent during which the hostess served dainty refreshments to Meses. E. J. Anderson, G. H. Leath, J. R. Hucklebee, George W. Northcutt, H. L. Davis, B. M. West, P. C. Cheneaut, W. H. Caudie and C. J. Yoder and Miss Mayes.

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. H. L. Davis April 10.

MRS. DORWARD HOSTESS TO METHODIST W. M. S.

The beautiful new home of Mrs. J. C. Dorward was the setting for the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church Monday afternoon. After a business session, with good reports from all the superintendents, Mrs. H. P. Brown presented the program. Mrs. Carl Yoder read from the third chapter of Mark, God's way of building His kingdom. Mrs. W. J. Ely, Mrs. J. C. Stinson, Mrs. Odom, Mrs. J. L. Martin and Mrs. A. C. Preuit, by taking different phases of this subject, applied it to practical use in our modern life.

The topic "China After Fifty Years," gave a concrete example of the development of the kingdom building in one country. The development of the civilization was given by Mrs. W. W. Hamilton; the development of the school by Mrs. W. W. Boren; of the hospital by Mrs. R. L. Long; of the church services by Mrs. W. W. Smith.

The pleasant afternoon came to a close after Mrs. Dorward, assisted by Mesdames Ivan Dodson, J. W. Irwin and B. S. Gann, served tempting plate lunches to about forty guests.

MRS. GEORGE NORTHCUTT HOSTESS TO EL FELIS

A most enjoyable social gathering of the past week was given on Friday afternoon, March 23, when Mrs. George W. Northcutt entertained the members of the El Felis Club at her home in West Snyder.

Lovely spring violets were used artistically in special decorative effects and as favors. After a short business session the usual game of forty two was greatly enjoyed at five tables, and following the play the hostess served a most delightful plate lunch to the attending members.

ALPHA CLUB MEETS

The Alpha Study Club met with Mrs. Ivan Dodson Tuesday afternoon. Regular business meeting was held for the first thirty minutes after which Mrs. Wayne Williams was leader in an interesting program as follows:

Life of Arthur Morrison, Miss Neoma Strayhorn. Story, "Rhyme of the Second," by Morrison, Miss Hattie Herm. Life of Ivan Turgenev, Mrs. Forest Sears. Story, "A Living Relic," by Morrison, Mrs. R. H. Odom. Those present were club members and Mesdames Hagan and Harrison, guests.

Sixteen pages in this edition of the Times-Signal. Many valuable ads are listed of value to every reader of the paper.

Mrs. R. W. Cunningham and family motored to Dublin last Friday evening and spent the week-end with their aunt, Mrs. Z. R. Dollahite. Mrs. Cunningham's brothers, Dr. A. A. and C. P. Ross of Lockhart, joined her there and they enjoyed a very happy reunion with their aunt who is ninety years old and whose versatility is remarkable for one of her years.

W. H. Painter of Dallas, secretary and treasurer of the Fidelity Life Insurance Company, was a Sunday guest of his friend, Ernest Taylor.

THE STINGIEST MAN IN SCURRY COUNTY

The stingiest man in Scurry County visited the Times-Signal office last week. To substantiate his claim he showed us the last pair of socks he had purchased. Still good after carrying them around in his pocket for the last twenty years. He was also wearing a collar that he bought about forty years ago. It was not paper, but leather, and looked fairly new. He claimed to be hungry, but could not afford to eat, cold but could not afford to buy any more clothes. Needless to say he has a nice bank account and is looking for a wife to support him. Name him and take a drink on the firm.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Henslee and children, Lem Paul and Mary ZoAnn, and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Carter drove over from Anson Sunday afternoon for a short visit with Otis Carter. Mr. Henslee is editor and owner of the Western Enterprise.

A TRIBUTE

The following tribute to his mother, whose death occurred at her home in Monham last week, was written by Ashley Evans and published in the Bonham Favorite:

Mother
The sun shines bright in skies of blue today, but even so there is a shadow that never rested on me before.
Mother is dead.
There is a joy, and happiness and gladness—there are friends as true and loved ones as dear as those given any man, but with all that the world isn't the same to me as it was yesterday.
Mother is dead.

The years have somewhat slowed my steps, have whitened my hair, have brought my own grandchildren, and yet I am but a child filled with childish fears and sorrows, and with a child's great loneliness of heart, crying for comfort.

Mother is dead.
For more than three score years I have had a friend whom I knew would never forsake me; there has been one whom I knew would be my stay though fortune were fair or foul, though report were good or bad, though all others might forget or forsake; there has been one whom I knew would love me, would encourage me, would sacrifice for me—yes, would gladly die for me. My heart sorrows because she has gone away.
Mother is dead.

I know not how long I shall work on, but I shall meet my work and duties as best I can. I shall meet my fellows, I shall smile, I shall give no voice to my sorrow, but I know that in the morning when I arise, at noon when I pursue my work, in the silence of the night, I shall say so often in my heart, "But O! for the touch of a vanished hand, "And the sound of a voice that is still."
For mother is dead.
—ASHLEY EVANS.

FLUVANNA FLOURISHING

The small city of Fluvanna, one of Scurry County's most influential points, shipped 120 cars of livestock, 12 cars of threshed grain, 3 cars of maize heads, 45 cars of cotton and 5 car loads of wheat during 1927.

Brother J. H. Tate, Fluvanna booster, is getting Fluvanna into the publicity news channels of the world with what his home town is doing. That's worthy of emulation in all corners of old Scurry.

CHURCH GROWING CROP

The Fluvanna Baptist church is doing a noteworthy and splendid bit of cooperative effort in growing a church crop of forty acres of cotton this year.

That is a spirit that will bear emulative effort in places other than the Fluvanna sections, and congratulations are in order for the hustlers of that community. More power to them!

THANKS, MRS. MORGAN

San Benito, Texas, Feb. 20, 1928. Scurry County Times-Signal, Snyder, Texas.

Please add Route No. 1 to our address, as we have not been getting our paper, and you don't know what it is like to be so far from home and have to do without the home paper unless you have tried it.

This is a fine country. Can raise most anything here that you want to plant, and is a fine citrus fruit and winter garden district, but I wouldn't give good old Scurry County for any place. I think you have the finest folks there I have ever met anywhere. I think Mr. Morgan's health has improved some. We are hoping for a greater improvement. We have had a lot of damp weather since we have been here, but no heavy rains. If we did, we would have to do like the ground hog, just hole up and stay there as this is heavy, sticky soil. We have made a garden and it is looking fine. Come over and have dinner with us soon. We have four acres in tomatoes. Will plant 25 acres in cotton.

Now don't forget, we surely want that paper, for we think it is about the finest one out. If you don't think so, just look and see when our subscription expires.

Mrs. J. A. MORGAN.

A very dilute solution of gelatine made by dissolving 1 ounce of gelatine in 1 pint of water and finally diluting this solution 8 to 15 times, is an excellent dressing for silk, wool, and cotton materials such as organdies, voiles and batistes.

This is called the richest country in the world, but you would never know it when passing around a subscription paper for some good community cause.

Among certain Eskimos bad temper is considered a sign of being possessed by a devil, lying is a crime punished by death, and marriage is compulsory.

REGARDING PUNCTUATION

Punctuation marks have personality. The period is imperative. It says "Stop here!" The comma is a free and easy little chap. He says "Slow up a bit, get your breath, and then trot along." The colon calls "Oh, look what's coming—get ready." Quotation marks give notice that the writer is letting someone else do the talking for awhile. Parentheses mark the sidepaths when we leave the main line for a detour. Apostrophes flash the message, "We're skipping something." The hyphen is a notice of partnership; sort of a typographical wedding ring.

Mrs. Hugh Scarborough will leave Sunday for Dallas where she will spend a week at the Eugene School. While there Mrs. Scarborough will be greatly benefited by special instruction and lectures on permanent waving given by Mr. Eugene and two French ladies who have just recently returned from Paris.

The Progressive Industries of a Greater Snyder And Scurry County

"If we are to judge by the evidences all around us, it is apparent that West Texas has entered into a golden age of agricultural and industrial supremacy."

Upon her agricultural and industrial interests depends the wealth—and the culture—of West Texas. Never before in this section's history has there been a parallel to the tremendous concentration of industrial, agricultural and commercial enterprise as is now flourishing in this area.

West Texas's Triumphs Are Snyder's

TO a proportionate degree, the triumphs of West Texas's agricultural and industry belong to Snyder—a representative West Texas Community. Snyder's agricultural and industrial enterprises are the most basic factor in Snyder's prosperity. They have stabilized our business conditions. They have swelled our quota of ambitious citizens. They have brought wealth to the community, increased the per capita buying power, raised the standard of living.

AT THIS, the commencement of the new season's business, we, the Times-Signal, your home town paper, take pleasure in commemorating the achievements of Snyder's industry in making our community a larger and happier place in which to live and work. With pride in our county's and city's record of success, with a resolve to achieve, so far as is within our power, a new goal of prosperity for Snyder, we gratefully dedicate our efforts.

Snyder's Place in the Sun

WITH a diversified agricultural program that is proving a money maker for every farmer; with the cow, sow and hen program a firm foundation in every agricultural community in Scurry County; with city and rural schools on a higher plane than any county in this section; with live wire merchants and citizens with the spirit of co-operation and help in their blood and souls; with gas now being piped in with the greatest and purest water supply in all West Texas; with a fine electrical service organization; good telephone facilities, and every natural resource and a 100 per cent Chamber of Commerce, Snyder takes its place in the sun.

The Scurry County Times-Signal can be depended upon today, tomorrow and every week and every year to keep pace with the marvelous development of this city and county. We are here to co-operate wholeheartedly 100 per cent for the advancement of Snyder and every community in Scurry County.

Signed: GEORGE F. SMITH.

"KING or COMMONER?" No. 3

ECONOMIC SIGNIFICANCE OF THE AMERICAN COTTON INDUSTRY—From latest volume in Manhattan Library of Popular Economics, published in serial form through courtesy of Bank of the Manhattan Company, New York.

ARTICLE THREE THE LAND OF COTTON

THE American phase of cotton began in prehistoric times, for early explorers found it in use among the Indians, but the American growing of cotton by white men probably started as early as 1621, when seeds were brought from Siam to Talbot County, Maryland, and there cultivated for the beauty of the flowers.

A machine that would clean as much cotton as fifty hand workers

In 1621, there also was made an experimental planting of cotton in Virginia in order to test the soil of that region. The experiment showed that cotton could be grown there, but the plant's culture was slow in spreading, for it was not until 170 years later that any accounting was made of the crop, and then (1790-91) the total American production was only about ten tons.

For generations the removal of the seeds was a slow, laborious and costly process of hand labor, and comparatively little cotton was raised in spite of the great advantages of soil and climate possessed by the South.

Then, in 1793, Eli Whitney, of Massachusetts, reached Savannah looking for a position as school teacher. Instead of devoting his time to text-books and examination papers, as he had expected, young Whitney accepted an invitation to visit the plantation of Mrs. Nathaniel Greene, widow of the famous general of the Revolution. Mrs. Greene raised cotton, and Whitney saw the toilsome process of hand cleaning which produced but a pound of lint a day. It set his ingenious New England brain to work in terms of cylinders, wheels, spikes and brushes, and in a few weeks he had constructed the model of a machine that would clean as much cotton as fifty hand-workers. Thus was born the cotton-gin. Also, thus was born the modern cotton industry.

Now, indeed, it became worth while to raise cotton, and American production grew by leaps and bounds. By the time of Whitney's death, in 1825, it had increased to more than fifty times the size at the time of his invention. His ingenious idea has proved one of the world's greatest wealth creators.

Even before Eli Whitney made it possible to produce raw cotton cheaply, Hargreaves, Kay, Arkwright, Crompton and others in England, had devised machines for use in its manufacture, and in 1787, the first cotton factory in the United States was built at Beverly, Massachusetts. Samuel Slater came from England two years later, bringing in his head the Arkwright inventions which he installed in a factory at Providence, Rhode Island.

At just about that time, (January 15, 1790) Alexander Hamilton, then Secretary of the Treasury, sent a long report to the House of Representatives on the "expediency of encouraging manufactures in the United States." He noted the establishment of the New England cotton mills, as well as others for the "printing and staining" of cotton goods, and recommended Governmental encouragement to the new industries through bounties and tariffs.

For several generations, American cotton production divided very simply into two parts: the South for raw cotton and New England for yarns and textiles. The last generation has seen an extraordinary development in manufacture by the South where many great plants have been established close to the source of raw cotton. Today, two-thirds of its American consumption is in the Southern mills.

Other industries which, while subsidiary to the raising, spinning and weaving of cotton are yet great businesses in themselves, have grown up with the growth of the whole. There are thousands of ginners and compressors and immense interests in the buying and selling of raw cotton. The fabrics as they come from the looms—the "grey goods" so called, must pass into the hands of the bleachers, dyers and converters who adapt them to the myriad requirements of commerce. There is a veritable army of sales and distribution, including brokers, wholesalers, retailers and exporters. The "cutting-up trade" produces an incredible quantity of ready-to-wear cotton garments.

To these, but in a different class, must be added the many processes making use of seed and linters, while, underlying all this network of industry and commerce, there are, of course, the cotton farmers of many States, who produce the raw material.

And now, just a single breathtaking glimpse of the staggering dimensions of this industry: during the first three months of 1927, there were sold more than five hundred thousand miles of American cotton goods—enough to reach from the Earth to the Moon and back again with many thousands of miles to spare!

America has built up a cotton industry surpassing any possibility hoped for or dreamt of by Hamilton.

(Next Article, "COTTON BROUGHT TEARS.")

In 1907 a perfect five-pointed star was observed in the same longitude as the other "signals" had appeared. The star, 1,100 miles in diameter, appeared more "intentional" to world astronomers than any previous sign, and when again, in 1924, another star sixteen hundred miles in diameter appeared, the signaling theory became a matter of serious concern. Astronomers expect another opposition of the planets in 1939, at which time concentrated effort will be made to read the riddle of the strange figures.

ALL CAN HELP

The progress of a community does not depend merely on the enterprise and activity of its leading business men and organizations.

Every clerk who works in a store, every mechanic in his factory, every farmer in his field, every housewife in her home, each one has some effect on the future of that community.

If the salesman is actively pushing for new patronage and to please old customers, he helps the city's retail business to grow. If the mechanic is efficient, he assists his employer to sell more goods. If the farmer is diligent and scientific, he adds to the resources of the neighborhood. If the housewife improves the home place, she promotes the city's reputation for culture and finish. We all have to do our share to secure the development of Snyder.

BELIEVES IN TITHING

An insurance agent at Valley Mills recently advertised that he was a firm believer of the gospel of tithing. To carry out his convictions and to see that all tithing notes were actually paid and received by the proper authorities, he gives one-tenth of each policy to the church the insurer belongs to, or favors. This may be an old practice in some parts, but to us it is a new innovation, and our opinion is that the preachers and churches will be able to notice a healthy increase in their budget payments in Valley Mills during 1928.

LONDON BISHOP WOULD ADD TO THE SHORT SKIRT

The venerable Bishop of Ely and the royal-by-marriage Viscount Lascelles, the king's son-in-law, are debating the authorship of a new form of campaign against the modish short skirt.

The campaign started with this rhyme:
"Half an inch, half an inch, half an inch shorter,
The skirts are the same of mother and daughter.
When the wind blows,
Each one of them shows
Half an inch, half an inch more than she oughter."

Viscount Lascelles announced bishop was the author. The bishop, in an article, denied authorship but contributed another of his own:
"Mary has a little skirt,
So neat, so bright, so airy;
It never shows a speck of dirt,
But it surely does show Mary."
The bishop qualified his statement by adding to the last line: "At least insofar as the portion of her below the knees are concerned."

Once started on the campaign, the bishop is going through with it, in the same direct fashion.

"I think modern fashions have robbed women, and especially older women, of a measure of grace, dignity and charm which is associated with the dress of previous generations," he said.

"Flowing robes not only enhance physical perfection, but also modify or conceal physical imperfections which modern dress emphasizes and proclaims. There are many women who cannot readily afford to be so candid about their ankles and so on."

(Being the diary of a gentleman who cannot resist the high-powered salesman.)

January 4. Bought an automobile today. Very easy terms. Very fine car, with a cigar-lighter on the dash. Ought to finish payments on this in 18 months.

February 4. Paid installment due on car. Bought a radio set on easy terms. Fine set, and payments will be small and monthly.

March 7. A little late with the payments on the car this month, and will have to let the radio payment go over till April, as I bought a set of books and paid $11 down. Very fine books. Everybody should have this set of books.

April 15. Borrowed $50 from the boss to meet payment on car. The radio man came to take away the set, but we put out the lights and weren't home. The champ hung around all evening, so I couldn't read the books.

June 1. Borrowed $100 from Uncle George to pay the $50 I borrowed from the boss, and also to meet payment on the car. Got behind a little on the book payments, because I bought a piece of land in a new real estate development. This land ought to jump in value. Paid $50 down.

August 15. Somehow I don't miss the radio set much. And you can get plenty of books from the public library. The thing that hurts me is that Uncle George should be so mean. Of course, I told him I'd pay back the $100 on August first, but you can't do the impossible, and he's trying to arrange a "character loan" from the bank. If I can borrow $250, I can get square again and everything will go fine.

August 16. Bank says I have no character. What a bunch of crooks!

September 30. The garage man is holding the car for that labor bill. What right have they to hold the car? It doesn't belong to me.

October 1. It wasn't any use. I had to let the car go. Anyway, I'd rather have the piece of land. They've given me a month's grace on that. Real estate people have more heart, after all.

November 15. Well, they can have their old land. Good riddance. If I knew where to get $30 to meet the payment on the piano, I'd be all right. Bought a new automobile today, on the "pay out of income" basis.

November 16. Income stopped. Got the sack at the office. In looking for a job, you've got to have a good suit of clothes; so I bought one this afternoon. Five dollars down.—Freeman Tilden.

Dairy Meeting Emphasizes Need of Feed, Good Cows, and Records

At the meeting of Scurry County Dairy Farmers with the Chamber of Commerce three facts were brought out very prominently:

First:—Good feed is high in March although there seemed to be much feed last fall.

Second:—Good cows make money even with high feed.

Last:—By keeping records it can be determined accurately what pay and what does not pay.

We have said plenty about the good feed and the good cows heretofore, but have not said much about the keeping of records. No good business man would think of running his business without keeping accurate records. There is no more important business than farming, and there is no business requiring good records more than successful farming.

Fifteen cents will buy a book and one minute a day will keep the record. If you want to know what you are doing every day start now (if you are not already keeping a record) and open up your book by writing the name of each crop at the top of a page and charge up the number of man and horse hours that it has taken to cut stalks, break land and bed it ready for planting. Then charge up the seed and every hours put in on such crop as it proceeds.

A very easy way is to charge 20 cents per hour for man hours and 10 cents for each horse hour. When each crop is made and gathered it will be credited with amount sold or the value when stored.

One minute per day for 300 days would be worth at 20 cents per hour $1.00 plus the cost of a day book, 15 cents. If there be a Scurry farmer that doubts that it would be worth $1.15 to him to have his record at the end of the year, we will gladly pay that much for his record if he will keep it accurately and make it each day as his crops proceed as well as on the cost of feeding milch cows, hogs and chickens and their production.

Fluvanna News Notes

Mr. Jas. H. Tate (V. P.) is the authorized correspondent for Fluvanna, and as such is authorized to receive renewal and new subscriptions. Cooperate with him in building a fine weekly news column for this thriving town.

Church Services

Rev. Charles Leslie filled his regular appointment with the First Baptist Church of this place last Saturday night and Sunday. We understand that the attendance was good at all services, especially on Sunday.

Regular services were also held at the Presbyterian Church last Sunday. The attendance was very good, and a good interest was manifested. The pastor's theme in the morning was "The Law of Love." Needless to say that, like many crops, this matter needs more intensive cultivation. At the evening service the subject was "Truth and Honesty." The speaker insisted that every untruthful person is a liar and that every liar is dishonest or a crook and that all crooks are thieves; and the Bible says that those, with others, "Shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone." Evidently the future has a warm program for a lot of people.

On next Sunday regular services will be held at the Methodist Church.

Business Affairs

On last Sunday Will Beaver shipped a car of mixed beef cattle to Fort Worth.

J. G. Higginbotham is having a windmill put up on the place a few miles northwest of Fluvanna.

C. D. Cribbs is grubbing out some new land on his place just north of town.

It goes without saying that the farmers are getting their land ready for spring planting; and, by the way, in spite of the sallies made every now and then by Old Boreas, spring is here, and the days are longer than the nights. Plenty of time for work.

Sickness and Accidents

There is quite a bit of "flu" in our community. While these cases are usually distressing, so far as we have learned none of them have reached serious proportions. Mrs. Era Fry was reported right sick last week. Mrs. Colon James was sick the first of the week. John Emmet Craft was sick the first of the week. J. F. Dowdy had his "bout" with the flu last week. Little Inez Patterson was reported sick Monday.

Miss Edna Squyres, who underwent a serious operation at Lubbock a few weeks ago, was able to return home last Sunday.

A small child of the Potts family on the Dargitz place was seriously ill last week from drinking coal oil.

Several members of the Huling family, two miles southwest of town were reported sick the first of the week.

Erwin Flournoy age 12, son of A. Q., was in the sanitarium at Lubbock last week suffering with diabetes. The boy's condition is critical.

On last Sunday three boys out at the home of Charles Freeman thought they would have a good time in the way of an old time buggy ride. Accordingly, they proceeded to hitch a supposedly gentle horse to an old buggy and start out (the old folks not being at home). Soon the horse became frightened and ran away. The oldest boy, 14, son of Charles Freeman, sustained a badly broken ankle, while a son of Martin Freeman received an ugly cut on the back of his head. The third boy escaped uninjured.

Visits and Trips

A. J. Camp, a citizen of Fluvanna some seventeen years ago, was back here Monday prospecting. They will come back.

Ben and Luther Gardner of Ochiltree County spent the weekend here visiting their Grandfather Dargitz and other relatives.

John Glover and family of New Mexico, formerly of this community, were recent visitors among relatives here.

J. R. Patterson and family visited in Hermleigh last Sunday.

Miss Vernay Boynton, a student in Simmons University, spent the weekend here with home folks.

Rev. C. E. Braswell of New Castle, Okla., spent the weekend here with his brother and family.

F. W. Park and family, including their daughter, Mrs. Melton, visited the old home place in Borden County last Sunday. "Dad" says it looks good.

Mrs. Melton took her baby back to the Lubbock Sanitarium last week for further treatment. The child is said to be doing well.

J. C. Brannon and wife of Dallas spent last week with the J. W. Craft family southwest of Fluvanna.

Several people of Snyder, among whom were Jim Baze and family, Mr. and Mrs. Larence Jones and Miss Martin, daughter of J. L., were up last Sunday afternoon visiting and viewing some property north of town.

D. T. Whately, wife and little daughter of Wichita Falls were here visiting and looking after business the latter part of last week.

Mert Jones and wife, accompanied by W. G. Sims, made a short trip to Byers and other Texas points last week.

Miss Nealy Squyres, a teacher at Clairmont, spent the weekend here.

Miscellaneous

The baseball boys will give a box supper at the Fluvanna school auditorium next Friday night.

A grass fire broke out last Sunday in the Moore pasture near the Thel Browning place and spread eastward into the Boaz Scribner pasture, covering some 600 acres.

Some crook sole Roland Squyres' pony out last Saturday night and gave it a hard ride. The horse came in about daylight Sunday morning.

Another crook, being hard up for gas, presumably for use in his fluffer, stole the small quantity on hand in the Fluvanna Baptist some time last week, and then—well, the next act is hardly fit to chronicle in a first class weekly paper such as this. Some other birds have recently been despoiled valuable furniture in this same church by cutting names on the backs of seats. The law provides a penalty for conduct of this sort, and the offenders should be given the full benefit of same. What on earth is the matter with folks who positively refuse to be either decent or good? Surely, there is something radically wrong!

Time to Clean Up

We keep seeing something in the papers about clean-up movements being inaugurated in different towns of this locality. You will remember, Mr. Editor, that a little while back this column urged that Fluvanna undertake a general clean-up. However good that advice may have been, it seems now that our people are paying no attention to it. That it "like a lot of other advice that V. P. officers—just passed up. We have advised, even urged, that people refrain from drinking boot-legal, "Cussin," desecrating the Sabbath, stealing, abusing the automobile, etc., but still there are some folks who go right on doing those things. We still believe that advice given was good, but like pills, it must be taken in order to get results.

Going back to the question of a clean-up campaign, V. P. is insisting that the people of this community organize for a thorough yard and street cleaning, and that the thing be done at an early date while there is no special rush of work on our hands on also before the new crop of vegetation gets in the way. Let every family, both in and out of town, clean up their premises. This is necessary for several reasons: It adds much to the good appearance of any home or place of business; it is conducive to good health, and it generates a feeling of respectability which means far more to the rising generation than some folks may think. This matter is of such vital importance that many have said that "Cleanliness is next to godliness." By all means, let us clean up—bury the filth, burn the trash, weeds, etc., and haul the junk clear out of the way. Don't dump it on vacant lots or in bar-pits. In either of the cases just mentioned, the stuff is still unsightly and very much in the way. Let's do the thing right and at an early date.

Strange Things

It is strange how some, yea

many of the good old time, tried and true practices vanish, and with them some of the strongest safeguards of our social order. Many modern discoveries and inventions are very practical and valuable, but if the standard of moral conduct has improved lately, we fail to discover it. Here is a nudge: A good motherly woman was heard to say the other day, "If somebody don't look out, there are going to be some cradles to rock." A hint to the wise should be sufficient. Why has become of the old-time chaperone?

PROGRESS

Growing With Snyder and Scurry County

OUR BIGGEST ANNOUNCEMENT OF REMOVAL TO OUR NEW SUITE OF OFFICES IN THE FIRST STATE BANK & TRUST COMPANY BUILDING ON APRIL 1. ABSTRACT PLANT IN CONNECTION

The Scurry County Chamber of Commerce Will Share a Part of Our Newly Furnished Offices

Backed by Ideals

A BUSINESS, a store, or an institution is, in its character and methods, only a reflection of the character of those who guide it through the years.

Behind every institution formulating the ideals of its business and shaping its policies is some personality or personalities to whose inspiration the structure owes its existence.

The founders of this business, when they laid down the foundation and fundamentals of this business, had their inspiration—the ideals of quality and service. How well they carried out this spirit through the years is attested by our daily and weekly growth to higher planes of service.

In order to more completely meet the demands of our ever-growing business, we have added an Abstract and Title Plant and are now prepared to take care of all matters pertaining to Abstracts and Titles to all real estate in Scurry County.

We can draw your contracts, Deeds, Releases, etc., and have a Notary Public on hand, so that you can complete your sales and trades without leaving our office.

We shall appreciate a share of your Abstract and Title work, assuring you of prompt, reliable service and reasonable charges.

Satisfying All

Hugh Boren + Son
THE Towle & Boren Insurance Agency justifies its existence because of its single-purposed policy of giving the public only service of character and dependability, coupled with an aim to the customer's absolute satisfaction.

These principles first implanted here are as active and vital today as they have been throughout the years. They operate in the conduct of every member of our organization and are manifested by high class service, courtesy and a hospitable spirit. This is the fruit of inspiration passed on by the owners as a heritage to every Scurry County participant in any part of the service that we have provided them.
